Tidbits and News of Jewish Personalities

By DAVID SCHWARTZ

Kosher Over the Radio

There are those who will tell you that Al Smith does not use a correct English.

His speech the other night at Newark shows that he can not only still make the most interesting speeches of any of the campaigners, but that he employs some of the most rarely used words in the dictionary.

I wonder how many people know what the word "kosher" means? I am talking of the English word "kosher."

Look in your Funk and Wagnalls and you will see it defined thus: "Permitted by our fulfilling requirements of law; clean, pure usually said of foods, composed to traf."

You probably never heard of that word before. Yet it is there in all its glory enscathed as a member of the brotherhood of English words.

And Al Smith used it the other night in his Newark speech. Yet there are people that think that Al doesn't know a correct and proper word when he sees it.

Just Around the Corner

I was sitting the other day in a doctor's office, and couldn't help over-hearing it.

A young woman was chopping a teapot (and that expression by the way ought to get in the dictionary, too), to someone at the side of her. She apparently was a nurse, and she was telling this second party, that she had an opportunity to get work in Russia, but friends here, had advised her against it and had told her that here, too, "the revolution was just around the corner."

You could have knocked me over with a chocolate soda straw. I could have melted in the air, just like that.

But Aren't We All?

And yet amazing as such sanguine faith is, I wonder, if and when a revolution does come, wont the majority of us less believing folk be equally skeptical.

The ability to divine properly impending great events is most rare. History shows that the wisest are always blind. How many Americans thought of independence until the few months before July, 1776, though the struggle had been going on for years. Consult your history and you will be surprised how few.

Southerners before the Civil War offered to drink up all the blood that would be shed, so little of a war did they expect.

And why go back to old history? Consider Mr. Hoover himself. He's a smart man. Everybody must admit that. He started out as a poor farm boy. He worked his way through college. Made millions in mining. Became an international figure in food relief. Became President.

I started out, too, as he did — and haven't even gotten through the first stage. Never got through college. And there are fifty million like me.

Hoover is smart. And, oh, yes, he was Secretary of Commerce. And there he was great on preparing reports on business conditions. Reducing business and business conditions to a science, making forecasts, etc.

And yet you remember not so long ago, one recent day he came out and pontifically said, "The worst is over," which meant to say that, "Prosperity was just around the corner."

And the next day occurred the greatest stock crash in history. So take your choice between Herbert Hoover and the young Communist nurse.

CONFERENCE OF AMERICAN RABBIS NOW IN CINCINNATI

The forty-third annual meeting of the Central Conference of American Rabbis is taking place in Cincinnati, O., having begun Wednesday, Nov. 2nd, and continuing through Sunday, Nov. 6th. The opening of the conference was preceded Tuesday, Nov. 1st, by an all-day meeting of the Executive Board.

The feature of the program was the celebration of the Washington Bicentennial by the reading of a paper on the subject, "The American Principle of the Separation of Church and State In Its Application to Modern Life" by Rabbi David Lefkowitz of Dallas, Tex. A subject that received nation-wide discussion during the year, and still excites interest in Jewish circles, namely, whether the Synagogue or the Community Organization should be paramount in American Jewish Life, was treated in a round table on "The Organization of Jewish Communal Life," led by Rabbi Mordecai M. Kaplan and Sidney E. Goldstein of New York City. This featured the program for Thursday evening, Nov. 3rd.

The annual message of the President, Rabbi Morris Newfield of Birmingham, Ala., occupied the program Wednesday night. Reports of the officers and committees were read during the opening session, Wednesday morning. Of particular interest was the report and recommendations of the Social Justice Commission, of which Rabbi Edward L. Israel, Baltimore, Md., is chairman, and of the Committee on International Peace, Rabbi Max C. Currick, Erie, Pa., chairman.

Friday evening services were held at the Plum Street Temple, at which Dr. Stephen S. Wise, New York, presented the Conference Lecture.

RHODE ISLAND STATE ADMINISTRATION ONE OF BEST IN NATION

Under present conditions, that which most affects the taxpayers and home owners, is the state's fiscal policy and its present financial standing. For fifteen years, through the financial genius of Mr. Peck, the Republican Legislature has co-operated with him in eliminating waste, practicing economy all along the line, lightening the burden upon the several cities and towns, and in other ways, making unnecessary undue tax levies. Yet, notwithstanding all this, chains and links of good roads distinguish Rhode Island's highways; there has been a rehabilitation of the State Institutions to the point of raising each and all of them to an enviable standard; an improvement of the several court house facilities; the development of the activities to benefit the agriculturist and the dairyman; the raising of the standard of health, and a distinct improvement in the educational standards and facilities therefor. Each and all of these ordinarily would entail enormous strains upon the State Treasury, else an imposition of new tax burdens. On the contrary, however, these needed benefits quietly and conservatively have been attained, while even an accumulation of a very substantial financial reserve has been in progress.

When a state government can sanction bond issues to the extent of millions, and when ordinarily these bonds should be marketed, but due to this state's financial condition, it is possible to burn them up—truly, our state's fiscal policy cannot rightfully be criticized.

Then, in addition to all that, when our state can divert from its reserve one and one-half millions of dollars for unemployment relief, and now can propose to cancel city and town loans to that extent, certainly there cannot be any honest criticism of our State's Republican Administration. Rhode Island's financial policy and its status is not matched by a single state in the Union. Yet the Democratic orators blatantly pledge themselves to abolish the office of Finance Commissioner, an office occupied by a public-spirited man whose judgment has made all this possible. Can it be that

Public-Spirited Sponsors Complete Plans for Great Jewish Patriotic Gathering at Narragansett Hotel, Sunday, Nov. 6th; Sisson, Case and Kennedy Among Speakers

Plans have been completed for the greatest gathering of Jewish citizens, assembled for a purely American patriotic purpose, ever held in Rhode Island, when the Testimonial Banquet, to be held this Sunday evening, Nov. 6th, at the Narragansett Hotel Ballroom is called to order.

Rhode Island Jewry has gathered together before on many occasions for all sorts of worthy enterprises and projects, philanthropic, social and educational, but never before has there been such an outpouring of enthusiastic, interested and loyal men and women as will come together on that occasion to give testimony to their genuine adherence to the doctrine uttered by all on every holy day in the meaningful words of the ritualistic passage which begins: "Bless our country and all who dwell therein."

Sponsored by a group of public-spirited citizens interested in the Republican cause, the group, which will assemble to the capacity of the Ballroom, will participate in a public testimonial of their loyalty to their city, state and country, in a consideration of the decisions to be made at the election on Nov. 8th, and in thoughtful deliberation of the part that Jewry has played and ought in the future to play in the government of this country and its various sub-divisions.

The sponsors of the event seek nothing as a result of the meeting except a testimonial in the finest and best sense of the word. They want no personal credit. They will ask for no gifts, subscriptions, pledges or for any other thing of any kind from those present.

The committee, which is arranging the details of the program, has succeeded in obtaining as toastmaster for the Testimonial Banquet, Max L. Grant, distinguished leader in Rhode Island Jewry. He will introduce to the assembly a speaking program, which will be worth going a great way to hear.

Heading the list of speakers will be Hon. Charles B. Sisson, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, who is coming from Washington to speak about the national government and the part which Jews have played and are playing therein.

It is said that President Hoover has made more Jewish appointments to office than any other preceding President, and these appointments include a number to very high posts. In addition to the appointment of Judge Benjamin Cardozo to the United States Supreme Court, they encompass the names of three Ambassadors to foreign countries, a number of selections for service in the front line of offense against the depression, and a host of somewhat lesser but nevertheless highly important choices.

The Governor of Rhode Island, Norman Stanley Case, will deliver one of the addresses of the evening, having laid aside other engagements of a pressing political nature for the purpose. Ambrose Kennedy, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, will also speak.

Besides those mentioned, there will be a number of other speakers high up in public life, who are coming to help make this one of the outstanding events in the history of Rhode Island Jewry.

Local comment is high in praise of those public-spirited citizens who have arranged this affair from beginning to end and have with plans completed presented the results of their painstaking patriotic work to the people of this city at precisely the time when all citizens and especially Jewish citizens might well give thought to the high privileges and duties involved in their participation in everything that is gloriously American.

Walter I. Sundlun Issues Statement Favoring Republican Party on Eve of Election

Walter I. Sundlun, prominent communal leader and President of the Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island, yesterday issued a statement, vigorously upholding President Hoover and urging the election of the President and Governor Norman S. Case and the other candidates of the Republican party. Mr. Sundlun is also a Director of the Miriam Hospital, Jewish Home for the Aged and the Jewish Community Center; he is a Trustee of Temple Beth-El and a member of the Board of Directors of the Ledgemont Country Club.

He was a delegate to the National Republican convention recently held at Chicago and has been actively engaged during the present campaign as a speaker on national and state issues throughout the state. Mr. Sundlun's statement follows:

"If you are fair with yourself and your fellow men you are not going to adopt the hasty conclusions, mis-statements and cunning pronouncements which are being made by many Democrats and follow them blindly, but you will analyze the facts as they

Nathan Hilfer Believes Change Now Fraught With Great Danger

Nathan Hilfer, prominent local attorney, in a statement to The Jewish Herald yesterday, said: "I shall vote for Mr. Hoover and work for his election with all the power at my command."

"A change of administration at this time is fraught with great danger. All statistics indicate that the crisis is passed, and that we are slowly emerging from the depression. Factories are working day and night, car loadings are increasing, unemployment is decreasing, and conditions are generally improving."

"If Mr. Hoover is re-elected, that improvement will continue with even greater force. If he is defeated, there may be a relapse, which will retard the economic recovery for a considerable length of time."

"Straw votes and polls, notwithstanding, I firmly believe that Mr. Hoover will be re-elected. I can't conceive that the majority of the American people will repudiate at the polls President Hoover, who has worked so hard to relieve the distress caused by the depression, and to bring back prosperity."

JEWISH ORPHANAGE NEWS

CHILDREN ENJOY TWO PARTIES

The children of the Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island were made happy last week with two outstanding parties:

On Friday, Oct. 28th, the entertainment committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Orphanage, headed by Mrs. David Gilman, arranged to take all the children to Fay's Theatre. The arrangements for the party included transportation by interested friends.

On Sunday evening, Oct. 30th, the children attired in grotesque costumes, gathered in the gymnasium of the Home for their annual Hallowe'en party. One of the girls composed a very lovely "Health Playlet" in rhyme and song, in honor of the birthday of her supervisor, Miss Esther Silverman, and this was presented as an opening feature of the Hallowe'en party, with the assistance of the Girls' Glee Club of the Home. Dr. Louis B. Wolfenson, the Executive Director, was referred to in this wise: "There is a man in our Home, Who is a Doctor—wise— He wants us children to keep real well,

So this he does advise: 'Fresh air, good' food, and lots of sleep, With merry times each day,' We girls and boys do follow him, And so are happy, well, and gay."

After the playlet, various games, stunts, and contests were provided, with prizes for the winners. Samuel Rosen of the E. Rosen Candy Company, generously gave Hallowe'en favors and all refreshments for the party, consisting of ice cream, cake, candy and orange drinks, in honor of the birth of his first son, Harris Naham, on Monday, Oct. 24.

Judge Nathanson Advocates Re-election of President Hoover

Associate Judge Samson Nathanson of the Eleventh District Court made the following statement today in regard to the coming election: "The Republican party, realizing that the prosperity of this nation depends upon the mutual economic happiness of all classes,—manufacturers, laborers, farmers, financiers, professional men and merchants, repudiates the Democratic party's principles that will permit our markets to be flooded with foreign goods, made by foreign labor, because it appreciates the axiom that unless the American laborer has an opportunity to work, the merchant, the professional man, the farmer and every other class must suffer economic distress. The Republican party stands, as it stood since its inception, against every quackery. It stands today as it stood in 1896, against the cheapening of the American dollar, for it knows that the gold standard is the foundation of American prosperity. It stands firm against any scheme or plan to loot the treasury. It stands for the lowering of the cost of government, and the reduction of the heavy burden of taxation that is constantly increasing. It does not believe in any new remedy unless that remedy has been tried and found satisfactory.

"For the sake of your family and of your neighbors, do not make any dangerous experiments. Retain as your leader that great statesman who is slowly leading us out of the morass that is engulfing the whole world. A vote for Herbert Hoover is a vote of confidence in our established form of government."

UPHOLDS OUSTER OF PRUSSIAN GOVERNMENT

Many Jews Hold Office Under G. O. P. Regime

Republican Party Has Chosen Jewish Citizens to Important Posts

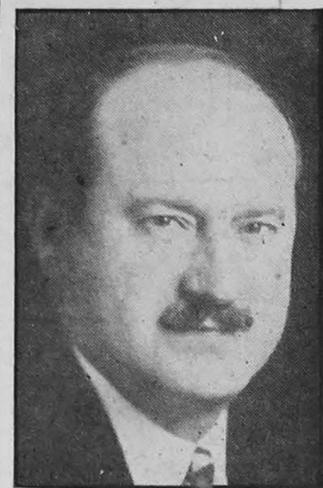

That the Jewish citizens of Rhode Island have participated actively in public affairs and that the Republican party in which almost all of this participation has taken place has recognized this public-spirited interest, is amply shown by an examination of the many offices now and recently held by Jews in this state. It is manifest that the G. O. P. has recognized and rewarded this ability wherever it has been found. Probably many would be surprised to compile a list to observe its length. The writer had no idea there were so many Jews who had participated in public affairs under Republican auspices until he attempted to write this story as an interesting piece of news around election time. The following list, although not complete, affords interesting food for thought. In the space available, it is impossible to do more than list the names and offices:

He came to Providence when one year old; educated in public schools and graduated from Georgetown Law School in 1910; practicing attorney; served three terms in Common Council; now serving fourth term as Alderman. Alderman Bromson in 1931 introduced the resolution creating the Joint Special Committee of the Milk and Fuel Fund which carried through an athletic program that resulted in the raising of several thousand dollars, which was turned over to Director of Public Aid Edward P. Reidy to provide milk and coal for the poor of the city. Again this year Mr. Bromson has introduced a similar resolution and had a similar committee created of which he is again the chairman. It is proposed that this committee shall carry out an even more extensive program this year through which it is hoped to raise even more money than was raised a year ago for the milk and fuel fund. Mr. Bromson is also Chairman of the Armistice Day Committee and Chairman of the Public Aid Committee which was specially appointed by the Board of Aldermen to assist Director of Public Aid Reidy in the solving of his numerous problems.

He is a member of What Cheer Lodge, I. O. B. Mr. Bromson secured the first appropriation from the city of Providence for $5000 per year for the Miriam Hospital, which has since been increased to $7500 each year.

The Miriam Hospital is strictly non-sectarian and opens its doors to everyone. He is on the Initials Gifts Committee, Providence Community Fund. He has been President Pro Tempore of the Board of Aldermen and will be in line for President of that body if his party is victorious. This position also carries with it the office of Acting Mayor in the Mayor's absence.

The Providence Journal says of Mr. Bromson: "An able and conscientious public servant. Merits re-election. There is no question of Mr. Bromson's ability in a legislative body."

Walter Adler Supports G. O. P.

Former Assistant City Solicitor Walter Adler is outspoken in urging support of all Republican candidates in a statement issued yesterday, which follows:

"Nov. 8th is almost at hand and the campaign is drawing to a close. The citizens of this state know where the Republican party stands. It stands upon its record of sound and efficient administration of governmental affairs. It stands out in bold relief as the party of constructive accomplishment, of experienced legislators and trained officials who know their jobs and perform them ably, of wise and capable leadership, responsive and responsible to its sacred trust—the welfare of all citizens.

"The choice lies with us. If we desire a sound business administration in our government, security for ourselves and for our families, and the preservation of our standards of living, then it is our solemn duty to cast our ballots for the standard bearers of American ideals—the candidates of the Republican party."

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation

The Democratic spellbinders are claiming that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was put into operation by President Hoover to help the "big fellows," the capitalists and industrialists. The best answer to that is this—Over 70 per cent. of the loans made to banks have been to institutions in communities of not over 5000 inhabitants. That means what? The small depositors, storekeepers and home owners were saved from bank failures in those small cities and towns. In Texas alone, the state where Mr. Garner—he of Pork Barrel fame, comes from, there were more than 100 banks in towns and cities saved from ruin by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Railroads have been helped in order to provide employment to those who are working on maintenance and railroad betterment work. In this case, here is where the railroad loans have assisted in general relief. Life insurance companies are holders of heavy lots of railroad stocks. Thousands of policyholders have borrowed money from insurance companies to tide them over the depression.

Had not the Reconstruction Finance Corporation helped the railroads, also the insurance companies, thus indirectly, and by loans to insurance companies, by such direct action, then the collapse of insurance companies would have been dire ruin to the millions of policyholders in this country. Therefore it is plain that President Hoover's foresight in setting up the Reconstruction Finance Corporation already has produced results to the mass of our population, and has given impetus to our industrial activities. President Hoover must, by the vote of every intelligent man woman, be kept in the White House, so that this good work may go on.

OUR CULTURAL LIFE

Not the least valid criticism of modern American life has been directed against its culture. In the rapid progress caused by the development of our machine existence, we have tended to embrace everything and to delve very deeply into almost nothing. We are able to boast of a highly efficient business organization, of a number of active art, music and literary groups, of splendid scientists, and of elaborately constructed universities. Withal these things, however, we are different from the older civilized countries of the world. We lack perfectly developed minds, we are wanting in richly philosophical personalities.

What is true of American life in general is specifically true of American Jewish life. In our own communities we find successful businesses, excellent artists, musicians and writers; we have fine surgeons and beautiful schools. We have lovely temples and our services have all the attributes of charm and grace. Yet, what is lacking is somewhat too obvious for description. Some sentimentalists have said that American Jewish religious worship lacks emotional appeal. They lament the absence of those elements which tore at their heart strings.

The solution to the problem of America's culture and the religious life of modern American Jews is simpler than we imagine. The solution lies in one word: sincerity. France has developed remarkable critics and philosophers because her people are in deadly earnest regarding the thought of the human mind. Great Britain has had perfectly trained statesmen because her people are traditionally earnest about politics and government. Germany has given the world its greatest music because her people are convinced of the vital importance of music. Catholicism is the most widespread of western religions because its leaders are most earnest in their mission.

We in America are too youthful as regards our arts and our thinking. We do not take anything but the making of money with very much seriousness. We even take our religion indifferently, as we take the opera and the novel and our potential systems of philosophy. Similarly, we take Judaism too lightly. With our present attitude, the results of all our labors must be stamped with the mark of superficiality. Judaism cannot thrive without earnestness. Our temples, our choirs, our lovely sermons, all of these without earnestness can never have the influence on us which was had by a cruder but more vital orthodoxy.

WALTER I. SUNOLUN ISSUES STATEMENT FAVORING THE REPUBLICAN PARTY

actually exist. You will naturally come to the conclusion that a party which has been able to guide the destinies of our country in a careful, prudent and business-like manner for almost three-quarters of a century and has ably directed our country out of two former eras of economic depression, the severity of which was in some respects even more intense than the present one, can well be entrusted to restore prosperity and contentment, happiness and business stability to the people of this country again. This is the record of the Republican party. Its vitality and genius has already evidenced its ability to cope with the present existing conditions.

"If you listen to the Democratic candidate for President you will find that he has the audacity to lay at the door of the Republican party the charge that everything which caused distress, unhappiness and sorrow in the world is directly attributable to President Hoover and the Republican party. Need there be any refutation to such ridiculous charge?"

"On the contrary, in this great storm of stress and despair there has been 'one man and one man only' who has maintained a calm state of mind and a determined poise! That man is President Hoover! He has set in motion forces which are properly eradicating the ravaging effects of the present business depression, with the direct result that he has been able to stem the tide and turn the course of our economic welfare so that our country has definitely begun to enjoy the first signs of business recovery.

"The state of Rhode Island enjoys the enviable position of being one of the very few states that can point proudly to its safe and sound financial condition. It is one of the very few states that has not been obliged to ask for political aid in order to help relieve the distress that the present economic condition has brought on. Through the safe and sound business management of the affairs of our state, Governor Case and his associates can claim much credit through their wise and careful administration of the affairs of the state of Rhode Island. Sufficient money has been saved up which now permits the state of Rhode Island to give aid to many cities who have found themselves seriously in debt and unable to help their own citizens. Governor Case has stated that he will recommend the cancellation of the one and one-half millions which have already been given to the cities of Rhode Island for relief and if necessary there is another million which the state of Rhode Island is able to expend without affecting its financial status. Is this not a record that deserves the approbation of all fair-minded citizens?"

"The entire Republican slate of state officers should be returned to office. From their hands we can be certain of a continued safe and sane administration of public affairs. I urge all citizens to support the Republican candidates for office."

ourselves for a deluge of literature on the Dutch lens maker.

Already Lewis Browne, with rare forevision of timeliness, has prepared one biography of Spinoza, and now we hear that shortly Benjamin de Casseres will have an opus on Spinoza.

I imagine that if one could wake up old Spinoza and ask him, he would say that he would prefer de Casseres for his biographer.

He would say: "Sure, give my nephew a chance." Casseres is a grand-grand-nephew of Spinoza.

On second thought, I am not sure that Spinoza would say that. He didn't get along, you remember, so well with his relatives.

But anyway, in this case, my advice to you is that the best volume on Spinoza will be by de Casseres. And my reason is simply this: That Spinoza has been a life-long obsession with de Casseres. I can't remember when he wasn't saying one thing or another about him, while Browne's book is obviously just another book to capitalize the timeliness of the event.

RHODE ISLAND STATE ADMINISTRATION ONE OF BEST IN NATION

they are motivated in this, so that should Rhode Island be unfortunate enough to change its present control the Gerry-Tammany machine may thus be permitted to loot our State Treasury, so that their record in Providence in political job disposal may be extended to our state government? Should this come to pass, every taxpayer in the state will find his present burdens extended by drains heretofore unknown under a Republican regime. Old age pensions, to cost in an amount running into the millions; voting machines used only once in every two years, to cost one and one-half millions, and sundry other exorbitant expenditures, already are upon the Democratic program.

There are not many taxpayers in the state who realize the extent of projected appropriations which the Republican administration has prevented from legislative enactment. These proposals emanating mostly from Democrats, even during the past two sessions, have run into the millions. Yet despite the depressing times, which the Democrats speak of they themselves have advocated and futilely pressed for passage these unwarranted expenditures. Imbued with the same pork-barrel spirit of Mr. Garner, for two years Democratic legislators in our own state have attempted to build their personal political fences, at the expense of the taxpayer and home owner. Had not the Republican majority held steadfast in sustaining a sound fiscal policy, this would mean tax burdens very materially enlarged.

Trade In Your Worn Tires for Safe Gripping Non-Skid Firestone Tires

LIBERAL trade-in allowance—now—on all Firestone High Speed and Heavy Duty Tires!

Why take a chance on worn, smooth, uncertain tires when you can buy Firestone non-skid safe, proven tires at lowest prices.

Firestone Tires are designed to grip the road. The non-skid tread is thick, tough and gives 25% longer non-skid safety.

Glen Schultz only last month set a new world's record in climbing Pike's Peak, in 16 min. 47 sec. His top speed was 78 miles per hour—negotiating many hair-raising turns where a skid or a tire failure meant death.

It's that kind of stamina that makes Firestone Tires safe and economical for you.

That's why race drivers use Firestone Tires. They won't risk their lives on any other make.

No tire in the world has the Firestone endurance. That is because Gum-Dipping, the patented Firestone process, transforms the cotton cords into tough, sinewy units. It means that the liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, assuring protection against internal heat. Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies under the Tread, give 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body.

Don't buy cheap tires that are only made to sell. Don't risk your life on wet, slippery pavements these October days—Use the same precaution race drivers use. Trade in your old tires—We will give you a liberal allowance on Firestone Tires—the safest tires in the world.

NEWS WRITTEN FOR THE JEWISH HERALD by GEORGE JOEL

OVER-EMPHASIS OF FOOTBALL OVER-EMPHASIZED

Usually you don't hear anything about the alleged over-emphasis of college football until the season is over. During the heat of the gridiron, talk is cold, but as soon as the All-American selections begin to appear in the papers the used arguments are brought out of storage and laid before an always critical public. This year, however, due, no doubt, to the depression (after all everything else has been blamed on it), the over-emphasis boys are beginning their campaign early. In fact in the last week the youngsters up at Columbia University have petitioned to have their football team investigated because the club has been winning too many games and they think something has gone limburger.

This is the most unique complaint of all times. Most investigations are made because a team loses and the boys want the coach sent back to the sticks. But the kids at Columbia are pretty shrewd, they figure that a top rate football team can't be entirely on the square. Who knows, maybe they're right!

But to get back to the over-emphasis stuff. In past years I have always been sympathetic to the cry that college football was fussed about entirely too much and that if it were to be relegated to a less important position in the minds of the world, it would be better for all concerned. This year there is no need to worry, football is losing its value to college authorities. As long as it was earning money and helping support other activities the professors were willing to overlook a good deal in ways of eligibility and professionalism. Things have a different aspect now. The crowds are staying away in increasing numbers. Saturday afternoons find the old fan huddled next to his radio. He simply hasn't the cash to lay down on the line. The result is that colleges are finding themselves without the means to keep their large and expensive athletic plants operating.

The first people to feel the cut are players. There is no question, or I should say, no even half awake person can deny that football players who need it, get some kind of help from the college for which they play. Since the depression touched its icy fingers to college football, players, who had been receiving salaries, found that they had to take a cut. Players, who had been receiving scholarships, found that it no longer included a new suit of clothes every month. Others learned that the jobs to which they had been assigned must be attended to. Among the Jewish players who were formerly supported by the Jewish fraternities, a similar situation arose. In an Eastern college one player had been given room and board by his fraternity, when things became tough and he was told that he would have to take care of the furnace, he quit college. The coach could not help him because he had been told to keep athletic scholarships down to a minimum.

Another youngster, who had starred at high school, was all set to sign up with a college, when he was informed that there were no scholarships available and if he could pass the entrance examinations the college would be glad to accept his registration provided he could pay his tuition. An unheard of procedure and the boy, a Jewish kid from Brooklyn, felt very much hurt. He is now attending a local school and living at home.

You can multiply these few examples by a hundred and you have the situation that exists in most colleges today. Even the students themselves are fed up with the ballyhoo. In past years when the team played an out-of-town game, the boys on the campus would jump into their Fords and go off for a junket. Nowadays a boy is glad to stay at a college. When even college bands have been cut down to a size when they can parade comfortably on a football field without feeling as though they were a subway rush hour crowd.

Yes, indeed, if things continue, it will become so that colleges will actually be places where boys go to receive an education. Perish the thought!

CHATTERINGS

But it is not quite as black as I have painted it. Games are still going on and the past few weeks I noticed that Newman of Michigan, Rosenberg of Southern California and Weinstock of Pittsburgh all found the football very much to their liking. Each starred for his respective team and each will be honored by national recognition when the season is over.

From Y. M. H. A. branches in various parts of the country come reports that although membership on the part of the younger boys is not increasing they are finding that the older fellows are using the "Y" as their club more and more. Since the country clubs have gone the way of all mortgaged properties and with exclusive club membership falling off because of dues this is a natural tendency. Directors of "Y" look forward to a successful athletic season. This new membership has been instrumental in raising the athletic standards and has acted as a stimulant to the younger boys. Next season you will be surprised by the number of "Y" entries in the various track and field meets.

PERSONALS

Big week, no article by or about Benny Friedman in any of the magazines. Benny certainly has been getting his share of publicity and if he has a press agent that gentleman is entitled to a nice fat bonus.

Brown Plays Holy Cross Here On Saturday

Brown's triple wing back formation, which has reached proportions enough to land the Bruin in the top bracket of teams in the running for national honors, will get another acid test this week-end when the Bears entertain Holy Cross in this city.

The undefeated Crusader combination, coached by Capt. John McEwen of West Point, is rated one of the outstanding teams in the East. Word comes from Worcester that McEwen has the aid of two of the tactical masters in the football business, for R. W. P. "Reggie" Brown, one-time Brown coach, and Gene Vidal of the Army, are both on the ground aiding in polishing the Holy Cross attack and defence in anticipation of Saturday's meeting of the two lone undefeated teams in New England.

If all goes well, Brown will be able to present her top strength against the Crusaders. The men came through the Harvard game in fine shape, only a few minor bruises remaining as marks from one of the finest games a Bruin eleven ever played.

Guy Burt, Sophomore block back, who was injured following the Rhode Island game, after he had been the first second year man to win a place on the Varsity, is back on the squad now, and is once again ready for action. Capt. Bill Gilbane, injured at Yale, is in fine condition, as is Joe Buonanno, the little broken field runner, who was injured in scrimmage the Wednesday before the New Haven encounter. Roger Offen and Tom Gilbane, the two linemen, who were injured in the Harvard game, are both ready for major roles against the Crusaders.

The Brown authorities are preparing to entertain one of the largest crowds ever to gather for a game in the Brown Stadium.

Memory of Two Local Soldiers to be Honored at Reunion, Nov. 12

Two Jewish boys, James R. Streimer and John Cleiman, who died on the battlefield in France, will be honored at exercises in connection with the 14th annual reunion of the 78th Division Association of Rhode Island on Saturday, Nov. 12, in the Hotel Dreyfus.

One hundred and six candles will glow as mute testimony of the divisional dead from Rhode Island, 57 of whom died in France. As the roll of honor is called one candle will be extinguished for each name and when the last name has been called Taps will be blown. Many former members of the division from New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts will be present. Jesse A. Whaley, blind president of the association, will preside. Mr. Whaley lost his eye sight in Thiacourt on the night of Sept. 22, 1918.

Headquarters for the out of town members will be established in the Hotel Dreyfus on Armistice Day and will remain open until the following Monday. Former members of the 78th Division will find a warm welcome.

The members of the association will parade as a unit in the Providence Armistice Day parade.

PRESS OPENS CAMPAIGN TO ERADICATE ILLITERACY

Moscow, Nov. 4—(JTA)—The considerable extent to which illiteracy still prevails in Soviet Russia was revealed here recently.

Statistics published disclose that 70 per cent. of the Russian population are analphabetic. While the figures do not show the number of Jewish illiterates, it is believed that their number is considerably smaller.

The Yiddish press launched a campaign for the liquidation of illiteracy among the Jews.

Louis Friedland, tennis player extraordinary, was the victim of his own bad driving (automobile). It's a bad knee cap! His club mates sympathized with the little gentleman, but regretted that the accident hadn't happened sooner.

A bunch of red, red roses for Letto Greenberg, who won a typewriting endurance contest. The Bronx gal kept pecking away at her machine for a stretch of 42 hours. The losers of the contest should be made to read every word that Letto wrote.

I thought our people were different, but when I visited a dance marathon, I found no fewer than six of the couples were of our kind. They had been dancing for eight days when I saw them and probably are still at it. I hope so!

Beth-El Men's Club Banquet to be Held Nov. 9—Narragansett

Arrangements are completed for the 11th annual banquet of the Men's Club of Temple Beth-El, to be held Wednesday, Nov. 9th, in the Ballroom of the Narragansett Hotel. The event this year gives promise of equalling in importance all of the similar banquets, which have preceded it for more than a decade in the history of this local organization.

The principal address will be delivered by Rabbi Louis Wolsey of Philadelphia, who took a leading part in the religious symposia at Brown University and Providence College a few months ago. In addition, the speakers will include Rabbi William G. Braude. The banquet will be the club's official welcome to the new spiritual leader.

The dinner this year will be attended by male members of the club only and their guests. Should others wish to attend, application for reservations may be made to Samuel H. Workman, chairman of the committee.

Assisting Mr. Workman are: Arthur Basok, Charles C. Brown, Dr. Philip C. Dorenbaum, Louis R. Golden, Leonard J. Hellman, Max J. Klein, Gustave E. Koppe, Dr. James C. Krasnoff, Joseph L. Landauer, Arthur J. Levy, Harry Myers, Milton Pliner, Irving L. Shein, Charles Silverman and A. Henry Klein, ex-officio.
