

"Chief" and "Butch" Now Screen Stars

Interviewing a beautiful blonde actress is apt to prove pretty disconcerting any time, but when there's two of her, both delightful, both quite cuddle-able, and identical, and both with a penchant for sitting on your lap—then, as the saying goes, you've got something there!

The five-year-old flaxen haired Steiner twins, Dorothy and Estelle, sought on the set of their first picture, RKO Radio's "Joy of Living," were found to be just at that wiggly, migratory age that refuses to stay right end up or in one spot very long at a time.

Who's Who

To add to the distraction, attending our interview, the twins, by the simple expedient of swapping places, can leave you talking to the wrong twin, and after all it's awkward to preface every conversation with "Which one are you?"

We'd heard of them through an enthusiastic talent scout who had seen them perform at various Hollywood benefits and women's organizations, heard that they're to make their cinema debut in "Joy of Living," in such auspicious company as Irene Dunne, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Alice Brady, Lucille Ball and a host of others.

Our first glimpse of Dorothy and Estelle was from the back, their blonde heads popping above the backs of tiny folding chairs bearing their names, minute ex-

National Women Hear Fannie B. Lipsky

A meeting of the Providence Section, National Council of Jewish Women, was held on Tuesday afternoon at the Plantations Auditorium, at which time Fannie Barnett Linsky, author and lecturer, spoke on the theatre giving glimpses of life behind the scenes. Her subject was "New Plays on Broadway." The program was in charge of Mrs. John J. Rouslin.

At a meeting of the Literary Group on Friday at the Biltmore Hotel Mrs. William E. Wilson reviewed "Three Worlds," by Van Dorn; "Winter in April," by Robert Nathan and Sinclair Lewis' "Prodigal Parents."

Temple Sponsors Celebration In Honor of U. S. Constitution

Temple Emanu-El is sponsoring a community-wide Jewish Patriotic and Religious Service to be held on Friday evening, March 4th in commemoration of the One Hundred Fiftieth Anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution. The speakers for this occasion will be Charles A. Walsh, Justice of the Superior Court of Rhode Island; Prof. Jarvis M. Morse, Professor of History, Brown University; Dr. Israel M. Goldman, Rabbi of Temple Emanu-El.

Philip C. Joslin, Justice of the Superior Court of Rhode Island, and president of Temple Emanu-El, will preside.

The date of March 4 is especially appropriate because it was on March 4, 1789 that the United States Constitution finally went into operation.

This observance is part of the nation-wide observance of the One Hundred Fiftieth Anniversary of the signing of the Constitution and is locally sponsored by Temple Emanu-El, together with the following organizations: Jacob Medical Society of Rhode Island, Providence Fraternal Association, Rhode Island Post No. 23, Jewish War Veterans of the Uni-

Sponsored by the Inter-Organization Council, with the co-operation of the executive committee of the R. I. Seminar on Human Relationships, a joint luncheon for eight service clubs of this city will be held on Wednesday February 23 at the Biltmore Hotel, in observance of the fifth annual Brotherhood Day. At this luncheon the following Jewish, Catholic and Protestant leaders will speak on the spirit of religious freedom, tolerance and understanding:

Providence is one of more than 2,000 communities throughout the country observing Brotherhood Week, from February 20 to 27, and is one of the cities that is following the plan of a civic luncheon suggested by the National Conference of Jews and Christians.

Asks Wider Aid

HAROLD JACOBI

New York — New Yorkers should do more for the Jewish settlement in Palestine because anti-Semitic pressure in Rumania, Poland and Germany has made urgent the need of finding a home for larger numbers of oppressed and homeless Jews.

This was the message of Harold Jacobi in accepting appointment by Dr. Stephen S. Wise as chairman of the Greater New York campaign of the United Palestine Appeal, which is seeking to raise $4,500,000.

Rebel General Fines Jewish Community

Gibraltar — General Quiepo de Llano, aid of Rebel Generalissimo Francisco Franco, has imposed a fine of 138,000 pesetas on the small Jewish community of Seville and has threatened serious reprisals if the sum is not paid.

U. S. Jews Will Finance Project

NEW YORK — Plans for a Palestine Exhibit at the New York World's Fair to be held in 1939, to demonstrate the economic and social advancement of the country in recent years, were discussed last week at a luncheon in the Fair's Administration Building, Flushing Meadow Park. The plan involves the financing by the Jews of America. Before carrying out the plan, however, the permission of the British Government will be procured.

Laying the plan of the exhibit before Grover A. Whalen, president, and other officers of the Fair, Harold Jacobi, co-chairman, said: "The exhibit we are planning will reflect the idealism and achievement of our people in Palestine. Ours will not be a demonstration against any people. It will be for our people and a testimony of the high ideals which have been our heritage."

Italy to Counter British Broadcasts

ROME — That Italy intends to intensify its Arabic radio broadcasts was indicated recently by the announcement that a powerful station soon would be erected at Addis Ababa.

Great Britain's broadcasting of news in Arabic to counteract similar broadcasts from Rome and Bari was resentfully received by Italians. It was apparent that Italy would attempt something sooner or later to neutralize the effect of these counter programs.

Local Surgeon Gets Degree From University of Penna.

DR. NATHAN BOLOTOW

At its 1938 mid-year convention, the University of Pennsylvania this week conferred the degree of Master of Medical Science upon Dr. Nathan A. Bolotow, ear, nose and throat specialist, of this city. Dr. Bolotow's degree was granted him by the University in recognition of surgical work in his special field of practice.

Says Child Prodigies Live Hard Life

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Life of a gifted child prodigy is a "hard and often tragic one," Pianist Mischa Levitsky related this week. Moreover, he says half the so-called "child prodigies" are merely prematurely developed.

Levitsky advised parents to consider carefully whether their child is gifted musically before "pushing" him into a career.

"No child who is forced to adopt music leads a carefree, easy life that he is in some respects entitled to," Levitsky believes. "Long hours of study and practice are difficult."

In Levitsky's case he showed promise in his boyhood. He gave one concert when he was 10 years old.

Others had been arranged, but his parents intervened and forbade him to appear publicly again until he was 16.

Dead Son's Picture Stolen by Thieves

ELIZABETH — Philip Woolf, jeweler, asked newspapers to publish his appeal to burglars who took articles worth $686 from his shop. The loot included a photograph of Mr. Woolf's son, Milton, who was killed in an automobile accident in 1936, and he wanted it back.

"It is the only photograph I have," Mr. Woolf said, "and I cherish it more than anything else I own. That is why I kept it in the safe."

Pawt. Night to Be Held at Exhibit

Pawtucket Zionists will be represented on Sunday evening at Temple Emanuel, when the Pawt. Zionist District and the Chapter of Hadassah will sponsor Pawtucket Night at the Schatz Art Exhibit.

The exhibition represents works of the late Prof. Boris Schatz, a pioneer in modern Jewish art in Palestine, and also includes works of his son and daughter, Bezalel and Zohara Schatz, who are visiting here with the exhibit.

The Beale Art and Craft School in Palestine, which has more than thirty different classes, was founded by the Prof. Schatz about thirty years ago. The institution is the only one of its kind in the world, as concerns Jewish art.

Two Hundred Attend Anniversary Dinner

Temple Beth Israel celebrated the 17th year of its existence with a dinner at the Temple at which close to two hundred were served at the largest function of its kind ever held in the Temple. Dr. Elias Margolis, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., explained the function of the synagogue in the present Jewish world.

Dr. Margolis's address was followed with a presentation of the coming Temple Bazaar by Dr. Ilie Berger, president of the Temple. A substantial sum was realized to start the Bazaar.

BREAKFAST HOST

Herman Galkin, chairman of the School Committee of Temple Beth Israel, will be host to the Bar Mitzvah Boys at breakfast Sunday morning.

Waad Hacashruth Names Harry Leach Honorary Pres.

Harry Leach was unanimously elected honorary president of the Waad Hacashruth for the rest of his natural life, at a recent meeting of that organization held on February 8.

This honor was accorded Mr. Leach in recognition of his devoted service to Waad Hacashruth for the past seven years. A resident of this city for thirty-four years, Mr. Leach was vice president for four years of the group before ascending to the presidency.

He was one of the founders of the original South Providence Kashruth group fifteen years ago, and was its first president. When the North End section combined with the South Providence group in 1928, Mr. Leach was active in its merger.

Outstanding among the achievements of Mr. Leach's term of office were the passage of the Ko-amples of the larger chairs which bear the names of Miss Dunne and others in the cast.

After a somewhat informal introduction, we asked Estelle, "You're five years old, aren't you?" "Yes," replied Dorothy, climbing on our lap. "No," said Estelle, "We're almost a quarter past five." "Is this your first picture?" we pursued. "Yes," agreed Estelle. "No," said Dorothy. "We made pictures here yesterday, and the day before and the day before that." She climbed off our lap.

"Where's your mother?" we continued. "There she is," replied Estelle, pointing at Lucille Ball. "There she is," answered Dorothy, pointing to an attractive lady whom the twins closely resemble. The attractive lady smilingly intervened, "Miss Ball is their mother in the picture. We've been training them to call her 'Mother.'"

"We're ready for the twins, Mrs. Stein," called the director. The twins skipped to the set, climbed aboard a tricycle on which was mounted a formidable toy machine gun that shoots vacuum-tipped darts.

Demonstration Too Real

"Now," smiled the director, "what do you do when Phyllis (Kennedy) comes in the room?" Whereupon the twins went into action. Dorothy wheeled the tricycle around. Estelle, mounted on the cross-bar, made the machine gun spit darts, two of which registered direct hits upon the startled director.

"That's fine," he gasped when the tumult subsided. But the twins carried on with their scene. Both alighted from the tricycle, shook hands solemnly. "Nice work," said Dorothy. "Thanks, Chief," said Estelle. "Great, kids," said the director. "Now, I hope you do it just like that when Phyllis comes in."

So they did it again—this time

Campaign in Italian Press Claims 1st Jewish Victim

Industrialist Quits Prominent Post

Anti-Jewish Paper Makes Appearance

ROME—The anti-Semitic campaign in the Italian press had its first outstanding result when it was announced officially that Gino Jacopo Olivetti, Italian-born Jewish millionaire industrialist, had resigned as president of the Italian Cotton Institute, vice president of the Textile Products Corp., and government Commissar in the Cotton Textiles National Assn.

The announcement said his resignation was due to "personal motives."

But it was learned reliably that he had resigned in the belief that continuation as head of the three concerns would be incompatible with the "new situation." The

Other members of the committee are Mesdames Morris Schussheim, Isadore Pritsker, Benjamin Brazelin, Judah Semenov, David Feldman, Edmund Waldman, Nathan Temkin, Samuel Michaelson, Leo Cohen and Saul Abrams, ex-officio.

The committee plans to continue the membership campaign through the month of February to March 1st. Each member who enrolls now may pay dues at the fiscal year beginning in October. It is requested that more women join Hadassah and strengthen the world Zionist organization in numbers.

It was announced this week that the Hadassah News Letter has been placed in the Periodical Room of the Providence Public Library and is available to the public.

Hadassah to Aid Rumanian Youth

Seeks to Transport Group to Palestine

New York.—Marking the fourth anniversary of the landing of the first contingent of German Jewish children in Palestine, leaders of the Youth Aliyah (immigration) movement were studying the possibilities of extending their program to include children in Rumania. According to Mrs. David B. Greenberg, of Mount Vernon, Henrietta Szold, chairman of the Youth Aliyah committee of Hadassah, it is planned to rescue, "if possible, the Jewish youth in that country."

Groups of 60

The children will be moved in groups of about sixty between now and March 30, it was said.

Directed by Founder

The entire project is directed by Miss Henrietta Szold, 77 year old founder of Hadassah. Formerly of Baltimore, Miss Szold is now living in Jerusalem.

Jewish Lawyers Want Ban Lifted

Vienna.—Dispatches from Bucharest reported that a delegation of Jewish lawyers asked Minister of Justice Milla Canciov to withdraw the decree expelling Jewish lawyers from practice.

The dispatches said also that the new Ministry of Transportation had decided to withdraw many free railway tickets issued by Premier Goga to journalists. It was said that many of the tickets also had been given to these persons. The Goga government withdrew 150 railway tickets from Jewish journalists.

The disease of sleeping sickness in horses attacked over 88,000 horses in 1937, mainly in the west, killing thousands of animals.

Goodman's Guys Go to Town; Carnegie Concert Not A Stunt

New York—Carnegie Hall had a concert last month, only the baton waver wasn't Toscanini, and the music wasn't of the symphonic order.

The reporter ambled into the hall during a rehearsal, and standing where Toscanini usually stands was that hot lick, Benny Goodman. He was doing Rogers and Hart's "Blue Room." The saxes jam in and Benny, chortling with the rhythm, yells—"give it a lotta umph." Whereupon, they give it a lotta umph and Johannes Brahms dies and goes to hell and Benny comes over and turns on his big-boy grin and says: "You didn't think this was a League of Nations conference, did you?"

Concert Not a Stunt

Benny is tall, shoudery, and looks like the rah-rah lads who go to town when his music starts. He wears glasses, through which he squints good-naturedly, and is one of the pleasantest screw balls in America, a natural showman. His Carnegie Hall concert was not a stunt, but an honest attempt for originality. "You can ride a success," says Benny (twice he's been voted the No. 1 swing band of America); "you'd be surprised how you can ride a success. But for my own interest, and so as not to get bored, I like to keep going with new stuff."

Negroes Began Swing

Benny takes swing so much in his stride that it's hard to get him to discuss it seriously, and besides he thinks the "academic angle" toward swing is the phoney. "The Negroes started swing," says Benny (which he defines simply as improvisations on a theme, although admitting "swing" is a lazy term), "but boredom over playing the same melody time after time was a contributing factor in developing the swing movement."

"For instance," says Benny, "take 'My Gal Sal.' It's all right, but what are you going to do after you play it seven hundred times. Musicians get tired, so they take it to town, try to do something with it, play around with it lick it around."

Swing Started Slow

"Managers did their best to discourage swing when it first came out. Said it wouldn't last."

Rumania Press Attache Ousted

NEW YORK — Jacob Rosenthal, Jewish press attache in New York of the Rumanian Legation, has been removed from his post.

Rosenthal, a Rumanian, had served here for several years.

T. Tileston Wells, an American who has served as Rumanian Consul here for twenty years, confirmed that Rosenthal has been retired but declined to discuss the reasons.

Hadassah of Pawl. Plans Donors Dinner

Mrs. M. Marks Is Chairman

A regular board meeting of the Senior Hadassah Chapter of Pawtucket and Central Falls was held this week at the home of Mrs. Samuel Rigelhaupt, 56 Scott street, Pawtucket. Mrs. Charles D. Shoolman, president of the Chapter, presided.

Plans were made for the Donor's Luncheon, to be held on April 5 at the Narragansett Hotel, of which Mrs. Morris Marks is chairman. Assisting Mrs. Marks are Mrs. Samuel Rigelhaupt, co-chairman; Mrs. Louis Miller, invocation; Mrs. Louis Handler, program chairman; Mrs. Harry Gershman, secretary; Mrs. Samuel Faber, treasurer and hospitality chairman; Mrs. Joseph Schinaagel and Mrs. Charles D. Shoolman, decorations; Mrs. Julius G. Robinson, music; and Mrs. Max Alperin, publicity chairman.

Arrangements were made for a raffle, to be held at the next meeting, on February 28, proceeds of which will be used for buying flowers for the table decorations at the Donor's Luncheon. Hostesses for the meeting will be the Mesdames J. Slefkin, Harry Katz, S. Faber and Louis Finkel.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

and the people wouldn't stand for it. They advised us to stick to sweet and low stuff. But, we didn't and swing went over.

"Maybe swing is dying, as some guy wrote. Maybe the public is getting tired of it. I can't prove it, but I can prove the opposite. And another thing: all over the country, new guys, kids are coming up as musicians who all play swing. What do you think they're gonna play? Waltzes?—Nuts!"

About this "riding a success" stuff. Is his band good for three years? "Three years!" says Benny. "What the hell? That's a long time." Benny says melody'll probably come back. "Sure," says Benny. "When another band leader comes along with enough sincerity about his music—unfortunately."

A Cat and Mouse Fable

Il Duce in his relations with Italian Jews is utilizing age-worn, but effective, tactics. With one breath he permits the publication of a Jew-baiting sheet which, in its columns, demands Nazi restrictions on Jewish activities; and in an official oration, Mussolini states that Italy will not follow the drastic examples of Germany and Rumania. That is, he further modifies his statement, unless the Jews show themselves to be foes of Fascism. Then it will be our duty, he said, to deal with them as we do with all our enemies.

These trial balloons afford him a double-edge advantage. First, he jams fear and uncertainty down the throats of his Jewish citizens; and secondly, he prepares with proper seasoning, a scapegoat, ready for any emergency—a sacrifice for the altar of expediency.

While this blow-hot-blow-cold policy has not resulted, as yet, in any curtailment of financial or civil liberties, it has made the position of the Italian Jew one not to be envied.

Note on Censorship

Radio statisticians report that since the Mae West-Garden of Eden incident on the Don Ameche program—the one that started all the organized forces of decency on the warpath—the number of listeners to this particular hour has increased more than 15 per cent.

"Little Caesar", Family Man, Holidays in Big Town

NEW YORK — Little Caesar is in town, but he's not looking for some rival who has cut in on his territory. No, indeed. If anything, he's thinking of doing a little "cutting in" of his own—in the art world—if he can get a Renoir or a Van Gogh at the right price.

Is Quiet Family Man

The toughest hombre on the screen is both pleased and a little upset at being singled out as "Little Caesar" every time he steps out in public—pleased because people still remember his greatest screen role so vividly—a little upset because in real life Edward G. Robinson is a quiet family man who likes to smoke cigars, putter around the house, play pinochle, worry about the state of the theatre, argue a little with executives about his film parts and collect paintings—especially collect paintings.

Art Patron

A patron of the arts, he would rather discuss paintings than anything else in the world except, perhaps, his family, but once you get him to talking about acting his enthusiasm mounts, especially when it concerns acting before the microphone. "I'm one of those actors who have to act out the part even before the mike," he said. "The biggest shock I ever got was during a radio performance when the actor playing opposite me walked away from the microphone after he had finished his part. Here I was left to say my lines, intended for him, to a blank space. It was terrifying. I asked him to stay there the next time."

Born in Roumania

Born Emmanuel Goldenberg in Bucharest, Roumania, on December 12, 1893, he came to this country when he was 10, and was educated in the public schools and City College. Later he took a special course in law at Columbia, spent part of his youth trying to remedy the woes of the oppressed and then, when America entered the war, enlisted in the navy. After the armistice, he joined a stock company and after many years of this work attracted the attention of a movie producer who cast him in "The Bright Shawl" starring Richard Barthelmess. Far from satisfied with his work in the film, Robinson stuck to the stage for several years thereafter and appeared in numerous Theatre Guild productions. It wasn't until after his great success in "The Racket" that he again ventured into motion picture work.

To get a taste of how it really feels to be the city editor of a paper, a part he once played on the screen and is now portraying over WPRO every Tuesday night, Robinson recently visited the Mirror and took over the desk for a while. The first thing he did was to tell the staff they could knock off whenever they were ready, and that each member had been given a swell raise.

National Committee Plan Conference

The National Labor Committee annual conference will be held Sunday afternoon, April 3, at the Narragansett Hotel, it was announced today by Alter Boyman.

Scene Around Town

By JACOB LEICHTER

MAN OF COURAGE . . . Shades of King Solomon: A Polish Jew, JACOB MELNIK, who recently settled in Palestine, has taken unto himself three wives . . . When arrested and brought before court, his case was dismissed because he was found not guilty of violation of any law in Palestine . . .

JOSEPH SCHLOSSBERG: Better look to your laurels . . . We hear that MURRAY BROMBERG does a right smart job as Cantor when he pinch-hits for you . . .

ZIONISTS: Fort Wayne, Texas, boasting only 300 Jewish families, last year raised over $21,000 for the U. P. A.—A contribution of more than seventeen dollars per person . . .

SUCCESS: TOMMY MANVILLE, whose four wives have cost him more than a million dollars was given some advice about women . . . "G'wan," he was told. "What do you know about Women?" . . . "Well," Tommy confessed, "all I know is what I read in my checkbook . . ."

Misc. Stuff

The KADIMAH CHORAL SOCIETY met and socialized the other evening, with MRS. HILLEL HASENFELD in charge . . . May 15 was tentatively picked as annual concert date for this year . . . FRANCES RABINOWITZ, local social service worker, will leave soon to join her husband in Chicago . . . Frances has kept her marriage for five months rather secret . . . A new high in Used Car advertising was hit last week with the following heading:—"Pedigreed Stock" . . .

EVELYN JOSEPHSON and EMMY WEINER are back from Florida and New York, respectively . . . We hear there's a cute newcomer in town from Fall River named IRENE DASHOFF . . . RUTH BERNARD and daughter, SANDRA, will sail on the S. S. Antigua Saturday for a fifteen-day-cruise in the Caribbean . . . This week's favorite gag:—HE:—"Is my face dirty or is it my imagination?" . . . SHE:—"Your face is clean, but I don't now about your imagination." . . .

REPARTEE: . . . When a rival candidate threatened to defeat a former Senator from Rhode Island, he replied "Home has no terrors for me." . . . The late Kurt Korff, former photo editor of the entire Ullstein press of Germany, and at the time of his death an exile in this country, was the only Jew who ever threw General Goering out of his private office, while Naziland's Number Two man pleaded with him not to publish pictures showing him as an inmate of a lunatic asylum . . . Korff, however, didn't publish the pictures anyway . . .

NO LESS THAN twenty-four attempts have been made to bump off Mussolini since he became Italy's head man, which helps explain the 780 special hard-boiled police who guard Il Duce night and day . . . I wonder how many of our local lawyers were turned in on Mr. Wooley last week, when he spoke on the ethical aspects of the profession . . .

ATTENTION POKER PLAYERS:—Psychological tests reveal that if you don't bluff more than six per cent of the time, your opponents can't judge whether or not its your policy to bluff . . . But, hype up your deception to more than six per cent, and your chances of being caught are multiplied . . .

AND EMINENT MEDICO advises distillers that half a miligram of Vitamin B-1 in a pint of whisky would eliminate staggering and other after-effects ordinarily produced by drinking the pint . . .

READER'S DIGEST simply won't accept advertisements and the rest of those pocket-sized digests, which are receptive, have a devil of a time getting any at all . . .

Rabbi Urges Couples To Marry When Young

NEWARK, N. J.—Early marriages for needy couples with state financial assistance, and compulsory pre-marital examinations, were advocated by Rabbi Sidney Goldstein of Free Synagogue, New York.

"The presence of millions of unmarried men and women presents a danger to the social and moral health of a nation, and places a responsibility on the state that they be given the opportunity if they desire to establish homes and a family life," Rabbi Goldstein declared.

Peasant Leader Challenges Carol's Regime

Charge Premier Violated 1918 Oath

Dictatorship May Be Strengthened

Bucharest.—King Carol either may soon strengthen his personal leadership or return his country to the same form of multi-party government that existed before the fall of the anti-Semitic Premier Octavian Goga.

Carol's Cabinet, formed chiefly of former premiers under Miron Cristea patriarch of the Rumanian Orthodox Church, already faced a challenge by former Premier, Julius Maniu, leader of the National Zaranist (Peasant) party, think the patriarch, by joining Carol in his authoritarian regime, violated the oath of 1918 in which the patriarch pledged himself to "remain forever true to the rights of the people and democracy."

Copies of his speech were distributed throughout the country.

When the Premier learned of the challenge, a prominent Zaranist said, he immediately offered to resign, and Carol consulted Tatarescu, who excused himself on the ground that the liberal party no longer would follow him into any Cabinet but a democratic one. Hence the patriarch continued in office.
