

Chanukko

Despite the 20th-century attempt of some nations to destroy Jews and Judaism, the evening of December 6, will find a candle burning in Jewish homes and Synagogues throughout the world. These lights kindled in celebration of the Feasts of Lights, — the feast of Chanukko of the Jewish calendar — proclaim the eternal spirit of ancient faith.

On each of eight successive evenings, an additional candle will be lighted. When eight candles burn together on the last night of the festival, they will stand as a symbol of a courage that faces the future as it has so often in the past.

Commemorating the triumph of the Jewish people, under the leadership of the Maccabees, over the Syrian tyrant, Antiochus, Chanukko gives strength to Jews in a world harboring a Hitler. Of old, an Antiochus too tried to root out Judaism and set up paganism in its stead.

In 165 B.C.E. Jews found strength to regain their Temple from paganism and to burn a cruse of sacred oil in honor of that victory. Jews in the 20th century burn the Chanukko lights to signify that belief in the dignity of man is still a live and a potent force in the world.

To martyrs of today Chanukko brings a message of courage. For the world's first martyrs for freedom of conscience pointed the way to salvation in the days of the Maccabees.

No Vigilantes

Assurance that the government does not want sheriffs, local officers or citizens to organize spy-hunting groups has come now from President Roosevelt, Attorney-General Murphy, War Secretary Woodring and J. Edgar Hoover, head of the G-men.

That should halt the vigilante activity which has appeared here and there sponsored by patriots who have been complaining about subversive spies under every bed. Such vigilante groups have a tendency to gravitate towards organizations similar to the Ku Klux Klan, the defunct Black Legion and the Paul Reveres.

The G-men, with their specialized training, can do all the spy-hunting necessary. And even they will need to be very careful in their investigation of "facts or rumors" to protect innocent people who happen to have nosy, nervous or malicious neighbors.

A Thanks Offering

Members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union have given a fund of $235,000, to be administered by a number of agencies, for relief of refugees made homeless by the European war.

Among the men and women whose individual contributions make up the fund, as David Dubinsky, union president, points out, are representatives of many races and creeds.

Perhaps it was not altogether co-incidence that their gift to the pilgrims of Europe was announced at this season.

They could have found no better way to strengthen an American ideal.

U.J.A. Dinner to Open Campaign

Elected

NEW YORK — Abraham Goldberg, noted Zionist leader and Jewish journalist, will head the Administrative Committee of the World Federation of Polish Jews, it was announced this week.

Christian Front Pickets Station

NEW YORK. — Strengthening of the Christian Front of New York by an alleged contribution of $65,000 from the "Park Avenue crowd" is expected to result in a wide-scale campaign similar to the anti-Semitic, pro-Coughlin drive which was carried out by the same group last spring, according to information revealed here.

One of the most important points in the latest drive is the renewal of picketing of radio station WMCA, in protest against refusal to broadcast Father Coughlin's speeches. The picketing, which was begun last December, was stopped at the outbreak of war in Europe.

Medical School Expels 15 Jews

BUCHAREST. — Fifteen Jewish freshmen of the University of Iasi's medical school were expelled last week because they could not obtain Jewish bodies for dissection.

The university informed the students three weeks ago that they could dissect only Jewish bodies because Christian students objected to dissection of the bodies of Christians by Jews.

The students could not obtain the Jewish bodies because the Jewish Society of Sacra, with branches throughout Roumania, buries any Jew whose relatives cannot meet the usual costs.

Affronts to Jews In London Spread

LONDON.—Damaging of Jews' shop windows by anti-Semites has spread from West End and North London districts to Croydon.

In many cases labels with anti-Jewish slogans are pasted on windows during the blackout. Perpetrators have gone undetected despite intensive police efforts.

Chalking walls with inscriptions such as "No War for the Jews" also is continuing.

Klan Head Halts Anti-Semitic Drive Won't Tolerate Any Intimidation

MIAMI, Fla. — J. A. Colescott of Atlanta, Ga., new Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, said this week he did not "intend to tolerate" such methods of intimidation as the burning of crosses and parades of white-robed figures through Negro sections.

"There are more intelligent American ways to handle such problems," Mr. Colescott said. "I would rather see the Klan disorganized than see it continue its old policy of anti-Semitism, anti-Catholicism, or anti-alienism."

The Imperial Wizard said he was accused "of selling out to the Jews" by some Klansmen. "Jews have equal rights under the Constitution," he declared, "and as far as the Klan is concerned they are entitled to those rights."

Cripple Is Hero In Bronx Fire

NEW YORK. — Joseph Markowitz 39, a cripple, is in Morrisana Hospital with burned hands and is a hero to the 14 families living at 3816 Third Ave., the Bronx.

Early one morning last week Mr. Markowitz, whose left leg is paralyzed, was awakened in his room on the third floor of the building by smoke.

On the first floor he found a baby carriage in flames. He attacked the flames with his bare hands, but, failing, aroused the other tenants in the building, who fled to safety. The fire of suspicious origin, is being investigated.

MANUFACTURER DEAD LONDON. — Samuel Isaacs, jewelry manufacturing died here this week.

Bronx Women Signs Paper And 'Loses' Infant Daughter

NEW YORK. — Mrs. Belle Gordon, 28-year-old-Bronx mother, hasn't seen her baby since it was four days old, and doesn't know when, or if, she'll ever see it again.

Ten months ago, still confined to a hospital following the birth of a daughter, Jean, she signed a paper. She told the reporter it wasn't until weeks later that she found it was a document that released the infant into the hands of a Bronx physician. This week, /l from worry, wondering how the child is, if it is sick or well, or even dead, she made an appeal to the persons who now have the child. "Will they please, wherever they are, bring back my baby? If I don't have my Jean I'm afraid I'll go crazy."

Deserted after Marriage

The young mother, her eyes tearful, told the story of how her husband, two months after their marriage, deserted her. Then she discovered she was going to have a baby. Shocked and shaken from being left alone, she was comforted by the thought that her loneliness would be ended when her baby was born. And then, she saw it only for four days.

Seek Jewish Kin To Avoid Nazi Draft

BELGRADE. — A frantic hunt for Jewish ancestry is the order of the day for many Germans, long residents of Yugoslavia, who fear forcible repatriation to the Reich. Approximately 500,000 Yugoslav Germans are faced with the prospect of involuntary transfer to their fatherland.

Many of them, seeking to avoid the shift, are applying to Jewish community organizations for affidavits testifying that they have Jewish blood in their veins and are not full "Aryans."

GHETTO SCORED

LONDON. — Germany's removal of Jews to the Lublin district of Nazi Poland is denounced by Foreign Undersecretary Richard A. Butler who said that there is no reason to believe that the reports about concentration of Jews in the Lublin area are not substantially correct.

Must Furnish Information

The physician was instructed by a Bronx Supreme Court Justice to file within ten days, complete information of the persons who have the child. The case has been in the court for eight months, during which time an official referee decided that Mrs. Gordon had not signed the child away voluntarily.

Signed Paper

"When I signed the paper," said Mrs. Gordon, "I was sick, run down, my husband had left me and I didn't care whether I lived or not. When the doctor gave me the paper to sign, he said it was just a formality. I didn't read it. I didn't know I was going to lose my baby."

David Shappiro, her attorney, said this week he does not know what will be his next step. "We won't give up, ever," said Mrs. Gordon. "I want my baby and sometime, somewhere, I'll find her."

Nazis Continue Pogroms in Poland

PARIS. — Continued persecution of Jews in Nazi-occupied Poland is being carried on by the Nazis who have taken to fraternizing with anti-Semitic Poles in an attempt to arouse Polish sentiment against Jews. The suffering of Jews in Warsaw was vividly told by an official of a neutral country who arrived here recently from the former Polish capital where Nazi cruelty to Jews is unabated.

The envoy further disclosed that general Polish sentiment has not yet been influenced by Nazi propaganda against the Jews. Most of the Poles, the envoy said, are sympathetic to suffering Jews and try to help them obtain food and clothing whenever possible.

500 Illegals Beached At Tel Aviv Port

TEL AVIV. — A total of 500 illegal beached off Tel Aviv with the arrival of four small boats and a motorboat whose passengers had obviously been unloaded from a steamer out at sea.

Inquiries among the passengers indicated that the Bulgarian authorities had allegedly forced the inmates of a local prison on board ship just as it was about to leave port Varna. There was thus the probability that the illegal immigrants included a number of non-Jews. All of the newcomers were sent to Sarafend camp in the afternoon by the Palestine Government authorities.

By JACOB LEICHTER

WITH APOLIGIES TO F. P. A.

DALLAS, Tex. — Corinne Maddox hated Attorney Brooks Coffman so intensely that before riddling him with bullets of two pistols she composed a poem of hate for him to read in his dying moments, police revealed this week.

They say that poetry is dead,
Archaic, obsolete, defunct,
That poems now are rarely read,
That by and large they should be junked.
But what, I ask, what do we do
When hatred rends our souls asunder?
Why, desperately then we woo
The slighted muse of rhyme, by thunder!
When we are wont to shower our banker
With epithets replete with curses,
How natural to clothe our rancor
In vibrant vitriolic verses.
When we get sore at our attorney
And plug him full of sweet repose,
We send him out upon his journey
With poetry—and not with prose.
So give not Poessie the gate —
There's nothing that could be absurder—
We're going to need her hymns of hate
When we are forced to do a murder.

BY EDYTHE JAY

We've had no time to write a poem
It's late Wednesday — now we're going home
And besides tomorrow's Thanksgiving
The holiday's got us — please be forgiving . . .

Quote . . . The season's prize beauty looks like a lady . . . Unquote . . . This is the declaration being declared by "those who know" in the fashion world . . .

Say they: The woman who is beautifully groomed and truly poised takes first prize this season . . . It's a year to look like a lady, a lady with a personality of her own and a great deal of common sense . . . The sometimes coy, family albumish effects achieved by upswept hairdos, strapless evening gowns and Gibson girl blouses are almost as outmoded now as the drooping eye-lid, the shoulder length bob, and languid mannerism getups of a few seasons ago . . .

The trend toward sanity in dress and make-up may be due to the influence of the war on the simple, lady clothes that Paris designers are turning out these days, or simply to the fact that the modern woman found it difficult to keep her hair up or to wear a bustle and at the same time be her own active, interesting self . . .

At any rate, at opening nights in the theatre and other functions where society gathers, there's hardly an upswept coiffure, a bustle or a black ribbon around the throat to be seen . . . The effects achieved by artful application of makeup are equally sane . . . Women look handsome or beautiful, rather than pretty or cute . . . Hair is dressed on the neckline instead of on the shoulders or atop the head . . .

Mascara and eyeshadow are applied sparingly and artistically . . . Faces have a dull or shiny finish, rather than a heavily powdered look . . . Smart girls are immaculate from top to toe . . . Everything about them spells good taste . . . You'll be on the right track if you'll remember that good taste in grooming is the criterion . . .

It was one of those weeks, when most of the local ladies were in hiding, or maybe we just went to different places . . . At any rate, we picked up notes on just a few of them, and here's how they appeared . . .

Blonde Celia Glassman, and brunette Jean Mendelovitz, passed in a hurry the other A. M., but we did get a change to jot down that they both looked smart in seal coats . . . Fredda Lisker in a dress and turban of sky blue, over which she wore a smooth Persian coat . . . Mrs. Lewis Wattman, her always-well-groomed self, in a dubonnet coat, with a square lynx collar . . . Her hat was of a lighter hue, and very becoming . . .

Shirley Katzman and her fiancé were feted last Sunday at a dinner, to honor their recent betrothal . . . Shirley was chic in an afternoon frock of black and white, and wore a saucy black velvet pillbox hat . . . She had a corsage of orchids . . .

Madeline Newberger is wearing an awful party coat these days . . . It's beautiful beige wool, and has a luxurious collar and cuffs of sleek mink . . . Another good looking coat worn by Ruth Payton . . . Of very light coloured tweed, it has a collar of just as light fur . . . Her hat matches, and boasts a pom pom of fur to match the collar . . .

Sorry, my pets, but this is all we can scrape together this week . . . Bigger doings for next week, mebbe! . . .

"Chanukko at Home"

"Chanukko at Home" is one of the famous genre paintings of Moritz Daniel Oppenheim (1801-1882), reproduced here by the courtesy of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. This is a scene of a German family gathered to celebrate Chanukko, showing the traditional lighting of the candles, the games of cards, chess and trendel (tops), and the general atmosphere of comfort and homely pleasure associated with the holiday.

REPORT DENIED

LONDON.—Reports appearing in the French press regarding the possibility that Britain would send a royal commission to Palestine to study the economic consequences of her new policy for the Holy Land were denied recently by the Colonial Office.

Chanukko Holiday December 7 to 14

The Chanukko holiday, which falls between December 7 and 14 this year, is a commemoration of the almost miraculous rescue of the Jewish people in Palestine from Syrian oppression in the year 165 B.C. under the leadership of Judas Maccabaeus. The historical parallels of the trials of the biblical people and the Jewish people today make the Hanukko story one of especial inspiration.

"That's Right-You're Wrong" at Albee

Something delightfully new under the screen sun is the tuneful comedy, "That's Right — You're Wrong," now playing at the RKO Albee Theatre.

Starring Kay Kyser with his orchestra and Adolphe Menjou, the picture breaks sharply away from the conventional boy-meets-girl success-story theme on which most band leader films have been based.

"That's Right — You're Wrong" crowds an immense amount of snappy new music, Hollywood entertainment into its footage.

Other attractions include a second feature "Three Sons" starring Edward Ellis and a Donald Duck cartoon, "Sea Scouts."

United Jewish Appeal is Calling on R. I. Jewry

Duties of Member Units Outlined

The Rhode Island United Jewish Appeal consists of the Joint Distribution Committee, the United Palestine Appeal, and the National Refugee Service (the National Coordinating Committee Fund.) The Joint Distribution Committee is the relief agency which, for the last 22 years, has been giving relief to the oppressed Jewry of Europe. In the last several years, with Hitler's coming to power, the Joint Distribution Committee carried the burden of giving aid to German, Austrian and Czechoslovakian Jewry. At the present time with the war in Europe and where two and a half million Jews in Poland are going through starvation, especially that part which is under Nazi who possess visas to enter overseas countries under the present quota regulations.

Duties of U. P. A.

The United Palestine Appeal in addition to all its activities for the last 25 years in Palestine has, at the present time, to provide for increased immigration of refugees from Germany and other European countries who are continuing to enter Palestine despite the present war, help maintain progress of settlement activity and economic development of the Jewish community of 500,000 in Palestine, strengthen Palestine's economic position to meet problems created by the conflict and extend immigration opportunities for new victims of homelessness

Refugees in No Man's Land

In the wake of Nazi occupation of Czecho-Slovakia, thousands of new refugees fled to the borders seeking some escape from the Nuremberg racial laws of Germany. On the frontiers they found themselves in No Man's Land — refused entry into new countries, and forbidden to return to the homes they had left behind. Scenes like these are typical of the tragic plight of many homeless thousands, in whose behalf the United Jewish Appeal for Refugees and Overseas Needs is conducting an unprecedented campaign through union of the fund-raising efforts of the Joint Distribution Committee, the United Palestine Appeal, and the National Coordinating Committee Fund, Inc.

Germany, the Joint Distribution Committee is the only relief organization which helps the Jews.

Feed 50,000 Daily

The Joint Distribution Committee opened kitchens in Warsaw which feed 50,000 Jews daily. In addition to Poland, the Joint Distribution Committee must give all possible assistance to the Jewish communities in Rumania and Hungary and the Baltic countries which are now faced with the vast problem of providing for tens of thousands of war refugees from Poland; provide refugee aid in neutral countries such as Holland, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland where local communities must devote all energies to national problems of security, etc., prepare a large-scale program of rehabilitation in order to rebuild Jewish life in Poland and to help in the economic and communal reconstruction of the Jewish communities, and to assist in providing transportation from neutral countries for refugees and distress in Central and Eastern Europe.

Refugee Service

The National Refugee Service must continue to provide for refugees entering the United States from Germany, Italy, and other European countries to which thousands have gone, awaiting admittance to the United States, and also meet the problems of maintenance, adjustment, re-routing, resettlement and employment of refugees already here, and for those who will continue to enter despite the war situation abroad.

The United Jewish Appeal stands ready and prepared through its constituent bodies, to serve American Jewry as the one great unified fund-raising instrument for war relief and rescue. Let the conscience of every Jew be the guide of his measure of service to the United Jewish Appeal for Refugees and Overseas Needs in this dark hour for the Jewish people.

Resting

The young colonist in this picture is one of the thousands of agricultural settlers who have established more than 230 Jewish colonies throughout Palestine.

To feed the hungry - to clothe the naked - to shelter the homeless - among the millions of our fellow Jews in war-torn Europe - that is our task this year.

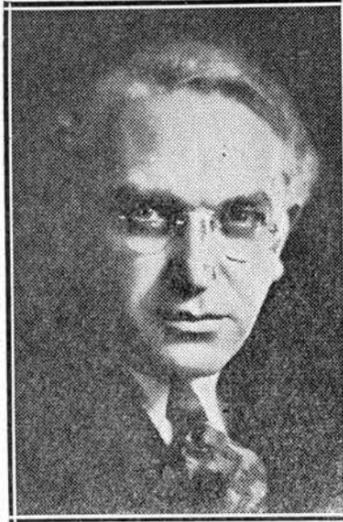

In addition, it is our aim to provide the means by which thousands of them may eventually reach Palestine or other friendly, permanent places of residence.

Let us give thanks that we are on the giving side - not on the receiving side.

And let us express our thanks with gifts so substantial, that they will bring life and hope to those who need it.

SAUL ABRAMS

Chairman Initial Gifts Committee

DR. SOLOMON GOLDMAN

Dr. Solomon Goldman, president of the Zionist Organization of America and co-chairman of the United Jewish Appeal for Refugees and Overseas Needs, is one of the foremost scholars in the American pulpit. He has taken an active part in major Jewish communal enterprises of this country and has also played a leading part in the civic affairs of Chicago, where he has been rabbi of the Anshe Emet Congregation for the past ten years.

He is one of the outstanding personalities in the movement for the upbuilding of the Jewish homeland in Palestine, and the range of his participation in Jewish communal affairs is indicated by the fact that he has been president of the Histadruth Ivrit of America, is a member of the B'nai B'rith Foundation Commission, of the Advisory Council of the B'nai B'rith Anti-Defamation League, of the Executive Committee of the United Synagogue of America, the Rabbinical Assembly, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, and the American Oriental Society and Societas Spinozana.

Writing extensively for periodicals in Hebrew and English, Dr. Goldman is co-author of a beginner's text book in Hebrew and editor of numerous volumes of poetry and fiction. Among his books are: "A Rabbi Takes Stock," "The Jew and the Universe"; and "Crisis and Decision."

Palestine As A Refugee Center

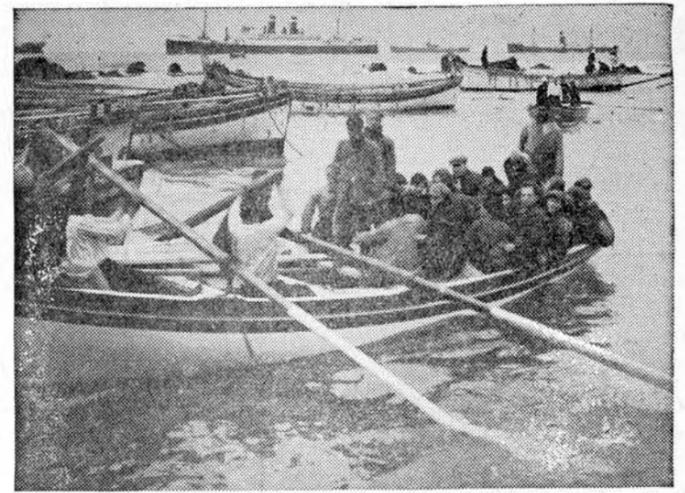

By Sir Herbert Emerson

Palestine has naturally been the country most favored by refugees. It makes an appeal to the Jewish race such as no other land can make; settlement projects have been in progress for many years and many of them have attained a large measure of success; much enterprise and very large amounts of capital have been devoted to its development; and as families became established they were able to assist relatives who came to join them.

For these and other reasons settlement in Palestine has presented less difficulty on the economic side than in any other country. Immigration has been on a large scale.

It has been estimated that not less than 215,000 persons of the Jewish faith have found a home there since 1933, but, of course, other countries besides Greater Germany have provided immigrants. Poland, Roumania and Hungary have sent large numbers. Greater Germany accounts for about one-third of the total only, but even so a contribution of approximately 70,000 has been of the greatest value in helping to meet the general situation.

Refugees Arriving in Palestine

A boatload of homeless Jews, refugees from European oppression, approach the shores of Palestine, where they will build new homes and a new future for themselves and their people with the aid of the United Palestine Appeal. The fund-raising efforts of the United Palestine Appeal have been combined for 1939 with those of the Joint Distribution Committee and the National Coordinating Committee Fund, Inc., in the United Jewish Appeal for Refugees and Overseas Needs.

Conditions in Palestine

During the past two decades the rate of growth of the Jewish Community of Palestine has been by far the most rapid in the modern history of colonization. A Jewish social structure which supported 83,794 people in 1922 has expanded six-fold. And at the present time, there are about 500,000 Jews in Palestine. There has arisen in Palestine a new Jewish agriculture, a flourishing commerce and an expanding Jewish industry.

Spread throughout the country is a network of schools in which nearly 70,000 Jewish children are enrolled. The Hebrew University has been built in Jerusalem. The Hebrew language has been reborn and Palestine has become the cradle of an extensive new Hebrew literature. The Palestine Symphony Orchestra, an enterprising and varied Hebrew theater, numerous daily, weekly and monthly publications in Hebrew, and other aspects of an expanding spiritual and cultural life point to the healthiness of Jewish communal existence.

The propulsive power of Jewish idealism, as exemplified in the progress of Palestine since the end of the World War, is recognized as a factor quite as real, if not as tangible, as the immigration of hundreds of thousands of new settlers and the importation of millions of dollars in new capital. This force, combined as it is today with the desperation stemming from Jewish misery in many sections of Europe, is a powerful stimulant to a resurgence of Jewish upbuilding and colonization. Added to the economic factors which point to expanding opportunity for new immigrants, it bears most pertinently upon a solution to the problem with which the Intergovernmental Committee is occupied.

Cupboards Are Bare

A German Jewish housewife shows a visitor the empty shelves where once she was able to keep the food for her family. New restrictive measures by the German government have made assistance in relief, reconstruction and immigration doubly necessary through American aid. The United Jewish Appeal for Refugees and Overseas Needs, is devoted to the three-fold task of relief and reconstruction in Europe, immigration and resettlement in Palestine and refugee adjustment in the United States.

They Too Are Refugees

Children aimlessly playing with dolls in an improvised refugee shelter in what was once Czecho-Slovakia. Their parents fled with them before the onrush of Nazi power. They look to the United Jewish Appeal for Refugees and Overseas Needs for a new future in lands of freedom.
