Borrowing "Ideas"

There are many who believe that the United States could borrow some of the ideas that the German dictatorship has enforced, that is, if it were not for Hitler and his extremist advisors.

They forget, in the Third Reich, real wages have constantly declined. There has been a marked declination of consumer's goods, and the scarcity of many products necessitates the purchase of more expensive substitutes. As profits have been strictly limited by National Socialism, the workers carry a constantly larger share of the mounting tax.

There are "contributions" in endless variety and nobody is free to refuse to make them. Perhaps the greatest Nazi trickery is that although unemployment has been "liquidated" by conscription of labor, unemployment insurance premiums, which were increased during the depression, are still collected at the emergency rate, and insurance funds are used as a source for financing the armament bills. This applies also to the money collected for winter relief.

Hitler was elected to tyranny because the majority of Germans feared the destruction of the Capitalist system. And, yet, this is what Hitler has destroyed. Bankers who feared Marxism have seen their banks taken over by a Marxist system of State Socialism.

Those who wanted labor union controlled, have seen their own businesses wrecked. They have been told they could or could not have foreign exchange, and how and when to sell. No German today is the master of his enterprise. Nothing remains of Capitalism today except the ardent desire of the German majority for its return.

The above recalls the statement of the late Thomas Masaryk, who said, "The dictators always look good until the last five minutes."

Borah's Idea of Foreign Policy

Senator Borah's idea of the proper attitude of a democracy toward a dictatorship was expressed in the following words he wrote the other day.

"Whatever may be our views as individuals or our sympathies as individuals, as a nation we should apply the same rule to dictators that we apply to all other governments. It is a fundamental rule of democracy itself that a people are entitled to whatever form of government they choose or consent to.

"In other words, so long as dictators respect the rights and interests of our people and our government, we have no quarrel because of their form of government; it is what governments do and not what kind they are, that concerns us."

The Roosevelt course is certainly facing trouble from Borah.

Hope

In a very real sense and in the longer perspective of time Hitler's assault on the liberties of Central Europe carries with it a hope, if a distant hope, for the Jewish people. Nazi penetration in central Europe extends the area of Jewish suffering but it also serves to expose the inner meaning of anti-Semitism.—The

Believes Bankruptcy Certain in Germany Boycott Head Presents Views

NEW YORK. — Financial bankruptcy is unavoidable for Germany and an economic crisis there may be the decisive factor for war or peace, Dr. Joseph Tenenbaum, chairman of the Joint Boycott Council of the American Jewish Congress and American Jewish Labor Committee, declared in a report this week.

Dr. Tenenbaum asserted that two-thirds of the entire German national income, about 45 billion marks, was now being swallowed by governmental and semi-public bodies and that virtually the entire wealth of Germany had been converted into munitions and paper obligations.

He likened the present status of Germany with that of the Reich in 1918 when, according to his interpretation, the Kaiser, won all the battles but lost the war.

Calls Chamberlain "Kid Glove Fascist"

CHICAGO. — Clyde R. Miller, secretary of the Columbia Institute for Propaganda Analysis, said last week that Prime Minister Chamberlain "is more dangerous to democracy as a propagandist than Hitler or Mussolini."

"Chamberlain is more dangerous because he represents kid glove Fascism," he said. "Very much like a dictator, Chamberlain, in the Munich crisis, reported to Parliament accomplished acts. It is possible the war scare then fit in with his ends, and it is possible the same thing is true now."

He spoke at the Institute of Human Relations sponsored by the Round Table of Christians and Jews.

BUND BRANCH

PITTSBURGH. — In the wake of an F. B. I. report that the German-American Bund had been operating a training school in Pittsburgh's main Y. M. C. A. branch, it was learned that the local unit of the Bund, which at its peak had but 100 members, has all but been wiped out entirely.

Senator Elmer Thomas Will Address Beth-El Men's Club

The annual meeting of the Men's Club of Temple Beth El will be held on Sunday evening, 8:15 o'clock, in the vestry of the Temple. Guest speaker for the evening will be Elmer Thomas, senior senator from Oklahoma, who is making a special trip from Washington to address the members and invited guests on the subject, "The New Dollar."

Senator Thomas is recognized as one of the leading authorities on monetary problems. He is a member of the Appropriations Committee and originator of a new five billion dollar currency bill. He also is the sponsor for an additional reduction of 20 per cent in the gold content of the dollar.

Bertram L. Bernhardt, completing a two year term as president of the Men's Club, will introduce the speaker. Invitations

Thousands of Slovak Jews Forced to Live In No Man's Land

In the wake of Nazi occupation of Czecho-Slovakia, thousands of new refugees fled to the borders seeking some escape from the Nuremberg racial laws of Germany. On the frontiers they found themselves in No Man's Land—refused entry into new countries, and forbidden to return to the homes they had left behind. Scenes like the one pictured above are typical of the tragic plight of many homeless thousands, in whose behalf the United Jewish Appeal for Refugees and Overseas Needs is conducting an unprecedented campaign.

Seek Cooperation For Refugee Visas

Require Nazi Aid, Says Lord Winterton Makes Report To British House

LONDON. — Lord Winterton, chairman of the Intergovernmental for Refugees, told the House of Commons that the refugee problem could not be solved unless the German government showed a willingness to cooperate. "Before the refugees can come here, there must be an exit visa given by the German government," said Lord Winterton, "but many refugees cannot enter England because they are not allowed out of Germany. If we could get the Reich government to allow these people to come out and take with them some portion of their wealth, something could be done," he explained.

Hundreds of fugitives from Nazi persecution in Czecho-Slovakia continue to pour into England in spite of the fact that Nazi authorities have refused to give permission for their departure.

Polish Jews Aid Air Defense Project

WARSAW. — Several Jewish personalities were among representatives of all Polish parties who attended a reception by President Ignace Moscicki at the old Royal Palace in connection with the air defense loan, in the raising of which Jews are playing a prominent part.

Trades unions affiliated with the Bund (Jewish Socialist Party) and the Poale-Zion (Laborite Zion organization) have subscribed to the loan and have appealed to their members to follow the organizations' example individually.

Hitler Effigy Blocks Traffic

BOSTON. — Adolph Hitler held up traffic between Needham and Dedham. Someone with definite anti-Nazi tendencies had made an effigy of the Nazi chieftain and put it in the middle of the road.

Vehicular traffic was slowed up considerably while autoists had to drive around it until Needham police came down and picked it up. Officer Clarence W. Garland stated that the likeness wasn't bad and so decided to take it home. He said he'll use it for a scarecrow.

Mrs. Shatkin Brings Five Refugees to City

Mrs. Harry Shatkin of 120 Hazard avenue returned recently from New York, bringing with her five German refugees.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Barron and their two sons and daughter. Mrs. Barron is a sister to Mrs. Shatkin's mother, Mrs. Weintraub. The sisters have not met for fifty years.

anti-Jewish campaigns sometimes send shiploads of refugees to Palestine for whom arrangements

Beth-Israel to Celebrate 18th Anniversary Saturday

Dr. Elias Margolis, rabbi of Temple Emanuel in Mount Vernon, N. Y., will be guest speaker at a dinner to be held by Temple Beth Israel on Sunday evening in the vestry of the temple, in celebration of its eighteenth year of existence. Dr. Margolis has been speaker at two previous dinner celebrations of the Temple, and has become a favorite with members of the congregation.

Rabbi Morris Schussheim will survey the history and achievements of the congregation, to which he first came in 1922.

Temple Beth Israel was the first conservative congregation in Providence, having been organized in 1921.

A Sisterhood, Men's Club and a Daughtershood serve the needs if the various elements of the congregation, while the Temple doors are open to meetings of Masada, Young Judaea and scout groups.

The present officers of the Temple organizations are Jacob Licht, president of the Congregation, Ethel Taber, president of the Sisterhood; William E. Lipson, president of the Men's Club, and Eve Tannenbaum, president of the Daughtershood.

Refugee Here For Peace, Gets Shock

JERSEY CITY. — The land of peace and quiet is vastly to be preferred to a Nazi concentration camp, but Otto Bilek, 25, admitted this week that he has been profoundly shocked. An Austrian refugee who was placed in a concentration camp, after Hitler marched into Austria, he came here several weeks ago.

"I came here for peace and quiet," he said.

He got a job in a parking lot here. Yesterday three young men held him up and robbed him of $9.50—every cent he had. He called police, who had to call an ambulance. A doctor treated Bilek for shock.

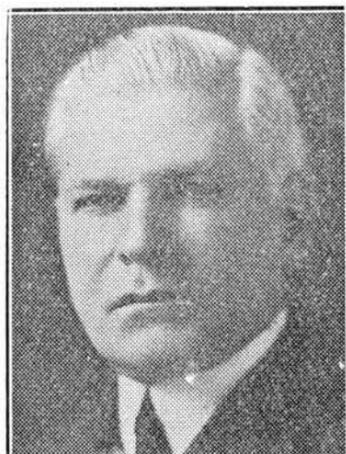

"It wasn't that I was scared," he said. "It was that such a thing could happen to me here in this land of peace and quiet."

Palestine Bars 1,000 Illegal Jews

JERUSALEM. — More than 1,000 despairing "illegal" Jewish immigrants sailed the Mediterranean last week in three ships which had been turned back from Palestine. Two steamships had been turned back already when, today, the Greek steamship Assimi, with 200 refugees, was halted near Caesarea and turned back to the sea.

It Happened This Week

Parking Meters

Steps to restore the parking meters to the sidewalks of Providence were taken by Alderman Charles B. Coppen who urged the passage of a bill that would make operation of meters constitutional.

Dedicate Tablet To Col. Samuels

A tablet dedicated to the late Col. Samuels was unveiled this week by Dr. William J. Gies at the Rhode Island Hospital Dental Clinic for Children. The tablet was presented by the Rhode Island State Dental Society and paid tribute to Col. Samuels for his philanthropy and his patronage of dentistry.

Approve Budget Balancing Taxes

A two cent tax on cigarettes and a ten per cent levy on all forms of tobacco were approved this week by the House Finance Committee as a means of obtaining sufficient revenue to balance the budget. The committee decided not to increase the corporate tax levy but planned to amend the measure for race track "breakage" so that the State could receive half the "breakage."

Bertha Kalich Dies

NEW YORK. — Bertha Kalich, 65, noted tragedienne of the Yiddish Theatre, who also had a brilliant career on the English-speaking stage in this country, died this week at the Beth-Israel Hospital. Ill, and nearly blind from an eye ailment, she underwent an operation last Monday. She is survived by a husband and a daughter.

Chinese Offensive

SHANGHAI. — The Chinese offensive is keeping the Japanese busy on many fronts, piecemeal reports indicate, with railways and mines being put out of commission. Chiang's tactics are now menacing cities long held by invaders.

Tragedy

NEW YORK. — Married, divorced and remarried, the Emanuel Greenbaums still couldn't get along. At a conference in a lawyer's office to set terms of separation, the husband drew a gun and killed his wife and himself.

Aliens Return

NEW YORK. — They didn't like it here, now that they can't find jobs at good pay, so 52 aliens gathered at Ellis Island are going back where they came from—at their request but at the U. S. expense.

WASHINGTON. — The WPA dropped 37,400 ineligibles from rolls after nationwide investigation of recipient's needs, it was announced this week. It was noted that only 1.3 per cent of the total were carried longer than necessary.

Seek New Law

WASHINGTON. — The high court ruling in the Strecker case, barring deportation for past membership in the Communist party, has led to a drive in Congress for laws to permit just the thing the decision forbade.

Assembly Heads For Extra Session

With its 60th day of meeting passed, the General Assembly this week seemed headed for at least ten days of lawmaking for which they will be no compensation or travelling expenses. Before the Assembly will be able to adjourn it will have to pass on the budget-balancing bills and the annual appropriation act.

Propose TVA For New York

NEW YORK. — A TVA for New York is proposed in a bill offered in Congress by Administration spokesman. A plant at Niagara would save State's consumers an estimated $250,000,000.

A Life for a Kiss

NEW YORK. — A Bronx burglar paused in his duties at an apartment house to embrace and attractive tenant. Her screams attracted a crowd and in his attempt to escape the amorous burglar tumbled from the roof to his death. The body lies unclaimed in the morgue.

Meeting Held By Rabbinical Women

A regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Rabbinical College of Telshe was held last Monday afternoon at the Jewish Community Center with Mrs. Morris Deluty presiding.

Rabbi David Werner, guest for the afternoon, spoke on the importance of supporting Yeshivas throughout the country. Announcement was made that a cake sale, which was to be held at the Outlet Company on Tuesday afternoon, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Samuel Resnick, had been postponed until May 16.

The following officers were nominated for the coming year: Mrs. Morris Deluty, president; Mrs. J. Borstein, honorary president; Mrs. A. Horvitz, first vice-president; Mrs. Samuel Resnick, second vice-president; Mrs. B. Borozovsky, third vice-president; Mrs. Charles Schreiber, treasurer; Mrs. Meyer Rosen, financial secretary; Mrs. Morris Burg, recording secretary and publicity chairman; Mrs. Harry Rosen, sunshine chairman; Mrs. Samuel Mandler, hospitality chairman; Mrs. M. Blazar and Mrs. Clara Zuckerman, trustees.

The following books were in danger of suppression and exclusion from the Bible; Ezekie, the Song of Songs, Ecclesiastes and Esther.

Repertory Players Will Present "It Can't Happen Here" April 24

Renamed Chairman

FRANK LAZARUS

Mr. Lazarus has been reappointed chairman of the Membership Committee of the Republican Club of Rhode Island.

Mr. Lazarus started in politics in 1932 as a volunteer worker for the Second Ward Republican committee. He was delegate to the Republican State Convention in 1934; delegate to the Mayoralty Convention in 1936 and the first Senatorial Convention in 1938.

He was a member of the Speakers Bureau of the Republican State Central Committee, during the last campaign, and spoke in numerous cities and towns in Rhode Island on behalf of the party.

"It Can't Happen Here," a three act play, by Sinclair Lewis, will be presented on April 29 at the Playhouse Theatre, Westminster street, by the Repertory Players, under the direction of Mrs. John F. Heckman.

This play, being given in conjunction with the local chapter of B'nai B'rith, is a fresh, forthright document, human and occasionally humorous setting forth clearly the idea that if the members of a democracy really care about liberty, they will guard it at a cost of their lives.

Mrs. Heckman is being assisted in direction by Mollie Weinberg. The cast comprises Dr. James C. Krasnoff, Harold Roberts, Evelyn Siegal, Sidney Long, Leona Smith, Sydney Shepard, Richard Kaplan, Bernard Kiefson, Matthew Millman, Samuel Feldstein, Hilda Raphael, Philip Liberman, Irving Bilgor, Sanford Plainfield, Adolph Reich, Dr. Stanley Loeberberg, Harvey Cohen and Archie Finklestein.

Morton Saunders is technical manager, assisted by Ben Victor; properties are under the supervision of Edith Fink and Arlene Sass; costumes are being handled by Esther Travis and Mollie Shaeffer; Bill Morton and Edythe Jagolinzer are in charge of publicity.

Tickets should be obtained early from Walter H. Strauss, chairman, or from any member of the cast. Dr. Sol Rubinstein and Mrs. Haskell Frank are handling tickets for B'nai B'rith.

Junior Hadassah Names Muriel Dauer, President

At a meeting of Junior Hadassah, held last week at Temple Beth Israel, the following slate of officers was presented for the ensuing year, by the nominating committee:

Muriel Dauer, president; Beatrice Uloff, first vice-president; Celia Kapelow, second vice-president; Beatrice Sandperil, third vice-president; Rose Hoppenstein, treasurer; Sylvia Davis, financial secretary; Selma Woodman, recording secretary, Evelyn Brown, corresponding secretary; Norma Kauffman, assisting corresponding secretary. The nominating committee comprised Ann Smith, chairman, Esther Travis, Rose Cleinman, Ruth Orzeck and Ann Port. Officers will be installed at a meeting to be held at a later date.

A report was heard on the New England Regional Conference of Junior Hadassah, held recently in Springfield. Miss Dauer was elected vice-president of the New England Region at the conference.

A "Professor Quiz" program was given, led by Miss Celia Kapelow. Miss Dauer was awarded the prize for the highest score. A skit was presented, and refreshments were served.

Announcement was made that a dance will be held on May 18, with Miss Selma Woodman as general chairman.

AT THE THEATRES

FAYS

Fays Theatre presents this week Kay Francis in "Women in the Wind," with William Gargan, Victor Jory and Eddie Foy, Jr. It's the story of the women's "Dawn Patrol," who win their wings at the cost of love. On Fays stage this week, Sidney Marion heads the bill. France and La Pell, the sensational ship's mast balancers, also appear. The Sinclair Sextette, Nora Williams and the Spring fantasy, "Birdland," complete the vaudeville attraction.

MAJESTIC

Singing the songs you like to hear, Deanna Durbin is the headliner this week at the Majestic in the film, "3 Smart Girls Grow Up," with Nan Grey, Helen Parrish, Robert Cummings and Charles Winninger. Deanna's lovely voice will thrill you and weave a spell of enchantment you'll always remember. As a second feature, the Majestic presents, "Inspector Hornleigh" with Gordon Harker and Allastair Sims. It's an exciting yarn from Scotland Yard.

WHAT IS MEANT BY INSURANCE THAT REMOVES ALL THE RISK

YOUR property may never be involved in a conflagration, an earthquake, or hurricane, yet you may suffer a loss at a time when the company carrying your insurance is required to meet heavy losses due to a conflagration or some other important catastrophe in another part of the country.

When your policy is issued by a Capital Stock Fire Insurance Company, you feel assured that under these circumstances your interests are protected by the combination of capital funds subscribed by stockholders and ample surplus built up for policyholder protection. The major burden of all of the great conflagrations in America has been borne by companies of this type and the manner in which they have discharged their obligations justifies the confidence in their integrity and stability which their policyholders feel.

That is why four out of five people choose the security of Capital Stock Company Fire Insurance in preference to other types. That is the kind you should have. We will be glad to confer with you about it.

DO YOU KNOW that millions of dollars loss is suffered each year because of "under-insurance"? Is the fire insurance on your home and furnishings enough to adequately protect you? Are you SURE? We'll be glad to study your needs. Come in, write or telephone. No obligation.

QUERY

We thought when friendship came to us
That day when first we met
It was better to part and remember
Than to grow tired and forget . . .
But when flowers burst their wintry bonds
And springtime's skies are blue
My conscience cries out that we were wrong
It is ever thus with you? . . .

Zog Zorgt

Before the rumor that King Zog is Jewish gains much headway, let me inform you that according to all authorities, he is one of the few pure non-Jews in Europe . . . While he was a resident of Vienna, he did play around with a few Jewesses—according to my informer, but nothing more . . . Of his liquidated country, a few Jewish statistics have come our way . . . The Jewish population of Albania in 1932 totaled 204—or .02 per cent. of the total . . . And when Italy started its racial shenanigans a Jewish leader was shipped to Tirana to ascertain the settlement possibilities in the mountainous little lands . . . He received a cordial reception but it is not recorded that a heavy influx of Jews resulted . . . And as to the state of his native land . . . Vos zogt Zog? . . . Zog zorgt . . .

After hearing F. D. R. criticized from all angles and corners, we've decided that the great white father's attitude to the European muddle might be set to this verse: . . .

Our interests lie over the sea
Our interests lie over the ocean
Oh, safeguard our interests for we . . .

Study Layman's Tour

As the Layman's Tour for increased personal Service to Judaism and Democracy opens, leaders inspect a map of Tour Regions and routes. Members of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations' "Committee of One Hundred" will visit one or more cities with a message of new roads to individual participation in civic religious and humanitarian causes.

St. Louis' largest daily, the Post-Dispatch, observes that in 1922, when Pius XI was chosen Pope and there was no radio to herald the fact, it sold 1,000 extra papers on the occasion, while recently, when Pius XII was elected and the air waves were clogged with the event, its extras soared above the 5,000 mark . . . And this frank headline was recently smeared across Page One of the Springfield (Mo.) Leader and Press: "Roosevelt Gives Hitler Hell for Crushing Czech Liberty."

Offered to Quit Radio, Says Benny

HOLLYWOOD. — Jack Benny, radio and screen comedian, said this week that his admitted guilt of smuggling should serve as a "darn good lesson" to others but that it had not affected his future as a highly paid entertainer.

Tired, worn and unshaven upon his return from New York, where he pleaded guilty and was fined $10,000, Benny said he had walked into the office of his radio sponsor in New York and offered to cancel a contract worth several thousand dollars a week.

"The offer was not accepted," he said.

He said he would continue his film and radio work, meanwhile, reporting to probation officers here in compliance with stipulations of his year-and-a-day suspended sentence.

Conversation Piece

By Katherine Hayden Salter

Hating the Jew can become a major occupation for mediocre people. It swells their egos to frog-like dimensions; it is an orgy of "holier-than-thou-ness" that is forever incomprehensible to people who like variety, vitality, ideas, adventure, originality; but to provincial people who, like cannibals, consider it a major crime to be different, to belong to another tribe, it is a great comfort and satisfaction.

It is right here that the supreme test will come for the average American. Say that there is a group of people who casually start talking about the "Jewish problem," two-thirds of them potential anti-Semites, and one-third informed with some ordinary information, a tendency to question the truth of what they hear, and a belief in Christianity and Americanism that makes them try to deal always with individual cases instead of groups, and as little as possible in wholesale generalities or race theories.

"All Jews are Communists!" says someone.

"Are they?" responds the sceptic "Is Henry Cohen down the street a Communist?"

"No, he isn't—but all Jews are Communists!"

"Is Governor Lehman a Communist?" asks the sceptic.

"No—but all Jews are Communists anyway—and they all monopolize. They own all the business in this country!"

"Do they?" asks the sceptic. "I guess they own a lot of the clothing business—and a lot of the great stores—the best stores in the world, by the way!). But how about other businesses that are important in this country? Do they own, say, the A. and P. stores?" "No."

"Do they own the five and ten cent stores?" "No."

"Is the Standard Oil Company Jewish?" "No."

"Is J. P. Morgan Jewish?" "No."

"Is Henry Ford Jewish?" "Heavens No!"

"Are the railroads Jewish?" "No."

"Then there are still some fields they haven't monopolized, aren't there?"

"Yes—but they own the movies and radio and theatre!"

"That is partly true, I'm sure," says the sceptic. "But who had the initiative to develop the movie from the nickelodeon to the 'Covered Wagon,' 'The Big Parade,' the Will Rogers movies, the Shirley Temple movies, 'You Can't Take It with You,' 'A Day at the Races,' Mickey Mouse, 'Snow White,' etc., etc.?"

"The Jews, chiefly, I guess."

"And who developed radio broadcasting from a buzzing in the ears to Toscanini's orchestra, the Town Meeting of the Air, and Roosevelt's and Hoover's speeches, and international broadcasting, and Charlie McCarthy?"

"The NBC—with a Jew as president."

"And what is the freest broadcasting system in the world—the most catholic?"

"The American, I guess."

"But," says someone else, "The Jews own the press and control public opinion and make propaganda against the Germans!"

"Are the McCormicks of the Chicago Tribune Jewish?" "No."

"Is William Randolph Hearst Jewish?" "No."

"Is your home-town local paper Jewish?" "No."

"Is the Scripps-Howard syndicate Jewish?" "No."

"What, by the way," asks the sceptic, "is considered the soundest, fairest, most reliable newspaper in the United States?"

"The New York Times, I guess."

"Is it owned by Jews?"

"I don't know."

"The answer," says the sceptic, "is yes."

"And, incidentally, if the Jews were debauching the press for their own advantage, as you say they are doing, do you think they would publish in full Adolph Hitler's speeches, in which he blames the Jews for the ills of the whole world and intimates that the way to solve the Jewish problem will always be the German way?"

This could go on indefinitely, and in every field. But too frequently there is no sceptic to ask questions and prick balloons, so fancy and malice flow on unconfined. The Nazis know that once they get anti-Semitism flourishing, the chief obstacle to their triumphant progress on all fronts is down.

SPRING FASHIONS

BY EDYTHE JAY

What will they think of next? . . . Bag designers have gone the limit on this side of sanity, with their newest brain child . . . They've stolen an idea from that carefree parasite—the tramp . . . Yep, they've taken large bright colored, or checked handkerchiefs, lined them and fitted them out with purse, mirror, etc., and then they picked up the four corners and tied them to the end of a long stick . . . Some daring and different femme poked the stick over her shoulder—went "tramping" down the street—and abracadabra—a style was born . . . With the tramp, a bundle and stick is exemplary of his aim in life . . . But with the modern young girl, a tramp's bag is merely her aim to follow the dictates of fashion in this whimsical world . . .

Mainbocher who has publicized the little girl fashions for the Spring, was the creator of another rather amazing style in purses . . . It's a simple straw market-basket, oblong in shape, with a little straw handle to carry over your wrist . . . Everything fits in—including a lunch . . . Goes beautifully with a straw hat to match, and a basque dress to make you look completely infantile . . .

At long last, ladies—or should I say gentlemen? . . . there's a definite place for evening purses—and I don't mean in the tuxedo pocket . . . The pouches hook on at the tiny waistlines of some of the newest gowns . . . Dispenses with a lot of bother of parking the darn thing some place, n'cest pas? . . .

Girls on the American campus are living their second childhoods . . . None of the sophisticated coiffures for them . . . Their newest claim on simplicity is pigtales . . . They braid their hair, which is usually short, in two childish pigtales—and at the end they tie them with big ribbon bows . . . Another favorite hair-do is to have the locks hanging down to the shoulders, with a bow tied on top and its ends streaming right down the back . . .

It would seem that just when styles become too too extreme, fashion does a turnabout, and shows us that she's really a naive and fickle little girl . . .

Center Campaign Closes on Mon; Chairman Issues Appeal

The workers in the Jewish Center Building Campaign are redoubling their efforts in an attempt to drive up the total campaign figure to a new high for next Monday evening's meeting, April 24, at the Plantations Aud.

This meeting is termed as "the official closing" of the Building Campaign which has been carried on since March 20 to raise $75,000 to reconstruct the present Center and to build a new auditorium, as well as a larger gymnasium, bowling alleys and meeting rooms.

Today's total in the campaign stands at more than $30,000 with more than 1500 contributors. Although the amount of money obtained thus far is somewhat disappointing to the leaders in the campaign it is pointed out that one significant fact in this enterprise is the large number of contributors. It is expected that by the time the drive is over more than 2500 persons will contribute.

At the meeting next Monday evening, in addition to the closing report, there will be a program of Yiddish and English folk songs by Nina Gordani, famous comedienne and singer. Nathan A. Heller president of the Jewish Centers in New England will be the principal speaker.

Milton C. Sapinsley, general chairman, in a special message to all campaign officials and captains, urged them to continue their efforts over the weekend.

"This is a one time campaign," he said. "1939 is the Center's year and by special permission of the Providence Community Fund we are conducting this campaign. Our only chance to get the money for a better Center is within the next few days and if we lose the chance we will never have the opportunity again for a long time to come. If we are to serve our youth in this community, the job

"Shwartse Mamme" To Be Given April 27

Edwin A. Relkin and Sigmund Weintraub present on Thursday evening, April 27, at the Playhouse Theatre, Julius Nathanson's production, "Shwartse Mamme," with the original cast.

Critics have acclaimed the play which enjoyed a season's successful run at the National Theatre in New York. Variety said "Excellent Yiddish melodrama . . . Julius Nathanson has used expert care in his production." Walter Hartman of the "News," wrote, "The meatiest story provided in a Yiddish play in years. First rate acting jobs ought to endear it to Jewish audiences."

The original cast includes Julius Nathanson, Leo Fuchs, Anna Mills, Flora Freiman, Sam Josephson, Victor Marcus, Sam Kasten, Anna Lillian, Jennie Vasher, Helen Magna, Leo Shacter, Sam Gertler, Max Heing, Ruthie Winkler and Gitel Stein.

Tickets are at sale at Harry's Delicatessen, 92 Clemence street; Corner Spa, Prairie and Willard avenues; Joe's Spa, Willard ave. and Bay street.

Next time the doctor orders a soft diet for one of your flock, just lay in a supply of strained foods. Take prunes, for instance. Why, there's no end to the delightful dishes you can serve.

First, of course, strained prunes are grand served just as they come from the tin. Then again prunes are so adaptable they can be blended with all sorts of other foods to produce a variety of desserts. Add sugar and egg whites to a can of prunes, for instance, and you can make a tender textured Baked Prune Whip that's sure to delight your convalescent. These delicious prune desserts are certain to add savor and flavor to the dinner tray if you prepare them so:

BAKED PRUNE WHIP
Combine—
2 5-oz. cans strained prunes
2 tablespoons sugar.
Bring to boiling point, then cool slightly.
Beat until stiff—
3 egg whites, then fold into prune mixture gradually. Pour into buttered baking dish and set in pan of warm water. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Serve immediately with hot or chilled Custard Sauce (below).

CUSTARD SAUCE

er and beat slightly with fork.
Add and mix well—
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt.
Add slowly stirring constantly
2 cups scalded milk. Cook until mixture coats silver spoon.
Remove from fire, add—
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Serve hot or cold.

PRUNE MOUSSE
Whip partially—
½ pint whipping cream.
Add—
½ teaspoon salt.
2 tablespoons powdered sugar.
then continue beating until thick.
Fold in—
1 5-oz. can strained prunes
1 egg white, stiffly beaten.
Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until solid.

Pawt. Jr. Hadassah Plans Many Events Donor Luncheon Is Included

A board meeting of the Pawtucket and Central Falls chapter of Junior Hadassah was held this week at the home of Miss Gertrude Goldberg, 188 Central ave., Pawtucket, at which time Miss Esther Levine was elected chairman of the Nominating Committee.

Miss Ruth Berger was chosen as representative to attend the Brockton Community Center Conference. Plans were discussed for a Donor's Luncheon to be held on June 5. Plans were also made for a joint meeting to be held with the New Bedford Chapter of Junior Hadassah. May 14 was set as a tentative date.

The main topic for discussion was a fashion show and bridge, to be held on May 10 in the vestry of the Ahavath Sholom Synagogue. Miss Gertrude Goldberg is chairman of the event. Announcement was made that a special meeting will be held on Tuesday evening at the Synagogue. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the conclusion of the meeting.

Church Congregations Attend Temple Service

Two church congregations united with Temple Emanu-El at the regular Sabbath Eve Service on Friday night, April 21. The two visiting churches were the Park Place Congregational Church in Pawtucket, of which Dr. Ralph O. Harpole is the Minister, and the North Scituate Baptist Church, of which the Rev. E. Britchard is the Pastor.

About 100 visitors attended the Temple service at which Dr. Goldman preached on the subject "There Is No Peace!" This address was the second in the special Spring Sermon-Lecture series on the general theme "Current Broadway Plays and Their Message For our Times." The Rabbi used the play "Jeremiah" by Zweig as the basis of his address. The concluding discourse in this series will be delivered next Friday night, April 28. The Rabbi will then speak on the play by H. Leivick entitled "Who's Who," starring Maurice Schwartz.

Mrs. Lubber Heads Pawt. Ladies Aid

Harvard Committee Issues Special Report Cites Examples Of Prejudice

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., A special Harvard committee on personnel charged last week that "anti-Semitic feeling" in American universities "has made it difficult for Jews otherwise eligible to obtain initial appointments and, there is reason to believe, has retarded their advancement to higher rank when appointed."

"No graver reflection could be cast on the academic profession that that any of its members should be willing to compromise time-honored educational and scholarly standards by racial or religious discrimination," the committee said in its report to President James B. Conant.

"The committee is informed that certain members of the (Harvard) faculty object to the appointment of Jews to the tutorial staff in the belief that they are unacceptable to undergraduates.
