

Jewish Apathy

Whenever the name of Morris Kominsky is mentioned, eyes of listeners roll heavenward in fervent hope that he was just one of the Jones boys.

Mr. Kominsky, by his activities has not endeared himself to his co-religionists — for he frankly admits membership in the Communist Party.

This editorial is not an apology nor a condonation of Mr. Kominsky's political beliefs. But, his efforts in fighting Anti-Semitism in Rhode Island deserve more than passing interest.

Forums, meeting halls and interviews with the clergy are Mr. Kominsky's battle field. And, since he introduces himself as a member of the Communist Party, it is no wonder that his efforts lend credence to the common error that all Jews are Communists.

Our Jewish citizenry of Rhode Island is to blame for this misunderstanding. There is ample opportunity for men and women to do similar work in fighting Anti-Semitism — but, from the American Democratic point of view. If only 100 active young people paralleled Mr. Kominsky's steps, the latter would become only one of one hundred and one in the field.

Why do we permit only Mr. Kominsky to make use of the freedom of speech and press, provided by the American constitution? Our apathetic Jewish youth would do well to assume their communal responsibility in branding the lies of the liar.

Christian Boycott

The non-Jewish world has now come to recognize that the enemy of the Jews is also the enemy of the non-Jews . . . It is good that it has recognized the boycott which we have been promoting so long as the best method struggle against Hitlerism.—

Punish Italian for Marrying Jewess

ROME. — Because they married in violation of the Italian racist laws, an Italian Jew and his Greek Jewish wife were sentenced in Trieste to ten days in prison and a fine of 100 lire (about $5).

The case was the first of its kind since the laws went into effect last November, making it mandatory for any Italian citizen desiring to marry a foreigner to obtain special permission from the Interior Ministry.

The court rejected an explanation that the couple had secured a regular civil license before the law became effective.

Briton Says Navy Fired on Refugees Greek Vessel Palestine Bound

LONDON. — Laborite Member of Commons Josiah Clement Wedgwood gave a notice this week he would ask Geoffrey Shakespeare, Parliamentary Secretary to the Admiralty, about reports a British warship had fired on a Greek ship carrying refugees to Palestine.

The question, to be presented tomorrow, is:— "Whether he (Shakespeare) is aware that the Greek ship Aghios Nicoloros, carrying refugees to Palestine, was recently fired on by one of His Majesty's ships, whereby two refugees were wounded and one killed, and who authorized the firing and this use of the navy."

[A dispatch from Haifa, Palestine, on April 11, said marine police halted a ship of Greek registry, named the Assimi, and charged she was trying to land immigrants illegally. This was said to be the fourth case of the kind in a month.]

Woman Heckles Kuhn on Coast

LA CRESCENTA, Cal. — Mrs. Elizabeth Barber, who identified herself as an insignificant American housewife, almost disrupted a German-American Bund meeting of 1,500 persons when she demanded that Fritz Kuhn, New York Bund leader, tell the truth.

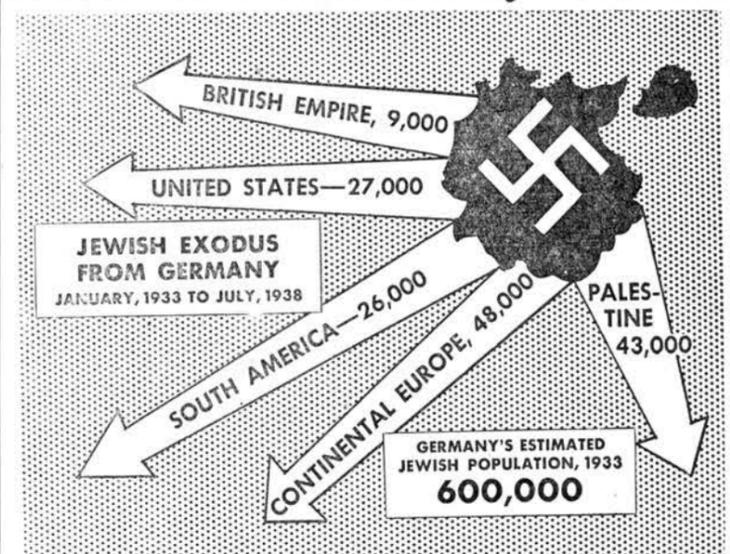

When angry bund members crowded around her shouting, "Go back to Moscow," the woman calmly quoted the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution to back up her charge that Kuhn, principal speaker at the gathering, was not advocating true Americanism.

Mrs. Barber disclaimed connection with any organization.

Hitler to Take 1 Day Census

About 750,000 volunteer workers will canvass 22,000,000 households, 3,500,000 farms and 5,500,000 business places, also checking employment and business conditions. Family statistics as finally completed will reveal duration of marriages and, for the first time, "Aryan" and "non-Aryan" origin, as well as religion. The census will thus for the first time reveal the number of potential emigrants from Greater Germany.

U. S. Doctor Beaten By Nazi in Vienna

VIENNA. — Dr. Oscar Lavine, a physician of Mount Rainier, Md., who was sentenced to prison and fined last December on a charge of violating German currency laws, reported to the United States Consulate General this week that he had been attacked by a group of S. A. (Nazi Guard) men.

Dr. Lavine said the brown-uniformed guards entered the cafe of the Stadt Theatre Monday night during blackout exercises in air raid defense.

He said the guards told all Jewish guests to leave the cafe and then beat them in the darkened streets.

Dr. Lavine said he received slight injuries before getting away.

"In the face of chaotic conditions," Hyman said, "the Jews of Central and Eastern Europe are today living on faith alone."

Two Decrees Signed By President Lebrun Immigrant Jews Pledge Allegiance

PARIS — The French Government acted this week to suppress anti-Semitic propaganda, submitting two decree-laws to President Albert Lebrun for his signature. The decrees, drawn up by Justice Minister Paul Marchandeu, (1) make punishable "acts tending to provoke hatred and discord within France for racial and religious motives," and (2) make illegal and punishable any collaboration with foreign propaganda, or receipt of funds from abroad for international propaganda.

The Popular Democratic Party adopted a resolution denouncing Nazi propaganda and demanding severe punishment for all participating in pro-Nazi anti-Jewish publications.

Although the War Ministry announced that registration on alien volunteers was premature and ordered its cessation, the Federation of Jewish societies, which embraces all organizations of Jewish immigrants, issued a proclamation declaring that immigrant Jews considered France their second home and held it their duty to serve in the Republic's defense.

Scene Around Town

By JACOB LEICHTER

BETWEEN THE DEVIL

When we stay far from the cocktail crowd
Your thoughtfulness and sweetness make me proud
But once your eyes grow bright with gin
Your maddening, stupid fooleries begin . . .

Childish and silly remarks—all aimed to hurt
The laughs and looks of an awful flirt
I could be patient if only I knew
This devil lurked within the gin—not you . . .

—Faith

It's great if you've got the dough . . . It has been estimated that Lawrence Steinhardt, new U. S. ambassador to Russia, will probably spend one hundred grand in his Moscow post—and all to collect an annual salary of $12,000 . . . That was a pretty good article (on the Jews) that appeared in last month's Harper's . . . Return of Ezra (Poet) Pound with praise for Hitler and Duce on his lips recalls that Ezra once praised Silver-shirter William Dudley Pelley . . . Drawing from Aleph (Better poet) Katz the retort: "Oh, well, he's still Pelley wise and Pound foolish." . . .

Kadimah Concert

The Kadimah Choral have scheduled their concert for Tuesday, June 6, at the Churchill House . . . Ralph Einstein, 13-year-old pianist, will be the assisting artist . . . It ought to go on your "must" list . . . The Archie Feldmans are feeding an extra boarder in the person of a baby boy . . . The Earl Marks' were in over the weekend to celebrate Grandmother's 100th birthday . . . Everyone can sympathize with this fellow who says he'll fight for a principle—and really does it . . . James Covington, stuck up by two bandits in a Detroit street, had only three cents in his pocket, but still pitched in on them so zestfully he wound up in a hospital . . . His explanation: "I just object to being held up." . . .

New Fronts

Willard avenue appears to have been caught in an epidemic of new storefronts with bakers, Bazaar, Berlinsky and Perler vying for honors . . . Morris Sachs and Son have opened their largest retail cleaning branch on Broad street . . . Latest of the Jewish battlers to be boomed for a bout with "Hammering" Henry Armstrong is young Milt Aron of Chicago's West Side, which produced Barney Ross and Davey Day, other Armstrong victims . . . You'll recall—if you'll be so kindly—that Barney lost his welterweight championship to Hammering Henry and only a few weeks ago Davey Day was technically kayoed in the 12th round after a gallant stand . . . Now comes young Milt to make it three strikes and out . . .

Song Hit

Irving Berlin wrote his current smash, "God Bless America," twenty-two years ago when he was a soldier at Camp Upton and when Kate Smith was a little girl . . . The songstress dug it up from an old file about a year ago and got exclusive permission to sing it—and the times being what they are, she warbled it into a hit . . . Up to Der Fuehrer's visit to Italy last Spring, Mussolini's friend and personal dentist was a Jew, who was then dismissed . . . Looks like that's when Adolf sold Il Duce that package of Anti-Semitism . . . Commentary on the anti-Nazi feeling in this land: . . . In magazine advertisements promoting travel in Germany this summer, eight scenes of Naziland are shown, without a single swastika flying in any view . . .

Milk Slogan

If you've a friend that's in the milk business, pass him this slogan free of charge . . . "Make Each Day A Hey-Day . . . Drink a Quart of Grade-A" . . . New Yorkers are developing a World's Fair jargon . . . Here's a sample recently overheard in a 42nd street poolroom . . . "I haven't had a trylon in my hand for a year." . . . "Eleven-perisphere in the corner." . . . Alter Boyman, while in the office this morning, stated that Hitler has no desigins on the Poles . . . meaning of course the North and South ones . . . Marital gag of the week: Enraged wife: "The night before last you came home yesterday . . . Last night you came home today . . . If you come home this evening tomorrow night, I'll go straight home to mother." . . .

Mr. George H. Davis, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, said that Congress should modify taxes, and induce private capital to begin flowing like Old Man River, carrying happiness and prosperity to all the American people . . . Mr. David might not like the simile carried too far, for even Old Man River has a big levee . . . And somebody might start to sing:

Old Private Capital
It don't know nothing
It just keeps rolling away

We notice there's talk of the Government widening the Panama Canal . . . If and when it does, it might not be a bad idea to suggest widening the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans . . . Palestine Dilemma

BY JOHN GUNTHER

The Jewish case in Palestine is in essence simple. The Jews, a people without a homeland, have an inescapable moral, historical and political right to one, and Palestine is the only one possible. They have as much "right" to Palestine as the Arabs; they mean no harm to Arabs, who have millions of square miles to live in if they find proximity to Jews uncomfortable. No Arabs have been asked to leave Palestine. Jewish "occupation" of Palestine has indeed greatly benefited the Arab community.

But the Arabs refused cooperation. In the words of the Peel Commission, which studied the Palestine situation in 1937, "Not once since 1919 has any Arab leader said that cooperation with the Jews was even possible." (On the other hand, it be stressed that all through the disturbances of recent years Arab landowners made money freely by selling Jews their land. A modicum of hate of course accompanied these transactions; money counts, but blood counts too.) "The underlying cause (of the unrest)," a Jewish witness told the Commission, "is that we exist."

Palestine means more than race or language to the Arabs; it means religion. Jerusalem is not more holy to Christians and Jews than to Moslem Arabs. Jewish and Arab religious monuments are inextricably conjoined.

Terrorism came once more in 1936, and then war. Disorder continued to spread, and was probably encouraged by foreign interests who like to see the Palestine pot boiling. The Arabs became increasingly bold, and by the summer of 1938 all but paralyzed the country. British power collapsed in district after district. The Arab terrorists ran wild. The essence of terrorism is that it aims to disorganize the forces of authority by secret and subterranean means. And, by and large, it will continue to be successful so long as the bulk of the people are with the terrorists, and will conceal and assist them. The problem for the government is to make the people more afraid of the government than of the terrorists.

A painful paradox for Zionists is that logically they must hope for good relations between Britain and Italy, because this will serve to stabilize the Mediterranean. But this means that they must support concessions to a country, Italy, which is now fiercely anti-Semitic.

By the end of 1938 the Arabs had forced a stalemate. They were strong enough to invade and capture important towns. They were so successful, in fact, that the Jews firmly believe that the British never genuinely desired to beat them down.

God promised Zionism to Moses, and Balfour promised it to Weizmann; but it isn't working yet. For qualities of pure dilemma the Palestine situation is unrivaled. Civilization is overwhelmingly on the side of the Jews; but civilization isn't always popular. Zionism is an emotional necessity to countless Jews, and, given intelligent statesmanship, it should become the best single solution to the refugee problem. But it faces the relentless and implacable hostility of the Arab population. Arab hostility to Zionism is lamentable; but it is not going to be easy to erase. The British will not give up the Mandate, if only because Palestine is an essential item in the defense of the air route to India and of the Suez Canal; but to maintain the Mandate means almost intolerable disorder, tension and dismay.

Perhaps amelioration will come some day — amelioration to the refugee problem also — in the form of an exchange of populations. This is not practical yet; it could become practical politics any time the British believed in it. The Arabs might go into Transjordan or Iraq, where there is plenty of room; Jews from Europe could then come to Palestine. The idea may seem fantastic — but it worked when imposed by a strong hand on the Greeks and Turks. Something drastic must be done. The refugee issue forces new attention to Zionism as a way out.

Jewish Palestine Representatives at World's Fair

NEW YORK. — Fluttering among the flags of scores of nations at the opening ceremonies of the New York World's Fair on April 30 was the blue-and-white banner of Jewish Palestine, making its debut at an international exposition in the United States as one of the foreign countries represented in Flushing Meadows.

Not only did the Magen David standard fly in the Jewish Palestine Pavillion grounds at the Fair, but it took its proper place in the March of Nations that formed part of the official opening exercises. A guard of honor of young Jews wearing typical Chalutz uniforms — khaki trousers, blue shirts marked with the Star of David, and tropical helmets — accompanied the Jewish Palestine flag, forming part of the parade.

SPRING FASHIONS

BY EDYTHE JAY

Now is the time for all smart women to emerge in their sophisticated best . . . Wear your most exciting and dramatic clothes now, for we hear tell that summer will make you into a little girl, wearing peasant basques and dirndls, gingham, hairribbons, school-girlish straw hats, short gloves, short skirts, short hair—and well, everything short of sophistication . . .

Our women of the week came out in clothes as sophisticated as a symphony, but as young as the new green buds in the park—so we had to tell you about them . . . Edith Fink, shopping at a perfume counter, stunning in an all-black costume—and over her arm silver foxes . . . At the Indian Room, Bette Rand favored the combine of a black frock, impeccably tailored, and a shiny straw hat of stop red . . . Beatrice Feldstein, entering the Biltmore one night, in one of the most gorgeous coats we've seen . . . It was of the lightest beige one could imagine, tuxedo style, and all down the front—blonde fox . . . Her hat was black—and she wore a polka dot black dress . . . And speaking of polka dots, they tell us that dots gets the dates . . . Burst into any gathering looking as if you'd been showered with confetti and you'll slay all the Eligibles present . . . One of the shops has a most wearable dress . . . It's Mainbocher's colorful idea of black or navy polka dot crepe . . . It has wide two-color bands in the fitted midriff, and ruffles on the petticoat that show flirtatiously under the skirt . . .

Mollie Fink was chic the other Tuesday in a slim two-piece black and white wool suit, topped by a luxurious silver fox cape . . . Ruth Tarle, looking like a Paris mannequin, in a fitted coat of navy—and straw hat of bright red . . .

A swagger coat of black and white checks, worn by Gladys Filler was very becoming . . . Her hat, turban style, was purple, with black trim . . . Jeanette Eissendorf—in a beige flared coat, with dubonnet hat and frock—hurrying down the main stem to keep an appointment at the noon hour . . . Betty Gilbert, in a Vogue-ish outfit last Saturday night . . . A frivolous two-piece suit with a rustling skirt of black and white taffeta and a jacket of black . . . Her sailor hat matched the black 'n white of the skirt . . .

Know something? . . . It's as exciting to describe this year's fashions, as it is to wear them . . . Well—almost, anyhow . . .

Anti-Jewish Talk Stirs Legislature

WARSAW. — The Senate Foreign Affairs Committee was told by Foreign Minister Jozef Beck that "preventative" action to find territories for Jewish emigration must be taken before the emigration problem becomes "acute."

Last week he reached a joint policy on Jewish emigration with Rumanian Minister Grigore Gafencu which he plans to present in London in conversations with the British Government. It is believed that the emigration question will play an important role in these discussions.

Continued attacks by members of the anti-Semitic Endeks (National Democrats) against Jewish and democratic students has resulted in the closing of the University of Lwow for an indefinite period, according to reports which disclosed that police searchers among Endek students at the university revealed large quantities of arms and ammunition.

In the Senate, meanwhile, former Premier Kazimierz Bartel renewed his attack on hooliganism in the Polish universities, but declared he did not deny the existence of a Jewish problem in Poland. Bartel said he regarded as "abnormal" the Jewish "disproportion" in certain professions declaring that solution of the problem would be welcomed by everyone.
