Israel, Syria In Heaviest Fighting Since Two-Year-Old Cease Fire

NAHAL AL, Israeli-occupied Syria — The heaviest fighting in more than two years along the cease-fire line between Israel and Syria erupted Tuesday here on the Golan heights.

As the young residents of Nahal Al, a small paramilitary settlement, huddled in their underground bunkers, Syria and Israel fought an eight-hour series of air, artillery and tank battles.

In Tel Aviv, a military spokesman reported that six Syrian MIG-21 fighters had been downed in a dogfight and that 15 Syrian tanks had been pummeled in air strikes.

40-Mile Front Hit

In addition, the spokesman said, Israeli Air Force planes attacked guerrilla and Syrian Army positions along a 40-mile front, knocking out an important Syrian radar site, several artillery batteries and damaging two infantry division command posts.

Israel's losses were reported as one civilian killed and two civilians and one soldier wounded.

(A Syrian military spokesman said two Israeli planes were shot down, 14 Israeli tanks destroyed and five artillery positions knocked out. He asserted that only one Syrian plane was downed but that the pilot had parachuted to safety. He said also that a number of Syrian civilians were killed or wounded by Israeli planes and that one Syrian soldier was wounded.)

Loss of Aircraft Denied

The Israeli spokesman denied Syrian assertions that Israeli aircraft had been downed during the fighting and said that every effort had been made to avoid inflicting casualties on Syrian civilians.

From Nahal Al, flights of Israeli fighter-bombers could be seen sweeping across the 1967 cease-fire line and diving at Syrian positions. Moments later, tall columns of black smoke were rising into the blue afternoon sky.

The Israeli planes struck again and again, sweeping in great circles over the shimmering Sea of Galilee, across the Golan heights and diving down on the Syrian plain. Once their bombs were unloaded, the fighters streaked west over the hazy Galilean hills, only to be replaced by other planes.

At one point, after a brief aerial battle, a Syrian fighter could be seen spinning toward the earth, black smoke spiraling behind it. A moment later there was an explosion and more smoke.

Toward dusk, Israeli and Syrian tanks exchanged fire across the cease-fire line a few miles north-east of here. The tank shells, equipped with brilliant tracers, streaked across the horizon in flat, low arcs, exploding in a burst of fire.

It was impossible to tell from here what damage was caused other than the brush fires that broke out in the dry fields and continued to burn into the night. Eight more fires could be counted to the north, near the Syrian town of El Quneiter.

The area fell silent shortly after dark as a huge orange moon rose over the Syrian plain. In the distance a dog barked.

General Staff Warning

In a briefing for newsmen in Tel Aviv, a senior officer of the Israeli general staff warned that such reports would continue "until the Syrians realize that it is not lucrative for them to go on with this game." He said, "I think they understand our message, but perhaps until today it has not been loud enough."

Foreign Minister Abba Eban, speaking at a press luncheon in Jerusalem, described the air strikes as "preventative rather than curative." He said, "They will not stamp out terrorism in themselves but we must not give the terrorists a period of quiet and the opportunity to organize and equip themselves for attacks against our territory."

According to military sources, there have been six guerrilla incidents along the Golan Heights in the last several days. Two military vehicles struck mines near here last Friday and the nearby settlement of Nahal Golan was shelled last Friday and again Monday. Tuesday morning, the sources said, two newly laid mines were discovered near here — demonstrating, as one officer put it, "that they're not going to quit."

Heavy Artillery Barrage

In retaliation, Israeli planes struck a Syrian Army position at 8:50 Tuesday morning and returned two hours later to attack what were described as three guerrilla bases inside the cease-fire line.

An hour later, according to a military spokesman, the Syrians opened a heavy artillery barrage all along the cease-fire line. The Israeli spokesman said that the Syrians concentrated their fire on two civilian settlements near El Quneitra and Nahal Golan. In one settlement, Merom Golan, a shell reportedly struck the dining hall, killing one person and injuring two others.

The military spokesman said that Israeli artillery and tanks had returned the Syrian barrage while air force planes pounded the Syrian batteries and a radar site at Nueme, in southern Syria, near the Jordan border.

Jewish Center Plans Hanukah Celebration

Two special events will highlight the Jewish Community Center's celebration of the coming Hanukkah holiday on Sunday, December 3.

The entire community has been invited to be present for the Hanukkah Torch Relay, a reenactment illustrating the spirit of the state of Israel and an act of commemoration of the Israeli athletes murdered at the Olympic Games in Munich.

A torch will be flown from Israel to Kennedy Airport in New York City, and from there, by special plane to the Green Airport in Warwick at 2 p.m. It will then be carried by relays of volunteer runners from the airport to the Jewish Community Center building where it will arrive at approximately 4 p.m.

The torch will be used to kindle the Center's own giant outdoor Hanukkah menorah. Governor Frank Licht and other dignitaries will speak.

Following the torch lighting ceremony, the children's activities department will sponsor its annual Hanukkah Family Supper beginning at 4:30 p.m. for Center families and their friends.

Following the meal Bruce and Jeanette — Master Magicians will present a program followed by the Brown University Festival Dancers.

Zamir Chorale Of Boston Brought By Two Temples

For the first time in the history of Temple Emanu-El and Temple Beth El, the youth groups of the temples have cooperated to bring a program of music to the city. Proceeds of the concert will go to the activities of the USY of Emanu-El and PROVTY of Beth El.

The Zamir Chorale of Boston, made up of 80 young college students, will present their concert, which ranges from the Hassidic to the modern Israeli and from the liturgical to the world of Hebrew rock and jazz, will appear at Temple Beth El on Sunday, December 10, at 8 p.m.

PROVTY cochairmen are Michele Williams and Amy Beron, and USY cochairmen are Rocky Perlman and Uindy Price. Members of the committee include Cantor and Mrs. Norman Gewirtz of Temple Beth El, and Cantor Ivan E. Perlman of Temple Emanu-El. Arthur Richter is coordinator.

Tickets may be obtained by writing to Temple Beth El — PROVTY at 70 Orchard Avenue, Providence, R.I. 02906.

Bavaria Asks Extradition

MUNICH, West Germany — The Bavarian Justice Ministry has formally requested that the central Government seek the extradition from Libya of three Palestinian guerrillas charged with murder and the taking of hostages in connection with the attack on the Israeli Olympic team here on September 5.

The three were freed 11 days ago in exchange for a West German plane with 13 passenger and seven crewmen seized by Arab hijackers and flown to Libya.

Since West Germany has no extradition treaty with Libya, there was little expectation that the three would be returned, a spokesman for the Justice Ministry said. They were the sole survivors of a gunfight with the police at Fürstfeldbrück Airport, outside Munich. Eleven Israelis, five Arabs and a German policeman were killed.

The Bavarian authorities are still considering whether to demand the extradition of the hijackers, who seized the Lufthansa plane on October twenty-ninth.

IS INSTALLED: Rabbi Jacob Handler of Temple Beth Israel was installed recently as president of the Rhode Island Board of Rabbis by Rabbi William G. Braude of Temple Beth El. Shown above, left to right, are Rabbi Saul Leeman of Temple Beth Torah, outgoing president; Rabbi Braude; Rabbi Handler; Rabbi Bernard Rotman of Temple Beth Am, secretary, and Rabbi Leslie Y. Gutteman of Temple Beth El, treasurer.

The wife of Edward Lang, she was born in Providence, a daughter of the late David and Regina (Greene) Jacobson. She had lived in Cranston for 22 years.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Bruce Lang of Warwick; a daughter, Mrs. Robert DiPippo of East Greenwich; five brothers, Hyman Jacobson of Warwick, William and Jack Jacobson of Cranston, Benjamin Jacobson of Pawtucket and Harold Jacobson of Providence; two sisters, Mrs. Rhoda Newman of Miami, Florida, and Mrs. Sheila Hochberg of Los Angeles, California, and three grandchildren.

Obituaries

ARTHUR J. LEVY

Funeral services for Arthur J. Levy, 75, of 300 Grotto Avenue, who died November 17 after a six-month illness, were held Sunday in Temple Beth El. Burial was in Sons of Israel and David Cemetery.

The husband of Mrs. Harriet (Dimond) Levy, he was born in New York City.

In 1929, Mr. Levy founded the Jewish Family & Children's Service (formerly the Jewish Family Welfare Service), a social service agency which provides counseling and relief to families. He served as its president for the first 20 years of its existence.

He also served as an officer of the Jewish Federation of Rhode Island and the Jewish Community Center, and as chairman of the Providence Council of Social Agencies.

In 1951, he was appointed by Governor Dennis J. Roberts to the Commission to Consolidate State Laws, and from 1933-39 he was chairman of the Providence Community Fund Educational Publicity Committee.

In 1950 and 1951, Mr. Levy was president of the Rhode Island Bar Association, and had served as a member of the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association from 1960-68. He had also served on several of the ABA's national committees.

He was editor-in-chief of the Rhode Island Bar Journal from 1952-54.

He was a past president of the Temple Beth El Brotherhood and an honorary trustee of the temple and of The Miriam Hospital. He was a member of the Advisory Committee of the Federal Tax Institute of New England and of the board of the Jewish Home for the Aged.

In 1944, he was presented the Sixth Roger Award presented by the Providence Journal-Bulletin for good citizenship. Mrs. Levy was a member of the Providence law firm of Levy, Goodman, Semonoff and Gorin.

In 1958 he represented Kingsley International Pictures Corporation in a suit attempting to prevent the city from interfering with the right of the Avon Cinema to show a film entitled And God Created Women.

The film, which created a furor in its day, but was mild by today's standards, was finally allowed to be shown in Providence after sections of it had been cut.

Mr. Levy was graduated from Brown University in 1919, the secretary of his class. He received a law degree from Boston University, and was elected a member of the BU National Alumni Council last April.

He was a member of the Brown alumni Association, the Brown Club of Rhode Island, the Touro Fraternal Association, Roger Williams Lodge #1184, B'nai B'rith, and Overseas Lodge #40.

MRS. FANNY LAWRENCE

Funeral services for Mrs. Fanny Lawrence of 947 Hope Street, widow of Harry Lawrence, who died November 17 after an illness of a month, were held Sunday at the Sugarman Memorial Chapel.

Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

A native of Russia, who had lived in Providence since she was an infant, she was a daughter of the late Samuel and Clara (Rubin) Borod.

She was a member of Temple Beth El and its Sisterhood.

Mrs. Lawrence leaves a daughter, Mrs. Norman Jagolinzer of Barrington; a brother, Esmond Borod, and a sister, Mrs. Kate Brownstein, both of Providence.

LOUIS TABER

Funeral services for Louis Taber, 92, of 37 Catherine Street, Newport, who died November 17, were held Sunday at the Sugarman Memorial Chapel. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

The husband of the late Hattie (Silverman) Taber, he was a paper goods wholesaler in Providence for more than 60 years and was the president of Louis Taber and Sons of Providence.

Born in Russia, a son of the late Albert and Phoebe Taber, he came to this country as a young boy. He was a Providence resident for about 75 years until moving to Newport six years ago.

He was a member of Temple Emanu-El and one of its founders.

He is survived by two daughters, Miss Sadie Taber, and Mrs. Mildred Adelson, both of Newport; a son, Albert Taber of Wellfleet, Massachusetts; five grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

JACK GARFINKEL

Funeral services for Jack Garfinkel, 68, of 235 Carolina Avenue, who died November 10, after an illness of a year, were held November 12 at the Sugarman Memorial Chapel. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

A supervisor for Rhode Island Insulated Wire before his retirement, he was a member of Congregation Shaare Zedek-Sons of Abraham and the Providence chapter of the Golden Agers.

The husband of Jeanette (Gablilowitz) Garfinkel, he was born in Poland, a son of the late Gersh and Rachael Garfinkel. He had lived in Providence more than 40 years.

Besides his wife, survivors are two sons, Stephen Garfinkel of East Greenwich, and Richard Garfinkel of Providence; a brother, Irving Garfinkel and a sister, Mrs. Rebecca Ashel, both in Israel, and two grandchildren.

Syria To Continue Help To Guerrillas

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Syria declared last week that she would increase her support for Palestinian guerrillas operating from her territory against Israel.

A Syrian Government spokesman, quoted by the Middle East News Agency in a report from Damascus, said that "aid to the guerrillas will continue regardless of Israeli reprisals."

Syrian jet fighters could be seen patrolling between Damascus and the Israeli occupied Golan heights. The two countries exchanged artillery fire last week and Israeli jets attacked guerrilla bases.

Mental Health of a People

By BERYL SEGAL

During the twenty-fifth anniversary of the State of Israel, the people of Israel received a welcome report card from the Ministry of Health. In the magazine Israel for October 1972, there is an article by Yoel Marcus entitled An Absolutely Normal People. How do the Israelis keep their sanity in spite of great tensions?

We are told that the Israeli society is perfectly normal as far as mental health is concerned. The good news comes from the Ministry of Health (Mental Health Service) which keeps its finger on the pulse of the land.

The three most common symptoms of mental disturbance are:

1. Alcoholism. When a person cannot cope with problems, when responsibility weighs heavy on his mind, he takes to drink as an escape. Alcoholism, according to police records, is almost non-existent in Israel. We have been beseeched by beggars in the streets of Tel Aviv, but we did not meet any drunks weaving their way home.

2. Suicides. When turbulent waters have reached your soul, and you cannot see your way out, you begin to think of suicide. One would expect that Israel, with people coming from all the corners of the earth, with problems of a personal nature, physical and moral, overloading the average newcomer, would be high on the suicide list. But the opposite is true. The Department of Mental Health says that the rate of suicides is the lowest in the world.

3. Drug Addiction. This scourge of the civilized world which psychiatrists agree is a symptom of the unbalanced mind, is greatly exaggerated among the young in Israel. Altogether, those who turn to drugs such as heroin, LSD, speed and dangerous tranquilizers, according to health authorities is not more than 600 individuals. The alarming stories we hear of young people using drugs in Israel, are highly overplayed. Many who come from abroad are cured of their addiction by forming settlements of their own and taking on the burdens of communal work.

We are a suffering people. In our long history we have experienced crisis after crisis. But we are not a frustrated people. We are laid low but we rebound again.

Psychiatrists tell us that people react to frustrations in two ways, writes Yoel Marcus:

1. Apathy, the feeling of "what is the use," and despondency and despair.

2. Looking for a scapegoat. The scapegoat is usually a minority group who is to blame for any calamity that befalls the land, from drought to excessive rainfall.

The people of Israel are far from being apathetic. They are ready to squabble at the drop of a hat. They cannot even agree on "Who is a Jew." One look at the parties they have, and at the number of newspapers, each of them publishes, and at the variety of ideologies each of them embraces, and one is convinced that the people in Israel are far from saying "What is the use?" "It will be good," and "Do not despair" are the two most common expressions one hears in Israel.

As for looking for a scapegoat, the people of Israel are all children of minorities. Even the Old Settlers are newcomers themselves. The number of families whose ancestors have lived hundreds of years in the land is very small indeed. The relations between groups may be strained, but there are no accusations.

And yet, the article asks, why do the people in Israel appear to be so nervous, so devoid of patience and tolerance? We hear so much about the lack of good manners in public places, in hotels and restaurants, in government establishments and even in department stores. How does this behavior fit into the "Absolutely Normal" picture of Israel?

The explanation is quite simple. Israel is an extroverted society. The people are tense, appear rude, shout at each other, push in lines, tell all their troubles to perfect strangers, grumble about rules and regulations, and in that way they get rid of their mental load pressing on them and thus reduce the danger of "breaking down."

Another explanation lies in the nature of the Jewish religion. It does not reject sex and does not make people feel guilty about their sex life. It does not preach that man is born to suffer on earth. On the contrary, joy is the highest rung a man can achieve. Wake up in the morning and praise the Lord!

For some reason the Israelis "enjoy" their grumblings against their government. It is almost like an indoor sport. But these grumblings serve as an outlet for their accumulated frustrations. They grumble and adjust to their Establishment. Witness the many years Israel has kept the Mapai, the Labor Party in power. It has been in the government these twenty-five years, since the establishment of the State of Israel. The people grumble about taxes, about corruption, about favoritism. But at the end they go to the polls and vote for Mapai. In their criticism of the Establishment, they cleanse themselves of their rage and go on singing: "Next Year It Will Be Good."

We can say, ends the article, that the people of Israel are mentally healthy simply because they find such a variety of ways to "empty" their frustrations.

They do not resort to violence. They do not get drunk. They are not under psychiatric treatment.

Individuals may break down, but the people as a whole is mentally normal.

Let those who worry about Israel take heart from this article.

(The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Segal and not necessarily those of this newspaper.)

Help for Jobless Scientists, Engineers

As we make at least some transition to peacetime production patterns after our withdrawal from Vietnam, the employment problems of our highly skilled engineers, scientists and technicians could again intensify.

These workers are clustered in our defense-oriented corporations. Many of their jobs will undoubtedly be undermined as the companies turn to and retool for work in civilian fields. Right now, there are an estimated 40,000 to 45,000 unemployed scientists and engineers, plus another 150,000 or more jobless technicians. And not counted are those "employed" in fields which utterly mock and waste their skills.

There is no time to lose, then, in focusing on what employment help may be available for you — or someone you know — if you are in this situation. And my cheerful news is that there is a much wider variety of special help being offered than you probably realize. Here's a rundown:

(1) The Federal government has a Technology Mobilization and Reemployment Program, a $42 million, two-year effort funded by the Labor Department. It offers job search "grants" averaging about $150 to help unemployed workers to travel to job interviews and explore job possibilities; relocation grants to cover moving expenses for applicants who accept jobs beyond commuting distance from home; stipends for institutional training; reimbursement for employers and institutions providing on-the-job training.

To be eligible for financial assistance under this program, an engineer, scientist or technician must be unemployed or underemployed by a company relying on the aerospace or defense industry for 40 per cent or more of its business during one out of the past two or two out of the past five years prior to layoff.

For more information, contact the Engineers, Scientists and Technicians Job Development Unit of your nearest state employment service. Each state has one or more "TMRP" specialists. There are also 14 special "EST" units in the hardest hit areas: Los Angeles, Long Beach, Van Nuys, West Covina, San Diego, San Jose, Santa Ana, California; Huntsville, Alabama; Cape Kennedy, Florida; Atlanta, Georgia; Boston, Massachusetts; St. Louis, Missouri; Hicksville, New York;

PROCLAMATION

THANKSGIVING DAY

BY FRANK LICHT
GOVERNOR

Our fathers set aside this day to count their blessings and offer their thanks for having come unscathed through a trying time strengthened and upheld by their faith. Today, we too pause amidst our frantic rush to thank God for things often taken for granted and, while we are grateful, we remember those who are not as fortunate.

We give thanks that our country is free from the ruin of war and remember the lands that are not. We give thanks for those men in service to America and remember those who have lost life or freedom in that service. We give thanks for the bountiful dinners waiting on our tables and remember those whose stomachs are empty.

We give thanks for our homes, grand or plain, and remember those who have no shelter. We give thanks for our friends and remember the lonely. We give thanks for our health and remember those in pain. We give thanks for our ability to see and remember those who do not care to look.

We give thanks for our freedom of expression and remember those who are suppressed. We give thanks for our freedom to worship the god of our choice and remember those whose only hope is in the supremacy of the State.

We give thanks for those who lead us and remember those who are not led, but pushed. We give thanks for all of our freedoms and remember the enslaved.

We give thanks for this day of Thanksgiving and remember those who are not so blessed as we. NOW, THEREFORE, DO I, FRANK LICHT, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND AND PROVIDENCE PLANTATIONS, PROCLAIM and urge you to use this day to the fullest in offering prayer and thanksgiving to God for the multitude of blessings that He has bestowed upon the people of this State and this Nation.

NOVEMBER 23, 1972 AS

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State to be affixed this tenth day of November, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seventy-two, and of Independence, the one hundred and ninety-seventh.

(signed) FRANK LICHT

In today's hand Declarer was extremely fortunate to have in his hand what might seem to be an insignificant spot card. Unfortunately, not enough of the Declarers took advantage of this fact. They took a losing finesse when, because of the holding of that same card they had a much better line of play. Not only that, but if that plan didn't work out, they could still fall back on the finesse. Of course, the bidding and lead should have helped a bit but it didn't seem to steer many Declarers in the right direction:

North	♠ A Q J 9 7 4	♥ A 10	♦ A Q	♣ K 7 4
West	♠ 3	♥ 8 5 2	♦ 10 8 7 4	♣ J 6 5 2
East	♠ 8	♥ K Q J 9 6	♦ K 9 2	♣ 10 8 3
South	♠ K 10 6 5 2	♥ 7 4	♦ J 6 5 3	♣ A 9

Mrs. Claire Mandell and Mrs. Molly Karp were North and South, no one vulnerable, East Dealer with this bidding:

E	S	W	N
2♥	3♠	P	3♥
Dble	3♣	P	4♦
P	5♣	P	6♣

After East opened with a Weak Two Bid and South and West passed, North had somewhat of a problem with her reopening bid. She had so much strength she felt her best action was a Cue bid. One responds differently to these than to Take-out Doubles for as they are already forcing to game there is no need to jump all over the place as one might do with a reasonable hand over the Double. So all South did was bid her Spades at the three level which showed nothing at all except four Spades. When North went on to game in Spades indicating that that was really her suit too, South now felt that she had sufficient extra to make a try for Slam so she made a Cue bid in Clubs showing that Ace. That was all North needed to hear for she had control of all the other suits so went right to six Spades.

Some pairs stopped at four but only two in all were able to make the twelve tricks when it should have been just about automatic to do so. What usually happened is that regardless of whether North or South became Declarer a Heart was led, won by the Ace. Trumps were drawn and then the Diamond finesse taken. When that lost the Heart loser was cashed and five was all that was made. Some of the Declarers not in six felt they were lucky to have stayed out of the unmakeable Slam. Some in six thought they were victims of circumstances when they went down. Actually, they had a much surer way to play the hand without taking that finesse at all or at worst only taking it as a last resort.

This is how: After drawing Trumps, all the Clubs should be played, ruffing the third to eliminate that suit. Now comes the key — instead of taking the Diamond finesse, play the Heart 10, hoping that East has to win it as is the case. Now what can poor East do? Any lead but a Diamond gives a Ruff and a Sluff while a Diamond gives a free finesse right into that tenace. Either way six is "cold." If, by some chance, West happens to have the Heart Jack and wins the trick, the Diamond finesse can still be taken. So nothing at all is lost by playing the Heart first. Even without the 10 it is conceivable that East might still have all the high Hearts and have to win the trick anyhow. However, the groundwork must be laid by stripping out those Clubs before any of these. To a good, thoughtful Declarer this would be a very simple hand yet I watched many well-above-average players hold themselves to five.

Moral: Learn to spot your particular problem and then do whatever you can to help yourself solve it always trying to enlist the aid of your opponents whenever possible.

TO SPEAK: Senator Julius C. Michaelson, president of the Rhode Island Bar Association, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Providence Section, Council of Jewish Women, which will be held at the Sprague Mansion, 1353 Cranston Street, Cranston on Wednesday, November 29. Flower Catalogue Cover Designed By Florist

The design on the cover of the 1973 edition of a catalogue of flower bouquets used throughout the world by Interflora, the international floral delivery network, was created by a Belgian florist who won a worldwide competition held to select the cover motif.

The design by Leon Willens, an Interflora member florist from Brugge, Belgium, consists of a stylized cornucopia combined with the well-known Interflora Mercury emblem and two rows of flags representing the worldwide floral service.

Interflora has 40,000 member florists in 130 countries.

ASKS NO DRAGNET

NEW YORK — Aryeh Neier, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union, asked Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst to pledge that the United States would not institute a dragnet "investigation, interrogation and surveillance" of Arabs, simple because they are Arabs. Such measures "must be condemned as constitutionally impermissible," Neier wrote.

TO SPEAK: Rabbi Jacob Chinitz of Temple Beth-Ami in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, will speak on "religion in Israel" at the pre Hanukkah lecture sponsored by the Bureau of Jewish Education in cooperation with the Jewish Community Center on Saturday, November 25, at 8 p.m. at the Center. Cantor Norman Gewirtz of Temple Beth El will present a musical program. Mrs. Benjamin Chinitz and her committee will prepare a Melava Malka in honor of the guest speaker.

To Broadcast Special Program

Station WJAR will be one of more than 25 radio stations throughout the country on Thursday, November 30 at 9:05 p.m., to broadcast a special program on the plight of Soviet Jews. The program is timed to coincide with the first night of Hanukkah, the holiday which commemorates the world's first struggle for religious freedom.

Entitled "In Remembrance of a Miracle," the show will feature statements by Dr. Hans Morgenthau, chairman of the Academic Committee on Soviet Jewry; Congressman Father Drinan, representative of the 4th Congressional District of Massachusetts; Dr. Alexander Lerner, former Soviet professor of cybernetics, and Mrs. Ester Markish, matriarch of the Soviet Jewry movement. The program will also include stories by young people who have recently visited the Soviet Union.

The program was produced by Modi'in Productions, an independent organization of Brandeis University students working in association with Brandeis Hillel, radio station WBRS, and the Jewish Community Council of Greater Boston.

Locally, the program is being sponsored by the Rhode Island Conference on Soviet Jewry, a standing committee of the Jewish Federation of Rhode Island.

PRIZE WINNERS ACTIVE NEW YORK — A Jewish biologist from London, Dr. Gerald Maurice Edelman, and a non-Jewish professor from London, Dr. Rodney Robert Porter, were awarded the 1972 Nobel Prize last week. Both of the winners have ties with the Weizman Institute of Science in Rehovot, Israel. Dr. Edelman is a member of the board of governors and Dr. Porter has cooperated on research in England with the institute.

Hello Again!

News of the Sports World by Warren Walden

HOW ABOUT ROLLER SKATES? The next time there isn't any ice at the Civic Center in Providence, how about shifting to roller skates for the hockey game? "Ridiculous," you say. But the alternative is postponing the game which was the answer to the dilemma in which Mr. Harold Copeland, director of the Civic Center, found himself. The Moscow Circus took just too long in getting itself out of the arena and there was not enough time to make ice. It's easy being a second-guesser at this time but it's a sure wager that the situation will not arise again. New building, new crew, workmen still completing construction in certain parts of the building and an unexpected situation.

A FIRST: There have been many "firsts" associated with the opening of the new Arena and most all of them have been good. The first hockey game and the record crowd; the big attendance at the Moscow Circus; and the first test of the traffic pattern which, it seems, so many expected wouldn't work. How disappointed some seemed when there was no problem. And the postponing of the hockey game because of no ice is probably a first anywhere. I've never heard of it before.

ONCE IN HERSHEY: The R.I. Reds were scheduled to play the Hershey Bears in Chocolatetown in an important game one night that was unseasonable. It was warm and fog formed over the ice surface. Players from both teams skated around the ring carrying spread-out blankets while trying to wait the fog off the playing surface. It didn't work and the game was postponed because of fog. The only answer to that one could have been individual compasses and radar for the players. "Ridiculous," you say again.

SEE YOU ON MONDAY: And so the R.I. Reds rescheduled their game on Monday which at one time was a very popular sports night. Back in the ancient days of Infantry Hall and Roller Polo, the Providence Gold Bugs played home games every Saturday and

Monday night. Two reasons were given for the Monday night schedule. One was that the Brown and Sharpe Manufacturing Company, employers of hundreds of workers at the time, paid off on Monday. The other reason was that the equipment necessary for the roller polo games had been set up for the Saturday engagement and was all ready for use on Monday without the expense necessitated in taking it down and putting it up again. Both logical, eh? When the "Great Danny Almeida" was promoting his history-making boxing shows at R.I. Auditorium, he found that Monday night was the most popular among fistic followers. And so, R.I. Reds hockey on Monday night, as tiz said, "catch on."

ANOTHER SHOW: The R.I. Reds, who have been a "road team" most of this yet young season, will again be homeless when Ice Capades comes to the Civic Arena on November 29 through December 10.

FAME: Soon a committee will name additions to the R.I. Reds Hall of Fame. "Are the pictures going to be moved from R.I. Auditorium to the new arena?" was a question asked. "We expect to have a 'Hall of Fame' room in the Civic Center," was the answer. Sounds interesting.

LOOKING GREAT: Jimmy Ruzzo, former heavyweight title aspirant from Pawtuxet Valley, looking fit as the proverbial fiddle and ready for athletic competition — but — its golf now instead of leather-pushing ... And Johnny Lutz, who was a youngster who made good in pro roller polo in competition with the old timers, appears ready for the game right now — if there were a roller polo game ... Walter Nelson, formerly of Providence and now of Washington, a hot corner guardian in the Tim O'Neil Leagues where he later became a keen-eyed umpire, visited Johnny "Wasso" McConnell, another former umpire, last week. Such stories! Such yarns! Backward turn backward O Time etc. ... CARRY ON!

Film-Making, Drama Courses Scheduled

Teenagers interested in the dramatic arts will have an opportunity to take two courses at the Jewish Community Center.

Both a film-making and theatre drama group are scheduled to begin at the Center soon.

The Make Your Own Movie Club, a six week program for Center members in grades 7 through 12, will be conducted on Wednesday evenings, under the direction of James Peroclay, a graduate of Roger Williams College and The Rhode Island Arts in Education cinematography program.

A junior high school drama group for 7th, 8th and 9th grade students will hold its first meeting on Wednesday, November 29, at 7:30 p.m. at the Center.

GOLDEN AGE DINNER

The East Side and South Side Golden Age Club of the Jewish Community Center will conduct their joint Annuu Hanukah Dinner at the Center on Thursday, December 7, at 12 noon.

The affair, a catered kosher dinner, will be open by advance reservation to Golden Age Club members.

The afternoon's program will include entertainment and a presentation by Sigmund J. Hellman, Center executive director, who will be the afternoon's guest.

Deadline for reservations is Thursday, November 30.

TEEN PROGRAM

Make Your Own Thing Night, an informal do-it-yourself type of crafts program, will be conducted for senior high school students at the Jewish Community Center on Sunday, November 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Crafts materials will be supplied for a whole range of crafts projects.

TO CLOSE AT 1 P.M.
Beginning Friday, December 1, the Jewish Community Center will be closed on Fridays at 1 p.m.

ADL Refuses To Endorse PO's Annual Xmas Stamp

NEW YORK — The Anti-Defamation League has again decided to withhold its stamp of approval from the Postal Service's annual Christmas offering. Paul Hartman, director of the ADL's Law Department, said that the Postal Service has in recent years been sidestepping the church-vs.-

State problem through the 'gimmick' of reproducing "art objects" instead of outright religious symbols on its Christmas stamps.

There are two such issues this year, to go on sale November 10. One depicts Santa Claus under the words "Twas the Night Before Christmas;" the other shows a detail of a painting and the words "Christmas" and "Master of St. Lucy Legend/National Gallery of Art." Both are 8-cent stamps that will be sold "only to persons who specifically request them," according to the Postal Service, which adds that if this policy results in light sales they "may be placed on general sale."

TO SPEAK: Dr. Pauli Murray, a visiting professor in the Department of American Studies at Brandeis University and former vice president for Educational Plans and Programs at Benedict College in Columbia, South Carolina, will be the guest speaker at the Luncheon Meeting honoring new members of the Brandeis University National Women's Committee, Providence Chapter. The paid-up members meeting will be held on Friday, December 1, at the Colonial Hilton in Cranston. The luncheon will be at 11:30 a.m. followed by the meeting at 12:45 p.m.

Dr. Murray will speak on "Legal Status of Women Today."

CONDEMN EFFORTS

BALTIMORE — The Baltimore Jewish Council has condemned the efforts of both the Republican and Democratic parties to encourage Jewish bloc voting. The special Jewish bureaus set up by each party were singled out for condemnation.
