A. E. Pi Conclave Begins Here Sunday Lipsky to Open Zionists' Membership Drive

NOTED LEADER TO COME HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Rhode Island District Sponsors Meeting at Biltmore

The largest turnout in Rhode Island Zionist history is expected to greet Louis Lipsky of New York, famous Zionist leader, when he addresses a mass meeting Sunday afternoon in the Biltmore Hotel, this city. The meeting, to which all Jewish groups are invited, is sponsored by the Zionist District of Rhode Island and will start at 3 o'clock.

Among the organizations, all affiliated with the Zionist movement, which will be represented are the Senior and Junior Hadassah of Providence, Pawtucket-Central Falls, Newport and Woonsocket, Women's Pioneer Club, and Paole Zion. The meeting has been arranged in the interest of membership enrollment, leaders pointing out the urgent need for greater support in rebuilding the Homeland, especially at the present time when thousands of German-Jewish refugees are seeking permanent haven there.

Mr. Lipsky's address will be purely an educational lecture on the aims and objects of Zionism, its current problems and the significance of membership in the organization. He will describe the work being done in Palestine today, how the present Palestinian movement would ease the Jewish problem throughout the world and the underlying philosophical principles reflecting the influences of the American Jew now and in the future with regard to Palestine.

One of the outstanding Zionist leaders in America, Mr. Lipsky, served as president of the Zionist organization of America from 1921 to 1931, and is now honorary vice-president; also vice-president of the American Jewish Congress, president of the New York Zionist Region, and chairman of the administrative committee of the American Palestine Fund.

No collections or solicitations will be permitted at this meeting, and everyone is invited to be present.

Every Good Grocer Has It!

Menace of Hitler's Agents in This Country Disclosed by Cong. Dickstein's Investigations

Further Revelations Are Promised by New York's Representative

"America must wake up! This is not a Jewish, Catholic, Masonic, or any other kind of a problem. It is a serious American concern!"

These were the ringing words of Congressman Samuel Dickstein of New York, as he addressed a capacity audience in Temple Emanu-El last Sunday night. The address was the first of a series of four forum lectures sponsored by the men's club of the Temple, and the Institute of Jewish Studies for Adults, of which Edward Goldberger is chairman.

Mr. Dickstein opened his address with a statement of appreciation at being able to speak in this city, the cradle of American religious liberty and tolerance. In continuing he said:

"In Germany today there is no free speech, free assembly, or free election. In this respect the Jews are not the only ones who are affected. The minority rights of all the other factions have been greatly infringed upon, except that the Jews received the first butt of the attack.

"The present German government appropriated 10 million marks for propaganda in the United States, while at the same time claiming that they were unable to pay even a penny toward their war debts. They sent over Heinz Spanknoebel, an unofficial ambassador, and head of their vicious propaganda movement in this country in the guise of a minister of the gospel. His first act was to go to Detroit and take moving pictures of strike disorders that occurred there. These pictures were later shipped to Germany, where they were exhibited, and the German people were told that there is a revolution going on in the United States.

"By order of the Hitler government every German boat had a head Nazi agent on it. These boats were manned by a much larger capacity of seamen than they actually required. When the boats landed in the U. S. these alleged seamen would be given a 30-day furlough, and sent out through the length and breadth of the land to enlist Nazi sympathy and create anti-Jewish propaganda. Every Nazi seaman smuggled in bundles of literature in violation of the U. S. law. No one was employed unless he was 103 per cent Hitlerized. We figure conservatively that there are today in this country about 60,000 of such smuggled and illegal Hitlerites, whose aim is to create disturbance and revolution.

"This Hitler government is not

Highlights of Cong. Dickstein's Speech in Providence

In an exclusive interview granted to a Jewish Herald representative, Congressman Samuel Dickstein of New York reiterated the major facts of his address and added many other items of importance, which briefly summed up are as follows:

"Hitler is prepared to start war against Austria, and desires to gain the sympathy and support of the United States through 12 million American born and naturalized Germans in this country."

"Evidence at our disposal conclusively proves that The Silver Shirts of America are in sympathy with, and have received support from Nazi headquarters."

"The committee of which I am chairman has over 120 pages of sworn testimony, voluntarily submitted, which when presented to the Congress of the United States, will astound the nation."

"Hitlerism does not confine itself to the destruction of the Jews alone. Their aim is to destroy Free Masonry, Catholicism, and in fact all who do not agree with them, as well as the Pope of Rome."

"If any other nation had sent an agent to Germany to do his half of what Spanknoebel accomplished in the United States, Hitler would have had him shot as a spy."

"Nazi emissaries are visiting shops, factories, business houses, etc., trying to convert employes to Nazi views, and bringing them into their fold. Those who refuse and have relatives in Germany, find that their loved ones have been suddenly moved to a concentration camp."

"The vast majority of German people are absolutely ignorant of this international propaganda system, or of the impression that Nazism has created in the Democratic countries of the world. They are told that there is a slight anti-German feeling in some places where Jews have been successful in spreading lying propaganda about Germany."

only a menace to the United States, but to the entire world. When Hitler came into power, he thought that he could be all over the globe. Spanknoebel was ordered to gain control of over 300 German societies in the U. S. in order to put through the Hitler policy. Local Germans who refused to join or assist, and who had relatives in Germany, soon found out that their loved ones were deported to a concentration camp. When Germany's ambassador, Dr. Hans Luther was confronted with these machinations, he discarded them lightly by saying that they were only friendly propaganda. Well, if he calls these acts friendly propaganda, the quicker we give him a dispossession to go back to Germany, the better off this Republic will be.

"My own opinion is that Hitler is prepared for war, ready to go into Austria. We are going to ask Congress for power to subpoena 250 to 300 witnesses whom we desire to question. We are in a position to present facts about this Nazi menace that will startle the country. We will show that beside the Jewish question in Germany there is something else, something of vital importance to the entire world.

"If you dare to say boo about Hitler in Germany, you'll be shot, yet they think that they can come over here to destroy the most vital principles of our government. Are we to tolerate this because we are Jews? Make up your mind that we have just as much right to fight as anybody else. We believe in free speech and assembly. We will fight as Americans. We have every reason to believe that we will make Germany wake up. The time has come for them to wake up. The time has come for Germany to give an accounting."

Congressman Dickstein arrived in Providence Sunday evening at 7:15 and returned to Washington immediately after the lecture. This is the first time he has left his duties in the nation's capitol to make a public address. At the present time he is busily engaged as chairman of the special committee investigating Nazi propaganda in the U. S. Although there are 16 Jewish members in the lower house of Congress, he is the only Jew on this committee of 21.

Rabbi Israel M. Goldman was chairman of the meeting. He introduced United States Senator Felix Hebert as the first speaker who lauded the New York Congressman for his untiring efforts as chairman of the investigation committee, and for his achievements as chairman of the House Committee on Immigration. Senator Hebert also denounced any and all religious and racial bigotry and intolerance, and asserted his adherence to the cause of the American principles of justice to all people regardless of race, creed or religion. He likened the Jewish oppression in Germany to that of the Christians in Rome, and the Moors in Spain.

Edward Goldberger, the chairman of the Forum lecture course made a brief address welcoming the audience, and announcing the three coming lectures. Other members of the committee are: Bertram Bernhard, treasurer; Louis Abedon, Saul Abrams, Herman Aisenberg, Dr. Milton Goldberger, Herbert Tieman, Dr. Eska Windsberg, and Nat C. Cohen, ex-officio.

Jewish Family Welfare Society Holds Annual Meeting and Election

A slow but steady decrease in the number of families under the Society's care and a continued inadequate amount of relief being granted these families because of its limited funds was indicated in reports submitted at the annual meeting of the Jewish Family Welfare Society held Sunday afternoon at the Francis W. Carpenter Memorial Building on North Main street. At the same time it was pointed out that there has been a much more rapid increase in the number of families being aided through federal, state and city funds and greater use of local resources for aid through organizations and individuals.

The guest speaker of the meeting was Dr. Joseph Kasanin, Clinical Director of the State Hospital for mental diseases. He spoke on "Exploring the Jewish Mind" in which he discussed from a psychiatric point of view the effect the background of the Jew has had upon his present makeup and the mental factors affecting his adjustment.

Arthur J. Levy was elected president for a fifth term. Other officers and directors chosen were: first vice president, Mrs. Moses Einstein; second vice president, Mrs. William Schloss; secretary, Dr. Joseph Smith; treasurer, Abraham H. Blackman. Directors for a three-year term are as follows: Mrs. Fred Adler, Walter Adler, Rabbi William G. Braude, Jacob I. Cohen, Max L. Grant, Harry Loeb Jacobs, and Mrs. Ephraim Rosen.

In addition to the annual reports of the president, Mr. Levy, and the executive director, Miss Jessie Joselowitz, reports were given by the treasurer, Mr. Blackman, showing the completion of the year without deficit, by Mrs. Harry Guiny, co-chairman who reviewed the year's activities of the Clothing Center Committee, and by Walter Adler, chairman of the Legal Advisory Committee.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

Sax Rohmer's fantastic stories of Dr. Fu Manchu and his far-flung organization of evil doers have come to life in world-wide Nazi propaganda program as unfolded by Congressman Dickstein in his address the other night before Temple Emanuel Men's Club.

A system of intrigue including secret police and spies smuggled into the country; sixty thousand Nazi agents scattered in the "cells" established in hundreds of American cities, spreading poisonous anti-Semitic literature; an expenditure of 10,000,000 marks to circularize the United States alone; the promise of sensational developments when the final findings are bared. All these and more were described by the Congressman as he exposed the monster plot under federal investigation.

Truly, as Mr. Dickstein says, the Hitler government is a "menace not only to the United States but to the whole world." And the full force of that peril is yet to be realized unless such men as Congressman Dickstein, Samuel Untermyer and their associates block its progress. Witness, for instance, the riots, strikes, destruction and bloodshed that have been caused and are being caused by the Communist agitators who have gained such strength here because no one took them seriously at first. Witness the disaster that Austria narrowly avoided when the Nazis were barely blocked from capturing political supremacy there — and they were blocked only by intervention of France and England. In fact, there is no certainty even now that Austria is permanently saved from Hitler's madness.

Mr. Dickstein and Mr. Untermyer have done much to nip the movement here before it comes to full bloom. They succeeded in arousing the people of this country to the danger that still faces them, a peril that, although aimed primarily at the Jew, will not stop with him. Fantastic though it may sound, this network of Nazi propaganda is real and constitutes a real menace to the world, thriving on foolish incredulity and stupid apathy. All Americans, Jew and non-Jew alike, must be alive to the impending evil and prevent its spread.

THE A. E. PI CONVENTION

The Jewish people of Rhode Island, and the Jewish Herald in particular, extend their greetings to the Alpha Epsilon Pi national convention which comes to Rhode Island for the first time. In fact, it will be the first Jewish collegiate fraternity convention ever held here and the Rhode Island State chapter is to be congratulated for bringing it to Kingston and Providence.

Probably no more fitting place to hold such a conference can be found than in Rhode Island where Roger Williams brought his little band of followers in order to worship as they desired without hindrance or intimidation. Those principles of religious freedom that were enunciated by Rhode Island's founder have been scrupulously adhered to and were written into the state's constitution adopted when we declared our independence even before the colonies banded together to secure political liberation.

Rhode Island State College, in line with that tradition, has been especially liberal toward Jewish students, the college authorities aiding them to form their own fraternity on the campus when they showed the first inclination to do so. We recall readily the early days of the Beta Nu Epsilon which several years ago became Rho chapter of A. E. Pi. Members of the fraternity through the years have been in the forefront of all activities at Kingston, winning scholastic honors, contributing more than their share to the college's athletic prestige, taking major parts in publication of The Beacon and other extra-curricula programs, and proving real assets to the institution upon their graduation.

Certainly, A. E. Pi alumni cannot be accused — as is all too often the case of Jewish students after they leave college — of forgetting or neglecting their alma mater. The Providence alumni club especially has continued extremely active, meeting regularly, making frequent visits back to the campus and generally acting as counsellors to present and prospective students. The Jewish people and Rhode Island State College have reason to be proud of A. E. Pi and the men that comprise it. We extend to them our congratulations and greet their guests from other chapters. To the latter we say: Rhode Island is yours for as long as you desire to abide with us.

Sister of Pogrom Leader
Happily Wed to Shochet's Son

New light has been shed upon the anti-Jewish pogroms in Kishinev in 1903, which shocked world sensibilities, in a story told for the first time by Mrs. Sarah Borenstein, born Anastasia Krushevan, half-sister of the notorious anti-Semite, Peter Krushevan, prime mover and organizer in that tragedy in the history of the Jews in Czarist Russia.

Mrs. Borenstein, a convert to Judaism, who has been living in the United States for thirty years, told her grim story to H. Ackerman, a staff member of the Jewish Daily Forward, which features the account in this Sunday's issue.

According to the Forward story, Mrs. Borenstein now lives in Baltimore, Maryland, and is a pious Jewish woman. She was born in Kishinev in 1882, the daughter of a wealthy Christian by his second wife. Peter Krushevan, her half-brother, was twenty years old at the time. The flickers of anti-Semitism which by the time of Anastasia was seventeen, had already begun to show in Peter's writing published in his daily paper, Bessarabets, were fanned into flame when a Jewish actress to whom he had taken a liking "stood him up."

Was Beaten by Brother

At the same time, Krushevan learned that his sister had become infatuated with Chaim Borenstein, son of a Jewish shochet, in a neighboring town. A jealous friend of Anastasia's told Krushevan of the affair and he, like his parents, beat her and threatened to drive her from their home.

The two lovers eloped, Borenstein finding work in a Bessarabian sawmill. Krushevan, in his paper, published daily attacks upon the couple and accused the Jews of Kishinev of hiding Anastasia, whose whereabouts he was unable to discover. Finally Krushevan offered a reward of five hundred rubles to anyone who would find his sister dead or alive.

Rumors of the reward reached the young couple and they changed their hiding place. Then Krushevan threatened Borenstein's parents. When they heard of the threats Chaim and Anastasia decided to leave Russia and emigrate to the United States.

Due to illness their plans were delayed and they were still in Bessarabia when Borenstein's parents and a brother were killed in the first pogrom in Viahkan, near Kishinev. Only a sister was saved, but not before the hooligans had cut off one of her arms.

An Official Convert

Three days later the Kishinev pogroms began, on the first day of Passover, 1903.

Anastasia became officially converted to Judaism and assumed the name of Sarah. She and Borenstein were married by a rabbi. Later they managed to steal across the Russian border and sailed for the United States, arriving here in September, 1903.

To help his wife acquire Jewish tradition, speech, and characteristics, Borenstein became a sexton in a synagogue. However, the suspicion that Sarah was a convert began to gain ground and the Borensteins moved to a locality where they were unknown.

They settled in a mixed neighborhood in Baltimore. Mr. Borenstein's sister, Lea, whom Krushevan's murdering bands maimed, lives with them. Sarah Borenstein told the Forward reporter that she believes it must have been pre-ordained that a living reminder of her brother's bloody deeds be ever before her eyes, in her home. Lea is a spinster and a mute.

The Borensteins have no children.

THE MORIAH YOUNG JUDEAN CLUB

The Moriah Young Judaea Club under the sponsorship of Rabbi Schechter met Tuesday night at the Jewish Institute. Zionist problems were discussed and arrangements were made for a public installation of the officers which will be held shortly.

The Moriah is a Co-ed Young Judaea Club and has as its purpose the fostering of Jewish religion and idealism among its members. The members meet every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Jewish Institute of the Sons of Jacob Congregation.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL CHANUKAH PROGRAM

A most impressive Chanukah program was presented by the pupils of the Sons of Jacob Religious School Sunday afternoon, at the Jewish Institute.

Over 400 children and their parents attended the affair, which was carried out most successfully. Rabbi Abraham I. Schechter spoke briefly on "Modern Maccabees." A program of songs and music was given by the children, and two playlets, the Hebrew and English versions of "Hannah and Her Seven Sons," were presented. Rabbi Schechter conducted the program, which he had directed assisted by Mrs. Schechter.

After the program, the ladies of the Sons of Jacob Sisterhood presented all the children with gifts of candy and fruit.

and several recitations by Mr. Samuel Young. An enjoyable program was given by Bobby Peirce, singing pianist, D'Alesio, accordion, and Morelli, well-known comedian.

Bar Mitzvah services were held Saturday morning in Temple Emanu-El with Rabbi Israel M. Goldman officiating. He gave an excellent address both in the Temple and at the reception.

Drury, Russell Brown, Alfred D. Steiner will be chairman. Miss Norma Gouse, Miss Dorothy Raphael, and Norman Alper. HOME COMING SABBATH
Following the Annual custom, the Friday Evening Service for December 29 will be designated as Home Coming Sabbath to welcome home the collegians of the congregation who are coming from many out of town schools. This Service will be in charge of the Alumni Association of the Temple. After the Service a reception will be tendered in the Vestry.

ART EXHIBIT OF JEWISH ARTISTS
In the past years, the congregation has sponsored a Jewish Art Exhibit almost annually and has exhibited the works of Saul Raskind, Elias Newman, and Boris Shatz. This year an art exhibit is being sponsored of local Jewish artists only, as it is felt that the community ought to be more familiar with their fine work. For this reason an exhibit of their work will be held from January 2 to January 15 in the vestry of the Temple. The opening will be held Tuesday evening. The committee of local artists arranging this exhibit consists of Mrs. George Wise, Lawrence Hoffman, Mrs. Emanuel Benjamin, Miss Florence Leif, Miss Jeanette Brenner, and Jerome Cohen.

ROUNDOABOUT

A popular lassie . . . dark . . . and very goodlooking . . . is going to surprise the town soon when she announces her engagement to an out-of-towner . . . and won't all the local swains be surprised! . . . none of them has the least idea that the young lady in question is contemplating the great step!

There's going to be trouble between a certain young lawyer and his goodlooking girl friend . . . the Community Center dance will probably be the showdown . . . will a romance of years' standing be so carelessly snuffed out?

Seen about town . . . Charles Alexander going into his office building . . . Mrs. Leo Logan and Mrs. Ruth Markoff lunching together . . . Mrs. Nat Bolotow loaded down with bundles . . . Sophie Robinson walking out of a local theatre with a handsome unidentified male . . . looked like an out-of-towner to us . . . Bert Bernhardt walking down Westminster street deep in thought . . . Bernice Rosenberg home from Boston and now brooking in a local store . . . Ben Brookner walking into a popular lunching place . . . Sally Simons hurrying somewhere . . . probably thinking of the cake sale she is managing.

Another one of our popular younger misses has joined the ranks of the social service workers . . . Janet Fain is doing volunteer work for the Family Welfare Society in between classes at Pembroke . . . we wonder how she finds time along with her senior activities.

Pauline and Sam Mincoff are planning a trip to Florida . . . they don't like this spell of cold weather we have been having . . . we don't blame them . . . we would like to do a Walter Winchell stunt and pull out for southern climes for our health.

Was it fun at the nurses frolic . . . the Miriam Hospital nurses' minstrel show you know . . . that's one time they can get back at the doctors and did they do it! . . . all the doctors' wives were dressed up so beautifully that they "ohed" and "ahed" at each other . . . our local doctors have good taste in wives . . . we hadn't seen so many pretty women for a long time.

Congratulations to Helene Alper who is recovering so nicely from her recent serious illness . . . we hope to see her out again soon.

MORE NOTES FOR US
More contributions of poetry . . . all bad . . . do you want to use it . . . your proofs came from the studio this morning and are they funny . . . they look just like you . . . you missed up on an awfully funny story at Hills Grove Saturday night and said he had some good stuff for your column but I told him you didn't use good stuff . . . but he wanted to know how much you would pay for it . . . and that's out . . . get Ruth Silverman to tell you the latest her young nephew pulled . . . it's the best child's saying of the year . . . another call for you . . . a man wanted to know if you could prove everything you wrote . . . I told him surely . . . but can you? . . . get your copy in on time this week—tardiness doesn't go so hot with the boss lately . . . are you using that story of the element that took place this spring and is just being announced?

Romance seems to be in the air . . . wedding bells will soon be ringing for one of the town's most eligible businessmen and a lovely lady from New York . . . sorry we can't give names here for we promised not to tell for a while . . . and a promise is a promise even to a columnist.

Do you know why that lovely blonde lassie from over east side way goes up to Boston so very often? . . . some one tall dark and verry handsome is the answer . . . Why do so many Providence lassies go for out-of-town men and so many Providence lads go for the out-of-town girls?

The town will be full of hilarity this week-end . . . the Alpha Epsilon Pi convention is being held at the Blitmore and the parties and dances will fire plenty of our lassies before the week-end is over . . .

Don't get too many headaches . . . and until next week . . . cheerio!

And So The Days Pass

By JACK SILVERMAN

THE POWER

Do you wonder when alone,
And in the land of dreams
Whose is the hand that opens the gate
To admit you to the scenes?

What's the power that leads you on
And makes success a play
That takes you to the envied spot,
To make your heart so gay?

THE PRICE WE PAY

As I am preparing this column, I note in the daily press that a young man, a professional hockey player by the name of "Ace" Bailey is at the point of death, as the result of an accidental injury received in his last game. In other words, a young man, a husband, the father of a little girl, will probably be dead by the time you read this, because we, the people, need among many other things for our daily comfort and pleasure, the rough, tough, and gruesome game of hockey. Many other young men in their prime of life, have died, and will die in the days to come because we must have football, boxing, wrestling, racing of all kinds and the many other sports that have taken thousands of lives since their inception. . . . We demand these recreational sports not because they are a necessity to our existence, but a luxury and a diversion.

Humanity pays the price with the most precious thing in its possession . . . LIFE . . . Did you ever stop to think of the many thousands of lives that have paid the price for the comfort and convenience that we receive from our daily usage of the automobile, elevator, train, gas, electricity, and all the other inventions that go to make up the modern so-called comfortable civilized existence? . . . All these things are now a necessary part of our daily life and comfort . . . The irony of it is this . . . Most of us kill ourselves working and worrying to get the money to attain these comforts . . . and the fellow who is fortunate not to have succumbed in the struggle to attain his wish . . . let's say it's an automobile . . . has quite often the miserable luck of either killing himself, or some other human, while enjoying the ride in it.

Maybe I'm wrong . . . but it seems to me that what humanity gained in the discoveries and contribution of medical science, it more than lost through the contribution of mechanical science.

BIOGRAPHY OF MAN (Chapter 8)

Love has come into the life of little Man. . . . Love, that wonderful, dreadful thing which makes men and women do the cruelest things imaginable. There he was only 12 years old, and yet he was smitten by this dreaded scourge. He couldn't eat, sleep, or study. Always she was before his eyes. . . . His parents thought that he was sick, and wanted to take him to a doctor, but he carried on so terribly that his father hit upon another plan. Maybe a change of residence would help, and before you can say "Jack Robinson" a million times, they moved to another city.

Time, which heals all wounds, brought Man a cure from the misery of his first love. Gradually he came back to his former self. He kept on studying, and in another two years, at the age of 14, we find him graduating from High School, a sadder, but wiser person than he was three years previously. To his mother he exclaimed, "I'm all done with girls. I'll never marry; you will be the only sweetheart that I'll ever have." . . . His mother smiled with a tear in her eye, and to herself said "What a delicious liar . . . just like his father!"

At the age of 15 we see little Man quite grown up. He is presented with his first "long pants" suit, and he thinks, to use an old Latin expression, that he is "A gantzer knocker" . . . "A-working I will go" he triumphantly tells his parents, "to earn money for my college education." His father is proud, not to say a thing about his inability to support his "spring much longer," "on account of what it's had times now," as he mildly put it. So . . . Man puts on his long pants suit, washes his face, slicks his hair, and off he starts on the road to conquer the world!

THE POET

The starving poet cries aloud
"The world's the place of God,
"Put off your shoes" — and so
he's proud
Put off your shoes" — and so
THE BITTER WITHOUT SWEET
No doubt you personally have talked about and resented this matter . . . it's not a new subject, but one so old, so truly unjust, that I feel it deserves repetition of thought and discussion.

A few days ago the telegraphic press reports carried the story of that truly Jewish boy Yehudi Menuhin . . . Jewish in his life as well as his name . . . The reports told of the sensational ovation Rome accorded him . . . an ovation whose equal has rarely been seen in the Italian capital.

Was anything written or said about this wonderful violinist's Jewishness? . . . You know the answer . . . of course not! . . . Whenever a Jew does something great or commendable he is "The German scientist" or "The Russian Pianist," "The American Artist," etc. No credit is given, and we really don't expect it, for the brilliant accomplishments of any of our brethren in the arts and sciences. Maybe their Jewish heritage did help them to surpass their fellowmen, but as stated previously, we as a people do not really claim full credit for it.

I was seated in the lobby of a local hotel while reading this news item. A couple of individuals of Semitic physiognomy who deal in "Illicit Spirits," (bootleggers to you) passed by . . . Both of these fellows, though sons of good Jewish parents, are today as devoid of any

YOUNG ISRAEL

The Young Israel group of Ahavath Sholom met Wednesday at the home of Dr. Caplan on Camp street, in the form of a semi-social evening. Miss Ruth Fishbein delivered a paper on Rabbi Akiba after which Jewish current events were discussed. Mrs. Caplan served refreshments.

SERVICES

The children's service will be held tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 9 o'clock after which the Bar Mitzvah group will meet with Dr. Caplan.

Jewishness as is Mike Murphy's cow. They never go to the synagogue, eat "traif," keep company with "shik-sees" . . . There isn't a single Jewish law or commandment that they haven't violated. In addition, of course, to their anti-Jewish disregard of the civil law of the land and the state . . . Now then . . . these persons . . . Ha, ha, ha . . . really, I can't stop laughing! . . . Two so-called "Intelligent non-Jews" sat not far from me, and I heard one say to the other "Look at those damned Jews. Always looking for a way to make an easy living" . . . Honestly, it struck me funny . . . it would strike you the same way if I could tell you their names . . . you probably know of them . . . They are called Jews, but not Yehudi Menuhin!

AROUND THE TOWN (Not Roundabout: That's Two Other Fellows)

Rabbi Goldman gently upbraids me for not coming around more often, and justly so . . . Maybe I'm vain, but I get a kick out of having my old pal Phil Joslin, superior court justice, still call me "Jack" in his never changing friendly manner. One of the few men whom an elevated position hasn't changed . . . A dozen rounds of applause to Ed Goldberger for the fine work he's doing in arranging the Forum Lecture Course . . . Archie Silverman, no relation to me, but the most friendly, genial and gentlemanly fellow in many-a-moon . . . Note to Oscar Zinn . . . Monday night, I saw a number of Jewish people enter your banquet hall. Many of them carried packages. What was up? And were any of those presents for me? . . . No, I don't deserve them, but I sure need them . . . Tuesday night—Ah thought I'd die! . . . My old pal (not so old!) Rose Goldsmith, an end woman in the Miriam Hospital minstrel show . . . I had a great time, Rose.

Erato for the Center and its able executive staff headed by Jacob Cohen for the excellent work they are doing . . . and so the days pass.

SPORTING WORLD

NEWS WRITTEN FOR THE JEWISH HERALD BY GEORGE JOEL

Hitler OK's Olympics

The nations of the world can now start making preparations for the Olympic Games scheduled to be held in 1936. Herr Adolph Hitler, whose name you might be familiar with, has given official sanction to the games and has announced that work may start on a huge stadium to be built at Grunewald, suburb of Berlin. Of course until Adolph said "OK" the other nations didn't even presume to think about the Olympics?

Not satisfied with the idea of an international sports meet Hitler delivered himself of a worthy, florid speech in which he got off some of his more quotable remarks about the physical superiority of Aryans, etc. He was particularly silent about the idea of having Jewish athletes from Germany or other nations participate in the new stadium.

But other countries were a trifle more curious and asked questions. Assurance was quickly forthcoming that the German government has not taken any action to bar German Jewish athletes from participating in the sports. The Amateur Athletic Union of America received an official communication from Hans Von Tschammer, supreme authority on athletics in Nazi Germany, to this effect.

The communication was a copy of a letter sent by Von Tschammer to Dr. Theodore Lewald, president of the German organizing committee for the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin. It was sent to Avery Brundage, president of the A. A. U. by Count Baillet-Latour, president of the international Olympic committee.

Von Tschammer's letter states that neither he nor the Reich government has issued any statement barring Jewish athletes from sport organizations or athletics nor prohibiting the open participation of Jewish athletic organizations in athletic exercises.

That might be, but I would hate to be sentenced to start a Jewish sports club in Germany right now and I would also dislike to be made to enter a competition against Nazi athletes.

As for Jews on the German Olympic team I will bet that one Jew will be named on the team for the sole and only purpose of proving to the world that Hitler really loves us. Wouldn't Hitler be embarrassed if he could not find a Jewish athlete willing to play traitor to his co-religionists?

Tunney Predicts One In Advance

Although it is highly doubtful that Maxie Baer will ever be permitted in the same ring with Champion Carnera, Gene Tunney who once held the heavyweight title himself, does not believe that Maxie could take the rather massive Italian. In a speech delivered with grace and dispatch at the All-American sports dinner at the Hotel Astor in New York City, Tunney who was telling his fellow nibblers about the vicissitudes of the fight game, got off the following about Baer, "I don't believe Baer can beat the Italian. He stands with his feet too far apart and is too slow. The man who topples Carnera will be a hard and fast hitter like Dempsey. I don't believe Carnera would have lasted three minutes with Jack." One fighter's opinion of another is about as good as one author's remarks about another's book. Such expressions of sentiment are generally worthless.

The Baer-Carnera fight is as far distant as ever. The Italian who was in this country for a few days signed to meet Tommy Loughran at Miami on February 22. Baer will probably fight another bout with Maxie Schmeling next summer. The pride of the Nazis is not convinced that his last meeting with Baer wasn't just a bad dream.

Fight Notes and Other Chatterings
Maxie Rosenbloom, light heavyweight champ, (don't smile when you say that) will defend his title against a gentleman named Joe Knight. The bout will take place in Miami on February 5. Another reason for staying out of the South?

Sid Cohen, rising young Jewish middleweight will get a chance to show his prowess with the gloves shortly when he is placed in the ring with the picturesque Roy Frisco. This bout will be one of the prelims to the Rosenbloom-Massera go at the Ridgewood Grove Club in New York.

Primo Carnera says that in his fight with Max Baer in the movie "The Prize Fighter and the Lady" not one real blow was struck. Both men missed each swing, but the picture was speeded up and it looked as though the boys were committing effective mayhem upon each other. The boys chewed chocolate and let it dribble down their chins for that bloody effect—even at that it was a grand picture.

The baseball magnates of both leagues are meeting in session these quiet weeks and making all sorts of preparations for the coming season. As yet I haven't read of any suggestions advanced for perverting interest in the so-called National game. Within fifteen years major league baseball will be a thing of the past. Other sporting spectacles have lost their mass appeal such as bowling, animal baiting, sulky racing, bike racing (with the exception of six day races), archery contests and the hundred games buried in the archives of the historians.

My bet is on Columbia to come out on the short end of the Rose Bowl game with Stanford. I think the California team will win by a minimum of thirteen points.

Anti-Semitic Wave Sweeps Over Lithuania

KOVNO, Lithuania, (JTA) — A menacing and sudden anti-Jewish campaign has sprung up in the Lithuanian provinces. Thousands of leaflets have been distributed everywhere, describing the Jews as enemies of Lithuanian independence, and calling for a systematic boycott of all Jews.

While the Lithuanian government has made no attempt to interfere with the anti-Semitic movement, it is prohibiting Jewish meetings. The government refused Asriel Karlebach, German-Jewish journalist, and Lazki Bertholdi, editor of the Riga Jewish daily, Primorgn, permission to address meetings on Hitlerism.
