JUNIOR UNIT, A. J. C. DANCE ON JUNE 22

All plans have been completed for the dinner-dance to be sponsored by the Junior Unit, American Jewish Congress on Saturday evening, June 22, at the Metacomb Golf Club on the Barrington Parkway.

This will be the first social event conducted by this popular group and the committee is sparing no effort to make it one of the outstanding social affairs of the season. Because reservations will be limited to the capacity of the club, the committee stresses that all reservations be sent in at once. One of the most popular bands in New England has been engaged to furnish the music. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock and will continue, with a brief intermission for dinner, until the wee hours of the morning.

The committee is headed by Joseph M. Finkle and Archie Smith and includes Louis Davis, Miss Mildred Waldman, Miss Marie Rotman, Miss Dorothy Markoff, Miss Janet Fain, Miss Lillian Kelman, Miss Pauline Kleinberger, Miss Marian Rubin, Miss Sarah Grossman, Miss Selma Zisquit, Miss Zaida Fisher, Miss Ruth Adelson, Miss Macy Fine, Miss Marian Grossman, Irving Windograd, Arthur Kornstein, Edward Blackman, Frank Barad, Saul E. R. Feinberg, Dr. Jay Fishbein, Dr. Stanley Eisenman, Edward Goldberger, Philip Leberman, and Sidney Hanzel.

Zionist Labor Group Mass Meeting Thurs.

Arrangements were made today by the Labor Zionists for a mass meeting to be held next Thursday at which time David Vartheim, national secretary of Paale Zion, and Sherman of the Election Board for the Zionist Congress, will discuss "Our Duty to Palestine in the Present Time."

Plans have also been completed to facilitate the voting of members of the Paale Zion section, National Workers Alliance, Women Pioneers, Junior Women Pioneers when they go to the polls on June 23. The committee in charge comprises Morris Beeber, chairman, Henry Burt, Arthur Kornman, L. Resnick, Max Bernman, Mrs. Harry S. Beck, Miss Frances C. Carter, Mrs. Arthur Kornman, Mrs. S. Sherman, Mrs. Abraham Perler, Mrs. C. Phillips and Mrs. Henry Chait.

The local election board representatives, Henry Burt, Alter Boyman, Morris Beeber, Arthur Kornman, and L. Resnick, have announced that Alter Boyman will run on the Labor Zionist list.

To Fete Horvitzes Prior to Departure

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Horvitz of 122 Howell Street, are arranging a farewell reception in their honor in the form of a W'Vae Makke, prior to their sailing aboard the Rex, on July 9, for a prolonged stay in Palestine. The banquet will be held Saturday evening, June 22, at Zin's Banquet Hall, 133 Mathewson Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Horvitz were pioneers in Palestine many years ago, Mrs. Horvitz having migrated to that country with her parents, who spent the remainder of their lives there. Besides being active in many local organizations, Mrs. Horvitz was instrumental in raising annual sums for the Ezrath Nashim institution in Jerusalem under the direction of Mrs. David Yellin, and plans to visit the institution.

Morris W. Shoham is chairman of reservations for the banquet and they can be obtained by calling Gaspee 4312.

TO SPEAK HERE

LOUIS LIPSKY

Louis Lipsky, one of the outstanding Zionist leaders in America, who served as president of the Zionist Organization in America from 1921 to 1931, and is now a member of the Governing Council of that body, will address members and friends of Providence Zionist District, at 8 o'clock next Monday night at Temple Emanu-El.

Mr. Lipsky has been identified for more than 30 years with the foremost Jewish communal enterprises. Born in Rochester, N. Y., he entered a literary career in which he achieved notable success. For some years he served as dramatic critic on the New York Telegraph, and was also editor of the American Hebrew. In the early part of the century, Mr. Lipsky dedicated himself to the upbuilding of the Zionist movement in the United States. He served in various capacities, including that of president of the Z. O. A. He also was one of the leading figures in the World Zionist Organization, having been a member of the World Executive.

Participating as a leader in a variety of Jewish causes, Mr. Lipsky is one of the greatest exponents of Zionism. He is now president of the Eastern Life Insurance Company, a vice president of the American Jewish Congress, national chairman of the American Palestine Campaign, and national co-chairman of the United Jewish Appeal.

Joseph Smith, chairman of the Providence District, will preside. A short service will be held to honor the memory of the late Shmarya Levin.

HIAS Relief Drive to be Waged Here

Providence Jews are being asked to contribute to an emergency fund for the relief of German Jewish refugees in a campaign soon to be inaugurated by the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, Harry Pritzker, of the New York office of HIAS will direct the drive.

The following committee has been chosen to assist in raising funds: Archibald Silverman, Henry Hasenfeld, Rabbi I. M. Goldman, Bernard M. Goldowsky, Alter Boyman, Dr. L. Berger and Joshua Bell. Others on the committee will be named later.

The funds being raised by HIAS in a nation-wide campaign are being used to help refugees in many ways. This is shown in a remark made by James C. McDonald, League of Nations High Commissioner for German Refugees, who said, "I share the view which was expressed at the recent meeting in London when it was indicated that HIAS not only has done notable work but offers one of the best means of pushing forward the large task of liquidating the refugee problem."

J. T. A. Director to Address B'nai Brith Lodge

Jacob Landau of New York, internationally known managing director of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, will be principal speaker at the dinner-dance sponsored by Roger Williams Lodge, B'nai Brith, at 7 o'clock next Tuesday night in the Narragansett Hotel.

This is the first affair to be conducted by the new B'nai Brith unit which now numbers 100 members. The committee headed by Max J. Rosenhirsch, feels that it is fortunate in having secured Mr. Landau as speaker.

Other speakers will be Edward Goldberger, Abraham Goldstein and Morris Espu, presidents of B'nai Brith lodges in this city, Woonsocket and Pawtucket. The committee assisting Mr. Rosenhirsch in arranging the event, comprises Simon Norman, Dr. Joseph Smith, Joseph M. Finkle, Benjamin Feinstein, Isadore I. Horenstein, Sidney Hanzel, Saul E. R. Feinberg, Maniel Ostrow and Meyer Tenenbaum.

Civic Leader, Artist Dies at Age of 51

BORIS N. NELSON

Boris N. Nelson, business man and artist, of 74 Gallatin St., died last Saturday at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston, where he went the previous Friday to undergo treatment.

Mr. Nelson was president and treasurer of the D. & N. Manufacturing Company, a jewelry concern at 59 Page St., which he established in 1917 after his arrival from Haverhill, Mass. Since settling in Providence, he had been active in civic and communal affairs. For several years he was vice president of the Men's Club of the Jewish Community Center and a member of the board of trustees.

One of his greatest interests was Temple Beth Israel which he helped found in 1921. For a number of years he was financial secretary, and more recently, chairman, of the board of trustees, and also acted as the Temple's treasurer.

Born in Moscow, Russia, 51 years ago, Mr. Nelson came of a family of artists and writers, named Katznelson. Many of his canvases and drawings decorate the walls of Temple Beth Israel.

In 1911, Mr. Nelson married Miss Minnie Rathesky, who, with three sons, Walter, Howard and Eugene, survives him. The first son is a member of the senior class at Baltimore Dental College.

Funeral services were held last Sunday at Temple Beth Israel and burial was in the Lincoln Park Cemetery. Rabbi Morris Schussheim officiated.

TAKEN BY DEATH

SHMARYA LEVIN

TEL AVIV (JTA) — Thousands attended the funeral of Shmarya Levin, the veteran Zionist leader, who died suddenly Monday in Haifa. He was buried here.

A personal representative of Sir Arthur Wauchop, the High Commissioner of Palestine who was a close friend, was present at the funeral. The Tel Aviv police provided a guard of honor.

No eulogies were delivered at the funeral. Dr. Levin was buried beside the grave of Chaim Nachman Bialik, the Hebrew national poet.

Work in Haifa was suspended in the morning in all Jewish institutions, when the body of Dr. Levin was taken by special train to this city. All Jewish shops in Haifa were closed during the funeral procession.

Alter Boyman Urges Jews to Ballot Ticket No. 2 at Zionist Elections

By ALTER BOYMAN

In the last 2,000 years, the majority of Jews, no matter in what land they have lived, were the merchants, bankers, exporters and small business men, and soon the natives of that country in which they lived, learned the methods of being the mediators, and the Jews were forced to wander. Many times they were fought out physically, with the excuse that the Jews are parasites, not being of the productive element.

Agriculture, the foundation of every nation, did not interest the Jewish people.

The wandering of the Jew from country to country, especially in the last century, the pogroms of the last 50 years, and emigration from country to country, has forced Jewish leaders all over the world to come to a conclusion that Zionism is the only solution for the Jewish problem, and one more, the Jewish people should become a productive people.

Agriculture Foremost Project

The upbuilding of Palestine as a Jewish National Homeland, to bring back Jews on the soil, is the only answer to the Jewish problem. Therefore, it is the demand of the Labor Zionists that Palestine must be first of all colonized on a national basis and that agriculture should be the first important work of the Zionist organization. Palestine cannot and will not be considered as an "Eretz-Israel," if a few thousand wealthy Jews own the land and have the work done by Arabs. Palestine will only then be justly called the Jewish National Homeland and will fulfill its purpose to make the Jews a productive people if the land will be in the hands of Jews who own the land, live on the land and cultivate the land.

Warding Against Sweet Shops

This does not mean that we are against private capital and private initiative in Palestine. We are in favor of private initiative and com-

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS CAUSE MUCH UNREST

WARSAW (JTA) — More than 30 Poles were arrested as a result of the anti-Jewish riots in Grodno, Poland, where 60 Jews were injured and the windows of many Jewish houses smashed during the week-end.

Eight Jews were also arrested in Grodno for forming a self-defense unit during the riots.

One of the Jewish victims, Israel Berezowski, 21, died from injuries received during the riots. His funeral was held at dawn in order not to provoke new disturbances.

Police Patrol Streets

The atmosphere was still charged with tension in Grodno despite the heavy police patrols guarding the streets of the city. Jewish mothers refused to permit children to leave their homes, fearing for their lives. All the Jewish schools remained closed.

An official report issued by the Grodno authorities emphasizes that the riots against the Jews were conducted by underworld characters. The 30 arrested are described by the police as "rowdies."

Eight Jews in Hospital
Of the 60 Jews injured, eight are now in Grodno hospitals. The local authorities are now in full control of the situation in the city.

An investigation into the details of the riot established that the mob that attacked the Jews and smashed the windows of Jewish houses was directed from a dance-hall where a clash between Jewish and non-Jewish elements of the underworld took place. It was during this clash that Wladislaw Kusacz was stabbed to death.

mercial enterprises but we demand that all private enterprises must be created in such a manner as to widen working facilities for the Jewish people and create a greater opportunity for increased Jewish emigration. Sweet shops and starveling wages must be barred in Palestine.

Furthermore, the Labor Zionists demand that the next Congress adopt laws against speculation and speculators in Palestine. The World Zionists Congress must take steps against currency speculation which is the ruination of any country, particularly a small country like Palestine where every dunam of land must be bought at a high price.

The employment of organized Jewish labor, which is the only justified argument by the Zionist Executive to the English Government for a larger demand of certificates for Jews' entrance into Palestine, should become a law, not only a good wish.

Open to All Productive Jews

Yes, we believe that Palestine should be open to all Jews, from every class, all over the world, providing that in settling in Palestine, they will once more become a productive people, agriculturally and industrially, and employ Jewish labor, which will make it possible for more Jews to enter Palestine.

The present World Zionist Executive which is called the "Labor Executive," is the first one to come before the World Zionist Congress to be held in August with a wonderful record of achievements, and in spite of all the obstacles exist in their path two years ago, they will come with a financial record that is more stabilized than any other Zionist Executive ever had.

The one million pound loan which they have successfully carried through, not only helped Palestine but gave greater prestige to the Jews all over the world.

Miss Gertrude Ross was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miaaea Esther Sonion, Lee Falcofaki and Ruth Ross. Irene Garber was flower girl. Louis Garber was best man and ushers were Sidney Garber, Saul Sonion and Leonard Schoenberg. Following a wedding trip to Washington, the couple will live at 39 Daniel Street, Pawtucket.

Center Lawn Party Now Being Planned

Various committee reports presented at a meeting of the June lawn festival committee to be staged by the Jewish Community Center indicated that rapid progress has been made towards effecting a novel and interesting event.

The festival will be officially opened on Tuesday evening and will continue through Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Archie Smith, chairman, announced that the festival will be the closing event on the Center program for the season. The plan as developed by various chairmen includes two shows every evening during the three nights of the festival: first show at 8:30 o'clock, another at 10:45 o'clock; dancing in the gymnasium from 8 to 12 every evening to music by a popular band, and an indoor circus in the main building, with several performances.

The public is requested to be sure to visit the circus and particularly the incubator baby weighing 133 pounds, known as the "Wonder Baby of the World." The lawn in the rear of the building will be gaily decorated with Japanese lamps, with five variety booths serving as a background.

To afford the festival a semi-circus appearance, a lady gurdy will be installed together with a real monkey that is certain to amuse with his antics. Colored balloons will please the youngsters and adults will get a chance to test their strength by pounding spokes into woodblocks. These are only a few of the many features that await both young and old.

The opening night has been set aside for an amateur show, while on the second evening, the combined boys' club harmonica bands will be featured. The closing event has been designated as "Pop Vaudeville Night" and will include the highlight entertainment numbers offered at the Center during the past season, including selections from "Center Follies," musical extracts from the operetta, "The Pirates of Penzance," and stunts by the Olympic Jrs., Checkmates, and the Center dancing class.

During the last hour of the closing evening, next Thursday, a Mardi Gras will be staged, offering many colorful effects such as serpentine, confetti, etc.

Mr. Smith has announced the following committees: Mrs. Theodore Rosenblatt, chairman of the grocery booth, assisted by Mesdames Paul J. Rubin, Irvin Robinson, Irving Berger, Max Cohen, Samuel Mistovsky, Sidmud Robinson, Idah Pearlmuter and Jacob Saitzman. Mrs. Martin J. Bernstein, chairman flower booth, assisted by Miss Selma Blum, Mesdames Carl Jagolinzer, Nat Roy, Max Golden and Irving Gordon. Zionist Election (Continued from Page One)

The successful political negotiations with the English government, which made possible the large emigration of Jews to Palestine in the last two years, confirms the hope that the Jews will be a majority in Palestine in the near future. Therefore, we do say, "Return your present Zionist Executive for another two years." Let them continue the work which they have so successfully begun.

Is it possible at this time for any right thinking Zionist to criticize the present World Zionist Executive? My answer is "No." To the credit of General Zionists in America they do admit that the present World Zionist Executive has accomplished everything possible to bring to a realization all the dreams and hopes of the Jewish people.

Why not elect delegates to assure the return of the present Zionist Executive?

If you are against the present Zionist Executive, if you are against all the demands of the Labor Zionist, vote against it but if you do recognize the wonderful achievements of the present executive, vote for ticket No. 2, and do not vote for a substitute list. Strengthen the hands of those who were responsible for the last two years! Become a co-worker in all that has been constructively built and prepared by the present Executive for the millions of Jews all over the world, who are anxiously awaiting entrance into Palestine to become once more a productive people.

Temple Beth Israel

Services will be held daily at 7 o'clock in the morning and 8:15 in the evening, including Saturdays and Friday nights in the prayer room. All mourners who say Kaddish are requested to note the time.

Licker Bar Mitzvah
At 9 o'clock tomorrow (Saturday) morning, the Congregation will celebrate the Bar Mitzvah of Morton Licker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Licker.

Condolences
The congregation extends its sincere sympathy to Mrs. Boris N. Nelson and children on the death of husband and father.

Yahrzeit
The congregation observes the Yahrzeit of Ephraim ben Levi Isaac Weinberg, Sivan 17; Elsie Littman, 19; Bella Goldenberg, 20; Minnie Baker, 22; Louis Shatkin, 26.

Congratulations
The congregation extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel N. Deutch on the marriage of their daughter, Janet Ann, to Ira Blum.

Announce Council Committees for Year

Appointments of committees and consideration of next year's budget were included in the business of the Executive Board of Providence Section, Council of Jewish Women, last Tuesday afternoon at the Biltmore Hotel. Mrs. Jack Davis, president, who presided, announced appointments of the following committee chairmen:

Mrs. Pierre Brunschwig, general chairman; Miss Jean Bercovitz, ads; Mrs. Charles M. Hoffman, Americanization; Mrs. Eske H. Windsborg, art; Mrs. Esther Borod, better films; Mrs. Saul Rothchild, camp; Mrs. Fred Markoff, dramatics and public speaking; Mrs. Milton Simon, Emma Loeb memorial fund; Mrs. Philip V. Marcus, hospitality. Mrs. Samuel Wachenheimer, international relations; Mrs. Morris Gershan, legislation; Mrs. E. Gardner Jacobs, literature; Mrs. Everett Cowen, membership; Mrs. David C. Adelman, national affairs delegate; Mrs. Milton M. Fuld, North End dispenser; Mrs. John J. Rousin, program; Mrs. Louis B. Wolfenson, publicity; Mrs. Edwin Sheuch, religion; Mrs. Samuel I. Kennison, remembrance fund; Mrs. Samuel R. Finegold, service to the foreign born; Mrs. Harold Rogell, scrap book; Mrs. Bernard Goodman, social service; Mrs. Coleman Zimmerman, vice chairman social service; Mrs. Samuel Bischer, telephone squad; Mrs. Edward Deutch, ways and means. Mrs. Davis also appointed Mrs. Morris Cowen, editor-in-chief of the "Council-er," a new publication to be issued by the organization.

LABOR ZIONISTS LEAD

Figures released today on the purchase of Shekolim, credit the General Zionists with 29,000; the Orthodox Zionists with 10,000, and the Labor Zionists with 33,000. These figures do not include Shekolim purchased by the Hassasab or Women Pioneer Clubs.

Alter Boyman, in commenting on the results, stated, "The Labor Zionists have increased their voting powers by 26,000 since the last election in 1933. The totals are very significant in that they indicate a trend towards Labor Zionist policies."

WOONSOCKET NEWS

By ZELMOR LEVIN

Well, we found out something this week. There's a Jewish Indian guide in the White Mountains. He says so himself. Probably Woonsocket folks will recognize that line of humor, for we recently received a letter from Ashel Booth, the city's No. 1 Ambassador of Good Will, who is on his annual vacation at Maplehurst in Bethlehem, N. H. Ashel wants his many friends to know he is enjoying good health, is able to work hard and hopes to return here a new man. And he signs himself as above. "Yours truly, the only Jewish Indian Guide in the White Mountains."

Woonsocket's city solicitor-to-be (in about the year 1965) was born this week to Mr. and Mrs. Morris E. Yarus. Moe, who holds that position now, is certain of his son's also attaining it. He says the youngster is putting up arguments already.

The Woonsocket Hebrew Choral Society wrote "finis" to its list of public appearances for the season when it sang a benefit performance last Sunday night in the Kadimah Synagogue, Springfield, Mass. As usual, it covered itself with glory, and was immediately signed for a renewed engagement in the fall. Rev. Amshel Heuberg was director, and Mrs. Celis Epstein, accompanist.

"All Rhode Island Night" was observed last Wednesday at the regular meeting of the B'nai B'rith with delegates from Providence, Newport and Pawtucket lodges attending the session in B'nai Israel Synagogue. Former U. S. District Attorney Elisha Stone of Boston, an outstanding figure in American Jewry, was principal speaker. Arthur Kornstein was chairman for the affair.

Rain wiped out the sports programs last Sunday and consequently the Jewish baseball teams were unable to play. However, the aggregation is looking forward to its next engagement to be staged this Sunday in Providence. We are pleased to be informed that Joseph Sholowitz, who suffered a fractured ankle more than a month ago during baseball practice, is practically recovered and soon will be hopping around at dances just as in old times.

Alumni of the local A. Z. A. chapter assembled recently in the vestry of the synagogue as the first annual "Alumni Night" was observed. The meeting proved one of the most interesting in months. Special tribute was paid Alephs Edward Golden and Irving Zimmerman for their efforts in behalf of the organization. Oscar Siskin presided and speakers included Joseph Chernick, Harry Baran, Joseph Goldfine, Nathan Goldfine, Harry Garelick and Joseph Shorr.

Mrs. Edelberg to Head Sanatorium Aid Society

A new organization, Rhode Island Founders for the Los Angeles Sanatorium, was formed by a group of Jewish women at a meeting held last Monday at the Hebrew Sheltering Home, on Jefferson Street.

Dr. I. Ginsburg inducted the following officers: Mrs. Charles Edelberg, president; Mrs. Joseph Grossman, first vice president; Mrs. Haskia Ostrow, second vice president; Mrs. Lewis Gershman, recording secretary; Mrs. Morris Fishbein, financial secretary; Mrs. Louis Fishbein, treasurer; Mrs. Samuel Flunkelstein, first trustee; and Mrs. Samuel Tobin, second trustee.

Arrangements were made for a meeting next Thursday afternoon at the Hebrew Sheltering Home.

Beth Israel Sisterhood Annual Dance, Nov. 19

Plans for the annual dance to be held November 19, at the Biltmore Hotel, with Mrs. Leo Bojar, chairman, and Mrs. A. Galkin, co-chairman, were made at the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Israel's closing meeting of the year in the vestry of the Temple last Wednesday evening.

The opening prayer was read by Mrs. Arthur Galkin. Future meeting dates have been changed to the first Monday afternoon of each month. After the business meeting, piano selections were played by Miss Ruth Miller and Mrs. Morris L. Cowen reviewed the book, "Road of Ages," by Robert Nathan.

SLEPKOW—KELMAN
Atty. Frank W. Slepko of Providence and Miss Mildred Kelman of Boston, were united in marriage last Sunday in Boston. Only immediate relatives attended the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Slepko departed for a week's trip to Atlantic City. On their return they will reside in Riverside.

GRADUATION PROBLEMS SOLVED BY GOLDMANS

Mr. and Mrs. James Goldman of 149 Adelaide Ave., have been puzzled the past week in trying to solve the problem of attending the graduation exercises of three children, which occur simultaneously, but in different localities. A son, Leonard, is receiving his B. A. degree next Monday at Cornell University; Albert's graduation is at Brown University, and their daughter, Jessica, is scheduled to receive her diploma at Central High School.

The solution entailed simple subtraction and division. As three of the seven in the family were graduating, there remained four to attend the ceremonies. Mrs. Goldman will travel to Ithaca to see Leonard receive his degree. Mr. Goldman will witness the exercises at Brown, and the remaining two sons, George and Robert will attend Jessica's graduation.

All of the children have participated prominently in the social and literary life of their respective schools.

Mrs. Herbert J. Goulston, Camp Director

The CAMP

There is a bright, rugged spot at Gloucester, Massachusetts. It holds an intimate summer camp, right by the sea. All the trappings are there, and hand-drawn, but showers, warm jazz—and every indoor and outdoor sport under the sun. And it's in a "factory"—and never will be. It is run by a group of sports, for a little profit, and a lot of pleasure.

Kessler Announces New Store Opening

With a bigger and a more complete line of delicatessen, dairy products and groceries, Joseph Kessler opened his new store today at 180 Camp Street, near Larch Street. For 33 years, Mr. Kessler was located at lower North Main Street, and during that time he has acquired fame among Providence Jewry for the fine quality goods obtainable at his store.

Mr. Kessler has arranged to have a continual delivery service which is available from 8 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night. A telephone call to Dexter 1482 will assure prompt delivery of all orders.

Modern equipment featured by a complete frigidaire service which affords cold beer at all times, has transformed the new store into a model of efficiency. In arranging the new stock of fine delicacies, an ideal shelf arrangement permits the customer to see what he or she is purchasing. Mr. Kessler sells imported as well as domestic delicacies.

One section of the large store is devoted entirely to a display of beers, wines and liquors and the assortment and price range will suit everyone.

For 33 years Mr. Kessler has served Providence Jewry, wholesale and retail, and this lengthy service is ample evidence of the respect his merchandising has merited. Mr. Kessler is a member of Temple Emanu-El, Touro Fraternal Association and the Hebrew Free Loan Association.

Mr. Kessler invites everyone to visit his new place. There is plenty of parking space.

DINNER PARTY

Misses Ethel Zarchen, Dorothy Spiegel and Beatrice Orlick, brides-elect, were tendered a dinner party by a group of friends last Wednesday at the Biltmore Hotel. Bridge was played and prizes were won by Miss Orlick, Miss Fannie Kulahek and Miss Spiegel.

A LOSS TO THE "HOME" AND THE COMMUNITY

True worth of any man can be measured by the esteem in which he is held by others in the community. And when the members of the Jewish Home for Aged of Rhode Island are sincerely regretful that their superintendent, Manuel B. Ostrow is leaving them, we realize that Providence Jewry will long remember the pleasant association with one whose conscientious work had furthered the growth of the Home.

Mr. Ostrow came to Providence three years ago to direct the newly-erected Home on Hillside Avenue. Since then the institution has made material progress. His energetic interest in other societies, his desire to prove to Providence Jewry the need of their co-operation, aided to solve the many requirements of the Home.

In all this he was not alone. Mrs. Ostrow too deserves commendation for the service she has given the community. Her many activities were directed towards one goal—of keeping alive Jewish civic spirit in its relation to the Home.

They leave next month for Memphis, Tennessee, to assume similar duties at the B'nai B'rith Home. We are certain their innate ability to multiply the enjoyment of life of those entrusted to their care will be recognized and we solace ourselves with the thought that their sphere of benevolence will embrace a greater percentage of Jews.

SHMARYA LEVIN

With the death of Shmarya Levin, the Zionist movement has lost one of its most brilliant leaders. Keen-witted, clever, possessing a fine sense of humor, Dr. Levin won over not only Jews but many non-Jews as well, as friends of the Zionist movement.

Though inactive of late because of his state of health, Shmarya Levin was the only Jew in Palestine who could exercise influence upon Sir Arthur Wauchope, the Palestine High Commissioner, not as a politician but as a personal friend. The soft spot which Sir Arthur Wauchope had in his heart for Dr. Levin was displayed by the Commissioner openly on numerous occasions.

Dr. Levin, whose great weakness was chess, was the chess partner of the Commissioner. It was during the many chess games in the Government House that Sir Arthur learned to admire Dr. Levin for his worldliness, his healthy humor, his fine logic and his great love for Palestine.

Not always did Shmarya Levin approve of the line pursued by certain Zionist leaders. Many a time he was not only critical but even cynical in his observations. His criticism was, however, well intentioned. He wanted to see the Zionist movement strong, united and above all, clean.

Although a veteran in the Zionist movement and one of the ablest Zionist orators, Dr. Levin was not admitted into the front ranks of Zionist leadership in recent years. As a good Zionist, however, he never complained. With a cynical smile he spoke from time to time of the "young leaders" and admitted that it was only natural for the old guard of the Zionist movement to be pushed out by the younger generation.

Although he no longer participated actively in Zionist leadership, Dr. Levin remained nevertheless a central figure in the Zionist movement. He was an institution in himself. Those who knew him intimately could not help admitting that no other figure in Zionist ranks could match him in the qualities which he possessed and which he utilized fully for the benefit of the Zionist cause.

In America, the name of Shmarya Levin will be honored as among those who imbued American Jewry with the spirit of Zionism. It was Shmarya Levin who actually built up the Zionist Organization in America during the war. It was he who organized it. It was he who cemented it.

American Zionism owes a debt to Shmarya Levin more than to any other Zionist leader. With his brilliant gift of oratory, he was able to inspire thousands of Jews in America with an understanding of the spiritual value of Zionism. With his charming personality, he was able to win for Zionism many American Jews who had always considered the upbuilding of Palestine nothing but a dream.

Dr. Levin was not only a brilliant orator, a scholar, a political leader, but also a gifted writer. His autobiography in two volumes which has been translated into English under the titles "Childhood in Exile" and "Youth in Revolt," have been compared by American critics to the monumental autobiographies of Tolstoy and Gorki, in their vividness or portrayal and their literary charm.

A many-sided personality, Shmarya Levin was one of the most courageous leaders of Jewry. As a preacher in Grodno, an editor in Wilno, a member of the first Russian Parliament under the Czar, Dr. Levin fought valiantly for the Jewish cause wherever such a fight was called for. It was because he lent his signature to the famous Vilborg appeal against the Russian Czar that he was compelled to leave Russia and go into exile, despite the fact that he was a member of the Duma, the Russian Parliament.

The Zionist movement, however, only benefited by the fact that Dr. Levin was forced to leave his native land. As a political exile in Germany, Levin built the Zionist movement there. Proceeding later to the United States, he was the motive power in developing the Zionist Organization in America. After the death of Leo Motzkin and Chaim Nachman Bialik, the death of Shmarya Levin is a great loss not only to Zionism, but to Jewry. There are not many Shmarya Levins left in world Jewry today.

Religious School Graduates Class

The Religious School of Congregation Ahavath Shalom of Pawtucket and Central Falls conducted commencement exercises last Sunday for the first graduating class to receive diplomas from the school. There were seven graduates in this group and they fulfilled a program of intensive study in Jewish history, religion, bible and current problems. The graduates were: Devara Abramson, Lillian Cokin, Gertrude Fruit, Barbara Blocher, Helen Harriet, Beatrice Vengerow and Harold Weinstein.

Maurice Friedman, president of the congregation greeted the parents and congratulated the graduates on the occasion. Julius Robinson, chairman of the board of education, spoke on the aims of the school and its efforts to establish a high standard of religious education among the youth.

He said in part: "Religious education, unlike education in other fields, is not completely a matter of knowledge. It is a matter of knowledge fraught with emotional warmth for the matter at hand. When we teach our children the history of our people, we not only want them to know their ancestry, we want them to love their ancestry, and in this love of the past to learn also to love their people today. When we teach our children the greatness of our religion, we teach them no abstraction, we teach them a reality which we hope will permeate their lives and give them a deeper and wider understanding of human values."

Benjamin J. Frucht, instructor of the graduation class and Jacob H. Beck, instructor of the Hebrew Department of the school, spoke on the educational aspects of the school. Mrs. Jacob Perceley, Sisterhood chairman of the school board, congratulated the children. The speaker of the day was Rabbi Isaiah Rackovsky, spiritual leader of the congregation. He addressed the parents on the value of religious education as a supplement to the secular knowledge which the children acquire in the city schools.

He said: "We value highly the system of education which the

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Resnick of Eaton St., announce the marriage of their daughter, Rhea, to Harold Donald Sweet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sweet of Sixth St., last Sunday evening at Weinstein's Banquet Hall. Rabbi Abraham I. Schechter performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception for friends and relatives.

Miss Mollie Resnick attended the bride. Louis Sweet was the groom's best man.

United States has built up. It is incomparable in its influence over the country, in its inclusiveness of matter, and its broad democratic principles. But it is not yet complete. Knowledge alone does not give that stability of character, that clarity of vision which should make the knowledge useful to humanity in a humane manner. To achieve this, it is necessary to instill into the children, who are to make use of the knowledge, a faith in our own lives and in the lives of all humanity through their belief in God which will make them believe in a work for the wider principles of humane living. This task falls in the province of religious schools."

Turning to the children, he requested them not to bid the school farewell and drift away but that they should become part and parcel of the bigger religious community of Jews in Pawtucket, that they should feel themselves worthy of and duty bound to become members of a people which has always had the welfare of the entire world at heart and has taught the world great principles of brotherhood and kindness.

Prizes to deserving students of the school were distributed by Mrs. Joseph August, president of the Sisterhood of the Congregation. Among them was the "Fannie Brown Memorial Cup," an annual award given by Morris Berick, in memory of his mother-in-law, to the student who writes the best essay on a subject prescribed by the Rabbi. This year the award went to Sylvia Goodman for an essay on "Chayim Nachman Bialik," Hebrew poet of international fame. The prize for general excellence given by the board of education was received by Lillian Cokin.

Circus is Coming to Providence, June 24

Offering its millions of patrons the largest and best program in its brilliant annals, the mighty Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus, is scheduled to exhibit in Providence on Monday, June 24.

The Greatest Show on Earth will arrive on four long railroad trains of double-length steel cars, carrying 1600 horses, seven herds of elephants, 1009 menagerie animals and 700 horses, to say nothing of 31 great tents and countless tons of rigging, grandstands, properties and paraphernalia.

New European troupes are the Walkmirs, Antaleks, Romeos, Maschinos, Polis, Brumbrangs, Demenatis, Willos, Lauries, and Torrence-Dolores — sensational aerial and acrobatic novelty offerings. The largest aerial ballet ever produced, led by the Iridis, the Roomeys, the Annetta and Nelieta troupes, and the largest liberty horse act ever seen are new thrills from abroad.

Miss Gillette, who leaps from the dome of the big top; the Otaria, who fly in masses from an aerial cross; the two Wallenda troupes in new hair-raising high wire feats; Dorothy Herbert, riding reckless hurdling horses over fire jumps; the great Con Colleano, forward somersaulting star of the tight wire; the largest acrobatic display ever seen, with the Yacopis, the Danwills, the Uyenoh, the Yom Kams, the Demontatis, the Hadjis and Hassans; the celebrated Loyal-Repenskis, the famed Riefenachs and the great Walters, barrelback riding stars; the two Guice Troupes of comedy aerial flyers on the lofty bars; the Flying Coscollos, with Antoinette, only girl ever to accomplish a two-and-a-half somersault to hand-to-hand catch; the famed Flying Comets; Hugo and Mario, who are fired in a split second from the mouth of a giant cannon across the upper reaches of the big top—these are but a few of the preeminent artists among the 800 performers with The Greatest Show on Earth—Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey.

Still another feature is Col. Tim McCoy, the screen's most outstanding western star, at the head of his congress of rough riders of the world—cowboys, cowgirls, Gussacks, Mexican Vaqueros, Australian bushrangers and Plains Indians. Col. McCoy, scout, soldier and friend of the Indian, idol of American youth; will also present his Indian Village in the center of the vast menagerie oval.

REPERTORY PLAYERS IN "ICEBOUND"

The Repertory Players presented their second three-act play of the season at the Barker Playhouse last Saturday night. The production was "Icebound," a Pulitzer prize-winner of several seasons ago, written by Owen Davis.

"Icebound" is as difficult a production as could have been attempted by any dramatic group, professional or amateur. I am proud to say that with it our Repertory Players did a splendid piece of work. The scene and action is rural, taking place on a farm in Maine. Most productions have many comedy lines, and it is to the credit of the Repertory group that they selected and did a fine job with a play which had little or no comedy scenes. The production was dependent entirely upon sheer drama.

Miss Annette Kaufman played the female lead and lived up to all the good things said about her in advance. She presented an appealing and dignified performance. We hope to see her again next season. Leo R. LaPorte, as the black sheep of the family, duplicated the fine performance of Miss Kaufman. In the supporting role, Abraham Blackman showed his versatility in the character part of Judge Bradford. I remember the first Repertory play of the season, "This Thing Called Love," when Abe played the leading male role, which was in direct character contrast to the role he assumed last Saturday. His acting was natural and sympathetic.

I should like to point out the fine work of Nathan Grossman, a very young man who did an excellent portrayal in this production. Of course, the few comedy parts of the evening, were taken care of properly by Mrs. Morris Frisker, the former Frances Smira, who got everything possible and more from the part of Ora. I never seem to get enough of this clever little lady's work upon the stage. Selma Smira, as the pessimistic Ella Jordan, and Helen Stern, Dorothy Raphael, Ruth Abrams, Evelyn Berinsky, Jules Goldsmith and Meyer Tenenbaum in their lesser roles gave creditable support.

I understand that many of the players were appearing for the first time in any dramatic performance. If this be so, I say, all credit to the popular William E. Smith who has so capably directed the Repertory Players this season. This personable young man is a member of "The Players," and who has had experience with some of our local stock companies, has contributed in no small way to the advancement of the drama in our community. He has taken people who have had practically no theatrical experience, and has cast and coached them. The fine performance of the Repertory Players Saturday night was the result of his earnest and intelligent work.

Pursuing one's regular duties during the day and rehearsing several nights a week for several weeks, the studying of parts, after a hard day's work, is no simple task. We offer our congratulations to the Repertory Players, the actors on the stage, and those important folks who do their work in back of the scenes. I should like to bring to your attention the fine work of the men who have art in making up the rural characters was one of the features of this fine evening.

With a list of representative sponsors, the Repertory Players will present next season three full-length productions. I know that we shall all await next season with much anticipation.

SEEN IN FRONT

A truly representative audience was in attendance . . . I had time between the acts to note many of them . . . In front of me were the Ben Briers with out-of-town guests . . . In back of me were the inseparable Myron Keller and Isador Korn, escorting one blond . . . Here are old friends whom I haven't seen in months . . . the George Bickwits from N. Y. . . she is the former Ethel Deutch . . . They are in town to attend the wedding ceremony of sister Janet who married Ira Blum at the Biltmore on Tuesday night . . . Archibald Silverman with Rabbi Braude seemed to be enjoying the performance . . . The Dr. Joe Smiths . . . Did you know that Joe never forgets to send flowers to his better half every Saturday . . . The Candy Mart) Saul Feinberg and Syd Hanzel in conversation with lawyerman Sam Silverman.

The Sam Shores agreed that the play was fine . . . Archie Smith and Al Brechner with two beautiful ladies . . . Bert Bernhardt, president of Repertory, here, there and everywhere . . . Harold Rose in front of the house, taking tickets, while friend wife assisted Mrs. Bert Bernhardt with the properties, back stage . . . Valencia Lipsitz' new green earrings were very much in evidence . . . Happy Birthday, Valencia . . . Professor Crosby and Mrs. Sarah Minchin Barker of the Players were in attendance . . . The Bernie Shasets with Mrs. Blackman and the Lewis Graboys (all the way from Fall River) on hand to see husband and the do his stuff . . . Leon Nathanson introduces me to his pretty wife.

The William Silvermans and the Herman Bennetts, she the former Selma Silverman, comfortably seated in one of the front rows . . . The Paul and Sam Summerfields, great Repertory boosters, enjoying a puff or two during intermission . . . The Jack Abrams, proud of daughter Ruth's fine performance . . . Here are the Joe Adelsoms . . . the Charles C. Browns . . . the Al Pilavines . . . Irving Fleishman and "Herby" Tieman, and . . . all alone, too . . . The Selig Greenbergs, he of the Bulletin staff . . . Bob Shary with a pretty damsel . . . the Ben Trinkels with the Herman Bakers . . . The William Weinsteins . . . the Samuel Rappaports . . . pretty Bessie Deutch . . . The Leo Rosens . . . the Morris Espos . . . Mrs. Helen Donig . . . Sam Kaufman proudly receiving congratulations on daughter Annette's fine performance . . . And here are the Jack Litchmans . . . Dave Dwears and his pretty wife, the former Martha Goldberg of Worcester.

SIDELIGHTS

We all had a great time last Friday night at Sam Rosen's party in honor of the confirmation of daughter Natalie . . . Genial host Sam and his sweet wife were assisted by brother Hy while Mike Tieman and Harry Sandager also proved able assistants . . . Daughter Natalie, one of the prettiest confirmants in town, introduces me to Hilda and Hilda's Frizzer, Bernice Flink and Marion Grossman . . . During the evening, Rabbi Goldman and Judge Philip C. Joslin dropped in . . . All in all, it was a great party . . . Phyllis Litten thinks that the Coconuts given in Boston is the finest place ever.

We extend our congratulations to popular Nat Cohen on his appointment by Governor Green as a member of the State Parole Board, and at the same time congratulate Rep. Charles Brown on his appointment to the State Unemployment Relief Commission . . . two great fellows, truly representative of our best . . . That Candy Mart dance a while ago . . . Gordon Cohen and Grove attracted many locals . . . I understand that Igor Gorin, former cantor at Temple Beth-Israel, will be a feature member of the CBS radio presentation, "Hot and Cold," next week . . . WE'VE, Friday night . . . Our best wishes to the Dr. James C. Krasnows and the Frank Lazaruses on the arrival of a new addition.

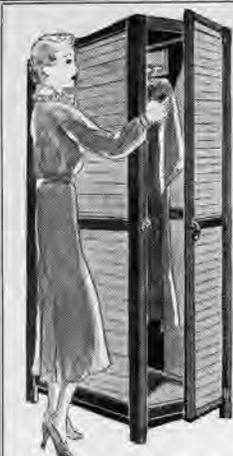

Leo Abisch, popular manager of Foster's watch department is justly proud of a new watch . . . Leo also likes his new home on Mount Avenue . . . Herman Bennett is in Detroit this week, having been especially invited by the Chevrolet Company to attend a conference there . . . His organization made the best sales record in this zone for Chevrolet . . . I wonder who that sweet miss is who was seen with Eddie Goldberger at the Biltmore on Saturday last . . . Reports have it that she is . . . Wesley and a resident of Chicago . . . "Nissy" Pearlman and Irving Winograd tell me that they don't like the looks of my little notebook.

Ruth Bernard wants me to know that Fay Winograd is now associated with her at her popular dress shop . . . Danny Gray, popular Broadway comedian, has been engaged as social director at Maplehurst, N. H. for this season . . . Ted Galkin introduces me to Sydney Eisenberg, formerly Wilkes-Barre, now with Lobel's here . . . Ted tells me that Sydney is a fisherman and golfer of renown . . . Glad to hear the swell news that Sam Korstein is the new president of the Lions Club of Woonsocket . . . I understand that Morris and Sam Young, the Gold Medal mattress magnates, are breaking records at the Louisiquest golf course.

A great number will hear Jacob Landau, director of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, when he speaks before our B'nai B'rith at the Naragansett next Tuesday night . . . Junior Unit, American Jewish Congress dinner dance at Metacomet, Saturday night, June 22 . . . who is a sell-out . . . Danny Jacobs, doing nice work as chairman of the legal committee of the Jewish Orphanage . . . Anne Manekofsky's bias ability is one of the reasons why the Atlas Lumber Company makes such great progress . . . Don't forget the Jewish Center Lawn festival . . . It begins on June 18 . . . And I know you won't forget FATHER'S DAY this Sunday . . . CHEERIO.

The OBSERVER

Hya psalm-waistics! 'Tis I again dishing it out in the usual method and with plenty to serve. Most of the week has been filled with the receiving of old friends back to the local atmosphere. The first to arrive was Dave Koppelman, returned from New York Military Academy with all the traits indicative of a good year carrying about army utensils. And girls, you should see the snappy uniform I suppose much of his summer will be taken up on brother Roland's 48-footer docked at Oakland Beach. Next in line was Sid Garber (Tex. to you) who seems to have a cute little mark under his nose, a mustache, you know. No kidding, though, he is looking grand. All his friends gave him the great "How-do-you-do" up at Shirley Halpern's house with a gay crowd present.

A FEW MUTTERINGS

Little is being seen or heard of the Queen Esther of the Purim Masquerade . . . Gert Finklestein. Where art thou keeping thyself, fair maiden for, is not spring the season of the Queens? By the way, Gert, if you can't find time enough to spend all those vacations and prizes that you received, I can help you . . . I am looking forward to the Iota Kappa Mu Formal, there to meet all of the successful alumni of Providence College.

CLASSICAL PROMENADE

And so this person took his glad rags out of the moth balls and did a bit of promenading with the well known Classics. 'Twas a balmy spring night as an array of white, flannels and bare backs made their way into the Biltmore Hotel. And gliding along the light fantastic to the musical strains of Jack Glaukel and his lads we saw a fine couple in the persons of Lenzie Shlayt and that bit of sweetness, Irma Gertsuev. And then in the foyer, there appeared Ruth Cohen and Meyer Mushlin, walking about with warranted pride. Face to face I met here without a flinch in my eyes (and she also), Frances Corfine, with Seymour Kaplan who proved himself to be a swaglegut guy.

Dressed in a pretty red organdy gown was Norma Dorwick looking very chic and who proved to be a swell dancing partner. Lending sophisticated touch to the affair was Sylvia Darman, escorted by a swell-looker in the person of Vincent Kirshberg. Not to be daunted, was our well known Barringtonite, Bob Meller with another popular lassie, Eunice Cohen. Situated among the rest and having a swell time without being concerned much of that which appeared about them was Max Spivak and one of the quietest present, Beulah Swartz.

One of the outstanding of the evening was Ethel Blanck who looked as nice as ever. (Someone to keep your eye on, boys, for she really is very charming). Of course, this is taking away no credit from her partner, Marvin Carton, who looked spic and span from head to toe. Then, there was Ruth Osick whom we surely cannot forget, but I can't for the life of me remember who the lucky boy friend was. Last, but far from least, there was Herbert Rosen of the very scholarly appearance, doing his share of dancing with Harriet Lieberman.

The ORACLE

By CARL ALPERT

The Oracle answers all questions of general Jewish interest. Queries should be addressed to the Oracle care of this paper, accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope.

Q. Why are Hebrew benedictions frequently interrupted by the words, "Blessed be He; blessed be His name?"—S. M. O.

A. It is always upon mention of the Name of God at the opening of a benediction that this response is uttered. This is in accordance with the rabbinic interpretation of the verse, "For I will proclaim the name of the Lord; Ascribe ye greatness unto our God." (Deut. xxxii. 3.)

Q. Has there ever been a plan for an organization similar to the present contemplated World Jewish Congress?—H. A.

A. In 1907 one Abraham S. Schomer devised a scheme and drew up a constitution for a permanent International Jewish Congress as the solution of the Jewish problem. "The weakness of the Jewish nation," he stated, "is due to the fact that it is not organized and has no Central Representative Organization." The plan called for a payment of fifty cents a year by every supporter of the movement to realize it. A committee for the establishment of the Congress was formed. No comment is necessary on results.

Q. Where did Max Steuer, the well-known criminal lawyer, study law?—A. F.

A. Max D. Steuer was born in Homono, Austria, came to this country and graduated from Columbia Law School in New York City, his way through and helping support his family. When he first began to practice law he earned about $25 a month. Today he is regarded one of the most astute lawyers in the country and maintains his own figures.

Q. What was the statement of Zangwill made concerning Jewish participation in sports?—J. P. S.

A. "In athletics the Jew, shaking off the spinal curvature of the Ghetto, begins to take the same high place as he long ago achieved in the intellectual gymnastics of chess, though the surprise is less when one reflects upon his long standing prominence in the prize-ring."

Q. Is it true that many years before Zionism, Christian missionaries among the Jews accurately predicted the return of Palestine?—D. S. N.

A. So was the early Jewish prophecy. Dr. Priestley, a Christian divine, predicted from Biblical prophecies that in 1890 would begin the restoration of Israel to Palestine and that in 1941 would commence the reign of the millennium and Palestine would again be completely occupied by Jews. It is interesting to note that Herzl's "Judenstaat," the Bible of Zionism, was published in 1896.
