JUNE LAWN FESTIVAL CONDUCTED BY CENTER ATTRACTED OVER 2,000

Event Judged Success Despite Two Days of Rainy Weather

The first annual June lawn festival which was conducted by the Jewish Center Council, June 18-22, brought forth many favorable comments from all sources. During the four evenings the festival grounds were open, more than 2,000 took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy the various amusing features. Every evening, interesting shows were staged and with dancing, an indoor circus, fortune telling, attractive booths, a hurdy gurdy, and many other novelties, there was plenty to keep everyone busy.

Hundreds had their first view of the beautiful and spacious lawn located in the rear of the Jewish Community Center, at 65 Benefit St. The success of the affair is even more remarkable because of the four evenings during which it was open, three evenings were marred by unseasonable weather. Despite this, however, the festival was a success from every point of view.

Condemn Wienerschnitzel as "Jewish Concoction"

MUNICH (JTA)—The Wienerschnitzel, famous Austrian dish, was condemned here by the Siegester division of the Munich Nazi Party as a "Jewish concoction" and will be barred from the restaurant menus in Munich.

"Though we honor Viennese culture from Haydn to Schubert, there is no reason why we should eat a product which originally came out of the city's most noisome Semitic quarter," the Siegester Division of the Munich Nazi Party said.

Ideal Vacation for Girls at Camp Naomi

A happy, health-building vacation for your daughter lies within easy reach with the re-opening again this season of Camp Naomi, conducted by the Associated Y. M. & Y. W. H. A. of New England, situated on a 36-acre estate in the pine-covered hills in Billerica, surrounded by beautiful woodland and bordered by the Concord River. The camp is only 20 miles from Boston and can be reached by auto in less than one hour from these. Transportation is consequently very inexpensive.

In the center of a magnificent large grove of pines, are the modern well-constructed, screened-in bungalows of the main camp. Each bungalow accommodates seven campers and one counselor. There is electricity in every building and nearby are the wash houses with running water, showers and flush toilets. The camp also has a large dining hall and kitchen, social hall and stage, arts and crafts building, infirmary, guest house, two baseball fields, basketball court, tennis courts, horseback riding trail, rowboats, canoes, swimming crib, etc. This camp has received A-1 rating from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health.

A safe and sane program of health development for every camper is the first camp objective. This includes thorough medical examination before arriving at the camp; daily inspection and report on every camper's health by resident camp doctor; treatment by doctor of every child who has the slightest ailment and ample rest periods throughout the day and ten hours sleep each night.

The daily program of outdoor sports includes swimming, rowing, canoeing, baseball, basketball, tennis, golf, and crafts, dramatics, music, nature study, photography, story hours, holiday celebrations, orchestra, library, dancing, concerts and camp fires.

Jewish girls from 7 to 17 years are accepted by Camp Naomi. The camp offers a comprehensive Jewish cultural program including daily, Sabbath and Holiday services, Jewish songs, plays, story telling and arts and crafts, and Jewish history and bible study groups. Only kosher food is served at Camp Naomi and only pasteurized milk is used. Meals are carefully arranged and cooked by an expert chef and assistants. Parents can rest assured that every precaution will be taken at Camp Naomi for the health and safety of every camper. "Safety First, Last and All the Time" is the camp's watchword.

The camp fee is unusually low for a camp offering so many advantages. This is made possible because Camp Naomi is operated for community service on a strictly cost basis and not for profit. The 1935 camp season opens June 30 and continues for nine weeks. Reservations can be made for the entire summer or for any period of two weeks or more. Further information may be secured from the Associated Y. M. & Y. W. H. A. of New England, 7 Water St., Boston, Mass., or call Capitol 5067.

When Lillian Cokin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cokin of East Avenue, Pawtucket, was awarded her diploma at Goff School last week, she completed an excellent record at the junior high school where for the past three years she has been an honor student.

French, Lillian admits, has been her favorite subject, with algebra a close second. She doesn't study; a great deal, she confesses, and once in a while washes dishes for her mother. But her interest out of school centers in pianoforte which she has studied for six years. Just 15 years old, her pleasure in reading is confined essentially to biographies and she chats with complete familiarity on Maimonides, a philosopher who was born 800 years ago. Lillian intends to prepare for college at high school although she hasn't determined which college she will attend.

AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP FOR JEWS

The bill introduced in Congress last week calling for the issuance of labor permits to non-citizens in the United States, provides food for thought to Jewish organizations in America interested in naturalization problems.

There are thousands of Jews in America who have been living here for many years but who are still not American citizens.
Many of them neglect to become naturalized for the simple reason that they find no time to apply for their naturalization papers. Others are not sufficiently aware of the importance of becoming naturalized.

All these persons will now be exposed to the danger of losing their jobs if a proper campaign is not started by Jewish organizations to enlighten them on the necessity of obtaining American citizenship to which they are entitled. Furthermore, they may face even more serious dangers than being deprived of the right to work.

So far there is no basis for fear that the bill demanding the ousting of non-citizens from employment will pass. The fact that such a bill has been introduced, however, indicates that it is high time for the proper Jewish institutions to see to it that every Jew in the United States should not neglect his right to become an American citizen.

There is no doubt that many liberal-minded Americans will support any restrictions which may be recommended against aliens as far as employment is concerned. Such restrictions exist now in practically every country of Europe. They exist against Americans in those countries. Why should America give employment to English, French, German and other citizens when these countries discriminate against the employment of Americans?

The demand to introduce labor permits for non-citizens in America, along the same lines as in every country in Europe, may therefore find more and more supporters in the United States, especially since its purpose is to decrease unemployment among American citizens.

One can easily imagine how seriously Italians, Poles, Germans, Greeks, Irish and others who have not yet become American citizens, will be affected, if restrictions in employment are introduced in the United States for non-citizens. These persons, however, have the alternative of returning to their homeland and enjoying full freedom in their native country. But such is not the case with the Jew.

The Jew in America who is not an American citizen cannot return to Poland because he is looked upon as an alien there even though he may still be a Polish citizen. He certainly cannot return to Germany. He would not find it possible to return to Russia. All East European countries from which the Jews emigrated to the United States are now practically closed to them.

The duty of the HIAS, the Naturalization Aid League, the Council of Jewish Women and other similar Jewish organizations, is therefore to start a nation-wide campaign among all the Jews in the United States to become citizens before any drastic measures against non-citizens are passed.

The B'nai Brith at its last convention in Washington proclaimed the motto: Every Jew in the United States an American Citizen. This motto must be carried out. All forces must be mobilized to see that the Jews in America do not suffer from any anti-alien laws that may be issued.

Bank Employees
on Annual Outing

Last Saturday afternoon, 73 employees of Old Colony Cooperative Bank, including the main office staff from 58 Weybosset St., and the branch organizations in Pawtucket, Woonsocket, West Warwick and Greystone, went by automobile to Olivo's Beach, Point Judith for the institution's annual employees' outing.

A stop was made at Wickford en route for lunch, after which the cars continued down the Narragansett Shore. The entire event was given a nautical flavor—every employee being furnished with a combination program and ticket in the shape of a steamboat mileage strip. Each car to which the riders were assigned was given the name of one of the famous Narragansett Bay steamers, and the party was divided for sports into four teams. Contests in volleyball, baseball, horseshoe pitching and tug of war were participated in by teams and, in addition, individual events included a shoe race, potato races for men and women and a bridge game.

Surf bathing attracted a large number, followed by dinner and dancing. At dinner the winning team was seated at the "Captain's Table" in a room decorated with nautical gear, and to which entree was made by way of a ship's gang-plank. Tiny yachts and picturesque gob hats for everyone added to the festive atmosphere. After dinner, prizes were awarded, with appropriate speeches, to winning teams and individuals.

RABBI AT CONFERENCE

Rabbi William G. Braude of Temple Beth-El is attending the Chicago sessions of Central Conference of American Rabbis which began last Tuesday at the Congress Hotel.

The chief presentation for discussion will be a series of papers read by a number of the most eminent scholars among the Reform Rabbis of America, looking forward toward a reevaluation of American Reform Judaism in the light of the tremendous changes in American life since 1888, when the famous "Pittsburgh Platform" was adopted as the guide for Jewish life and attitudes.

JUDGE MAURICE ROBINSON

It is a great pleasure to head our column this week with the name of Judge Maurice Robinson, who last week was named by Governor Theodore Francis Green as Justice of our Sixth District Court. The Sixth District Court is the busiest of all the district courts of the state. This important appointment is fitting testimony to the ability and judicial mind of Judge Robinson. He now takes his place with other illustrious Jews of our state who have served, or are serving on our judiciary with great honor and it is another step forward in his brilliant career. Modest, democratic, able, and possessed of a truly judicial mind, I predict that he will rise even higher in his chosen field and that his services to our state will bring honor to his people, the judiciary and to himself.

B'NAI BRITH DINNER

Our Roger Williams Lodge B'nei Brith concluded the first year of its successful existence with a dinner a week ago Tuesday at the Narragansett. Jacob Landau, world-famed managing director of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, was the principal speaker. He left a profound impression with his most interesting talk on the Jewish problem.

der now numbers nearly 100 Providence men on its roster. I predict that next year it will take its place as an important factor in the life of our community. The lodge presented fitting testimonials to Manuel P. Ostrow who soon leaves for other fields in Memphis, Tennessee, where he assumes the direction of one of the largest B'nei Brith homes for the aged in this country. Ed Goldberger filled the role of toastmaster, while Max Rosenhirsch and Dr. Joe Smith did a fine job handling the arrangements.

The ladies present were the bright spot of the evening. From our table we noted Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Fain, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldberger, mother and dad of Eddie and Dr. Milton . . . Dr. Stanley Freedman was paged and left early to attend a medical call . . . Frank Golemba was on hand with his fiancée Dorothy Wolfe . . . Joe Engle, the big tire man from Broadway, was there with friend wife . . . Lou Aebdon capably presented the resolutions to Mr. Ostrow, while his wife looked on proudly . . . Mrs. Max Rosenhirsch and Dr. and Mrs. Joe Smith waited patiently while their husbands handled the seating arrangements.

Noted also were the Isadore Horneinstens executing a fine fifty steps . . . among others in attendance were the John Silvermans, the Dr. Emanuel Benjamins and the Abe Goldsteins, all from Woonsocket, who graced the head table . . . We also noted the Adol Hirschs . . . Arthur Kornstein, the Woonsocket Romeo, made a stag appearance . . . Afterwards in the Grill Room Phil Glanzman joined us with friends from New York.

AMERICAN JEWISH CONGRESS DANCE

The dinner-dance of the Junior Unit, American Jewish Congress, on Saturday night at the Metacomet Golf Club also culminated the first year's activities of another of our organizations. This body consists mostly of our young unmarried set and now numbers nearly 200. It will contribute in large measure to our communal life when it resumes its meetings next fall.

More than 70 couples had a great time at this final party Saturday, and without doubt it was one of the most brilliant affairs of the season. I have never before seen so many beautiful women assembled at any one place. The majority of them are residents of our city. This again bears out the well-known fact that our little city of Providence takes front rank in the quality and appearance of its ladies.

Dancing continued until the wee hours of the morning. Here are a few of those whom we saw flitting across the dance floor to the music of Duke Bellis and his orchestra, assisted by our own Sylvia Kaufman, a singer of renown:

The Norman Feinbergs and the Irwin Corts at one table . . . Dorothy Markoff doing a few steps with Nissey Pearlman . . . Nissey did a good job leading the band several times during the evening . . . Irving Fleischman telling funny stories to Zelia Fisher . . . Fanny Diamond, Woonsocketite, . . . Fanny Winograd and Frances Goldstein with Pearl Brown seemed to be having a merry evening with the four handsome men in their party . . . At another table I noted Frank Golemba, that lawyer man with his fiancée Dorothy Wolfe, together with Phil Goldberger and Mildred Waldman who was one of the prime factors in the forming of this organization.

Harold Stanzler and Mel Entin of New Bedford together with two sweet New Bedfordites . . . Ruth Waldman, home from I. State and sister Dorothy, with two gentlemen from Boston . . . Phil Lieberman, another lawyerman, did many a fancy step with Pauline Kleinberger . . . George Katz and Saul Bercovson were seen in the company of Marie Rottman and her charming cousin Martha Hurwitz from Massachusetts . . . Woonsocket was well represented by Arthur Kornstein, Ben Macktaz, Harold (Tarzan) Finkelshtein, with three Boston importations, while Al Bromer with Janet Fain did plenty of checking at the door . . . Ed Goldberger and Irving Fain at another table had sweet company in the persons of Ruth Adelson and Hazel Priest.

Myron Keller with his fiancée, Minna Cooper were joined by Isadore Korn and Dorothy Raphael, while Billie Matzner was seen with Zara Brody . . . Anne Trolberman sat opposite Drey Block . . . at a corner table, in high spirits were Dr. Jay Fishbein and Dr. Stanley Friedman with two unidentified ladies . . . Louis Grunberger, of Stamford and fresh from commencement at Pembroke, showed Lou Davis a step or two while Syd Lantzel, Saul Feinberg, Sam Stein, Joe Porter, from Milford, assisted by Sarah Sobiloff of Fall River, Lillian Hanzel, Fred Liaker, with two ladies from Framingham and Boston were fine hosts at my table.

Dr. Charlie Potter and Archie Smith were in fine spirits at a corner table, with Lillian Kelman and Neda Payton assisting . . . Joe Rosenberg, Fall Riverite, and Perry Bernstein together with two of the sweetest ladies in town, Macie Fine and Gladys Rosen . . . Enjoying the evening's festivities were Harry Gourse and Phil Kaplan, the big Fall River hat man, with Max Winograd with three ladies whose names I do not remember . . . At another table was Dan Jacobs with the "only girl", the Frank Mellions and Sid Flanzbaum with an unidentified young lady . . . We also noted Zilstein Levin, Al Fishman, Pete Zitzerman and Irving Winograd . . . Sorry . . . we can't remember the ladies.

GLIMMERINGS

Councilmen Schlossberg and Kagan in conversation on the main street . . . I wonder how Howie Preesel is . . . Dr. Sam Kennison is the leader of many a discussion at meetings of our Jewish War Vets . . . Congratulations to our Bristol Friends, Raymond Makowsky and Charlotte Suzman, on the announcement of their marriage . . . Amy Wise, together with mother, will soon leave for a trip to the coast.

The Morris Feinseibers entertained at Singers Inn, Sharon in celebration of their 30th wedding anniversary . . . This well-known couple seem to be spending their time between this city and Los Angeles, where son Joe is happily married . . . Did you hear our friend Igor Gorin making his debut last Friday night on the "Hollywood Hotel" program from WEAN? This talented young man was the outstanding feature of the program. Listen to him tonight.

Here is an old friend . . . Mrs. Alvin Rice . . . husband Al sure knew how to pick 'em when he went to Portland, Maine, to ask this lady to be his wife . . . Our Jewish-Irish friend, Cleve Poole Maguire, will marry a charming Melrose, Mass. miss on July 12 . . . I wonder if my old friends, the Willie Browns read this column in New Orleans . . . let us know, Bill . . . Bert Bernhardt had a fine time on that Main trip last week-end . . . Jack Rosenblatt is sure proud of that Vars Brothers new drug store front for which he and his organization are responsible . . . Ben Kane's string of horses is figuring prominently at Narragansett.

I met my old friend Dr. Nat Bolotow at Dorothy Markoff's open house on the occasion of her graduation from Pembroke . . . Dr. Nat told me that he had two more babies to be born this evening . . . the Harry Glickmans and the Judah Semenovs . . . At the Markoff residence I also saw two of our very attractive clubwomen . . . Mrs. Jack Davis and Mrs. Edward Finberg . . . Dave Adelman assisted the hostesses in extending a fine hand of hospitality . . . Joe Pincus, Outlet credit chief, elected head of the Retail Credit Grantors . . . Sam Lazow and Ben Rubin say business is good at Shiloh Club . . . and old friend Ralph Feinstein — haven't seen him in many a day . . . Lawyer Robert Damin honored by being made Judge of Newport Probate Court.

Rabbi and Mrs. Max Lasker, son-in-law and daughter of the Alter Boymanns home from Havana and gunfire to spend a few quiet weeks at home . . . Dr. Gerald Feinberg busy at his new office in the Alice Bldg. — Gerald has been doing fine work the past year catering to the many foot troubles at the Jewish Orphanage and the Home for the Aged — nice work, Gerald, and much good luck to you in the new office . . . Joe Feinberg is one of the leading citizens of Attleboro— even having a school named after him . . . well, next week is the week of the Fourth and we all have thoughts of a pleasant week-end at the mountains or the seashore — this reporter is planning his fifth Fourth at Bethlehem, N. H., where Maplehurst will be our hosts . . . next time we see you in this column it will be July and real summer.

Many to Spend July 4 Holiday at Maplehurst
 Scores of Rhode Islanders have already made reservations to spend Fourth of July week-end at Maplehurst, Bethlehem, N. H., and the management of this popular mountain hotel has spared no efforts to make this holiday celebration one that will be long remembered.
 The beautiful new ballroom and theater has been redecorated and many a musical and dramatic production will be presented this season by the Maplehurst social staff, headed this season by Danny Grayson, popular Broadway dancer and musical comedy star who will be assisted by a group of college men and women who have figured prominently in their school productions.
 A series of events has been planned for the Fourth week-end which will begin next Wednesday night and continue until Sunday. There will be something doing every minute with a specially reduced rate for the week-end. Maplehurst is happy to announce that this year it is affiliated with the Bethlehem Golf Club, a beautiful 18-hole course, and all Maplehurst guests are welcome. Of course, there is every conceivable outdoor sport to delight young and old.

 Many Rhode Islanders will leave for Bethlehem on Wednesday and Thursday. The roads are in perfect condition and the motor trip in itself is a treat.

THEODORE JAFFE, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Jaffe of 119 Fifth Street, who received his degree last Thursday from Harvard Law School. He was graduated from Brown in 1932.

The OBSERVER
 Hello, all you summerites . . . How is old man Solis treating you back? . . . I suppose you are writhing with pain from a newly acquired sunburn or if you have already acquired a tan, you are laughing at those who haven't . . . James Klein has not yet moved and it makes it very nice for Dave Kopelman who has not moved yet also . . . And then there was that swell party on brother Roland's boat that they enjoyed so much.

All this time Warren Klein has been doing his share of niffeling it with a certain young lady who lives on Oakland Ave. . . . By next week I expect to have her name, address and telephone number, so beware . . . And Ruth Berman seems to have been inspired to take a hand in giving parties, and the last one was pretty good . . . To help matters along, Ben Weisler and Bernice Cornfield were on hand . . . Bernice, by the way, is certainly gathering popularity, but one can easily see the reason why.

A little birdie tells me that Bert Litchman will be Ruth's best man at the coming Phi Gamma Pi dance at Hotel Warren . . . This past Sunday I got up enough courage to take the trusty frankfurters out of cold storage and accompany the well-known Berry family to a spot which I thought was elegant than elegant . . . (With apologies to Skipper) . . . Now moving from the beauties of that secluded spot to the more crowded, or should I say jammed, spot called Barrington.

There, the Wattmans have made a semi-residence into one of the nicest houses in this area, with Irving doing all the resting . . . Bob Pickar has settled down to riding bicycles along the beach to the entertainment of the visitors . . . And excluding fat fires and such, Chickie White and Ira Nulman made a nice trip in Fred Barry's Ford to see the night life of the country . . . But meeting the whole gang at Robinson's, some of their plans didn't come through.
 I have not yet found out who the Stanley is who went on a hot dog roast on a recent Sunday with Chip

O. H. C. DOWNS EAGLES
 A ninth inning uprising by the O. H. C. baseball team forced the South Providence Eagles into their first defeat of the season, in a scheduled game of the Jewish Inter-Club League, last Sunday at Roger Williams Park. The score was 3-2. Leo Goldin and "Webb" Holland starred.

TENDERED SHOWER
 In honor of her approaching marriage, Miss Sybil Hochman of Duncan Ave., was tendered a shower last Thursday night at Zinn's Restaurant. Dinner was served, followed by bridge.
