Einstein Issues Palestine Warning

Says Palestine Should Not be Considered as Only a Refuge

New York (WNS)—A warning not to permit the necessities of the time to mislead Jews into "conceiving Palestine as only, or even principally, a place of refuge for the oppressed" because "the work of reconstruction in Palestine must become primarily the embodiment of the social ideal of life which forms the most important element in Jewish tradition" was the keynote of a message by Prof. Albert Einstein to the third seder celebration of the National Labor Committee for the Jewish Workers in Palestine.

"Jewish Palestine," he said, "must not become a land of exploitation. Equality of rights and duties and the encouragement of free development for all individuals must be kept alive there."

Emphasizing that partisan strife cannot be avoided among Jews because they are a people "who try to think and judge with their own minds," Dr. Einstein urged, however, that "me must have complete unanimity in one thing—in respect for social justice."

WOMEN'S COUNCIL WILL ENTERTAIN

"Gentlemen's Night" Arranged for Tuesday

The Providence Section, National Council of Jewish Women, will hold its annual "Gentlemen's Night" Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock in Temple Beth-El, Broad street.

Mrs. Jack Davis, president, will preside at the business meeting, during which the 1936-1937 slate of officers will be presented by the nominating committee headed by Mrs. Louis B. Wolfenson.

The dramatic department, Mrs. Bernard Shasset, chairman, will furnish a one-act comedy, "The Gay Nineties," as the entertainment feature of the evening. The cast will consist of: Mesdames J. Bergel, Everett Cowen, Nathan Perlow, Nat Roy, Bernard Shasset, Samuel Summerfield, and Milton Tucker. Mrs. Samuel Starr, who is directing the production, will take charge of make-up. She will also be the prompter. Mrs. Paul Summerfield will look after properties, and Mrs. John J. Rouslin, costuming.

Ices and cakes will be served during the social hour following the play. The meeting is open to all council members and their escorts.

Cleveland (WNS)—Saul S. Danaceau, prominent in Jewish communal affairs, has been appointed assistant county prosecutor.

Wise and Lipsky Address Call to American Jewry

New York (WNS)—Profound disappointment at the failure of the Versailles Treaty to bring to world Jewry the anticipated relief from oppression and persecution is expressed in a Passover message to the Jews of America issued by the American Jewish Congress over the signatures of Dr. Stephen S. Wise, President, and Louis Lipsky, Vice President.

The message also calls upon American Jewry to unite for organized self-help and a vigorous defense of their rights by rallying to the support of the World Jewish Congress, a session of which is to be held at Geneva in August, and by participating in the National Electrical Conference to be convened at Washington on June 13th for the purpose of electing

Center Speaker

MISS FANNY GOLDSTEIN

The Young Women's Hebrew Association, at its meeting Wednesday evening at the Jewish Community Center, will welcome Miss Fanny Goldstein, Librarian of the West End Branch of the Boston Library, who will discuss the subject "Jewish Values in Current Literature."

Miss Goldstein, to the thousands who have entered the doors of her library, has been more than a librarian. As a speaker she is vigorous with a delightful sense of humor. Among the notable contributions are the compilation of "Judica" published by the Boston Library and the sponsoring of Jewish Book Week in America.

EMANU-EL RADIO SHOW A SUCCESS

Intimate Program Provokes Much Laughter

The Men's Club of Temple Emanu-El scored a success with its second annual Radio Musgrave Show which was held in the Temple vestry last night. The rooms adjoining the vestry and the main auditorium were thronged with an audience which taxed the facilities of the Temple. Heralded as a Rhode Island Tercentenary Extravaganza, the most colossal, stupendous musical treat of the current season, the club put over one of the fastest, laugh-provoking hits that had been seen in Providence.

Topping the program of would-be and have-been artists was Doc Albert Berger, master of ceremonies, alias The Great Impersonator, ably seconded by Moe Borod, The Grosse Knocker. Charles Wagner and Sylvia Kaufman sang delightfully.

AMERICAN NAZIS ENTER POLITICS

Will Mobilize Votes for Jewish Opposition

New York (WNS)—Extension of Nazi activities into the field of American politics under the slogans of "America for the Americans," "America wake up" and "opposition to internationalism, Bolshevism, Marxism and Judaism" was announced by the German-American League, at its first meeting since it abandoned the discredited name of Friends of the New Germany.

Rudolf Markmann, Eastern leader of the organization; Carl Nicolay, his deputy; Fritz Kahn, national leader; and James Wheeler Hill, New York City leader, outlined the organization's objectives before several hundred Nazis at the Schwabenhalle in Brooklyn.

Officially the German-American League will strive "to combat the Moscow-directed madness of the Red world menace and its Jewish bacillaries" but its real objective will be the mobilization of the voting strength of German-Americans in support of candidates who accept the Nazi program and in opposition to Jewish candidates for public office.

The organization's new name was denounced by Samuel Untermyer, president of the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League, as a Nazi trick to create confusion with the German-American League for Culture, an organization of anti-Nazi Germans that has been fighting the Nazis in this country. Mr. Untermyer said that the real reason for the change in name "can be found in the widespread reputation into which the organization had fallen."

Meanwhile, the Nazi elements among the Germans are exploiting the Hauptmann case for anti-Semitic propaganda. Shouts of "kill Wilentz, not Hauptmann" filled the air at a meeting of the Committee of 500, a save-Hauptmann organization.

The Rev. John Fitting, a Lutheran minister who claims to be one of Hauptmann's spiritual advisers, harangued the meeting with the "inside story" of the Hauptmann case, asserting that Hauptmann's arrest was "a Jewish trick" and that "the Jews run the government." At the same time the Greater New York Conference of the Seventh Day Adventists has untricked the Rev. D. G. Werner, another of Hauptmann's spiritual advisers.

TEMPLE ARRANGES EDUCATIONAL TOUR

Emanu-El Students Leave for New York

A novel experiment in Jewish education is being tried for the first time at Temple Emanu-El this year when last evening about 15 members of the high school department of the Religious School started on a Jewish educational tour of New York. This tour will last through Monday.

On this tour they will visit the outstanding Jewish religious, educational and philanthropic institutions in the greatest Jewish community in the world and they will be received by the foremost Jewish leaders in New York City. They will visit Temple Emanu-El on Fifth avenue, the historic Spanish-Portuguese Synagogue, and the Park Avenue Synagogue.

They will also visit the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, as well as the library and the museum of the seminary which is the greatest Jewish library and museum in the world.

Another interesting feature of this trip will be the visit to the Jewish Federation Building on West 47th street, which is the largest Jewish philanthropic center in the world, dominating as it does 91 Jewish institutions throughout greater New York.

The trip was planned by Rabbi Goldman and is under the personal supervision of Samuel Kessler.

Hull Studies Plea for Polish Jews

Delegation Leader

WILLIAM GREEN

As president of the American Federation of Labor, William Green was among those who submitted a memorandum to Secretary of State Hull suggesting that the U. S. Government find it possible to intervene on behalf of the Jews in Poland.

PIONEERS PLAN DONORS' DINNER

Mrs. Alter Boyman Chosen as Chairman

The Women Pioneers have launched their fourth annual donors' dinner, to take place in the Crystal Ball Room of the Narragansett Hotel on May 17.

This organization's donor affair is unique in that each member is privileged to be accompanied by a male escort. Mrs. A. Boyman has been chosen chairman, and she is assisted by Mrs. Carl Handler, co-chairman. Mrs. Louis Smira, treasurer, and Mrs. Morris Beeber, secretary. The committee is already busily engaged planning elaborate arrangements and is bending every effort to make this event even more outstanding than last year's, which created a furore with its exceptionally fine program.

At a recent meeting, Mrs. Boyman stressed the importance of the work of this organization and the need for larger funds, as the demands are greater than ever before and the goal to be attained has been greatly increased.

Baltimore (WNS)—Dr. Frank Schwartz has been elected president of the Maryland Ophthalmic Society. Seattle (WNS)—David Levine, former president of the city council, was re-elected to membership in that body in the recent municipal election.

Hadassah Views Film of Youth Aliyah Program

Members of Providence Chapter of Hadassah were afforded an enjoyable afternoon, Wednesday, at its regular monthly meeting in the Biltmore Hotel.

The proceedings were devoted largely to presentations in various forms of the work of "Youth Aliyah," the major project which Hadassah has recently added to its Palestinian platform, and for which the local Chapter is seeking funds by means of a luncheon-drive. The arrangement and campaign groups submitted reports, indicating that a fine response is being accorded the appeal; further plans were formulated for attainment of the objective, 300 donors by May 13.

Poland Accused of Open Violation of Minority Treaty

Washington, D. C. (WNS)—Secretary of State Hull has taken under advisement a plea by a delegation of Jewish and non-Jewish leaders of the American Federation of Labor that the United States Government "will find it possible to intervene on behalf of the Jews in Poland."

Secretary Hull's announcement was made after he had accepted from the delegation a detailed memorandum outlining the facts about the economic persecution of and the violence against the Jews of Poland.

The delegation included William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; B. C. Vladeck, general manager of the Jewish Daily Forward; David Dubinsky of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union; Joseph Schlossberg of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America; Morris Feinstein of the United Hebrew Trades; and Reuben Guskind of the Workmen's Circle.

The memorandum submitted to Mr. Hull by the delegation asserted that American intervention in Poland was justified not only on ground of humanity, but because President Wilson was instrumental in the reestablishment of Poland as an independent state.

The memorandum accused Poland of open and willful violation of the minorities treaty and warned that "for the last several months the lives of over 3,000,000 Jews in the Republic of Poland have been in constant jeopardy."

ARAB DELEGATION TO LONDON NAMED

Five Arab Leaders Will Present Views on Council

Jerusalem (WNS)—Palcor Agency—Five Arab leaders have been named as members of the delegation which will go to London, at the invitation of Colonial Secretary J. H. Thomas, to present their views on the proposed Legislative Council for Palestine. They are Ragheb Bey Nashashibi, Jamal Hussein, Mahmud Abu Khadra, Abdul latif Saleh, and Jacob Husseini.

High Commissioner Arthur Wauchope, in extending the invitation on behalf of Mr. Thomas, said that the British Colonial Secretary has authorized him to say that "the Jewish deputation which he received had made strong representations against the creation of a Legislative Council at the present time and he would welcome a corresponding opportunity of hearing Arab opinion."

Mr. Thomas had telegraphed that he understood that generally the Arab parties wanted a Legislative Council on broader lines and were asking for certain alterations.

Hadassah Views Film of Youth Aliyah Program

A movie dealing with the three-fold colonization program of Youth Aliyah: the furnishing of immigrant preparation abroad, preparation within Palestine and settlement either in the colonies or cities, was shown. Perhaps the most inspiring scenes in the film were those showing Henrietta Szold, the beloved founder of Hadassah and head of the movement, assisting Hitler's youthful victims in the mending of their broken lives, a job she has personally characterized as the "greatest" of her career.

Miss Szold directs the movement from headquarters in Jerusalem but visits periodically the different bases of operation in Germany and Holland. To date approximately 1,500 of these

GERMAN REFUGEE SUES RAILROAD

German Property Here Attached by Non-Aryan

New York (WNS)—German Jewish refugees in this country who were deprived of their property in Germany because of the Aryan laws are watching with great interest the progress of the suit of Marcel M. Holzer, one of their number, against the German State Railroads. Mr. Holzer, a former employe of the company who was dismissed because he was a Jew and thrown into a concentration camp, is suing the company for $98,000 on the ground of breach of contract. To recover this amount he is trying to attach property of the German State Railways in this country.

Mr. Holzer's action is based on the claim that he should be allowed to recover damages in this country for losses suffered in Germany because the Aryan laws of Germany are not applicable here. After filing his suit, Mr. Holzer obtained a writ of attachment on American properties of the German State Railways and two of its subsidiaries. The defendant came before Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook seeking a dismissal of the writ of attachment on the ground that a clause in the German-American treaty at the end of the war provided that no property of the German Government in the United States should be subject to attachment in civil suits. The German State Railways is owned by the German Government.

Justice McCook, however, refused to recognize this argument and pointed out another clause in the treaty which provided that the German Government should not claim sovereign rights as a protection if it engaged in international trade. Although Justice McCook overruled the German company's contention and therefore facilitated the suit, he declined to rule on Mr. Holzer's point that the Aryan laws of Germany were inapplicable in this country. Should Mr. Holzer win his suit the way would be open for all German refugees to recover damages from Germany in cases where they could prove losses resulted from the anti-Semitic laws.

Lescaze, Architect, Refuses to Show Work in Germany

New York, (WNS)—Joining American painters and sculptors who are boycotting Germany, William Lescaze, eminent architect, has announced his refusal to submit some of his work for exhibition at Berlin in connection with the Olympic Games. Mr. Lescaze informed the American Olympic Architectural Committee that "I feel so strongly about Hitler and his cruelly intolerant dictatorship that I am completely unwilling to show any of my work in Berlin at this time."

Rosh Hashanah Services to be Held at Harvard

Cambridge, Mass (WNS)—Because the second day of Rosh Hashanah (September 18th) coincides with the climax of the tercentenary exercises of Harvard University, special Rosh Hashanah services will be held on the University grounds in order to enable hundreds of Jewish alumni and Jewish guests to attend the celebration without missing the Jewish New Year observance. The arrangements for the service will be under the direction of Dr. Harry A. Wolfson, professor of Jewish literature and philosophy. Professor Wolfson said that the Rosh Hashanah services were arranged after many Jewish alumni and distinguished Jewish scholars, including Dr. Albert Einstein, had expressed doubt as to whether they could attend the exercises.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

Today's lesson is the most important of the series under the above title. It concerns rebids by the opening bidder when his partner has responded by bidding one of another suit. This "one-over-one", as you will recall, is FORCING for ONE round and the original bidder must bid again unless an intervening bid makes a rebid impractical when holding an absolute minimum. His possible choice of rebids follows:

1. He bids his own suit:
  - a. He bids two with a rebiddable suit and unbalanced distribution; or with any six-card suit and 3 HT.
  - b. He bids three (semi-forcing) with a rebiddable suit and 4½-5 HT; or with any six-card suit and 4 HT.
  - c. He bids four with a nearly solid suit, eight sure winning tricks, and at least 4 HT.
2. He may bid a new suit:
  - a. If holding another biddable suit of higher rank, he bids one of that suit.
  - b. He bids two of another biddable suit of lower rank when suits are 6-5 or 5-5, or if he holds 3½ HT, with 5-4 distribution, or if he holds 4-4 and 4 HT.
3. He raises his partner's suit:
  - a. One raise shows ATS and some trick in addition either Honor or Playing.
  - b. A double raise shows four trumps, 1 additional HT and a singleton, or 1½ HT additional and a doubleton.
  - c. A triple raise shows 4½ HT and at least 4 trumps, or if you prefer, about 6½-7½ Playing Tricks.

A rebid of One No Trump shows a minimum hand and is a sign of caution.

- b. Bid Two No Trump (semi-forcing) with 4 HT and at least two cards of partner's suit, and a stopper in each of the unbid suits.
  - c. Bid Three No Trump with 5 HT and stoppers in all unbid suits.
  5. You will now make a FORCING rebid in a new suit when holding 5 HT and a second biddable suit with at least eight winning tricks; or with 6½-7 winners in support of partner's suit.
- Now we suggest a slow review of the above in order to grasp each different situation. Your rebid after a suit takeout is the one which guides and controls additional rounds. If your suit is rebiddable, show it; if you can support partner's suit, say so; if you can't do either, bid No Trump, and if partner's bid shows game or slam possible, make a forcing or semi-forcing rebid to indicate strength.

In other words, your opening bid has told your partner that you have at least 2½ HT and a rebiddable suit, or 3 HT and a biddable suit. His simple takeout may be "just to keep it open" on about 1 HT or he may have as much as 3 HT. So he now asks you by your rebid to show the maximum strength of your hand, and if he bids again, he will tell you his full story. If the hands seem to fit, then you will play for game in the best suit, or if no fit, it may be advisable to play at No Trump, possibly at only a one or two bid.

Remember that every hand does not hold game and that over-bidding results in penalties when part score could have been made which could have proved valuable in the next hand, either by making opponent's overbid trying to protect it, or in helping another hand of yours in which only another part score can be made. The moral is then: Tell your whole story on your rebid.

CARDS AND CURTAINS

Panting up one flight of stairs of the Alice Building (we usually feel embarrassed in the elevator so full of pretty women) to felicitate our friend Sam Chernov on his new venture, he greeted us with the announcement that he and Irene had beaten his brother Paul and Rose the night previous at Contract. To which we add our hopes that his good fortune continues in draperies as well as bridge.

CARNIVAL GROUPS REPORTS $5,000

14 Door Prizes Will be Awarded

Sam Rosen, chairman of the Emanuel carnival committee, announced to an enthusiastic group of workers that met at the Temple last Sunday morning, that according to the cash returns already in the hands of the committee, this year's carnival is already an outstanding success. He requested all last minute contributions to be brought in quickly so that the committee can enter the carnival doors with $5,000.00 cash in the register.

The list of fourteen door prizes are as follows: modernistic bridge table and chairs, solid mahogany gaming table, oyster white bridge table and chairs, imported table lamp, reflector floor lamp, electric Mix-Master, hospitality set, sweet meat dish, cocktail table, genuine cowhide zipper bag, antique tilt table, pure silk umbrella, thermos ice bucket, and hand-carved smoking stand.

The carnival is scheduled to be held April 28, 29, and 30, and the above prizes will be drawn on the last night. The children of the Temple Hebrew and Sunday schools are cooperating this year as in past years by entering carnival posters in the Annual Easter Competition. Prize winners in this competition will be announced Saturday in the Temple assembly, at which time prizes will be awarded for the successful entries. Mrs. Benjamin Bromberg and Martin M. Zucker are the judges of the poster contest.

Is Your Son's Future Worth
A DIME A DAY?

The finest instinct of parenthood is the desire to give your child a greater opportunity, a better education, than you enjoyed.

Whether that means a college education, musical career, advanced or specialized training in some trade or profession, it must be financed—and it is an ambition worth any effort it requires.

By starting to save early on the Old Colony Educational Plan, and paying small amounts regularly, you can make certain of your child's education. The accumulation of your fund, plus the liberal dividends it earns, spreads the cost over many years and you will never feel the burden. For example: If you start saving $3.43 a month when your child is born, there will be $1000 ready for his education when he comes to about sixteen years of age.

Don't let your good impulse die for lack of action. Come in and get a free copy of our leaflet "The Old Colony Way to a Better Education." It gives all the figures and tells how to start.

MENUHIM'S LESSON

Yehudi Menuhim has announced his withdrawal from the concert stage for the next two years. He has made arrangements to live on a farm in California and will devote his attention to a healthy farmer's existence and to creative work as a composer. There is a great lesson to be learned from Menuhim's temporary self-imposed exile.

Menuhim stands today at the very peak of his profession. There is not a single musical impersario in any part of the world who would not jump at the opportunity to sign up Menuhim for an appearance in his community. No one doubts that Menuhim's earning power for the next two years would be close to a million dollars were he to take full advantage of the financial rewards at his disposal. But Menuhim has preferred to withdraw.

One must be a world's champion in his profession not to fear such a retirement. Dr. Chain Weizmann was the only Jewish leader who voluntarily withdrew for a time from world Jewish leadership fully confident that whenever he was ready to re-enter the arena, the Jewish world would be happy to receive him.

There are a few Jewish leaders who would be bestowing a favor upon Jewish life if they were to retire permanently or at least for a time. Jewish life needs the stimulus of new blood and new faces which it cannot receive as long as some of these leaders insist on perpetuating themselves in the van of the parade. But perhaps these leaders are justified in not relinquishing their place in the sun.

One needs to be a real world's champion to come back and we have very, very few champions.

Dance at Temple Beth-El Tomorrow Evening

Under sponsorship of Temple Beth-El, a dance will be held tomorrow (Saturday) evening at the Temple the proceeds of which will be given to the Fellowship Fund. Sherwood M. Rosen is head of the committee in charge.

Music will be furnished by the Paradise orchestra and entertainment will be given by the following performers: Ellen Deering, Louis Rosen, Edward Davidson, Ruth Sankel, Muriel Ross, Sally Ann Horowitz, Irving Adair, Seymour Goldstein, Alfred Jacobs. ## Disclose Huge Treasure Buried in Palestine

Berlin (WNS)—The existence of a $5,000,000 treasure in gold buried on Mount Lebanon, Palestine, by Germans in Palestine during the World War was disclosed by a late unit at Duisburg. The existence of the treasure came to light when a German banker in Turkey sued a Duisburg banker in connection with the distribution of the treasure. It is understood that the treasure is being divided between German and English interests.

Temple Beth-Israel

Regular services will be held this (Friday) evening at 8 o'clock. The 8th Mitzvah service at which twelve young girls will be initiated into the Jewish faith will take place in conjunction with the Sisterhood Sabbath planned for May 1 instead of on Passover as originally planned.

A Youth Night, at which problems of Jewish life will be discussed by young people of the community, will take place at the Temple Friday evening, May 8. Participating will be the various young people's organizations of the city and the college groups.

BOOK NOTES

—Esther Levine—

"This was life." By James Weber Linn. (Bobbs-Merrill)
Hooray and hallelujah! Found, a story of college life that did NOT have the students staggering from one drinking party to another, nor falling in love with the professor's youthful wife, a story that did NOT start the year with football practice and end with the big game in which the hero runs 95 yards for the winning touchdown in the last minute of play! In this story, there is a college, a university, to be exact, with students who go to classes, who study, who write themes and do lessons, who hold interesting discussions and who show signs of thinking process.

There will be the "doubting Thomases" who will be quick to point out that Mr. Linn's story is about college life in the "good old days," the '90s, but the scene will have its familiar features to many college students and graduates of today.

Mr. Linn has taken the early days of his college career and has set them in the University of Chicago, seen particularly through the eyes of Jerry Grant, a sensitive and perceptive undergraduate. Jerry's initial loneliness is overcome by the pleasant and varied friendships he forms. The university is in Jerry's estimate, an interesting and attractive world and attracts among its student body and teaching staff many unusual types. There is 27 year old Neil Gordon, "plasterer," and Chuck Bangs, a former prizefighter from the yards known as "Young Koczynsky," and Mister the Baron, in Jerry's estimate.

Some of the instructors were not much older than their students and resorted to all sorts of devices to establish discipline. Young Swinton, a recent Harvard graduate, was re-christened "Swiney" Swinton because of his razor-like criticism and his uncompromising attitude. At the second meeting of his English class, he locked the door when the class started and the late comers cooled their heels in the hall. The stories attributed to him sound much like the tales still told at the University about Robert Aldrick. Stephen Leacock will be recognized as the Canadian economist and there will be little difficulty with the presence of whom it was said that he could board the train at New York, stroll into the club car, talk to a few people and get out of Chicago with a check for $1,000,000 in his pocket for a new building.

The story, however, will not only appeal to those who know the University. Jerry is a likeable young chap. To be sure, there is not very much of a plot, but Jerry's relations with his friends and with Dorothy, his pretty co-ed, whose grandfather had given the University the dormitory in which Jerry lived, though not sensational, are interesting. Dorothy is a true precursor of her modern sisters in that she at least has a few wrinkles thrown in the aura of fascination about any decent and simple. The dialogue is witty, expressive and natural. Young Cabot, secretary to the president, Harvard graduate with a sense of humor, dilettante, is one of the most interesting characters I have met in any novel of the sort of person whose remarks become epigrams which go down in classroom history.

Again, a "goodie goodie" for a better type of college novel, "This was life!"

Mos Chitim Group to be Entertained

Members of the Mos Chitim committee will be guests at a complimentary bridge to be held by the ladies' Union Aid Association Tuesday, at their headquarters, 191 Orms street. It will be announced at the bridge that the annual bridge will take place Tuesday, June 2, at Arcadia Hall. Mrs. J. Horvitz was chosen chairman and Mrs. J. Kopp, co-chairman.

The Eternal Road

By FRANZ WERFEL

THE QUESTIONERS Did the king receive you? . . . What did you succeed in doing in your homes? . . . Has there been any more looting?

Do those in power really desire our destruction? . . . Woe you are silent, Rabbi . . . Does that mean death? Death? No, no! . . . Woe! But why are you silent? . . . The Rabbi, having reached the Almemor, takes his head in both his hands and in utter silence bends his face over one of the pulpits.

THE PIOUS MAN Be silent! Ask no more! Behold, softly he communicates with the Eternal . . . Do not disturb him!

THE CONGREGATION Perhaps he is communing with the Eternal . . .

THE ADVERSARY It's possible . . . What is quite certain is that he knows no way out. (The voices of the congregation sing to a moaning murmur.)

THE ESTRANGED ONE'S SON Father! I feel a great dread

Why are we persecuted? Why did you never speak to me of these things? Why did I know nothing at all!

THE ESTRANGED ONE I wanted to spare you this heaviest of burdens, my child. Now you must bear it all the same . . .

THE PIOUS MAN He stirs . . . the Rabbi . . . the Eternal is no longer with him . . .

(With several of his fellows he reverently approaches the Rabbi on the Almemor.)

Forgive us, our Rabbi! This congregation in Israel is assembled, men, women and children. We have gathered in, beyond souls, here desire passionately to watch through the night and not to ask concerning their fate till sunrise. Look you, there are those among us who are strong and valiant in supplication. They may be able to move, to stir, to go to the Almighty, blessed be He, so have compassion. Will you not decide upon the order of the prayers? This night is long.

THE RABBI (raises his head) This night is long. And the smoky morning will be late, seeing it is autumn

What would you pray to be spared? Move, stir, bend the Eternal, the Unchangeable—to change? Not so! Not so! It is for us to remember . . .

THE PIOUS MAN Remember? What do you mean by that word?

THE RABBI Bring me the scroll of the holy Law!

THE ADVERSARY Memory and Law . . . The feeblest bear has claws and teeth for self-defense . . . We have memory and law . . . Hee-hee, admirable weapons . . . (The President and the elders lift the scroll of the Torah in its velvet wrapping out of its niche after the prescribed fashion and having carried it past the congregation in a solemn approach the Almemor therewith.)

THE RABBI (while the scroll is being gradually brought to him) Once more will I traverse with you the path which our souls, the souls of Israel, have gone, even from the beginning of time until this day . . . And the memories of that old eternal path will lend us strength for the new one that begins tomorrow . . .

(In the prescribed manner the President, the Pious Man, and the Elders take the Torah-scroll from its wrappings.)

THE RABBI Prepare ye for the dusty roads! For the way has no end. Forty your hearts against the burning of thirst! For that which is ordained has not yet ended. What can there be for us to fear on the morrow after this night's eternity? (From the hands of the Pious Man he accepts the scroll and unfolds it.)

Soviet Jews Observe Passover Uninterruptedly

Moscow (WNS)—For the first time since the revolution, Passover is being celebrated throughout the Soviet Union without any protest from the anti-religious organization. The entire Yiddish press is free from the usual announcements of anti-Passover demonstrations, which were common in previous years. Reports in the Yiddish press indicate that Soviet Jews will observe Passover widely and joyously on a scale unprecedented here in the last 15 years.

Montefiore's Arrange Bridge for Fund

Mrs. George Silverman is chairman for the afternoon and Mrs. Bertram Bernhardt is co-chairman.

Milwaukee (WNS)—Milwaukee's Jews are seeking a way out of the dilemma created for them as a result of the fact that the municipal election is scheduled to be held on Tuesday, April 27th, the first day of Passover.

NEWS AND VIEWS

—By Maurice W. Hendel—

The latest release from the Polish Press Bulletin carries the reasons given by the proponents of the Ritual Slaughter Bill, which to say the least, are very interesting. They claim that there is no religious aspect to the bill; their interests lie solely along humanitarian and economic lines. With reference to the former, it is their claim that unless the animals are previously stunned they suffer unnecessarily. It is the economic reason given which carries a great deal of weight.

At present, Jewish butchers purchase only fore quarters of animals because of the Jewish prohibition to consume any other parts. The Christians consume the hind quarters. In consequence cattle cannot be sold by the farmer direct to the butchers since the latter do not purchase the entire carcass.

As a result, the wholesaler is introduced, who performs the slaughter and then distributes the meat among the Christian and Jewish butchers. Having a "corner" on the market, they dictate the prices.

Because of the necessity for ritual slaughter, all wholesalers are Jewish.

The demand for the fore or hind quarter varies with the level of population. Where there are less Jews, the price of the hind parts are much higher than that of the fore. In other words, the Christian population is burdened with part of the price of meat consumed by the Jewish population with the extra cost of ritual slaughter. The high fees charged for kosher slaughtering are imposed by the Jewish religious communities for taxation. Thus, the non-Jews indirectly bear part of the burden of maintaining Jewish religious communities.

DO YOU KNOW THAT? Germany, Switzerland, Norway, Sweden, Austria, several cities in France, and Brussels prohibit so-called ritual slaughtering of cattle.

A. Brenner, Maplehurst Manager, Weds Boston Girl

Rhode Island folk, especially those who have been guests at the Maplehurst Hotel in Bethlehem, New Hampshire, will be glad to know of the marriage last Sunday in Boston of Alexander S. Brenner, popular manager of the hotel to Miss Bess Green of Chelsea. The ceremony was performed at the Beacon House, Brookline, with Rabbi Rubinstein of Temple Mishkan, Boston officiating.

A reception followed, attended by guests from Providence, New York and Boston.

Benjamin Brenner, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Miss Gertrude Green, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

The bridegroom was graduated from Woonsocket Senior High School and New York University. Besides managing Maplehurst, he also operates the Kampus Klub on the campus of R. I. State College. The bride is a graduate of the Massachusetts College of Fine Arts.

Mr. and Mrs. Brenner left on a honeymoon trip to New York City, Atlantic City, Washington and Mt. Vernon, Ga., and on their return will reside at Narragansett Pier until the opening of Maplehurst in June.

Around the Town

With Leonard Harris

Spring Walkers

Now that Passover has passed and my consumption of bi-carbonate of soda is down to normal . . . what with the (play ball) signal given and the racing posters up assuring us that winter is definitely in storage it was pleasant strolling thru town sans hat and coat . . . Coming up to the Mall I found Percival Rakatansky nonchalantly hanging out nearby to the pigeons . . . round the corner of Dorance came Irene Green, and her thoughts, by the serene expression on her face, must of been of the dullest . . . or was it the orchid Irene? . . . So along I went to Weybosset and bumped into Phil Taber who sorta looked up at my thinning crown and suggested a I buy a new lid at Bonds where he peddles . . . I countered with talk of lunch, he nay, nayd so I bummed a cigarette and continued on and met thirteen side walk brokers and listened to them a while arguing baseball instead of horses. On to Mathewson just in time to note that cute Korb lass returning to work. Then on to Westminster and met Norman Cohen, who seemed most happy. (I found out he had just sold 200 Crosley Refrigerators) and so back to the office and Leichter growled, hang around while I pick up a few ads.

Odds and Ends

At the Conventorator Club, Ken Logowitz was feted. All the boys were there including Bill Greenberg who makes Providence just a stopover place between trips to Europe. Uptown at a party Izzy Press got a yen for herring; so he and I upped and left while a certain M. D. made merry with all the ferns.

A Lesson in Biology

For the benefit of Milt Tucker, Erv Schein, Dave Falk and a few more of you city guys, a hen can lay an egg but in order that, that that egg be fertile, she got to see her papa before. Nate Eugene has sure brought the bright lights to lower Weybosset street with his branch store . . . "Zull sein mit glück, Nate."

A Learned Man

Do you know that our town is home to a Yehuda, who, up until the War was the head of education of one of the largest European countries and was a foreign correspondent during the war? He then came to America and for several years lectured on Einstein's theory of Relativity, is the author of a few books, reads, writes and speaks seven languages fluently and holds degrees from some of the ranking universities in the world. How many of you know him?

Olympic Notes

Flash—We will soon give you the lowdown on the financial end of the U. S. Olympics . . . when we do a lot of people will change their brand of toothpaste . . . 'Tis said that the thieves broke into Ogge Goering's home three months ago, saw the election results (just two months before the election). Maurice David, author of "Who Was Columbus" tells that in Japan the Swastika emblem is used to signify the houses of prostitution . . . Such popularity must be deserved.

Singing Travels
A phone ringed the Jake Ernstoils and the J. D. Grossmans are curing at Atlantic City . . . Has Nate Levitt's new La Salle been to Albany yet I wonder . . . What carries Joe Finkle to Boston so often these days? . . . can it be—is that why you gave up doing the column Joe?

New Eating Place
Maeie Rosen, a former protege of Harry's, has opened a delicatessen on Hope street and he sends greetings to all his friends. While visiting Max I caught footballer Schein and wife sauntering along eating pitachio ice cream cones; maybe that's how a football player trains now.

Singing As a Hobby
I peeped in at the Kadima Choralists at the other nite's rehearsal. Surprising . . . the people who are singing enthusiasts . . . I counted three very busy business men as well as eight of our younger married women. Yet all these folks, cramped as they are for time, steal away one evening a week and sing. I stayed to hear two selections and then Maestro Einstein wowed me out—considering me a disturbing element I guess. So on I went to the Center and watched the cast of the Fortune Teller go thru the first act, under the able direction of Nancy Starr, and was thrilled at hearing Mrs. Applebaum's lovely voice . . . and from there out to the Liberty Diner where Al Cohen toasts and roasts 'em! and how! for our younger set.

Life's Doubles
A wag just called to tell that it's a boy at the Charley Polotowos, then adds "it's a good thing that Betty who plays real contract did not double his bid" not bad, eh?

Until Next Week
Eddie Cantor created a sensation last week at a women's meeting in New York by declaring that from now on the Jewish question was the main go in his life and pledged to personally finance the transplanting of 500 Jewish children from Germany.

Jews Lose in Radio Station Controversy

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—Because the Arab population objected strongly to the use of the phrase, "Eretz Israel," meaning "Land of Israel" as the Jewish description for Palestine, the Government instructed announcers on the radio station to omit all mention of Palestine. Opened on March 30th as Palestine's first broadcasting station, it was immediately the center of controversy, although Hebrew, English and Arabic were the three official languages. After two days of using "Eretz Israel" as indicating the source of the broadcast, announcers dropped the complete phrase in response to Arab protests and used instead the initials "P" for this too aroused Arab opposition, which had also voiced objection to the inclusion of the Hebrew language on an equality with Arabic.

Palestine radio announcers will now merely say, "Jerusalem calling" for all broadcasts, without referring to Palestine.

Another Hebrew Newspaper Appears

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—Hadoshoh Achromoth (The Latest News) made its first appearance here this month under the editorship of Pesach Ginsburg, well-known Hebrew journalist and author, who was formerly editor of "Doar Hayom." When Doar Hayom transferred to Tel Aviv, it left Jerusalem without a Hebrew daily of her own, although in Tel Aviv there are now four—Davar, Doar Hayom, Haaretz and Haboker. The new Jerusalem daily professes to be non-partisan in view and will, it states, pursue a strictly non-factional general Zionist policy. Ginsburg, the editor, left the service of Doar Hayom on January 1st of this year.

German Jewish children have found a haven in Palestine. It was announced by Mrs. Alfred Fain, president, that the executive committee of the donors' luncheon campaign will honor the subscribers at an "Oneg Shabbath" and Tea, to be tendered in Temple Emmanu-El on Saturday, April 25. This complimentary affair which will be open to the public, is in charge of Mrs. Benjamin Kane. The program will be announced later. The following group was appointed to nominate a slate of officers for next year: Mesdames Anna Goldenberg, chairman; Barney Taber, Morris Schussheim, Jory Schlossberg and Joseph Smith.

SHIRLEY IS STAR IN GAYEST FILM

"Captain January" Cramed With Entertainment

A famous story becomes Shirley Temple's greatest picture as the tiny, dimpled Fox star returns in "Captain January," now at the Majestic Theatre.

Adapted from the beloved tale by Laura E. Richards, the new picture is a heart-tugging drama of a lovable little girl and a sweet, old sailor, set in a lighthouse on the rocky coast of Maine.

How Guy Kibbee loves and protects this tiny waif he had picked out of the sea years before, how he loses her to a vicious old truant officer and eventually wins her back again is revealed in the fascinating plot of "Captain January."

Shirley performs a series of tinkling new steps, including a delightful novelty called "The Multiplication Table Dance," and sings three grand new songs. The hit of the three, all with music by Lew Pollack, is "The Right Somebody to Love."

Slim Summerville, Buddy Ebsen, lovely June Lang and Jane Darwell are the principal supporting players in the picture, directed by David Butler.

"Song of the Saddle" Opens at Fays Today

"Song of the Saddle," the second of First National's new type of Western dramas with music, comes to Fays Theatre today.

Dick Foran, the flaming haired singing Cowboy, again has the stellar role as he did in the first musical drama of the open spaces, "Moonlight On the Prairie." He plays the part of a youth who has grown to manhood, obsessed by the idea of avenging the murder and robbery of his father by the leader of a band of Western crooks and his two henchmen.

He makes himself the terror of the Western stage coach lines which he holds up with great regularity. However, he never molests passengers nor takes any money except that being shipped by the slayer of his father. He is known as the "Singing Kid" because on every such expedition he is heard to burst into song.

The story carries a glamorous romance, the youth meeting the girl who had worshipped him when a boy, and falling in love with her.

Jewish Lawyer Leaves Fund to Cardinal Hayes

New York (WNS)—The Patrick Cardinal Hayes Fund, the Salvation Army and the Volunteers of America were among the 26 educational, charitable and philanthropic institutions that received bequests totalling $30,000 under the will of the late Henry Wollman, attorney and son of pioneer Jewish settlers in Kansas. Mr. Wollman's will provided a trust fund of $2,500 for the board of education of Leavenworth, Kansas, his birthplace, to set up prizes.

Moslems are Injured as Holiday Closes

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—The Festival of the Prophet Moses, celebrated by Moslems as Nebi Musa, was ended with a series of disturbances that left a number of the faithful followers of Islam injured. Thousands of pilgrims streamed from Jerusalem as they returned home after a week's celebration in Palestine's capital city. The holiday was marred by a number of internal controversies which led to many affrays. There were no serious incidents, however, due to firm police control. Fears that had been expressed by some Jewish leaders that there might be a serious clash between Moslems and Jews during the Nebi Musa and Passover festivals were proved completely groundless.

New Agassiz Owners Continue Expansion

(Editor's Note. The Herald vacation reporter will, during the months preceding the vacation season, cover the leading resorts and camps, thus bringing to the readers of the Herald a smart variety of vacation spots. This will insure your summer vacation as being the best ever. The article that follows (which will be completed next week) is the first of the vacation series.)

The thousands of vacationists who have made the New Agassiz Hotel their summer hotel, now turn expectancy to the Sinclair, acquired and operated by Michnoff & Spiwack.

Your vacation reporter found Mr. Michnoff in a very happy mood as he told about his new venture and how enthusiastically everyone has greeted their big news. Mr. Michnoff says: "It simply had to come. We were bound to go places, and we did, taking over our neighbor, the Sinclair Hotel. This was only a natural and inevitable step in our consistent progress and growth. You'll admit we couldn't improve on the delightful food at the Agassiz. And as for charm and hospitality, why they were traditional, etching their character year after year deeper and deeper in Bethlehem's history. And as for location right in the heart of Nature's grandeur, it was loveliness itself. There seemed only one direction in which we could expand. The Sinclair offered us more rooms, more luxurious appointments, better capacity for the kind of service the Agassiz guests have learned to expect, plus the last-minute modern convenience of a metropolitan hotel. Well, that just about tops the cake for you and you and you... so we say, Now it's the Sinclair!"

The Sinclair Hotel needs no introduction. The Michnoff & Spiwack tradition has always been the talk of Bethlehem... now the big news has spread to every corner of the East. The Sinclair is nestled among Nature's outstanding scenic backdrops. The country, climate, and invigorating environment is second to none. It's a gorgeous haven of rest, recreation, and inspiration. The Sinclair overlooks the range of Canadian mountains, and Mount Agassiz rears majestically behind it.

Under the management of Michnoff & Spiwack, the Sinclair becomes the country's finest equipped, most modern and perfectly located American-Jewish hotel. Its appointments and trained staff are on the job, alert to give their guests the vacation thrill of a lifetime. Looking north from the broad promenade, piazzas, is beautiful Sinclair Park, the Sinclair's private park for walk, sunbathing, and relaxation, with all the great White Mountain peaks as a fairy background.

As you step into the Sinclair you get an immediate feeling of comfort and friendliness... Spacious lobbies, card rooms, lounging rooms, open fireplaces to cheer you on cool evenings, wide windows with charming views. And here's a surprise: hydraulic elevator service, attended by a snappy bell-boy, whisks you promptly to your room, tastefully and newly decorated. Electricity, steam-heat, showers, and bath, and hot and cold running water in every room, are only a few of the many conveniences.

There's no place like Bethlehem to stir a healthy appetite, and Agassiz's famous chef will now be catering to this appetite at the Sinclair only as he can! Jewish dietary laws are strictly observed, of course. There is a regular parade of curious visitors taken through the immaculate and last-word kitchens daily.

Providence, R. I.

Dear Sir:

Through the medium of the Jewish Herald, I should like to thank the Jewish Community of Providence for their fine response to the recent Moath Chithim Fund, to supply Passover Natkos and other Passover foods for needy Jewish families.

The response certainly has been tremendously encouraging to the men and women who have been making the appeal before Passover. Passover food and natkos have been supplied to every known needy Jewish family, and the money received for these foods have been the means of making many a Jewish home happy during the holidays.

I should like to thank the Jewish Herald for its co-operation during this worthwhile communal effort.

Sincerely yours,
MOATH CHITHIM ASSO.,
Morris Feinberg, President.
