Editorials

Who is Against Persecution?

Those concerned over the raising of the anti-Semitic issue, may well take note of what is happening in France, the Christian Science Monitor editorially suggests.

Marshall Petain is trying to stop Nazi reprisal shootings. But he does it by appealing to the French, not the Germans. Publicly at least he has nothing to say to officials who ordered twelve innocent Frenchmen killed to "pay" for the murder by someone of a German soldier. Had he merely pointed out that the reprisal method is utterly contrary not only to civilized practice but to all international agreements for the treatment of occupied countries, his entirely proper reminder that attacks in the dark on soldiers doing their duty are not in the French tradition would carry more weight.

Frenchmen risking their lives to keep up the fight for France's freedom must have concluded that—willingly or unwillingly—the hero of Verdun is now on the other side.

In America a similar attitude is evidenced by some of those who have injected the Jewish question into the debate over America's relation to the war. Senator Nye, in his statement charging war propaganda in the movies, said that if America got into the war the Jews would suffer because the people would blame them.

Yet in the very same statement he stressed Jewish names in the movie industry and joined the effort to make it appear that if America goes to war it will be because the Jews and other groups have stirred up the people. More than one American Firster has said in effect: "I've warned my Jewish friends to keep still, for if America gets into this the people will blame them, and if they do—!"

The intimation is that America will go in for pogroms with trimmings. Now what is the way to stop anti-Semitism in America? A useful appeal can be made to Jewish citizens to avoid certain kinds of activities that evoke dislike among fellow Americans. But few Americans outside the isolationist group would say that such activities are primarily related to the war situation. It simply isn't true that Jews are the leaders of American opposition

Russian Jews Mark Holydays

LONDON. — For the first time since the Russian Revolution, walls of Moscow synagogues and of other buildings in streets thickly populated by Jews were placarded with posters announcing High Holiday services, according to advice received here.

Exhorting Moscow Jews to pray especially for the defeat of Hitlerism and the victory of the Soviet Army, the announcements advertised cantors and preachers for the services. The Moscow Chof Shul, for example, stressed that Cantor Jacob Petchnik would conduct the Yomim Neroyim (High Holiday) services.

This is the first time the Soviet regime has issued such public religious appeals.

Lehman Boomed For Fifth Term

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — A drive to retain Herbert H. Lehman in the governorship of New York by renominating him for a fifth term in 1942 was launched by political leaders attending a meeting here of the State Democratic Committee. His administration was endorsed as being "progressive and economical."

Democratic State Chairman James A. Farley, who has been urged to run next year, said that no decision could be made on candidates until Mr. Lehman has made his own decision. In some quarters it is understood that the Governor would like to have one of the New York senatorial seats.

Isolationist Chicago Paper Hoaxed by Phoney Letter

CHICAGO.—The Chicago Tribune, arch-isolationist daily, was taken in by a letter-to-the-editor with anti-Semitic intentions; but, having published the letter, the paper subsequently printed an editorial note obliquely apologizing for its gullibility.

A man signing himself "Samuel Rosecrane" and emphasizing that he was a Jew, wrote that "the necessary incident for the participation of America in the affairs of Europe is at hand. I am in favor of using our manpower, even at the expense of thousands of lives."

The Tribune, which has often been known to hit below the belt at minority groups, used the

Lindbergh Defended by America First Seize 100 Jews As Hostages

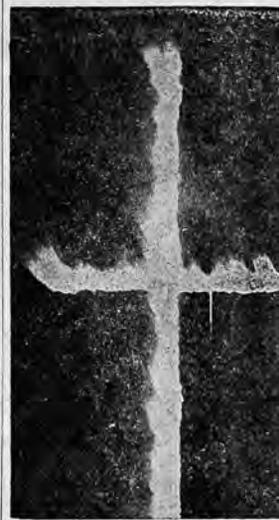

Arrested Include French Senator All Confined In Paris Prisons

VICHY. — Pressing their relentless drive to smash the growing opposition to the Nazi regime, Nazi occupying authorities in Paris ordered the arrest of more than 100 prominent French Jews, including a Senator and a former Deputy, who will be responsible for the "maintenance of order," the official French news agency announced.

Presumably unable to stem the rising tide of unrest and sabotage, the Nazi authorities hope to divert public attention from the French acts of defiance by publicly cracking down on the Jewish population and attributing the increasing acts of sabotage and violence against the Nazi regime to the Jews.

The new Jewish "hostages" included Pierre Masse, noted attorney and Senator from the Herault Department, who was Undersecretary of State for Military (Continued on Page 2)

Say War Mongers Inject Race Issue

Call Charges False Hiding Real Problem

CHICAGO. — Persons urging American intervention in the war are responsible, says the America First Committee, for injection of the race issue into the "discussion of war or peace."

The organization's national committee released a statement defending Charles A. Lindbergh, who, in a recent Des Moines address, said the "British, the Jewish and the Roosevelt administration" were the three major groups urging this country's active belligerency.

"Col. Lindbergh and his fellow members of the America First Committee are not anti-Semitic," the statement said. "We deplore the injection of the race issue into the discussion of war or peace. It is the interventionists who have done this."

Allied Statesmen Support Jewish Needs in Palestine

LONDON. — Important declarations concerning Jewish rights in Palestine and the rest of the world were made during the last few days by several Allied statesmen and prominent British political figures, in connection with the Jewish National Fund Victory Campaign.

"There must be no repetition of the heart-breaking frustration which followed the last war when not even an attempt was made to keep the promises so freely made for a better world to be built when the fighting was over," declared Dutch Minister of Education Dr. G. Bolkestein, addressing a meeting in Liverpool. He added: "One of the greatest unkept promises was that of supporting the Jewish endeavor to regain their native country as a home for many of this unhappy and tortured race. It must be different after this war." Bolkestein urged Christians the world over to repay the debt owed to Jews by supporting the struggle for a Jewish National Home.

Louis De Brockeres, former Belgian senator now connected with the Belgian Government-in-exile, referring to President Roosevelt's statement that "America can be free only if the world is free," said: "I want liberty for all nations, for my own country which was amid the last of Hitler's victims and for the Jews and German people who were the first of his victims."

Dartmouth Gets Million Bequests

HANOVER, N. H. — Of the slightly more than $3,000,000 given to Dartmouth College in a year of record bequests, the late Justice William N. Cohen of New York willed $1,208,691 to his alma mater, from which he was graduated in 1879, the College has announced. Justice Cohen died in 1938.

Zionists to Mark Balfour Pledge

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The National Administrative Council of the Zionist Organization of America, meeting here, unanimously approved a proclamation by Judge Louis E. Levinthal, president of the Z.O.A., calling on all Jews and friends of Palestine throughout America to observe on November 2, the twenty-fourth anniversary of the Balfour Declaration, wherein Great Britain pledged to facilitate the establishment of a Jewish National Home in Palestine.

The meeting was attended by some 120 Council members from all parts of the country and was presided over by Rabbi James G. Heller of Cincinnati, chairman of the Council.

Nazis Capture 1,540 Palestinians

LONDON. — About 1,540 Palestine Jews who were fighting with the British forces in Greece and Crete are presumed to have been captured by the Nazis, it was disclosed in Commons by Captain David Margesson, Secretary of State for War. The number of British captured in these campaigns is difficult to ascertain, Margesson said.

In reply to a question by Col. Josiah Wedgwood concerning reports that the Germans were treating as traitors any captured Palestinians who were formerly of German and Austrian nationality, Captain Margesson stated that there was no evidence of discrimination against any particular category of war prisoners.

Russia Displays Anti-Racial Exhibit

LONDON. — Scorning the "racial exhibitions" which the Nazis produce in Germany and in the cities which they newly acquire, the Russian government has set up an exhibition of its own to prove the absurdity of the racial and "Aryan" theories of the Nazis.

Prepared by Professor Youlak, the exhibition features the wax figures of healthy, blonde, handsome Russian Jewish men and women whose names and addresses are given. These are contrasted with figures of Goebbels and Hitler who are supposed to be "pure Aryans."

A distinguished service medal has also been awarded to M. Salzburg, Royal Air Force flyer, for bravery in an air battle.

Succoth Holiday Starts Sunday Eve

Rhode Island Jewry To Observe Festival

Succoth, the Feast of Tabernacles, the Jewish harvest festival, begins on Sunday evening, October 5, and will be marked by services in synagogues and temples throughout Rhode Island.

Known also as the Feast of Booths, Succoth is observed with the building of booths covered with leaves and twigs, outside of the home and synagogue, to commemorate Israel's forty years of wandering in the desert, when necessity demanded that they live in that type of home. Later the building of these booths took a spiritual significance. They were interpreted as being symbolic of the transitoriness of human life, and the common destiny of all men.

Man's responsibility for his fellow men is implicit in the festival custom. Children bring fruit and produce of the earth into the Synagogue. After services, the offerings are distributed to those in need to make the day a time of thanksgiving for all.

Originally a harvest festival Succoth has become a celebration honoring the spiritual fruits in the field of life. Observed for eight days by Reform Jewry, it is a nine-day festival for the Orthodox and Conservative. The first and last days are holidays marked by special services, while the days between are semi-holidays.

Mrs. Mary Grant, Founder of Miriam Hospital Ass'n, Dies

Funeral services were conducted last Tuesday morning at Temple Beth El, for Mrs. Mary D. Grant, wife of Louis M. Grant, Providence realtor, and organizer of the Miriam Hospital Association which created the hospital, who died on Sunday at her home, 1362 Narragansett boulevard, Edgewood, following a long illness. She was 74 years old.

Mrs. Grant was mother of Max L. Grant, president of Miriam Hospital for 16 years, and of Mrs. Charles C. Brown.

For many years a benefactor of Jewish and other charitable organizations in this city, Mrs. Grant was organizer and founder of the South Providence Ladies' Aid Association, and was one of the organizers of the Jewish Home for the Aged, and Jewish Children's Home of Rhode Island.

In recognition of her work on behalf of the hospital, she was elected first honorary trustee of the Miriam Hospital Association last January, and presented an illuminated scroll.

In December 1937, a dinner was held at the Narragansett Hotel, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Grant on their 50th wedding anniversary. They had both been residents of this city since their marriage, in 1887.

Among Mrs. Grant's charitable activities had been organization of a group which supported free beds at Rhode Island and St. Joseph's Hospitals.

Besides her husband and two children, Mrs. Grant leaves four grandchildren, Miss Barbara Brown and Howard Brown, and Gardner Grant and Mrs. Alfred H. Joslin. She leaves also four sisters, Mrs. Rose Kane and Mrs. Kate Meisel of New York; Mrs. Sarah Payton and Mrs. Rebecca Grant, of this city; and two brothers, Jacob Newman and Morris Newman.

It is the isolationists who declare that Jews or other groups are leading America to war. It is they who would give persecution and excuse. But the way to oppose persecution is to oppose it. Like Marshal Petain, the isolationists are appealing to the victims rather than the persecutors.

If they are really against pogroms and the trimmings in America let them do something to stop the Nazis and the Nazi sympathizers and preachers of race hatred in America instead of adding fuel to the fire.

Louis to Sponsor Fund Against Race Prejudice

NEW YORK. — The Department of Race Relations of the Federal Council of Churches announced this week that Joe Louis would "put up one more fight" — against race prejudice and intolerance — by sponsoring a Joe Louis fund for the department.

Louis had written friends, the department said, that he expected to be called soon to military service and that this might cause his retirement from the ring.

"But before I retire," he wrote, "I want to put up one more fight — the best of my career — to help my people.

"The hardest fight I ever had was against prejudice and intolerance. My people know what I mean. They are all fighting their way up, and I want to open the door of opportunity a little wider for them. I propose to start with my own contribution."

N. Y. Detective to "Deglorify" Gangsters for Movie Industry

NEW YORK. — Detective Barney Ruditsky who figures he made 1000 arrests and was stabbed three times in doing so, is going to Hollywood as technical adviser in movieland's attempt to "deglorify the gangster."

Detective Ruditsky, developed his left and right hooks as a building wrecker before joining the Police Department. His assignment as a patrolman brought him into violent contact with the Pearl Button Gang, West Side hoodlums, who bragged they were cop-fighters. They were, but they never won any fights after they collided with Barney. The boys used to tip their hats to him after he flattened some of the tougher ones in real knock-down-drag-out melees.

A year later as a detective assigned to the Brownsville section of Brooklyn, Detective Ruditsky arrested Abe (Kid Twist) Reles and obtained a five-year conviction against the leader of Murder, Inc.

Partner of Broderick In 1924 he joined the gangster-industrial squad and had as his partner Detective John Broderick who can do a little hitting of his own. This two-man shock force cut a wide swath through the ranks of prohibition gangs.

Crumble yeast in a small bowl, add sugar and dissolve in warm water. Place some of the flour in a mixing bowl. Make a well in the center and add dissolved yeast. Mix with some of the flour and water to make a batter and beat until smooth. Add well-beaten egg, salt, remaining water and mix. Stir in enough additional flour to make a stiff dough. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. Let rise until double in bulk, about 2 hours. Shape into loaves and allow to rise 1 hour. Bake at 375 degrees for 50 to 60 minutes. Brush top of each loaf with slightly diluted egg yolk before baking if you like a nice crusty finish. This recipe makes two large or three small braided loaves.

She's being wed—is Pearl . . .

An attractive leading lady these days in the merry-go-round of pre-nuptial fetes is Pearl Singer, who is being many times dined and partied by a cast of happy friends . . . And then — comes her starring role, when on October 19 at Temple Emanuel, to the tunes of Lohengrin — she will become Mrs. Mitchell Sherwin . . . Wonderful days, these, for Pearl and Mitch, portending a lifetime resplendent with happiness . . .

Thursday, last week, Janice Klein entertained for Pearl at luncheon, given at Carr's . . . The table was beautiful done up, with all sorts of autumnal blossoms for decor . . . Following luncheon, the guests adjourned to the Klein residence on Lloyd avenue for mah jong . . .

Sheer excitement sent a becoming flush to Pearl's cheeks . . . She was fetching in her long torso dress of grey wool, fashioned with a skirt of smoke-screen grey velveteen, which formed two points at the waistline . . . Rosettes of velveteen were used at the draped neckline, and nestled at her shoulder was a lush orchid . . . Her hat was of wine felt, with the new cover-the-neckline back, and a green feather took flight from its crown . . .

Hostess Janice was disarmingly lovely in her pleated frock of black crepe, made with an enormously large collar of white, through which black velvet ribbons were drawn . . . Her chic hat of black was like nothing we've yet seen in these parts . . . At the back, it had a large wing of cut-out black felt, and the crown of the hat itself, was also of the cut-out business . . . She wore a corsage of fragrant blossoms . . .

Mrs. Morris Cohen's titian complexion was heightened by her wool dress of warm beige, with brown buttons as accent . . . And her hat was a large becoming one of luggage brown felt . . . Impeccably tailored was Mrs. Jules Goldsmith's long sleeved wool frock of robinhood red . . . With it, she wore black accessories and a black chapeau . . .

A dress of scampish black, with a necklace and bracelet of gold and bright blue stones, that sparkled madly, was the fashionable choice of Mrs. Elliot Paris . . . On her well-groomed coif — a chimney-square black felt hat, en veil . . . Mrs. Harold Levine wore her yellow plaid suit, with a special flair, and smartly contrasted it with a mannish grey Fedora . . .

crepe, with its patches of velvet, scattered here, there and everywhere over the skirt . . . Sylvia Berger's becoming frock was also of black, and its aqua yoke was applied in minute seed pearls . . . The Peter Pan collar and cuffs were also in aqua . . .

Accent of black velvet, side-by-side with green velvet, zig-zagged its way down and across a black dress, worn by Mrs. Herbert Cohen . . . The toque was of black and white felt . . .

A shirred chiffon skirt, and crepe bodice of cafe black was Mrs. Irving Wattman's selection . . . At the neckline, for adornment's sake, were three buttons of gold, and she wore gold and turquoise jewels . . . On her blonde hair, a Mary Stuart bonnet of black felt . . .

"A wonderful party," cooressed all the guests . . . And, thus is Pearl's memory book being written . . .

Lobby Talk

BY DAVID DEUTCH

Don't listen to talk that General Freyberg, New Zealand hero of Crete and other British tough spots, is not Jewish. His commanding officers may not be anxious to stress his origin, but an unimpeachable source from New Zealand insists that whatever the great soldier may now be he started life a Jew. Now that he's dead, it's revealed that Lou Gehrig's father was Jewish and his mother Catholic. The disclosure came when some members of the family wanted a Jewish burial for the great ball player.

PERSONALIA

Watch the news dispatches for accounts of Dr. Leon Jona, now an officer in the Australian Army on his way to the Palestine front. Appropriate place for the handsome, husky soldier, who resigned as president of the Australian and New Zealand Zionist Federation to fight for democracy. Bloch Publishing Company just released a new book on Jewish humor by Rufus Lears, old-time pen name for the publicity man, Israel Goldberg, the Rufus standing for his red hair. Herbert Kline, the Middle Western Jewish boy who looks like a Nazi and is one of America's greatest cameramen, is doubling in Hollywood between photography for MGM and correspondence for PM, New York's hard-hitting non-advertising sheet.

ODDS AND ENDS

marriage of his attractive younger daughter. When Colonel Josiah Wedgwood left England for a visit to America, the Prime Minister called him in to Downing Street to caution him against repeating his famous Commons speeches assailing the Arabs. Meyer Levin, author of "Citizens" and many another swell novel, is sore. Last year, he submitted a script to his studio jibing at labor relations in a department store. It was turned down as "too controversial." Now he goes into a movie house and sees his same idea in "The Devil and Miss Jones." Every time you cough and take something for it you are contributing to Sidney Hollander, Baltimore Jewish leader. That is, if you remember to take "Rem."

Did you know that out of 1,800 Jews in Helsingfors, Finland, 150 were in the Russo-Finnish War? And did you know that the only valuable Nazis permit Jews of Prague to keep is a wedding ring? And did you know that the Jews of Brussels have not been molested but that the Jews of Antwerp were evacuated and transported to other provinces? Because that is an invasion port? Samuel Glasstone, Englishman who taught physical chemistry at the University of London, is one of the beneficiaries of the "union now" talk flooding the country. He's been named by Princeton University Press as its scientific editor.

Child Prodigy, Only Ten, Admitted Into University

CLEVELAND.—At four months he spoke sentences, at one year he read children's books, and now, ten years old, Kenneth Wolf, although he has never gone to school, has been admitted to Western Reserve University.

After extensive tests the faculty committee on admissions decided "it would be unfair to refuse him." Kenneth's attendance will be restricted to chemistry classes and lectures however.

He said the decision was "merely the fulfillment of one of my ambitions."

"I feel that I was born to be a musician," he commented. "Chemistry is an avocation."

He already has done some composing and has taken piano lessons since he was 2½. Aside from that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Wolf, have given him all his teaching.

Kenneth builds airplane models, plays table tennis, skates, mows the lawn and occasionally toots a trumpet.

Ahavath Sholom Succoth Services

Special Succoth services at the Congregation Ahavath Sholom will begin Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock, Rabbi Morris Silk announced this week. At the Monday morning services, which begin at 8:30 o'clock, Rabbi Silk's sermon will be "The Jewish Dilemma." His afternoon sermon will be "Significance of the Succah Symbols." Tuesday morning services will start at 8:30 o'clock. Rabbi Silk's subject will be "Natures Sermons."

Jewish Officers Stripped of Insignia

Rumanian Govt. Conducts Public Degradation Ceremony

LONDON.—A public ceremony of degradation of 25 Jewish officers of the Rumanian Army, now deprived of rank, was held in the parade ground outside Bucharest, the London press reports. The ceremony, conducted like those in which traitors are arraigned, was held with the accompaniment of beating drums as the entire regiment stood by to watch.

The Jewish officers were marched into the center of the ground as the drums rolled, it is reported. Adjutants stepped forward, tore off their insignia and broke their swords.

As the poignant scene took place a number of the Jews involved broke down from emotion. The greatest number, it is revealed, stood firm, bearing the ordeal with dignity and pride.

No other stigma against the men was given as the reason for the public ignominy they suffered, except that they were Jews.

French Protestants Plead For Jews

NEW YORK.—Vigorous condemnation of the introduction of anti-Semitic laws by the Vichy governments was voiced in the name of the Protestant Church of France, by Marc Boegner, president of the national council of that body, in a letter addressed to the Grand Rabbi in France.

Successful efforts have been made by the Petain government to dissuade the German authorities in Paris from carrying out plans for "mass executions" of Jewish hostages in reprisal for anti-Nazi acts of terror, and some persons, familiar with the rising wave of protest both in occupied and unoccupied France, believe that the old Field Marshal finally realized the danger to his regime of too close an imitation of its German model.

Three Stooges On Metropolitan Stage

Starting today, the Metropolitan Theatre is presenting a stage show headed by the Three Stooges, who came through the courtesy of Columbia Pictures. Also on the stage will be Beatrice Kay, radio's singer of "Gay Nineties" songs, who is starred on the radio program of that title. Sam Donahue and his band, and other stage acts will round out the presentation.

The first-run screen attraction will be "I'll Sell My Life," starring Michael Whalen, Rose Hobart and Joan Woodbury.

Brown to Meet Columbia in N. Y.

With a fighting chance of taming the Columbia Lion in their first major test of Brown's new football coaching regime under J. Neil (Skip) Stahley, thirty-three Bruins will make the trip to New York today for final practice at Baker Field before Saturday's important contest.

Impressed with the spirit and drive shown by the Brown team in its 20-6 opening game victory over Wesleyan last Saturday, despite flaws in execution of the new Stahley system of plays, Brown supporters are confident that Captain Ernie Savignano and his mates will show the Lions a lot of football.

Stahley has scrimmaged the varsity daily this week against the freshmen in order to smooth out the offense, plan the defense against Columbia plays and develop varsity reserves.

William Gordon was up from Virginia this week, visiting his Mom for the holiday. Dr. and Mrs. Murray Botvin, recently of Boston, are taking up residence here. We hear that the George Sandperils will be leaving shortly for an extended visit to California. And from the Far West we received a notice that Mrs. Ida Manekofsky and her daughter, Anne, of Providence are being entertained by many former friends, among whom are the David Hoffmans and the Harry Harris's.

Good Goller

Mrs. Max Winograd of Ledgement captured the net prize in the Women's League Handicap Tournament, held this week at Rhode

The Max Benders are parents of a daughter, born on the 26th, also at the Parade street institution, and a baby girl Joyce Barbara, was welcomed by the Nathan Sandperils on September 26 at Lying-In Hospital. Remember it's your duty to vote at the school committee caucus next Wednesday, voting places are listed on Page 3.

David Deutch tells this story about columnist Dorothy Thompson: On East Broadway some pious Jews who read the Jewish Morning Journal religiously are shaking their heads in admiration and wonder at the fine Yiddish which Dorothy Thompson is writing these days in their paper. One devout patriarch, stroking his beard, was heard saying: "Isn't she a wonderful goye. Think of it! She likes the Jews so much, she has even learned to write Yiddish to prove her friendship!" Miss Thompson's syndicated column appears regularly in the Jewish Journal.

Pressure of Times

In Czechoslovakia, the grapevine reports, even the kindergarten tots know what it's all about. One such youngster, asked by a gestapo inquisitor what he was learning, replied: "They teach us to breathe through our noses and keep our mouths shut. Several columnists have suggested that the New Year should begin in September (coinciding with the Jewish holiday) for this is the season when life seems to take on a new start, and everyone is happy — except school kids. Marshall Field III, the rich Chicago merchant, is reputed to have raised a $5,000,000 bankroll for that town's new morning newspaper, to buck the isolationist and reactionary Chicago Tribune, which now has the field to itself.

Fund Goal Set at $851,780

Budget Based on Minimum Needs

70 Agencies Supported
By 5 Community Chests

Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of the United Campaign of Community Chests, this week announced that the goal of the drive which will benefit the social and health agencies of the five community chests has been set at $851,780. The campaign will get underway on October 20 and will continue through the 29th.

The statement by Dr. Wriston followed a meeting of the United Campaign's board of directors, representing the chests in Cranston, Pawtucket, Providence, Warwick and Woonsocket, and members of the budget committee.

The total figure of $851,780 is slightly above last year's goal, Mr. Wriston stated, emphasizing that the new budget is based on the minimum needs of each of the 70 agencies which are supported by the joint drive of the five community chests.

The Providence-Cranston goal has been set at $669,980 for 1942. This sum represents a net increase of $18,300 over the money raised in these areas last year. The allocations for the other chests were announced as follows: Pawtucket-Blackstone Valley, $112,100; Woonsocket, $53,200; Warwick, $16,500.

S. Foster Hunt, general chairman of the United Campaign, declared after the meeting that the goal set for the coming drive is both reasonable and attainable "in our communities which have an enviable and unequalled record for generosity and patriotism."
