Justice Brandeis

"If we would guide by the light of reason, we must let our minds be bold."

These words express the political, social and legal guideposts which directed Justice Louis Dembitz Brandeis in his defense of the ordinary man.

At first he fought the "curse of bigness." He kept Boston's transportation under the city's direct control; he reduced the consumer's cost of gas; he broke the industrial life-insurance monopoly; he arbitrated the 1910 garment strike in New York; and he exposed the Indian "land-grab" scandal. These were but a few of the battles he fought successfully, as the people's crusader.

Outside the legal sphere, this son of German exiles who fled their native land after the failure of the Revolution of 1848 achieved the respect of men of all faiths by his stern adherence to his own religious beliefs. Often called America's outstanding Jew, he became a leader of the Zionist movement, devoting time, energy and money to this cause.

The civilized world mourns the passing of Justice Brandeis. A few years ago a reporter wrote the following descriptive words which characterize his life:

"Few judges have been so conversant with the framework of the law. Few have found the law less a prison. To him it was a window through which he looked upon the world — a wide window through which he can see men and women marching toward a far horizon of peace and justice."

De Gaulle Names Jew to Cabinet

LONDON. — Rene Cassin, a French Jew, is among eight members of the Free French National Council formed here by General Charles de Gaulle to share with him the responsibility for the policy and administration of Free France. Cassin has been selected to hold the post of National Commissioner of Justice and Education in the Council. Demanding "the outlawing of Jews," the Nazi-controlled Paris radio broadcast a violent anti-Semitic attack in connection with the appointment of Cassin.

The anti-Jewish decrees issued by the Vichy government in France were declared null and void by Gen. De Gaulle immediately following the formation of the Free French Council.

Portland Bars First Committee

PORTLAND, Ore. — Senator Burton K. Wheeler and all other members of the America First Committee were barred from speaking in public buildings of this city by votes of the City Council first and then by the Board of Education. "Inimical to national defense," was the reason given for turning down an application for one of the school auditoriums.

Jewish Student Executed in France

LONDON. — Michelis Rolnikas, one of the hostages executed by the Nazis in Paris is revealed as a graduate of Hebrew gymnasium in Lithuania, and a doctor of laws of the Sorbonne. Rolnikas was well known in student circles in Paris before the war as a brilliant speaker and an active anti-Nazi.

World Mourns Louis D. Brandeis

Noted Liberal Jurist, 84, Succumbs to Heart Attack
WASHINGTON. — Often called one of the greatest liberals in the history of the Supreme Court, Louis Dembitz Brandeis, retired Associate Justice, died at his residence here last Sunday evening. At his bedside were Mrs. Brandeis, and their two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Brandeis Rauschenbusch of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Susan Brandeis Gilbert, a judge in New York City.

Justice Brandeis, whose name was many times linked in dissents with the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, would have been 85 years old on November 13.

In frail health even before his retirement, Justice Brandeis had been little heard of during the last two years, though his close friends in public and private life kept in touch with him constantly.

Ironic Fate Hits At Refugee Girl

NEW YORK. — After fleeing Nazi terror across three continents to safety, nineteen-year-old Tamia Chagan was killed one day last week in an automobile accident in Brooklyn.

As the Polish refugee stepped from a Flatbush avenue trolley at Avenue T, shortly after midnight, she was struck by an auto, and died four hours later in Kings County Hospital.

When the accident occurred, Miss Chagan, her parents, and her brother, were returning to their home at 2137 E. 36th street, Brooklyn, after visiting friends in Manhattan to exchange Jewish holiday greetings.

Relatives said that the girl's father had been a wealthy glass manufacturer in Cracow, Poland. The family came here via Siberia and Japan.

Jewish Prisoners Maltreated by Nazis

LONDON. — Nazis are discriminating against Jewish prisoners, according to the London Sunday Chronicle. Captured Jewish soldiers, particularly from the Russian front, are being segregated from the non-Jews and are being maltreated to a greater degree than other soldiers, the Chronicle asserted.

Supply Council Denies Prejudice

WASHINGTON. — The British Supply Council this week made known that while their organizations "would obviously be negligent in their duties if they did not take special precautions in selecting their employees," the precautions "never included, nor will they include, any religious discrimination."

Witnesses before a Senate subcommittee investigating charges of war propaganda in the movies last week said Jews, Germans and South Irish could not get jobs at the British agency.

Classes are divided into two periods, the first consisting of four graded courses in Hebrew, and the second devoting itself to Jewish life and letters. Dr. Braude will lecture on "The Beauty of the Psalms" in the original translation, based on the great Jewish commentators, at sessions held from October 15, to November 5. Starting November 12 to December 10, Rabbi Bilgray will present "Modern Jewish Life in Fiction," a study of Jewish problems as reflected in five novels. Beginning with January 7, 1942, until February 4, at Temple Beth Israel, Rabbi Schussheim will portray "Five Named Moses," biographies of personalities who molded Jewish History.

Enrollment in the school is open to all interested women. Students completing the prescribed courses for three years will be granted certificates based on a National Standard of Certification.

Isolationist Tactics Scored as Subversive

BOSTON. — A protest against a distribution of political propaganda under Congressional franking was voiced by the Life Insurance Advertisers Association in its meeting in Boston recently. By a unanimous vote, the Executive Committee was instructed to write members of the Congressional Committees on Post Offices and Post Roads, urging an investigation of seeming abuse of the franking privilege by a small minority of members of Congress.

"Members of our organization, and other citizens, have been receiving a flood of excerpts from the Congressional Record under Congressional frank," said the letter to the Congressional committees.

"The material, which opposes the announced foreign policy of the United States, and much of which is frankly anti-British in character, is printed at the expense of isolationist organizations, but is mailed at the expense of the taxpayers of the United States under the franking privilege of a handful of members of Congress who happen to oppose aid to Britain."

R. I. Refugee Service To Meet

Walter Adler, president of the Rhode Island Refugee Service, this week announced that the Third Annual Meeting of that organization, will occur on October 26 at the Jewish Community Center.

William P. Herman heads the program committee for that meeting, assisted by Mrs. I. S. Low, Mrs. Meyer Tenenbaum, Perry Bernstein, J. I. Cohen and Mr. Adler.

A slate of officers for the ensuing season will be presented by Mrs. Saul Abrams, chairman of the nominating committee. Her committee includes Irving J. Fain, Rabbi William G. Braude, Mrs. Howard Presel, Ernst Nathan and Dr. Louis I. Kramer.

2,000 Boys Join Agricultural Squads

LONDON. — Two thousand Palestine Jewish youths, too young to join the military forces, are digging for victory in the hills and plains of the Holy Land, according to A. Hartzfeld, director of Merkaz Chaklai, Agricultural Workers Organization affiliated with the Histadruth, Palestine Labor Federation.

The agricultural producing capacity and output of the country are of military importance, Palestine, in view of the present situation in the Middle East, must become not only self-sufficient but must also be able to produce for the troops stationed there.

No Registered Mail to Poland

NEW YORK. — Jews living in Warsaw, Poland, now a Nazi principality, may not receive registered mail. This is the new edict of the Nazi oppressors, it was made known today by the American Jewish Congress.

A letter by one of its representatives to a former prominent personality in Warsaw, was returned to its sender after a six weeks round, with the imprint in French "registered letters may not be sent to Jews." This notice is signed by the postal bureau of Warsaw. Underneath it is the seal of the Nazi war command.

JDC to Establish Loan Institutions

Emissary Sent To South America

NEW YORK. — To help refugees from Nazism who have emigrated to South American countries achieve economic independence, and become useful residents of their new homelands, the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee is sending a member of its overseas staff there to cooperate with local leaders in the establishment of credit cooperatives and free loan banks, it was announced here this week by Alexander A. Landesco, chairman of the organization's Committee on Reconstruction Activities.

Noel Aronovici, who has been associated with the J.D.C. since 1919, left last Saturday for a trip of eight to ten months' duration through South America. He will travel first to Ecuador and later will visit Peru, Brazil, Bolivia, Chile, Uruguay and Argentina. Mr. Aronovici's main tasks will be to help communities set up credit cooperative societies and free loan banks, or "kassas," for service to refugees.

Storage Unpaid, Belongings of Refugees Sold at Auction

STATEN ISLAND. — Another echo of the war's tragedy resounded here this week, when the household goods of ten refugee families went under the hammer, in a public auction in the Foreign Trade Zone. The furnishings are being sold for non-payment of storage charges.

Here are their belongings—inlimate fancies of the home. But, where are the refugees? Harry E. Loree, the auctioneer, said some have been traced and others whose goods are to be sold have representatives here. Usually, it is because they cannot afford to pay the charges. It is another unhappy reminder of their plight, for the storage charges are not excessive.

The goods being sold have remained untouched for two years. Only in two instances have owners responded. They are given 60 days notice of sale if abroad, 30 days if in this country. Each family's goods are identified and the receipts of the auction sale are credited to that lot. If the receipts are in excess of the storage charges the difference is deposited with the State Department in Washington and held in escrow for the family. They may obtain these funds on application and proof of ownership.

There were 641 items in the sale and two outstanding lots were the belongings of Dr. Eric Wolfenstein and Dr. Peter

Freund, the former a physician, the latter a philosopher. Dr. Wolfenstein, released soon after the beginning of the war from a concentration camp, somehow managed to pack his goods and get out of Germany in the required 48 hours. Now in the British Army, the only word they have had from him came a month ago saying, "Sell my goods."

The lot belonging to Mr. Freund has been under discussion for some six months. Dr. Freund, who is in Palestine, had a representative here who understood that in the philosopher's items was a Rubens painting. He asked to examine the van, but this is not permitted. He finally had to agree to the sale, and Mr. Loree said, was relieved when no Rubens painting was found.

ed for his logic, surprising intellectual energy, and extraordinary ability to obtain the basic facts in legal controversies.

Since his retirement, he had spent most of his time at his residence, where he devoted himself largely toward consideration of the problems of Jews, whose plight during the European war and under the Nazi persecutions affected him intensely.

Mrs. Mary Grant

DEAR EDITOR:

The death of Mrs. Mary Grant has removed from our community an outstanding figure, and a pioneer.

It was with the deepest sorrow that I learned last week of Mrs. Grant's sudden passing. Having visited her only a short time ago, I found her, even though very ill, nonetheless alert and aware of things. I had not known she was so near the end.

By the death of Mary Grant, Jewish women are deprived of one of the most able and devoted charitable leaders, particularly her beloved Miriam Hospital Association, of which she was founder.

Mrs. Grant had profound knowledge of community needs and communal conditions. She stood at the very cradle of the founding of the Jewish Orphanage. It was she who felt the desolation and desertion of innocent children. Through her devotion and determination, the Orphanage came into being.

I feel great sorrow in having lost a sincere friend, a counselor, and an inspiration, with whom I had happily worked during the past forty-two years. Her blessed memory will long be missed by the Community and by her friend—

BETTY WOOLF

Justice Brandeis

DEAR EDITOR:

I am deeply grieved at the death of that illustrious son of Israel, Justice Louis D. Brandeis. The simplicity of his very being bespoke his character and added to his charm.

I was a boy and he was a man of middle age when I made my first contact with him, over twenty years ago, and was awed by his presence. I looked up to him almost to a point of worship, and sought his counsel and advice in the early days of the Young Judaean movement, at about the time when he became actively interested in the Zionist Organization of America. It was he who gave me his personal consent to the naming after him of one of my largest Jewish Youth Groups, the Brandeis Young Judaicans in Philadelphia, and his interest in this and other groups never waned.

On my frequent trips to Washington, I was graciously received by him at his home, Stoneleigh Court, and sometimes in the chamber of the Supreme Court.

Our correspondence continued throughout the years, and I shall forever treasure the many personal letters which I possess. He was indeed my guiding agent and I thank God for the privilege which was mine to sit at his feet, and to have received his blessings for the work which I was doing.

I consider his death a personal loss. A great void has been left, not only in my life, but in the lives of millions of Jews who mourn his passing. A prince of Israel has fallen. We shall never look upon his like again. May he receive his just reward in the heavenly spheres, and may his memory be for a blessing.

Things I Just Found Out About Newspaper Features

The California legislature in 1899 passed a law prohibiting publication of cartoons in newspapers. . . Only one important daily newspaper doesn't run comic strips — the New York Times. . . The most universally popular story, "Robinson Crusoe," and the most influential American novel, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," (it is credited with fomenting the Civil war) appeared first as newspaper serials.

The first serial in an American newspaper was Defoe's "A Religious Courtship," in a Pennsylvania gazette. It wasn't completed because the agnostic Ben Franklin took over the paper and threw it out. . . Franklin published the first newspaper cartoon in this country. . . Paul Revere was a newspaper cartoonist. So were John Barrymore and Gary Cooper.

Early U. S. newspapers took care of "syndication" themselves. They clipped freely from each other, and anything good that appeared, for example, in Thomas Fleet's excellent Boston Post was sure to be republished throughout the Colonies. Fleet, by the way, put stories told to his son by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Goose, into a book and made her the immortal Mother Goose. But Fleet's paper printed no story of the Battles of Lexington and Concord in its next issue, because, "The unhappy transactions of last week are so variously related that we shall not at present undertake to give any particular account thereof!"

The first popular serial writers were Horatio Alger Jr. and Mary Jane Holmes, developed by the N. Y. Sun. And, believe it or not, the 60-year-old "Lena Rivers," by Miss Holmes, last year topped sales of Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls" and Roberts' "Oliver Wiswell". . . The longest novel in history is Adele Garrison's (real name, Mrs. Martin White) story of one couple's married life, called "Pitfalls of Love." It has appeared in newspapers every week-day since 1915 — more than 5,750,000 words.

For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

Fashion makes concessions
To National Defense
But she won't adhere
To common sense

Wide variety in coat and suit silhouettes this fall presages the American character — its spontaneous expression of individuality, its utter disregard of regimentation . . . No polls necessary on this subject, thank you . . . It writes itself boldly in the American fashion picture for 1941 . . . Fashion says we exist as distinct entities and fashion stems from what people are thinking . . .

Since this distinctive view is being expressed in current fashions, you may sally forth with happy expectancy, to find your coat, your suit, your costume . . . It can be definitely your own . . . But, if you must have some kind of a yardstick, the silhouette that tends to be most in demand is that which stresses a slimmer, straighter line, with an easy look and feel above the waist, smooth shoulders, and a narrower skirt . . .

Shoulders will not droop, but they will certainly verge more on the ladylike side than the extremely wide shoulders which (we wondered how) loomed so bulbously on the fashion horizon last year . . . As Mainbocher indicates, "Chic women want to leave the masculine shoulders to the men."

Let's have a look at the dress parade . . . It suits its step to the tempo of the day, and keeps one eye in the direction of the practical . . . Bent on this determination, one of the shops showed a group of women's clothes cut after the abrupt fashion of workmen and mechanics . . . Apparently they faded out with the window display . . . It is not this showy kind of practicality that will appeal to women . . .

But the narrow skirt, the slim silhouette, changes in fabrics available, concessions to the needs of defense — these are different affairs . . . In the Palm Beach and and spring collections, the changing fabric supply situation in a world where defense comes first, will be marked . . . But we shall take them wholeheartedly in our stride . . .

One indication of today's fashions is that skirt lengths appear

Lou Holtz At Metropolitan Theatre

Lou Holtz of "Sam Lapidus" fame, headlines a gala stage show at the Metropolitan Theatre. Holtz, who was discovered by Elsie Janis, has spent more time on "The other fellow's" radio program than any other star in show business.

The feminine touch on the Met Stage will be Ruth Terry, singing star of stage and screen. Carl Hoff and his orchestra will also appear, featuring Dot Murphy and Tony Russell, a Providence boy. Erik Rhodes will be an added feature as will the Billingtons, a dancing team.

The first run screen attraction will be "The Great Train Robbery," featuring Bob Steele and Claire Carleton.

to be moving downward, not violently to be sure, but at any rate, they are not any shorter . . . "Nine off the floor" is a new length particularly good in dresses that you will wear to dinner and on into the evening . . . Usually dresses have a touch of sparkle about them — bright jet or paillettes on revers, on pocket edges, or on belts, but the glitter is not on the showy side . . .

Draped hiplines give a dramatic touch to many of the dresses . . . Peplums of all varieties are much in evidence . . . They have a saucy flair about them, you almost feel they're talking back to you . . . (P. S. Mebbe they are!)

Going over the social calendar a few minutes ago, we were reminded to remind you about that lovely affair being planned by the Beth El Sisterhood . . . It's a dessert bridge and mah jong, to be held at the Broad and Glenham street Temple, on October 27, and it promises to be a perfect party . . .

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Judge Louis E. Levinthal, president of the Zionist Organization of America, announced the appointment of Simon Shetzer, of Detroit, Mich., as executive director of the Organization. Coughlinite Heads Portland College

DETROIT. — Coughlin's pal, the outspoken anti-Semite Dr. George Hermann Derry of this city, has been elected President of St. Joseph's College in Portland, Maine.

Dr. Derry was candidate for Congress in 1940 on the Democratic ticket and was opposed by both Jews and non-Jews for his anti-Semitic views. He ran a poor third in spite of the strong Catholic vote in his district.

From 1927 to 1937 Dr. Derry was president of Marygrove College here. It is believed that his economic views and his aroused antagonism among Catholic dignitaries. He was often in Coughlin's company, and de-

Urge Law to Bar All Race Prejudice

Dorothy Thompson Backs Proposal

NEW YORK. — Dorothy Thompson, famous woman columnist whose status in American life was amply revealed by an overflow meeting at Carnegie Hall which greeted her on her return from England, urged that racial agitation be barred by law in the United States.

Reviewing the efforts made to confuse the American public mind in recent months, Miss Thompson said: "The race issue is being introduced into the debate on foreign policy in the exact Nazi manner. Do you want to prevent race riots and race persecutions? Then stop agitation to racial persecution and stop it by law. Free speech does not give men the right to cry fire in a crowded theatre nor should it give men the power to incite citizens to the persecution and eventual murder of each other in the face of an advancing foe."

During her lengthy address covering every aspect of the international situation, especially with reference to Britain, Miss Thompson branded Scribners-Commentator a "Nazi monthly." She referred to The Herald, published in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin as "nothing more or less than a veiled Stuermer."

Soviet Permits Outside Contacts

GENEVA. — Plans to enable Russian Jewry to resume contact they lost with Jews of other countries after the outbreak of the Soviet revolution some 25 years ago are now being formulated in Moscow by a Jewish committee organized there as a result of the recent great Jewish rally in the Soviet capital.

The Jewish committee is now engaged in working out the future policy of Soviet Jewry, the report states.

The committee has, among other things, approached the Soviet authorities with a suggestion that they abstain from anti-religious propaganda and has succeeded in securing the suspension of atheist activities. For the first time this Rosh Hashonah no anti-religious campaign was conducted in Soviet Russia.

Bear Varsity Meets R. I. State Sat.

Henry Pilote, the forgotten man of last year's Brown varsity squad, will have his first real chance to show his ball carrying ability for the Bear varsity in this Saturday's intra-state tussle with Rhode Island State, at Brown Field, starting at 2 p. m.

Pilote is a medium-sized back, standing 5-10½ and weighing 167 pounds. He was the star passer of the 1939 freshman eleven, while at Whitman High he passed and did most of the kicking. At Kents Hill he played a lot of football on the same eleven with George Delaney, Brown end, and Henry Ashley, reserve center, who is his Brown roommate. He played at Kents Hill the year before Jay Pattee and Ormand Muzroll, promising sophomores on the Brown squad, competed here.

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

An ideal holiday week-end is taking half the town out of town 'till Tuesday . . . Some folks are packing heavy clothes, and heading for the Canadian border, others are following the football games, but we're willing to wager the grand exodus is to New York . . . If you have any friends you haven't seen for ages, Manhattan's the likely place you'll meet them . . . Out of a population of seven million, you'll probably run smack into them on Broadway . . .

Fall Nuptials

Aileen Gilman and Howard Kane will recite their vows the middle of this month, we understand . . . Another forthcoming marriage is that of Doris Cooper, of the West Barrington Coopers, to Al Kouffman of this city . . . The latter will probably occur in November . . . Friends full of well wishes streamed into the Logan's residence on Wingate road last Saturday nite, to honor Shirley Logan and James Young on their recent betrothal . . . Spotted in the enormous crowd were the Nat Cohens, the Kane families, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Starr . . . The Ralph Krauss's . . . The Markoff family . . . Selma Krasnow . . . Dick Loebenberg . . . Dr. and Mrs. Stan Loebenberg . . . Bunny Markoff . . . Seymour Coplan . . . Allynne and Norman Alper . . . Fanny and Julie Bloom . . . Rabbi and Mrs. Albert Bilgray . . . Libby and Murray Broskofsky, and untold dozens of others . . .

News Notes

Sylvia Soforenko is planning to attend the Yale-Penn State game in New Haven on Saturday . . . Word was received this week at the Herald offices of the death of Mrs. Sara Ostrow, wife of Manuel W. Ostrow, former superintendent of the Jewish Home for Aged . . . Mrs. Ostrow died in Austin, Texas, where Mr. Ostrow conducts a business . . . Herman Cronson of this city, will be leaving soon for Los Angeles, California, where he'll make his permanent home . . .

Housewarmer

A gay housewarming party, that lasted far into the nite, was tendered Hilda and Ben Ruttenberg by their numerous friends, last Saturday nite . . . The Ruttenbergs have moved into their new home on Clarendon avenue, and were presented with a sterling silver fruit bowl by the guests, among whom were Cordy and Mildred Blumenthal . . . the Bert Bernhards . . . Edythe and Sam Harin . . . Mildred and Bill Silverman . . . Lil and Ben Levin . . . Dr. and Mrs. Sam Pritzker . . . Selma and Herman Bennett . . . Bert and Ben Salter . . . the Bernie Abedons . . . the Victor Livingstones . . . the Irving Solomons . . . and the Al Pilavins . . .

Miscellaneous

The Philip Polofskys became proud parents of a daughter on the fifth at Miriam Hospital . . . The mother, before her marriage, was Irene Green . . . A goodly-sized crowd attended and enjoyed the Center Players presentation of "The Gentle People," last Wednesday nite . . . The leads, Sid Long and Carolyn Backerman, who handled their roles deftly, were ably assisted by a fine supporting cast . . . Folks are still giggling over that "turkish bath strip-tease" scene, which featured "Gypsy Rose" Priest, and "Ann Corio" Lisker . . . Spotted in the audience were the Saul Abrams . . . Dr. and Mrs. Harry Dimond . . . Sophie and Phil Lieberman . . . Leo Sonkin . . . Dr. Alex Weinberg . . . Jeanette Markoff . . . Florence and Henry Markoff . . . Dr. Bud Lewis . . . Mildred Robinson . . . Ida and Bella Rubinstein . . . Hadassah Thrift Luncheon to Benefit Child Welfare Work

A Thrift Luncheon, a pioneer project in Providence, is being planned by Providence Chapter of Senior Hadassah, for November 4 in the Ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel, it was announced this week by Mrs. Hillel Hassenfeld, chairman of the event.

With an admission charge of $1.29, the luncheon will be a sample of the thrift luncheons served by Hadassah to children in Palestine for the sum of nine cents. Each woman, by supporting the affair, will be contributing to Palestine Child Welfare Work, that is, the feeding of ten or eleven children in school luncheon services, aimed to set high standards in child health, through health education, child care and instruction of mothers in the science of dietetics and nutrition.

This project, Mrs. Hassenfeld, explained, has been successfully conducted in hundreds of cities throughout the country.

Mrs. Henry Hassenfeld is assisting as co-chairman, while Mrs. Bert Bernhardt is treasurer. A committee meeting is being held today at Mrs. Hassenfeld's residence on Balton road.

Commentator Reveals Klan Plans to Resume Activities

NEW YORK. — The anti-Catholic, anti-Negro and anti-Semitic Ku Klux Klan has launched an undercover nation-wide campaign for $1,000,000 to resume its activities, it was reported by Burnet Hershey, New York radio commentator, who said that the Klan has already been given $100,000 of this amount.

Mr. Hershey charged that the funds will be used "to renew the racial and religious warfare which made the Klan a notorious national disgrace about 17 years ago."

"The Klan's present program is much larger than its former plan," he said, "since it can never work in cooperation with the general attack of racial and religious groups which is being fomented by the undercover propaganda agents of Berlin and acquiesced in by certain American committees."

"The Klan's primary attack, as was shown by the issue of the official Klan paper, the Fiery Cross, will center on American Catholics. The American First Committee is apparently centering its attack on Jews. In good Nazi strategy these attacks will merely precede a later, joint attack on Negroes.

"The question which ought to interest the American public is: Who gave this $100,000 to the Klan for subversive conspiracies against the Constitution of the U. S. A.? Who is behind this plot against the Catholic, the Negro and the Jewish citizens of this country? If any of the $100,000 was donated by agents of Adolf Hitler, that fact should be made known and proper legal steps taken by the Federal authorities."

BLUE CROSS MEMBERS

Membership in the Rhode Island Blue Cross non-profit hospital service plan has passed 65,000 as the result of record-breaking enrollment during the month of September, Stanley H. Saunders, executive director of the plan, announced today.

BETH-ISRAEL SERVICES

Regular services for the last days of Succoth will be conducted by Temple Beth Israel on Sunday evening, Monday morning and evening, and Tuesday morning at the Jewish War Veterans building. A Simchath Torah party will be held for children of the children of the Temple on Sunday night.

FUND WORKERS

Several hundred staff workers of Community Fund agencies will meet at the Jewish Community Center next Wednesday morning, to discuss methods of cooperation with the Community Fund. J. I. Cohen, executive director of the Center, is this year heading the fund agencies division.

WORKERS ALLIANCE

A Simchath Torah meeting was held by Jewish Workers Alliance on Thursday night at 385 Westminster street, at which time Morris Shoham presented a lecture on Kohelet. Mrs. Harry Chaet was in charge of hostesses.

Blame U. S. for Yellow Badge Law

BERNE. — In an attempt to combat the dissatisfaction prevailing among many Germans in Berlin over the yellow badge imposed upon the Jews in Germany last week, Nazi officials have started a whispering campaign explaining that the Yellow Mogen David was introduced for Jews in Germany in retaliation for the fact that every German citizen in America must wear a Nazi swastika on his left breast.

The campaign at the same time serves to arouse the Germans against the United States (by implying that German citizens are persecuted in America as Jews are in Germany).

Voices

DELIVERED ANYWHERE IN PERFECT CONDITION

Though there's been a great deal of improvement since the first telephone, some things about it are still hard to believe.

For instance, when you want to talk to someone miles and miles away — much, much further than you could possibly shout — it's hard to believe that your voice can be carried that distance by just holding the mouthpiece within half an inch of your lips and talking in ordinary, conversational tones. There's an almost irresistible impulse not to trust the telephone and shout anyway.

Of course, that is wrong because shouting just gives the telephone more volume to carry than it was designed for. Matter of fact . . . telephone scientists and engineers have worked for years to make the transmission of the normal voice perfectly normal . . . easy and natural as your conversational tones.
