

EditorialsWanted - An Idea

Within the week numerous commentators have advanced the theory that Nazism's defeat could be hastened by launching an idea greater than Hitler's epic idea of world domination.

Louis Adamic and the Christian Science Monitor believe that Goebbels' article, trying to arouse fear in the German people, is the tip-off that a sincere campaign of ideas is necessary now to win over the dominated population of Europe.

This "back to the wall" pep talk that Nazi propagandists are employing does not mean that Hitler is at the end of his rope. But it does suggest how tremendously important it is for the Allies to develop more concrete plans for a better world after the war is over. It is up to the Allied strategists to prove that Hitler's defeat will be better for Germany than Hitler's victory.

It will not be easy to do. But when Dr. Goebbels resorts to fear, it means that the time has come to start showing the German people that they should welcome defeat as relief from oppression rather than fear it as the beginning of bondage.

Bomber's Barbecue

When a British bomber blasted a war plant in the Danish town of Skive recently, a Bulletin from British reports, Goebbels, in a panic of underestimation issued a communique saying that no damages were done except that a cow had been hit.

The local paper, Skive Folkeblad, dutifully carried the communique, then commented simply: "The cow burned for four days."

Fascist Meeting Broken Up By White-Haired Son of Ire

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y. — An anti-Semite was put to a humiliating rout by a reputed descendant of the last King of Ireland when Joe McWilliams, leader of the Fascist American Destiny party, and 25 of his helpless cohorts were driven out of the Irish and American Hall here by white-haired Thomas J. O'Connor.

Having heard that McWilliams had leased the Hall for a rally, Mr. O'Connor, inspired by his "course of duty," went to work.

"I got down to that hall as fast as I could," explained the son of Ire. "I wasn't sure just what I was going to do — but somebody had to do something," the Irishman declared.

Finding 25 listeners sitting in the audience, Mr. O'Connor left the hall, shut the door and called police. Then McWilliams and his army arrived. Asked to step aside, the aggressive O'Connor, who later called it all "purely a question of Americanism," bewildered the anti-Semite with a half-hour discourse, during which time countless legal questions were discussed and the proud heritage of Mr. O'Connor was revealed.

McWilliams insisted that he had hired the hall for $5. Mr. O'Connor said he had leased the hall. By the time the matter was clarified, the police had come and the American Destiny meeting was broken up. McWilliams numbled that "the Jews broke up our meeting."

The perspiring hero declared that "my royal ancestor couldn't have done more."

Nazis Sell Aryan Certificates for $25

NEW YORK. — Nazi corruption in occupied Poland has become so rampant that for 125 zlotys (about 25) a Jew can purchase a certificate exempting him from compulsory labor service, according to a report published in the November issue of the Free World.

The magazine, which stated that it could "guarantee the truth of this story, but to safeguard the underground movement we purposely refrain from giving details," added that Nazi officials in Poland are selling documents exempting Jews from wearing a yellow "mogen david" for 500 zlotys.

Seek "Jew-free" Reich by April 1Consider Deportation Of 120,000 to Poland

BERLIN. — A fourth wave of anti-Semitism in eight years of Nazi rule, reportedly, aimed at creating a "Jew-free Reich" by April 1, threatened Germany's remaining 120,000 Jews with wholesale deportation to Poland, the United Press said this week.

In the present anti-Jewish drive it is said that more than a score of would-be Jewish suicides, in Berlin hospitals, are treated every week.

It is understood that 1000 more Jewish families in Berlin within the last few days have received a "visit" at night by Gestapo agents bringing notice that they are to vacate their apartments.

Upon receiving this notice, they must immediately fill out a form listing to the smallest detail all their money, household furnishings and personal property.

Their bank accounts and all other financial assets are forfeited to the Reich. Their apartments are sealed by the Gestapo and all their furniture, clothing and other belongings beyond "normal property" are later auctioned publicly. There have been scores of these auctions in Berlin in recent weeks.

Efforts of the Klan to inject itself into our local unions should be resisted to the utmost. . . . J D C Gets Bulk of Estate When Town Refuses Bequest

NEW YORK. — The Joint Distribution Committee, becomes the principal beneficiary of the estate of Mrs. Lena Cohen of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who died twenty years ago, by a court decision in Wilkes-Barre.

The decision awarded to the J.D.C. approximately $74,400, of which $33,000 represents the principal and $44,000 represents the accumulated income.

Mrs. Lena Cohen, a resident of Wilkes-Barre, had left her estate, when she died in 1921, to "the town and inhabitants of Bromberg, in the province of Posen, Poland, for the care of aged Jewish men and women." The town of Bromberg having refused to accept the legacy when it was approached shortly after Mrs. Cohen's death, the estate lay dormant in Pennsylvania banks for a generation until the J.D.C. applied for the funds under the "Cy-Pres" doctrine.

PROCLAMATION THANKSGIVING DAY

By J. Howard McGrath, Governor

The thanks giving of the colonists of three hundred and twenty years ago comes to us as a heritage no less precious than the liberty of action and opportunity for individual enterprise for which these pioneers literally and figuratively blazed the trail.

Their thanks giving was acknowledgement to our common God of the debt they owed Him for the bounty of the harvest and for protection from dangers.

In its essence the spirit of the day has never changed though it has expanded with the passing of time and the flood tide of human progress over this land of such humble beginnings.

It has been less a day and more a dedication. A very human and personal tribute, it is universal with the sanction of the nation and the blessing of our churches.

While it offered gratitude for the past, it sought guidance for the future. Again while it sought direction for enterprise that would send youth to the far frontiers of adventure, the day commanded their return for a renewal of family ties about our American firesides.

In order to promote such reunion especially for those in their country's service who find it possible to return — so that sacrificing families and these most truly American of our youth may share this holy day of happiness.

NOW, THEREFORE, DO I, J. HOWARD McGRATH, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND AND PROVIDENCE PLANTATIONS, PROCLAIM

THURSDAY, THE TWENTIETH DAY OF NOVEMBER as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer proclaiming it with deep sincerity and belief that the citizens of this state and of our Republic are awake to the gravity of the hour; alive to our gratitude to those of every arm of the service whose normal lives have been disturbed that we may have repose, yet aware of our own duty to defend with our lives, if need be the precious freedom for which we give thanks to Almighty God this 1941 November.

The precious freedom of thought and speech; freedom to thank God for preservation from peril; for health, strength of mind, body and spirit; for rooftop and rafters; for hearthstone; for tried, true friendship, neighborliness; for plenty; for peace. These, the purposes of our first Thanksgiving, let them be the prayer of our present.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State to be affixed this fifth day of November in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, and of Independence the one hundred and sixty-sixth.

Margarita to Play In Harvard Game

Bobby Margarita, Brown's hinge-hipped sophomore ball-carrier, is expected to return to action in the Brown backfield for Saturday's objective game with a highly favored Crimson eleven at the Harvard Stadium. The Bruins missed Margarita greatly in the 19-0 defeat by Holy Cross, as Margarita has been the team's leading ground gainer and punter as well as the signal caller.

Margarita's value to the Brown eleven in running back kicks is also an important factor, as illustrated by the Lafayette game in which Margarita scored twice on runbacks of a kick-off 90 yards and of a punt 55 yards. Margarita's return to action should improve the spirit of the Bruin's who will have to play their best football of the season to make a real showing against the powerful Crimson.

"The Gods Help Them that Help Themselves"

Our ancestors long ago bought charms and amulets as a kind of insurance against bad luck. But many an ancient proverb shrewdly points out this fact: those who prosper most are generally people who use foresight and common sense.

Certain forms of "bad luck" can be expected in every life. You know that sooner or later a house will need repairs

.. sooner or later, there'll be some emergency like unexpected illness, with all the worry of bills for care and medicines.

It's wise to set up a fund for contingencies long before the actual need arises. And it's easy to establish such a fund, when you set aside part of your earnings at Old Colony — on a weekly, monthly or save-as-you-can basis.

"Be feminine and natural in '42 . . ."

So says John Powers — and he does mean you . . .

The 1942 gal won't wear slacks, and she won't have short hair . . . But, she won't be a slinky glamour girl, either . . . According to John Powers, the authority on female beauty, next year's girl will be feminine . . . Her concessions to defense and war work will be along the lines of naturalness . . .

She'll makeup very sparingly . . . She won't go in for wacky hairdos, and she'll go easy on wackier hats . . . But wear a hat she will — on all occasions, and she'll wear gloves, too . . .

"Let the glamour girl stay in California," declares Mr. Powers . . . "We want girls, as natural, everywhere else . . ."

"I recommend a conservative feminine type because of today's hectic world," Mr. Powers says: "A woman's greatest quality is her femininity . . . If she has long hair and it's becoming, let her keep it."

On the whole, Mr. Powers favors the neck-length bob, but he thinks every woman should arrange her hair to suit her individuality . . . It particularly upsets him to see women copying personalities, whether in hair styles or clothes . . .

As to the much discussed subject of makeup, he believes that lipstick must follow the contour of the mouth and that eye-shadow is absolutely taboo during daylight hours . . .

Rouge? . . . "Next year's wholesome outdoor girl will walk, and that will put colour in her cheeks . . . She won't need an artificial glow." . . . And while she's walking, Mr. Powers ventures, she keeps her figure trim . . . He does not predict a return to the buxom figure of some years back, despite the fact that the government says people should start home defense by consuming more food . . .

The connoisseur of beauty is violently, yes vehemently, opposed to slacks . . . "I just can't picture a woman with slacks," said he . . . Nor does he care much for moccasins . . . A 2½ inch heel pleases him better — 'cause it's feminine . . .

As an example of naturalness, Mr. Powers cited the Duchess of Windsor as the natural though sophisticated type . . . She can wear this fall's elaborate evening clothes and jewels with the ease and grace that goes with naturalness . . . On the other hand, a college girl in the same elaborate get-up would be anything but well-poised . . . It wouldn't fit her personality . . . She should wear the bouffant type of evening dress, which is girlish and simple, even though dotted with flirting sequins . . .

As a parting shot, Mr. Powers gives this formula: "Forget glamour; be yourself; be an individual, and all else above — BE FEMININE . . ."

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

There may be virtues in the weather of November
But whether there are any — we can't remember . . .

As a month of holidays, November is very okay, what with Election Day . . . Armistice Day . . . and a double-yolk Thanksgiving Day . . . But as concerns weather — that's another story . . . Wednesday's low mercury and piercing wind wrapped folks up in winter coats — and a Florida-gleam-in-their-eyes was the only warming feature about them . . . And now is November — and now begins the annual exodus of men and birds out of our state to more sunny climes . . .

The local scene this week provided these jottings . . . Joe Frucht of Pawtucket, and Maxine Morris of New York, who recently announced their engagement, plan a quiet wedding ceremony on December 28 in New York . . . Ruth Berger of Pawtucket and Peter Ross of New Haven are also being wed next month . . . The Burt Tobers are proud as punch over their baby daughter, born recently . . . Jessie Abramowitz is convalescing from an appendectomy . . . Spotted at the Spalding concert on Armistice night at the Met — the Joseph Wurafitics . . . the Ernest Blazers . . . Dr. and Mrs. Ezra Sharp . . . the Sam Greenes . . . Rabbi Israel Goldman . . . and numerous others . . . Prof. W. Barton Leach of Harvard Law School will bring some "Nonsense From Harvard Square," when he talks before the Brotherhood of Temple Beth El next Monday evening . . . He's the gentleman who surprised a Providence audience a couple of years ago, when in the middle of an address — he pulled out an accordion and gave a concert . . . The Brotherhood, we hear, has scheduled for their December meeting the appearance of Robert Segal, cantor of a Boston Synagogue and a Victor Recording artist . . . Sol Winston and Irving Espo have passed the Rhode Island Bar, it was learned last week . . .

A noble endeavor has been the work of Sigma Phi Delta fraternity in planning for their "Bundles for British Babies" formal dance next Thursday night in the Ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel . . . Admission is by invitation (you can get one by contacting a Fraternity member) and by presentation of an appropriate gift for a British child . . . When you're buying your gift, remember that winters in England are cold, and some warm piece of clothing would be most welcome . . . In appreciation of his services, Rabbi Nathan Taragin has been given a substantial salary increase by a vote of officers and directors of the Sons of Abraham Synagogue . . .

The Story Tellers: The Satevepost is publishing so-called humorous stuff from Wodehouse, who wrote it between licks at Nazi boots. Humor that comes out of that form of environment doesn't make you laugh. It makes you shiver . . . If you want a note of thanks from your mind—let it drink Willkie's smarticle in Reader's Digest. It's common-sensational . . . William Allen White's tug-at-the-hearticle in the same issue is a "must", too . . . James W. Barrett's exciting book, "Joseph Pulitzer and His World," quotes the great publisher as saying: "Every reporter is a hope, every editor is a disappointment."

The Confession of the Week: H. Allen Smith in the Nov. Cosmopolitan: "And talk about your gossip. Why, we've raised gossip to a fine art in New York. We put it in the papers and pay the experts fabulous sums of money. And I love it. I've always loved gossip. So have you. Maybe you won't admit it. Maybe you'll say gossip is not polite, not noble. But don't try to tell me you stop up your ears or run or hide in the cellar when someone begins whispering about the thing Joe Schwogie's wife did at Fred Phlebbey's party Saturday night."

It was Friday night.

Haw! Buddy Clarke of the Park Central's Cocoonut Grove relays the silly-dilly about the little boy who was run over by a steamroller while playing in the street. He was flattened like a pancake. A passerby picked him up and brought him to the child's mother on the third floor.

"What is it?" she yelled in response to his knock.

"Your son," he replied, "he's been run over by a steamroller—he's all flattened out!"

"Well," the mother grumbled, "I'm not dressed. You'd better slip him under the door."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

New York's Horatio Alger Jr.: Marvin Schenck, the talent scout, likes hamburgers. So the other day, while munching on one in a Sixth Avenue beanery, he noticed a youth who impressed him as the "most typical good-looking young American" he had ever seen . . . The chap's clothes indicated he could use a job . . . Schenck introduced himself and took him to MGM's Broadway offices, where a producer ejaculated: "That's the handsomest guy in New York and Hollywood!" . . . After an ordinary camera test, it was rushed to the Coast . . . Magnate Mayer of MGM telephoned and ordered "the new find" rushed West . . . On Friday, then, Jim Wittlig, 6 foot 4 nephew of Uncle Sam (who only the other day was hunting for a job on Sixth Avenue) will be riding in class out to Hollywood with a year's MGM contract. His build-up will be "Movieland's No. 1 Hero."

Henny Youngman would have you believe that this happened in Berlin . . . A storm trooper carelessly stepped on the foot of one of Youngman's relatives trapped in Germany . . . It so infuriated him he socked the trooper right on the nose . . . His pal took a sock at him, too . . . For which they were arrested . . . In court the judge asked the defendant why he hit the Nazi.

"Judge," said the man, "he stepped on my foot, the one with the corn, and it hurt me. I lost my temper and hit him."

"Your friend had a reason," said the judge to the other fellow, "why did you hit this storm trooper?"

"I thought," was the retort, "it was being allowed again."

Then there's the one about the visitor to Berlin who asked a native: "Is it true that Germans are eating horsemeat?"

"Ah," said the Nazi, "those were the good old days!"

Jean Sablon overheard a couple of songwriters on Broadway . . . "Let's go to Carnegie Hall," said one, "they're playing a Tschai-kowsky piece nobody's swiped yet!" . . . Just before the Network-Ascap war ended, the songwriter group was boasting: "They'll be coming around our way. We've got them crawling on our knees!" . . . How to Make Your Table-For-Two Companion Feel Sappier: Ask her if she knows the meaning of the word "Twip" . . . When she says she doesn't know, tell her it's a wide one on a twain.

Typewriter Ribbons: Robert Quillen: The press has the right to be free; but the more free it is, the less right it has to be wrong . . . Osborne Enterprise: A critic is a person who knows more than you know and wants you to know he knows it . . . Anon: She drove me to drink, the one thing I am indebted to her for . . . Ed Howe: Make a woman mad and she is no more polite than a man . . . Marjorie B. Greenbie: Beautiful young people are accidents of nature. But beautiful old people are works of art.

Kouffman - Cooper

An attractive home wedding occurred last Sunday afternoon, 5:30 o'clock, when Miss Doris Edith Cooper, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Cooper of West Barrington, was wed to Albert Henry Kouffman, son of Mrs. Fannie Kouffman, of 202 Messer street, and the late Henry Kouffman. Rabbi Morris Schussheim of Temple Beth Israel performed the single ring nuptials at the Cooper residence, under a bowler adorned with white carnations and calla lilies. Traditional wedding music was played by Carl Tatz at the organ. A reception followed. White chrysanthemums and white roses were used as decorations throughout the house.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an informal frock of heavenly blue, fashioned with a lame skirt and crepe bodice, trimmed at the shoulder line with lame. Her short veil of matching blue was held in place by a Juliet cap of blue sequins, and she wore a corsage of orchids.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Evans Nelson, as matron of honor. She wore a dress of black, with powder blue and jet sequins as trim. Her flowers were also orchids. Samuel Kouffman, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The bridegroom was given in marriage by his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kouffman.

The mother of the bride was chic in an afternoon frock of black, with collar and pockets applied in blue sequins. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in black crepe and lace. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Kouffman are now honeymooning in New York, and upon returning will make their temporary residence at 62 Lake avenue, West Barrington.

For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

During this holiday season

One hears college girls say emphatically "All term we're reserved — but now we intend To really get dressed up dramatically" . . .

Chapter One . . . Fashion is looking younger . . . Positively inspired by the party plans of the younger set, designers have been turning out tea dance dresses of white wool, and prom gowns of net — snowdrifts of it glistening with sequins . . .

These are the two types of clothes the college girls are itching to get their hands on after almost a semester of classroom classics . . . There will be matinees and tea dances and house-party week ends . . . There will be holiday dances and a whole parade of proms in the college towns . . . A girl can't face that schedule in a sweater and skirt . . . Dad might as well be warned here and now that fashion is fun in sizes 9 to 17, and indulge his younger daughter with a "smooth" wool evening wrap, a couple of dramatic dream dresses and at least one of the prettier wool afternoon dresses to brighten her life . . . She'll probably tell you one of the wools must be winter white . . . Flirt pink and flirt blue, those shrill pastels that the young can get away with, are the colour hits lined up for her shopping spree over the Thanksgiving week-end . . . She'll find them fashions of the season are worth tracking, too . . . You'll find fur in unexpected places in this season's styles . . . There are fur-lined sweaters, and an increasing number of fur-lined coats right in line with the new understatement of elegance in high-fashion circles . . . Furber-lows, that may be fur buttons, bows, or butterflies, are accenting the opera pump of suede for afternoon occasions . . . Fur loops have been wired and trimmed with jet paillettes to make more decorative hats out of tiny calots . . . What looks at first like a very rich brocade shirred into a yoke may very likely be one of the very flat furs, like broadtail or Tigonina lamb, worked in a new way to point up a cloth coat . . .

Handbags are more than willing to carry the fur accent for their winter costume . . . They may be vertiable puff balls of fur, like a muff with a zipper compartment . . . Or they may be as tailored as a flat envelope with triangles of the fur for the flap or sides . . . A fur handle is a gesture of luxury for a soft pouch of suede . . .

Chapter Two . . . Don't give up the treasure hunt just because you can't have a coat of sables . . . Precious fur in smaller quantities, and less precious furs worked ingeniously into the

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

It seems that one of Providence's favorites, George M. Cohan, wrote to one of the more "exclusive" winter resorts for reservations, and got a response informing him that "this hotel caters only to a restricted clientele." . . . Whereupon Broadway's Irish Cohan wired the hotel management that both of them had been mistaken . . . "You thought I was Jewish and I thought you were gentlemen," was his point . . . Incidentally, Winchell, from whom this story comes, has been barred from Montana radio stations because Isolationist Wheeler doesn't like Walter's pointed barbs . . . Spotted at the Cabana last week-end were Harold, Feingold . . . Ruth Bernstein . . . Pearl Berbel . . . Martin Zucker and brother, Joe . . . Jean and Harry Horwitz . . . The Maurice Coopers saw Eddie Cantor's new show, "Banjo Eyes," which opened in Boston last week . . . Harriet Goodman, of Pawtucket, and Jerry Forman of this city, are among the crop of new engagements . . .

One of the winners of turkeys at the annual Thanksgiving raffle of B'nai B'rith's Auxiliary last Monday night was Mrs. William Bojar . . . Harry Gilstein found himself an unexpected benefactor this week when someone broke his store window and selected one of the choicest turkeys as a reward for his efforts . . . New arrivals in town include Dr. and Mrs. Manuel Horwitz of New York, and the Robert Zametkins, also of the big city . . . Saudie Silverman was spied last week shopping in New York . . . Word comes that the Sam Dicks will entertain at open house on Sunday afternoon, 2 to 5 o'clock in the Ballroom of the Narragansett Hotel, to honor their daughter, Lillian, whose engagement to Edward Bomes, was recently announced . . .

Ben Grauer of the of the National Broadcasting Company was guest speaker at the Temple Beth El Brotherhood meeting last Monday night, when Prof. Leach of Harvard, originally scheduled to talk, was unable to appear . . . Grauer, who has won devoted listeners on the Jergen's Journal, Kay Kyser, Battle of Sexes and British Refugee Children's Broadcast programs, delighted the Beth El crowd . . . Speaking without a single note, he reviewed his eleven years experience with N. B. C., said his favorite hobbies are archaeology and collecting books, and confessed that he plays a poor game of golf . . . Grauer had been in Providence on Sunday conducting the Refugee Children's radio program . . . Interesting to note in passing is the fact that one of the youngsters on the broadcast was Hilary Phillips, who is living with Pearl and Arthur Kaplan "for the duration" . . . Spotted in the Brotherhood audience were the Charles Browns . . . the Arthur Levys . . . Seymour Coplan . . . Sid Silverman . . . Ralph Rotkin . . . the Paul Paris's . . . the Abe L. Abels . . . Dr. and Mrs. James Krasnoff . . . Sam Fink . . . the Abe Fines . . . and numerous others including several Army boys . . . That's all for now . . .

First Committee Leaves Unanswered Stand on Jews

NEW YORK. — The challenge to the America First Committee by Dr. Charles Fleischer, a Jew, former editor of the now-defunct New York American, who resigned recently from the executive committee of the New York chapter of America First, to take a definite stand on the question of anti-Semitism, brought no response from the isolationist group's leaders.

Dr. Fleischer, who resigned his America First post shortly after the national executive committee of the isolationist group refused to repudiate Lindbergh's anti-Semitic address, challenged America First leaders to take an unequivocal position on Lindbergh's speech and to make its decision public at the Madison Square Garden rally last week of the America First Committee.

In a letter to John Flynn, chairman of the New York chapter, Dr. Fleischer, after issuing the challenge, said: "Or is the Committee afraid that by taking this courageous and really American stand, it will alienate the support of hating and un-American thousands who are in your organization mainly because they believe it represents opposition to the Jews?"
