Bill of Rights

At this reading most of us will have adjusted ourselves to the stern fact that this nation is at war. And, as we observe Bill of Rights Day on Monday, it is obvious that the principles of the first ten amendments of our Constitution, is one of the basic reasons why Japan declared war.

For a century and a half the Bill of Rights has represented the charter of liberties for the American people. It is not only a part of the Constitution; it is the Soul of that immortal document.

Remindful of President Roosevelt's indictment of gangster nations, we must stand firm against attempts to overthrow our fundamental rights.

The Light of Freedom

Down through the corridors of time Jewish misery, like history, has repeated itself. Though millions of our people are in the depths of despair today, their morale remains unshaken. In the midst of the deepest anguish and torment, the traditional holidays help revive the faith of those who are the victims and strengthen the will of those who are called upon to perform the tasks of war and rescue. As we celebrate Chanukah many of us will be struck by the remarkable similarity between the events in ancient Jewish history which this holiday commemorates and the critical position of the Jews and the world today.

In the present crisis when the pall of darkness has descended upon many communities throughout the world, the simple act of lighting the Chanukah candles must engrave upon our minds the basic importance of keeping the light of hope and faith burning for those caught in the vise of Nazi oppression and war. The celebration of Chanukah thereby transcends the religious sphere and becomes a concrete expression of the will and resolve of American Jews to act in the spirit of the Maccabees, to help free the shackles of enslavement and suffering.

It is fitting that during the Feast of Lights we pledge ourselves and our energies to the end that darkness be banished and that the light of freedom be rekindled for all humanity for all time.

UJA Campaign Off to Good Start

Following the official launching of the campaign last Sunday night in the Narragansett Hotel, members of the United Jewish Appeal committee intimated that the total funds raised thus far exceeded by a generous amount the monies pledged in the similar period a year ago. They believed the increase was caused by an awareness on the part of the public of the suffering and need for relief.

Rabbi Barnett Brickner, of Cleveland, was guest speaker. He was introduced by Joseph Ress, toastmaster. Archibald Silverman, chairman of the 1941 campaign, made the appeal address while Adolf Meller, co-chairman, reported on the Initial Gifts Committee. Mrs. Samuel Michaelson was chairman of dinner arrangements.

20,000 Refugees In Shanghai Area

May Be Placed in Concentration Camps

SHANGHAI. — With the announcement that Japan has taken over this city, hope for escape disappeared for some 20,000 refugees who were stranded here.

It is rumored that the Japanese have classified the refugees as undesirable elements. As such, these men, women and children will be herded into concentration camps for the duration of hostilities.

Many Polish Jews are trying to find their way from here into Soviet Russia from where they hope they can proceed to Palestine. Others have sent urgent cables to the Jewish Agency in Jerusalem asking it to facilitate their departure from Shanghai through the Palestine Office which has recently been established here.

Ask Lease-Lend For Jewish Army

NEW YORK. — Advocating that the United States supply equipment for three divisions of a Jewish Army in Palestine through the lend-lease machinery this country introduced to aid the enemies of Hitler, PM, New York's liberal tabloid, said in an editorial that Jews must have the right of self-defense.

"A half million unarmed Jews are now trapped in Palestine, neatly pocketed and handy for murder and torture when, and if the Nazis catch up with them," the editorial stated. Condemning the British announcement that the Government cannot equip a Jewish Army in the Near East, PM suggested: "Let's use this lend-lease system to furnish the equipment to a Jewish Army in Palestine."

Clarify Religious Service Tax Law

WASHINGTON. — Payments involved in attendance at religious services are exempt from the Federal admission tax, the Treasury Department has ruled in clarifying the new tax law which came into effect on Oct. 1st.

It was pointed out, however, that this exemption does not apply to synagogal or church social functions or to any enterprise sponsored by them that does not apply directly to religious worship.

Buy Defense Bonds

War needs money. It will cost money to defeat Japan. Your Government calls on you to help now.

Buy Defense Bonds or Stamps today. Buy them every day if you can. But buy them on a regular basis.

Bonds cost as little as $18.75. Stamps come as low as 10 cents. Defense Bonds and Stamps can be bought at all banks and post offices, and Stamps can also be purchased at all retail stores.

The Herald urges all Americans to support your Government with your dollars.

Accountant Says Vast Sums Idle in "Dead" Trust Funds

NEW YORK. — When, on next March 15, you rob the baby's bank, hock your last piece of wedding silver and borrow from Aunt Matilda to meet the demands of Uncle Sam, remember this:

The United States government, specifically the Treasury Department, was told how it could realize about three billion dollars from the "bony fists of this country's dead," by Lazar Karpess, and all the Washington gentlemen did was to write non-committal letters of acknowledgement. All, that is, save Senator Harry F. Byrd, who promised to call Mr. Karpess before the senatorial committee on non-defense spending.

Mr. Karpess, who is a C. P. A., does not claim credit for discovering this hidden source of wealth—university research men and bespectacled scholars poring over ancient tomes did the spadework—but he took their unrelated findings and built a plan on them, offering it to Washington. Some of the estimated three billions now lying idle is tied up in these funds:

An endowment dated 1683 provided for "the relief of seven aged Protestants in the County of Cork, Ireland." For the last 50 or 60 years the trustees have been unable to find seven Protestants of any kind in all County Cork, Mr. Karpess reports. The fund now has more than $300,000 in it.

Anti-Jewish Propaganda In France Has Little Effect

The report states that despite the anti-Jewish laws proclaimed by the Vichy Government and the various anti-Jewish exhibitions and pamphlets in the occupied part of France, the population pays little attention to the argument that Jews are responsible for the collapse of France. Many French leaders, the report states, resent the anti-Jewish laws as a shameful act which will remain a black spot in the history of modern France.

In the medical school of the University of Montpellier, which was founded by Jews in the 12th century, the report reveals, students recently indicated their resentment of the anti-Jewish laws by openly demonstrating their sympathies with a professor who was dismissed under these laws.

Despite the fact that air raid rumors were rampant last Tuesday, an unusually large crowd of women was in attendance at a meeting of Providence Chapter of Senior Hadassah, held at the Billmore Hotel, at which time Mrs. Irwin N. Silverman spoke on the recent national Hadassah convention. In her talk, Mrs. Silverman also touched on current events of today.

During the afternoon, a musical program was presented by Cantor Jacob Hohenemser.

Brith Sholom Grand Officers to Speak

Accountant Has Idea For Defense Money

An endowment in Massachusetts for the relief of superannuated wool carders. There have been no wool carders in that state in the last 150 years, but the fund is still accumulating in the banks.

The Bryan Mullaughy Fund, St. Louis, 1851, aids "worthy and distressed travelers passing through St. Louis to take up new land in the West." At the last report, the fund had more than $1,000,000 surplus and no takers.

There are many other similar trust funds, now outdated and made pointless, as well as many less unusual which merely set up trusts for persons now long dead and without heirs. Mr. Karpess believes the money could well be spent on national defense in the present crisis.

For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

NARRAGANSETT HOTEL, P. M. of December 9: Outside the air is clear and brisk and an unfinished yellow noon grins down . . . Inside, the hotel is cozy and warm and sprinkled generously with folks . . . Some are guests at the hotel, some are jitterbuggers with their Tuesday dates, some, of course, are lobby lingerers, but most of the folks are patrons of Temple Beth Israel's Annual Dinner Dance, which is being held in the Crystal Ballroom . . .

The setting is admittedly familiar, as are the people about whom we're writing . . . But, there's something different about this night . . . Hearts are beating to a tempo more rapid than is absolutely natural . . . Gay abandon is not the order of the night . . . The United States is at war! . . . And, thus, quite without planning, the Temple affair becomes, as one woman said to us "a brief escape from what we all know we must face" . . . At ten o'clock, as our Chief Executive broadcast his grave, but reassuring, speech, the lobby became a riot of colour with the women in their gayest raiment, and the men in correct black and white . . .

No, we don't feel we're being inconsequential by reporting on clothes in times like these . . . Morale is the thing that should be treasured at all times come war or peace, and anything that bolsters morale — and who is there to deny that clothes do their share — is no item to be overlooked . . .

Having gotten that off our mind, we can now proceed in accustomed columny chatter . . . At least a half hour before anyone else arrived, Mrs. Oscar Klemmer, chairman, and Mrs. Aaron Cohen, president of the Sisterhood, were busy at the door . . . Mrs. Klemmer's draped gown of salmon crepe was highlighted by four rhinestone buttons on the bodice, and contrasted by an orchid at her shoulder . . . A vividly printed gown of silk jersey, with revers and pockets touched with deep plum trim, was the becoming choice of Mrs. Cohen, and she, too, wore an orchid . . . A shiny jacket of wordly black sequins, topped Mrs. Barney Kenner's tiered frock of black tulle . . . Mrs. Minnie Nelson arrived, looking fine in a blue silk jersey gown, made with a pleated bodice, and a jeweled belt . . . Mrs. Aaron Bromson was petite in a frock of black net . . . Gold accent was used on the aqua gown worn by Mrs. Irving Coken . . .

Outstandingly lovely was Mrs. Joseph Levine, nee Seema Baker, who drifted about in a gorgeous gown of flame red tulle, with clusters of ostrich feathers under the double skirt, and around the low décolletage . . . And she placed a red plume in her simple coiffure . . . A gown of resplendent gold lame, with a full accordion pleated skirt was attractively worn by Mrs. Leo Bofar, program chairman . . . 'Twas offset by a magnificent orchid . . . Designed with gleaming embroidery near the neckline was Mrs. Samuel Soforenko's off-white gown, with a gold belt encircling her waist . . . A jacketed gown of a soft aqua hue, with gold sequins twinkling as trimming, was worn by Mrs. Morris Shoham . . . An unusually unique gown was that of Mrs. Morris Chusmir . . . Made of royal blue crepe, it was fashioned with a wide square neckline, margined with fine gold applique work . . . The same effect was used around the bottom of the slim, slit skirt . . . Her gold filigree necklace was terribly smart . . . A beautifully tailored gown of sky blue silk jersey was selected by Mrs. Barney Taber . . .

Designed in the modern manner was the white silk jersey gown Mrs. Saul Abrams wore, with its draped bodice and full skirt, and narrow shoulder straps enhanced by gold embroidery . . . Mrs. Max Carter was there, looking darling in her chiffon gown of raspberry red, with beading worked intricately on the bodice . . . A gown of soft blue crepe, was worn by Mrs. Morris Schussheim, with its sailor collar edged in deep dubonnet embroidery . . . Tiny Mrs. Al Kouffman was an eye-catcher in her black and red dinner frock . . . Black lace and net combined nicely in Mrs. Samuel Deutch's chic gown . . . White tulle fell gracefully from the white brocaded bodice of Mrs. Howard Nelson's frock . . . A delectable basque gown of confection pink taffeta, with a top of matching pink lace was the selection of blonde Mrs. Milton Kessler . . .

A dress of mellow rusty brown crepe, with large buttons of shiny brown sequins, and a stripe of sequins down one side of the skirt, was attractively worn by Mrs. Henry Hassenfeld, complemented by a lovely brown orchid . . . All aglow with brilliant gold beads and sequins was Mrs. Samuel Finegold's gown of ash white crepe . . . Draped in the Grecian mode was Mrs. Sidney

This doctor, a Hungarian who recently became a citizen, was given a routine check by the G-Men . . . When an agent called at his home, he spotted a large framed portrait of Mussolini, affectionately inscribed . . . That made it more than a routine investigation and led to the fact that Fritz Horvath, Hungarian Nazi leader, is a frequent guest at the Dr's house . . . And at conferences in a hide-away in Chicago . . . Horvath has definite Berlin connections—and the doctor may learn for the first time—that he is not going to be accepted for that swell job with Col. Donovan.

The Women's Business and Professional Group annual Friendship Dinner took place the other night . . . They had previously announced that they would make known at this dinner—the ten big, important women chosen to represent the U. S. . . . To inspect civilian defense in England . . . The list was prepared and sent to Mrs. Roosevelt for her okay . . . The names submitted did not measure up to her requirements, and dissension grew to such a pitch that the idea has been temporarily deferred and possibly shelved.

Youth Division Makes UJA Plans

Chinatown was big news every night . . . And how an assistant district attorney was phoned out of a sound slumber one wee hour with the news of a massacre in a Chinatown dive . . . When he got there, still fastening his clothes, he found the joint deep in blood, and bodies on the floor—the hatchets and knives still in 'em . . . The bartender was moaning and weeping noisily . . . "What happened?" the d. a. shouted.

"What happened?" was the reply, as the tears dangled from his mustache. "Every customer ran out without paying his check!"

NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BYSTANDER:

The Networkers: Dinah Shore sings the blues on her new solo Sunday spot and relieves you of yours . . . Betty Hutton is a zippy person, welcome to the Bob Hope bill. He said "vitamin pills take her!" . . . You don't wonder, hearing Richard Crooks sing, why he is with the Met—but you wonder why James Melton, who precedes him on the same station, isn't . . . Everybody was that surprised when the N. Y. Times succumbed to radio. It is only adding a voice to the ribbon that unwinds the flashes around the Times Bldg.

The Story Tellers: C. V. R. Thompson is selling his favorite old story again—Cafe Society—this time to Click. Amazing how interesting Thompson can make them seem in print. In reality they are as dull as a blank wall . . . The fallacy that the Middle West is isolationist—is exploded by Time, which points out that polls have proved otherwise. "The so-called isolationist Midwest," it says in part, "exists only in the minds of congressmen who have failed to keep abreast of a great surge of public opinion during recent months" . . . Some people, it seems, mistake the Chicago Tribune for the mid-West.

The Press Box: Another correspondent with a good book is Raymond Daniell—"Civilians Must Fight", Daniell, who covered the London raids, reports a failure to chase his office boy to cover when the bombers came. The kid squawked the underground hideouts were too risky. The last time he went down, he lost $10 playing cards.

Dr. Albert to be Honored at Dinner

McCoy of Pawtucket, Dr. Edward A. McLaghlin, director of Public Health; Dr. Edwin K. Devine, president of R. I. # For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

NARRAGANSETT HOTEL, P. M. of December 9: Outside the air is clear and brisk and an unfinished yellow noon grins down . . . Inside, the hotel is cozy and warm and sprinkled generously with folks . . . Some are guests at the hotel, some are jittersbuggers with their Tuesday dates, some, of course, are lobby lingerers, but most of the folks are patrons of Temple Beth Israel's Annual Dinner Dance, which is being held in the Crystal Ballroom . . .

The setting is admittedly familiar, as are the people about whom we're writing . . . But, there's something different about this nite . . . Hearts are beating to a tempo more rapid than is absolutely natural . . . Gay abandon is not the order of the nite . . . The United States is at war! . . . And, thus, quite without planning, the Temple affair becomes, as one woman said to us "a brief escape from what we all know we must face" . . . At ten o'clock, as our Chief Executive broadcast his grave, but reassuring, speech, the lobby became a riot of colour with the women in their gayest raiment, and the men in correct black and white . . .

No, we don't feel we're being inconsequential by reporting on clothes in times like these . . . Morale is the thing that should be treasured at all times come war or peace, and anything that bolsters morale — and who is there to deny that clothes do their share — is no item to be overlooked . . .

Having gotten that off our mind, we can now proceed in accustomed columny chatter . . . At least a half hour before anyone else arrived, Mrs. Oscar Klemmer, chairman, and Mrs. Aaron Cohen, president of the Sisterhood, were busy at the door . . . Mrs. Klemmer's draped gown of salmon crepe was highlighted by four rhinestone buttons on the bodice, and contrasted by an orchid at her shoulder . . . A vividly printed gown of silk jersey, with revers and pockets touched with deep plum trim, was the becoming choice of Mrs. Cohen, and she, too, wore an orchid . . . A shiny jacket of wordly black sequins, topped Mrs. Barney Kenner's tiered frock of black tulle . . . Mrs. Minnie Nelson arrived, looking fine in a blue silk jersey gown, made with a pleated bodice, and a jeweled belt . . . Mrs. Aaron Bromson was petite in a frock of black net . . . Gold accent was used on the aqua gown worn by Mrs. Irving Coken . . .

Outstandingly lovely was Mrs. Joseph Levine, nee Seema Baker, who drifted about in a gorgeous gown of flame red tulle, with clusters of ostrich feathers under the double skirt, and around the low décolletage . . . And she placed a red plume in her simple coiffure . . . A gown of resplendent gold lame, with a full accordion pleated skirt was attractively worn by Mrs. Leo Bojar, program chairman . . . 'Twas offset by a magnificent orchid . . . Designed with gleaming embroidery near the neckline was Mrs. Samuel Soforenko's off-white gown, with a gold belt encircling her waist . . . A jacketed gown of a soft aqua hue, with gold sequins twinkling as trimming, was worn by Mrs. Morris Shoham . . . An unusually unique gown was that of Mrs. Morris Chusmir . . . Made of royal blue crepe, it was fashioned with a wide square neckline, margined with fine gold applique work . . . The same effect was used around the bottom of the slim, slit skirt . . . Her gold filigree necklace was terribly smart . . . A beautifully tailored gown of sky blue silk jersey was selected by Mrs. Barney Taber . . .

Designed in the modern manner was the white silk jersey gown Mrs. Saul Abrams wore, with its draped bodice and full skirt, and narrow shoulder straps

enhanced by gold embroidery . . . Mrs. Max Carter was there, looking darling in her chiffon gown of raspberry red, with beading worked intricately on the bodice . . . A gown of soft blue crepe, was worn by Mrs. Morris Schussheim, with its sailor collar edged in deep dunnet embroidery . . . Tiny Mrs. Al Kouffman was an eye-catcher in her black and red dinner frock . . . Black lace and net combined nicely in Mrs. Samuel Deutch's chic gown . . . White tulle fell gracefully from the white brocaded bodice of Mrs. Howard Nelson's frock . . . A delectable basque gown of confection pink taffeta, with a top of matching pink lace was the selection of blonde Mrs. Milton Kessler . . .

A dress of mellow rusty brown crepe, with large buttons of shiny brown sequins, and a stripe of sequins down one side of the skirt, was attractively worn by Mrs. Henry Hassenfeld, complemented by a lovely brown orchid . . . All aglow with brilliant gold beads and sequins was Mrs. Samuel Finegold's gown of ash white crepe . . . Draped in the Grecian mode was Mrs. Sidney

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

Now that the shock of three declarations of war within as many days is over, most of us have regained our customary routine . . .

Here's another story concerning the United Jewish Appeal . . . Henry Limmer, after having made his contribution, one day last week, was discussing the campaign with a stranger in his store . . . In the course of the conversation he discovered that the gentleman had never been approached by Appeal workers . . . He seemed anxious to assist the cause . . . Mr. Limmer didn't overlook the opportunity . . . He hurried after the solicitor who had just called on him, and on returning to the store, the worker was handed $100 in cash by the stranger . . . Incidentally, a woman called our office this week to complain about the brusqueness downtown business men have shown towards solicitors . . . "The least they could do," she said, "was to say 'No' politely." . . . Adolf Meller celebrated his 50th birthday last Sunday . . . He's co-chairman, you know, of the 1941 U. J. A. drive . . .

The Mickey Blooms are proud as punch over their daughter, born last week at Lying-In Hospital . . . The Louis Makepeace's are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter at the Miriam Hospital . . . Mrs. Makepeace was the former Jeanette Katz . . . President Roosevelt magnitized the dancers at the Beth-Israel ball last Tuesday night . . . The Ballroom was deserted when the president spoke at 10 o'clock . . . The lobby was jammed with attentive listeners . . . The Mickey Cohens, who were there, were celebrating their seventeenth wedding anniversary . . . A number of local Jewish lawyers have gone to Boston to enlist in the Naval Intelligence Department, we just learned . . . And it's interesting to note how many young Jewish women have volunteered their services as air raid wardens in our town . . . We hear that one of the town's most eligible bachelors won't be a bachelor very much longer . . .

At its annual meeting held recently, Temple Beth El voted to hold its 1942 Spring Frolic at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet, where it will more comfortably accommodate the huge crowds which have turned out at this annual event, heretofore held at the Biltmore . . . The rumor still persists about the engagement of a certain Providence young woman to an out-of-town man, though she most vehemently denies it . . . This war affects everyone in some way . . . Several young couples with intentions matrimonial have stored away these plans at least for the time being . . . One girl was to have sailed down to Panama where she was to be married to an Army lieutenant . . . However she cancelled passage on the ship which was sailing on Wednesday—and she doesn't know when there'll be another one bound for that Island . . . And while we're thinking of defense, we were told this week of a lass, twenty-one years old, who carries a vial of tear gas when she goes out on dates . . . That's all for now . . .

Maurice Schwartz
At Met. Dec. 29

Maurice Schwartz, founder and director of the Yiddish Art Theatre of New York and long recognized as the greatest theatrical personality of the Jewish stage today, will appear in selections of drama, humour and music at the Metropolitan Theatre, Monday evening, December 29.

Assisting Mr. Schwartz on the program will be the well-known Argentine operatic star, Miriam Rubini, in a group of international classical and folk songs. Both artists will be accompanied by Mr. Jacobson, at the piano.

August's frock of pale, pale green crepe . . . A long-sleeved V-necked dinner gown of flame red crepe, with a triple tunic skirt was the stunning choice of Mrs. Mark Goldis . . . Warm yellow silk jersey, on fluid lines, was wonderful on Mrs. Charles Greenspan . . . Mrs. David Litchman's flowing red chiffon skirt, was effectively topped by a bodice of black crepe, and we loved her wrist corsage of blood red camellias . . . Bands of fragile pink were inserted around the skirt of Mrs. Walter Sundlun's regal black velvet gown . . . A glamorous formal frock of tangerine chiffon velvet was Helen Weisbecker's becoming choice . . . Evelyn Fowler's gown of brick red silk jersey, was contrasted by a shirtwaist top of a bizarre print . . . Iridescent mother-of-pearl sequins blazed on the long-sleeved white bodice of Mrs. Benjamin Woolf's black tulle gown.

Very Saks Fifth Avenue looking was Mrs. William Goldstein in her black crepe frock, made with three tiers of accordion pleating . . . Tall and blonde and utterly graceful was Mrs. Irving Brodsky in a green crepe affair, with a wide midriff of matching sequins . . . Mrs. Coleman Zimmerman made an alluring picture in a ribbon plaid taffeta gown, made with a velvet top and a large Bertha collar of the plaid . . . Murmuring black taffeta, with a wide red girdle looked lovely, as worn by Mrs. Archie Chaset, and she wore a bright red flower in her hair . . . A gown of heavy crepe in a cranberry red hue, was selected by Mrs. Ben Kaplan, and
