The Free Company

In an absurd attempt to "get even" with Orson Welles because his new picture resembles the life of their boss, Hearst papers have adopted total tactics in condemning all projects with which Welles is affiliated.

In their latest criticisms they have dragged the red trail of Communism against a radio program known as "The Free Company" broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System on Sunday afternoons. One of the first plays, directed by Welles, discussed the problems of Crusader groups, similar to the Christian Front, who through vehement super-patriotic flag-waving endorse un-American theses.

This week "The Free Company" struck back at the Hearst stories. In a three-minute statement read during its broadcast they proved that the "Company" has the indorsement and co-operation of the Attorney General of the United States and of the Solicitor General. It is dedicated, the statement said, to the proposition that the people of this country enjoy a way of life that is unique and precious and something to be infinitely proud of.

Its chairman is James Boyd, noted for his American historical novels, a former member of the AEF and now a dollar-a-year man at the Department of Justice. Chairman of its writers is Robert Sherwood, author of "There Shall Be No Night," which glorified Finnish resistance to Russia's war.

Among its members are such notable literary figures as Maxwell Anderson, Paul Green, Stephen Vincent Benet, Marc Connelly, Ernest Hemingway, Elmer Kelton and William Saroyan.

"We are individuals," declared the late Meredith, who read the statement, "form a Free Company to interpret the Bill of Rights, the honest way, the American way of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Some people have too little faith in America. Some people have been listening to harsh voices from across the seas; and the voices have been getting louder."

And so a diatribe of revenge has been exposed. It is a reflection, however, on the Hearst papers for spewing the lies of dictator propagandists, involving minorities, just to get even with one person.

True to Form

Although he admits that collapse of the British Empire would be a tragedy to the world and even to Germany, Colonel Lindbergh believes the war was lost for the Allies before it began. He implies acquiescence in that assumption.

Did he and his backers ever hear of Washington at Valley Forge, John Paul Jones, the Alamo, the Greeks at Thermopylae, the Dutch against Philip II, Drake and the Armada, Lincoln's long search for a winning general in the Civil War, or Wellington's late start against Napoleon?

We are prone to link the bicycle with a past era, the 1890's. How far that is from the truth, comments Hugh J. Powell in the Coffeyville Journal, is evidenced by figures at hand showing more than a million bicycles were manufactured in this country in 1939 and again in 1940. —Kansas City Star.

$100,000 Contributed by Jewish Agency to Assist British Relief

$75,000 Given for Mobile Kitchens

Orphanage Named After General Sir Wavell

NEW YORK. — With the presentation of $25,000 for the establishment of a non-sectarian nursing home for orphaned children somewhere in England, to be named after Lieutenant General Sir Archibald Wavell, Commander in Chief of the British Forces in the Near East, the Jewish Section of the Interfaith Committee contributions to the British War Relief Society, now total more than $100,000.

More than $75,000 of the sum given has already been presented for the purpose of securing mobile field kitchens.

At a luncheon given recently in honor of Frederick W. Gehle, chairman of the Fund-raising division of the British War Relief Society, on the occasion of his 55th birthday, Dr. Israel Goldstein presented the guest of honor with a check of $25,000 for the children's home. This sum was made possible through a gift of $15,000 made by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cohen. The remaining $10,000 was the result of smaller, individual contributions.

Vichy Threatens New Penalties

VICHY. — France hopes to arrange an international agreement to repatriate some of the Jews of foreign origin now in France, it was announced this week.

Fifty-five more Jewish-owned shops in Paris were reported to have been placed under non-Jewish administration, bringing the total to 2,273.

Paris newspapers printed a police notice threatening severe penalties for Jews there who failed to take out special identity cards bearing the notation "Jew."

Hungarian Jailed For Posing as Jew

BUDAPEST.—An unemployed carpenter, Alexander Balogh, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment by the Szolnok Tribunal for defrauding Jews by collecting charity from them by posing as a Jew. He commented: "I didn't see anything wrong in swindling Jews."

Balogh grew a beard and ear curls, donned a kaftan and went around among Jewish merchants, begging handouts, as "Martin Schwartz," a poor Jew just released from a labor gang and unable to find work. He amassed 1,000 pengoes before he was found out.

Zionists Postpone Convention; Report 50,000 Membership

NEW YORK CITY. — The Administrative Council of the Zionist Organization of America, supreme body of the organization between conventions, at a meeting held here last week, voted to postpone the forthcoming annual Zionist convention, originally scheduled for the end of June, to the period between September 1st and 15th. This decision will afford Zionist workers two extra months for intensive and emergency activities in behalf of Palestine and organization.

The meeting was presided over by Judge Louis E. Levinthal of Philadelphia and attended by close to 150 representatives from all parts of the country. It was reported that the membership of

NEW YORK. — As an aftermath of the Third Seder, conducted by the National Labor Committee for Palestine, a check of $100,000 for the Histadrut was handed to Israel Mereminski, secretary of the Histadrut, now in the United States in behalf of the Palestine pioneers. The above picture, as the check was presented, are, left to right: Isaac Hamlin, national secretary of the National Labor Committee for Palestine; Joseph Schlossberg, national chairman; Dr. May Bere, member of the Histadrut delegation to America, and Mr. Mereminski.

40,000 Jews Now Serving In Country's Armed Forces

WASHINGTON, D. C. — There are 40,000 Jewish volunteers and draftees in the Army and Air Force of the United States of America, according to a reliable estimate based on figures compiled as of March 1, 1941. A year ago the number of Jewish men in the U. S. Army and Navy was 6,500. It is expected that Jewish participation in the national defense program will be considerably higher in the present conflict than during the World War No. 1.

Woman Heads British Agency

LONDON. — Lady Reading, daughter of Lord Melchott, has been elected chairman of the British section of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, becoming the first woman to hold that post.

The selection of the British section, it was felt here, would enlist wider support for the Jewish Agency and enhance its prestige.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, addressing the luncheon of the Women's Division of the American Jewish Congress, recently pointed out that "with less than 3 per cent of the American population, Jews constituted 4 per cent of our armed forces during the last war."

Reports from the training centers indicate that the Jewish members of the defense forces are taking a keen interest in the religious and cultural programs which have been arranged for their benefit under the auspices of the War Department and in cooperation with the National Jewish Welfare Board, which is one of the recognized agencies comprising the United Service Organizations.

Jewish Equality Pledged by Poles

WASHINGTON. — Polish Premier Wladislaw Sikorski has disclosed plans for a democratic "new order" in Eastern Europe based on a federation of states, in which all minorities would have equal rights.

"Poland will be a democratic country and other concepts result from democracy," Gen. Sikorski stated at a press conference. "I am a loyal and truthful man and I declare that the Jews will have equal rights and equal obligations with all other Polish citizens."

Newspaper Offers Reason for Defeat

NEW YORK. — The London Daily Mail offers as the reason for the smashing defeat of the Italians in the battle in the Ionian Sea the elimination of 50 of the ablest Jewish naval officers from the Italian navy. These officers were replaced by inexperienced Italians.

93 Years Old - - Seeks Citizenship

NEW YORK. — Ghanine Sipper, a Polish-Jewish refugee who will be 93 years old on June 10, obtained his first citizenship papers from the Naturalization Division of the Immigration and Naturalization Service here and made plans to become an American citizen at the end of five years.

A boat builder born in Steina, a small Polish community, Ghanine Sipper is one of the oldest persons ever to apply for American citizenship papers. He came to the United States three years ago and now lives with his daughter, Mrs. Regina Stieglitz, in the East Side district of New York. He goes daily to a synagogue close to his new home.

The aged refugee has seven children, 25 grand-children and 10 great grand-children, many of them now in America.

Rumania Threatens Financial Revolt

BERLIN. — An official German news agency report from Bucharest quoted a spokesman for the Rumanian Government as saying conditions for expropriating Jewish-owned property would be sharpened if rumors and sabotage efforts by certain "interested" circles did not cease.

The remark was said to have been made after the Rumanian Cabinet discussed a Government plan for exploitation of the oil industry during 1941, including drilling new wells.

MID-YEAR TAX

LONDON.—For the first time, the British government has affixed an annual income tax for corporations of a flat 10%, payable mid-year.

600,000 IN GHETTO

WARSAW. — The population of the Warsaw ghetto has already reached 600,000. Additional thousands are constantly coming in. The Nazi authorities decreed that all persons of mixed marriages and their children must move into the ghetto.

Erstwhile Swain Takes Girl to Court, Hoping to Reclaim Ring

NEW YORK. — It was five years ago when harsh words first entered the romance of Henry Erlich and Blanche Pearlman. Eventually they agreed to disagree. This week Mr. Erlich and his one-time fiancée, who is now Mrs. Albert Packer, met once more, in White Plains Supreme Court, in a spirited much-ado about a $900 engagement ring.

Mr. Erlich, sought the return of the ring. He had testified that it wasn't the money, but the principal of the thing. After all she'd married another guy.

Mrs. Packer, who is 26 years old, brunette and attractive, denied that either she or her mother were responsible for the cancellation of the Erlich-Pearlman nuptials. Therefore, she thought she'd just keep the ring.

Mr. Erlich had testified that the day before they were to be married he had criticized a cloth coat of his fiancée's as being cheap. At this point his future mother-in-law said that if he didn't like her daughter's clothes he could buy her others. Mr. Erlich thought that this had better wait until they were married. Subsequently he was called a "cheap louse" by somebody, and more subsequently the whole thing was called off.

Mr. Erlich testified that he had sent back his fiancée's letters and that in return he sought the diamond number, which was featured by a 2.25-carat stone in the middle.

Mrs. Packer was wearing a trim cloth coat today as she spoke of the other cloth coat that led to the contretemps. She said it was very fashionable, with a silver fox cape.

"It cost $170, and if you think that's cheap —" she began, but laughter in the court intervened.

Italy's colonial venture in Africa began in 1870.

Mischa Elman Offers His Arm To Army, and Means It

NEW YORK. — Nero, the old tale goes, fiddled while Rome burned, but although American violinists today are fiddling while the world burns they differ from Nero in that they had nothing to do with starting the fire. Mischa Elman feels that they can be most useful if they keep right on fiddling. He, himself, has offered his arm to the army.

"In the other war I played at many of the big camps," he said, "including Upton and Dix and others from here to California, and I am ready to do it again, as well as give benefits to aid the cause of defending democracy."

"Not only can we raise money that way," he said recently in an interview, "but we can also remind people that music and the arts are what make life worth living, and that the present concentration on a defense program is just an emergency affair. Music brings people together and shows them that there is a harmony of human brotherhood, regardless of nationality.

"Certainly musicians talk war now, like everybody else. In fact," he went on, "the better-class artist always has been more versatile, more interested in matters outside of his line, than doctors and lawyers and the rest. Also, we are sensitive to evidence of wrong and injustice and are the first to feel indignation when the strong pick on the weak."

"The difference between this war and the other," he further stated, "is that the other time we gradually came to see that Germany had been preparing to conquer the world and had to be stopped, and this time we were indignant about Hitler and the Nazis long before the war started."

The set faces of the homeward bound business men that seem to have in them some of the granite of which the city is made. . . . The Western Union messenger boys, holding down the most over-worked job in the city. Walking Madam's dog around the block.

The mounted policemen in the W. 40's making the traffic behave. Modern knights without armor. . . . NEW YORK HEARTBEAT:

Sallies in Our Alley: George Kelly was telling the bunch at the 48th Street Tavern about the time Joe Frisco turned down a job at one of those joints "where a guy was killed every night!" . . . Joe shook his head and stuttered: "N-n-not f-f-for m-m-me. To m-m-many t-t-tough guys hang out there" . . . The owner said, "Oh, them? They've all been killed!" . . . "Yeah, said Frisco, "b-b-but what happened to the g-g-guys that k-k-killed them?" . . . A feller asked Joe E. Lewis how he did at the track. . . . That was two months ago, and still no dough. Every time he mentions the subject to his father-in-law, the old gent is amused. . . . "If you love my daughter," he heckles, "you won't feel cheated if you don't get any money. And if you don't love her, why should I give it to you?" . . . Moral: Two's company. Three's safer.

Manhattan Murals: Tito Guizar swears this oldie happened in a swanky restaurant. The owner instructed a waiter to tell a patron to remove the napkin stuffed in his collar. "Tell him as tactfully as you can," added the boss. . . . So the waiter went over and said: "Well, sir, what'll it be? Shave or haircut?" . . . Then there's the one about the guy in a midtown place who called over the waiter and said: "Which did you pour into this drink first—the scotch or the soda?" . . . "Why, the scotch, of course," said the waiter. . . . "Oh," nodded the patron, "then I guess I must be coming to it."

Sounds in the Night: At Lum Fong's: "Is he tight? Say, that guy's pockets close up earlier than a bank!" . . . At the Beachcomber: "It was a case of love at second sight. The first time he didn't know she had money" . . . At the Stork: "I dunno where I met her. I just opened up my wallet and there she was" . . . At Copacabana: "No matter how high you rise on Broadway—you can't rise above suspicion" . . . At the Castleholm: "They have a chorus of forty—but I understand a couple are younger."

1 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/4 cups sifted flour 1 egg
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
2-3 cup milk

Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cream shortening and 1 cup sugar. Beat in egg and vanilla. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, finishing with flour. Stir in drained, sweetened cherries. Turn into a greased 8-inch square pan and bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes.

Hospital Thanks Mrs. L. Lovitt

In a letter received this week by Mrs. Louis Lovitt from the Miriam Hospital, Major Charles M. Hoffman, superintendent said:

"Now that the 1941 Passover holidays are a thing of the past, it becomes once more my duty and pleasure to express to you our grateful thanks and appreciation for your untiring efforts in seeing to it that our patients and staff were provided with Passover cakes for the entire eight-day period of this very important holiday.

"This detail," Major Hoffman continued, "has been your contribution to the Miriam Hospital for many years past, and you have always accomplished it in a most dignified manner. It is my fervent hope that you may continue this service to humanity for many, many years to come."

Resistance Against Control Increases

Dr. Joseph Roucek of Hofstra College, Hempstead, N. Y., said in an address here that secret anti-Nazi societies were raising havoc with German efforts to control conquered countries.

Dr. Roucek told the Eastern Sociological Society that if the subjected nations did not take the opportunity now of impeding German progress "they will not have a second chance."

For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

A dinner-dance at the Chateau Given to honor a girl and her beau A Conga crowd Saturday at the hotel Of these items—we now proceed to tell . . .

Spring formality — at its gayest — beckoned almost sixty young people last Sunday nite to the Chateau Dreyfus on the Boston Post Road, where Anne Chernock was entertaining at a dinner-dance for Rosalie Musen, who will recite her vows to George Reizen come June 15 . . .

Sunday had been gloriously bright and balmy, and as though that weren't enough, the night was heartbreakingly lovely . . . Cloudless, clear and with an abundance of stars, it was the perfect backdrop for the femmes as they paraded into the Chateau, on the arms of their escorts, in correct black and white . . .

Gleaming and glowing like a midday sunbeam was bride-to-be, Rosalie, in a gown of tangerine and lemon yellow crepe . . . The bodice of the gown was of the orange hue, while the skirt was yellow . . . Over it—a longish coat of matching orange crepe . . . About her wrist, she wore a corsage of snowy gardenias . . .

Hostess Anne, excited and becomingly flushed, made a pretty portrait in a frock of navy, with a silverish-white blouse top, cut with the deep plunging V-neckline . . . Phyllis Lubet, au charmant, in a gown of black mouseline-de-soie, appliqued in front with a graceful gold love-bird . . . A demure choice was the dotted swiss frock of navy, worn by Anita Percelay . . . The dots were of confection pink, as were the little bows scattered here and there . . . Her hair was clipped short and ever so becoming . . .

Frivolous bands of ruching around the bottom of a blue heaven net gown, made Ruth Berger a dainty dish . . . Very pretty was the drop-shoulder neckline . . . Glowing from Southern sunshine was glamour girl Shirley Logan, in her unique frock of April mist-gray organdie . . . Marjorie Young wore a romantic, waltzy thing of pink, with a jet net top . . . An old-fashioned cameo brooch was used as ornamentation . . .

Mrs. William Goralnik created a fetching vision in an off-white gown of some marvelous material—which defies description . . . Statuesque in a gown of white crepe, trimmed with deep purple was Mrs. Irving Brodsky . . . An interesting gown of a stiff brocade material was the choice of Mrs. Eddie Persky . . . Madeline Newberger was looking grand in a turquoise gown, perfect foil for her Florida-tanned skin . . .

A white crepe affair, spangled with gold beads was the selection, and a most becoming one, of Esther Novograd . . . With it she wore yellow flowers . . . A delicate gown of sky blue tulle, with a matching bodice of lame was chosen by Mrs. David Freedman . . .

More there were, looking just as lovely, whose names don't come back to us now . . .

Youth Conference Hears Philip Baron

"In order to make effective the renaissance of Jewish life, Jewish youth must work actively for Palestine and for strengthening of the liberal movement," said Philip Baron of Boston, director of New England Zionist Youth, as he addressed a "Meet The Youth Night," held last Sunday night at Temple Beth Israel, of which Rhode Island Zionist Youth Council was host. Youth groups from various parts of New England were in attendance.

Moving pictures on modern Palestine were shown. Singing and dancing were also features of the meeting. Greetings were extended by Lewis Swartz, program chairman, David Korb, Masada president, Miss Muriel Daurer, Junior Hadassah, Maurice Davis, Masada, Naphtali Checkaway, Hashomer Hatzair, and Miss Estelle Goldin Young Judaea. nite in the . . . Restaurant, an overflowing, very well-dressed group of week-end revelers greeted the new orchestra, with its fiddling maestro . . . One of the entertainers led the Conga, and as he marched around the room, with his one, two, three—kick, weaving in and out among the tables, he had a swinging, swaying following . . .

N. Y. Bans Books Of Nazi Teacher

Former Hunter Prof.
Now Propagandist

NEW YORK. — Two books by Dr. Otto Koischwitz, former Hunter College professor who is now a Berlin short wave radio propagandist, were withdrawn this week from the approved high school textbook list, the Board of Education announced.

The books themselves do not contain propaganda, it was indicated, but are being dropped because of Koischwitz's present activities. Their titles are "Paul und Purifax", and "Reise in Die Literatur," the first being proper names and the second meaning "Journey Into Literature."

Last Sept. 24 the full story of how Koischwitz, by pretending to resist Nazism, had spent years in the U. S. preaching the doctrine of Hitler, was published exclusively in the New York Post's "Men Against America" series.

Koischwitz is still broadcasting the two programs discussed at that time, a pseudo-cultural program called "The College Hour," and a straight German-destiny talk called "O. K. Speaking."

Nazi-Fascist Film Embargo is Sought

Would Counter Axis Discrimination

NEW YORK. — Moves to boycott German and Italian motion pictures in this country were under way here last week with preparation of resolutions by the Independent Theater Owners Association and the Allied Theater Owners of New York calling for governmental embargo on Nazi-Fascist films.

The resolutions recommended the boycott in order to counter discrimination by the Axis Powers against American motion pictures. They charge that the Nazi and Fascist motion pictures served the propaganda interests of their countries and that money earned by Axis films was used for the spread of information inimical to the best interests of the United States.

Touro Preparing For May Meeting

A radio comedy in three acts will be presented at a meeting of Touro Fraternal Association, scheduled for May 14, with various roles being filled by officers of the association, including Harold Cohen, Leo Miller, Jerome Forman, Sydney Cohen, Saul Faber and Murry Pedlikan.

Touro held its annual spring smoker last week, at which time an eight-act New York entertainment show was the feature. Refreshments were served during the evening. Harold Cohen and Leo Miller were co-chairmen.

Jerome Forman, chairman of the membership drive, has announced that the final initiation of the season will occur on May 28, at which time prizes will be awarded.

Modern Yiddish Musical on May 1

After enjoying a season's run at the Second Avenue Theatre in New York, "Goldie Dem Bekers," a modern American-Yiddish musical, starring Herman Yablokoff, Menasha Skulnik and Bella Myself, will be shown for one performance only at the Playhouse Theatre on May 1.

College and youth group newspapers in New York commented editorially on the play, noting especially the lack of historic heards and the context of the play, which is American, and easily understood by persons not understanding Jewish.

A cast of fifty will assist the leads. Its original cast, ballet and chorus, as it played in New York, are being retained for its presentation here.

Tickets are available at Harry's Delicatessen, 92 Clemence street, Corner Spa, Prairie and Willard avenues, Joe's Spa, Willard avenue and Gay street, and at the Box Office on the day of the performance.

Bar Discrimination In Defense Work

N. Y. Legislature Puts Teeth in New Provision

ALBANY. — Senator Mahoney's bill to bar discrimination in employment in defense industries in New York State was passed by the Legislature in the closing hours of its session and sent to Gov. Lehman. The Governor had urged adoption such a measure.

The act would make it a misdemeanor for any person, firm or corporation fulfilling defense contracts to "refuse to employ any person in any capacity on account of the race, color or creed of such a person."

The Legislature also passed the Andrews bill, which enacts into law and gives teeth to the constitutional provision against discrimination. It declares: "No person shall, because of race, color, creed or religion, be subjected to any discrimination in his civil rights by any other person or any firm, corporation or institution, or by the State or by agency or subdivision of the State." Violation is declared to be a misdemeanor.

SPRING RECIPES

By FRANCES PECK
Heinz Home Institute

THIS RECIPE IS FLEISCHIG

Spring is in the air; everything is new and fresh from the green blades of grass and budding trees to the bonnet that crowns milady's coiffure. It's the right time, it seems, for new foods... foods that carry the tang of spring with them.

Try this fleischig recipe, for instance. Serve the ever-popular frankfurter, dressed up in this delightful new way.

Barbecued Frankfurters

Heat in skillet—
2 tablespoons vegetable shortening
Cook in shortening until browned—
¼ cup finely chopped onion.

Add—
2 tablespoons pure *cider vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup *tomato ketchup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
½ tablespoon prepared *brown mustard
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
½ cup chopped celery.

Cook over moderate flame for 15 minutes or until thickened.

Prick—
1 lb. (about eight) frankfurters.
Place in the sauce, then cover and continue to cook slowly for 15 minutes or until frankfurters are tender. Serve hot with the sauce.

To top it off, serve with really baked *vegetarian beans, smothered in tasty tomato sauce. Just heat them—that's all.

THIS RECIPE IS PAREVE

Golden fritters of delicate salmon mixed with sweet kernels of corn are an appetizing combination to set before your family. Deftly blended tomato ketchup and pungent pepper sauce high-light their dainty savoriness to help them find favor with the man of the house. You'll need to count on generous servings.

Salmon and Corn Fritters

Skin, bone and flake—
1 (1-lb.) can salmon.

Mix lightly with—
1 cup whole kernel corn
3 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons *tomato ketchup
1 teaspoon salt
Dash red pepper sauce
2 eggs slightly beaten.

Have vegetable shortening, one-fourth inch deep, heated in frying pan. Drop the salmon mixture from tip of a tablespoon into the shortening and fry to a golden brown on both sides. Makes six servings of four fritters each.

*Made by Heinz—endorsed, of course, by the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America.

Use Internees for Compulsory Labor

LISBON.—A hundred and fifty internees in the Le Vernet aliens camp in unoccupied France have been transported across the Mediterranean for compulsory labor on the trans-Sahara railway and others will follow soon until the whole camp is cleared, it was reported here.

The Vichy Government's decision to transport the internees to North Africa created alarm among circles here interested in the refugees' fate. It was said that the majority of the internees were undernourished for months and not accustomed to manual labor. These circles declared that the compulsory work in the desert heat was tantamount to a death sentence.

New York Anecdote

A visitor from New York brought back the following incident: A woman approached a shopgirl at Macy's and quite boldly asked to be directed to the water closets . . . "Oh," said the shopgirl obligingly, "the closet supply department, ma'am, is on the seventh floor . . . There's an organization in town who have a mighty fine and clever stunt . . . They've formed a "Buck Of The Week," club, each one kicking in a dollar, every four weeks, to send luxuries to draftees . . . That's all for now . . .

McWilliams Plans 2nd Election Try

Declares He Must Keep in Public Eye

NEW YORK. — Joseph E. McWilliams, America Destiny Party fueder, has confided to his intimates his intention of running for New York City Councilman in the next elections. This person admits his chances of obtaining office are slim, but he stresses the importance of keeping in the public eye. He boasts he is modeling his tactics on those of Adolf Hitler. "For a long time," he says, "everyone considered Hitler a nobody, just someone to laugh at. But Adolf kept right on plugging. He made a point of getting his name in the news, of having people talk about him. And look what happened!"

Under the supervision of McWilliams, American Destiny Party leaders are preparing an intensive spring campaign. As soon as the weather permits, street corner meetings will begin in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx. Special stormtroop units are being organized. A program for recruiting large numbers of new members has been drawn up. According to McWilliams, the

1100 Local UCT Members Celebrate 45th Anniversary

Providence Council, No. 67, United Commercial Travelers of America, celebrated its 45th anniversary this week. The idea for this national organization occurred 53 years ago and was sponsored by a group of traveling salesmen, who, deprived by the nature of their profession of the pleasures and friendly contact of home life, felt the need of a fraternity whose members could meet their fraternal brethren wherever they might travel, and, meeting, find friendship and a mutual bond in a common fellowship.

Nationally, the United Commercial Travelers has originated, sponsored or endorsed many of the measures that benefit the lives of every citizen. In Providence, the local council, has played no small part in the promotion of national activities and has also been prominent in this State for its charitable work. The organizations to which it contributes include the Red Cross, Community Fund, Catholic Charity Fund, Crippled Kiddies, Santa Claus Fund, the Jewish Home for Aged, the Tuberculosis and Infantile Paralysis agencies, the R. I. Association for the Blind, as well as the various appeals and disaster funds that arise every year.

The Providence Council with a membership of nearly 1100 has the largest membership of any Council in the United States or Canada.

Use Internees for Compulsory Labor

LISBON.—A hundred and fifty internees in the Le Verget aliens camp in unoccupied France have been transported across the Mediterranean for compulsory labor on the trans-Sahara railway and others will follow soon until the whole camp is cleared, it was reported here.

The Vichy Government's decision to transport the internees to North Africa created alarm among circles here interested in the refugees' fate. It was said that the majority of the internees were undernourished for months and not accustomed to manual labor. These circles declared that the compulsory work in the desert heat was tantamount to a death sentence.

The Ahavath Sholom vacation raffle brought rewards to all classes . . . First prize of $300, and we imagine it was welcome, went to a Jewish WPA worker . . . Second prize of $100 was won by a coloured gentleman, and a wealthy non-Jew was the recipient of third prize, also $100 . . . The latter returned a portion of his winnings to the Synagogue . . . Providence folk will have other opportunities to win the unexpected . . . Within the next six weeks are scheduled the Beth-El frolic where some $1800 in valuable gifts will be distributed, the Temple Emanuel Carnival, and the Home for Aged carnival . . . Somewhat belatedly, we were informed this week that Morris Bromberg was the winner of the Touro Fraternal vacation raffle . . .

Youth
Fannie Brice's sponsors refused to permit this Baby Snooks sketch to be broadcast: Snooks' Daddy discovers the girl sobbing, because her beloved pet turtle had died. "Don't cry," he consoles her, "because here's what we'll do . . . First we'll get a box and bury the turtle, with a nice funeral. Then we'll invite all your friends and have a party. We'll serve a lot of ice cream, strawberry short cake and candy—and then everyone will get a bagful of toys" . . . Snooks' weeping ceases, and she walks with her Daddy to the pond, where they suddenly notice the beloved pet turtle—alive, and swimming . . . Daddy looks at Snooks . . . And Snooks looks at Daddy—and says: "Kill it."
