Peoples Committee

About 18 months ago an organization known as the Jewish Peoples Committee succeeded in obtaining an investigation of Father Coughlin's activities by the Department of Justice.

At the time the complaint was entered, controversy was aroused as to the constituents of the Jewish Peoples Committee, its sponsors and its policies. It was disowned by prominent organizations who argued that it was controlled by Communists and did not represent any legitimate section of American Jewry. This charge was never satisfactorily refuted.

In the past year little was heard from the Jewish Peoples Committee. This week a pamphlet was distributed in Providence in which the Coughlin complaint is re-warmed. Fight anti-Semitism, the circular urges, by becoming a member of the Jewish Peoples Committee.

The anonymity of the backers of the Committee is still maintained. Other than the name of the national secretary and the address of the Providence chapter's secretary, the pamphlet is bare of names.

Before contributing to this organization or joining as members insist, for your own sake, on learning who are the backers and what has been their activities during the past year since the Coughlin incident. Investigate first!

French Jews

To those who cherished illusions about the friendship of the Vichy government for their Jewish citizens, the promulgation of German anti-Jewish legislation this week will come as a rude awakening.

It is increasingly evident that Petain and Admiral Darlan are too worried about how to sidestep Nazi demands to give much attention or sympathy to the desperate plight of the Jews.

This past week, Xavier Vallat, long an enemy of Jews, who is now French Commissioner, explained that the entire Jewish economy is being dove-tailed into a French anti-Jewish program. This means economic ostracism for thousands of Jews.

And when the racial definition of Jews and Frenchmen is published the position of the French Jew will be the same as his co-religionist in Germany.

America Next?

Mr. Lindbergh, who is traveling the narrow path of appeasement, must be running out of arguments. In his most recent diatribe against further aid to Britain, he declared that there was but one party in the last election—at least as far as the presidential candidates were concerned.

Inferring that the right of free speech would soon be withdrawn, Mr. Lindbergh insisted that the last election violated the principles of democracy. Both candidates advocated aid to Britain and in doing so misled the people, he claimed.

Now, some 27 million people voted for Roosevelt and 23 million for Willkie. The two presidential candidates had the same foreign policy which was endorsed by both conventions.

Angered and frustrated because of the rebuffs he has suffered, Mr. Lindbergh is beginning to distort facts. He really should change the name of his America First Committee to "America Next" Committee.

Appeasers Use Anti-Semitic Lists Literature Mailed Through Free Franks

WASHINGTON. — The American public which is spending seven billion dollars for aid to embattled democracies, is also spending cash to send through the mails to mailing lists compiled by pro-Nazis, literature designed to kill aid for democracies.

Definite proof that defeatist and isolationist Congressional speeches are being distributed in enormous quantities through pro-Nazi, anti-Semitic mailing lists at the expense of the American public was obtained by this correspondent.

In Omaha, Neb., Charles S. Hudson, violently anti-Semitic publisher, admitted to reporters that he had distributed isolationist speeches under the Congressional free mailing ranks of Senators Worth Clark, of Idaho, Bennett Champ Clark, of Missouri, and Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, and Representatives Oliver, of Maine and Bolton, of Ohio.

3 Routes Left for Refugees' Escape

SAN FRANCISCO. — Only three possible routes of escape are left for refugees from Europe and Asia—practically closed. Said Moses W. Beckelman, a European director of the American Joint Distribution Committee of Relief to Refugees, who arrived here last week.

He told of thousands of refugees stranded at Kobe, Lisbon and Shanghai, seeking permits to enter American countries. He put the number of refugees in Kobe at 5,000; in Lisbon at 10,000, and in Shanghai at 20,000.

ON CONCERT TOUR

NEW YORK. — Yehudi Menuhin, the violinist, sailed last week on the S. S. Argentina for a ten-week tour of South America—his first visit south of the U. S. border. He is accompanied by his wife, his father and his accompanist, Hendrik Endt.

Testimony of "Aryan" Woman Saves 11 Doctors from Prison

ROME. — The dramatic testimony of an "Aryan" woman who told a crowded courtroom that a Jewish doctor saved her son's life featured the trial of 15 noted Jewish physicians who were accused of treating non-Jewish patients in violation of the Italian racial laws.

Eleven of the 15 Jewish doctors were acquitted while the four others received nominal fines totalling 2,200 lire ($110). The Jewish doctors were defended by prominent "Aryan" attorneys who had volunteered their services.

The law involved, announced March 1, 1940, forbids Jewish physicians to treat non-Jewish patients except in emergency cases. Exemptions were granted

Hillel Foundation Director To Address B'nai B'rith

Dr. Abram Leon Sachar, national director of Hillel Foundations, and author of the current book, "Sufferance Is The Badge," will address an open meeting of Roger Williams Lodge, B'nai B'rith, next Wednesday night, 8:30 o'clock at the Jewish Community Center, on various phases of "Hillel."

Dr. Carl Jagolinzer and a slate of newly elected officers will be installed during the evening, by Benjamin J. Shoolman, past president of District No. 1, B'nai B'rith. A musical program will be presented during the evening.

Dr. Sachar, who received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from England's University of Cambridge, was a member of the University of Illinois Faculty, until he resigned to take up duties as Hillel director. He has written extensively for the "New

Republic," and the "Menorah Journal."

The public has been invited to attend the function.

Warburg Rejects "Hush Hush" Plea In Refuting Lindbergh

NEW YORK. — James P. Warburg, asked by the recently organized Fight for Freedom People to reply to the isolationist policies of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, disclosed this week that he had been advised by a number of persons not to make his address because he is a Jew.

Mr. Warburg, who said that it was his duty to speak out "as an American," said: "I wish to thank Bishop Hobson of Cincinnati, chairman of the Fight for Freedom Committee, for his invitation to respond to Charles Lindbergh.

"A number of well-meaning people, many of whom I do not know, have telephoned and wired urging me not to speak because I am a Jew. I was aware of this fact before. As soon as I was invited, I asked the Bishop to consider the anti-Semitic party line against Jews and bankers; Bishop Hobson dismissed this as irrelevant.

"I have but one duty, and that is to speak out as an American. Jew or Gentile, an American can say only this to Charles Lindbergh: Your second non-stop flight has taken you to a strange destination."

Kuhn Loses Plea; Must Serve Term

NEW YORK. — Fritz Kuhn, former leader of the German-American Bund, this week lost an appeal from his conviction in December, 1939, on charges of larceny and forgery for which he is serving a Sing Sing prison sentence of 2½ to 5 years.

The Appellate Division of State Supreme Court unanimously upheld the decision of a jury which found him guilty of using Bund funds for his personal use.

Victims to Bear Cost of Ghettos

GENEVA. — Nazi authorities in occupied Slovakia have completed plans to force the country's Jewish population into ghettos, it was reliably reported here. The first ghetto will be opened in Bratislava next month, it was said.

The cost of building the ghetto and the moving from all parts of the country into the restricted areas will have to be defrayed by the Jews, Nazi officials announced.

No Contact With 'Aryans' Permitted

146 Businesses Seized; Expect Racial Definition

VICHY, France. — With the confiscation of 146 Jewish-owned shops in the Paris region this week, it was announced that Jews who attempted to hide their ownership of businesses behind "Aryan" figureheads will be severely punished.

The new regulations, which a Vichy spokesman characterized as a "Jewish Blockade" include restrictions prohibiting any Jew from holding a proprietary or managing interest in any business, and the prohibition of Jewish workers in any employment which brings them into direct contact with the "Aryan" public.

The regulations are aimed at those who still are managing their own establishments and who "will doubtless get a much lower price when they now are forced to sell than did those who sold earlier," the spokesman said.

A racial definition of Jews and Frenchmen may be expected to result from French-German conversations, it is predicted.

Temple to Mark 20th Anniversary

As a climax to its 20th Anniversary Celebration, Temple Beth Israel has announced plans for a dinner on June 8, under the direction of Jacob Licht, president of the congregation, and Benjamin N. Kane, honorary president.

A testimonial to the Temple's officers, the dinner will also mark Rabbi Morris Schussheim's twentieth year in the ministry. During this period, Rabbi Schussheim has occupied Beth Israel's pulpit for eighteen years, interrupted only by a period of study and travel in the Holy Land and abroad.

Jewish Young Men Urged to Volunteer

Sydney P. Cohen, Corporal, DEML-RS, attached to the Fifth Recruiting District of the First Corps Area, this week issued an appeal that Jewish young men manifest their patriotism by volunteering for service with U. S. Army. Corporal Cohen explained that volunteers are privileged to select their destination and branch of service, while draftees are not.

He announced that interested men or organization may see movies being shown at Headquarters, illustrating army life and activities.

Further information may be obtained from Corporal Cohen at the Fifth Recruiting District, 40 Fountain street, this city, GASpee 6717.

GUARDISTS RELEASED
GENEVA. — Eighty-five Iron Guard leaders, who were found guilty of instigating the recent anti-Jewish massacres in which more than 2,000 Jews were killed, have been released by order of Premier Ion Antonescu, it was learned here.

To Name Home After Weizman

Jewish Inter-faith Group To Present $25,000 Check

NEW YORK. — Dr. Chaim Weizmann, Zionist leader, will be guest of honor at a luncheon at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, Monday, when the formal presentation of a $25,000 gift for the establishment of a children's nursing home in England by the Jewish Section of the Interfaith Committee For Aid to the Democracies will take place.

The home to be named the Chaim Weizmann Home, is the second such enterprise in civilian relief undertaken by the Jewish Section of the Interfaith Committee For Aid to the Democracies.

Center to Conduct Summer Day Camp

Announcement has been made by officials of the Jewish Community Center that a Day Camp will be conducted this summer, Mondays through Fridays, inclusive, on the grounds of the Center.

Rate for the season will be twelve dollars, or four dollars for two weeks, which is the minimum registration period. Children will bring their lunches—milk will be supplied.

The law cannot be sustained by acts of kindness.

Pawt. Ladies Aid Society Elects and Installs Officers

For her fifth consecutive term, Mrs. Israel Lubet was elected president of the Ladies Hebrew Aid Society of Pawtucket and Central Falls, at the season's final meeting held on Monday night at the Pawtucket Ahavat Shalom Synagogue.

Rabbi Aaron Goldin was guest speaker, having as his subject, "Mothers' Day, 1941." Mrs. Samuel K. Goodman presented a report on a successful dessert bridge, held last week, and annual reports were given by various chairmen on the Society's activities.

In addition to Mrs. Lubet, the following officers were elected, and installed, in accordance with a slate presented by Mrs. Leah Weinstein, nominating chairman: Mrs. Louis Handler, first vice-president; Mrs. Philip Fox, second vice-president; Mrs. Benjamin B. Goldenberg, recording secretary; Mrs. Samuel Brown, financial secretary; Mrs. Joseph Schinagel, treasurer; Mrs. Isador Schwartz, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Morris Marks, auditor.

Mrs. Samuel Rigelhaupt, hospitality; Mrs. Samuel Cokin, hostess; Mrs. Harry M. Fruit, ways and means; Mrs. Philip Fox, happy day; Mrs. Irene Heller, publicity; Mrs. Samuel K. Goodman, membership; Mrs. Samuel Tesler and Mrs. David Garfinkle, visiting sick.

Mrs. Harry M. Fruit, retiring vice-president, was presented with a gift for her faithful work, and corsages were given to Mrs. Lubet and Mrs. Weinstein. Mrs. Frank Levine was hostess for the evening.

Daughters Entertain For Post Auxiliary

A Mothers' Day program was presented on May 8 for the Auxiliary of Jewish War Veterans, Post No. 23, by the Daughtershood of the same order.

Helene Epstein entertained with several songs, apropos of the occasion, and readings were given by Harriet Weisel. A strawberry festival followed the program, and Mrs. Minnie Mistowsky was winner of a plant.

Miss Elaine Blumenthal, chairman, and Miss Frances Borod, ex-officio, were in charge of the affair, assisted by a large committee. Mrs. Louis Blumenthal is chairman of the Daughtershood for this year.

Einstein Pupils To Give Joint Recital

Carol Lee Dreveno and Judith Leah Webber, pupils of Arthur Einstein, will be presented in a joint piano recital next Tuesday evening, 8:15 o'clock, at the Music Mansion.

The program will consist of selections by Couperin, Bach, Haydn, Mozart, Chopin, Debussy, Palmgren and others. Highlighting the program will be a Mozart concerto, in which both pianists will perform, with Mr. Einstein playing the orchestral part on the second piano.

Miss Dreveno is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hymen D. Dreveno of 124 Blackstone boulevard, and Miss Webber, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Webber of 728 Broad street.

Persons desiring to attend may contact Mr. Einstein at GAspee 1144.

Kelly Urges Support Of "Y" Campaign

Announcing that Providence Council, No. 67, United Commercial Travelers has voted a fifty dollar contribution to the Y. M. C. A. Citizens' Appeal, J. Robert Kelley, senior counselor of the local unit of Travelers, urged a generous response by all members of the organization to the Y's current drive.

In his statement, Mr. Kelly said, "By contributing to the Y. M. C. A., you are helping to support an organization which is training young men in the ideals of democracy. A gift to the 'Y' is a sound investment in the future of America."

Why can't the United States live at peace with Hitler? The Danes, Norwegians, Belgians and Greeks know.

Newport War Vets Install Officers

Eugene Andriessse New Commander

Eugene Andriessse was installed as Commander of the Newport Jewish War Veterans, Post No. 24, in ceremonies that occurred last Sunday afternoon at the Newport Jewish Community Center. Paul J. Robin, national vice-commander was the installing officer and was assisted by Harry A. Hoffman and Samuel Mistowsky.

Other officers installed included Henry Podrat, senior vice-commander; Harry Smith, junior vice-commander; Max Levy, judge advocate; Dr. Samuel Adelson, surgeon; Victor Dannin, Maurice Slom and Jacob Krasner, trustees; Joseph Shore, chaplain; and Irving Eisenberg, officer of the day.

Justice Mortimer Sullivan, of Superior Court, was principal speaker. Past commanders Max Levy and Alfred E. Bernstein, were co-chairmen in charge of arrangements. Following the installation, a supper was served by the ladies of the Center.

So. Prov. Aid To Hold Bridge Tues.

South Providence Ladies Aid Association will hold its Annual Bridge next Tuesday evening, 8 o'clock at Weinstein's Banquet Hall, on Weybosset street, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Samuel Berman.

Mrs. David S. Polen, is associate bridge chairman; Mrs. Frank Youngstein, treasurer and Mrs. Harry Scheek, secretary.

Mrs. Louis Chester is in charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. Fred Adler, co-chairman, and the Mesdames Charles Bograd, K. Braid, Louis Goldenberg, Louis Himelfarb, Kopel Mayberg, D. Rosen and Mrs. Wasserman.

Refreshments will be handled by Mrs. Joseph An, chairman, and the Mesdames William Bloom, Samuel Millman and Louis Rapaport.

Admission to the event will be fifty cents.

Sheltering Aux. Has Successful Bridge

Forty tables were in play at the Annual Bridge of the Ladies Auxiliary, Providence Hebrew Sheltering Society, held on Tuesday afternoon at Arcadia Hall, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold C. Foster and Mrs. Harry Zakoff, co-chairmen.

Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Zakoff today extended thanks to the following committee who assisted in making the affair successful: Mrs. S. Ludman, treasurer; Mrs. B. Resnick, ex-officio, and the Mesdames Cy Cohen, A. Loeber, I. Grossman, B. Pearlman, B. Fish, A. Cleinman, H. Perelman, J. Resnick, I. Weiner and L. Fishbein.

Link Franco Unit With McWilliams

NEW YORK. — A pro-Franco organization, modestly known as the Casa De Espana, with headquarters at the Park Central Hotel, has been cooperating with Joe McWilliams by propagandizing for Franco in Spanish Harlem, in line with McNazi's present drive in Harlem proper.

The group is accredited by the Spanish Library of Information as a "social club." A more direct tie-up with the Library which is the center for Phalange propaganda in the United States, comes about through individuals who "belong" to both organizations.

Food Stamp Plan Is Two Years Old

This week marks the celebration of the second anniversary of the Food Stamp Plan, a program designed to aid the American farmer and to satisfy the appetites of hungry consumers, Rhode Island was the first entire state, east of the Rocky Mountains, to receive the stamp plan.

Since December 4, 1939, when the plan came to Providence, there has been an addition of more than $1,000,000 in new food business through the issuance of free blue stamps. It is estimated that a similar amount will be issued when all 30 cities and towns within Rhode Island are actively operating.

Sigma Phi Delta Dance Next Thursday

Alpha Eta Chapter of Sigma Phi Delta Fraternity will hold its Annual Summer Formal dance next Thursday evening at the West Warwick Country Club in West Warwick, under the chairmanship of Alfred Mossberg.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Johnny Roy and his orchestra. As a special attraction, Paul Austin, guitarist, and Eddy Saccoccia, accordionist, featured last year at the World's Fair, will entertain.

Mr. Mossberg is being assisted in arrangements by Maurice Kouffman, Edward Feldman, Leo Stein and Mearl Golin.

FIRMS CONFISCATED

VICHY. — The number of Jewish enterprises expropriated in occupied France reached 1,810 when a new list of 130 confiscated firms was published in the Official Journal here.

MEMOS OF A GIRL FRIDAY:

Dear W. W.: Quentin Reynolds has arrived safely via convoy. He made it that way to do an article for Collier's on convoys . . . FDR and John L. Lewis haven't exactly buried the hatchet, but the things they say of each other privately aren't nasty as they were.

You wanted me to remind you to say something about the Ism gangsters who pin themselves on to Americans who are popular. Willkie sure was brave when he threw away the votes of many by publicly announcing that he didn't want Fronters, Bundists et al on his side.

The spending by the visiting British tars has saved many a joint ready to fold up. . . . So-and-so just phoned. Said that FDR's jaw is "longer than ever" and that his knuckles are a little whiter when he clenches his fist—and that his policy henceforth will be "action or dismissal!"—Your Girl Friday.

Emanuel To Have Layman's Sabbath

Rabbi Israel M. Goldman will preach on "The Definition of a Man," at the annual Layman's Sabbath dedicated to the Men's Club of Temple Emanuel, to be held at the Temple tonight.

Words of greetings will be brought by Daniel Jacobs, president of the Men's Club, and the following officers will participate in the service: Messrs. David Meyers, George Carson, Louis Temkin and Samuel Garr.

The musical part of the program will be featured by an all Lewandowski presentation, prepared by Cantor Jacob Hohenemser and Arthur Einstein, in commemoration of the 120th anniversary of the birth of a great Jewish composer.

Pioneers to Hold Lag B'Omer Event

A Lag B'Omer celebration will be held by the Pioneer Women's Club of Providence on Saturday afternoon, 2 o'clock at Arcadia Hall, at which time Aaron S. Moldow, of Boston, will read selections from Sholom Aleichem.

A number of Palestinian and Jewish folk songs will be sung by Mrs. Fred Weiser, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Samuel Surdut. Mrs. Samuel Solkoff is chairman of the affair, while Mrs. Louis Smira will act as hostess.

The Pioneers will hold a regular meeting next Tuesday afternoon at Arcadia Hall. Feature of the afternoon will be a review of Robert Nathan's "They Went On Together," by Mrs. Morris Shoham.

Chaset - Kimball

The Beacon House in Brookline, Mass., last Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock, was the setting for an attractive Spring wedding, when Miss Rosalind Arlene Kimball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kimball of Lawrence, Mass., became the bride of Dr. Nathan Chaset, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Chaset of 86 Gallatin street, this city. The double ring ceremony was solemnized by Rabbi Morris Schussheim of Temple Beth Israel. A dinner followed the nuptials.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was dressed in a gown of white silk marquisette, en train, fashioned with insertions of heirloom lace. The neckline formed into a Peter Pan collar, and the sleeves were three-quarter length. Her finger-tip veil of maline fell from a maline Juliet cap, and she carried a white Bible, covered with white orchids.

In attendance as matron of honor, was Mrs. Leonard Levine, gowned in yellow faille, basque style with a tight fitting bodice. Her bouquet was of Spring blossoms. Bridesmaids included Miss Barbara Kimball, Mrs. Archie Chaset, Miss Gladys Cogan and Miss Eleanor Nolman. They wore old-fashioned frocks of cornflower blue, and carried old-fashioned nosegays.

E. Leonard Chaset, brother of the bridegroom was best man, while the following attended as ushers: Archie Chaset, Leonard Levine, Dr. W. S. Altman, Samuel Newman, Frank Mellion and Joseph Kimball.

The bride's mother was smartly dressed in a gown of ice blue lace, with a crepe skirt, while the mother of the bridegroom was attractively attired in an aqua chiffon frock, with a lace bodice. Both wore orchids in their hairdresses.

After a two weeks wedding tour through the South, Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Chaset will return to this city, and make their home at 84 Gallatin street.

Lieberman - Frank

The marriage of Miss Elaine Barbara Frank, daughter of Mrs. Casper Frank of 3 President avenue, to Abbot Lieberman, son of Mrs. Philip Korb of Larch street, took place on Thursday at high noon, at the bride's home. Rabbi Israel M. Goldman of Temple Emanuel officiated at the ceremony.

Feted At Party

Miss Ruth Miller, a June bride-elect, and daughter of Mrs. Sara Miller and the late Henry Miller of 64 Memorial road, was feted at a party on May 6, given in the Parlours of the Narragansett Hotel. Dinner was followed by mah jong and bridge, with about 100 guests from Haverhill, Somerville, Fall River and this city, in attendance.

The honored guest was presented with a set of sterling flatware. Miss Miller will become the bride of Dr. Nathan K. Shand of Waterbury, Conn., on June 22. Mrs. Alex Zalkind and Mrs. Leo Miller were hostesses for the affair.

Miss Shocket Betrothed

For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

Webster says frolic means "merry and gay"
 Beth-El frolicked in a gay, May way . . .
 There, too, the social colony at large
 And the music was under Lew Bonick's charge . . .

Not since last May—same time, same occasion—have we been witness to such a huge crowd in the Biltmore's Ballroom and Foyer, as converged there last Wednesday night for the Second Frolic, over which Temple Beth El presided as host . . . Music was by Jack Marshard's orchestra, with genial Lew Bonick showing the baton the way . . .

There's something about an informal dance in May that strikes the fancy of pleasure-bent folk . . . Whether it's the smiling freedom of not having to "dress" on a warmish sort of nite, even for the austere and formal surroundings of a hotel's grand ballroom, or whether it's the happy thought of seeing so many scores of old friends, we don't know . . . Tennyrate, everyone was there . . . And very worthwhile it was for the holders of lucky tickets, when the prize awarding session was in swing . . . In another column of The Herald, you'll learn who won what, but before you leave us, let us tell you who wore what . . .

Well, one of the first outfits that caught our eye was that of Mrs. Harry Dimond . . . The dress was of stunning heavy white crepe, startlingly contrasted by a yoke of jet black, and a band of black about the hemline . . . Beverly Starr was a striking glamour girl in her navy dress, with a bishop collar of stiff white pique . . . Mrs. Roland Block, petite in a striped affair of brown beige and blue . . . The stripes of the bodice were vertical, while the skirt stripes were horizontal . . . Most unusually smart . . .

Mrs. Sam Greene was delicately lovely in a pastel print of green and white, with a Hawaiian lei of white beads around her neck . . . Madeline Dolberg wore a most becoming frock of beige . . . In the Fall River contingent—Mrs. Jack Eisenberg, wearing a voguish frock of powder blue, cleverly contrasted by small toque of sunset pink . . . Mrs. Dave Kotlen in a tailored suit of grey checks . . . Blonde Mrs. Herman Mason, stately in an outfit of a warm sandy hue . . .

So smart was Mrs. Jack Rosenblatt's frock of navy, with its tiered skirt . . . On her dark hair, a halo hat of navy and white . . . Mrs. Harold Silverman chose mist gray, with a red and black Mary Stuart bonnet on her blonde locks . . . Mildred Robinson, pretty as a portrait in a black silk jersey affair, with the entire front of beige silk jersey . . . Hilda Pritsker was darling in Spring black, with a lingerie square collar . . .

Mrs. David Dwares was positively radiant in her outfit of deep purple . . . Mrs. Hal Stanzler, selected a black dress, with a bolero jacket of white eyelet pique . . . A long sleeved dress, shirtwaist style, of grey print was Mrs. Arkie Weiner's choice . . . Sylvia Saltzman's green frock of dainty print, was banded about the hemline with deep green . . . Mrs. Gladys Davis costume was of beige, with a long sleeved white blouse, and a sleeveless green jacket over it all . . . Evelyn Bader was outstanding in suit of sophisticated black, with white fur sleeves . . .

Mrs. Max Grant wore an exquisite suit of black moire, with fitted jacket . . . A fussy jabot, of filmy material accented the neckline . . . Blonde Mrs. Alfred H. Joslin was charming in a dark costume, details of which we didn't get, having got jostled away by the crowd . . .

Mrs. Frank Barad was the cynosure of many eyes in her Dandyish suit of black, with a white organdie blouse peeking out at the neckline . . . Her hat was large and off the face . . . A turban and dress of matching green print, the chic selection of Mrs. Isadore Paisner . . . Dorothy Kelman could have inspired anyone to sing "Zigeuner," in her out and out gypsy get-up . . . 'Twas a red skirt, long sleeved chiffon blouse of white, with a minute bolero of matching red . . .

Miriam Knasin was exotic in her dress of multi-colored striped skirt, and red bodice . . . How smart, her red wool turban with green yarn—pure and simple—used as trimming! . . . A suit of navy and white, and a most becoming flower-garden hat, worn by Mrs. Sam Oresman . . . Tiny white leopards figured all over Mrs. Arthur Novogroski's black dress . . . With it she wore a necklace and bracelet of fire-engine red . . . Mrs. Louis Hayman's frock was outstanding . . . Yellow print figured on the black skirt and jacket, while black print highlighted the yellow bodice . . . A fetching black felt hat, with loads of veil, completed the outfit . . .

Irma Leiviss was a lovely dancing lady in her navy frock, with a jacket of white bunny material, and a matching white calot on her short dark hair . . . Marion Jagolinzer, pretty Pembroke, came in a precious navy dress, with a detachable collar of ruffled lingerie, and bracelet length sleeves . . . Blonde Mrs. Leonard Hazen was attractive in a simply tailored dress of sky blue . . . Red revers highlighted Mrs. Maurice Pullman's grey print outfit, and her hat was red and becoming . . .

Vivacious Mrs. Maurice Bazar looked grand in her grey and green printed dress, as did Mrs. Mac Greenbaum in her figured frock of brown and white . . . A smart costume of black, with a small felt hat, smothered in red veiling, was the selection of Mrs. Hy Colton . . . Martha Kaplan was pretty in her dress of lime, with lots of buttons down the front . . . Mrs. Burt Finberg wore navy, accented with light blue . . . Mrs. Al Rosen in a trim suit of black, with a red blouse as contrast . . .

Of worthy note was Mrs. Bo Bernstein in her grey, Glen-plaid man-tailored suit, and large hat, turned up on one side . . . We loved her choice of dark, dark lipstick . . . A black dress, and white turban—Mrs. Joe Levin's costume . . . Pretty Mrs. Jack Comras wore an attractive frock of black, printed with white figures . . . Blondish Mrs. Milton Rosen, in sleek black silk jersey.

Shirley Shein's dress had a navy bodice, and a very full skirt of white polka dotted navy . . . Slim Jean Abrams was beautifully poised in a frock of heavy brown crepe, and a red rose at her shoulder . . . Mrs. Mac Weiss wore a light Spring thing of black and white figures, with accent of red . . . Black and white and red combined for Mrs. Jules Goldsmith's striking outfit . . . Mrs. Helen Donig was a most gracious lady in a lacey dress, the same blue as her eyes . . . Muriel Paris said hello as she passed, looking chic in black and white . . . A V-necked frock of well-tailored black worn by Mrs. Phil Lieberman . . . Mrs. Sydney Silverman vended flowers, stately as a flower herself, in a frock of soft blue . . . Mrs. Arthur Kaplan's darling dress was of light blue print . . . Green and beige are always good companions, and formed into a smart frock worn by Mrs. Henry Levaur . . . Sadie Moskoll's dark attractiveness was enhanced by a dress of lime and green . . .

Mrs. Edwin Halpert was dashing in a trim suit of blue lightweight wool, with cardigan style jacket . . . Blonde Ann Bercovitz was eye-catching in her navy raiment . . . A lovely frock of soft blue was worthy of its wearer—Mrs. Herman Feingold . . . Mrs. Babs Botvin in beautifully tailored beige crepe . . . Edith Berger, in a dress and turban, of unique Persian print . . . Selma Brier, in an outfit of powder and navy blue, and the novel note—a navy sling on her mending broken arm . . . Ruth Payton was there, looking fine in a casual dress of banana yellow . . . An unusual costume was Dorothy Orleck's . . . It was of pastel plaid, longish jacket, and a large brimmed hat to match . . .

Right now, we've divorcing our typewriter—strictly on terms of incompatibility . . . It says we can't go on with this chatter any longer—because space won't allow . . . We say, we haven't even started to chatter . . . But as usual, we must concede to a point that makes common sense, as you know this one does . . .

The Land of the Free

(This is one of a series of true stories taken from the files of the R. I. Refugee Service.)

This is the story of the S family, who for many years had lived comfortably in a small home in their native Austria, with a secure business, and surrounded by many friends. Thrown into an upheaval of terror and confusion by the onslaught of persecution, the S's and their two children, after months of uncertainty, were brought to this country by the help of relatives here.

They were happy to be here, where they could walk about freely. All they wanted was the chance to earn a livelihood and to live in a free country. Then, started the search for work in New York. Mr. S. was eager to learn American methods of business. However, when Mr. S. asked for work in his broken English and held out his hands to show that he was strong, people thought he asked for charity and offered him a dime. He did not want to beg. He wanted work, no matter how laborious. The best he got was odd jobs by the day. After months of this kind of living, he became a little weary. New York so large and he was insignificant and unknown. People didn't understand him.

Then the S's came to Providence. Here, in a small town, they could talk to their neighbors and meet people. With the aid of the R. I. Refugee Service, a home was found, furniture bought and another search for employment started.

Mr. S. didn't want to accept money, he wanted only to work. He tried to find work as a grave digger; no job was too dirty. He would awake early in the morning, walk to Olneyville, across the city and to Pawtucket, looking for work. He couldn't spend carfare; that would deprive his family of food. At night, his body ached all over from exhaustion. At last, a job was found by the Employment Committee of the Refugee Service. Mr. S. was elated that his efforts were rewarded.

His wife, too, now wants a job. It will be difficult for her of course, with two children and a household to care for, but she will manage somehow. They're confident that a job will be found for her soon, so that they may relax in the feeling of security once more.

Rabbinical Women Hear Rabbi Katz

In addressing a regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, Rabbinical College of Telesche, held last Monday afternoon at the Jewish Community Center, Rabbi T. Katz of the Telesche Yeshiva in Lithuania, told of present conditions at the college, and stressed the vital importance of continued help.

A receipt for one hundred dollars sent to the College during March, was read by Mrs. Charles Schreiber, treasurer, stating that the money had arrived safely.

Final reports were presented on the recent bridge held by the Auxiliary, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry Orenstein. Mrs. Orenstein was commended for her work in making the affair successful.

The benediction was pronounced by Rabbi Katz.

During the evening, a slate of officers, recently published in The Herald, will be elected. Reports on the Center's activities will be given by Samuel H. Workman, president, and J. I. Cohen, executive director.

Musical entertainment will be provided by the Jewish Center Orchestra, under the direction of Benjamin Premack. Sophie Ellis Lieberman will appear in a solo dance number, and is also directing several group dances. A one-act play, directed by Florence Parker, will be given by the Center Guild, while younger members of the Center will present a pageant, "Holidays on Parade," under the direction of Miss Parker, and Beatrice Gross Cohen.

The public has been invited to attend.

Luncheon Held By Temple Women

Sounding a hopeful note in the Jewish scene of today, by citing other sorrowful moments in Jewish life and pointing out that each time there was rescue, Rabbi Philip R. Alstat of New York, a former classmate of Rabbi Morris Schussheim, addressed the Annual Luncheon and Installation of Temple Beth Israel's Sisterhood, held last Monday afternoon in the Narragansett Hotel's Crystal Ballroom.

During the afternoon, newly elected officers, whose names were published in a recent Herald, were installed by Rabbi Schussheim. Various reports were given by committee chairman, Miss Gill of Providence Chapter of Red Cross, addressed the group.

A minute of silence was observed in memory of the late Mrs. Abe Ogan, a Sisterhood member.
