

Committee Buys Building for Local Hebrew Day School

Site at Prospect, Meeting Street

A three-story building at the corner of Prospect and Meeting streets was purchased this week for a Hebrew Day School for children of primary school age, it was announced this week by Archie Smith, chairman of the temporary committee. According to present schedules, the school will open in February to co-incide with the opening of the second term of the Providence School system.

The building has a frontage of 163 feet on Prospect street, more than 100 feet on Meeting street, for a total land area of 16,788 square feet. A garage with attached living quarters, located on Cushing street, was also purchased as part of the former Walter Hidden Estate. The school is built of brick and is fire-proof. Slight renovations will be necessary to transfer the structure into a school building. Present plans involve the use of only the first and second floors.

Assisting Mr. Smith on the temporary committee are Joseph H. Shaulson, Israel Kaufman, Harris Miller, Eugene Freedman and Charles Koffler. Complete information concerning the school curriculum and teachers will be released shortly in the Herald.

Editorials

Archibald Silverman

It is difficult, if not impossible, to compress in the space of an editorial, the good that a man has accomplished in a quarter of a century. We cannot, however, limit ourselves to an examination of the past 25 years for Mr. Silverman's activities in behalf of the poor go back to his childhood days when, under the tutelage of his father, he first became familiar with alleviating the sufferings of the less fortunate in his neighborhood.

When his family settled in South Providence, in 1890, Mr. Silverman was only ten years old. Yet his spare time was devoted to a two-fold purpose—working and assisting his parents in charitable work. There was much to be done; rounding up worshippers for the minyans held in an attic on Robinson street; aiding the newly organized Orphanage located then on North Main street; soliciting funds to assist impoverished transients; and collecting nickels and dimes which were given anonymously to needy families.

Thus it is obvious that Mr. Silverman had a sound training in religious and charitable activities, work which he expanded as the community enlarged. His first sizable job was the chairmanship of the annual charity ball in 1910. Later he became vice-president of the Orphanage and, in 1920, president. It was during his administration that the ground was broken for the present structure located on Summit avenue.

It was in 1905 that he manifested his first interest in Zionism. And since that year, that interest has grown and involved practically every member of his family.

No less important was his work, with others, in meeting the ships bringing emigrants to this country from Europe. The problems were many; and hundreds were admitted because men like Mr. Silverman were able to explain, to interpret and to solve the difficulties that faced the newcomers.

In addition to being a member of nearly every local Synagogue and Temple in the city, he has, at one occasion or another, directed the various committees of Jewish communal work. His ability as a raconteur is nationally known, his brotherhood talks have promoted better understanding, his mingling with every group within our city has given him a true communal point of view.

The testimonial on Sunday evening will also mark the opening of the 1944 United Jewish Appeal Campaign, for Mr. Silverman realizes that although much has been accomplished during the past two decades, more vital work than ever faces him and every other member of this community in the coming years.

Two Thousand at Emanuel Celebration of Anniversary

Nearly two thousand persons attended the three celebrations last week-end in connection with the 20th anniversary of Temple Emanuel, it was revealed this week. Rabbi Herman Abramowitz was the anniversary service speaker and, as part of the service, Rabbi Israel M. Goldman gave a blueprint of what Temple Emanuel must do in the next 20 years.

The Sabbath morning observance was highlighted by addresses by local religious and educational leaders.

A testimonial service to Judge

Philip C. Joslin, president of the Temple since it was started, occurred last Sunday evening. Talks were given by Gov. J. Howard McGrath, Presiding Justice Jeremiah O'Connell, Dr. Israel M. Goldman and Dr. Abraham A. Neumann. Max Winograd presided over the proceedings. The musical program was provided by Cantor Jacob Hohenwasser, the Temple Emanuel choir, under the direction of Arthur Einstein, and Benjamin Premack.

During the evening, Judge Joslin placed a photostatic copy of the mortgage into an urn and the Congregation saw the document burned. Judge Joslin made an address in response to the many tributes of the evening. A reception was then held in the social hall.

Awards were made to the following members and officers: Samuel Magid, Ernest Blazar, Benjamin Basok, Herman Bernstein, Samuel Goldberger, Abraham L. Jacobs, Mrs. Philip C. Joslin, George Pullman, Abraham H. Rotman Benjamin I. Sass, Samuel Rosen, Judge Philip C. Joslin and Rabbi Israel M. Goldman.

Lehman Plans European Tour

WASHINGTON — Herbert H. Lehman, director of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, announced that he will leave within a few days for a survey of the organization's offices in Europe. He said he hoped to go to several liberated countries as well as UNRRA's European office in London.

As Lehman prepared for his trip, the White House released a letter from President Roosevelt to the UNRRA director congratulating him on the "great progress" made during the year in preparing for the "tremendous tasks ahead."

To Plant Trees in Memory of Willkie

NEW YORK — A grove of 1,000 trees will be planted in Palestine as a memorial to Wendell L. Willkie, Mrs. Eli Goldstein, president of the Palestine Planters of New York announced recently.

Mrs. Goldstein said the Palestine Planters were a group of women "devoted to the aims of the Jewish National Fund."

R. I. Christian Frontist Gets Only 95 Votes For Congress

Few people were aware that Charles A. Napier, of 25 Brier street, Woonsocket, described by the B'nai B'rith Anti-Defamation League as a distributor of Christian Frontist and Anti-Semitic literature, was a candidate for Congress in the first Congressional District in Rhode Island. Mr. Napier only polled 95 votes to Aime J. Forand's 79,848 and Charles A. Curran's 50,247 votes.

The State Election Board through Albert J. Lamarre, chairman, this week rejected Napier's petition for the opening of all the voting machines and the board expressed the belief that "any change" in the result, brought about by opening the machines "would prove so trivial that the petition of said Charles R. Napier is hereby denied."

Napier ran for Congress on nomination papers as a constitutional government candidate. Forand ran as a Democrat, and Curran as a Republican.

After the results of the voting in the district became known to Napier, he was immediately suspicious. The more he thought it over, the more he was convinced that opening of the voting machines might mean much to him. He therefore petitioned the State board to open every single machine "owing to dissatisfaction in account of votes in the General Election and the happenings of things."

It was the "happening of things" that bothered Napier most of all. "While the board is determined to function so that justice will be done to all political candidates, it is constrained to decide that any 'inspection and checking' any personal votes is necessary where a substantial change in election tabulations might result," the board held. "In the petition at hand the board believes that any change would prove so trivial that the petition of said Charles R. Napier is hereby denied."

Quisling Money To Repay Jews

PARIS — Fifty percent of the monies from property confiscated from collaborationists will be allocated for the compensation of Jews whose properties were Aryanized, according to a tentative decision by the French Government which may soon be made public.

This, the Government feels, will partly solve the problem growing out of the refusal by the present owners to restore the Jewish property which came into their possession following Aryanization. Frequently such property had passed through several hands before reaching the present owner.

Lutherans Pledge Church Aid to Jews

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America last week adopted a resolution pledging aid of the church in the preservation of Jewish liberties throughout the nation.

The resolution followed a protest by the Rev. William G. Arbaugh, New York, Superintendent of Missions of Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, against denial by the United States Government of passports for missionaries to Latin America.

The resolution concerning Jews said the church viewed "with concern the manifestations of a rising tide of anti-Semitism in American life."

PROCLAMATION THANKSGIVING DAY

By J. HOWARD McGRATH Governor

The President of the United States has called our nation to prayer and thanksgiving on the fourth Thursday of November.

It is among the sacred American traditions that throughout our years of growth and development, in peace and in war, we have never been unmindful of the blessings bestowed upon us through the loving kindness of Almighty God. No other nation in history was ever blessed with richer endowments of physical possessions with which to make the lives of people full and happy. No other nation was ever chosen by Divine Providence to so lavishly spend its resources for the preservation of freedom and liberty at home and far beyond its own borders.

This Thanksgiving Day will find many American homes sharing in the closest and most intimate manner the personal sacrifices which the redemption of the world from evil forces demands.

We are thankful for the physical strength of our manhood, and womanhood, too, that enables our country to be looked upon as the brightest hope for an enduring peace.

We are thankful for the patriotism that makes all of us willing to share in the common effort of our nation. This common bond allies us to one another in the same sense that as a whole people we are allied to peoples of other lands and cultures in man's greatest struggle for the survival of the Christian virtues of faith, hope and charity.

We are thankful for the fertility of the land, but even more so for the spirituality that directs us as a people.

In grateful appreciation, therefore, of the blessings and opportunities that have been ours, with a fervent prayer that present sacrifices will soon be rewarded with lasting peace on earth and a true fraternity among nations and peoples, with reverence and humility, we offer our homage to Almighty God, and, therefore, DO I, J. HOWARD McGRATH GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND AND PROVIDENCE PLANTATIONS PROCLAIM urging our people to share on this day and in the days to come the grief of our neighbors, facing them by our consolation to remain strong in their faith, so that together we can speed the day of victory for right over might, justice over inhumanity, love in place of hate, and a true worthiness for the bestowal of God's blessings rather than his retribution on the generations to whom we are forbearers. We pray especially for peace again in our day and everlasting peace for all the days of our children.

THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-THIRD DAY OF NOVEMBER as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State to be affixed this fifteenth day of November, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-four, and of Independence, the one hundred and sixty-ninth.

Adelina Patti asked $100,000 for a certain three-month tour. "But," objected an impresario, "that's more than the President gets!"....."Well," shrugged the diva, "then get the President"..... Liszt was a character who wore the same kind of clothes whether the weather was rainy or fair..... "I never," he declared, "take notice of that which takes no notice of me".....Handel composed so fast, they say, that the ink on the top of the page of his manuscript had not dried by the time he reached the bottom.....Another gag of the day: "Do you like Brahms?"....."I don't know. What are they?"....."After Strauss—what?" an English journalist once queried. "For one thing," music oracle Leonard Lieblich noted, "the critics."

"During the last war some French soldiers played the famed German song, "Lorelei," and there was strenuous objection. In their defense an officer said: "France is making war on the country, not on its music".....A gay old beau of Mary Garden, eyeing her daring dress supported by only one shoulder strap, asked her what kept it up. "Only your age, sir," she replied.....A young man was restrained from entering Carnegie Hall because of his alcoholic state of mind. "You can't go to a piano recital when you're drunk," he was told. "Do you think," he hiccuped "I'd go if I wasn't?"

No Second Time

When Rossini heard Wagner's "Lohengrin" for the first time, he said: "One cannot judge a work upon a single hearing—and I have no intention of hearing this a second time".....A German critic once wrote that "Wagner was a good musician, but he left behind the Wagnerites, which was most unkind of him"....."In order to compose," said Schumann, "It is just enough to remember a tune which nobody else has thought of"

When Albert Spalding toured through the west one winter, he told a theatre manager that his violin was 200 years old....."Don't say anything about it," replied the impresario, "and maybe the audience won't know the difference."

Paderewski, when still quite unknown, went to London armed with letters of introduction to influential Britishers, "Dear Prince," one said, "the bear Ignace Paderewski is a fiery young Pole and rather charming when he doesn't play the piano, for which he has little talent".....Paderewski, unless a press agent of the day is fooling us, once accosted a polo player with the question: "What is the difference between us?" The other shrugged. "You," grinned Ignace, "are a good soul who plays polo. I am a good Pole who plays solo".....Grunfeld was caught by the father of one of his pupils kissing the girl. "Is this," stormed the parent, "what I am paying for?"....."No," replied the famous tutor, "I do this free."

A journalist objected to the 7 a. m. piano playing in the room next to his in a Milan hotel. "Do you always allow that?" he asked....."Not as a rule," they told him, "but we make exception with Mr. Verdi".....It was the late Alexander Woolcott who deflated a famous soprano boasting of her execution of an aria she described as "difficult"....."Difficult!" groaned Woolcott. "I wish it had been impossible!".....At a Peabody concert President Grant once observed: "I know only two tunes. One is 'Yankee Doodle' and

Secretary, United Jewish Appeal Campaign

Since we know that the United Jewish Appeal is the only channel through which funds are provided for relief, for rehabilitation, for the upbuilding of the Jewish National Home in Palestine, for assistance and adjustment of refugees in the U. S. it is our duty to support the U.J.A. campaign.

In our community the United Jewish Appeal campaign should not be and must not be considered, as the campaign only for the Joint Distribution Committee, United Palestine Appeal and The National Refugee Service, but consideration should be given by the contributor of the fact that 37 more agencies are the beneficiaries of the local United Jewish Appeal Campaign. To mention one, the Jewish Welfare Board, which is doing a big job for the man in service. The Hebrew University in Jerusalem, the local refugee committee, The American Jewish Congress, and The Anti-Defamation League and so many more important agencies which every one of us would have to support. It is my sincere belief that if every contributor will acquaint themselves with last year's report book issued by the United Jewish Appeal, he will then realize what his obligations are and how to make this $250,000 campaign go over the top.

BENJAMIN BRIER
Co-Chairman, Initial Gifts Committee, United Jewish Appeal

I am urging the fullest support for the most intensive drive for the survival and rehabilitation of the Jewish people ever launched by their fellow Jews in our community. I feel that the goal represents the minimum requirements of the Joint Distribution Committee, the United Palestine Appeal and the National Refugee Service, together with the many other agencies that benefit as a result of our campaign.

New developments in recent weeks have already broadened the scope of the activities of the J.D.C., which will this year complete 30 years of relief service in behalf of millions scattered over five continents.

If we wish to assure the survival of the Jews of Europe so that they, too, may enjoy the blessings of victory we must respond with greater contributions than ever before to the 1944 Providence United Jewish Appeal Campaign.

Goldman Conducts Hillsgrove Services

Rabbi Israel M. Goldman of Temple Emanuel conducted last Thursday evening's Jewish service at Hillsgrove Army Air Field. A special guest was the Protestant Chaplain of Hillsgrove, Lt. J. F. Merrill. Chaplain Merrill, who has been a great help in making the Jewish services at Hillsgrove possible, spoke briefly and expressed his appreciation for Rabbi Goldman's cooperation and the assistance of the National Jewish Welfare Board.

SAMUEL SHORE
Co-chairman, United Jewish Appeal Campaign

As we look to the day of victory we must recognize that the triumph of the Allied forces will confront us with a challenge to shape a peace which will bring an era of justice and security for all men. We must save those who are faced with the threat of destruction and death in the final hour of Germany's defeat. They are the army behind the lines who are fighting our battle for freedom.

Though the agencies of the United Jewish Appeal, American Jews can meet their responsibilities of kindling the flame of hope and revival for large masses of Jews in all parts of the world so that they may be speedily restored to a place of dignity in a new world, and help to enjoy the benefits of freedom and peace.

Results to date in the campaign have been encouraging and in most instances contributions of last year have been doubled. I urge everyone in our community to contribute substantially to the Providence United Jewish Appeal Campaign as our goal and our need is twice the amount of last year.

Mrs. Seymour Rosenberg, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaid was Miss Edith Lozow, a sister of the bridegroom. Lt. (j. g.) Maynard Eulvon, USNR, was best man. The bridesmaid's gown was of aquamarine crepe and she wore a headdress similar to the maid of honor. Both carried bouquets of Autumn blossoms.

A reception followed the wedding in the vestry. Mrs. Rosenberg was gowned in royal blue and the bridegroom's mother chose a gown of a soft shade of green. Their corsages were of orchids.

Both Corporal Lozow and Mrs. Lozow were graduated from Hope High School. The couple will go to New York City for their honeymoon and reside in Hempstead, Long Island, N. Y.

The Quonset Naval Air Base is furnishing the transportation for the hospital patients and Miss Lena McCoy, Red Cross worker at Quonset, is assisting with the arrangements.

DR. CAROL KLEIN

Dr. Carol Klein, rabbi of the Congregation Sons of Jacob, will attend the War Emergency conference of the World Jewish Congress, November 26, at Atlantic City, N. J., as a delegate representing Hungarian Jewry. Congress representatives will be present from practically every section of the world.

Sons of Zion Sisterhood to Meet

The Sisterhood of the Sons of Zion Synagogue will hold a regular meeting this Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Synagogue. Mrs. Ira Robinson, president, announced this week. Mrs. Harry Shatkin, guest speaker of the afternoon will give a reading. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

It Happened This Week

Following the testimonial dinner to Archibald Silverman this Sunday evening at the Narragansett Hotel, the United Jewish Appeal general solicitation will get under way. With a goal twice that of a year ago, the contributors will have to at least double their gifts if the quota of $250,000 is to be reached. So, when you're approached, have that pocketbook wide open. That new proposed Hebrew Day School plans to begin sessions in February when a nursery school will be established. The teachers are coming from New York where they've received special training in secular education. Archie Smith, temporary chairman of the sponsors, believes full details of the school will be made public in several weeks.

About People

PFC Irving Rosenzweig, whose marriage to Irvina Goldstein took place last Sunday, had quite a siege of overseas duty before he came home to get hitched. He was in Italy with the Fifth Army and, after being wounded, received the Purple Heart. He also has the Infantry Medal and several other minor awards. Bill and Belle Bergman were in New York for a week. Rabbi Carol Klein will be on station WPRO on December 12 with a Chanukah program. Rose Rosenzweig, of our town, was recently wed to Herman Dubin, of New Haven. The Raymond Kaufmans have named their son, Aaron. Rabbi Morris Schussheim was suddenly taken ill this week. His family certainly has had a lot of tough luck.

Odd Items

If any of our readers has, by chance, a copy of the Herald, dated March 21, 1944, please call us. We have a note from a soldier in the Southwest Pacific requesting that issue. Burton Rubin recently was given a 34-day leave. Ensign Jack Komros visited his brother in Baltimore a short while ago. Simon Sheckman is now a Sergeant. Sgt. Bernard Coken, in a recent letter home, said his outfit hit the Normandy beach when that strip of sand was still a fighting front. His unit then moved over to the Cherbourg area and after a bloody fight he joined the chase to the German frontier.

Hadassah to Mark Szold Birthday

The Business and Professional Division of Hadassah will meet Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Biltmore Hotel. The program will include a tribute to Henrietta Szold in honor of her birthday and a report on the recent national convention of Hadassah by Mrs. Saul Feinberg, president of Hadassah, who was the Providence delegate.

provided a starring vehicle for herself by dramatizing her best seller, "In Bed We Cry." However the torrid love affairs of the skunk-and-mink set resulted in cold drama. The romance failed to woo aisle-sitters; the only torch they carried was a hotfoot for the play. Despite a few dissents, the critical majority embraced the musical version of the famed tropical Sinderella, "Sadie Thompson." Wearing a gem of a script sparkling with ditties and a twinkling ballet, the consensus agreed there is plenty of lowlife in "Sadie." In the title role June Havoc earned hosannas with the New York Post's W. Waldorf stating: "It is distinctly a success."

The Moom Pitchers: "Thirty Seconds Over Tokio" presents Movieville's monument to Doolittle's dare-devils who blazed the trail for Japan's last mile. The scenario for this stirring motion picture is history written with the blood of Americans and underlined with their valor. With Clifford Odets composing the literary music and Ethel Barrymore, Carv Grant and Barry Fitzgerald playing the heartstrings, "None But the Lonely Heart" is a dramatic symphony in tune with your emotions.
