

Rankin Backs Dental Quota Celler Terms Tirade "Unfair"

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The nation-wide protest against a report urging dental colleges to adopt racial quotas, flared into a fight on the floor of Congress when Representative John E. Rankin (D. Miss.) rose in defense of the report submitted to Columbia and New York Universities by Dr. Harlan H. Horner, Secretary of the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association. "The American Dental Association...has done what it has the right to do," he asserted in reply to Representative Emanuel Celler (D. N. Y.), who a moment earlier asserted that the Horner report "seeks to smite our Bill of Rights, by providing for religious tests for entrance and should be investigated by the so-called Committee to Investigate Un-American Activities."

Representative Rankin, a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, shook his fist at the New York Congressman and shouted, "I am tired of the gentleman from New York raising the Jewish question in the House and then into dental colleges" and that the American Dental Association "is indeed un-American jumping on every man who says anything about it. Why attack the American Dental Association?...I wonder if the gentleman knew that 90 per cent of the doctors who get on the civil roll are Jews, and 90 per cent of the ones we are compelled to accept in our veterans' hospitals are Jews. Remember that the white Gentiles of this country also have some rights."

Henrietta Szold

The passing of Henrietta Szold, founder of the Hadassah, woman Zionist movement in America, and of the Youth Aliyah Movement in Palestine, centers attention on a life of self-less service that shines as a light in the blackness of war.

At 50, when some are content to rest serenely on past accomplishments, Miss Szold tore up her roots in America and started a new work in a strange country but one which she considered the homeland of her people. In 1933, when it became evident that Hitler Germany was unsafe for Jewish children, she worked out the plan for the Youth Aliyah Movement—for their care and education in Palestine.

At first, children from 15 to 17 were prepared for six months in their own home environment for the move to the new homeland, given instruction in Hebrew and in the geography and customs of Palestine, and then moved out of Germany in orderly groups. With the war came chaos. Many children from 2 to 17, there and in invaded countries, were rescued, 85 per cent of them orphans. All knew the horrors of war. Until eight months ago Miss Szold met some 13,000 of these boys and girls arriving in Haifa. They all knew her as "Mother."

Courage, vision, devotion to the ideals of humanity, mercy, and justice characterized her life, which will stand as an example not only to her people but to the world of how far these qualities reach out to bless.

Reveal Losses Of French Jews

PARIS — A report made public by the French government, this week, reveals that the overall losses accrued to Jews in France are estimated at approximately $6,000,000. The report stated that 100,716 Jews, most of whom have probably since died, have been deported from France; that 54,612 homes were completely despoiled of their furniture and 69,111 homes Aryanized. The number and value of Jewish businesses and factories confiscated has not as yet been ascertained. The French government will submit this estimate to the peace conference and demand that the Germans pay indemnities.

New Polish Gov't Clarifies Policy

JERUSALEM — Replying to questions at their first press conference in Jerusalem the representatives of Polpress, official news agency of the Provisional Government in Poland, declared that as regards Jewish emigration from Poland to Palestine, the Lublin Government would not adopt a policy of compulsory evacuation toward any minority groups, but it was to be assumed that Jews wishing to proceed to Palestine could do so. They also stated that so far as they know the Zionist movement was permitted and was operating in the liberated areas of Poland.

Charge State Dept. "Unduly" Swayed by British Interests

WASHINGTON — Charging that the U. S. Department of State was "unduly swayed by the British Colonial Office which waves the flag of alleged Arab unrest," and that it was exposing itself to the charge of "sabotaging" the admission of Jewish refugees into Palestine Representative Emanuel Celler lashed out at one new State Department appointee and one "contemplated" appointee.

The targets were Wallace Murray, recently appointed U. S. Minister to Iran, and Colonel Harold Hoskins, who is reportedly scheduled for the post of Director of American Economic Operations and Minister to the Middle East. Declared Representative Celler,

The wedding will take place at the Jewish Home for Aged where the couple reside. Both were married previously. Mrs. Chorney has three children and Mr. Rodman, five. The desire for companionship and for the privacy of a small home within the larger one were the chief reasons for their coming marriage. Max Alexander, superintendent of the Home, said this week.

UPA Wants 35 Million in '45 To Have Four Zone Chairmen

NEW YORK — Asserting that the homelessness of hundreds of thousands of Jewish survivors in Europe can be solved only through immediate mass settlement in the Jewish National Home in Palestine, Rabbi James G. Heller of Cincinnati, national chairman of the United Palestine Appeal, announced this week the launching of its nationwide campaign to meet the $35,000,000 budget of the United Palestine Appeal in 1945.

Rabbi Heller pointed out that the United Palestine Appeal, the American agency for refugee settlement, rebuilding and development of Palestine, was inaugurating the most intensive Palestine campaign in the history of the Jewish community of the United States because "only large-scale action to fulfill the hopes of those who have survived twelve years of Hitlerism can assure for them a share in the fruits of victory and peace."

In discussing plans for the new 1945 drive, Rabbi Heller announced that four key leaders in the communal life of the Jews in this country had been named national campaign chairmen under whose direction plans for the 1945 United Palestine Appeal drive would be carried out. The country is to be divided into four campaign zones with a chairman to each.

Festival Speaker

MAURICE SAMUEL, well known writer and lecturer, will discuss Jewish humor at the Purim celebration to be held Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock at Temple Beth-El. Mr. Samuel's subject will be "Triumph Through Laughter." Participants in the Purim service include Mowry Lane, Morris Bromberg and Heinrich Schalit. The service is one of the series sponsored by the Elizabeth Stone-Fain Festival Forum.

NEW YORK — Disagreement which for some time has been going on between the United Palestine Appeal and the Joint Distribution Committee with regard to the proportion of funds each of these agencies is to get from the joint fund-raising campaign in 1945, came to a head this week with the announcement here of the dissolution of the United Jewish Appeal. Rabbi James G. Heller, national chairman of the United Palestine Appeal, issued the following statement concerning the breakup:

"Through the channel of the United Jewish Appeal the Jews of America during the past six years extended their sympathetic support to the United Palestine Appeal as well as to the Joint Distribution Committee and the National Refugee Service. Statements concerning the reasons for the dissolution of the United Jewish Appeal can serve no useful purpose in this period of high destiny for the Jewish people.

"The needs of the United Palestine Appeal and the Joint Distribution Committee are great. Regardless of whether the appeals in their behalf are made to communities independently or in combination we feel confident that American Jewry will meet the expanded opportunities (Continued on Page 2)

Permit Jews To Enter Yemen For First Time

TEL AVIV — For the first time in centuries foreign Jews will be permitted to enter the small Arab kingdom of Yemen. According to a report from the Jewish Agency, King Iman has agreed to the admission of four Jewish physicians, two of whom are women, on condition that they do not come as representatives of any organization and agree to accept directions from the Yemen government. The doctors will treat both Jewish and Moslem patients, which, in itself, is a revolutionary step, since heretofore Jews were not allowed to administer to Moslems.

Nazi Shell Hits Anti-Semitic Sign

PARIS — "Stars & Stripes," the Army daily, reported the following incident this week:

While troops of the First Army were mopping up Ansbach, a Jewish company commander noticed a sign at the entrance of a small park in the ruined city. "Jews are prohibited from walking in this park," it said. The Yank walked on about 100 yards and looked around as he heard an enemy mortar shell explode behind him. The shell had scored a direct hit on the sign, demolishing it.

Jewish Child Welfare Work in Rhode Island

By JACOB S. TEMKIN

President Jewish Family and Children's Service

In the summer of 1942, the Jewish Family and Children's Service undertook the welfare program for Jewish children of this State. Without commitment to any one type of treatment, the basic test for help has been, what type of care will best suit the needs of the individual child? And having ascertained what that type of care should be, the resources of the community are utilized to carry out that decision.

JFCS Policy

Perhaps the outstanding development in the child welfare field is the current conviction that no child shall be removed from his home except as a last resort. This has been the policy of the Jewish Family and Children's Service; and placement outside of a home has been considered only after every effort has been exhausted to make provision for the child within his own home or in the home of relatives.

Family Is Assisted

Economic need alone on the part of a family is not considered sufficient reason for the removal of a child from his home. If the other aspects in the child's home are satisfactory, the agency assists the family financially or makes arrangements with the mother to obtain an Aid to Dependent Children allowance; or may appeal to relatives for aid. In some cases, a visiting housekeeper or a day nursery service may be provided in order to permit the mother to work. All these have as their object, the keeping together of the family.

"Foster" Home Plan

Yet, there are situations in which the best plan is the placement of the child in some other home. This other home is generally designated as a "foster" home. Some children are deprived of their parents through death, desertion or separation. Others may be without suitable care because of the continued incapacity of parents resulting from illness or mental breakdown. In such cases, provision must be made for a foster family home with parents who can give the child the love, the care, the understanding and the guidance so essential to develop within the child his own potentialities for useful living.

Child Placement

Neither wealth nor the absence of it, necessarily determines the desirability of a foster home. A rich home may starve a child emotionally; and a family in possession of fewer material goods may have all the richness of feeling and response with which to endow the child in his critical growing years. The great art in child placement consists in the skillful fitting together of the child and family and thus making possible the fullest satisfaction of one to the other.

Study Made of Home

Before actual placement in any foster home, there is much that must be known about both the child and the prospective foster family. A careful study is made of the child in order to learn of his background, health, mentality and his personality. A similar, careful study is made of all aspects of the foster home in order to be reasonably sure that it is equipped to give the child what he needs in terms of security, affection and all that goes to make for normal family living.

Supervision, Costs

The costs for a child's board, medical care, clothing, etc., are provided. A child is not just placed in a home and forgotten. There is a continuous relation between the agency and the foster parents in order to be of maximum help to the child and to the foster family.

At the present time, enthusiastic child welfare committees of the agency operating in several communities of the State, are seeking families who are willing to open their homes and hearts to Jewish children. Through their splendid efforts and through the unselfish attitude of men and women who have become foster parents, the opportunity for a good start in life is afforded to many otherwise homeless children.

Children for Adoption

The facilities of the agency have likewise been developed for the placement of children for adoption; and several children, ranging in age from seven days to six years, have found new and understanding parents.

Moreover, through the close cooperation of the agency with the Jewish Children's Foundation, needy children of Rhode Island receive constructive and refreshing summer vacations at Camp Jori, at Narragansett Pier.

These represent, in part, the complete and well-integrated child welfare program of the Jewish Family and Children's Service.

question and that Rankin's statements were "false, unfair and outrageous." Representative Rankin later edited his remarks before they were sent to be printed in the Congressional Record. He deleted his statement that Jews were "making a racket" out of civil service and also cut out exclamations of "outrageously false, untrue and unfair," with which Congressman Celler interrupted his speech.

an art, it is the lowest form of art, he doubtless had reference to what has been termed the "factory-belt system" of Tin Pan Alley. Yet his realistic estimate of his own business did not prevent his writing the lyrics of more than 2,000 popular melodies.

No one seemed to know better than Al who has just passed on in New York, that his products were the veriest tripe.

Al once said, "I get great comfort out of the fact that my business doesn't hurt anybody." But it seemed to hurt him when one of his products became "an obnoxious hit on the radio." The song in which he took the most pride was "Indian Summer" set to a melody by Victor Herbert. "That song will live," he said, "because it's got a two-octave range, which is hard to sing." It was the old story of the big-time top-billed comedian who always wanted to play Hamlet.

It Happened This Week

Received two notes this week from men in service telling of the enjoyment they receive each week from the Herald. The men are Pvt. Harold Grubert, stationed in the European Theatre and Benjamin Blau, S 2/c, who is with Uncle Sam's Navy. Ben's copy is mailed by his nieces, Irma and Lois Weinbaum. We receive countless telephone calls from parents telling of the pleasure their sons receive from the Herald that are re-mailed. Mrs. Fae Ratush, who is now in Miami Beach, Florida, tuned in on the radio last Friday night and heard a Pvt. Martin Cohen, of Providence, speaking on an overseas program. In her letter, Mrs. Ratush wonders if Pvt. Cohen's parents heard the broadcast. He's with a unit that's on the front lines in Germany. If the parents wish they may have Mrs. Ratush's letter by calling at our offices.

Promotion

Walter Adler has been promoted from major to lieutenant colonel in the coast artillery it was announced this week. Col. Adler entered the armed forces in 1942 as a Captain. Zelda Kloner, of the WAVES, stationed at the National Navy Medical Center in Maryland, visited her mother, Mrs. Solomon Kloner, during her recent furlough. Major David Field, after two years overseas during which he participated in three major campaigns, has come home and will be married this Sunday afternoon to Miss Mildred Robinson. After his leave, Major Field, who is with the Dental Corps, will journey to Florida for reassignment to duty. Tourro Fraternal will have one of their old-fashioned smokers next Wednesday evening.

In the hills of Yugoslavia, where the Partisans fought their battles against the Nazis, they marched to the tune of a Broadway comedy song hit. They were taught this tune by Sgt. Walter Bernstein, of "Yank," who was the first to interview Tito. When Bernstein joined the Partisan forces, he listened to their patriotic marching songs, and then was asked to sing and teach them an American patriotic marching song. He taught them the only song he knew, the only one he could think of, "Buckle Down Winsocki, Buckle Down."

Odds and Ends

The Murray Trinkles have named their daughter Roberta Sue. Beth-El Sisterhood members will hear Swami Akhilanda of the Providence Vedanta Society at their meeting on March 5. Figuratively we were too optimistic last week in Louie's Delicatessen advertisement. Louie is receiving approximately a ton of kosher delicatessen each week and not five tons at one time as reported. Temple Beth-El has a Sisterhood table at the Narragansett on their regular meeting days. Tokyo Rose, the Jap shortwave propagandist, has added Yiddish folk-songs to her repertoire. It makes the Jewish heroes in the Pacific boil to hear Mama's songs broadcast by a Jap thrush.

Rabbi Abraham Chill spoke last Wednesday morning at the Norwood Avenue Junior High School in a Brotherhood week program. Other speakers included a minister and a priest. Betty Comden, a Jewish girl who not so long ago was dreaming of a Broadway career, is the talk of the theatrical world. She not only is one of the stars of the smash hit musical comedy "On the Town," but also co-author of its book and lyrics, which contribute considerably to its success. Dr. Abram L. Sachar, who you know as the director of the Hillel Foundations of the B'nai B'rith, is scheduled for an airwaves spot as a news commentator, we hear, on a WOR hookup, now that he has for some time proved his worth on a local Chicago station.

NOTES OF A NEWSPAPERMAN

This, they tell you, happened at the Big Three conference.....One evening after dinner Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin started speculating on what nationality they'd prefer to be if they couldn't be their own.....Churchill said: "If I couldn't be British I'd want to be American.".....Roosevelt said: "If I wasn't American, I'd be British.".....Stalin said: "If I wasn't Russian I'd be ashamed of myself!"

San Francisco, Feb. 6 (AP)—"We are Yanks. Cover over here," shouted Sgt. R. A. Anderson of Jessup, Georgia, leading a reconnaissance force to the Bilibid Penitentiary in the heart of Manila, after knocking out a shutter with his rifle butt.

The Civil War must be over when a lad from Georgia yells: "We are Yanks!"

During the recent run of the Theatre Guild's "Embezzled Heaven," the star, Ethel Barrymore, was rushed to the hospital with pneumonia. She was placed in an oxygen tent.....President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill were among the many who sent posies and telegrams, and for a few weeks everyone despaired of her pulling through.....Finally, the worst was over and the star was permitted to sit up in bed and answer the phone.....The first caller was the Guild's Theresa Helburn.

"Hello," she cheerily said, "How's your cold?"

The other night a Hungarian playwright was told an actor had arrived from Hungary....."Do you know him?" he was asked.

"Know him?" was the retort. "He's my best friend. I hate him!"

REPITIITION

The exciting stories from Manila included the one about an American radio reporter who was freed after three years as a Jap prisoner. He was forced off the air one day as the Japs entered the city. The other morning, said the papers, he resumed broadcasting this way: "As I was saying when I was so rudely interrupted....."

De Valera of Eire was arrested while speaking at a street meeting several years ago. When he was freed years later, his first statement was: "As I was saying when I was so rudely interrupted....."

A Texan in London was trying to impress some Britishers with the size of his home state. "Do you know," he said, "that in Texas you can hop on a railroad car at 8 in the morning and still be in Texas after riding 24 hours?"

"We," replied a Britisher, "have trains like that in England, too."

It happened at the premiere of "One Man Show".....The curtain was up and a woman was making a big to-do as she got into her seat, huffing and puffing.....Seated near her was George Luddy, the Indian-born author.....He polished her off neatly by audibly remarking: "Don't worry about her. She's so used to the second balcony—that sitting in the orchestra tonight has given her the shakes."

Margalo Gillmore, the actress, was anxious to become a nurse's aide but found she didn't have enough stamina for the work—being frightened by the sight of blood, etc. So she compromised by becoming a Grey Lady (one who reads to the convalescent servicemen, etc).....Margalo was telling Carolyn Burke about her duties....."Just what is a Grey Lady?" asked Carolyn....."A Grey Lady in my case," said Margalo, "is a yellow nurse's aide."

Faces About Town: Nancy Carroll who still has enough natural beauty to be able to show up at Armando's without any "gook" on her face.....Venita Varden, minus her Jack Oakie (who settled $100,000 in cash among other things), doing the restaurants.....Greta Garbo at 47th and Park looking stunning in her plain attire plus a huge hat like those worn by Chinese coolies.....Jane Wyatt anking along the Great Wyatt Way.....Dorothy Shay at the St. Regis Maisonette asking Princess Obolensky if she is related to the Obolenskys of Jacksonville.....Gloria Vanderbilt Di Cicco who has decided to join the Renatables....."Hmf" Boyar at 3 ayem riding thru the park in a hansom keb with Laren Baca!!

Sallies in Our Alley: A commander just back from London reports that this is making the rounds there.....Churchill to Stalin: "I don't want the Russians to get to Berlin first because I fear they will kill all the Germans!".....Replied Stalin: "That is not so. We will only kill the Nazis, the Nazi sympathizers and those Germans who believe that England ought to rule the world!" Joe E. Lewis says the elevator girls at the Roney Plaza are so pretty that he went broke sending for ice water!

It happened the other day during the Catholic Charities drive.....Archbishop Spellman and Bishop McIntyre got into a cab near St. Patrick's Cathedral.....The latter had to go back for something and asked the driver to wait a moment.....A man tried to enter the cab, apologized and started to leave.....The Archbishop said: "Come in; we will drop you".....It was dark and the stranger hadn't noticed the attire of his host until he was getting out.....The next day Archbishop Spellman received a note thanking him for his hospitality. MEMOS OF A MIDNIGHTER

Despite the notices, "Hope for the Best" is selling out. The premiere was marred by one actor's complete loss of memory. The play made a young mint breaking in on the road.....The ciggie shortage is so acute, when patrons leave open packs on their tables and dance the ciggies disappear.....Henry Wallace is doing a book titled: "60,000,000 Jobs," which will sell at $1 like "One World." The theme will be his 1948 platform for the No. 1 job.....Copa lark Patsy Brewster agrees with Jimmy Cannon that G.I.'s don't care what they are called. They just wanna be called home.....Gert Niesen is buying a Chicago night club.....Fred Allen confirmed the item that he won't return to the air....."I may even," he wrote a friend, "withdraw from the human race if I can get back my initiation fee".....One big afternoon gazette would sell the whole thing for practically the cost of the presses.

MEXICO CITY — The Mexican government has instructed its consular officials in France to issue visas for the admission to Mexico of 100 Jewish children.

Palestine Visas Virtually Stopped

Agency Refutes Cranbourne Remark

JERUSALEM — The small number of immigration certificates still available under the White Paper are so negligible in relation to the vast immigration needs of the Jewish people, that immigration may be regarded as having been virtually stopped, the Jewish Agency for Palestine declared in a statement replying to some recent remarks by Viscount Cranbourne, Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs.

"The use by Lord Cranbourne of the word 'agreement' in connection with the present immigration arrangement, can only be due to misconception. It is true that in September, 1944, after a number of European countries had been liberated, the Jewish Agency made proposals for the granting of 10,300 certificates to provide the first urgent measure for rescue and rehabilitation in the newly liberated communities. The Government did grant the total requested, but decided that its distribution be spread over a lengthy period by laying down a monthly maximum of 1,500.

Demand Removal Of Official Asking Dental Quotas

NEW YORK — Students of New York University, School of Dentistry, are circulating a petition calling for the removal of Dr. Harlan H. Horner as Secretary of the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association.

The action comes as a result of Horner's persistently hostile attitude toward "foreign born" dental students and is precipitated by a recent statement made by him in the December 1944 issue of the Journal of Dental Education. Reporting on a survey of dental schools, Dr. Horner quotes statistics which indicate that one shortcoming of dental schools is what he terms "racial imbalance."

Histadruth to Form Trade Unions

TEL AVIV — An important change in the internal structure of the Histadruth, the Jewish Federation of Labor in Palestine, was decided upon this week at a conference of Histadruth leaders here. National trade unions will be established to replace the present system where each individual worker is directly affiliated with the Histadruth.

Has There Been A Renaissance in Religion?

BY DR. CAROL KLEIN

In order to scrutinize this question I need first to dwell on the question whether there has been a renaissance in religion at all, either in Providence or any other Jewish community in the United States.

Lack of Education

We Jews in America, in the grim necessity of earning our daily bread, overlooked the fact that we are inheritors of a past of singular significance. This loss of contact with religion has resulted in the past as well as in a great measure in the present time, in loss of faith and widespread unbelief. Consequently almost two generations have drifted away because of ignorance and lack of Jewish education. We did not know and we did not understand that a distinctly Jewish existence can bring us lasting joy.

Utilitarianism which has taken an especially strong hold in our country has conquered the Jewish immigrant and has become a part of a philosophy that we live in a practical era wherein everything is measured by the standard of utility of material weight. This attitude is to be expected in a highly industrialized civilization. Against it may be brought a heavy indictment because of the fact that it has tended increasingly to put production above humanity, to put material wealth above religious values, to put things above life itself.

Religion Is Elevating

We have feverishly labored to increase and gain control over our material resources. But of what a sacrifice of human beings to the machine! Over a half a century ago Ruskin dared to ask: "May not the manufacture of souls of a good quality be worthy the attention of England? Might it not be highly desirable to produce a higher grade of manhood and womanhood, as it is to produce a high grade of woollens, or shoes, or china?" In the course of decades and years we forgot that the powerful humanizing influences in mankind are grounded in religion. Its profoundest effect has been felt in elevating the value of man as a person.

A Jewish Awakening

In the past few years our educators, Jewish leaders and religious teachers have awakened to the fact that it is not difficult to arouse in the consciousness of the modern Jew a realization that he owes a duty toward his God. Such awakening has been found true in all corners of the United States. There is noticeable a positive trend toward strengthening religion and Jewish life. Although we cannot speak as yet of a definite renaissance or revival of Jewish religious life. It is rather an earnest and sincere experiment for religion's survival.

Situation in Providence

Providence as a part of the great American scene is not worse and not better than any other Jewish community. While it might be true that the large Jewish communities have shown better results in conquering larger groups and reaching greater proportions, but we must realize that the dividing lines in our community, as in every smaller community, are wider and more distinct between the different fractions in Jewish philosophy and Jewish life, which prevent a more effective and more united effort to revive the religious needs of this community.

Membership Increase

While the individual Jew in Providence has not made himself too distinct in his positive approach toward religion, but as groups, and I have the congregations in mind, they have undeniably shown an increase either in membership or in religious activities. This awakening is most encouraging.

Religious Trend

There is a religious trend moving upward, and it is most interesting to note that it is the younger element that stimulates to a life of consecration to higher ideals. They have come to the realization that religion man must have, which can be reached only through strengthening the congregations, religious schools and higher places of learning. While there isn't a positive renaissance in religion in Providence, we do see a definite betterment toward this end.

Mrs. Roosevelt Endorses Jewish Black Book

NEW YORK — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, in a letter addressed to Albert Einstein, Honorary Chairman of the Sponsors of the Jewish Black Book, an authenticated expose of Nazi atrocities against Jews in Eastern Europe, declared: "This is the only way to arouse people to prevent such horror in the future. We must have before the world as nearly true a picture of what has happened to the Jewish people as possible and I hope this book will contribute to our knowledge," the letter stated.

The Black Book is being published under the joint auspices of the American Committee of Jewish Writers, Artists and Scientists, the World Jewish Congress, the Jewish Community Council of Palestine and the Jewish Anti-Fascist Committee of the USSR.

Reject Proposal Of U. S. Delegates

JERUSALEM — The executive of the Jewish Agency for Palestine indicated that it disagrees with a proposal made by Bernard Joseph, legal adviser of the Agency, for settling the rift within the Zionist movement in the United States by inviting Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Mrs. Rose Halperin and Rabbi Israel Goldstein to Palestine for conversations to determine a policy for the Zionist Organization of America.

The Agency executive feels that instead of inviting a Zionist delegation from the United States to come to Palestine, it is more desirable that Dr. Chaim Weizmann, David Ben-Gurion and the Mizrahi leader Jacob Fishman proceed to New York to straighten out the Wise-Silver controversy and to bring about unity in the ranks of the Zionist Organization of America.

First Dress Suit Bothered 17-Year-Old Piano Virtuoso

NEW YORK — Traditionally a boy's first dress suit is an event. For Leon Fleisher it was more of a problem. As he sat down to make his New York debut with the Philharmonic last November, the 16-year-old pianist had to decide in which order to flip his tails and hitch up his pants.

Now he can discuss the solution with authority. "You push out the tails and let the pants bulge at the knees until you're seated" he informs you with an ear-to-ear grin.

Once he had completed this maneuver, Leon polished off the musical portions of the program with virtuoso ease. To herald the arrival of a major talent, the critics lavishly sprinkled their reviews with four-star plaudits, thus paving the way for a national tour.

Its Not Just Modesty

Although he gave his initial recital at seven, Leon denies he is a prodigy. This is not mere modesty. Unlike the usual run of boy wonders, whom he pities, he has never been exploited.

With the exception of two sensationally successful appearances with the San Francisco Symphony in his home town, he has been kept under wraps until he could stand on his own as a mature artist.

A lanky, studious-looking youngster, six feet one, with a booming bass voice, Leon talks easily and is easy to talk to. Warm, poised, friendly, he retains an affection for corny gags, wears his socks ungartered.

With his mother and father—a Russian-born hat designer—he lives in a three-room apartment. An older brother is in the Army, leaving Leon to carry the burden of dishwashing.

"I'm a connoisseur of auds," he says, glancing at his long, lean fingers which can span 12 notes.

Days Are Busy

Leon's days are circumscribed. Six hours are reserved for practice. During these sessions his favorite redhead, Brownie, half terrier, half collie, lies under the piano, alternately thumping an approving tail or sobbing with anguish.

Occasionally Leon takes an evening off. "But when I go out, something suffers, he admits. "So I don't go out." He is philosophical about this "After I'm 21 or so I can let up. After that I'll have a good 40 years in which to enjoy life."

RE-ELECTED

LONDON — Dr. Chaim Weizmann was re-elected president of the Zionist Federation of Great Britain at the closing session of the organization's annual conference here. Barnett Janner was chosen as chairman.

The Year-Round Citizen

By MRS. CHARLES POTTER

Remember the momentous election of 1944—just four short months ago? Were you as much excited as most voters? Did you talk about the issues, and take sides vehemently? And when it was over did you heave a sigh of relief and put your political consciousness on the shelf, not to be taken down until the next election?

Intelligent Understanding

Government goes on from day to day between elections, and it is carried on not only on a national level, but also on a state and city level. This means that the conscientious voter in a democracy must assume his democratic responsibility of being a good citizen on a year-round basis, as well as enjoy the privilege of choosing his representatives on election day. Democracy functions best when there is understanding and intelligent participation by a large proportion of the electorate.

Must Fight Apathy

Most Americans intend to be good citizens. But opposed to their good intentions are the forces of inertia, personal excuses and a feeling that they are not able to understand so complicated a thing as government. Above all, there is the oft-repeated slogan of defeatism "What difference does it make what I think or do?"

MRS. CHARLES POTTER

People Do Matter

When the conference at Dumbarton Oaks was ended, former Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the then Undersecretary Stettinius called a meeting of the heads of all large national organizations to urge them to make known to their membership the vital issues involved in the Dumbarton Oaks plan. They knew—and we must learn to know—that what the people think and do does count.

Must Study Issues

Our elected representatives aren't mind-readers who know what we think about the bills on which they vote. We must tell them. And in order to express an intelligent opinion we must make it our civic business to study carefully the issues of the day as they arise. That there is a rapidly-growing tendency in this direction is revealed by the tremendous reaction of the people on the recent fight over the confirmation of Henry A. Wallace as Secretary of Commerce.

Only a year ago, the people, through a concerted, wide-spread effort on behalf of the Juvenile Court Bill, succeeded in securing a much-needed Juvenile Court for our state.

Constructive Work Needed

As individuals as well as through our affiliations with organized groups, each of us must function as a thinking, acting citizen. To some people this means only the right to criticize and belittle the efforts of our government officials—a popular attitude which in no way helps us achieve our goal of good government. We must be sincere and understanding. We must help, by our efforts, to nominate and elect representatives of whom we can be proud. We must watch the legislative activities of our officials and offer our suggestions and help.

Jewish Stake in Democracy

We, as Jews, have a double stake in democracy, for only in a real democracy can we have first-class citizenship. All our efforts on behalf of the Jewish people and their security can be nullified unless we work for a country (and a world) in which all groups will be guaranteed freedom. This is the larger view of which we occasionally lose sight as we become involved in a strictly Jewish problem. The Jewish problem, the problem of anti-Semitism, is but one manifestation of an anti-democratic force which seeks to destroy all minority groups. The best way for Jews to help themselves is to help all people achieve the dignity and freedom of life in true democracy.

JCRS Installs Officers at Ninth Annual Meeting

Mrs. Ben Poulten was installed as president of the Rhode Island Auxiliary, Jewish Consumptives' Relief Society at its ninth annual meeting last Monday afternoon in the Biltmore Hotel.

More than one hundred members attended the Lincoln Day ceremony conducted by Mrs. Abraham Chill. Other officers installed included Mrs. Irving Avrutsky, first vice president; Mrs. George Rice, second vice president; Mrs. Benjamin Yaffe, third vice president; Mrs. Harold Kelman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Theodore Rosenblatt, recording secretary; Mrs. Hye Holland, notice secretary; Mrs. Archie Dickman, financial secretary, and Mrs. Jack Dress, treasurer. Mrs. Zelig Gorden is honorary president of the organization.

Annual reports were read by the various officers and at the conclusion Mrs. Martin Bernstein, outgoing president, was presented with a gift by the executive board.

Candy was served by Mrs. George Rice in honor of her approaching wedding anniversary.

Red Cross Goal More Than Million

The goal of the 1945 Red Cross War Fund was set this week at $1,150,900.

The combined campaign will be conducted March 1 to April 3 by the Providence, Cranston, Pawtucket, Tiverton, Warwick and Woonsocket Chapters, including the 11 branches and two auxiliaries of Providence Chapter, one at Quonset and one at Davisville.

"In order to achieve our goal this year," John Nicholas Brown, general chairman, said, "we must raise more money from available sources in the communities than last year. The chief reason for this is that we will not receive the $80,000 contributed last year by Narragansett Park.

Police Take Action To Curb Hoodlum Attacks on Boys

MINNEAPOLIS — Additional uniformed and plain clothesmen were assigned to the North Side area here, following information submitted by the Minnesota Jewish Council that Jewish boys in their teens have been victims of assault by anti-Semitic hoodlums.

Police stated that there was no evidence of organized anti-Semitism. Louis Gross, chairman of the Jewish Council, told the American Jewish World, of Minneapolis and St. Paul, that thru the close co-operation of the Park Department and Police Department, every precaution has been taken to preclude future incidents. In each case the youths attacked were outnumbered by at least five to one. The beatings had an alarming effect on some parents in the North Side.

TERRORISTS CURBED

NEW YORK — Meyer Weisgal, Dr. Weizmann's personal representative in the United States, has returned from Palestine with the statement that the activities of the terrorist Irgun Zvai Leumi had been curbed.

Arabs Consider First Concessions

JERUSALEM — Arab leaders are beginning to realize that they must make some concessions towards a limited increase in Jewish immigration to Palestine if their own nationalist claims are to be given a hearing, a New York Times correspondent reports from here.

With this in mind, they are reconsidering their plans as to the part Palestine should play in an Arab Federation and are adopting a new line of reasoning which would include some concessions to the Jews.

CARUSI APPROVED

WASHINGTON — The Senate approved the nomination of Ugo Carusi as Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization of the Department of Justice.

Strange Case of a Man Married Twice and Legally

NEW YORK — There is a man in this city who has two wives legally.

What's more he has two court orders from the same court to prove both marriages are legal. The man in this deplorable state is Harry Weissberger.

Watch us closely, now, because we're going to tell you how it happened. Ready? O.K.:

Weissberger and Wife No. 1, Kate, were married about 10 years ago, but soon separated. Years passed, Weissberger gathered what he thought was evidence of adultery and he sought a divorce in New York.

No Divorce

When he brought action, Kate asked and obtained temporary alimony, good for the duration of the lawsuit only. Harry lost the case when the jury decided Kate had not been unfaithful. No divorce. Follow us this far?

O. K., but Kate never went to court to ask for final judgment in the case. She would have lost the temporary alimony if she had done so, for it stopped when the case was legally closed.

So Harry moved to Florida, where he sued for and obtained on Nov. 7, 1940, an uncontested divorce.

Later he moved back to New York. Then Kate brought a contempt action against him for the temporary alimony.

Wants Alimony Stopped

So Harry's lawyer went into court and said Kate wasn't entitled to any alimony because she wasn't married to Harry. He had been divorced in Florida, see? And in Supreme Court, Manhattan, Justice Schmuck agreed.

Justice Schmuck said the Florida divorce was valid, but, just to be sure Harry went back to the Supreme Court and asked Justice McLaughlin to close out the old New York divorce action because the case no longer existed, the parties being no longer man and wife. And Justice McLaughlin agreed and so ordered. He said they weren't married and Kate could sustain no matrimonial action whatsoever.

Marries Again

That looked clear enough, so Harry married again and his second wife, Sylvia, bore him two children. Now the complications.

Kate goes back to Supreme Court—this time in Brooklyn—and sues for a separation, saying she is still Harry's lawful wife. Harry goes back to court and says that business has already been settled and here are the papers to prove it. The court says trial will settle that.

Still His Wife

So the case comes to trial. And on Dec. 31, Justice Norton rules that Kate didn't receive a mail summons in the Florida action, that it was invalid, that Kate is therefore Harry's wife and that he must pay her $20 a week.

Well, there we stand. Harry is paying. He might try going back to the Court of Appeals or he might move to Florida. But Harry's no funds for legal fees.

The lawyer has been handling the business without fee so far, just to see justice done. He's spent more than $800 on the case. Harry, he says, is just a poor guy caught in the middle by obsolete divorce laws and he deserves help.

FARM SUBSIDIES

PURIM

BY R. I. RABBINICAL ASSOCIATION

The inherent optimism of the Jewish people, becomes most manifest in the observances connected with the Festival of Purim which will be ushered in next Monday evening.

It is well that we recall, year after year, the incidents which tell of our redemption from the hands of our enemies, the great faith and courage displayed by Mordecai and Esther in the interests of their people, and the miraculous intervention of God in the hour of our greatest need and most imminent danger. The lessons they teach, the hope they inspire and the joy they arouse are so common to Jewish history and so natural to the experiences of our people that we do not find it necessary to go into details of this Festival. It is for this reason that the Rabbis have said that the festival of Purim will be observed even when all other festivals fall into oblivion.

When the Jew could find no comfort or hope in his life, when everything appeared dark and threatening, he did not fold his hands and give himself up to despair. It was then that he turned to the pages of his history, and found new hope and new courage in such narratives as that of the Megillah. He then projected himself into the distant past, and experienced the same joy and exaltation as the Jews of Persia did when they heard of the removal of the decree against them. This precious gift of optimism and faith in God as our Beneficent Father, which we have developed in the course of centuries, must not fall into disuse, since it was the source of strength and the reason of our perseverance against all odds.

The story of Purim typifies the story of the Jew throughout the ages. In every age and in every era there are those who desire the destruction of the Jew, but "Hinei lo yonim v'lo yishon shomer Yisroel" behold the Watchman of Israel does not sleep neither does he slumber. In every generation there rise up brave spirits who fight evil decrees and frustrate them. This is the message of Purim to our people today.

Obituary

SAMUEL KAUFMAN

Funeral services for Samuel Kaufman, 51, of 31 Western Promenade street, Cranston, manager of Fays Theatre for 28 years, were held last Tuesday morning from the Max Sugarman Funeral Home. Rabbi William G. Braude officiated and burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Kaufman was born in Russia and came to this city from Boston when he was eight years old. He spent his boyhood in the Federal Hill section and he worked as a messenger boy while attending the old English High School. It was while still in school that Abe Spitz, for years dean of Rhode Island theater men, gave him his first theater job.

Kaufman later served for a short time as manager of the Lyric Theater in Fitchburg, Mass., in the employ of Max Nathanson, another Providence showman, before he returned to this city and assumed management of the Palace Theater for Spitz, when that showplace first was opened. It was from this position that he became manager of Fays Theater.

Mr. Kaufman is survived by his wife, Mrs. Celia (Zwoden) Kaufman; a son, Milton D. Kaufman, and a daughter, Mrs. Annette M. Shore, both of Edgewood, a granddaughter, and five sisters, Mrs. Joseph Fox, Mrs. Lydia Weinbaum, Mrs. Albert Rubien, Miss Rose Kaufman, and Mrs. Philip Zalk, all of Providence.

Funeral services for Mendel Brookner, 68, of 20 Glenham street, retired wholesale and retail millinery dealer whose establishment was on Prairie avenue for 30 years, were held last Wednesday morning from the Max Sugarman Funeral Home. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Born in Austria on April 15, 1877, Mr. Brookner came to this country 35 years ago and a few years later started the millinery concern which he conducted until his retirement seven years ago. His wife, Regina (Auerbach) Brookner, died in 1937. He was a member of the Robinson Street Synagogue.

Last Jewish Civil War Vet Dies at 99

NEW YORK — Daniel Harris, last survivor of 8000 Jewish war veterans of the Civil War, died last week at his residence in Brooklyn in his 99th year. Harris, honorary commander of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States, was born in London, England, in 1846. At the age of seventeen, he enlisted in the Union forces as a sailor. Giving his name as George Irving, and his age as twenty-one, he served on the sloop-of-war Saratoga, which was part of the fleet blockading Georgia. He was one of several landing parties in Georgia to come to the aid of General William T. Sherman.

Harris, who was buried on Lincoln's birthday, was one of the last living persons to have met

President Lincoln. Following his enlistment, he was sent to Washington where, with a group of thirty other volunteer sailors from New York, he was welcomed by the Civil War President.
