Two More Jewish Soldiers Released from Nazi Camps

Two more Jewish soldiers have notified their parents that they have been liberated from Nazi prison camps and that they are on their way home.

T/Sgt. Marvin Greenfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Greenfield, of 208 Thurbers avenue, sent a cablegram saying that he "would see you soon." He was taken prisoner on April 12, 1944 when his bomber on which he was a radio gunner was shot down over Austria. He had been confined at Stalag 17-B. A graduate of Central High School, he was working at the Walsh-Kaiser chipyard when he enlisted in the Air Corps in October 1942.

Second Lieutenant Frederick Irving, son of Mrs. Rebecca Irving, of 18 Emeline street, wrote that he was freed in France and is on his way home. Navigator of a Liberator bomber, he had been reported missing after a mission over Hungary last Aug. 7, and later was reported a prisoner in Stalag Luft 3. A graduate of Brown University, he enlisted in July, 1942. He holds the Air Medal with at least one Oak Leaf Cluster.

Gort Releases Political Prisoners

JERUSALEM — Viscount Gort, High Commissioner of Palestine, officially marked V-E Day by remitting the balance of the sentences of a number of prisoners, both Arabs and Jews, who were serving terms for political offenses.

Addressing a personal message to each convict, Lord Gort urged that they remember always the occasion on which they regained their liberty and counseled them to take their proper place in the community and resume their obligations as citizens.

Zionists Set High Quota For 7th War Loan Drive

During the current seventh war loan drive, Zionists throughout the country are determined to sell at least $95,000,000 which would enable them to name an air-craft carrier of the Coral Sea type, it was revealed this week by Dr. Ilie Berger and Dr. Myron Keller, chairmen of the R. I. and Providence war activity committees.

"During the sixth war loan drive," Dr. Berger said, "Zionists throughout the State sold more than $3,000,000 in bonds. Our national total exceeded $68,000,000. A comparison of these figures with our present goal indicates that we in Rhode Island must do a record-breaking job of selling bonds. Our quota must be $4,000,000."

"Zionists have always responded to the call of our country. We, who must remain behind, are doing our share on the homefront by

Hitler's Big Mistake, Action Against Jews

NEW YORK — Hitler's biggest mistakes were his campaign against the Jews and his policy of imperialism, Dr. Paul Schmidt, head of press relations in the German Foreign Office, said in an interview with a correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune. Schmidt, who was captured at Salzburg, asserted that there was little anti-Semitism in Germany until Hitler imported it from Austria.

supporting America's war effort with our manpower and material means. Each and everyone of us can help the Zionists achieve our goal of 95 million dollars. I urge you to buy to the limit of your resources."

Dr. Myron Keller explained that bonds purchased anywhere may be credited to the Zionists. "If anyone is in doubt of the procedure," he said, "telephone Gaspee 7986 and it will be explained."

"All types of War Bonds may be credited to the Zionists," Dr. Keller concluded.

Refugee Chaplain Awarded Medal

NEW YORK — Captain Herman Dicker, German-born rabbi ousted by the Nazis in 1938, and now a chaplain with the U. S. Fifth Infantry Division, which fought its way through Germany, has been awarded the Bronze Star for his frontline work with the men of his outfit.

Captain Dicker, whose present home is Brooklyn, was graduated from the University of Berlin and the Hildersheimer Seminary there. He enlisted in the U. S. Army as a private in June, 1941, and later was commissioned a first lieutenant in the Chaplain's Corps.

Open Meeting To be at Biltmore Outline Purposes Of Organization

Contributors to the 1944 United Jewish Appeal will meet at 8 o'clock this Monday night, May 28, at the Biltmore Hotel, to discuss and act upon a proposal to make the present UJA organization permanent under the name of "General Jewish Committee of Providence, Inc."

A committee of 25, appointed by Archibald Silverman, general chairman of the 1944 UJA, who will preside at the Monday meeting, has had several discussions concerning the proposed organization and a sub-committee of nine, headed by Jacob Temkin, has prepared a constitution and by-laws which Mr. Temkin will present to the assembly on Monday for approval.

The by-laws provide for the election of six officers and a board of directors consisting of 55 members, to be elected annually. This election will occur when the by-laws have been approved by the assembly.

Purposes

The purposes of the "General Jewish Committee" as outlined in the by-laws, are to conduct an annual campaign, and to collect, receive and distribute funds for the support, maintenance and development of such Jewish charitable, cultural and religious organizations and causes as are willing to participate as beneficiary agencies; to assist in communal activities; and to promote general Jewish welfare.

Membership in the corporation will include every contributor to the annual campaign 18 years old or over. The annual meeting will be held in March of each year. Special meetings may be called by the secretary whenever requested in writing by the president, or by four or more members of the board of directors, or by sixteen members of the corporation. At all meetings of the members of the corporation, each member shall have one vote.

Allocations

Of the various committees provided under the by-laws, the allocations committee will consist of 15 members, appointed by the president, with the approval of the (Continued on Page 2)

News Deadline For Next Week

The Proposed General Jewish Committee

On Monday evening, contributors to the 1944 United Jewish Appeal, which represents a fair cross-section of our community, will have an opportunity to thrust aside personal and organizational differences to form a General Jewish Committee which would, in the words of the proposed by-laws, conduct an annual campaign for the support and maintenance of such Jewish charitable and other causes as are willing to participate as beneficiary agencies, to assist in communal activities and to promote general Jewish welfare.

It is to be regretted that such a broad program has not been interpreted to the public, prior to the meeting on Monday evening. Many will hear of it for the first time this week-end.

We have heard that the General Jewish Committee has been organized with an eye to the needs and demands of the Providence community. This was an intelligent start.

But fund-raising should be only one of the objectives of such an organization. For, managed properly, operated objectively and steered by capable hands—and Providence has many—the General Jewish Committee will not only serve the Jews of this city but can act as an effective tool in building a unified and superb citizenship.

One of the first requisites of a successful organization is that it must be genuinely democratic. The committee of 25, in their by-laws, have seen to that. This is not the time to discuss the comprehensive programs which the new organization could sponsor. The first job is to launch it with the support and co-operation of all.

Archibald Silverman and his committee of 25 deserve the commendation of the community for the work and thought that has preceded the presentation of the by-laws and constitution. Those eligible to vote and discuss these recommendations must recognize their obligation to be present on Monday evening to voice their opinions and votes on the proposed General Jewish Committee.

HEBREWS

At Brown University

By BERNARD SEGAL

(This is the second in a series of historical incidents concerning Jewish history in Providence and environs that will appear at various intervals.)

Very early in the life of Brown University we come upon Hebrew and Hebrews in relation to this institution.

The year is 1766, two years after the founding of Rhode Island College in Warren, later to move to Providence and grow to its present eminence as Brown University. A student body of five is instructed by the president James Manning and the newly appointed tutor Mr. David Howell, who is teaching Mathematics, Natural Philosophy and the French, German, and Hebrew languages at a "Salary of Seventy two Pounds Lawful Money".

Mr. Howell was the first of a long line of tutors and instructors who taught the Sacred Language and Literature at the oldest college in Rhode Island.

An entry in a diary of one of the early graduates reveals that all third-year students were instructed in Hebrew Grammar.

Hebrew orations were part of the Commencement program until about 1800 when they were discontinued by President Maxcy.

The infant college is in great need of funds. The Corporation is dispatching calls for aid to friends in the colonies and abroad. The Reverend Hezekiah Smith of Haverhill, Mass., is sent to the Southern Provinces. Over eight months this friend of the college spent in South Carolina and in Georgia, preaching, lecturing, and knocking at doors for contributions, very much like our Rabbis do for some Yeshiva even now. In 1770 he returned from his mission, bringing the sum of $1700 in gifts and contributions. Among the benefactors is listed the name of Mr. Moses Linds, a Jewish merchant of Charleston, South Carolina, who contributed the sum of twenty pounds. Not only did Mr. Linds contribute to a new and unknown institution, but he was curious to inquire whether it is true that the school is as liberal as he was told.

In reply to this inquiry the Corporation voted:

"That the children of Jews may be admitted into this Institution, and entirely enjoy the freedom of their own religion without any constraint or imposition whatever".

The Corporation also expressed a willingness to appoint a Jew as professor of Hebrew. No more, however, was heard of Mr. Linds.

The above resolution of the Corporation was merely an elaboration on the principles of Religious tolerance upon which the college was founded. The charter granted to the Corporation by the Rhode Island General Assembly in 1764 states:

".....And furthermore it is hereby enacted and declared That into this Liberal and Catholic Institution shall never be admitted any Religious Tests. But, on the contrary, all the members hereof shall forever enjoy full, free, absolute, and uninterrupted liberty of Conscience."

And at the first annual meeting of the Corporation at Providence, this principle was further underscored by a resolution:

"...That the children of the Jews may be admitted into this Institution and enjoy the Freedom of their own Religion without any constraint or imposition thereof."

But it was not until a century after the founding of the college that the "children of the Jews" enrolled among the students of this "Liberal and Catholic Institution".

Because of the "No Religious Test" clause in the Charter, the task of determining the religious affiliations of the students is extremely difficult. It is obvious that one cannot judge by the name of the student. Imagine the disappointment when you become excited over such names as Bloom and Winkler among the early graduates, only to discover upon further investigation that they were both ordained Baptist Ministers.

Nevertheless there are ways and means, besides names, to come to conclusions.

Thus we can not overcome the temptation of offering a list of "Firsts" among the Jews who were connected with Brown University in the years of its existence.

The first man student was Raymond Lopaz, A.B., 1846.

The first woman student was Clara A. Gomberg, A.B. 1897. It should be noted that women were not admitted to the university until the academic year of 1891-92.

The first Jew to be granted a higher degree was Israel Strauss, A.M., 1894. Mr. Strauss took his M.D. degree at Columbia, and became well known as an Embryologist and Pathologist.

The first Jew to receive a Honorary degree was Oscar Solomon Strauss, Litt. D., 1896. Dr. Strauss was the U. S. minister to Turkey, and was the author of the book, "Roger Williams, Pioneer of Religious Liberty".

The first Jew to be appointed on the faculty of Brown was Dr. David Blaustein, Rabbi of the Congregation Sons of Israel and David of Providence. Rabbi Blaustein taught the Semitic languages: Arabic, Aramaic, and Hebrew in 1897-8.

Two other Rabbis of the same Congregation were instructors of Hebrew in the Department of Biblical Literature.

Dr. Henry Englander, who occupied the pulpit of the Congregation Sons of Israel and David, was instructor in Biblical Literature and History, from 1906 to 1910.

Dr. William G. Braude, Rabbi of Temple Beth-El (the old Congregation Sons of Israel and David) taught Elementary and Advanced Hebrew at Brown.

Another Rabbi to hold this position on the faculty was the late Dr. Nathan Stern, during the years 1910-1915.

Rabbi Israel Goldman of Temple Emanuel is on the staff of the Extension Division of the University.

The Department of Biblical Literature received a gift of over one hundred books, some very rare, from Jacob Shartenberg of Pawtucket, in 1896.

What of today? The current University catalogue contains the names of several Jewish scholars on the faculty. There is a goodly number

Many Organizations Support Testimonial to Dr. Ilie Berger

Organizations throughout the city are manifesting a deep interest in the testimonial dinner to be given in honor of Dr. Ilie Berger on June 12 at the Narragansett Hotel, it was announced this week by Ben Sopkin, chairman of the committee of arrangements.

A special committee representing the Labor Zionist groups plan to have a large representation at the dinner. For several years Dr. Berger has been chairman of the annual drive for the National Labor Committee for Palestine. Max Berman heads the committee of Labor Zionists and he is assisted by Solomon Lightman, Israel Resnick, Mr. and Mrs. Alter Boyman.

A similar group from Temple Beth-Israel, of which Dr. Berger was president for many years, will participate in the ceremonies and the arrangements. The committee includes Rabbi Morris Schussheim and Benjamin Elman.

Other organizations planning to take part thus far include Hadassah and the Women Pioneers.

One of the features of the dinner will be the announcement that the drive for funds for Nachlath Roger Williams in Palestine has been completed and was successful. To Dr. Berger, who has devoted many years to the Zionist cause and the upbuilding of Palestine, this achievement on the part of R. I. Jewry spells the crowning event of a life's work, evidence that Zionism and Palestine have won the hearts of his friends and neighbors.

Zionist Body Denounces National Liberation Group

NEW YORK — "The Hebrew Committee of National Liberation" was repudiated in a statement issued this week by the American Zionist Emergency Council, comprising all major Zionist bodies in the United States and headed by Dr. Stephen S. Wise.

The statement was issued in connection with the action of the so-called Hebrew Committee in sponsoring a joint Congressional resolution regarding the future of Palestine.

The statement reads: "It has been announced in the press that a resolution regarding Palestine, sponsored by the self-styled Hebrew Committee of National Liberation, is being introduced in Congress. We do not doubt the friendly motives of the honorable members of Congress who have been persuaded to sponsor that resolution. They undoubtedly have been led to believe that in this they are of assistance to the Jewish people. But we must point out with all the vigor at our command that the so-called Hebrew Committee of National Liberation has been repudiated by every responsible Jewish organization in the United States and abroad, including the highest Jewish authority in Palestine itself, the Jewish National Assembly, which is the democratically elected spokesman for the Jews of Palestine."

Expect No Specific Action on Jewish Problems at 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO — Two statements issued in behalf of Jewish groups at the United Nations conference here, bear witness to the fact that Jews do not expect detailed questions of territory and administration to be considered. For one thing, those questions are not on the conference agenda. For another, it is the intention to finish the entire job in San Francisco in the shortest possible time, probably a month.

The statement issued by the American Jewish Committee representatives addresses itself chiefly to the need for safeguarding the basic rights of all citizens of every nation irrespective of race or creed. In detail, it also reit-

Lawyer Headed Italian Underground

BOLOGNA — Mario Jacchia, a Jewish lawyer who headed the Committee of National Liberation in Bologna, was abducted and probably killed by Mussolini's Black Brigades last October.

Mario Vistoli, an anti-fascist lawyer who was in hiding here until the city was liberated, told the correspondent that Jacchia, who was famous throughout all Italy, vanished last October.

Let's raise the money in the MIGHTY SEVENTH

OUR FLAG flies once again over Corregidor. The cost was great in blood and pain, but our fighting men did not turn back. And on Iwo Jima, four thousand men—more and more—died to take the long step forward to Victory. Twenty thousand others suffered wounds. Yes, we're on the way to Tokyo!

At home, your contribution to Victory is measured in dollars.

The Seventh War Loan is the biggest in America's history because seven billion dollars must be raised from individuals alone. That means you must buy more and bigger War Bonds.

This is really two great loans in one; for this time last year you had been called upon twice to subscribe in War Loans. As our fighting men raise Old Glory all over the world—let's raise the money back home!

"Jewish Unity Will Come From People, Not Leaders"

CINCINNATI — "Unification of Jewish life will be realized by pressure from below rather than by personal rivalries from above," Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath predicted in a report on his impressions gained in a 6000-mile cross-country tour.

He made the trip in his capacity of executive director of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, of Cincinnati.

"I think communities have learned through their co-operation that local leaders will be the compelling influence to bring about a greater degree of unity in American life," he said.

"There is a nausea resulting from national conflict."

Sick of Squabbles

"People are sick of our inter-cine squabbles," he said. "They get along pretty well in the smaller communities. You find Zionists and anti-Zionists cooperate fairly well. They just don't understand the bitterness of the feuds in national Jewish life."

"For example, in Houston, Tex., I found that the leaders and rabbi of Temple Beth Israel get along quite well in their federation or community council; they are determined not to have that community broken."

RABBI M. N. EISENDRATH

He deplored the fact, he said, that Jews "are represented in San Francisco (at the world security conference) exclusively by secular organizations, especially since we were admitted solely under the guise of religion."

"There is comparatively little interest in the American Jewish Conference in most places I visited. Failure of the Conference to reach out to the country is the major reason. I found opposition in some places, including members of the UAHC. It is based partly on misunderstanding, on the belief that the UAHC had committed itself to the Commonwealth resolution. When given an opportunity to explain, some of the prejudice was dispelled."

Rabbi Eisendrath said there is a tremendous interest in and concern for Palestine; that most Reform congregations follow the Union's lead by permitting each individual to decide as to nationalism, and keep the congregation out of the conflict around Zionism.

Another good thing about telling the truth is that you don't have to remember what you said.

Paris Police Halt Zionist Meeting

Prefect Gives No Explanation

PARIS — Gendarmes, acting on orders of the Prefect of Police, prevented last week a meeting of several hundred Zionists. The meeting was to have been one of the largest held here since the liberation and was to have heard an address by David Ben-Gurion, chief of the Zionist Executive in Palestine.

The gathering had been publicly announced in accordance with law, and leaders of the organization had no indication that it would not be permitted until police arrived to turn away all who came to the hall. No explanation was given for the ban, but it was recalled that last October members of the small Arab colony here stormed a similar meeting and caused it to disband.

Anti-Semitic Arabs planned to hold a meeting of their own, but it was also banned. No official reason was given, but it was believed that the meetings were prohibited because of present unrest in North Africa and fear that any action against Arabs here might result in disorders among Arabs in French North Africa.

Vets Dedicate Drive to Gen. Rose

NEW YORK — Dedicating its Seventh War Loan Drive to the late Major General Maurice Rose, the Jewish War Veterans of U. S. have set a national quota of $75,000,000 for its membership, it was announced by Archie H. Greenberg, National Commander of the J. W. V. The quota, fifty per cent higher than that of the Sixth War Loan, was agreed upon following consultation with Lewis Jaffe of Philadelphia, national chairman of the J. W. V. Bond Drive.

Vet Auxiliary Has Meeting

Members of the Auxiliary, Post 284, of the JWV, held a mothers' day program recently at the Congregation Sons of Abraham. Mrs. Charles Lubin, chairman, was assisted by Mesdames R. Kaufman, E. Shill, R. Jewett, A. Chill, J. Winokur, H. Burnet, M. Forman, K. Exter, G. Schleffer and R. Bloom.

Participants in the program were Miss Frances Chorney, Miss Claire Schleffer, Frank Feldman and Mrs. Estelle Pollack. Refreshments were served and a birthday party was held for Mrs. Exter.

Arrange Picnic for School Children

A picnic for children of the Sunday School and Talmud Torah of the Congregation Sons of Abraham, and their parents, will be held on June 10, it was announced this week following a board meeting of the PTA.

A regular meeting of the group will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at which time entertainment will be furnished by children of the Talmud Torah. Rabbi Abraham Chill will be guest speaker.

Camp Jori to Open July 2; Early Registration Urged

Camp Jori, sponsored by the Jewish Children's Home and Foundation of Rhode Island will extend its facilities again this summer to children of low income families.

Benjamin Brier, chairman of the camp committee, announced that many changes and improvements are being made at the camp in order to provide the children with a pleasant vacation.

One hundred and sixty children will be accommodated at the camp this summer. Jewish boys and girls throughout the state, ranging in age from five years through thirteen years, are eligible. Payments are variable, depending on the financial circumstances of each family. In instances where the family cannot afford to pay, children will be sent free of charge.

Each child is given a complete physical examination before leaving for the camp. Children will remain at camp for a period of two weeks, and in all there will be four camp trips, as follows:

First trip, July 2 to July 16; second trip, July 18 to July 31; third trip, August 2 to August 15; fourth trip, August 17 to August 31.

Dietary laws are observed at the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Weiss, who will be camp directors, are arranging a lively program of activities for the children. For the past two months, the camp committee has been busily engaged planning for the coming summer, so that the best possible equipment and facilities will be available for the children.

Dr. Archie A. Albert, president of the Jewish Children's Home and Foundation stated that "This summer special consideration will be given to applications of children whose fathers are in the armed forces, in addition to the applications of those children who are normally eligible."

Application for the camp can be made at the offices of the Jewish Family and Children's Service, 100 North Main street, Dexter 1244, or at the Jewish Community Center.

Joseph Galkin, administrator of the camp, reported that many applications have already been received and suggested that those who wish to apply, do so early, in order to be assured of a place at the camp.

SITTERS

Little Publicized Shortage Big Worry to Parents

A sitter is a stand-in parent. The Webster dictionary people who say archaically that the noun means simply one who sits haven't been talking to the right people lately. Any young parent around town can tell you a sitter is a person who sits with baby, for a fee, while mom and pop get away for the evening.

Sitters have been sitting for years, but with the war they have gained prestige, upscaled wages, loving kindness, and nearly everything except the family jewels. Sitters are scarce.

They came into their own when the maid who was willing to "sleep in" for a wage that could be squeezed into the average family budget became extinct. There is a certain school of thought, widespread among parents sitting glumly at home, that sitters are about to do the same thing.

Sitters always have been hired by word of mouth. In the old days one young mother would tell another, highly recommending her sitter. Today there are a lot of families not speaking to each other, except loudly, all because of sitter piracy.

Retainer Fee

Things are so bad, we've been told, that couples lucky enough to find a sitter pay a regular Saturday night retainer fee regardless of whether they plan to go out that night, just to be covered in case they do.

A sitter usually is young, female, and a high school or college student who doesn't mind sitting because it is an easy way to pick up a couple of bucks while studying tomorrow's lessons. There are exceptions, which we'll get to.

A sitter, these days, expects these things from her employer:

At least 25 to 50 cents an hour. The usual sitting period is four hours, from 8 p. m. until midnight. No overtime stuff, unless previously agreed upon, at an extra charge, of course. If you say you'll be home at midnight, don't make it 12:30, or you'll get no sitter the next time.

Snacks. Here enters the question of should, or should not, a sitter be allowed to raid the ice box. Opinions diverge on this. Best bet is to provide some kind of food—sandwiches, cake, fruit, coffee or milk.

How Much Entertainment

Use of radio, magazines, books, phone. Most employers don't mind sitters using the telephone. One couple we know, though, has forbidden it. It seems a call to Chicago, which unaccountably appeared on the bill was traced to the sitter who said she telephoned her uncle there. "I was lonely," she explained. Which brings up another moot point: should a sitter be allowed boy and girl friend guests while sitting? Some parents say the more sitters the better, others say the noise of conversation and dancing waken the baby.

Escort to trolley, bus, or all the way home if, as is often the case the sitter lives in the neighborhood. This is pop's chore. It does not appeal to him. Picture the young male parent snatched from the party during its height at the sitter-leaves-at-midnight hour, walking the early-teen age home, wondering the while what in the name of heaven you can talk about to a kid that age.

In certain communities in the Middle West, the kids have unionized their trade. The hourly charge is standardized—25 cents per hour—50 cents per hour after midnight, and portal-to-portal pay—that is, the meter starts running when the sitter leaves home and doesn't stop until he or she returns home. Transportation must be provided or paid for.

To round out, if not exhaust, the sitter situation, the unsung, long-suffering unprofessionals or scabs should be noted. These are the sisters and mothers-in-law of the parents, the last hope, beyond which lies utter ruin.

There's only one couple we know who has not allowed parentage to interfere with a normal social life. On the grounds that their two children have never been known to awaken during the night once they are asleep, and that they live in a fireproof building, they leave the kids alone. If theirs is a warped viewpoint, the father will tell you that the 'one and only sitter they had warped it.

"In case there's a fire," the sitter asked earnestly as they were leaving, "Which of the children do you want me to save first?"

Educational and Training Benefits for the Veterans

By NATHAN WILCHINS
War Veteran Administrator

A great deal of discussion among veterans and those interested in veterans' welfare has taken place with reference to the benefits offered to honorably discharged veterans.

The two laws generally affecting the veteran upon his discharge, are known as Public Law No. 16 and G. I. Bill of Rights, Public Law No. 346, both enacted by the 78th Congress.

Since Public Law No. 16 applies only to veterans with a SERVICE-CONNECTED DISABILITY, and the majority of men and women discharged from the service will have no Service Connected Disability, we will consider the G. I. Bill of Rights or Public Law No. 346, first.

PUBLIC LAW No. 346

To be eligible under this Law, veterans are classified in two categories:

1. Veterans not over 25 years of age at the time of entrance into service.

2. Veterans over 25 years of age at the time of entrance into service.

1—For a veteran who had not yet reached his 25th birthday on enlistment or induction, there are three (3) requisites before he may take advantage of the G. I. Bill and are as follows:

a. That he entered the active service on or after September 16, 1940, and prior to the termination of the present war,

b. That the veteran has been discharged or released from active service under conditions other than dishonorable,

c. That he shall have served 90 days or more, in most instances.

Any person who was not over 25 years of age at the time he entered the service shall be deemed to have had his education or training impeded, delayed, interrupted or interfered with.

2—For a veteran who had passed his 25th birthday at the time of entrance into service a, b, and c, above are applicable and he may receive one (1) year of education or training, or a refresher or retraining course, at an approved school or training institution. For a veteran in this age group to receive more than the one (1) year above specified, he must submit satisfactory evidence to show that his education or training was impeded, delayed, interrupted, or interfered with, in order to receive training beyond the one (1) year mentioned above.

The big difference is the length of time a man may procure for education or training at the expense of the Government, and this period is usually determined by his age at the time of entrance into service.

If the veteran was under 25 when he entered the service, he is entitled up to a full year for the first 90 days spent in active service, and to an additional day or month for each day or month spent in the service beyond the first 90 days, just mentioned. For example, if a man were in the service for 2 years and 4 months and

Gives $10 to First Woman He Meets

ATLANTIC CITY — Alexander Goldman, technician fifth class, of Bayonne, N. J., had been dreaming of a white woman for twenty-seven months in Alaska and the Aleutians, and he vowed he'd give $10 to the first one he saw on furlough.

A sixty-five-year-old matron in Anchorage, Alaska, was a little nonplused when he walked up to her and handed her $10, he said here, but when he had explained the reason, she took it.

he were under 25 years of age when he entered the service, after September 16, 1940, and had a discharge other than dishonorable, he would be entitled to one (1) year training or schooling for the first 3 months, plus 25 months beyond the first year, or a total of 37 months schooling or training for his 2 years and 4 months in the Army. The time limit hereunder is 4 years training.

If the veteran was over 25 years of age when he entered the service and served 2 years and 4 months, ordinarily he would be entitled to have up to one (1) year of training, unless he could show that his education or training was impeded, etc.

(To Be Concluded Next Week)

Letter Written by Schwabe Scored

WASHINGTON — A letter urging that we do not follow the Hebraic Law of an eye for an eye, but rather the Christian teaching of turning the other cheek in dealing with post-war Germany, sent to Missouri newspapers by Representatives Schwabe (R., Mo.) was branded a bid to stir up race bias by Congressmen, the New York Post reports in a special dispatch from Washington.

Unfavorable reaction was evidenced by Representative Kee (D., W. Va.) who termed Schwabe's letter "calculated to stir up racial and religious trouble" and by Senator Guffey (D., Pa.) who declared that Congressman Schwabe should be tried for disloyalty and, if convicted, expelled from Congress.

Magazine Drops Fascist Writer

NEW YORK — Newsweek magazine is reported to be dropping from its staff as military analyst, Maj. Gen. J. F. C. Fuller, retired British Army officer and one-time member of the British Union of Fascists. Fuller, who has openly voiced anti-Semitic sentiments in his writings, had been the target of an attack by Walter Winchell who exposed him in a nation-wide broadcast last March.

Say I R C Knew Of Camp Conditions

NEW YORK — The charge was made that the International Red Cross while aware for many years of the existence of happenings in Nazi concentration and extermination camps had failed to make any public protestation, even though it had failed, years ago, to obtain German authorization to visit such camps.

The charge remained unanswered in a statement issued by the Red Cross explaining the difficulties involved in negotiating with the Germans for relief of concentration-camp inmates.

Last Surviving Jew in Nazi Town Attends G. I. Service

Cpl. Fred Adler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Adler, of 338 Blackstone street, discovered what it meant to be a Jew in Germany when he met a woman who asked, pathetically, if she might attend the G. I.'s service that Friday night. We'll let Cpl. Adler tell the story, as he wrote it to his parents.

"Last night, being Friday, we had services in the same Protestant church I wrote about previously. About five of us were in the church waiting for the remainder of the boys. I strolled out into the court-yard and met two women. One was tall and broad-shouldered and the other a small, thin old lady of about sixty, dressed in black. As I came out of the church, the big woman asked me if I could talk German. When I replied that I could speak a little, the old lady told me in German that she was a Jewess. I didn't know what to say to this as I had been led to believe that there were no Jews left in the vicinity. When I told her I was Jewish, too, she asked if she might attend our services.

"I told her to come into the church and when the other boys saw her they didn't believe she was Jewish. She understood this disbelief, for tears came to her eyes and she took two identification cards from her pocketbook and showed them to us. One was German, with her picture, fingerprints and a fancy, yellow German "J" on every page. The other was an AMG form which proved her story. This dispelled all doubts in our minds.

"Our Chaplain, who was Protestant, speaks German very well and he learned the following story: her husband was killed and her one daughter is dead. She is the only Jew left in this area and I can't see how she lived through her ordeal. She reads and speaks Hebrew and German but no English or Yiddish. She told us of an uncle in Astoria, L. I., and showed us a letter from him dated 1936. One of the boys took his address and is going to write him.

"In her honor, we held the service in Hebrew. The fellows are all chipping in to make a bundle for her.

"To me she'll always be a symbol of the survival of Judaism as a religion and a way of life. We will not be programmed out of existence."

A PATRIOTIC CITIZEN

Re-Captured U. S. Sgt. Rises To Major in Red Army

BOSTON — An adventure befall S/Sgt. Bernard Bernhardt, 30, of East Boston, that reads more like a moving picture scenario than the realism of war, when he bailed out of a flaming B-24 over Hungary and later became a major in the Russian army, receiving a personal decoration from Stalin.

He told about it at Cushing General Hospital, Framingham, where he is undergoing plastic surgery to hide the cruel scars of burns on his face and head which he suffered when, like the plane, he fell in flames. A graduate of East Boston High School, he entered the service on April 1, 1943, and eventually was assigned to the American 15th Airforce as tail gunner.

He was on his 44th mission when German fighters shot up the plane over Lake Balaton, Hungary. It was his lucky day, for he had swapped places with the waist gunner and a quick glance showed him the latter was dead. Bernhardt bailed out, flames making his face and head raw.

"German fighters tried twice to cut the shrouds of my parachute with their wings while diving at 400 miles an hour," he related. "But they missed. I got a 22 millimeter bullet in the leg. Hungarian peasants were waiting for me with pitchforks when I landed. They marched me a mile in spite of my wound. I collapsed and later found myself in a German garrison. Later I was transferred to the Royal Hungarian hospital at Budapest.

"For five days they left me unattended on a stretcher, thinking I was going to die. Then they gave me medical treatment. Before the Russians came to Budapest the American prisoners were evacuated. But a Hungarian doctor, who was a member of the underground, permitted me to stay.

Lived on Fat of Land

"When the Russian Army entered I joined with them and took part in fighting two streets from the hospital. I was quickly back in the hospital with a wound. But I was out before the siege was finished and rejoined my Russian companions.

"This time they made me a major and when Stalin appeared he personally pinned a decoration on me. It looked as if everything that was happening was in my favor. The Germans had set up gun positions on the hospital and the Russians shelled it and hit it 1456 times in a month and a half, killing 1200 patients. I might have been among them had I remained.

As a Russian officer, I occupied a villa with servants and lived on the fat of the land. But when an American Liberator bomber was forced down in Budapest I got a longing for America and flew away with the crew, after they had completed repairs. They took me to Italy and then I was brought here."

PRIVATE PAPERS OF A CUB REPORTER

The tea-party treatment tendered Goering by two American generals shocked the nation. The generals gripped his hand and then fed him—when they should have gripped his throat and fed him arsenic.....And the irony of it! GIs are forbidden to fraternize with Germans. Those who break that rule are punished..... Yet generals ignored an order they were supposed to enforce. Hmf!And then Gen. Eisenhower endeared himself to everyone by delivering his public reprimand-spanking of them.

P. S.: Eisenhower for Vice-President!

Memo to America: There's only one way we can lose the war in the Pacific—if Americans behave as if they have already won the war against Japan.

Anglo-American diplomatic weasel-wording makes us shiver..... Their mumbo-jumbo about the punishment of the Junkers and Nazi industrialists belongs in the Hall of Shame.....Cold-blooded German money-bags and their military hop-heads must be snickering to see us hemming and hawing.....Those German rodents started and supported two wars. Hasn't the grim lesson of the global carnage penetrated the skulls of our diplomats?.....There's no use whooping about victory over Germany until we eradicate the Germans who are anxious and capable of starting another war.

Talk about gall! One Nazi industrialist says that he wants to rebuild his munitions factories with loans from the United States!

Diplomatic Eisenhower

Gen Eisenhower's brilliant leadership has received many deserved tributes. He welded the Allies into a victorious team. That achievement is not only the result of military wizardry but adroit diplomacy.....One Eisenhower biog relates this yarn to illustrate his genius for tact. While stationed at a camp at CO he heard of privates who were constantly 'battling each other. He solved the difficulty by assigning the two to a window-cleaning detail. They were ordered to work on the same pane at the same time, one doing the outside, the other the inside. At the beginning of the task the privates scowled at each other. However, they could not keep up their enmity for long as the humor of the situation began to dawn on them. Soon they burst out laughing. Harmony was restored.

Ratzo Goering and other captured Nazi leaders continue parroting the stale, but deadly, Nazi propaganda gimmick. They Ripley the blah-blah that they desire peace—always did—but that baddie Hitler frustrated these bloody goody-goodies.....Goering pictures himself as a male Red Riding Hood.....Such rot.....That propaganda tricky hoodwinked the Allies once. Anyone who swallows that fable today should be rushed to the nearest psychiatrist.....This newsboy once revealed that when the Nazis attained power they openly gloated about their war plans. However, American press agent Ivy Lee advised them to pose as peace-lovers..... Lee's admonition was the Nazis' most potent weapon.

Debunking the Bunk: Rep. Schwabe quoted Cong. Luce as stating that American war prisoners were not mistreated by the Nazis.....A few days ago, Charles Huber (International Red Cross delegate in Washington) informed newsmen: "American war prisoners, forced to travel afoot for incredible distances daily by their German captors, quite obviously were underfed and ill-treated."

NOTES OF A NEW YORKER
John Edgar Hoover (while visiting Leavenworth) gabbed with a murderer (he killed three people), and the G-whizzer was impressed by the killer's nice face, charm and kindness to pets, etc.....This slayer's hobby was canaries..... He fed and raised them.....Mr. Hoover fell in love with one canary and bought it from the killer for $10.....When he bathed it back in Washington (days later) the canary's yellow feathers washed out—and it turned out to be a sparrow! Haw!.....The big G-man was swindled outta 10 bucks. Franco was discussing the breaking off of relations with Germany with one of his henchmen....."I believe," stated the latter,

Urge Speed up In Bond Buying

Pirnie Says R. I. Reputation at Stake

Urging a speed-up in bond buying during the current week, Roderrick Pirnie, chairman of the R. I. War Finance Committee, this week said that Rhode Island's national reputation, earned in the 4th, 5th and 6th War Loan drives, is at stake in the Mighty 7th.

"We can be proud of past performances," Mr. Pirnie said, "but we can't keep our reputation intact in the 7th by riding on our 1944 records. The speed and drive Rhode Island has always put into these campaigns is now being matched by a dozen other states all striving for a position of national leadership. I hope and I think everyone hopes we will have another great success here. But it can only be brought about by the greatest bond buying demonstration ever seen in our State."

"that we should take further steps to show that we are now in the United Nations camp."

"What do you suggest?" queried the ace ball-thrower of Spain.

"I think," continued the henchmen, "we should set our flags at half mast for Roosevelt and pay tribute to him in the press and on the radio. We should also play Allied music on the air, including even some of the Russian composers."

"That's going a little too far," warned Franco. "If we get too democratic we may not be invited to the San Francisco conference."

Believe it or don't, so wot?..... Fat, paunchy Herman Goering, nazistunk No. 2, who was sooo brave and fearless when his luft-laffe was blasting Coventry to bits, showed his true colors when caught. To the American soldiers assigned to watch him, he tremulously pleaded: "Guard me well."

"Oh, we will," responded one of the GIs. "I come from a farm, and a long time ago my father taught me how to take care of pigs."

When Norwegian police threw Nazi-puppet Quisling into the jug, he raised vigorous objections. The cops relieved him of a satchel containing chocolate and cognac.

"Give me back my satchel!" Quisling ranted. "I have done nothing but good for Norway, and a statesman like me should not be placed in an ordinary cell!"

"Don't worry," soothed one of his guards. "You will soon be placed in an underground vault."

Emile Zola, the French novelist, and Paul Cezanne, the painter, went to high school together.

It Happened This Week

A number of Providence people journeyed to Boston last week-end to attend a United Jewish Appeal conclave.....They heard Eliezer Kaplan, treasurer of the Jewish Agency, give an economic report of conditions in Palestine..... Among those present were Archibald Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. Saul Abrams and their daughter, Claire, Dr. Ilie Berger, Walter Sundlun and Mrs. Morris Shoham.

Flat-top Sailor Is Home

Irving Glasberg, son of Louis Glasberg, a survivor of the Jap bombing attack on the USS Franklin, is home on a 32-day leave..... He enlisted April 22, 1942, and was assigned to the Franklin a year ago, when she was commissioned.....He served on her up to the time of the attack and remained aboard while she was brought back to the West Coast.....He suffered a concussion wound that did not require hospitalization.

About People

Major Morton P. Rose, son of Albert Rosenberg, has cabled that he has arrived safely in the Philippines.....Morton rose to his present rank the hard way, since being inducted as a buck private.....Pvt. Harold Grubert, stationed in Europe, has written to friends here that he saw the crematoriums at one of the concentration camps in Germany....."Anything that you may have read," he wrote, "doesn't quite tell the whole truth.....Even the imagination refuses to believe what your eyes see".....N. Russell Schwartz has been elected for his fourth term as a member of the Welfare Board of the Washington Park Community Club.....

Pacific Note

Lt. Norman Gertz, USMC, son of the Benjamin Gertz' has just returned from Iwo Jima for a 30-day leave.....He enlisted in December 1942 and during his 17 months overseas he participated in the invasions of the Marshall Islands, Saipan, Tinian and Iwo Jima.....He obtained his present rank through a combat field appointment.....He and his unit hold a presidential citation for their work during the Saipan operation.....Pvt. Books

In 1940 Italian publishers asked Amram Scheinfeld, author of the recent "Women and Men," for the Italian rights to his book, "You and Heredity." They also requested that the author be certified as "Aryan." Scheinfeld immediately sent a pedigree certifying that he is "descended from Karl Marx and a Hottentot female acrobat, whose illegitimate son went to Palestine and married a Mongolian dancing girl, whose daughter in turn had a romance with Leon Trotsky which culminated in the author's birth." He added "We'd better postpone Italian publication of my book until Mussolini is out of office".....Last month, via an OWI request, Scheinfeld sold the Italian rights to Casa Luigi of Rome, on the day IL Duce died.

Odds and Ends

As for FDR, I like this epitaph, written by a Broadway guy, Irving Hoffman: "FDR—May he rest in Peace—He fought and died for it!".....A military survey was made of the men in service, regarding their post-war plans. These, roughly, are the results: 40% expected to return to their pre-war businesses, back to their
