Milton Kay, day camp committee chairman, recently announced that the staff of 33 counselors and supervisors and 13 junior counselors will be in charge of activities. Swimming, scheduled for twice daily, will be under the supervision of Arthur Levin, a certified Red Cross swimming instructor. Mrs. Bernard Pollock is the camp nurse.

The camp is completely enrolled for the first four weeks. Parents are advised to make applications immediately for the limited number of vacancies available for the second period.

Israel to Reduce Cost of Living

TEL AVIV—The Israeli Government intends to lower the cost of living by 25 percent within the next few months, Eliezar Kaplan, Minister of Finance, told the Knesset last week. He emphasized that the high cost of living is frightening away investors and constitutes an obstacle to development of the country.

The Israeli Minister estimated that the Jewish state will this year have to import $180,000,000 worth of goods, including $100,000,000 for essential commodities. It is therefore imperative to restrict the import of the non-essential goods and to develop Israeli exports to the largest possible degree, he declared.

The chief problem facing Israel, he pointed out, is the need for increasing production in order to halt the inflationary trend in the country. Schemes for the use of savings which will be accumulated through the reduced cost of living are now being formulated, he said. The government is planning to increase production and encourage foreign investment by lowering duties on building materials.

Arab Underground Railway Used by Mufti

TEL AVIV—An Arab "underground railway" operated from Palestine areas held by Transjordan through Israeli territory to Egypt-held Gaza districts is being used mainly by followers and supporters of Haj Amin El Husseini, exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, who are escaping from King Abdullah's jurisdiction.

Conflicting reports appearing in the Arabic and Hebrew newspapers last week-end stirred considerable speculation here as to the direction of the "railway" and its purposes.

Mrs. Nelson Gives Check to Hadassah

A check for $1,000 for the Negev Hospital in Palestine was presented by Mrs. Gussie Nelson, president of the Ladies' Union League for Consumptives, to representatives of Providence Chapter of Hadassah, at the annual bridge of the league at the Jewish Community Center June 14.

Rabbi Joshua Werner was guest speaker. Chairmen of the affair were Mrs. Morris Kelman and Mrs. Lewis Spader.

It was learned Monday from officials of the American Friends Service Committee, which is handling relief for the Arab refugees in the Gaza area, that the major surreptitious movements of Arabs across Israel is toward the sea from the Hebron area to the Egyptian-occupied Gaza coastal strip.

The Egyptian military authorities in Gaza approached the American Friends Service Committee 15 days ago and presented a list of 364 new arrivals, for whom the Egyptians requested food ration cards and other relief supplies. It was explained by the Egyptians that the newcomers were "political refugees."

Although not expressed, the implication was clear that the "refugees" seeking asylum were partisans of the Mufti who had actively opposed Abdullah's plan to annex the Arab parts of Palestine to Transjordan.

5400 American Tourists in Israel

TEL AVIV—5400 tourists, mostly American Jews, arrived in Israel during the last ten weeks. While the government and people of Israel are pleased with this influx of tourists who spend considerable amounts of money in the new State, nevertheless tourism as a whole is looked at askance in Israel now.

Conditions in the country are so bad, and hotel and other accommodations are so scarce that tourists are subjected to many inconveniences and they leave Israel displeased.

Apart from that, they actually deprive the natives of food and accommodations.

Ruvain Klein Wins Year's Study in Israel

Ruvain Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Klein of Rochambeau Avenue, will leave Sunday for a year's stay in Israel, under a scholarship awarded him by the Rhode Island Zionist Region, Frank Licht, president of the region, announced this week.

The scholarship, which consists of six months study in the Hebrew University Annex and six months in a kibbutz, was awarded to Ruvain by the judges, Rabbi Morris G. Schussheim, Mrs. Archibald Silverman and Dr. Ilie Berger.

Ruvain, a 19-year old sophomore at Brown University where he is a member of Hillel and IZFA, has also studied at the Boston Hebrew Teachers College. Both his parents are associated with the religious school of Temple Emanuel, his father being director of religious education there.

Ruvain will have little trouble in conversing with Israeli citizens, since Hebrew is spoken in the Klein home.

Comb Palestine For Scriptural Scroll

AMMAN, Jordan—A search is now going on for a scriptural manuscript, older than any yet known, which is believed to be somewhere in Palestine, probably in the hands of a nomadic shepherd.

Its existence can only be surmised from the discovery of fragments in a cave from which other scrolls have been taken. But Gerald Harding, director of Antiquities of the Jordan Government, says he is convinced that at least one scroll and perhaps more were found, besides the eight already known, and that they are probably still in existence. His hope is that the shepherd who made the original discovery, if he can be found, may know what became of the extra scroll or scrolls, which are of priceless value to archaeologists.

Young Adults Map Plans for Campaign

A capacity crowd, much larger than last year, attended the first meeting of the Young Adult Division of the General Jewish Committee at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel, June 15.

Under the chairmanship of Bruce Sundlun, the goals of the 1949 United Jewish Appeal were outlined by the General Jewish Committee Chairman, Alvin A. Sopkin.

The guest speaker of the evening was Harold Katz of Newport. Mr. Katz, a Harvard Law student, was serving as first mate of the Hatikvah, when she was seized by the British and the 1500 DPs were impounded along with the crew at Cypress.

Mr. Sundlun introduced the organization plan which the YAD will use to promote greater coverage and efficiency. A chart outlining the plan was displayed and will be kept at GJC headquarters to follow during the campaign. The organization is divided into divisions, groups and sections. There will be two divisions, general and initial gifts. The general division is further divided into areas, educational institutions and organizational groups, each of which is further divided into smaller sections. All areas, schools and organizations are represented.

The following were introduced as the heads of the divisions: Jack Temkin, associate chairman, advisor to the Initial Gifts Division, to be headed by co-chairmen Ronald Sopkin, Leonard Chaset and Harold Ratush; Bernard Bell, associate chairman, advisor to the general solicitations division, to be headed by co-chairmen Ruth Tannenbaum, Stanley Snyder and Joseph Teverow. Ira Rakatansky is honorary chairman of the Young Adults Division.

Mr. Sundlun stressed the fact that only the above mentioned people have been selected for any particular job. Most of the positions of importance and leadership are still to be filled. They will be filled only by those people who have the interest and desire to work. The YAD is gratified at the response and invites anyone interested to contact the General Jewish Committee, Room 203, Strand Building as soon as possible.

Junior Hadassah Has Mock Wedding

A mock wedding was featured at the last meeting of Junior Hadassah, June 15 at the Sheraton-Biltmore. Participating were the Misses Bernice Bauman, Phyllis Winn, Ruth Horvitz, Sonya Newman, Matilda Sivin and Muriel Hurwitz.

Miss Celia Buckler, retiring as an active member, was presented a gift.

The last board meeting was held Monday, at which time tentative plans for summer affairs were made. Details will be announced later.

Graduation Chit-Chat
Graduation was doubly thrilling for Bert Fain and Lois Jagolinzer who both received their diplomas Monday at Brown University and Pembroke College commencement. At a cocktail party held at the Jagolinzer home Sunday, Bert and Lois announced their engagement. Congratulations on both counts — Al Sydney was graduated from Brown in the same cap and gown his father, J. T. Sydney, had worn when he graduated from Brown 31 years ago! Al's younger brother, Stanley, just returned from a two-week trip to Kentucky, a gift from his father for making the dean's list in his freshman year at MIT. Although it was a warm evening Monday night when the David Robinsons held open house in honor of son Mendy (Phi Beta, Sigma Xi), no one felt the heat on the Robinson's lawn. Sisters Deana and Leila were charming hostesses—proud as punch of their brother.

Silver Wedding
Celebrating 25 years of marriage are the Abe Sheinbergs and the Charles Borods. The Sheinbergs entertained at a lawn party at their home Sunday, and the Borods were feted by the Frank Goldsteins at the Goldstein home.

Comparing Notes
Mrs. Marshal Wolfe and Mrs.

Burton Goldberg were comparing notes about their new daughters last week at the Lying-In Hospital where they have rooms near each other. Lonnie Goldberg was born June 16. The Wolfes' baby was born June 18, and might be named Jamie or Janie. Both are "firsts" — Bruce Allan Lamchick, first son of the Jerome Lamchicks, was born June 9. Mother is the former Janith Bernstein.

Home For Awhile
Bill Sweet, who's been in the Army almost a year, is looking forward to seeing all his buddies again when he comes home for the weekend of the Fourth. Bill's an IBM International Business Machine technician in Washington.

All About Lobsters
Walter Gartner took some friends on a boat trip last week, cruising around the bay and stopping at King Gorman's for lobster dinners. On the way back to port the gang aboard began nursing their sunburns and the boat looked like a hospital ship. Ask the Murray Cohens or Louis Kaprove and his wife—they were among the lobstered guests.

New Job
Janice Kramer, recently graduated from the Boston Dispensary as a qualified hospital laboratory technician, is pretty excited about her new job that she'll start in the fall. She's accepted a position in Washington, D. C., and plans to live with her sister and brother-in-law, the Harry Goldblums.

Looking for Information
Sam Weichselbaum of Cleveland would like to contact a Mr. Seigel who used to be a manager of Clayton's on Weybosset Street in 1924-25. Mr. Seigel had three daughters and one son who died shortly after graduating from dental school. If anyone has information concerning Mr. Seigel, please contact the Reuters of Croyland Road.

Seltzers at Onset
The Manuel Seltzers and their son Benton are vacationing this summer at Onset, Mass.

Honor Students
Among the students at Nathan Bishop receiving scholastic honors

were Barbara Mason, daughter of the Henry Masons; Elaine Cort, daughter of the Irwin Cortes; Richard Sharp, son of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sharp, and Elliot Goldman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Goldman.

First Anniversary
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Connis who celebrated their first wedding anniversary Sunday, June 19.

CHILDREN'S SERVICE
Children's services at the Beth-David Synagogue were concluded Saturday, June 11, until the fall when the children will conduct their own services in Hebrew and English.

Clifford Fishman, a pupil of the Providence Hebrew Day School, headed the services under the supervision of Rabbi Jacob Bulka, a teacher at the school.

Refreshments were served by the Mothers' Association.

Lilienthal Defends Right to Criticism

David E. Lilienthal's calm forbearance and unruffled patience in the face of the avalanche of criticism and even vituperation which has been hurled at him in Hearst papers and other editorials, is truly admirable. In fact we wish he would get angry and hit back, but probably that is what his enemies would relish most of all. In fact he leans backward in being understanding, even of his slanderers. As speaker at the Michigan State College Commencement last week the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission defended the right of his enemies to criticize and said that "stifling" of criticism, "even when it gets pretty rough, is wrong."

The audience of 13,000 gave him a two minute ovation. His address reiterated what he has said so many times—that he has faith in our democracy and our tradition of ethical guides, which are imperishable. He made reference to his chance to get away from "that neutron infested squirrel cage atmosphere of Washington" and later he referred to his attackers when he said, "We can be fooled for a time by the cheap headline hunter—or political smear artists. Sometimes we are slow to repudiate cynical disregard of our moral standards—but they are always there, the foundation of our buying and selling, our hiring and firing, our political and financial institutions." Even in the latter statement which started out as a personal defense, Mr. Lilienthal turned to the larger aspects of the issue and interpreted it in terms of his unflinching faith in our democracy.

The Senator from Iowa doesn't understand a man of Lilienthal's integrity. He should have referred to Mr. Lilienthal's statement to the Congressional Committee several years ago when they probed his fitness to head the AEC. His reply at that time to the question of his Credo, was "I believe, and I do so conceive the Constitution of the United States to rest upon, as does religion, the fundamental proposition of the integrity of the individual; and that all Government and all private institutions must be designed to promote and to protect the integrity and the dignity of the individual; that that is the essential meaning of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, as it is essentially the meaning of religion."

"One Man's Opinion"

Thoughts for the Summer

By BERNARD SEGAL

My remarks here two columns ago about the ridiculously small number of graduates from our Jewish schools disturbed a great many people. It is a good sign. All is not hopeless with Jewish education in Providence as long as people become aroused over it. Letters, telephone calls, and face to face comments came from young and old, fellow teachers, parents, and communal leaders.

Said one of our leading educators:

"I knew the situation was bad, but did not think it was that appalling."

Remarked a man who is active in school work:

"I have read about the twenty-four graduates from all the schools combined, and am not myself all evening. Even though it hurts, you did well to tell the truth."

But from all quarters came the query, what to do? How to remedy matters?

Suggestions Offered

And also suggestions were offered—some extravagant, others more realistic, but all pointing to a resourcefulness and a readiness on the part of so many of us to improve the lot of Jewish education in our community.

First of all, all seem to agree that an organized effort is needed. A Committee for Jewish Education should be created, whose sole purpose it should be to stimulate interest in and provide opportunities for the dissemination of Jewish learning. We cannot wait for an outside foundation to do it for us. We will have to do it by ourselves, and we can do it.

Here in Providence today we have a fine group of educators, men and women to whom Jewish teaching is not accidental nor a side line. These are trained teachers, accredited teachers, who bring to their Jewish subjects a combination of knowledge plus enthusiasm. Their interest in Jewish education is not merely a amateurish but professional. These teachers can be counted on in planning a community program of Jewish education.

A promising field for the activities of such a Committee lies in the introduction of Hebrew as a subject in the public high school. This is not a pipe dream. It is being done in many cities the size of Providence, and right here in New England. Modern Hebrew is being offered in high schools, colleges and academies, just as French, Italian, Spanish, and other languages, wherever there is a sufficient number of students willing to study it.

They are not making any sacrifices by taking that subject, because they receive credit for Hebrew, just as they would for another language, and the credits are accepted for college entrance requirements. In America today, a recent report stated, there are 600 colleges, universities, and professional schools that accept Hebrew for admission credits.

In New York City, during the academic year just ended, Hebrew was being taught in nineteen high schools, five junior high schools, and in two evening high schools.

Hebrew in Providence

Here in Providence we should be able to introduce modern Hebrew as a language in Hope and Classical High Schools and in Roger Williams and Nathan Bishop Junior High Schools. But it will not happen by itself. The Committee for Jewish Education will have to urge parents to ask their children to register in Hebrew at their respective schools. The Committee will have to convince the local school authorities of the desirability to approve this subject, and also provide certified teachers for the classes.

Then there is the grossly neglected field of adult education that cries for a sponsor. This too is within the province of a Committee for Jewish Education.

But enough of suggestions. The Summer season is here. The time for relaxing, for vacationing, for getting away from it all, has come. Let this be like a seed planted in the soil to be nurtured and warmed all through the Summer. Many of us will think about it, will talk about it, and will reflect on it. In the Fall we will, with the help of God and the efforts of men of good will toward Jewish learning, come back to this subject.

Until then, a happy Summer to all.

The Future Of Zionism In the U. S.

By MRS. NATHANIEL GOUSE

The State of Israel is no longer just a dream. Today the people of Israel as well as Zionists all over the world have the realization that their manual, diplomatic and financial investment has been worthwhile. For, certainly, each of these forms of effort has been expended, not only by the settlers of Palestine, but also by idealistic Jews all over the world.

The contribution that Palestinian Jews have made toward making their dream a reality cannot be minimized. Yet they, as well as the rest of the world, give full acknowledgment to the fact that without the assistance of Zionist organizations everywhere the dream would not have been realized this quickly.

Now the effects of World Zionism's toils and dollars have "paid off". The work of over fifty years of Zionist activity has produced its designed product. The Jews of Israel have a land of their own, which is, as Herzl desired, legally sanctioned by all other world powers.

Even before this achievement, however, the early colonists of the land worked and concentrated on developing the land that they some day hoped would be theirs. They came upon a barren, undeveloped land when they first colonized in 1882, and they—the fervent, almost fanatic believers of a Jewish State for the Jewish people—needed much outside help.

Like all pioneers, they were fleeing refugees who brought with them a minimum of worldly goods; they tilled the soil and developed industry. All, even those who did not wish to live in the Jewish State, yet believed in the need for one, rallied behind the colonists, utilizing their financial ability and diplomatic influence, to make the land theirs. This essentially has been the activity of all Zionists not actually colonizing Palestine. This, on the whole, has been the American Zionist contribution.

But now the United Nations recognizes the Jewish State. The war between the Israelis and the Arabs has been terminated. The Israelis, like all victorious warriors, have laid down their weapons, and like the Americans after the Revolutionary War, have now concentrated upon developing a democratic constitution and government. And they are of the conviction that if their land is to develop it must cease to have an economy dependent upon philanthropy.

True, they could ask for, and probably get Jewish financial support for an almost indefinite period. But the Israeli leaders, and for that matter all Israeli citizens, do not want this. They have been given a glorious gift in Statehood and they want to justify it. That can not be done by permitting it to remain a dependent Republic. This would negate their wish to take an internationally independent stand. So, while still accepting foreign aid, they must work toward the end that Israel shall eventually be a self-sustaining and economically independent nation.

All of this poses the question—What role will Zionist organizations now have in the State of Israel? Further, what relationship will American Zionists have to the new nation? Gradually, hopefully, Israel will need less and less American Zionist diplomatic and financial aid. We are

Walder-Berlow
Miss Leona Berlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berlow of Fourth Street, became the bride of Richard Walder, son of Mrs. Jennie Walder of New Bedford, in a candlelight ceremony at the Churchill House, June 19. Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen performed the double ring ceremony under a floral canopy.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents was attired in a gown of candlelight satin with a full court train trimmed with seed pearls and bugle beads accenting the sweetheart neckline and peplum. Her full-length veil fell from a coronet of braided net, and she carried a white orchid and stephanotis on her ivory heirloom prayerbook.

The maid of honor, Miss Cynthia Berlow, sister of the bride, chose a gown of silver lace over seafoam green taffeta with a matching lace stole, and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses.

Leo Walder was best man for his brother, and ushers were Stanley J. Kaplan, Isaac Arenberg, Leo Barish, Steve Braudy, Abraham Schlein and Samuel Walder.

The groom was graduated from Rhode Island State College in June, 1948 and the bride received her degree from the same school last week.

The couple will live in Hampton, Va. where Mr. Walder is an engineer.

A CHILDREN'S ODYSSEY, from German DP camps to port of Marseilles, en route to Palestine, was photographed by Sam Rosenberg, a U. S. War Department photographer who made these pictures on his own. The children, German and Polish Jews, orphaned by the Nazi crematoria, are a small part of the migration conducted by the Youth Aliyah. This Zionist organization has been settling orphaned European Jewish children in Palestine since 1933, and will continue its work until the remaining 60,000 Jewish DP children have reached Israel. Those photographed here have already ended their journey.

5 Water was rationed during the three-and-a-half-day trip to France. The train made frequent stops, but the only chance for the children to bathe was at this water chute in the freight yard of Ulm.

1 In U. S. Army trucks, the 292 children collected by Youth Aliyah from German DP camps, arrive at the Munich freight yard to board the train.

4 Sleeping space is carefully portioned out on these trains, and the children's blankets were furnished by the U. S. Army.

6 Arrived in Marseilles, each child receives a passport for Palestine. Their previous address, as carefully noted by the officials, is also recorded.

2 Their farewells to friends made in the camp are happy; they all expect to meet again in Israel. The children's long ride to France was in cattle cars.

3 Lunch en route comes out of cans: It's corned beef, Portuguese sardines and bread. Breakfast and dinner menus aboard 40 and 8's are the same.

There's little room to spare. The children's clothes and food by the Youth Aliyah.

Zionism's Future In the U. S.

forced to ask, does this mean that gradually, as the need for this assistance lessens, that Zionist organizations will die a natural, painless death? I have been asked this and I can only give my definite belief that this will NOT happen.

Yes, as time progresses, American Zionists will be called upon less and less to give of their effort and money. But does that mean that the Zionist Organization of America, Labor Zionist Organization of America, Hadassah, Women Pioneers, Mizrahi and the Revisionist groups will cease to exist? Hardly. More likely, Jews throughout the world, who have by their Zionist activities identified themselves with a Jewish State, will want to retain that identification.

Lacking a concrete and material program, the question does follow, how does this identification continue? I feel that we can best find the answer by exploring what first formed or induced this identification. One of the most basic bonds to the Zionist principle has been religion. Yet, unique to our history is that this religion constitutes, and actually is, a culture. And now, given the State for which we have worked so long, we can concentrate on Jewish culture. Certainly it is rich enough to hold our organization together.

Therefore, with the satisfaction of a Jewish State, Zionist organizations can integrate their ancient enriching culture, with literature, art, drama and music, into a program of national stimulus that will favorably rival that of any other belief.

Zionism has always had a bright future; now the struggles have ceased and the pleasure and satisfaction shall multiply.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Metz, 52 Merino Street, announce the birth of their first child, Ellen Lois, on June 17, her mother's birthday. Mrs. Metz is the former Miss Lillian Fine.

Engagement Announced
The engagement of Miss Toby Pearl Rose to Robert Sandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris I. Sandler of Boston, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rose of 1630 Hope Street.

Mr. Sandler is a graduate of Ohio University. The couple plan to be married August 28.

Kolodny-Orodenker
Miss Vivian Orodenker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Orodenker, 272 Warrington Street, was married to Ralph Kolodny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Kolodny of Fall River, Mass., at Temple Beth Israel, Sunday at 3 o'clock. Rabbi Morris Schussheim officiated.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attired in a gown of white slipper satin with a design of chantilly lace and seed pearls on the bodice and skirt. Her Juliet cap of white mesh, interwoven with seed pearls, held a veil of illusion and chantilly lace, and she carried a prayer book marked with a white orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

Miss Eunice Orodenker, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, chose a strapless aqua satin gown with matching lace capelet and an aqua satin and lace picture hat. Her bouquet was a cascade of yellow and pink roses and aqua delphinium.

Bentley Kolodny, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers included Edward Macy, Norman Orodenker, Warren Prabluda, Mal Fryberg, Arnold Soloway, Will Fernald, Mel Goldwater and Walter Milne.

The flower girls, dressed in blue and pink gowns and with colonial bouquets and matching head-dresses, were Marsha Orodenker, sister of the bride, and Susan Kauffman, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. Gladys Kapstein sang Hebrew songs for the ceremony. Mrs. Orodenker wore a champagne marquisette gown with bands of lace in the bodice and skirt. Her corsage of orchids with streamers of green ribbon and orchid sweet peas was worn at the hip. Mrs. Kolodny selected a powder blue crepe gown trimmed with silver and blue beads with a shoulder corsage of white orchids.

A reception and dinner was held at the Narragansett immediately following the ceremony. Guests were present from New York, Philadelphia, Fall River, California, Chicago, Worcester, New Bedford and Boston.

After a wedding trip to the White Mountains, the couple will reside at 252 Warrington Street until the fall, when they will make their home in Boston.

Give Lawn Party

Miss Rosalie F. Adelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Adelman of Lorraine Avenue, was married May 29 at the home of her parents to Harold H. Shore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Shore of Elm Grove Avenue. Rabbi William G. Braude performed the noon ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white Paris faille gown with shirred detail and a chapel-length train. Her veil of French illusion fell from a faille bonnet lined with shell pink and tied with pink velvet ribbons which reached to the hem of her gown. She carried a bouquet of shell pink pinocchio roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Ruth M. Rossman, maid of honor, chose a pale aqua or-

Around Town

with ARLENE SUMMER

Graduation Chit-Chat
Graduation was doubly thrilling for Bert Fain and Lois Jagolinzer who both received their diplomas Monday at Brown University and Pembroke College commencement. At a cocktail party held at the Jagolinzer home Sunday, Bert and Lois announced their engagement. Congratulations on both counts. Al Sydney was graduated from Brown in the same cap and gown his father, J. T. Sydney, had worn when he graduated from Brown 31 years ago! Al's younger brother, Stanley, just returned from a two-week trip to Kentucky, a gift from his father for making the dean's list in his freshman year at MIT. Although it was a warm evening Monday night when the David Robinsons held open house in honor of son Mendy (Phi Beta, Sigma Xi), no one felt the heat on the Robinson's lawn. Sisters Deana and Leila were charming hostesses—proud as punch of their brother.

Silver Wedding
Celebrating 25 years of marriage are the Abe Sheinbergs and the Charles Borods. The Sheinbergs entertained at a lawn party at their home Sunday, and the Borods were feted by the Frank Goldsteins at the Goldsteins' home.

Honeymooning
Received a card from Ruth and Danny Cerel (married two weeks ago), from Scaroon Manor, N. Y.

Comparing Notes
Mrs. Marshal Wolfe and Mrs.

Burton Goldberg were comparing notes about their new daughters last week at the Lying-In Hospital where they have rooms near each other. Lonnie Goldberg was born June 16. The Wolfes' baby was born June 18, and might be named Jamie or Janie. Both are "firsts" Bruce Allan Lamchick, first son of the Jerome Lamchicks, was born June 9. Mother is the former Janith Bernstein.

Home For Awhile
Bill Sweet, who's been in the Army almost a year, is looking forward to seeing all his buddies again when he comes home for the weekend of the Fourth. Bill's an IBM International Business Machine technician in Washington.

All About Lobsters
Walter Gartner took some friends on a boat trip last week, cruising around the bay and stopping at King Gorman's for lobster dinners. On the way back to port the gang aboard began nursing their sunburns and the boat looked like a hospital ship. Ask the Murray Cohens or Louis Kaprove and his wife—they were among the lobstered guests.

New Job
Janice Kramer, recently graduated from the Boston Dispensary as a qualified hospital laboratory technician, is pretty excited about her new job that she'll start in the fall. She's accepted a position in Washington, D. C., and plans to live with her sister and brother-in-law, the Harry Goldblums.

Looking for Information
Sam Weichselbaum of Cleveland would like to contact a Mr. Seigel who used to be a manager of Clayton's on Weybosset Street in 1924-25. Mr. Seigel had three daughters and one son who died shortly after graduating from dental school. If anyone has information concerning Mr. Seigel, please contact the Reuters of Croyland Road.

Seltzers at Onset
The Manuel Seltzers and their son Benton are vacationing this summer at Onset, Mass.

Among the students at Nathan Bishop receiving scholastic honors

were Barbara Mason, daughter of the Henry Masons; Elaine Cort, daughter of the Irwin Cortes; Richard Sharp, son of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sharp, and Elliot Goldman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Goldman.

First Anniversary
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Connis who celebrated their first wedding anniversary Sunday, June 19.

CHILDREN'S SERVICE
Children's services at the Beth-David Synagogue were concluded Saturday, June 11, until the fall when the children will conduct their own services in Hebrew and English.

Clifford Fishman, a pupil of the Providence Hebrew Day School, headed the services under the supervision of Rabbi Jacob Bulka, a teacher at the school.

Refreshments were served by the Mothers' Association.

game under protest and have hopes of having the defeat chalked up against them erased by league headquarters.

Coming from behind in each game, Miller's overwhelmed the Olympics 9-3 and 5-3 behind Hersch and Jarcho. The league leaders pounded Abe Lobel for six runs in the fifth inning of the opener to overcome a 3-1 deficit. Hersch pitched a 2-hitter and shut out the Olympics after the second frame. Although outhit, 13-11 in the nightcap, Miller's pulled through on the strength of three runs in the seventh inning after tying the Olympics 2-2 in the sixth. Leonard and Lobel paced the hitters with three apiece. Leonard also scoring all the Olympics' runs.

The Comets moved ahead of Richards Clothing by piling two more defeats on luckless Pinkerson's. The scores were 19-1 and 23-1. Nate Ludman and Warren Foster did the Comets' pitching.

Jack Steiner pitched five-hit ball as Jack's Old Timers bowled over Krasnoff's 10-2 in their opener. Al "Red" Abelson, Albie Sandperil and Herb Goldis had three hits each for the winners, with Abelson scoring three runs.

Krasnoff's put up a determined battle in the second game, taking the lead twice and finally rallying for three runs in the last two innings and a 6-6 tie in the seventh. The Old Timers pushed across the winning run in their half. Rubien and Weintraub kept Krasnoff's in the game with their bats, while Paul Paris and Lou Seltzer hit hard for the winners.

Richards Protests

Al Press twirled Richards to an 11-3 win over Fall River in the first game, but the Kavodians rallied to hand the Clothiers an 8-6 setback. Richards' third defeat in four games, in the finale. The game was protested following an argument over a matter of rules interpretation in the seventh inning. Dan Gittleman of Fall River led his team at the plate and turned in a game-saving relief pitching job in the explosive seventh.

The sizzling Orioles of Philip Dwares Co. maintained their winning ways, taking 11-7 and 7-5 decisions from Windsor Rhodes and moving up to a .500 spot in the standings. The Orioles, who have won seven of their last eight games, now are only one game out of the first division. The Orioles came from behind in each game. Jerry Winograd's homer and triples by Joe Primack and Buzzy Labush leading the way in the opener, which also saw Gleckman homer for Windsor Rhodes, Jimmy Shocket and Len Rodman of the winners and Norman Schwartz of the losers stood out in the nightcap.
