Quonset Houses For B'nai B'rith Colonies

Exterior and interior views of the new type U. S.-made quonset houses, which B'nai B'rith is sending to Israel as an experiment in emergency housing. The first houses are being shipped this week to the B'nai B'rith Alfred M. Cohen and Henry Monsky colonies. Each house, cream colored, with green doors and windows, consists of four apartments, providing modern American style facilities for four families, complete to private bath with toilet and shower, and private kitchen for each family. In addition, the houses are insulated, ventilated and screened and also boast complete electrical installation. Pictured, top: a corner of the dining alcove. Center: over-all view of the new quonset house. Bottom: view of a typical living room.

U. S. Asks Israel to Give Up More Territory, Admit Arabs

Schwartz to Head BV UJA Campaign

Harry A. Schwartz has been named chairman of the Blackstone Valley United Jewish Appeal campaign for the eighth consecutive year.

The drive will open with a pre-campaign meeting on September 6 at the home of Mr. Schwartz, 281 Rochambeau Avenue, Providence. At that time plans will be made for the initial gifts dinner to be held at the Ledgemont Country Club, Tuesday, September 20.

Urging support of the drive Mr. Schwartz said: "No amount of wishful thinking or criticism can erase the ugly facts of hungry children and roofless homes. This is not a matter of propaganda. Just read your daily press for a picture of conditions in Israel. Now that we have taken them from the cemetery of Europe it is important that we give them the

Terms Israel's Offers "Unrealistic"

WASHINGTON—The State Dept. said this week it wanted further concessions from Israel "both with respect to refugees and territory."

Press Officer Lincoln White said both Israel and the Arabs should be motivated "by a spirit of constructive compromise" if the deadlocked peace talks at Lausanne, Switzerland, are to succeed.

White made the statement in commenting on the remarks of Daniel Frisch, president of the Zionist Organization of America, who had been told the State Dept. is not pressing Israel to admit 250,000 Arab refugees or to surrender the Southern Negev.

White termed Frisch's statement "correct" but then he emphasized that this does not mean that the department does not want further concessions.

Government officials, in elaborating on White's remarks, made it plain that the State Dept. still believes that Israel's offer to readmit but 100,000 is "unrealistic" and that this offer should be increased.

Deny Rabbi's Story In Fraud Case

(Editor's Note:—The metropolitan press of New York City and other cities and the news services have published stories concerning a rabbi, S. Eichenstein, indicted in New York for fraud in connection with Israel. The Jewish Statistical Bureau which maintains registries of rabbis of all wings of American Judaism has issued a statement denying that the indicted person was a rabbi. The statement, by Dr. H. S. Linfield, director of the bureau, follows:)

"Solomon Eichenstein is not a rabbi according to the records of the Jewish Statistical Bureau.

"Solomon Eichenstein is not ordained according to our regulations and he does not serve as a rabbi in a congregation. Nor is he a member of any of the national or city-wide associations of rabbis.

"The Jewish Statistical Bureau has maintained registries of American rabbis for many years, and at no time was Solomon Eichenstein registered with us as a rabbi. His full name is Solomon Jacob Eichenstein, better known as Zeidele Eichenstein. He is registered with us as the finance secretary of a small congregation in Manhattan. His function is to collect the dues of the members of the congregation."

Council Reviews Campaigns to Date

Sums Fall Short of '48 Campaigns

NEW YORK—A total of $54,191,000 has been raised to date toward local campaign goals by 67 Jewish communities throughout the country, according to a report released this week by the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds. Some of these communities completed their campaigns in July, while others are continuing their drives.

The reporting cities anticipate a final total return of $58,990,500 for 1949, the report said. The same communities raised $71,005,- 256 last year. These communities include: Baltimore, which has so far raised more than $3,000,000 and will close its campaign in September; Buffalo, which completed its campaign by raising its quota of $1,200,000; Cincinnati, which reached its goal of $1,600,000; Cleveland, which completed its drive after raising its goal of $4,900,000; Detroit, which raised $5,240,000 and is concluding its campaign this month; Kansas City, which reached its goal of $1,210,000; Los Angeles, which raised six million dollars towards its $8,000,000 goal, but which is continuing its campaign through

Rumania Acts Against Zionists

LONDON—It is reported here that the Rumanian government is planning drastic action against the 14,000 registered Zionists in that country. August 15, mass deportation of Zionists from cities to the provinces of Debrudja and Alina will begin. It is said that these deportations are taking place on the suggestion of the so-called Jewish democratic (Communist) committee. The cities to be affected are Bucharest, Galatz, Cluj, Temisvar, Yassi and 18 others.

2 Deny Split in Freedom Party

TEL AVIV.—Herut members of the Knesset this week issued a statement denying a report published aboard which alleged that a split has occurred in the ranks of the Freedom Party resulting in the resignations of two Herut deputies from Knesset committees. A new settlement was established in the western Negev in memory of Abraham Stern, founder of the Stern Group. The colony, "Neve Yair," located on Jewish National Fund land, is made up chiefly of youthful members of the Fighters' Party.

(Arden's is eliminated)

SUNDAY'S SCHEDULE

Comets vs Richards at Dillon Park (Bucklin); Old Timers vs Orioles at Hopkins Park. Game time: 9:30.

The elimination of Arden's Jewelry and the Olympics of Cadillac Textile from playoff consideration, and the qualification of Miller's Delicatessen for the final round featured last Sunday's playoff and replay schedule in the Jewish Softball League.

Miller's, which finished the regular season in first place, knocked Arden's Jewelry out of the playoffs by sweeping a twin bill. The league leaders now draw a bye for the semi-final round and will then meet the surviving team in the final series.

The only other definite occurrence came in the Orioles' sweep over the Olympics, thereby assuring the Dwaresmen of a playoff spot and dropping the Olympics to a seventh place finish in the league standings.

In the only other action, the Comets of Mal's Baby Stores and Richards Clothing split a double header, thus necessitating the playing of a third game this Sunday.

Miller's Delicatessen ran into a real scare in their opener, trailing 10-2 going into the seventh. Then the East Siders found their batting eyes, cracking eight straight hits, including Ben Tragar's three-run homer, as they rallied for ten runs and the ball game 12-10. Aaron Wish, who had not pitched before this year, twirled two brilliant relief innings to clinch the win. Miller's won the nightcap, a loose affair, 11-10 with the aid of three double plays started by Herb Weintraub, the game's defensive star.

Warren "Red" Foster, ace right hander, led the Comets to an opening game win over Richards by a 6-3 score. The defending champs lost the second, 5-4. No report was sent in regarding the details.

Orioles Win Two

In the replay of their final day rhabarb, the Orioles and Olympics battled furiously through a pair of close contests, with the former emerging as playoff contenders. The scores were 15-13 and 6-5. The first game was a loose slugging affair, wherein the Orioles grabbed a 6-4 first inning lead and maintained that margin to the end. The Olympics rallied in the late innings, cutting a 14-8 Oriole lead to two runs, but that was the extent of their threat.

The Orioles grabbed another early lead in the nightcap, leading 5-1 at the end of three. The Olympics cut this to 5-3 before the Dwaresmen tallied their winning run, and then another rally fell one run short as Ralph Winn's bid for a hit struck Abe Lobel, representing the tying run, who was standing on third base.

Draftees and Veterans Guide

In three weeks you will be able to get an application for your share of the $2,800,000,000 "special dividend" on National Service Life insurance.

You won't see the hard cash, though, until some time after Christmas.

Every U. S. post office will get a large batch of application blanks. The Government Printing Office in Washington is running off 70,000,000 of the forms. Veterans organizations, the Red Cross and similar outfits also will have them for distribution.

The dividend will not be paid automatically. You must apply for it. Why? Well, for one, millions of ex-servicers who rate dividends are now carrying their NSLI. Some let it lapse seven or eight years ago. The VA does not have current addresses for these veterans.

When you get your application form don't fail to fill out correctly the blank entitled "Permanent Mailing Address." If you do a lot of moving around in your job, don't fill in that space with the address at which you think you will be in January. No matter where you think you may be, put your permanent address in that space.

Another blank on the application form is headed "Insurance No(s)." You may not remember, or have access to, your NSLI numbers. If so, leave that space blank. Don't write the VA to find out.

After filling in your form, send it to Washington. It is self addressed. All you have to do is put a one cent stamp on it. But before sending it in, follow instructions and detach one-third of the blank, headed "Special Instruction."

You'll get an acknowledgement of your application. You should keep it until the check arrives.

1. It is computed from the date you originally took out NSLI to the 1948 anniversary date of your policy (or the date it lapsed).

2. It is payable to former, as well as present, holders of NSLI policies.

3. It must be applied for.

Because this is a special dividend it cannot be left with the VA on deposit at 3 per cent interest. You've actually got to take the money. Of course, you can endorse your check and send it back to the VA as a payment on advance premiums, if you want, and you'll get 3 per cent interest. But you can't automatically leave it with the VA.

The Right to Criticize

Something unusual has happened this week in Jewish public life; something which deserves more than passing attention. Criticism of the State of Israel, which had hitherto been almost non-existent in this country, or muzzled and even suppressed, has suddenly broken all bounds, has risen like a tidal wave and overflowed into the Jewish press and platform.

The immediate cause for this outbreak was a speech by Mr. Louis Hollander, vice-president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, president of the New York CIO, and a member of the delegation of the Jewish Labor Committee which has recently returned from Israel and presented the usual glowing account of everything going on in the new state. The report was something of a surprise to some people, because the Jewish Labor Committee had been for years in violent opposition to Zionism and people expected from its delegation less propaganda and more facts about the state of affairs in Israel.

But it appears that, although the delegation as a whole had joined the general bandwagon of paean singers, some individual members had retained some of their old independence of thought and courage of telling the truth as they saw it. Mr. Hollander was one of them. At a luncheon given in his honor he spoke out frankly and critically about some undesirable features of life in Israel which he had observed. Among these he criticized particularly the tendency of sections of the Hebrew press and people to exaggerate the strength and menace of anti-Semitism in the United States, and to picture American Jews as next in the line for a Hitler holocaust.

This has always been one of the tenets of old Zionism. In the pre-Israeli period, Zionist propaganda was based on the theory that anti-Semitism was a universal, unavoidable and incurable sickness of the entire non-Jewish humanity and that in the long run no Jewish community in the world, even the United States, could avoid the fate of German Jewry. According to Hollander, this propaganda is still running strong in Israel, although the paramount need for it has already disappeared with the establishment of the Jewish State. People in Israel are being fed on the old clichés that anti-Semitism in the United States is rising calamitously and that the 5,000,000 American Jews are victims of bias and discrimination, if not of actual persecution. Such cheap and exaggerated propaganda, Mr. Hollander said, did not behoove Israel and he thought that American Jews and Zionists should make a stop to this propaganda campaign and that the people of Israel should be told the truth about Jewish life in America.

It is worth mentioning that Hollander was not the only visitor who came back from Israel with a bad taste in his mouth about this obnoxious feature of Israel. An American Jewish observer and Zionist, Mr. R. Gamzey, editor of Intermountain Jewish News, was the first to mention this in his non-partisan reports of his visit in Israel last April. Another Zionist leader, Mr. Jacques Torczyner in a more recent report stressed the same thing together with the general contemptuous attitude which the native Israelis have towards all Jews outside Israel. But Hollander's criticism was more effective than that of the other observers because he accompanied it with another more fundamental criticism.

This is the prevailing view which exists in certain Zionist circles that to utter any kind of a criticism of Israel at all was comparable to anti-Semitism. He lashed out in his speech against intolerance even more than against the exaggerations of anti-Semitism in the United States. With somewhat of the fervor of the old revolutionist and laborite, he told his listeners that the attitude of the American Zionists on this question reminded him of the Communists. "In Soviet Russia," he said, "when someone dares to criticize the regime, he is called a red baiter. In this country (among some Zionists) anyone who says a word of criticism of Israel is branded an anti-Semite."

These frank remarks have had strange repercussions. Instead of unloosing the usual barrage of attacks

Israel's Economic Hardships

TEL AVIV, Israel—Many of Israel's economic hardships are brought to light through the presence here of a British mission which is negotiating with the Israeli Government on outstanding mutual claims.

Britain's claims are estimated at 30,000,000 pounds (about $120,000,000). It is only natural that Israel wants to clear up these questions as soon as possible, so that it can proceed with trade discussions which may lead to the release of appreciable amounts of sterling balances for the purchase of raw materials and industrial equipment in Britain. The sterling claimed by Israel runs between 10 and 18 million pounds ($40,000,000 to $72,000,000).

In February of this year Israel's imports from Britain amounted to 627,000 Israel pounds ($1,881,000) as compared with 1,500,000 Israel pounds ($4,500,000) for the same period in 1948.

Israel is compelled to import raw materials and industrial equipment, for it is a poor country. It has no coal, no iron and no steel. It has no forests and, therefore, no timber. The industry already established is small. Industrial development of the country faces formidable difficulties and is bound to take quite a number of years.

The first result of that influx of newcomers has expressed itself in soaring prices caused by scarcity of food, housing and various materials. Two hundred thousand new immigrants per year require at least 60,000 new housing units. But only greatly increased production can satisfy a demand like that, and even that would take time.

The cost of living is extremely high. So are wages. But the Government has realized the dangerous implications of the trend of rising prices and has fixed maximum prices and introduced an on the critic, the official Zionist press has taken a surprisingly liberal and tolerant attitude towards Mr. Hollander's demand for the right to criticize. Dr. Samuel Margoshes, the official spokesman for the ZOA, has come out with the rather surprising declaration that he was in general in agreement with Mr. Hollander. "The time has come," he said in his daily English column in the 'Tog', (Aug. 1) "to cease singing just paeans of praise to the new state, giving the impression that everything is rosy and that everyone loves one another. There is no time like the present to start criticizing."

Perhaps, this unexpected burst of liberalism is a result of the fact that Mr. Hollander is a pillar of the American labor movement and is responsible for the flow of many millions of dollars to Israel. On the other hand it is possible that some of the more reasonable Zionists are beginning to realize the change which the establishment of Israel has brought with it; that the blind emotionalism aroused by the emergence of the Jewish State is over, that Jews in America are beginning to look at Israel as they do at any other secular, young, struggling, democratic state which certainly deserves all the sympathy and aid that can be given it, but which is not sacred and above criticism. Such an attitude, in the words of the same Dr. Margoshes, is much healthier than the one held by fanatical nationalistic zealots and clericalists who consider that their state or religion are infallible, and that any criticism of them is comparable to treason.

By WILLIAM ZUCKERMAN

austerity program which includes four meatless days.

But this picture may change in the not too distant future. For, in spite of the difficulties, Israel is resolved to build up an industry which—while not to be compared with that of a highly industrialized country—may help to put the country on a sound footing. It should not be forgotten that already a number of foreign firms are considering the establishment of factories in Israel, and efforts are constantly made to attract foreign capital for industrial investment.

Furthermore, brilliant brains working in the Weizmann Institute of Science are contributing to devising new products which can be made in Israel in order to replace imports—and even to provide new exports. Here is one instance. The Institute developed a plastic hardboard made from reeds, thorny grass and sawdust waste which may to some extent make Israel independent of wood imports.

As things are now, Israel must import more than it can ever export. It will therefore have a constant trade deficit during this year. The gap must be covered by loans and donations from Jews, mainly in America, amounting approximately to $300,000,000.

Israel has concluded a number of trade agreements such as those with Hungary, Holland and Poland. The agreement with Poland is significant, since the volume is about double that of the pacts with Hungary and Holland, and it provides for the import of essential food-stuffs and commodities in the frame of Israel's austerity program.

Poland will supply Israel with rye, fish, poultry, and eggs, with coal, timber, steel, and tin sheets, and with substantial quantities of agricultural equipment and tools.

Israel will pay for those with exports of citrus fruits, some chemical products, leather goods, artificial teeth, plastics, razor blades and edible oil. Should there be a balance, it will be paid in foreign currency.

Anti-Semitism on Rise Again In Germany

MUNICH—Murray D. Van Wagoner, U. S. Military Governor of Bavaria, conceded that anti-Semitic forces in Germany "have begun to crawl again in the gutters."

But his statement came after U. S. occupation officials were blamed by the Munich Jewish Committee for the recent riot in which German police shot three Jews protesting an anti-Semitic letter published in a newspaper here.

The clash came when 3,000 persons gathered before the office of the Sueddeutsche Zeitung to protest the letter and were told to disperse.

The letter, printed with an assumed name, said the writer was employed by the U. S. Military Government. It said the Americans in Germany "forgive us everything except one thing; that we did not gas all of the Jews, for now many are enjoying life in America."

It was signed Adolph Bleibtrau, which means "Adolph Remains True," designating continued loyalty to Hitler.

The Jewish Committee's resolution said the Americans were responsible for the upsurge of "neo-Fascism" in Germany.

Van Wagoner's reply to the letter-writer said: "Your letter should serve as an object lesson to the rest of your countrymen. For by it you have slandered not only the Jews but the German nation."

HOLLYWOOD—The past weeks have marked two important events for Irving Berlin—his 61st birthday and the production of his 19th Broadway show, "Miss Liberty." Berlin's Broadway score-sheet includes "Yip Yip Yaphank" and "This Is the Army," the soldier shows of World War I and II, but does not include dozens of film scores and some 800 popular songs.

Songwriting 40 of his 61 years, the composer doesn't think he has been unusually prolific. This considering that he has fashioned several Music Box Revues for the New York playhouse which he, the late Sam H. Harris and Joseph M. Schenck (now chairman of the board of 20th Century-Fox studio) designed as an "ideal" legitimate house for musicals. Plus his scores for several Ziegfeld Follies and Marx Bros. musicals. Plus such shows as "While Thousands Cheer," "Louisiana Purchase," "Annie Get Your Gun"—and now "Miss Liberty."

Discounting Berlin's usual enthusiasm and intensiveness, for every new project is "the" thing with him, it's apparent that the songsmith-impressario has a special cause in "Miss Liberty." Its theme is the big reason. It tells a purposeful Americanism story laid in the 1880's, without preaching a "message." Of course the fact that Pulitzer prizewinning playwright Robert E. Sherwood fashioned the book gives it special significance. Moss Hart, who is staging, is the show's third co-producer, along with Berlin and Sherwood.

Interesting item from Director Harold Clurman: "The position of many of our present-day stage and screen celebrities—pure geniuses!—is not due any more to their own passion for celebrity but to both our need for hero worship and our loss of the faculty with which to evaluate their work properly. Reviewers, and to a great extent their audience today, no longer see people on the stage or screen in terms of art but in terms of quotes, display ads, box office reports, interviews, syndicated photographs, contracts and deals."

Morning mail item from Harpo Marx: "Gossip has been defined as the art of saying nothing in a way that leaves practically nothing unsaid."

Services at the old synagogue at Howell and Scott Streets will be open to the public as in the past and an eminent cantor has been engaged to officiate. Announcement will be made soon concerning the sale of tickets to the public.

Rabbi Morris G. Silk reports that the Hebrew and Sunday schools at the new synagogue will open this fall. Modern equipment and an efficient teaching staff will combine to make the schools excellent. Parents are urged to register their children early.

A Home at Last for a DP at 78

NEW YORK—Tears spurted to Abraham Lieber's eyes as he sighted the fabled Manhattan skyline in the brassy heat of early morning. Clutching the rail on the Army Transport Gen. Howze, the 78-year-old Polish DP murmured a fervent prayer of thanks. Three German invasions, two revolutions, two pogroms, two world wars and four partitions—were they not enough?

Yes, he had long waited for this moment, he told an interpreter after the ship docked at Pier 60 last week from Bremerhaven. Aboard were 1,356 DPs — the largest number to arrive here since the DP Act of 1948 went into effect. Lieber said he fled to Russia after escaping the slaughter at Warsaw. Later he tried to return—but wound up in a DP camp.

The Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society finally located his sister, Mrs. Sarah Wagner, 80, of The Bronx, and arranged for his passage. Lieber hadn't seen her in 25 years. Other arrivals included a Czech industrial engineer, Roman Spiro, 45; his wife, Irene, and his sister, Martha. Spiro said he and Martha were the only surviving members of their family. About 90 of them, including near and distant relatives, were killed by the Nazis.

Spiro said he and his sister escaped Nazi-occupied Czechoslovakia to Poland but were captured there by the Germans and forced into labor camps. After a series of escapes and recaptures, including a stay in Russia, he lost track of his sister and landed in Buchenwald.

He was later transferred to Auschwitz and, when the Allies overran Germany, finally was reunited with Martha. They'll stay at the United Service for New Americans shelter at Broadway until plans for their resettlement are completed.

Golf Tournament Starts Today

Jot down today's date as one of the more significant in our local sports history—it marks the opening day of the first annual Jewish Open Golf Tournament staged in Rhode Island.

Under the sponsorship of Harry Platt, and with the assistance of Lou Chase, our newest sports feature gets under way today with the qualifying round and a card of 32 golfers competing for three—that's right, three—trophies. Not bad for a start.

Just to look ahead for a moment, even before the playing of this inaugural tourney, plans are already being formulated for next year and a minimum entry list of 64. This is a permanent event, from all present indications, and it seems destined to become one of the annual features of our sports life. But that is a bit ahead of the story.

First Round Tomorrow

All golfers in this tournament have been notified and by tonight all will have posted their qualifying cards with Joe Pezzullo at Louisquisset. Tomorrow morning they will be notified, unless they are at the course early, of their handicaps and their pairings for the day, and then the first round of actual competitive action will begin.

This is a match affair, on a course which has a par of 69, and will be run in two divisions of 16 men each. By tomorrow at dark half will have been eliminated; or, to put it differently, two groups of eight golfers each will go into Sunday's battle. These remaining competitors will be further halved on Sunday; so that by the close of the weekend all that will remain will be four men in each division. (It is, or should be, obvious by now that only one round will be played each day.)

The two groups of semi-finalists will do battle again on the weekend after Labor Day, or earlier—if it suits their collective convenience; and that will leave one final round to be played before the two champions are named and suitably rewarded.

Which brings us to the prizes. Each of the two winners will be awarded a trophy by Harry Platt, and a third trophy, also donated by Harry, will go to the entrant who posts the best score in the qualifying round.

One thing should be borne in mind. No one is eliminated in the qualifying round. This is simply to get things rolling, to classify all the golfers correctly and to enable Platt and Pezzullo to rate them for handicaps. Results and pairings for each succeeding day will be posted on the Louisquisset bulletin board in the morning. And another important note: every golfer must be sure to leave his card, and his phone number, with Pezzullo before he leaves the course. Phone numbers are necessary so that everyone may be properly notified as to his rating on Saturday. Numbers given must be for the place where the contestants may be reached personally in the morning.

For further information, Lou Chase may be reached at DE 1-3684 or ST 1-1819, and Harry Platt at HO 1-7786 or PA 2-3721.

How to Figure Handicaps

For the benefit of those who do not know, here is how the handicaps will be figured. Say you shoot a 97. Remember that this course has a par of 69. Take the difference between the two figures, which in this case is 28. Your handicap is three-quarters of that remainder, or 21. That's all there is to it.

Already, the committee has heard from several would-be contenders for the title to the effect that the tournament is being held at the wrong time because they are tied up this weekend. The committee sincerely expresses its regrets, admits it may have rushed the event, but states in its own defense that the first affair of any series is always the hardest to plan and that it is doing its level best to put over a newly created sports feature without the benefit of previous experience.

On this basis Harry Platt and Lou Chase ask the indulgence of

Report Israel Seeks Arms

LONDON—Israel has approached France, Belgium and The Netherlands with a request that they help her obtain arms, the Yorkshire Post diplomatic correspondent reported. He added that the prospect of the U. N. Security Council lifting its arms ban on the Middle East is responsible.

The Star reported that King Abdullah of Transjordan is scheduled to leave his capital for London next week on a "mission of high international importance." The newspaper added that Transjordan Premier Tewfik Pasha, who is now in Paris, will arrive here earlier.

the golfing community, as well as its support for this and future tourneys.

Football Talk

With the end of the softball season only a matter of a few weeks away, and the weather turning cool, it is time to think about football. Thinking about football makes me shudder slightly as I recall a few of last year's mishappenings, but that, after all, was last year.

The 1948 Jewish Herald Touch Football League was a pretty good one, as far as the caliber of play was concerned; unfortunately, it faces a complete overhaul as far as arrangements and rules are concerned.

That brings up the question: Is there to be a touch football league in 1949? If enough teams or groups of fellows express a desire to play, this column will get to work and try to find a league sponsor and working committee. I'll let the idea sink in for a week or so, however, and leave the final decision, as far as this newspaper is concerned, till after Labor Day.

Many Campaigns Fail to Reach Goals

September.

The reporting cities also included Miami, which concluded its campaign last month after raising $1,090,000; Newark, which completed its drive after raising its quota of about $2,800,000; Philadelphia, which raised $5,700,000 but is still trying to reach a total of $6,000,000; St. Louis, which raised $2,650,000; San Francisco, which secured about $1,500,000; and Toronto, which completed its drive after raising $1,322,000. The report only gives the results of spring campaigns.

Emphasizing that campaign results will this year equal or surpass all previous years, with the exception of the banner year of 1948, the report of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds says: "The current campaigns show that American Jews take their responsibilities seriously. When presented with the challenge for supporting vital and urgent needs, the American Jewish communities can continue to raise tremendous sums of money despite less favorable economic conditions."

As compared with 1948, the Council's report make the following generalizations on the experiences of this year as reported by the communities:

1. Even though the experts are still undecided as to whether the country is now in a "recession," "depression," or "mere levelling-off process," there still exists a fear of the economic future which cut sharply into big giving for campaigns. Decreased contributions this year from some big givers foreshadows the problems to be faced in the 1950 campaign.

2. There were "manpower" difficulties—lack of workers and less intense coverage of prospects. The climate of lessened interest in the campaign applied to workers as well as givers, indicating that the impetus of startling headlines, so effective last year was missing in the current effort. "The emotional appeal was considerably weaker," many communities reported.

3. Some campaigns were hit hard by poor collection records of the previous year's pledges; givers who had outstanding balances on 1948 pledges were less favorable prospective givers.

4. Independent capital funds campaigns, in some instances, were harmful to the welfare fund campaign since the timing was bad—large fund-raising came directly before or after the central campaign.

5. The internal conflicts in national agencies, preceding the setting of the national U. J. A. campaign, affected the local efforts to some extent.

Siberia Rumor News to Israel

TEL AVIV—An official spokesman said this week the Israel Foreign Office has no information which would substantiate reports that some European Jews registered for emigration to Israel are being sent to Siberia instead. There have been unconfirmed reports, printed in Tel Aviv newspapers, that persons seeking to migrate from Romania to Israel have been deported to Siberia. Immigration from Romania to Israel is continuing. Only this week 307 immigrants and five tourists arrived in Haifa from Romania aboard the steamship Transylvania.

YAD to Have Dinner-Dance for Initial Gifts

Opening the fall social season will be a unique dinner-dance sponsored by the Young Adult Division of the General Jewish Committee. To be held at the newly-decorated Ledgemont Country Club, the affair will be on the style of a gay night club, featuring Broadway stars and top-flight acts of the New England circuit. Designed as the Initial Gifts Function for the 1949-50 United Jewish Appeal drive, the dinner-dance is a strict departure from past dinners. The chairmen of the event have been in correspondence with talent agents in New York, Hollywood and Boston, lining up the entertainment. An eight-piece orchestra will play for dancing. Final plans are still being made, and according to the co-chairmen of the event, Leonard Chaset, Ronald Sopkin and Harold Ratush, there are many more surprises and plans in store. They advise the young adults to "get your partners and baby-sitters well in advance."

Sydney Hoffman Gets Service Award

Sidney J. Hoffman, president of the St. Vincent Assembly, was honored with a Service Award of the Fraternal Order of Eagles at the opening of the 34th annual carnival Monday night at the Regent Avenue institution. The award, the first ever granted by the Providence Aerie of the order, was in recognition of "contributions to the welfare of our community" and represented "a milestone on the pathway to continuing civic service."

Mayor Dennis J. Roberts, a member of the Providence Aerie, made the presentation on behalf of Carl F. Reid, president, and Joseph A. Bellivece, secretary, whose names appear on the certificate. The mayor hailed the carnival for the benefit of the St. Vincent de Paul Infants Home as "an example of democracy at work". The assembly, which includes Protestant and Jewish members as well as Catholic, follows the American tradition "of working for your fellow man and helping helpless infants," he pointed out.

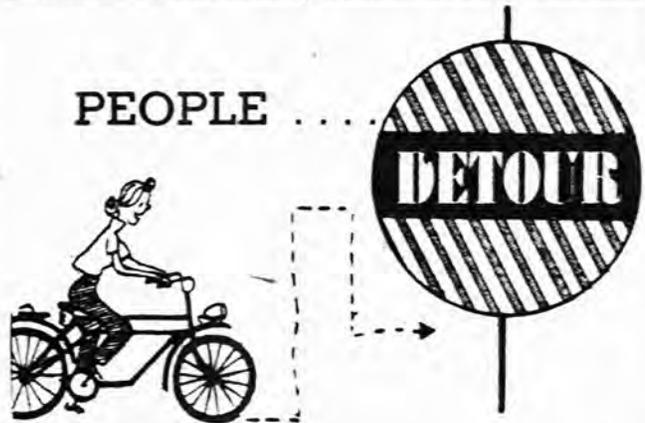

Mr. Hoffman introduced Mayor Roberts, Martin F. Noonan, superintendent of parks; Harry A. Mincoff, "mayor of Pie Alley"; William San Antonio of the Assembly; D. Thomas Testa of the racing commission; Arthur Sullivan, war assess administrator; Dr. William Sullivan, manager of the nearby Veterans' Hospital; George Greenhalgh of the racing commission, and Louis Wright, publicity chairman. The Rev. Peter Hanley, pastor of the Blessed Sacrament Church, and Dr. James A. O'Leary, entertainment chairman, spoke.

In the contest for boys, Richard Yosinoff was victor and Stephen Salk runner up.

Frisch Negotiations A Partial Failure

NEW YORK—Daniel Frisch, the new president of the Zionist Organization of America, has met with partial failure in his Israel mission. Mr. Frisch offered the Israel government to build a ZOA sponsored hospital for veterans. The government has rejected the offer on the grounds that it is the duty of the Israeli government to build such a hospital, not that of an organization from abroad which would have to conduct a campaign for the wounded Jewish veterans.

Mr. Frisch also has met with a refusal from the government of a charter for special projects for the ZOA in Israel. The government based its refusal on the grounds that if such a charter was granted to the ZOA, it would have to be granted to other parties and organizations, and this will lead to an even greater chaos in fund-raising than already exists.

All Jews in 2 Towns Leave for Israel

Istanbul—The two southeastern Turkish towns of Marash and Diarbakir were reported this week as being completely without Jews following the departure of 300 Jews from there for Israel. Almost all the small Jewish communities of that area are reported as having been completely liquidated. These Jewish communities, which were considered the most ancient in Turkey, were completely isolated from the world and from Turkish Jewry. They had no link with Judaism other than religion and Hebrew traditions, which differ from those of the Sephardic Jews living in the country.

You'll enjoy listening to "The Jewish Herald Radio Hour" every Sunday over WHIM. It's new—and different—tune in at 6:30.

Jewish Groups Favor Federal School Aid

NEW YORK—Major national Jewish organizations and twenty-seven Jewish Community Councils throughout the country this week urged federal aid to public education, but expressed opposition to the use of federal funds for support of schools under religious control. A letter to this effect was addressed to the Congressional Education Committee by the National Community Relations Advisory Council, the coordinating body of the Jewish groups.

Expressing the hope that federal funds would be granted only to "public school systems in which the schools are open equally to all children regardless of race," the letter urged preservation of "the priceless American tradition of separation of church and state." It was signed on behalf of the American Jewish Committee, American Jewish Congress, Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, Jewish Labor Committee, Jewish War Veterans of the U. S., National Council of Jewish Women, as well as local community groups.

"We are opposed to government aid to schools under the supervision or control of any religious denomination or sect, whether Jewish, Protestant, or Catholic. We are not opposed to the use of any school for the provision of lunches, medical and dental services to children," the letter emphasized.

Explaining why they favor federal aid to public education, the Jewish organizations pointed out: "We believe that an educated citizenry is the best assurance of the continued strength and growth of our democratic form of government. We believe that, as we are 'one nation, indivisible,' we cannot continue to permit differences in the economic conditions of our several states to perpetuate and deepen differences in the quality of education available to our children. We believe that a decent education is a fundamental right of every child in our nation, possible for the states with limited resources to provide their children with an education that meets at least the minimal needs of a democratic society. We therefore favor assistance by the federal government to the states for the support of public education."

Jori Fund Gives 21 Scholarships for College

The Jori Scholarship Fund has awarded 21 scholarships for the next college term, it was announced this week by Benjamin Brier, chairman of the Jori Scholarship Fund Committee, which is sponsored by the Jewish Children's Home and Foundation of Rhode Island. Seven of the 21 scholarships are second time grants for students who were helped with their higher education last year and whose grades were sufficiently high to warrant continuation of the scholarship award. Five of the scholarships granted this year were for young women, and the rest for men students. In the second year of its existence, the Jori Scholarship Fund has shown tremendous growth as evidenced by the great number of applications for scholarship aid that were received. Last year grants were made to 10 applicants, and this year grants were made to more than double that number.

In accordance with the policy of the Jori Scholarship Fund, the names of the Scholarship recipients are not publicized. However, these 21 students are distributed among 11 colleges as follows: 8 at Brown University, 3 at Pembroke College, 2 at Harvard University, and 1 each at the following schools of higher education: R. I. College of Education, R. I. School of Design, R. I. College of Pharmacy, R. I. State College, Temple University, Columbia University, University of Michigan, and University of Chicago. The Jori Scholarships are awarded annually to worthy Jewish students who require financial assistance in order to continue their education beyond high school.

In making the report to the board of directors of the Jewish Children's Home and Foundation, Mr. Brier stated, "The thing that impressed the members of the Committee most was the fact that without the financial aid rendered, most, if not all, of these applicants would have been unable to attend college. The importance of this project was even further emphasized when we discovered that every one of the applicants had maintained outstanding scholastic records throughout high school, and were doing exceptionally well in college. It was not unusual to find a practically straight A scholastic record throughout the 4 years at high school."

Serving with Mr. Brier on the Jori Scholarship Committee are: Dr. Archie A. Albert, Irving I. Fain, Jacob S. Temkin, Alexander Rumpfer, Merrill Hassenfeld, treasurer, and Louis Kramer, secretary. Each student was interviewed by the full committee assisted this year by Mrs. Lionel Albert, president of the Council of Jewish Women, and Mrs. Walter Adler, chairman of the Council Scholarship Committee. The Council of Jewish Women have contributed $1000 toward the Jori Scholarship Fund to be used specifically for higher education of female students.

Mr. Brier indicated that there is every reason to believe that there will be even more applications for scholarships next year.

He urged those people who are interested to send in contributions to him in order to make the work of the Jori Scholarship Fund possible. Requests by students for the scholarship application forms should be directed to Louis Kramer, secretary, 235 Baker Street, Providence.

The newspaper reports that there are 500 miners and several thousand other Jewish technicians. The newspaper reported that many Jewish miners had increased their output to double the standards set by the mine management and that a group of Jewish farmers in the same vicinity had exceeded normal production by 25 percent. The Jews were also praised for their brotherly attitude toward the Poles and for their cooperation.
