R. I. Refugee Service Gives Mrs. Esther Pritsker Vote of Confidence

Editor
Jewish Herald

The open letter of Dr. William Vindsberg in the Jewish Herald of October 19th has been noted and discussed in full at a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Rhode Island Refugee Service, Inc. on Sunday, October 21st.

It is the feeling of the Board that the attack on its Executive Secretary, Mrs. Esther Pritsker is unwarranted.

The Board feels that Dr. Vindsberg's letter contains many misinterpretations but that no useful purpose would be served by engaging in a controversy with the doctor.

The Board, further, goes on record unanimously, in giving a whole hearted vote of confidence in Mrs. Pritsker and in the manner in which she has served as Executive Secretary of the Rhode Island Refugee Service, Inc.

Says Forrestal Voiced 'Deep Remorse' Over Anti-Zion Stand

NEW YORK CITY (AJP) — James Forrestal voiced "deep remorse" over his anti-Israel stand before his death and it is tragic that he never corrected the written record" in the Diary published last week, a leading New York daily asserted this week.

The N. Y. Post said editorially that publication of Forrestal's memoirs on the Palestine crisis "does almost as grave an injustice to Forrestal as it does to the targets of his angry words."

According to the diary, excerpts of which have been carried by the New York Herald-Tribune, Forrestal's "basic position in those desperate days of Israel's fight for survival was that the United States had more to gain by appeasing Arab aggressors than by befriending the embattled Israelis. He seemingly felt that anyone who disagreed with him was either an 'emotionalist' or a cynical politician seeking Jewish votes and contributions."

That view was also reported in a Time magazine version and the widespread publication created considerable concern in Zionist circles here.

"But there is a sequel to the story that belongs on the record," the Post said. "The fact is that in numerous private conversations before his death Forrestal voiced deep remorse over the stand he had taken. It had been based on a huge miscalculation of military (as well as moral) intelligence: the 'certainty' that Israel could not successfully resist Arab attack and that by providing justice for Israel, we would merely lose strategic Arab support without winning anything."

The editorial was in sharp contrast to a column in the same paper a day earlier by Max Lerner who asserted that Forrestal's papers gave a "distorted view of a living people who will have to bear the hatreds of millions of bigots which his pages are bound to strengthen."

Lerner charged that "Forrestal covered his militarist and anti-Jewish position with high-flown language."

The columnist said that Forrestal's explanation that he was trying to lift the Palestine issue from politics and put it on the high level of "national security" was an effort to label those who differed with him as "low-minded politicians."

Large Crowd Expected At GJC Initial Gift Event

Delegates to Fight MacIver Report

BOSTON (AJP) — The Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith submitted the MacIver Report to conference discussion last week for the first time since it launched its fight on the NCRAC-sponsored study and the delegates voted to carry the battle to their local communities.

More than 100 ADL chairmen and B'nai B'rith lodge and chapter presidents, meeting at a two-day Leadership Training Conference, heard an extended analysis of the report.

The delegates deplored "premature and hasty release of segments of the report to the public and press," and agreed to make their communities aware of "those recommendations potentially dangerous to the health and welfare of the total Jewish community."

The delegates also agreed to send their statement of policy on the report to constituent units in six New England states.

It was reported that the B'nai B'rith and the ADL nationally will determine a final policy on the MacIver Report at an ADL National Commission meeting in Atlantic City, Oct. 22-23.

Schwartz To Be Guest Speaker

Because of the larger seating capacity of the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel ballroom, late reservations for the Initial Gifts dinner-meeting on Sunday, Oct. 28 may be made by phoning or visiting General Jewish Committee headquarters at 203 Strand Building, Washington St. (GASpee 1-4111).

In previous years, the Initial Gifts affair—marking the formal "kick-off" of the Men's Division's annual drive in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal—has been held in an outdoor tent at Ledge-mont Country Club.

Weather hazards and constantly increasing attendance resulted in a decision by GJC leaders this year to stage the event at the spacious hotel ballroom in mid-town Providence.

Alvin A. Sopkin, GJC president, noted that reservations for Sunday's dinner-meeting have been flowing into GJC headquarters in impressive numbers and warned guests not to delay making their reservations.

Gov. Dennis J. Roberts will bring the greetings of the State of Rhode Island to Dr. Joseph J. Schwartz, executive vice-chairman of the national United Jewish Appeal, who will be guest of honor.

In addition to Dr. Schwartz's "behind-the-scenes" account of current developments of grave concern to the future welfare of Israel, brief remarks will be made by Sopkin, Henry Hassenfeld, initial gifts chairman, Archibald Silverman, GJC honorary president, and Joseph W. Ress, campaign chairman.

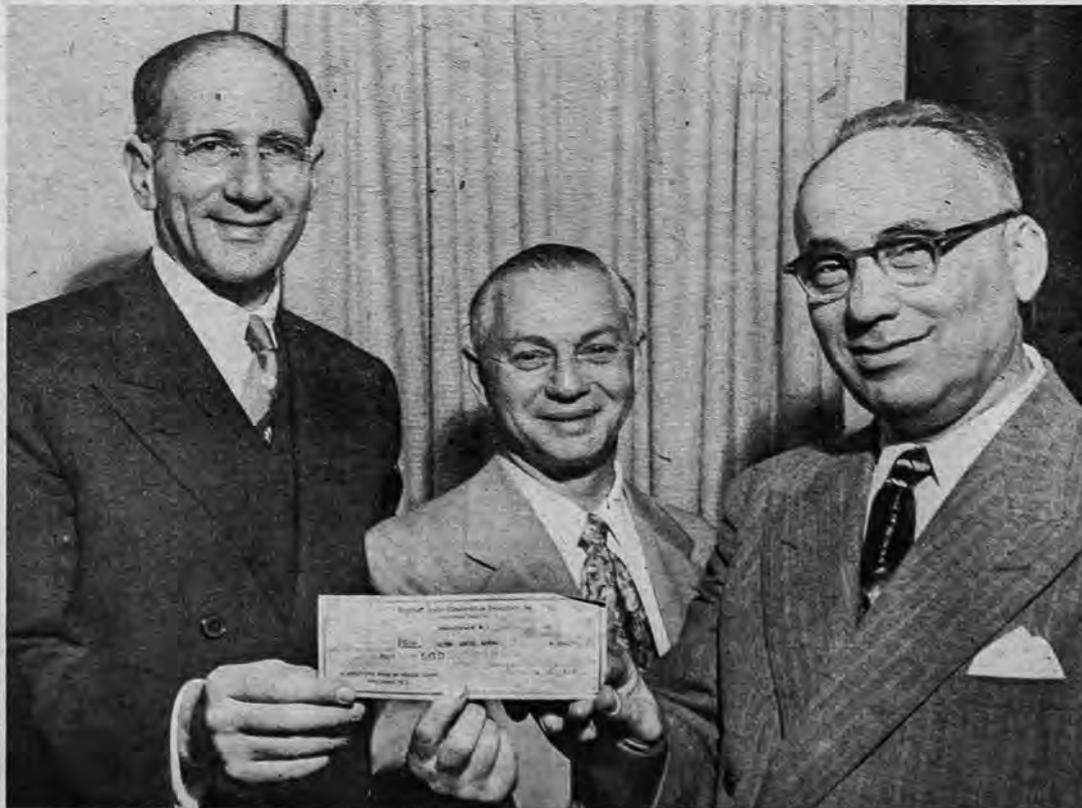

Schwartz's presence here Sunday evening has sparked considerable interest in the meeting that will—in large measure—determine the extent of financial aid by the greater Providence community to Israel and more than 60 local, national and overseas agencies that will share in the proceeds of the GJC's 1951 fund-raising drive.

Following 12 years as head of European relief and rehabilitation activities for the Joint Distribution Committee, Dr. Schwartz, in December, 1950, assumed executive responsibility for the UJA's 1951 $203,684,577 campaign for support of its programs in all parts of the world.

Upon being named to his new post, he was hailed as administrator of "the most efficient and inspiring social welfare program in the world"—in recognition of

GJC Reply to Emergency Plea of United Jewish Appeal

William Rosenwald, national chairman of the United Jewish Appeal, accepts a check for $100,000 from Alvin A. Sopkin, GJC president, and Henry Hassenfeld, chairman of the Initial Gifts affair to be held Sunday evening at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel. The check was presented at a meeting last week at Hassenfeld's home. This advance payment was arranged when the GJC's board of directors voted to take a loan from local banks in response to an urgent UJA plea for immediate cash.

Holiday in Herzlia

(Mrs. Archibald Silverman recently attended ceremonies at the opening of a new synagogue in a village in Israel. Her description of the affair is contained in the following letter as sent to the Herald. Mrs. Silverman is chairman of the Israel Synagogue-Center Building Fund. Ed.)

On Monday, Sept. 3 1951, Herzlia G ("G" for Gimmel) celebrated a double event—its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary and the opening of Beth-Joel, the new Synagogue on the main road, Tel Aviv, Nathanya, Haifa.

To begin with Herzlia (named after Herzl) was founded in 1926 by American Jews, who, having bought land from the American Zion Commonwealth, decided to come with their families to settle on the land.

Naturally, these early colonists immediately built a primitive little Synagogue on a steep hill overlooking the vast Sharon Valley on the one side, with a wide-swept view of the nearby Mediterranean on the other. Here, in this unpretentious and most inadequate House of God the colonists held their religious services for a quarter of a century.

Just two years ago, as organizer and chairman of the Israel Synagogue-Center Building Fund, I had the joy of laying the cornerstone for a wonderful and really lovely little Synagogue, one large enough to meet the requirements of this steadily growing community.

So, on this never-to-be-forgotten day in the history of Herzlia, Sept. 3, 1951 people came by the hundreds from far and near to celebrate a double holiday.

The streets leading from the about-to-be vacated hill-side building down to the new Synagogue were decorated with flags.

Crowds waited at the foot of the hill to escort Chief Rabbi Herzog and Minister of Religions, Rabbi Maimon, who came all the way from Jerusalem—a two hours' drive. Then in the overflowing little Synagogue, the "Minchah" Service was recited, and "El Maleh Rachamin" was chanted in memory of the Founders of the Synagogue, and finally, as the "Sifrai Torah" were taken from the simple Ark for the last time, the Hallelujah was sung.

Then, with each of the Rabbis carrying a Sefer Torah they led the procession under the "Chupah" that sheltered the Torahs all the way to the new edifice.

How can anyone attempt to describe this truly unusual parade? Where, other than in our own Israel, could such a spectacle be viewed? People came from Herzlia "Daled" (D) with the Torah from their Synagogue; others, also with a Torah, came from another nearby newer settlement Sidni Alli (formerly an Arab stronghold). These Torahs escorted the Torah in transit—all following after the precious Scrolls of the law covered by the "Chupah."

An orchestra and the Cantor provided the music in which everyone joined. Stops were made to give the "Mitzvah" of carrying the Torah to another and another.

And, as the exchange was made there on the public highway, the Torah-bearers danced to the accompaniment of the singing and the clapping of hands of the multitude.

There was a brief halt at the small Memorial Park in back of the new House of Worship, where a monument marks the spot where seven valiant Herzlia boys have been laid to rest. The "El Maleh Rachamin" was chanted as we paid tribute to these heroes who fell in defense of the Land of Israel.

We then entered the beautifully decorated courtyard of the new and really impressive Synagogue. Mine was the "Mitzvah" of cutting the ribbon that barred the way to the steps. Then, with the music playing, the Cantor leading in the singing, the people dancing for joy, the doors of the new building were thrown open, and the Torah-bearers entered the Holy Edifice.

Chief Rabbi Herzog blessed the Torahs, the House of God, and the people who stood within and without the building. Rabbi Maimon, (who, too, had brought a Sefer Torah from Jerusalem as a gift donated in my name) followed with his benediction. Others spoke, among them my humble self, as the one who had the "Schut" (privilege) of helping to build still another House of God, in God's Land, Israel. (This is the ninth community that has been helped by the Ida Silverman Synagogue-Center Building Fund—the tenth, in Rabbi Israel Goldstein's Children's Village in Jerusalem, with funds donated by Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Stone, was ready for Rosh Hashanah.)

(You probably heard of the funds contributed by our community toward the building of a synagogue in Israel in honor of the Golden Wedding of Mr. Silverman and myself. That synagogue is in the process of construction and is situated at the entrance to Jerusalem on the road from Tel Aviv.)

Thus, on an ordinary hot Monday afternoon, a community was lifted from the commonplace to the sublime, when it proclaimed, as their fore-fathers have done throughout the ages, the following basic principles which have kept the Jews alive throughout the centuries:

"Man does not live by bread alone!"

"Eretz Israel without Torah is like a body without a soul!"

"He who buildeth without God, buildeth in vain!"

"Blessed be His Holy Name. Amen!"

Center Parents Hold Cake Sale

The Parents Association of the Jewish Community Center will hold its first Cake Sale on Tuesday, Oct. 30 on the third floor in Shepards. All pastries will be home-made and donated by its members.

Anyone who wishes to bake for the project may call Mrs. I. Wolf, chairman, PL 1-1703, or Mrs. Seymour Torgan, telephone chairman, DE 1-1768. All contributions will be picked up by the members of the pick-up squads, which are headed by Mesdames C. Powsner, South Providence; H. Goldstein, East Side, and W. Goldstein, North End.

MRS. GOLD HONORED

Mrs. Joseph Gold, president of the Sisterhood P.T.A. Sons of Abraham, was presented a corsage, a cake, and a purse of silver by the Sisterhood and members of the board, on Oct. 19 in honor of her 25th wedding anniversary. Refreshments and a social hour followed the business meeting.

Day School Ladies Observe Succoth

Miss Pearl Smith, membership chairman, explained the working of the membership campaign, and stressed the need for parents' cooperation at a Succoth meeting of the Ladies Association of the Providence Hebrew Day School, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 18, in the school Succah.

First grade children, under the direction of Mrs. Kramer, sang several Hebrew holiday songs. Rabbi Reiss, the upper grade Hebrew teacher, related the story and significance of Succoth. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Brodsky, president, announced that the next meeting will be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 7, in the form of a complimentary bridge. Admission will be by a donation to the kitchen in the form of food or equipment.

CRANSTON COMMUNITY BOWLING

By Philip Chopak

The top six teams are separated by a scant two game margin. The Cubs and Cards are deadlocked for first; the Giants, second, trail by a single game. The Dodgers, Pirates and Senators are all knotted up at third position; the Athletics, Tigers and Yankees follow in that order down the line, each separated by a single game margin. The Red Sox, Phils and Indians are in another three-way tie for seventh, with the White Sox eighth, while the Braves occupy the cellar post.

Ed Feinberg led the high single scores with 144, Moe Kessler garnered 135, Joe Agar 131, Hub Woolf 127, Ben Lerner and Moe Filler each 125, Charlie Strauss 122, Stan Manne and Ben Mellion 118, Moe Cofman 117, Hal Aven 115, Bill Deitch 114, Lou Gladstone and Al Samdperil 111, Sid Levye and Seymour Kriss 110, Aaron Davis, Art Seigel, Wallie Schwartz, Moe Bernstein and Max Levy 109, Nate Honig 108 and Ben Wexler 107.

Kessler combined strings of 135, 122, and 112 for the night's high three, 369. Feinberg was close behind with 363. Filler 348, Agar 338, Deitch 334, Hub Woolf 332, Aven 329, Lerner 327, and Mellion

Two Trades and Industry Affairs Are Scheduled for Next Week

Jeanne Daman, famed Catholic heroine of the Belgian underground during World War II, will be the featured speaker at two combined Trades and Industry dinner meetings next week.

The meetings — respectively scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 31 and Thursday, Nov. 1 at the Narragansett Hotel — actually embrace eight separate trade divisions in the General Jewish Committee's over-all Men's Division. They mark the first pair in a series of similar affairs slated to follow in rapid succession, as the Men's Division campaign in behalf of the UJA reaches an unprecedented level of activity.

In the Spring of last year, Miss Daman safely shepherded 63 North African Jewish children from Marseilles to Israel. After seven weeks in Israel, she traveled throughout the Moslem nations of the Middle East in order personally to explore Arab attitudes toward the new Jewish homeland.

The following divisions and their respective chairmen will meet Wednesday evening, Oct. 31: Women's Wear—chairman, Simon S. Lessler, co-chairman, Joel Jacobson; Men's Wear—chairman, Al Saltzman, co-chairman, Albert Taber; Textiles — co-chairmen, Nathan Samors and Bernard Goodman; Shoes—chairman, Barney Kay; Leather—chairman, Sol Koffler, co-chairman, Harry Myers. On the following evening, the

JEANNE DAMAN

Drug, Liquor and Food divisions will join forces, headed by Max Brodsky, chairman, Drugs; Aaron Bilgor, chairman, and Louis Nass, co-chairman, Liquor; Jay Isenberg, chairman, Charles Temkin, co-chairman, and Harry Fowler, Abraham Press, Edmund Korb, Benjamin J. Pulner and Jack Shore, assistant chairmen of the Food unit.

Both the Oct. 31 and Nov. 1 affairs will begin promptly at 6 P. M.

Avon Manager Gets Promotion

Charles R. Darby, who has been manager of the Avon Cinema for six years, was appointed a district manager last week for Lockwood and Gordon, Boston theater concern, which operates 23 regular movie houses and seven drive-ins in New England, including the Avon and Hope in this city.

Until his successor is appointed, Mr. Darby will continue to manage the Avon but will also take over supervision of the Hope, the Braintree Theater in Braintree, Mass., the Cameo in South Weymouth and the Satuit Playhouse in Scituate, Mass.

Darby has been 11 years with the Lockwood and Gordon organization, first as assistant manager of the Avon when Robert Grossman was manager. Six months later he was made manager of the Cameo and also supervised the theater in Braintree. From there he went into the Navy. After three years' service, he returned to the Avon as manager.

A native of Boston, Darby was educated in Everett High School and took a pre-medical course at Boston College. His first theater job, previous to joining Lockwood and Gordon, was at the Paramount in Boston.

Brandeis Women Meeting Today

The Brandeis Women's Committee meeting today will feature a skit entitled "Echoes from the Castle," based on the annual conference of the National Women's Committee held last June. Today's gathering will be a combined board and membership committee luncheonette, at the Wayland Manor.

The cast of the play includes Mesdames Seebert J. Goldowsky, Benjamin Rossman, A. Budner Lewis, Arthur Kaplan, Arthur Levy, Frederick S. Schwartz, Arthur Einstein, Bertram L. Bernhardt and John Sapinsley. Mrs. Charles Reitman is director.

SISTERHOOD PARTY

Mrs. Jack Hollander will head the committee for the Bridge and Mah Jong sponsored by the Sisterhood P.T.A. Sons of Abraham to be held Dec. 5 in the vestry of the Sons of Abraham Synagogue. Mrs. M. J. Posner is co-chairman,

Hadassah Membership 'H-Day' Nov. 6

MRS. MORRIS H. PRITSKER

The Providence Chapter of Hadassah will conduct its membership drive this year in the form of a one-day campaign to be known as "H-Day", Mrs. Irwin N. Silverman, president, announced this week. The event will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Workers will assemble on that day at 9:15 A. M. at one of the following homes: Mrs. Samuel Michaelson, 21 Cole Farm Court, Mrs. Walter Rutman, 1004 Hope Street; Mrs. Alice Chusmir, 314 Olney Street; Mrs. Irving Kovitch, 41 Verndale Avenue; Mrs. Al Rosen, 41 Pembroke Avenue. The workers will be briefed and given cards assigning them to particular sections of the city. They will then be driven to their respective sections to make their solicitations. The women will report back to their original starting points when their work is completed.

To Sing in Opera

JANET-LEE LIPSON

Miss Janet-Lee Lipson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lipson of 57 Wilcox Avenue, Pawtucket, will make her professional debut tomorrow evening when she sings the role of Lola in the R. I. Opera Guild's production of "Cavalleria Rusticana" at Veterans Memorial Auditorium.

Miss Lipson, a lyric soprano, was graduated last June from Boston Conservatory of Music, where she was awarded the Whitney Medal for outstanding performance. She is a protegee of Maestro Danilo Sciotti, conductor of the R. I. Opera Guild, which is presenting tomorrow's performance.

A veteran of several leading roles at the Boston Conservatory (she also sang the leading role in the M. I. T. Show of 1951 last March), Miss Lipson is continuing her studies in Boston in piano, voice and ballet in preparation for her appearance as Susanna in "The Marriage of Figaro" in February and as Violetta in "La Traviata" in April at Boston Conservatory Auditorium.

She will be appearing for the first time in Providence tomorrow evening.

101, Ben Swerling 102, Varga 101 and Joe Solinger 108. Solinger leads in the averages with 95. Team 2 took two out of three from Team 4 to lead the league with 750.

Bar Mitzvah

Zionists "Regret" Israel Coalition

NEW YORK CITY (AJP)—The Zionist world regards the new coalition government of Israel with "general and profound regret," Dr. Emanuel Neumann, a former president of the Zionist Organization of America, said last week.

Speaking at a reception for him, Doctor Neumann, who was elected a member of the Jewish Agency executive at the 23rd World Zionist Congress, said it would be "idle to deny that the 'narrow coalition' which has now emerged, has occasioned both astonishment and concern in the Zionist World."

"We share the general and profound regret over the failure to form a broader coalition, including the General Zionists, one holding the prospect of political and economic stability," he said. Doctor Neumann stated at the outset of his address that he spoke not officially in his capacity as a member of the Jewish Agency Executive, but "to my constituents in my personal capacity."

An opposite opinion on the new Israel coalition came from Dr. Pinkhos Curgin, president of the Mizrahi Organization of America. He declared that the new coalition not only would "usher in a period of stability and harmony in the Jewish State but that it would also furnish the basis for the emergence of a wider national coalition, on the need for which we agreed with Dr. Neumann."

The ZOA leader criticized the Zionist Congress for "an excess of partisanship" which he blamed for the exclusion of the Herut-Revisionists from the World Zionist Executive "and it is tragic that the foremost Zionist personality of the Diaspora, Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, was not drawn into a position of leadership, to the detriment of Israel and the movement."

Name Committee for Emanuel Lectures

Members of the general committee arranging the 1951 Institute of Jewish Studies for Adults of Temple Emanuel were named this week by Mrs. Alfred Fain, general chairman.

They are Mrs. Harry Albert, Mrs. Abraham Bauman, Mrs. Herman Bernstein, Mrs. Charles Blackman, Mrs. Edward Blackman, Mrs. Abraham Blackman, Mrs. Bertram Brown, Mrs. Joseph L. Coplan, Mrs. Martin Curran, Mrs. Israel L. Edelstein, Mrs. Charles L. MRS. SAMUEL H. KOUFFMAN
Mrs. Kouffman, who became a bride Oct. 14, was formerly Miss Sarah Neiman of Long Island.

Softball Banquet Next Tuesday

The Jewish Softball League will stage its annual banquet next Tuesday evening at Lindsey Tavern, 609 Smithfield Avenue. The affair will start at 7:30 P. M. Arrangements are being made to have an outstanding local sports personality as guest speaker. Presentation of an award to Waldorf Tuxedo Company, league champions, will highlight the affair.

Players who plan to attend are requested to notify their team managers of their intentions, in order that proper seating arrangements may be made.

AUXILIARY'S FALL FROLIC

Proceeds of the annual Fall Frolic of Fineman-Trinkel Auxiliary, JWV will go to patients in the tuberculosis ward at Veterans Hospital, Davis Park, Mrs. Doris Sher, chairman, announced this week. The Fall Frolic will be held Sunday evening at Loggia Roma Hall, Memorial Road, Pawtucket.

BOWLING

CRANSTON PLAIDS BOWLING

by Elayne Chopak

Regular teams having been set up, the Plaids are now underway in serious competition. Captains chosen for this year are Barbara Berman, Gloria Cohen, Isabel David, Bertha Davis, Gladys Filler, Melba Kaplan, Sally Levy, Kathleen Miller, Sylvia Sackett, Frances Sadler, Jeanette Silverstein and Eleanor Weinberg.

Top bowler for this week was Jeanette Broomfield with 108. Next came Fran Sadler and Cookie Schwartz with 103 each, Norma Baker 100, Barbara Berman and Bev Sugarman 99, Sybil Levinson and Ruth Winkler 97, Sally Levy and Frances Rodinsky 96, and Sippy Kessler 95. Fran Sadler also took top honors for high three by bowling 289.

FRATERNAL BOWLING

by Ben Medwin

There was a highly satisfying note in the proceedings as Providence Fraternal opened its 20th consecutive season of bowling.

New Hillel Officers At Bryant College

The Hillel Counselorship of Bryant College this week announced the following slate of officers elected for the coming year: Gerry Chernoff, president; Kenny D. Kopleman, vice-president; Betty-Ann Bernstein, secretary, and Freddy Friedman, treasurer.

The election meeting was followed by an inter-faith dance in the Bryant gymnasium with the Newman Club, Canterbury Club and Bryant Christian Association religious organizations.

Frank Paull, who has been manager of the league during these 20 years, was high man for the night, with strings of 104, 116 and 106 adding up to 326.

Our organization is the oldest Jewish bowling group in this state, and more than half the original members are still rolling them down the alleys every week. Paull has been the driving force, year in and year out—in fact, we never have had another manager.

Perler was second high man last week with 323, followed by Chaiken 315, Kitzes 310, H. Wagner 307, G. Labush and B. Labush 305, Seltzer 302 and Lazarus 300. High singles were Kitzes 120, Lisker 111, Glantz and Sol Sklaroff 100, Rose and Kopleman 108, Pedliken 108, Sam Sklaroff and Strumfeld 106 and Brown 105.

EMANUEL BOWLING

by Sid Green

Our team personnel changed a bit, but it didn't make any difference to the league leading Cards who stayed on top with a 3-1 victory over Waldman's Indians. In addition to taking four points from the Red Sox, George Miller's Dodgers also took team total with 1550, while Lou Chase took individual high-three with 358. Howie Cohen continued his fine bowling with 351 and Leo Nussenfeld rolled 353.

Buddy "Wild Man" Gerber was high man for a single string with 138, and other good single strings included H. Cohen 132, Babe Chase 128, Sherm Price and Al Chase 125 and Leo Nussenfeld 134.

R. I. J. F. A. BOWLING

Aaron Seigal rolled high three of 332 and high single of 133, and now leads the league in both these departments. Other high scores were Al Roth 102, Kotlen 103 and

Meeting the Crisis

Every member of this community must take note of the emergency facing the United Jewish Appeal in Israel. We dare not shut our eyes to the facts highlighted in William Rosenwald's factual and dramatic message to the leadership of the General Jewish Committee last Tuesday night.

It is to the everlasting credit of the Committee officials that they acted promptly on the UJA plea and borrowed $100,000 to help ease a grave situation that imperils the welfare of hundreds of thousands of our people.

This loan was made without hesitation because the banks respect the credit of our Jewish community and know that we shall meet our obligation. Moreover, they have a clear and sympathetic understanding of the heavy philanthropic responsibilities which we shoulder.

To maintain our enviable reputation for integrity, it is incumbent upon all of us to do our utmost to insure success of the General Jewish Committee campaign.

Workers and givers alike must rededicate themselves anew to completing the job that means so much to Jewry overseas, in Israel and at home.

Family, Children's Service Asks Support of Red Feather Campaign

The Board of the Jewish Family and Children's Service has asked for support of the Red Feather Campaign of the Providence Community Fund since the agency is entirely dependent on the Fund for its operating budget. The 1952 budget, as submitted, totals $31,059.13 as contrasted to the 1951 budget of $28,417.24.

For the first time since its inception, the Jewish Family and Children's Service plans to take on as a part time staff member a consulting psychiatrist who will meet regularly with the case workers to evaluate their work and to serve in an instructing capacity in the application of mental hygiene principles. Carrying a sustained case load of 180 families, many of whom are seen weekly for office interviews, counseling is given both to children and their parents with matters that are charged with emotional difficulties. Case work service is given with the idea of helping individuals to overcome difficulties so that they can become better adjusted both with their own family and with the community at large. Countrywide, many family agencies have taken on analytically oriented psychiatrists to train case workers.

The Jewish Family and Children's Service has a staff of three professionally trained case workers and an Executive Director, all of whom have received their master's degree from schools of social work attached to leading universities.

There is also a student training program being conducted in conjunction with the Boston University School of Social Work.

Many individuals who formerly were fearful of being stigmatized by asking for personal help from the agency now realize that this fear is ungrounded. At one time because of lack of legislation, the agency did extensive relief work but that has now become a relatively minor phase of activity. Emphasis is now placed on personnel counselling for clients so as to help free them of difficulties which may be interfering with their normal way of living. This type of approach is aimed at preventing breakdowns which may result in family separations or emotional disorders. The effects of good case work service can readily be understood, for example, if children are referred early with their behavior problems. In that way through an intensive relationship at the agency, they may be able to come out unharmed and take their rightful place in the community.

All Jewish residents of the state are eligible for service at the agency. Individuals are seen by appointment only. In addition to offering family counselling service, there is an adoption and foster home program conducted by the agency.

Anyone desiring information about the function of the agency, may telephone DE 1-1244.

"One Man's Opinion"

Giving to the Red Feather Drive

BY BERNARD SEGAL

Today I filled out my Red Feather card, I made my pledge, and I gave my share to the Community Chest drive. As I did this, the realization came to me that I had just performed an act which is as significant as the act I will perform on election day when I go to the polls and cast my ballot.

Both of these acts, the casting of the ballot and the pledging to the Chest, are part of the way of life in a democracy. They are both possible when people agree to live together democratically and to manage their national and communal affairs in a democratic manner.

While voting is the more dramatic expression of the democratic community, we do not always associate giving to a common chest as a democratic act. Those of us, however, who have memories of a different way of life readily see the relationship between the two. Where people have no voice on election day, they have no voice in the management of the community affairs, either.

How are the poor and the aged and the maladjusted cared for in lands where the democratic way of life has not been accepted?

The state has a hand in it. Both national and local government officials are attending to such needs by decree. The stamp of officialdom is in evidence everywhere. In recreation, in rehabilitation, in such delicate matters as family relations, in dealing with the sensitivities of the emotionally unbalanced—in all these the uniformed official and the stern formalities take a hand.

The church has a hand in it. The churches of all faiths and of all denominations care for the underprivileged in their respective flocks.

The charitable societies and the individuals of good will have a hand in it. Each by himself, and responsible only to himself, sponsors a favorite project.

All this is very good. But the Community as a whole has no hand in it. You and I would have no share in it. No share in the burden, and no part in the rewards that sharing brings to the soul. The idea that we are all our brother's keepers is not given utterance.

Only as a result of a democratic living together can the idea of a common concern and common responsibility penetrate the consciousness of the entire community.

The principles upon which the Community Chest idea are based are democratic in essence.

People band together in a common effort once a year to supply the needs of all within the gates of the community. No barriers of race, religion, or political ideologies are in the way. And all this is done,

Not by decree, but by free will. Not out of duty, but out of concern for others.

Not divided, but in the interest of the whole group.

Not by coercion, but by a voluntary sharing.

These are the principles upon which the idea of the Red Feather funds are based. A community which is not ripe for such a united drive is not truly a democratic unit.

Look through the list of the 101 agencies, in their diversity of interests and aims, and ask yourselves:

"Which of them would you like to leave to private charity? . . . to denominational care? . . . to government regimentation?"

Look at the ones most familiar to you, the four agencies sponsored by Jewish groups and included in the Red Feather drive.

First on the list is Camp Jori. Here is a summer camp where hundreds of children find the delights of summer camping every season. The children of Camp Jori would otherwise, for one reason or another, not enjoy summer camping. Would you rather see this camp run by a state department? By a temple sisterhood? Through private endowment?

Granted that the camp would be well provided by any one of these means. But what share would you have in it? You and I and all of us do have a share in Camp Jori as well as in the Jewish Community Center, and in the Family Welfare Service, and in the Miriam Hospital, because they are Red Feather agencies to which everybody gives. We would have no share otherwise.

These are some of the things to consider when you fill out your card, and make your pledge to the Chest. Do it in the same spirit as when you go to the polls to cast your vote. Giving to the Community Chest is affirmation that we live democratically.

BIG TOWN VIGNETTE

The refined, handsome, young Gentile couple are frequent visitors at the high-class Jewish kosher eateries in the Big Town.

Steady patrons of these restaurants are amazed at the manner in which they order the most hard-to-pronounce Jewish dishes without missing a syllable, and the evident relish with which they down these delicacies.

He is of Dutch-Catholic descent and she of Bohemian-Catholic descent. They were born in San Antonio, Texas. At the age of four, his parents died. At the age of six, her folks passed on.

He was raised by a Jewish family in San Antonio. So was she.

They each became adept to dancing.

One day they met and fell in love with each other's dancing—and with each other—and were wed.

Their love for each other has a close rival in their love for Jewish custom and cuisine!

Their names are Courtney and Sonja Van Horn—a sensational dance team, who are taking the country by storm and recently brought the house down when they played the famed Palace Theatre in N. Y. C.

A FEW TYPICAL ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE SPIRIT OF SERVICE EXEMPLIFIED BY TELEPHONE PEOPLE BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY

A crew of four telephone linemen, at work near the ocean, noticed two small boys clinging to an overturned rowboat, drifting helplessly in perilous seas. One of the men put out in another small boat and rescued them.

Two telephone men on their way to a construction job saw a painter fall from the top of a ladder. They gave prompt and expert first aid to the seriously injured man, and stood by until a doctor and an ambulance arrived.

In a Massachusetts town, a telephone maintenance man chanced upon the scene of an accident. He quickly applied artificial respiration, and saved the life of a victim of asphyxiation.

In a New England city, four telephone construction men saved many lives by repeatedly entering a burning building and rescuing the trapped occupants.

A telephone maintenance man in a large industrial city saw a man rush from a building, jump into a car and speed off. Suspecting something wrong, he copied down the license number and gave it to the police. They quickly captured the man, who had attempted a holdup.

A cable splicee, on his way for a swim with his family, leaped into a pond, carried a struggling three-year-old to safety, then brought out a second and apparently lifeless tot. His expert use of artificial respiration saved the little girl's life.

It happens every day

Telephone employees are trained to think fast, and act fast, in emergencies — to stay on the job as long as there's need — to help save lives and property. In the records of our company there are many other stirring examples of this spirit of service besides those cited here. Not all telephone people are faced with such perils and emergencies, but every one is ready always to contribute, be it heroically or humbly, to the welfare of the public and the community.

FINEMAN-TRINKLE
 by Jack Jacobson
 Capt. Sam Feldman continued to be "hot," this time with strings of 101-136-137 for a total of 374. Helped by Nate Gordon's 318, Sam's Pirates vacated the National League cellar for the first time.

Other good high threes were Lew Kaplan 343, Mort Klibanoff 341, G. Feldman and Len Summer 340, Phil Shaulson, Hal Levin, Mel Wasserman 337; Justin Robinson and Murray Gordon, 325; Harry Shore and Dave Allen 319, Don Cohen 318, Speed Kessler and Gene Silverman 315, Bob Green 310, Les Friedman, Reeve Zatlhoff, Milt Israeloff 308.

Good high single strings were bowled by Lou Millen and Hal Golden 321, Stu Steingold and Sam Miller 114, Charlie Steingold, S. Greengus, P. Feldman and Joe Fishbein 109, Sam Tapper, A. Silverman, Sam Shaver, and Agid 107, Sam Price, Wally Genser, A. Borrow, and Len Levin 104.

With good three string scores by Morris Factor (328) Chuckie White (311) and Art Pivnick (310) the Athletics overwhelmed the usually powerful Yankees for undisputed possession of first place in the American League. In the National League the Giants and Dodgers are still tied for first.

The annual Simchas Torah party was held at the Home on Tuesday, concluding the eight days of Succoth. The Ladies Association sponsored the party with Mrs. Jennie White as chairman of the entertainment committee and Mrs. Sarah T. Felder as assistant. Mrs. Samuel Ganzer, host for the evening, provided the refreshments.

The highlight of the evening was entertainment furnished by Cantor Karl Kritz, who sang Yiddish and Hebrew songs. He was accompanied at the piano by Miss Violet Marks. Mrs. Samuel Arbeitsman played Jewish songs and led the community singing. Twelve residents who celebrated their birthdays during October and November were guests of honor. They are Sarah Genser, Sarah Silverstein, Sarah Brunn, Sophie Lasker, Nathan Rouslin, Nathan Gordon, Abraham Shaevitz, Eva Shaevitz, Chana Shore, Dora Tobe, Goldie Adelman and Samuel Sheinfeld.

Marriage Series at Discussion Group

The first in a series of five lectures embracing "Dating, Courtship and Marriage" was given by George Weisfuse, assistant executive director of the Jewish Community Center, at a meeting of the Thursday Evening Discussion Group of the Jewish Community Center last Thursday at Ahavath Sholom Synagogue. More than 80 young adults attended. Dancing and refreshments followed the lecture.

This program was arranged by a committee consisting of Dr. Irving Kaplan, Barbara Solomon, Paul Litwin, Shirley Denmark, Sue Silk and Abe Goldstein.

The next meeting of the group will be held Nov. 1 with Dr. Loux, staff psychiatrist of Butler Hospital, as guest speaker. This meeting will also take place at Ahavath Sholom Synagogue.

Lozow-Fedman Circle To Elect Officers

A meeting of the Lozow-Fedman Family Circle was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lozow, 138 California Avenue, last Sunday evening. A tentative slate of officers was submitted by the nominating chairman, Mrs. Anne Swartz, and will be voted on at the following meeting.

Mrs. G. Klemer was selected as chairman of the Passover Seder. A suggestion was also made to have a family tree made for the scrapbook and a Chanukah party for the children. Mrs. K. Riseberg will be chairman.

Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames Gert. Klemer, Eva Katz, Mindle Cohen, Fannie Lozow and Miriam Lozow.

Regular Friday evening services at Temple Beth Israel will start next week, Nov. 2 at 8:10 P. M., the Temple office announced this week. Rabbi Morris Schusheim will officiate, assisted by Cantor Israel Breitbart and the choir, under the direction of Benjamin Premack. There will be a Kiddush after the services. The community is invited to attend.

SYD COHEN:

Will the Rooster Crow Again?

The hockey season is in full swing; and while that is scarcely news, it does merit more than the usual attention. Think of it carefully—the hockey season is here again—for it may well be the last time. We may not have the occasion to say that next year at this time, for the very good reason that there may not be a team. Here again we are not dealing with a scoop or a sensational inside pronouncement. Everyone knows that the American Hockey League considers the Providence Reds a pain in the neck, an expensive annoyance, a plague to be avoided, a distant and undesirable poor relation.

As matters now stand, with the League's board of governors practically certain to attempt to get rid of Providence next year, and with the Reds currently playing to rows of empty seats, professional hockey in these parts may soon be a memory.

As a sport—an organized professional sport—hockey leaves much to be desired. Its rules are loose, its officials indecisive and inept, its methods questionable, to say the least. A hockey player may play in the major league on Monday night, put in a turn for a farm club a couple of nights later, come back to the parent club at his bosses' pleasure—be loaned to some other club for a fortnight—and then retire from the pro ranks and regain his amateur standing. It's so silly as to be fantastic, but it is true.

We had the case last season of Roger Bedard being "traded" to Cincinnati, I think it was. Later came the weak explanation that Roger had only been loaned out for the season, that the deal was not to be considered an actual trade. And now Bedard is back with the Reds. See what I mean?

To get a decent seat at the Auditorium, you pay $2.50. A potent reason for all those empty seats except when a championship team is on the ice. You get a wonderful reserved seat at any major league ball game for $1.80, and usually the box seats, right on the field, for $2.40—but for $1.25 in Providence you get a limited, uncomfortable cubit of space for standing room.

The Reds are the only team in the East, and they create an expensive transportation problem for the economy-minded AHL. Hockey has moved West, and the Reds seem to be fighting a losing cause. When the team does go, Lou Pieri may bring the Boston Bruins down here for a couple of "home" games—but none of us will find in the visiting Bruins anything that will cause us to lavish our affections on them as we did—and still do—the Reds.

But, it seems obvious, the Reds must go.

That last is just about enough to bring a tear to the eye; for regardless of what is wrong with hockey, Providence is not among its faults. Providence is an honored name in professional hockey. We have had the Reds here continuously since 1926, and no other minor league town can make that statement.

There are many who will remember the old Can-Am League, with such clubs as Quebec, the Boston Bruin Cubs, the Bronx Tigers, Philadelphia Arrows, Springfield Indians and New Haven Eagles.

We have known great players and combinations—Johnny Gagnon and Art Chapman; Gaudreault, Harrington and Rivers; Art Giroux and his incredible four goals in one playoff game back in the days when four goals by an entire club signified a powerful attack. Who can forget Art Lesieur and Andy Mulligan standing elbow to elbow at the blue line and dumping any forward foolish enough to try to split them and sneak through? How about Jean Pusie gathering in the puck in front of his own goal and starting an exciting rush down the ice? Remember Toe Blake and Frankie Brimsek and Battleship Leduc?

So, when you stop to realize that the Reds may not be with us much longer, you get the urge to shout to the heavens: "My gosh, isn't there something we can do about it?"

Mighty little, it seems. Frank Lanning had one solution in his cartoon of last week hitting on the same problem and envisioning a new hockey league, made up of Eastern clubs, with the old stand-bys—Springfield, New Haven, Philadelphia, Providence, maybe Worcester, etc.

There might be another possibility. The rather unethical National League, hockey's only major circuit, boasts only six teams. Buffalo and Cleveland, definitely, and possibly a few of the others, should be in the majors. If that event transpired, the weakened AHL might be more charitably inclined to take in clubs in states along the northern Atlantic seaboard. Providence then would stay.

Unless the Reds come up with a big year, which isn't too likely, and unless the $2.50's begin to flow in to the box office at turn-away proportions, Lou Pieri may be of a mind to heed the call of the governors next summer.

So—absorb as much of this season as you can, if you are a hockey fan. Except for some possible exhibitions by the Bruins, we may not see pro hockey here again.

Trinkel Trophy Rolloff

This column erred last week in saying that Beth El's bowling league operates on Wednesday nights. The right night is Thursday, and arrangements have now been completed to conduct the special roll-off between Leo Borenstein and Murray Trinkel (whose completed score Leo will shoot at) on Thursday, November

Mighty Fisherman

Here is a fish story in reverse—this one didn't get away. Albert O. Leif of Deborah Street, Narragansett Pier, formerly of Providence, beams with pride—and who can blame him—as he poses with the 30 pound bass he took at Narragansett Pier just at the close of the summer season. The "evidence" was furnished by Jacob I. Felder, who snapped this picture.

1 at the Casino Alleys.

Benjamin Trinkel, sponsor of the Trinkel Trophy, will be on hand that night, along with a photographer, to give away his cup for good. Following that event, Mr. Trinkel and this corner will get together to work out arrangements for the new trophies which he wishes to establish in competition for this season.

Day School Ladies Seek Members

An invitation to the women of Rhode Island to join ranks in sponsoring and promoting the growth of Jewish Education in this state was issued last week by the Ladies Association of the Providence Hebrew Day School.

Mrs. Max Brodsky, president of the Ladies Association, launched the appeal by requesting all women to become members of the organization. She pointed out that under the Hebrew Day School's program, children study both Jewish and secular subjects during the normal school day, instead of trying to cram in a few hours of religious education after regular school hours. Only in an organization such as the Providence Hebrew Day School is such a program possible, she added.

CLAMON AUX. BOWLING

House of His Dreams

-a tin hut

It's only a tin hut—but it's home to him.

A table, a cot, a primus stove—to him, these are luxuries.

His hut is the house of his dreams, because it's in Israel, where he's safe and free at last.

In Eastern Europe and Moslem countries, there are scores of thousands of homeless Jews who envy this man. Their dream, too, is to get to Israel, away from the restrictions and oppressions of lands that do not want them, away from homelessness, away from fear.

And they know it won't even be a tin hut for them if they can't get out soon.

Today, another ship left an East European port carrying thousands to a new life in Israel—a boatload of hopes and prayers. A plane took off from the capital of a Near East country and several hours from now another plane will leave that city, carrying men, women, and children out of the past, into a future of freedom.

Still other groups left for Israel today from half a dozen lands on planes and ships financed by you through the United Jewish Appeal.

But tomorrow any one of the "deadline" countries may call a halt to all such emigration. Tomorrow or the next day—there's no way of knowing when.

The margin of time narrows. Every day counts.

The homeless have their opportunity now—and you have yours. They can be rescued—if you act. That's why you must give—generously, quickly. You must help the United Jewish Appeal to help them—before it's too late.

Your gift will help make it possible to:

- Transport hundreds of thousands of homeless Jews to Israel—now
- Build desperately needed shelters for 150,000 newcomers in Israel
- Construct new agricultural and work settlements, and strengthen Israel's democratic economy
- Feed, clothe and care for 400,000 in Europe, North Africa and the Near East
- Help 10,000 newcomers due this year in the U.S. to start new lives
