

Egypt Blockade Costing Israel Millions Yearly

TEL AVIV — The war of angry words from both sides makes most of the headlines.

The guerilla war gets in the papers whenever blood is spilled on the land called the Gaza Strip. There is a third "war" between the Arab world and Israel that one gets only passing attention. This one is economic. The closing of the Jewish states borders by land and sea, and to an extent even in the air, hurts a lot.

The land blockade is an old story. Since there is no peace here, but rather an armistice shredded by gunfire and even mortar shells, Israel always has been sealed off on three sides.

A Christian (with a church certificate that is) can pass from Israel through the Mandelbaum Gate to Jordan-held old Jerusalem.

And the little white jeeps with the two big magic blue letters UN can cross any border in the Middle East.

But that is all. There is no other traffic except the Arab infiltrators or commandos coming into Israel to steal or kill or for Israelis going the other way to get even.

The air blockade is only incidental. No commercial flight in or out of Israel may put down on Arab soil or even ask for radio guidance from Arab airports in emergencies. Let us say this only hurts a little.

The sea blockade is the big item. Egypt has shut off both the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Agada, Israel's gateway to the Red Sea from the port of Elath.

It costs Israel millions by closing nearby markets to its exports and another $10,000,000 a year in extra shipping charges on oil imports. This is quite simple. Israel has to go 6,000 miles to Caribbean ports to buy fuel which it could get 600 miles away in Persia if there were no Arab shore batteries trained on the Suez.

During last July's elections David Ben Gurion, the incoming prime minister promised the voters that the blockade would be smashed within a year. Now, with all the other strains in Arab-Israel relations, there has been more talk here along these lines.

The UN Security Council denounced Egypt in 1951 for its blockade practices. Egypt not only ignored the UN resolution, but drew the clamps tighter and made the blockade 100 per cent effective.

As sea powers go both Israel and Egypt happen to be sort of small. Naval war between them, in contrast with the great Pacific battles of World War II, would be something like the kind your son stages with his sailboats in the park lake, except that men would die.

And except, of course, that it could lift the curtain on the long menacing "second round" in the Middle East.

It's worth mentioning now because as noted above Israel says it can no longer tolerate the blockade and there is no hope that Egypt might suddenly lift it out of love for its little neighbor.

Israel Strikes Second Oil Well

HELETZ - HULEIKAT, Israel, —Israel's second oil well, gushing 250 feet high, came in last week in the field developing near the Egyptian-held Gaza strip.

The oil is from a lower and thicker stratum than the source of the first well, brought in Sept. 22.

A geologist said nothing final could be said yet on the extent of the Heletz-Huleikat field but that he thought "it not small." He added that seismographic studies indicate development of about 100 wells in the area is "not impossible."

Other experts said tests indicate the stratum of the new well is 16 feet thick and may be even thicker at the lower end. They said indications are the well is promising, by all international standards. They added:

If all goes well, both — the stratum discovered in September and the newly discovered one —

British Up The Odds

TEL AVIV — There's a story here that bears passing on because it's told by people who know.

It seems Israel heard that Egypt had acquired two destroyers from England so an Israeli emissary addressed the British somewhat as follows:

Look chums we have no destroyers in what we like to call our naval striking force. You have given Mr. Nasser a 2 to 1 superiority over us in this department. How about selling us two destroyers?

The well-mannered British did same but before the ink dried on the bill of sale London dealt off two more destroyers to Egypt. That made it 4 to 2 instead of the even more unsporting 2 to 0.

Israel Ambassador to be GJC Initial Gifts Speaker

Economic Help to Egypt by Soviets

LONDON — Soviet Ambassador Daniel S. Solod said in Cairo Monday that Moscow has offered economic aid to Egypt. He emphasized that Russian economic assistance was also made available to other Arab states.

A cable from Cairo stated that the Soviet envoy, emerging from a meeting with Hussein Aziz, Permanent Undersecretary of the Egyptian Foreign Ministry, told reporters: "Our economic situation permits us to give aid to any country — providing that country will accept it." He declined to say whether the offer got a favorable answer from Egyptian officials.

Ambassador Solod said no money would be involved in the Russian aid which would be in the form of agriculture and building equipment and other materials which could be used for economic development. The Cairo correspondent of the Times of London indicated in a cable Monday that by offering economic assistance to the Arab countries, Moscow is trying to undermine the American negotiations with the Arab countries for development of the Jordan waters on a regional basis for the benefit of both Israel and the Arab states.

Schedule Event For November 8

Abba S. Eban, Israeli ambassador to the United States and permanent Israeli representative to the United Nations, will be greeted by Rhode Islanders on November 8 when he comes to Providence in connection with the 1955 campaign of the General Jewish Committee.

Eban, one of Israel's leading statesmen, will be the guest speaker at the community-wide Initial Gifts dinner on November 8 at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel.

To Speak on Israel

The ambassador's appearance at the kick-off dinner launching the GJC's 10th annual fund-raising drive was announced jointly today by Alvin A. Sopkin, 1955 campaign chairman, and Frank Licht, Initial Gifts chairman. Benjamin Brier is serving as co-chairman of Initial Gifts.

This is one of the few speaking engagements Eban has accepted this fall season. He recently appeared on the television "Meet the Press" program, which many Rhode Islanders were fortunate to see.

Eban will speak on Israel — its problems and its plans for the future.

Licht said that prior to the dinner a reception will be held in honor of Ambassador Eban.

Explain Action on 'Scrip' Companies

JERUSALEM — The Israel Treasury has explained its recent order suspending activities of firms dealing in gift parcels from abroad for Israel residents and "scrip companies" which sell certificates abroad for goods to be purchased.

Primarily, the Treasury said, the domestic food situation has improved and there is sufficient food available in Israel and anything which semi-governmental agencies need can be purchased for pounds instead of dollars, and therefore there is no need for outside sources to send food into the country.

The Treasury also said that some of the certificates in circulation were not bona fide. The statement noted that the order cancelling the companies applied regardless of whether the "scrip company" or the gift organization was a profit or non-profit group.

Offer Endowment for Schizophrenia Care

LONDON — A 10,000 pound ($28,000) endowment for research prizes to any qualified person who will find a cure for schizophrenia has been established by Joseph Portor, a Leeds Jew. The prizes will be awarded to teachers or graduates in psychiatry at either the University of Leeds or the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, or to any qualified doctor who practices psychiatry in either England or Israel. The British Friends of the Hebrew University, in announcing the endowment, said that "the barbarous persecution of the Nazis produced a terrible increase in the mental illness of schizophrenia, particularly among the Jews who were the greatest victims of that persecution."

The News Picture

An AJP Round Up Of World News

Secretary of State Dulles' special envoy, George V. Allen, is back in Washington from his flying trip to Cairo where he conferred with Colonel Nasser over the Soviet - Egyptian arms deal. Allen's mood betrayed failure of his mission. Said the N. Y. Post: "We won't know for some time what Dulles told George Allen to say to Nasser. Whatever it is won't prove to be strong enough. Nasser will win his adroit game of using the Czech arms deal to scare the State Department into 'selling' him heavy arms on his own terms. This would fit into the consistent pattern of Arab blackmail, and our own semi-appeasement." Dulles, still not completely recovered from the shock, said: "It is not easy or pleasant to speculate on the probable motives of the Soviet bloc leaders" — a rather naive statement coming from the Captain of U. S. Foreign Policy.

The Jewish Labor Committee, it now appears, has raised false hopes. No formal invitation has ever been issued to anyone in the Committee from Ambassador Zarubin or any other Soviet official at the UN asking a Jewish representative to come to Moscow to take up the matter of the missing Jewish writers. The Soviet officials at the UN always give the same reply to anyone inquiring about Jews in Russia: "Contact the proper authorities in Moscow and find out. No American will be denied a visa." Ten Soviet construction experts started their cross-country 'tour' last week with a visit of the East Bronx.

General James A. Van Fleet's recent statement to cadets at Seoul, Korea, to the effect that for the next several years Communist China would be a greater menace than the Soviet Union, his disturbed Administration officials... "This Is the UN: Its Actual Voices," Volume 2, 1950-1955—A series of documentary phonograph records comprising a history of the aims, principles and achievements of the UN, has just been released by Tribune Productions, 261 Broadway, NYC. One portion deals with the "Palestine question." Narrated by Melvin Douglas and written and produced by Saul Carson, the unique album of records honors UN Day, October 24, 1955, marking the 10th anniversary of the world organization.

Leo Pfeffer, authority on religious liberty, has challenged the constitutionality of the Massachusetts Law that prohibits inter-religious adoptions even in those cases where the natural mother consents. Mr. Pfeffer takes up the whole Goldman-Ellis matter in a 60 page article appearing in the current issue of the Boston University Law Review. Yale University will receive the 1954 Stephen S. Wise Award of the American Jewish Congress at a Waldorf - Astoria Luncheon on Tuesday, October 18.

ISRAEL

Keren Yeldenu (Our Children's Fund), a new Israeli group formed to "save Jewish boys and girls from the clutches of the missionaries in Israel," has embarked upon an intensive drive against the Christian Mission schools in Israel. Huge posters, signed by the Chief Rabbis, seen throughout Israel, cry out: "Our children are being severed from the faith of their fathers. The missionaries represent a danger to the Jewish religion and nation." A high Foreign Ministry official declared that Israel has information that the guerrilla incursions from the four Arab countries were directed from Cairo. He indicated that the intensified Egyptian guerrilla campaign was designed to weaken Israel in preparation for an ultimate all-out effort to drive the Israelis into the sea.

PEOPLE

Doris Fleeson, who recently interviewed Premier Nasser, stepped into the UN last week. Asked by this writer about the interview, Miss Fleeson said: "Nasser is a nice guy, but informed. He needs a trip around the world."

Discuss JCC Activity For North End

The prospect of the organization of area activities in the North End for Center members in that area of the city was discussed by the Jewish Community Center at a special parents' meeting conducted at Temple Beth David last Monday evening.

Parents present heard a description of the Center's program objectives and methods, presented by Arthur Eisenstein, JCC program director, and were apprised of the type of parents' committee structure necessary to the planning and implementing of area activities.

Limited activities scheduled for the previous 1954-1955 season were also evaluated by Eisenstein, who stressed the need for parent cooperation and effort in that area if its children and adults are to participate in neighborhood activities, under Center sponsorship.

The following committees were appointed by Mrs. Isadore Wolf, area chairman of the JCC Children's Activities Committee:

Nursery School — Mrs. Anita Chorney and Mrs. Beatrice Shechtman.

Children's Activities — Mrs. Sheila Miller, Mrs. Beatrice Shechtman, Mr. and Mrs. William Berman, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Siegel, Mrs. William Gilstein, Mrs. Charles Kilberg, Mrs. Harold Halzel, Mrs. Philip Woled, Mrs. Marcy Goldenberg, Mrs. Herbert Wagner, Mrs. Harry Soifer, Mrs. Hyman Parness, Mrs. Bertha Freedman, Mrs. Leah Troob, Mrs. Sylvia Forman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunder and Mrs. L. Bertman.

Youth Activities — Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Medwin, Mrs. Morris Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. William Berman, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Coleman, Mrs. Lillian Blau, Mrs. Ruth Millman, Mrs. William Gilstein, Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Gershtman, Mrs. Marcy Goldenberg, Mrs. Herbert Wagner, Mrs. Joseph Bram, Mrs. Rose Dunder and Mrs. Albert Goldenberg.

Other residents of the area interested in serving on the above committees are asked to contact Mrs. Isadore Wolf, PL 1-1703, or Eisenstein, UN 1-2674.

Social Worker Engaged at Home

Stanley Snyder, a native of Providence, was engaged last week as social and recreational worker at the Home for the Aged on a full time basis. His duties will consist of helping the new residents in making an adjustment within the Home, to help the Admissions Committee in their social studies of the new applicants, and also to arrange for recreational programs on an organized basis.

This forward step in the care of the aged within the Home is in line with modern thinking that the residents need more than just food and shelter—that social activities, recreation and occupation, are an important part of their lives, said Max Alexander, executive director, in announcing the Snyder appointment.

Snyder, who has an M. S. degree from Boston University School of Social Work, is married, and lives with his wife and three-year-old daughter at 135 Sixth Street.

Announce Program Plans For South Side Branch

Beginning program plans for the Jewish Community Center's South Side Branch building are coming to completion under the direction of South Side area program committees which have met with the branch director, Sol Kutner, during the past few weeks. Activities for children, teens and adults have been discussed and some preliminary scheduling is now ready, according to Kutner.

All area parents interested in enrolling their pre-school children in a nursery school program are invited to attend a meeting to be held in the South Side Branch building on Wednesday at 8 P. M. Plans for the school's operation will be discussed with parents involved and a parents' committee will be organized.

Opening children's activities in South Side were discussed at a Children's Committee meeting, held on Oct. 13, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Nathan Schwartz. Others on the committee included Mrs. Benjamin Hayman, Mrs. Joseph J. Roberts, Mrs. Samuel Tippe, Mrs. Stephen J. Siner, Mrs. Ben Paris, Mrs. Elliot Paris, Mrs. Herbert Feldman and Mrs. Murray Shiro. The committee has planned to open their program with children's Sunday Clubs, which will begin on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 6, from 2 to 4 o'clock. Enrollment in the clubs will be open to boys and girls between the ages of 5½ and 12, who are Center members. The program will include weekly meetings, crafts programs, gym activities and a variety of special projects, including trips, parties and many others. Enrollments in all club groups will be limited, and groups will be supervised by mature, experienced group leaders.

The Youth Activities Committee, directed by Solomon Selinker, and including Mrs. Selinker, Mrs. Benjamin Hayman, Mrs. Norman Dean, Mrs. Frank Koslov, Mrs. Edward Berren, Mrs. Peter Berger,

Mrs. Samuel Eisenberg, Mrs. Hyman Rosenberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gilbert, has concluded plans for the formation of junior high school and senior high boys' and girls' groups which will hold their initial meetings during the week of Nov. 6. Boys and girls who are interested in serving on planning committees for these programs are asked to contact Kutner at UN 1-2674.

GJC Women Plan For M-Day, Oct. 30

Entering the home stretch of the 1955 campaign of the Women's Division of the General Jewish Committee, chairmen, co-chairmen and workers are completing plans for M-Day on Sunday, October 30.

M-Day is the one-day general solicitation of funds by the Women's Division of the GJC and climaxes the campaign by the ladies.

"Share Your Blessings," is the theme of this year's campaign by the Women's Division and Mrs. Sydney Weinstein, M-Day chairman, urges all Jewish residents to abide by this slogan and help make this year's fund-raising drive a distinct success.

At the same time Mrs. Weinstein issued a call for additional M-Day workers. Although a large number of women in the community have volunteered their services, she said there is still need for more workers. She urges all who wish to volunteer to call the General Jewish Committee office at GASpee 1-4111.

M-Day will start with a breakfast at the Narragansett Hotel at 9 A. M. Headquarters will be set up in the hotel. Following the breakfast, workers will register and be given numbered cards of prospects to be contacted.

A Motor Corps has been organized under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stanley Grossman. The workers—four solicitors to a car—will be driven to their respective destinations. After the workers complete the house-to-house canvass they will be driven back to the hotel headquarters to report the results. M-Day tags will be distributed to the workers and M-Day stickers will be placed on the cars used in the intensive one-day drive for funds.

Mrs. Myron Elias announced that both the Initial Gifts and Vital Gifts luncheons—the first two major affairs—have been gratifying and indications are that M-Day will be equally satisfactory to wind up what is expected to be one of the most successful Women's Division campaigns in the 10-year history of the GJC.

Co-chairmen for M-Day have been announced as: Mrs. Harry Albert, Mrs. Stanley Blacher, Mrs. Alter Boyman, Mrs. Milton Dubinsky, Mrs. James Goldsmith, Mrs. Gardner Grant, Mrs. Herman Lazarus, Mrs. George Levine, Mrs. Martin I. Mondlick, Mrs. Samuel Salmanson, Mrs. Harold Weiner, and Mrs. James Winston.

Associate chairmen for M-Day are Mrs. Milton Brier, Mrs. Marshall Leeds, Mrs. Aaron Bilgor, Mrs. Stanley Summer and Mrs. Miles Shein.

200 Attend GJC Vital Gifts Affair

Nearly 200 contributors and workers attended the Vital Gifts luncheon of the Women's Division of the General Jewish Committee last Tuesday at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel.

Mrs. Howard Schneider, Vital Gifts chairman, presided at the luncheon.

Guest speaker at the second major affair of the Women's Division campaign was Mrs. Jacob Kesselman of New Jersey, who recently returned from an extensive tour of Israel. She described the conditions and future plans of that country.

Mrs. Myron Elias, general chairman of the Women's Division, welcomed those in attendance and outlined the 1955 campaign program.

During the luncheon members of the cast entertained the crowd with a rendition of songs from the skit, "You Are There." The skit was presented at a recent Workers Rally of the Women's Division.

Mrs. Arthur J. Levy was chairman of the Plus Gifts committee. She was assisted by Mrs. Max Greenbaum, Mrs. Abe Berman, Mrs. Louis Blattler, Mrs. Abe Wexler, Mrs. Maurice Hendel, Mrs. Ira Blum and Mrs. Abraham Adler.

Winners of the special prizes and gifts for attendance and Plus Giving were announced and presentations were made at the conclusion of the speaking program.

GJC Express Satisfaction With Ledgeмонт Turnout

Stormy weather failed to dampen the spirits of about a 100 members of the Ledgeмонт Country Club who braved the elements to attend the second annual Ledgeмонт Division dinner of the General Jewish Committee's 1955 campaign at the country club last Sunday.

Both GJC president Henry J. Hassenfeld and Alvin A. Sopkin, 1955 campaign chairman, joined with Arthur Kaplan, Ledgeмонт Division chairman, in expressing satisfaction with what they termed "the enthusiastic response by the Ledgeмонт members." They said this was an excellent indication of the spirit being manifested by the entire Greater Providence community in the forthcoming campaign.

Kaplan presided at the dinner and introduced the head table and Rabbi Irving Miller. Invocation was given by Rabbi Morris Schusheim of Temple Beth-Israel.

Hassenfeld extended greetings and welcomed the large gathering, urging them to help make the 1955 campaign a successful one. Sopkin thanked the large crowd for making the event a success in spite of the adverse weather and also urged full-hearted support for the Initial Gifts dinner on November 8.

Prizes were awarded to holders of lucky tickets.

Just like all housewives, Mrs. Alonzo Q. Abernathy liked to be as thrifty as she could be with the food budget. The only trouble was that her husband and the kids had ENORMOUS appetites. She enjoyed her victuals, too, so she was in quite a quandry.

So she began to read her cookbooks over and over, thumbing the pages like mad. And then she made a dazzling discovery. She found (as so many women have) that you Save Money and eat better when meals are planned around DAIRY FOODS.

Right away she began serving creamy chowders, extra large Farm Fresh eggs, Cottage Cheese and other delicious, healthful dairy foods.

Everything tasted so good that her family boasted she was the Best Cook in the WHOLE WORLD. Naturally, Mrs. A. beamed.

And she never told anyone that she had saved the price of a new dress out of the food budget.

Of course, she insisted on dairy products that are so good you can TASTE THE FRESHNESS -- which means O U R S !

Give the United Way

A community should follow a practice which individuals have found sensible and prudent for centuries. It's a practice which has been adopted by corporations. It's a practice followed by little gray squirrels.

In times of large harvest or large profits or large wages, the prudent put away that proverbial "something for a rainy day." The savings may be insurance, product research, storage of food or a savings account. In any form it represents a conscious effort to save against the threat of a "rainy day."

Why is this ancient practice not feasible for a community? It is our contention that it is more than feasible... it is a necessity.

For many years the health and welfare agencies in Rhode Island have been operating on a starvation diet. This has happened despite the fact that business generally was good and wages were high. Now we are in the midst of an industrial boom with profits and wages at the peak since the beginning of recorded history.

It is both prudent and humanitarian to prepare for the future. We do not expect disaster... but then disaster is never expected.

But it's not just a matter of a negative insurance against disaster. Private philanthropy is a positive attack on human ills and distress.

Private philanthropy licked tuberculosis. Private philanthropy developed a vaccine for polio. Private philanthropy aided Israel through its infancy. These are just a few examples.

So a gift that may start out as insurance may ultimately mean personal gain in terms of better health and a better community in which to live.

The 1955 United Fund drive is seeking $2,000,000 to support the work of 99 agencies. It will be a shameful blot on this prosperous community if every individual and corporation doesn't give more. The United Way.

Young Adult Initial Gifts Dinner Nov. 13 at Ledgemont

Lewis Goldstein, general chairman of the Young Adult Drive of the General Jewish Committee for the year 1955-56 announced this week that Martin Dittelman has been appointed chairman of the Initial Gifts Dinner. Dittelman worked with the Young Adult Division for the past five years. Martin Temkin and Herbert Emers were named co-chairmen of the dinner and will assist in planning the affair.

This year's dinner will be held at Ledgemont Country Club on Sunday evening November 13 and will include a full course dinner, dancing and entertainment. Those individuals or couples who pledge $25.00 or more are invited to attend the affair at no extra cost. The pledge is made to the General Jewish Committee and is payable during the year 1956.

Invitations are being sent to those who have attended the affair in past years, but Dittelman pointed out that there are many new young couples who have moved into the Greater Providence area in the past few years and their names may not be included in the mailing list. "This is now intended to be an affair limited to any select group," said Dittelman, "and we sincerely invite all new residents of our community as well as those who have not attended the affair in previous years to attend. Reservations can be made by calling me any evening at PL 1-2069."

Civic Theatre Begins Season With Comedy

A step forward in bringing about better appreciation of community theatrical groups, according to Thomas A. Monahan, executive director of the Rhode Island Development Council, has been achieved with the establishment of the Rhode Island Civic Theatre by its members of the former Cranston Playhouse. In addition to offering the theatre-going public an opportunity to see excellent plays, Monahan added "this theatre offers winter and spring visitors to our state another attraction they can enjoy during their business or pleasure trips in the city. The new civic theatre group, which will now use the facilities of the Rhode Island School of Design Auditorium, will begin its season with the presentation of Samuel Taylor's modern comedy, "Sabrina Fair" this evening and again tomorrow evening.

With Ruth Tennant directing, the play will have in its cast Nancy Schiff, Sue Nadeau, Ed Gny, Bill McLaughlin, David Sargeant, Jacqueline D'Arcy, Elizabeth Bradley, Ronn Marshall, Dorothy Denning, Day Lawton, Dorothy Donahue, Leonard Harton and Jack Dreyfus.

The public may call GA 1-1155 for advance ticket sales or call at the School of Design box office.

"One Man's Opinion"

Rhode Island To Mississippi

By BERYL SEGAL

Notorious town of Sumner in the Mississippi delta region — chances are that you know very little about our city in the Yankee country. How could you? Providence has not been in the news lately. But we know Sumner quite well. You have been on the front pages these past two weeks. You are now world famous. You will, no doubt, go down in history, and you may well become a proverb and a warning to generations yet unborn, like Sodom and Gomorrah of old.

Sumner, Mississippi, how well we know you. We read about you and your people. We saw pictures of you and your people. We thought a lot about you and your people while you were in the limelight of the nation. And while reading and seeing and thinking about you, we were stricken with horror that the likes of you are still with us in the United States, in our own days.

We are neither judge nor juror, and we may not presume to say that in your court of justice two murderers of an innocent boy were let free without punishment for their crime. They were found not guilty of the crime only because they were white, and the murdered boy was a Negro. We do not presume to say so, but everybody who is not of Sumner says so. Life magazine, a magazine which may even be sold in the general store of one of the accused in the murder, headlines the story of the trial in your court in this manner:

Mississippians refuse to convict white men in killing of Negro boy.

You will read in the story further on, if you read at all, that "the prosecution was up against the whole mess of Mississippi prejudice". Not justice but prejudice. Read on in the story in Life magazine. "But the prosecution got little help from the local police who actually supported the defense's key contention that the body recovered was not Emmett Till the murdered 14 year old Negro boy despite evidence that it was."

Life magazine against the testimony of your Sheriff. The nation believes Life.

Finkle Is Speaker At Dannin Dinner

John J. Dannin, Newport civic leader and prominent in B'nai B'rith and Anti-Defamation League activities in that city, was honored last night at a testimonial dinner attended by more than 300 at the Muenchmeier-King Hotel. Joseph M. Finkle, president of District Grand Lodge No. 1 B'nai B'rith, and chairman of the New England Regional Board of the Anti-Defamation League, was the principal speaker, and in the course of his remarks presented Dannin with a citation.

Other speakers were Sidney L. Rabinowitz, president of Central New England Council of B'nai B'rith, Mayor John J. Sullivan of Newport, State Director of Education Michael F. Walsh, and Dean Lewis Milton Miller was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

Sodom-Type Justice

But aside from the verdict, brutal as it was, we here in Providence were horrified by the manner in which you conducted the trial and dispensed justice, a manner reminiscent of the ways of Sodom.

No Negro on the jury which was to seek justice for the Negro.

White and Negro sitting on opposite aisles in the courtroom — in itself a perversion of justice.

Smoking and hilarity in the courtroom at a time when the honor of a nation was on the balance scales.

Pop and soda drinking in the jury room just so as to kill time. The verdict was reached even before the trial began.

Jeering and laughter at Negro witnesses.

Jeering at a mother's tears, because they were the tears of a Negro mother.

Prejudice and hatred reining freely in broad daylight, in full view of the law.

That was the Sumner, Mississippi, we read about, we saw in pictures, and we came to know. The Northerners who observed you during the brief days of your notoriety were all astonished, and horrified, and dismayed. So were we who read the reports.

You are still in the mood for lynching.

You want no part of desegregation.

Illiteracy and ignorance are still with you.

Tolerance and equality are words to laugh at among you.

In your county no Negro dares to register and vote, though more than a half of the population is Negro.

In your streets a Negro walks with head bowed low, lest he be accused of setting eyes on a white woman.

In your cotton fields the spectre of the days of slavery, the fears and the horrors of those days, still stalk the humble huts of the Negro sharecropper.

To this town of Sumner, Mississippi, we are mailing a little booklet from Providence, Rhode Island. Let those among you who can read, look into this booklet. There is no telling. Maybe one or two among you will read and compare and ponder over the message of this little booklet. Maybe you are not as hopeless as Sodom was, where Father Abraham could not find a righteous man to save the city.

A Concert Program

This is the little booklet. It is a concert program. A program of songs to which many of us came to listen around about the same time you held the trial in your courtroom. The sponsors of the program were the members of the Olney Street Baptist Church, a colored congregation. The artist was a baritone of note, a professor of music at Brown University, a white man named David Laurent. His accompanist, a gifted pianist, a white woman named Louise Winsor Moore. The hall in which the concert was held is a public school auditorium, given by the city for such purposes to groups of all creeds and of all colors. The people who came to hear the concert were an even mixture of white and colored men and women. Negro and white sitting side by side, not on opposite aisles, and no one feared contamination, no one felt superior, and no one was made to feel inferior.

Our Way

This Sumner, Mississippi, is our way. Compare it with your courtroom scene at the trial. Compare the two artists at the concert with the two half-brothers on trial. Compare the people in the hall with the hatred-ridden crowd in your courtroom. Compare and ponder.

God, how ugly your children can be in one corner of your wrath, and how beautiful in another corner.

Young Emmett Till would have nothing to fear had he been at this concert, and he would have been alive today had he come to stay with an uncle in Rhode Island instead of Mississippi.

I was thinking of the slain Emmett Till at one point in the program in particular. David Laurent chose to sing the El Mole Rachamin in this program. The artist simply explained that El Mole Rachamin is a prayer for the dead. He may, or he may not have had Emmett Till in his mind when the artist included this number in his program of songs. But it was most appropriate. A prayer for a dead boy, a victim of prejudice and hatred. Our hands here did not spill his blood.

And you, people of Sumner, Mississippi, are greatly in need of prayer. A prayer for your living dead.

The opinions expressed by Mr. Segal are his own. His views are not necessarily those of this newspaper.

SYD COHEN:

Memories from Coast to Coast

The recent column about the Chase Boys evoked a warm response all the way out in Santa Monica, California. Living out there is Harry Levin, a Providence native, who recalls some of the happy days he spent in the company of some of the fine athletes who were mentioned in my story about the Chase Boys.

I know his teammates will be as happy to hear about Harry Levin as he was to read about them, so let's turn over the column to Harry, as his memories cascade over the years. Here's what he has to say in a letter addressed to this writer:

Harry's Letter

"Dear Syd,
"You have a reader way out in sunny Cal. We have been getting your paper for the last two years, and I get a great kick out of it, especially your sport column. I enjoyed your article about the Chase Boys, as I knew them all, especially Martin, with whom I went to school and played on the 1922 championship football team.

"Some of the men you mention—namely, Shore, Temkin, etc.—played in 1921 but were out of school by 1922. The Jewish boys on our team were Fred Abrams, center, and he was the best schoolboy center I ever saw; 'Muttie' Chase, guard, and what a scrappy little bulldog he was!; Bill Bachrach, quarterback, a great all around athlete, and the son of a Rabbi.

"I was fortunate enough to be the fullback on this team, the last to win a championship for good old Hope High. Other Jewish boys on the squad were the Bazar boys, Bernie Abedon, Stutz Winograd and Lester Cohen.

"Yes, Syd, your column sure brought back pleasant memories. Thirty-three years! It seems incredible! You know, it's funny, sometimes I can't remember something that happened last week; but for a writer I'd come close to naming the scores of all our games.

"My wife, two grand boys (hey, I don't mean grandsons—I'm not that old) and myself have lived here in Los Angeles for 10 years. It's a lovely place to live and we're very happy, but I still miss Little Rhody, so your Jewish Herald hits the spot every week.

"May I take this opportunity to wish you, your readers, and all my friends in R. I. a belated but Happy and Healthy New Year, and keep on writing those nice sports columns.

"Yours in sport,

Alterman Calls For Men To Serve On Committees

Emphasizing the announced slogan of his year as president of the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress—"A little bit from a lot of people"—Nat Alterman of Beth El is calling for volunteers to serve on the several important general committees.

They are:
Athlete of the year, Al Gordon of Beth El, chairman.

Annual banquet, Sam Feldman of Fineman-Trinkel, chairman.

Tournaments, Sam Segal of Beth Israel, chairman.

Membership, Ed Lang of Cranston, chairman.

Good and welfare, Aaron Siegal of R. I. Jewish Fraternal, chairman.

In listing the various committees, all of which he says are vitally important to the efficient operation of the congress, Alterman says the "key" to enjoyment of the 900 members of the various leagues realize from the congress is in the tournaments. While Segal has the assigned task of planning and conducting the tournaments, he needs the assistance of three or four others at each one.

The first such tournament will take place Sunday at the R. I. Recreation Alleys on the Providence-Pawtucket line, with the third annual mixed doubles matches at 6:45 P. M. and 8:45 P. M. Those wishing to assist in the tabulation of results at this and future tournaments are asked to contact Segal at his home telephone, WI 1-3414, or inform their league presidents. It is hoped sufficient congress members will support the work of the organization so no one will have to assist at more than one tournament.

The annual banquet, held after the conclusion of the regular league seasons, again will be chairmaned by Sam Feldman. Long-range planning is the main task of this committee; selecting a site for the affair, arranging for guests, selecting trophies and assisting during the night of the banquet.

The athlete of the year committee is a group that keeps its eyes on the Jewish athletes of Rhode Island in the high school, college and professional level, wherever they may be competing, and coming up with the one boy who most deserves the honor. Previous winners have been without question the tops. They are Hank Brenner of Woonsocket, the University of Rhode Island football star; Jules Cohen of Pawtucket, the Yale University tennis ace, and Joel Cohen of Providence, one of Harvard's outstanding track men.

In announcing the selection of former congress president Lang as membership chairman, Alterman has placed on his shoulders and the committee that will serve with him the job of screening and presenting for approval new leagues that want to join the growing congress.

The good and welfare committee is a self-explanatory group, whose work under the chairmanship of Siegal, will reach all congress members.

If you are interested in serving on any of these committees, give your name and your committee preference to your league president or contact Sam Segal for the tournament committee.

RHODE ISLAND JEWISH BOWLING CONGRESS

Enthusiasm High Over Sweepstakes

Enthusiasm never before shown in an activity of the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress, with the possible exception of the annual banquet, is being reported from every affiliated league over plans for the first monthly sweepstakes tournament.

Instructions have been sent to all leagues so that bowlers should have a good idea what the sweepstakes is all about. It will take place next Monday through Thursday on the regular bowling night of each league in the congress. Strings rolled as part of the regular league session will count in the sweepstakes.

The following prizes will be awarded.

$25, high triple.
$15, second high triple.
$10, high triple.

No bowler may win more than one prize a month.

Those wishing to participate must deposit 25 cents with the league treasurer or some other designated officer of the league before the start of bowling. The names, individual strings and totals of all bowlers participating, plus their entry fees, must be turned in at the next regular congress meeting, Sunday, Nov. 6, at 9:30 A. M., at the Dreyfus Hotel.

Sam Segal, congress tournament chairman, announces one revision in the rules for the sweepstakes. All scores will be handicapped to a 120 average, instead of the highest competing average, to simplify the compilation of results.

In addition to the aforementioned information, league officers turning in the results of the sweepstakes must submit approved lists of averages based on pinfall before the start of bowling in the tournament.

Results will be listed next week.

To Use Formula On Six-Man Scores

The grievance committee of the Rhode Island Jewish Bowling Congress, on an appeal from the Beth Israel league, has drawn up a formula under which the league will become eligible to compete for team awards this season.

Beth Israel has six-man teams, while the Congress team records are determined on the basis of five-man teams.

This is the formula: The single string and total team scores of Beth Israel will be divided by six and the results multiplied by five to give the scores to be accepted in the records.

For example, Sam Eisenberg's Navy on Oct. 4 rolled 1974 for six men. That figure was put through the formula to give the Beth Israel team an accepted score of 1645, which by the way, is the best this year in the congress.

The same team also rolled a string of 713, which under the formula gives it a competitive figure of 594, one of the ebst in the congress this year.

The committee emphasized that this formula will be used for this season only.

NOTE: In the case of a bowler who competes in more than one league, his highest mark in each category is considered for the congress records.

Publicity officers of all leagues in the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress are asked to attend the next breakfast-meeting of congress delegates, Sunday, Nov. 6, at 9:30 a. m., at the Dreyfus Hotel.

A discussion will be held on the preparation and filing of weekly bowling reports. It is important that all publicity officers attend, because many now submitting their reports are failing to prepare them properly.

Delegates of all leagues should make certain their publicity officers will be present.

Jack Broadman, who had a 104 average last year, opened with a meager 85 average. The league's correspondent had no trouble rolling a "consistent" 81 average.

Jerry Moyerman's triple of 342, including a 124 single, lived up to recent proceedings considerably while Jack Mossberg's 313, Jules Koteen's 318 and Bernie Silver's 296 meant the difference in several team scores.

Tolman moved into second place in the averages with 118, followed by Katz's 110. Zaidman has a 105 average, along with Abe Aron, while brother Si Aron is rolling 103.

Lou Brown rolled the night's third highest triple with 331. He scored a single of 131.

With the help of Weisinger and Herb Garrick's 311, Unity took four points and kept first place. Unity's total of 1514 is best for the season.

Herb Wagner rolled 324 to pace Security to a four point win. Teammate Sam Sudy broke 100 for the first time this season to help.

Usually, when quoting a reader, I include only those parts of the letter that apply directly to a particular issue in sports. Harry Levin's letter is different, however, and I have made an exception by quoting him word for word. If Harry derived so much pleasure from catching up on his memories through this column, then I am glad to be the medium through which his old friends can hear from him.

You know, that 1922 outfit sounds like it was quite a club. And it's no wonder it was able to give signals in Yiddish, what with Abrams, Chase, Bachrach, Levin, the Bazars, Abedon, Winograd and Cohen.

I'm glad the Chase story brought so much pleasure to some members of that old gang. It was certainly pleasant writing about them.

The Center's New "Gym" Facility

Unveiled recently at the Jewish Community Center on Sessions Street was a new outdoor gymnasium which will enable the Center to present a fine, up-to-date outdoor program.

This column has written in the past of the tremendous need for a gym at the Center. Progress necessarily is slow for a costly undertaking of that sort, and it nobody's fault that we are no closer to having a gym erected today than we were almost a year ago, when I first mentioned it.

The new outdoor gym, however, will fill a crying need, and will fill it most admirably. Let's take an oral look at what will be going on.

The first comment of note is that the new paved area adjoining the Center and the Sessions Street ball field is the hub of this new program. The paved area will be used as a basketball court—and a full size regulation court, at that.

Paid-up Tea Chairmen

Mrs. Irving Beranbaum, left, co-chairman, and Mrs. Maurice Greenstein, chairman, are shown completing arrangements for the paid-up membership tea of the Providence Chapter of the American Medical Center at Denver. The affair will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock at the Narragansett Hotel.

But there is a vast difference between this "floor" and that of the Center's former gym on Benefit Street. For here there is so much room that either a volleyball game or a badminton match may be played at the same time that a basketball game is in progress.

The three sports mentioned will not conflict with the new touch football league which will be played on Sessions Field, an area that has room for three ball games at one time.

Of paramount interest to all men and boys who participate in the physical education and athletic program at the Center is the wonderful news that showers will now be available—without charge to Center members—in the George Friedman Memorial Health Center, right next to the new basketball - volleyball - badminton court. That's really good news.

There's good news, too, for South Side residents, according to Leo Borenstein, chairman of the Health and Physical Education Committee at the Center, and Abe Lobel, phys ed director. The new South Side Center, now about to open, already contains a fine, if small, gym which has two excellent handball courts, and sufficient equipment for a full fledged gymnastics program. The rather small basketball court will be suitable for youngsters, and that is of tremendous importance.

For adult men, Lobel has a Sunday morning gym class that always has been popular. The column intends to use it personally this coming season.

So there you have it, boys and men. A bigger and better program, with bigger and better facilities. Don't crowd that registration table, now!

Lenas Hazedeck Congregation of Willard Avenue announced this week that morning services were conducted during the holidays by Philip Cohen without any fee. In addition, Cantor Charles Gordon, who chanted the Musaf and evening prayers, announced that he is donating the fee for his services to charity. The announcement further stated that the Shofar services were conducted by Harvey Millman, also without fee.
