Dulles Reveals Mid-East Plan Would Deny Military Aid to Israel

WASHINGTON—Israel is being left out in the cold so far as the "Eisenhower Doctrine" for the Middle East is concerned.

That was the generally accepted conclusion this week as word seeped out of House Foreign Affairs Committee on what Secretary Dulles told its members in a closed session earlier this week.

This was Dulles' position: The Eisenhower Administration not only opposes arms for Israel but would not feel obliged to come to Israel's defense even if it were attacked by an Arab neighbor supplied with Soviet arms and whose troops were being advised by Soviet technicians.

They Add Up to 'No'
The question was put to Dulles in a variety of ways, in both executive and open sessions of the committee. His answers each time added up to "no" so far as help for Israel was concerned.

Although the President may have told Prime Minister Nehru that Israel was "here to stay," as reported from India, Dulles had almost nothing friendly to say about the Mideastern democracy.

It was obvious from his testimony that Dulles still bore strong resentment towards the Israelis, the French and the British for the Suez venture. He barely made any attempt to conceal it in his public testimony.

Dulles apparently feels impelled to prove to the Arab world, source of two-thirds of the world's oil supply, that this administration is friendly to its nationalism and strivings for independence.

That was his big patch and it may be the explanation for several strange events here, at first glance apparently unconnected, about which the administration has shown no disposition to offer explanations or apologies.

One of these events was the naming of a paid, registered lobbyist for the Arab League as secretary of the Eisenhower-Nixon Inaugural Committee.

The other is the invitation to King Saud of Saudi Arabia to visit here, even though this government is fully aware that the Saudi monarch will not permit American Jewish military personnel to enter the U. S.-financed Dhahran Air Base.

INTERFAITH PROJECT

WATERTOWN, N. Y. — Funds for the construction of an interfaith chapel at St. Lawrence State Hospital in Ogdensburg are being raised here by Protestant and Jewish organizations. The chapel is expected to cost about $250,000.

Expect Most of Egypt's Jews To Flee to Israel by Summer

NAPLES—Authoritative sources estimated today that 90 per cent of Egypt's Jews will have fled the country by midsummer and the Israeli government, in its most massive refugee program since the immediate postwar period, has earmarked three of her four passenger liners to transport them.

Many of the refugees reaching here said their first choice as a haven would be the U. S., but that they realized the door was closed. By April, it is expected the flood of refugees going to Israel "will total 1,500 a week."

As a first group of 700 boarded the Greek liner Mediterranean for the four-day voyage to Israel, a special committee of five arrived from Israel to "interview refugees for job placement and to estimate the coming exodus."

Moshe Haskell, director of the Jewish Agency for Palestine in Italy, estimated that 85 to 90 per cent of Egypt's Jews will have fled the country by summer. Haskell is in charge of the immigration program to Israel.

Of the 960 refugees who arrived from Egypt earlier this week on the liner Mizr, more than 90 per cent are leaving for Israel this week.

Haskell's estimate of emigration from Egypt coincides with estimates given this reporter in conversations with dozens of the refugees. Egypt's present Jewish population is between 40,000 and 50,000.

Haskell and other Israeli officials say Israel can accommodate its new immigrants. Last year immigration into Israel amounted to some 65,000 persons, mainly refugees from mounting Moslem nationalism and anti-Semitism in North Africa.

Evidence that the estimates of future refugees is to be taken seriously is seen in the fact that the Israeli shipping line Zim is planning to take three ships off regular runs in the spring and use them entirely for refugee traffic. The three ships will be chosen from among the liners Jerusalem, Israel, Zion and Artza.

Zionists to Form New Non-Party Organization

NEW YORK — Plans to form a new organization, an integral part of the World Zionist Organization, but without affiliation or identification with any political party in Israel, were announced by Judge Louis E. Levinthal of Philadelphia.

A statement of policy released this week announces a national convention, to be held in March, Judge Levinthal, Philadelphia jurist, veteran Zionist leader and member of the Zionist Actions Committee, is serving as Provisional Committee chairman of the new group. The Committee is operating under the name of The Independent Zionists of America with offices in New York City.

The new group's policy statement extolls American Zionists who made "important contributions to the founding of modern Israel," and pays tribute to "countless American Jews unaffiliated with any Zionist group" who have "given generous support to the Zionist ideal and to Israel."

The statement also refers to the decision of the World Zionist Organization's recent Jerusalem congress "to enlist the support of all friends of Israel by providing for the integration of non-party Zionist groups in the Zionist movement."

Citing the present "crucial period of history — when Israel is faced with political, military and economic dangers," Judge Levinthal declared: "There is now an urgent need for a liberal democratic organization representing the largest possible cross-section of American Jewry, primarily concerned with the welfare of the Jewish State as a whole and not with any particular political or economic group in Israel."

Judge Levinthal said that the organization expects to attract "American Jews who are demonstrating their friendship for Israel by their continued economic support, but who do not have a voice in the affairs of the Zionist movement — Jews who cannot participate in its equally important political and educational work because they are not enrolled — and do not want to be enrolled — in a partisan organization."

N. E. Regional Conference on Middle East to be Held Here

A New England Regional Conference on the Middle East situation will be held in Providence tomorrow evening and Sunday. It is being sponsored by the presidents of major American Jewish organizations.

Invitations for this conference have been issued from New York headquarters of the organizations.

The Saturday evening session will take place in the Garden Room of the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel starting at 8 o'clock. It will feature addresses by Dr. Emanuel Neumann, president of the Zionist Organization of America, and Miss Esther Berlitz of the Israel consulate.

The Sunday morning session will feature a discussion led by a panel of experts in the field of community relations.

This conference is one of many such meetings being held throughout the country to plan a continuing effort to convince American public opinion of the United States' stake in ending the violation of human rights and threats to peace in the Middle East area.

Case Asks U. S. Act to Let In Egypt's Jews

WASHINGTON — An emergency immigration quota open to Jewish "victims of Egyptian oppression" was demanded this week by Sen. Case (R-N. J.).

"Reports of discrimination and mistreatment of Jews in Egypt have given me great concern," Case wrote Sen. Langer (R-N. D.), chairman of a Senate Subcommittee on Refugees and Escapees. "I believe we should admit our fair share of legitimate victims of Egyptian oppression."

Adolph Held, national chairman of the Jewish Labor Committee, urged in a wire to Secretary of State Dulles that the U. S. take the lead in pressing for a UN inquiry into Egypt's treatment of Jews.

Held asked that the U. S. delegation to the UN Commission on Human Rights be instructed to call a special session to investigate charges by Jewish refugees from Cairo and Alexandria that they "were led through the streets in handcuffs while Arab mobs stoned and spat at them."

The committee's telegram said that these charges by Jewish refugees arriving in Naples and reports of establishment of "infamous concentration and internment camps for Jews, deserves the widest condemnation from our government and the free world."

"If the charges appearing in the American press are corroborated, it is incumbent upon our government to give moral leadership in condemning such policies," the committee said.

"We cannot successfully fight communism in the Middle East by permitting such indignities, easily recognizable as Soviet practices, to go unchallenged."

Praise Reichert For Resignation

SAN FRANCISCO — Rabbi Irving F. Reichert, a past president of the board of rabbis of northern California, was warmly praised by the board this week for his recent resignation as a vice-president of the American Council for Judaism.

The message of the rabbinical group praised Rabbi Reichert "for his courageous disclosure of the undeniable conduct in specific policies" of the anti-Zionist organization. In his resignation, he charged the Council wages "a private war" against Israel.

Dozen Families Give 2 Ambulances

NEW YORK — The tiny community of Bokharian Jews in New York has come up with a comparatively big gift to Israel — two ambulances, whose $8,000 cost has been borne by the dozen families comprising the Bokharian community here.

The two new, gleaming white ambulances were formally handed over to American Red Magen David for Israel, the supply and support wing of Israel's Magen David Adom, at a brief ceremony outside Bnai Beshuran Temple, New York, last Sunday morning. Dr. Israel Goldstein, rabbi of Bnai Beshuran, dedicated the two vehicles which were accepted by Dr. Charles W. Penberg, the Executive Director of American Red Magen David.

But there are small groups of Bokharian Jews not only in New York, but in Mexico, in Argentina, in London and in Paris.

The two ambulances, which are in addition to the group's other philanthropic actions, are, as Mr. Zaidich said, "our tribute to all the people of Israel. We hope to do more. This is just the beginning."

Plea to Keep Aqaba Gulf Open Gets U. S. Backing

NEW YORK — U. S. sources at the UN indicated this week they thought Israel had a compelling case in regard to the Gulf of Aqaba.

They were commenting on Israeli pleas that any withdrawal of Israeli forces from the approaches to the Gulf should not be followed by composition of the Egyptian blockade.

Egypt, after occupying the islands of Tiran and Sanaid several years ago, barred the gulf to Israeli shipping despite a written pledge to the U. S. that there would be no interference with freedom of passage. The two islands, which command the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba, were seized by Israel in the November fighting.

The same U. S. sources expressed doubt, however, that anything could be done by open Assembly debate to guarantee freedom of passage after an Israeli withdrawal from the islands and the nearby Sinai coast.

UJA Leader Says Europe 'Finished' in Eyes of Jews

VIENNA—Herbert A. Friedman, executive head of the United Jewish Appeal, says that "Europe in the eyes of Jews is finished for them."

Friedman's statement was made in Vienna when he announced that a campaign is under way to raise an extra $100,000,000 to meet the special needs of Jewish refugees from Egypt, North Africa and Hungary.

He said this amount would be in addition to the normal budget of $105,000,000.

Explaining the plight of the Hungarian Jew, Friedman said 14 per cent of the nation's Jewish population had fled the revolt-torn country. The exact number who have fled is 16,007, or double Austria's total Jewish population of about 8,000.

Friedman said he did not believe there was anti-Semitism in Hungary now, but that the Jews have been "twice persecuted — by the Nazis and the Communists."

"Therefore," he added, "when the Iron Curtain lifted they saw a chance to get out. Europe in the eyes of Jews is finished for them."

Friedman said that while Jews make up the greater proportion of escapees than any other group, a smaller proportion of them have left Austria.

Financial Problem

Of the total refugees arriving in Austria, 60 per cent have already moved out, he said, but of the Jews, only 4,400, or 25 per cent, have left.

"The world of Jewry," he stated, "must spend money for special Jewish problems such as kosher kitchens and religious and educational means."

He added: "The chief problem is one of advice, because the Hungarian Jews do not understand the world picture and the Jewish position."

"The Jews are anxious to go to the United States and Canada and Australia, only 100 elected to go to Israel because of the fear in the unsettled Middle East and also because they do not have many relatives in Israel."

Continuing, he declared: "Also, many are very young and are not being raised as Jews and lack the feeling of belonging to the Jews."

Position Stressed

Friedman and Moses A. Leavitt, executive vice chairman of the American Joint Distribution Committee, stressed that the world of Jewry does not want the Hungarian Jews to be a burden anywhere and the problem of where they shall go is great.

They said few Jews want Western European homes because they want to get off the continent of Europe and gradually the number able to go overseas will diminish and more must be turned to Israel.

Friedman declared that the AJDC takes care of Jewish refugees from the time they escape until resettlement in another country — which makes it difficult to estimate the money needed.

GJC Workers Seek Payment of Pledges

More than 40 volunteer workers met Thursday night at the home of Joseph K. Levy, chairman of the recently appointed Cash Collection Committee, at a meeting postponed from last week because of inclement weather.

The purpose of this committee, Levy explained, is to lead an all-out drive to collect maximum sums of cash on pledges made to GJC campaigns. He said that because of the persecution of Jewish citizens of Egypt by that country's government and the mass expulsion of Jews by the Egyptian government, Israel and the United Jewish Appeal agencies are in immediate need of cash to carry on the program of emigration and rehabilitation of helpless and oppressed Jews in Moslem and East European countries.

At the meeting, cards were distributed to the workers for collection of pledges for General Jewish Committee campaigns, and workers already have started contacting contributors who have not yet paid their pledges.

Rhode Island's Senator John O. Pastore has carried to the floor of the U. S. Senate a recent resolution passed by representatives of some 25,000 Jewish residents of the Greater Providence area that urged the United States and the United Nations to bring an end to the persecution of helpless Jews of Egypt.

In a speech in the Senate last week, Senator Pastore vigorously supported the resolution adopted by delegates representing 30 local Jewish organizations at a special meeting convened by the General Jewish Committee of Providence.

The junior Senator from Rhode Island not only quoted the resolution word for word but declared that it "is high time that something is done by the United Nations" in regards to the Arab-Israel problem.

Senator Pastore asked that the United States government support the United Nations so that justice and humanity shall return to the Middle East. He referred to the recent arrival in Naples, Italy, of 967 Jewish refugees from Egypt and described them as the proof and testimony of the torture and persecution of the Jewish citizens of Egypt by President Nasser and his Egyptian government.

In closing his remarks, the Senator asserted that "we must make sure that Egypt does not become a house of bondage. We must make certain that there shall not be a slaughter of the innocent anywhere."

Jewish leaders in Providence have expressed satisfaction and pleasure that the resolution on the plight of Egyptian Jews resulted in the first statement of this kind in the U. S. Senate. Henry J. Hassenfeld, president of the General Jewish Committee, telephoned Senator Pastore in Washington and thanked him on behalf of the Jewish citizens of Rhode Island for his prompt action on this important matter.

Here are the remarks of Senator Pastore as reprinted from the U. S. Congressional Record:

Mr. PASTORE. Mr. President, I am in receipt of a resolution from the General Jewish Committee of Providence, Inc., a resolution upon a subject which deeply disturbs me—as it must disturb every right-thinking person in the freedom-loving world.

The committee represents some 25,000 residents of greater Providence, and comprises 30 local Jewish organizations. The signers of the resolution are all my personal friends. The board of directors of the committee comprises a long list of distinguished men. It is a rollcall of men and women who have given devoted service to many public causes without consideration to race or creed. They are sincere citizens; they are loyal Americans. In their resolution they fervently addressed themselves to the rescue of Egyptian Jews suffering under the terror and violence of Nasser, deprived of the citizenship they have earned in Egypt, despoiled of their possessions, held as hostages or exiled forever from the Egypt they had called home.

I am sure that no one could improve on the moving language of the resolution, nor the true Americanism of the measures—five in number—which are respectively proposed. Therefore, I ask the privilege of incorporating the language of the resolution in my remarks. It reads as follows:

(The resolution was printed in full in last week's issue of the Jewish Herald.)

The following are the members of the resolution committee who drafted this resolution: Max Winograd, chairman; Bertram L. Bernhardt; Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen; Alter Boyman; Mrs. Irving Brodsky; Irving J. Fain; Joseph M. Finkie; Maurice W. Hendel; Harry Jagoliner; Judge Frank Licht; Mrs. Israel Mandell; Joseph W. Rees; Paul J. Robin; Rabbi Morris Schussheim; Milton Stanzler; Martin M. Temkin.

As befits its importance, this resolution received the front-page headlines in our local newspaper. By coincidence, in the same newspaper there was living confirmation of the charges, for even as this resolution was being drawn there came to anchor in the harbor of Naples, Italy, a rickety 7,000-ton ship bearing 967 Jewish refugees from the land of Egypt—967 victims of the violence of Nasser. This was the other newspaper story—no propaganda—the personal saga of suffering of men, women, and children whose only crime is that they are Jews. Here was the evidence of exile of many whose citizenship had been torn from them by threats and torture; who were deported, to be cast, stateless, on a troubled world. Here was proof of the confiscation of homes and all possessions, as all but a pittance of what they had earned goes to the coffers of Nasser, to suit his plans, to serve his purposes, to support his power. Here was testimony of torture, but these exiles might be called the fortunate few, for left behind them in the seven concentration camps of Egypt are thousands and thousands who, if they ever escape with their lives, will escape with little else.

The resolution very properly addresses itself to the President of the United States. His words still echoed, on January 6, in Providence and in Naples, when he said:

The United States was able to bring about a cease-fire and withdrawal of hostile forces from Egypt because it was dealing with governments and peoples who had a decent respect for the opinions of mankind.

Not in Providence, not in Naples, and surely not in the concentration camps of Egypt, will any Jew believe that the President meant to include Nasser in his praise. No. Every right-thinking man will believe that the President meant these to be brave, bold words which would stimulate and strengthen the oppressed, and put fear into the hearts of the oppressor.

Perhaps in Naples and Providence the message we heard here may have seemed to retreat from reality. Perhaps the people there might think the principal problem to be solved in the Near East is that of Arab-Israeli relations. There are many everywhere who share those views. To them the message would seem to tone down and taper off when the President said:

There are problems of Palestine and relations between Israel and the Arab States. It is not the purpose of the legislation I propose to deal directly with all these problems.

But the message does not shut the door in the face of these anxious people, for it goes on to say—

The United Nations is actively concerned itself with all these matters and we are supporting the United Nations.

It says also that the Secretary of State, Mr. Dulles, said as much on August 26, 1955. So the Providence resolution very properly addresses itself to action by the United Nations. For much has happened since August 26, 1955, and none of what has happened has been of help in Israeli-Arab relations. It is high time that something is done about it.

I quote a distinguished Catholic priest, Father Ralph Gorman, C. P., of the Passionist Fathers, who, in an article in Sign magazine in December 1956, said:

If there is to be peace in the Near East, the first problem to be solved is that of Israel and her Arab neighbors. Unless a lasting peace is made between them, very little benefit will be derived from settling questions of the Suez Canal or the Aswan Dam or other such problems.

This editor is not a staunch defender of Israel any more than he is a champion of Egypt. He accepts the facts of history when he declares:

The Arabs will have to acknowledge that the State of Israel exists and will continue to exist and that its people cannot be pushed into the Mediterranean or returned to the countries whence they came.

The Israelis must recognize the fact that they must live in the future surrounded by Arab nations and that they must make concessions if they want their country to be anything more than an armed camp in the midst of enemies.

So we very properly ask the United States to lend its voice and its vigor to the United Nations so that justice and humanity shall return to this troubled area, and a great step shall be taken toward a tranquil and stabilized Middle East, where we of America, who abhor war and love peace, can lead the way with our minds and our means to end hunger and disease for the Arab peoples. For their land and all the lands along the Jordan, Tigris, and Euphrates Rivers we can carry out the long-range water-power plans to make millions of fertile acres to bloom again as they did in antiquity. We have the assurance of Israel that she will abide by the action of the United Nations. We have the declaration of Nasser that he wishes to destroy Israel as a state. These views, I feel, will be composed in time. But, placing first things first, let us make certain that a state is not destroyed one soul at a time.

The American heart responds to oppressed people everywhere. We must make sure that Egypt does not become a house of bondage. We must make certain that there shall not be a slaughter of the innocent anywhere.

Mr. HUMPHREY. Mr. President, will the Senator yield for a question?

Mr. PASTORE. I yield.

Mr. HUMPHREY. Is it not true that the parole provisions of the present immigration law, the so-called McCarran-Walter Act, which the President is now utilizing wisely in the instance of the Hungarian refugees, are also available to the Jewish refugees from Egypt? In other words, has not the President the authority to use those parole provisions?

Mr. PASTORE. I answer my friend the distinguished Senator from Minnesota by saying that that is the case. I hope that those provisions of the Immigration Act will be used with the same sense of equality for humanity as they are being used for the benefit of other oppressed people.

Mr. HUMPHREY. I commend the Senator for his excellent remarks and associate myself with the general theme and spirit of them.

No 'Ideal' Marriage Says Psychologist

"The ideal romantic marriage of Hollywood and magazine stories makes a better movie plot than a true life situation", according to Dr. Harold Musiker, well known clinical psychologist, who last week opened the Jewish Community Center Young Adult Association's "Preparation for Marriage" series with a near-capacity enrollment of young adult men and women in attendance.

"This 'only girl in the world routine' or its 'only man' counterpart is hopelessly overdone", continued Dr. Musiker. "Actually, a person who is ready for marriage could probably make a choice from any one of several prospective mates and enjoy a happy and fruitful married life."

Open to all interested young men and women, the YAA "Preparation for Marriage" series will continue on alternate Wednesday evenings at 8 P.M., with the next session slated for Jan. 23. "Choosing a Marriage Partner" will be the subject of the series second program, with Dr. Musiker serving as discussion leader and David Regenstein as the evening's chairman.

A registration fee will be charged for the series of five programs, with only a minimum of additional registrations yet to be accepted.
