Over-Prediction

As Eddie Cantor humorously puts it, the country is suffering from over-prediction.

I do not care to add to the distress by further predictions, nor would I know how and what to predict, even though I wanted to. For aught I know, Mr. Hoover may be re-elected, despite the depression. I do not feel about Mr. Hoover in the way of that Hoover-Mellon story, they are telling.

Just a Story

It seems, according to this story, that Hoover and Mellon were walking down Pennsylvania avenue when the President suddenly stopped in front of a drug store.

"Lend me a nickel," said Hoover to Mellon.

"What do you want a nickel for?" asked Mellon.

"I want to call up one of my friends," said Hoover.

"Here's a dime," replied Mellon, "call up both of 'em."

Some Possibilities

As I was saying, I don't feel that the President is anywhere near as bereft of friends, as this story would have it, and I am quite sure that the public after all realizes that the depression is world-wide, and I don't know whether Hoover or the Democratic nominee will get the bulk of Jewish voters at the forthcoming voting test.

But if the Democrats do get in, which Jews are likely to get political plum? Here, I am trying to add to the "over-prediction" again—but what can you do? You know how it is.

I have a feeling that perhaps the best prize, in the case of Democratic victory, would come to Judge Cardozo, Chief Justice of the New York Court of Appeals. In the event of a vacancy on the Supreme Court, I suppose, no Democratic President, would fail to give Cardozo the preference for any Supreme Court position. It is generally admitted, that there is no better jurist in the country than Cardozo, and his political associations are Democratic.

And Some Others

Bernard Baruch would be another to come back into prominence. Particularly, if Ritchie of Maryland should happen to be the nominee and victor. You recall that it was at a dinner given by Baruch recently that the Ritchie Presidential boom was launched.

Should Newton D. Baker of Cleveland be the nominee, I suppose the most prominent Jewish friend of the administration would be a Rabbi—Abba Hillel Silver of Cleveland. I am told that Baker entertains a very high opinion of Rabbi Silver. Well, we seem to be going back to the silver standard, anyway.

If Roosevelt is the nominee and victor, the Lehman brothers, and I presume, Robert Moses, the Chairman of the Park Commission of New York, would be among those closest to the President.

Santa In New York

I am told that since the slump set in, some of the Jewish synagogues have found it unnecessary to employ "minyans" men. With unemployment rife, the idle naturally drift to the synagogue—to "daven" and talk.

But times must be even harder than I suspected, if a story that comes to my ears is true.

The central figure of the story is Santa Claus. One of those store San-

MAJOR COULSON TO REPLACE DON LEVINE SUNDAY AT CENTER

Noted Member of British Intelligence to Give Talk on "Famous Women Spies"

Major Thomas Coulson of the British Military Intelligence will take the place of Isaac Don Levine, who was scheduled to speak at the Jewish

MAJOR THOMAS COULSON

Community Center, on Sunday evening, Dec. 27, at 8:30 o'clock.

In a letter, mailed to the membership of the Center, Mr. Samuel H. Workman regrets this sudden change, due to the fact that Mr. Levine was forced to cancel all lecture engagements.

In making the substitution, Mr. Workman assures that Major Coulson is equal to the task and is reputed to be one of the finest speakers ever brought to the Center.

From childhood, Major Coulson has been a wanderer. He has visited almost every country in Europe with excursions farther afield as the spirit moved him. His familiarity with languages and his intimate knowledge of European peoples, combined with his knowledge of military matters, fully equipped him for the battle of wits when the time came to meeting cunning with super-cunning and plot with counter plot.

Major Coulson's first book, "Mata Hari," Queen of the Demi-monde, international spy and paramour of princes and cabinet ministers, became a best seller over night. Three printings were sold in one week as the public realized that for the first time a really authentic story of this world famous or infamous spy was available.

He will take as his subject, "Famous Women Spies." Members of the Center are urged to come early and show their course booklets at the door.

NO RACE PREJUDICE EXISTING IN CUBA; JEWS ARE WELCOME

Minister of Interior Denies Race Hatred Has Ever Existed Here; Envoy Refutes Anti-Semitism

Havana, Dec. 25—(JTA)—No race prejudice exists in Cuba and Jews are welcomed here, Dr. Octavio Zurbizarreta, Minister of Interior, stated recently in an interview with the correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

The correspondent was received in the presence of L. Santiago Trucio, military commandant, and the interview was arranged in connection with the recent reports of anti-Jewish measures projected.

The Minister of Interior pointed out that the majority of tourists to Cuba are Jews and that they have always been accorded a cordial welcome. "We make no distinction of race and nationality in Cuba, and there has never been any hatred in our country," Dr. Zubizarreta stated.

Disaster Lies In Wait For Jews Of Germany

By A. L. EASTERMAN

A mood of dark and sullen despair is gradually but inevitably creeping over the body politic of Germany.

For 13 years the German nation has brooded in resentment, suppressed and stifled, against what it has regarded and has been told to regard as the insidious and subtle persecution of a world of enemies. The full blooded Germany body, so well known in fact and fiction, has grown thin and wan. The cheeks have sunk, the girth has perceptibly grown less, the eyes have become bloodshot. The fires of a fever are burning in those eyes. It is the fever of suffering and the blazing fire is one of fear and hate like the look in the eyes of a patient in a delirium.

The crisis of these 13 years of sickness is about to be reached. Every impartial observer who has recently visited Germany and studied her internal situation at first hand has arrived at the one conclusion—that the climax of Germany's post-war ills has been reached and that there is grave and imminent danger that the main artery in the German brain will soon snap. Should that disaster actually occur the torrent of blood that will rush swirling through the head of Germany will send body and brain reeling in a frenzy of insanity that will end in their own destruction, and like a crazed being that runs amuck, will carry in its train the ruin and collapse of everything around and near.

Before many weeks will have passed 5,000,000 German workers will walk the streets in search of labor and will find none. At least 15,000,000 German women and children will cry to them for bread and will go hungry. One fourth of the entire population of Germany is near starvation and embittered to the point of despair.

Many have been the physicians that have sought to bring relief to the diseased and afflicted body of Germany. Some have brought a temporary easing of the pain. Specialists from America have brought the "cures" of a Dawes and a Young with "plans" to slow down the pace of the drain of Germany's financial blood that was being drawn off into the pool of reparations—the price of defeat and the prize of victory in the World War.

Home cures have also been tried. There has been the starvation diet of economy. There was the Stressman plan to draw off the French leech by gentle and persuasive ways. All have failed.

And as the disease has become chronic and as the patient, maddened by his never-ceasing agony, has grown restless and uneasy, he has turned aside, in his despair, from the orthodox physician and his orthodox remedies. Suffering Germany has turned to listen to the quack doctor with the quick, unorthodox remedy and to the charlatan with the glib tongue and the ready cure—all for every ill. Hitlerism and Communism have offered to take charge of the case and Germany seems ready to listen and place herself in their hands.

The situation in Germany today is a breathless race between the quacks for the right to take charge of the German sick room—and to dispose of the body in the event of death. Catastrophe threatens whichever wins—and victory for one or the other is inevitable.

Whatever the trouble-laden future holds for the German people, disaster lies in wait for the Jews of Germany. Round the corner of every grim German street, dark with strife or hunger, lurks a menace for the Jew.

Jewish eyes in Germany are watching nervously for the dread signs of the approaching clouds, Jewish ears are straining anxiously to catch the ominous sounds of coming storm, for clear signs have been given that the torrents of unrest, which threaten to sweep over Germany, carry with them the menace and the peril of misfortune for the Jews of that troubled land.

For the old raucous cry of the Middle Ages—"Der Jude"—the cry that rang through the dark narrow cobbled lanes of Mediaeval Europe and brought tragedy in its train, has again been heard in Modern Germany. The old search for the eternal scapegoat has started and seeks a victim. As of old the scapegoat has been found and once again it is the Jew. As on a perilous raft in the midst of a stormy boiling sea, our Jewish brethren in Germany wait for the seething, rushing, angry waves that threaten to sweep over and engulf them.

I had barely stepped off the train in the Potsdamer Platz station in Berlin when I came face to face with the realization that the Jew has been

So. Prov. Synagogue Observes Twenty-Fifth Year of Existence

The Congregation Beth-Israel Anchi Austria celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their founding with a supper in the Vestry of the Synagogue on Robinson street. Mr. Harry Lecht was toastmaster.

A feature of the occasion was the presentation of a set of engraved resolutions to Mr. Abraham Zeller-mayer and a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Zeller-mayer in recognition of their efforts in behalf of the Synagogue for the past 25 years.

Speeches of felicitation were delivered by the officers and by Rabbi Werner. Mrs. Samuel Resh, who was the first President of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Synagogue, was also the recipient of a bouquet of flowers.

JEW AND ARAB PROTEST RAILWAY DISMISSALS

Jerusalem, Dec. 25—(JTA)—Arab and Jewish Railway workers of the Jerusalem district held a meeting here to protest against the recent dismissals.

The meeting was addressed by Jewish and Arab leaders, who complained that the men who are being sent away were given no compensation for the years they had worked on the railways. Young men and vigorous men, who had entered the service ten years ago, were now invalids, with perhaps no prospects of other employment, it was pointed out.

Objections were raised to economies being effected through dismissals of the rank and file, whereas none seems to be contemplated in what proved to be most expensive, the employment by the railway of senior grade Britishers, and the exclusive use of British goods.

The visit of the Readings is being undertaken in behalf of the Palestine Electrification Corporation, an announcement from the office of Pincus Rutenberg stated.

Disaster Lies In Wait for Jews of Germany

thrust into the forefront of Germany's problem. On the bookstall, where one sees the mind of a people in miniature, whose shelves carry a nation's opinions and prejudices, its laughter and tears—there, in pride of place was prominently displayed a glaring volume wrapped in challenging and aggressive color, its title bold and aggressive was "The Jew In Our Economic Struggle."

Nothing could be more eloquent. At a glance the most innocent passerby learned what was at the root of Germany's troubled state. In some way, the Jew was responsible for the evil conditions of the Reich—she was in the throes of an economic struggle and the Jew was in the center of the arena—the author of the combat. I inquired why such a volume appeared on a station bookstall. "A much sought after work," I was informed, popularly priced and "sehr wichtig." "We have our distress and we have our Jews."

That was the reply of a typical Berliner, a working man of average intelligence, who reads his daily newspapers, and accepts what is written, who listens at a street corner to the politician on a soap box and believes what he is told. He is the average "German in the street" who is told that he is suffering from a grievous malady and who is ready to clutch at the straws which the scribblers and the political quacks hold out to him.

I found this same German in Berlin, in Cologne and in Dresden. I conversed with him in his shop, in his office, in his counting house, in the omnibus and in the train. He understands but little of the intricate complications of high international finance. He knows in a general way what reparations and war debts are, that they are a heavy burden on the state and are responsible to an extent for his having to pay more and heavier taxation than he had to pay before the war. He realizes supercially that many thousands of millions of marks have to be paid every year to his former war enemies and that down there on his southern frontier stands a crushing taskmaster—France—which is seeking to destroy his country. He knows in a broad fashion that the collapse of world trade has hit his country very hard and that the days of prosperity have vanished and left him poorer than he was. He accepts the fact of universal depression as a contributing factor in the difficult times he is passing through and as an element in his own depleted fortunes making life harder and darkening his future. He complains bitterly that the rich provinces on the Polish border have been stolen from him by the war treaties.

These facts the German in the street, unaccustomed to digging too deep under the surface of events accepts and understands as concrete symptoms of his economic disease. But the details are too difficult and subtle for his mental grasp. "Other nations since the war," he says, "are troubled by similar difficulties." "Why should we suffer so much more than they?"

The German sees himself caught in a trap from which he cannot escape. He observes and realizes that his powers of resistance have been cut off, that he has been deprived of his army, his navy and his air force and he cannot fight. War against his oppressors is unthinkable because it is impossible for him to do battle without weapons. His whole energy, which made him remarkable and once the envy of the world, has vanished. He seems unable to pull himself together—his vitality has gone. That is something he fails completely to understand—that is something within himself that has gone wrong. The machine will no longer work.

"What is the internal disorder that eats up his body and his strength?" he asks. "What are the political physicians to diagnose his mysterious ailment and discover the remedy?" "Why cannot they solve this terrible problem? Why are they powerless?" Suddenly the German heard of a new physician with a real remedy because he had discovered its cause. Adolph Hitler appeared out of the blue to bring the aid that Germany had searched for.

"Your disease," he cried, "is virulent. It is an old complaint and its cause is easy to find. You have a Jewish ulcer in your body. This rank growth draws off your good blood and sends out poison throughout your whole system. It lives and fattens on the pure red stream that flows in your healthy veins. It affects every part of your body, causing your limbs to fester and decay. The longer it remains within you, the greater the danger that it will finally destroy you. The cure for an ulcer, once you locate it, is to use the surgeon's knife—it must be cut out ruthlessly and completely."

That is the doctrine of Hitlerism. It is simple. The German understands it. It is preached at him day and night from a thousand street corners, from a thousand packed and excited halls, from a thousand newspapers—every day. The rest—reparations, war debts, lost territory, world depression, these are all intangible and complicated things. But the Jew—is a reality, he is here with the German, to see and to hear. He is a living entity, proved and understandable.

Take stock of your national life, says Hitler. Look at your banks—your money is controlled by Jews. They hold your factories and your workshops in their grip. They are the creditors of the state and the individual—they cannot move without the Jew. They grow fat on your earnings. They speculate with your money and when things go wrong—you suffer.

Your big business, your stores, your factories are run, controlled and financed by Jews. Your daily bread depends on this small but powerful people. When they are in difficulties, your livelihood is gone and you, your wives and your children go hungry.

They control your newspapers and blind you with false news and faked opinions. They use the press for their own ends and aggrandisement.

Above all, remember that Jews are not and never can be Germans. They are an international race with international aims. Judaism is a great sinister international plot to capture control of the world and enslave its peoples. Not being German, they understand little of German ideals and German hopes. They stand above and apart. Their interests are the interests of their brethren in France and England and America, whom they dominate and control.

If therefore France sternly demands her full pound of flesh in reparations and is adamant in getting them; if France takes no heed of Germany's distress and threatens to crush her, the villain, the usurer, is the old Jew Shylock in modern garb. One "authority" goes so far as to say that France is "one of the most Judaized countries of Europe." So that France's evil designs against the Reich are a Jewish plot to destroy the German people.

If German business collapses it is the Jew who has led to the destruction of Germany's prosperity.

If German banks close their doors it is the Jewish financiers who have swallowed up the savings and the investments of the thrifty hard-working workers and business men of Germany.

If America calls in the loans that the German State and German individuals have raised in the United States, are there not millions of Jews in America, brothers and blood relations of the Jews of Germany, who control "big business" and high finance, who have conspired to ruin the German Republic?

Was not Rathenau a Jew and where did he lead the long-suffered, war-battered German nation? His policy of peace in Europe through an understanding with France could be no more than a plan to sell Germany to her former enemies in perpetual slavery.

And was not Stressman, who carried on the work of Rathenau, married to a Jewess? Hence his policy of friendship with the hated Allies of 1914-1918. Merely another Jewish scheme to place Germany under the heel of her taskmasters.

Germany has rallied round Hitler. His "exposure" of the dangers that lurk at the very doors of every true German's home, has caught the public imagination and set the German brain on fire. He, of all the politicians, has opened the eyes to the menace that threatens to uproot all that Fritz and Hans hold dear and precious.

The German masses, just as the masses everywhere, like their thinking to be simple and concrete and sensational. If the cause is simple the remedy must be equally simple. And Hitler claims to be a man of the people. At any rate, he is a past master in the art of popular appeal. As he has fired the German imagination with the cause, so he has fired it with his solution.

The slogan "Down With the Jew"—the old, old slogan, has become the battle-cry of Hitlerism. It is shrieked from thousands of Nazi throats and from every Nazi news sheet in every corner of Germany. The cry has been taken up greedily until today in a million German trains burns the one blazing thought, "Down With the Jew." That is now the national policy. Nationalist Germany and Nazism is today the dominant force in the country. It is the popular wish, the general threat.

The greater the distress in Germany the greater the cry for vengeance, the louder the call for the scapegoat.

There is danger for the Jews of Germany if Hitlerism wins the day.

JEWISH NATIONAL FUND RAISES $30,000 IN POPULAR COLLECTION

New York, Dec. 25—(JTA) — That the economic depression was not accompanied by a corresponding depression in the sentiment of American Jews for the upbuilding of Palestine as the Jewish National Home was the comment of Nelson Ruttenberg, Deputy Police Commissioner of the city of New York and President of the Jewish National Fund of America, in announcing the results recently of the semi-annual popular collection in New York and other cities on Dec. 6th for the benefit of the Palestine Land Fund.

ADRIANOPLE JEWISH QUARTER IS FLOODED BY RAINS

INVITES U. S. TO TAKE PART IN LEVANT FAIR

Washington, Dec. 25—(JTA)—Max Seligman, Jerusalem attorney, is conferring here with the Department of Commerce regarding the possibility of participation by the United States government in the Levant Fair to be held in Tel Aviv, Palestine, from April 7th to 30th, 1932.

Mr. Seligman, acting for the promoters of the Levant Fair, extended an official invitation in their behalf, calling attention to the unusual trade prospects in the Middle and Near East.

Leaders of the World Union for Progressive Judaism

Dr. Claude G. Montifiore, President; the Hon. Lily H. Montagu, Secretary, and Dr. Israel Mattuck, Chairman of the Executive Committee, all of London, England, are three of the leaders of the World Union for Progressive Judaism. The organization has just notified American members of its governing body of the forthcoming annual winter meeting to be held on Jan. 18th, in London. The World Union was founded by Dr. Montifiore and the Hon. Miss Montagu in 1926. Its aim is to present the teachings of Progressive Judaism to those Jews who, because they feel out of harmony with the Orthodox presentation of Judaism, or for any other reason, have drifted into a complete indifference. The World Union is composed of nine constituent organizations from America, England, France, Germany, India and Australia.

King Carol Saves Jew by 10,000 Lei Gift

Bucharest, Dec. 25—(JTA) — How King Carol saved a Jewish worker, Moische Marmor, of Petrosani, from eviction and the loss of his property, is revealed here in the Roumanian press.

The Jewish worker, father of thirteen children, owed the government 10,000 lei in taxes on his property. Unable to pay, threatened with eviction and the sale of his home by auction, Marmor appealed directly to the King for aid. The entire family of Marmor was about to be ejected, when a messenger arrived bringing the 10,000 lei from King Carol's private treasury.

Touched by the King's generosity, the tax collectors determined to follow his example. Accepting only 1000 lei in full payment for arrears, they left the remainder with the impoverished Jewish family.

SOVIET READY TO ADMIT 12,000 JEWS FROM ABROAD

Minsk, Dec. 25—(JTA)—Soviet Russia is prepared to admit 12,000 Jews from other lands for settlement in Bira Bidjan, A. Merezhin, Secretary of the Comzet, government department for settling Jews on the land and industry, informed the plenary session of the White Russian Ozet here recently.

Merezhin expressed his opposition to the sentiment now prevalent in Jewish Communist circles that settlement work in Crimea be curtailed in order to advance the Jewish colonization if Bira Bidjan. The Comzet representative also opposed the dissolution of small Jewish farm collectives in White Russia for the purpose of compelling the Jews to migrate to Bira Bidjan.

Forty thousand Jewish settlers are required in Bira Bidjan, Merezhin stated. At present only five thousand Jews are colonizing the territory, he pointed out. He severely criticized those who "are anxious to establish a Jewish republic in Bira Bidjan as early as possible," emphasizing, however, that the 40,000 Jewish settlers must be recruited.

A 70,000 increase in the number of Jewish workers in Soviet industries in the Ukraine has been noted in the past year, Merezhin stated.

CUZA ASSAILS ROUMANIANS IN BRAZIL AS "JIDANI"

Bucharest, Dec. 25 — (JTA) — The fifty thousand Roumanians who live in Brazil are only "Jidani," asserted Professor Cuza recently in the course of a speech in parliament.

The anti-Semitic leader demanded the abolition of the Roumanian legation in Brazil on grounds of economy. When interrupted by Deputy Radiancu, who called out that 50,000 Roumanians are residents in the latter country, the anti-Jewish leader retorted that they are not Roumanians but "Jidani."

EFFORT MADE IN TURKEY TO ERADICATE PAUPERISM

Istanbul, Dec. 25—(JTA)—A regular monthly stipend will be paid to Jewish beggars in Turkey in order to eradicate Jewish pauperism and begging on the streets, it was decided recently at a special conference called at the initiative of the B'nai B'rith and attended by representatives of Jewish communities and Jewish institutions in Turkey.

An appeal will be issued to the Jews of Turkey not to give alms to Jewish street beggars in the future.

VAAD LEUMI EXECUTIVE MEETS WITH WAUCHOPE

OVER 100 JEWS ENTERED CANADA IN PAST YEAR

Ottawa, Dec. 25—(JTA)—A total of 19,390 persons entered Canada during the months, April to October, inclusive, which covers the season of active immigration, according to a statement issued recently by Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration and Colonization. This represents a decrease of 75 per cent. in comparison with the corresponding period in 1930 when 77,544 new arrivals were brought to the Canadian ports.

The Jewish immigration this year dropped to a very low level, 117 Jews entering Canada during the period, January to July; 38 during the months July, August and September and only seven during the month of October.

Gov. Ritchie Will Not Interfere In Probe of Anti-Jewish Attack

Baltimore, Dec. 25—(JTA)—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland made it clear that he has no intention of taking a hand in the investigation into the alleged attack upon Jewish students at the University of Maryland, College Park, by Christian students which is being carried out by H. C. Byrd, assistant to the President of the university, Dr. Raymond A. Pearson, at the latter's request.

"If the university authorities cannot handle the situation, I do not know what they can handle," the Governor said. "I don't know a thing about the attack and it has not been brought to my attention."

At the same time, Dr. Pearson announced that any University of Maryland students found to be responsible for the attack will be suspended from classes. The President of the university emphasized his belief, however, that the tossing of bricks through dormitory windows was not intended as an attack on Jewish students.

"If some one wanted to attack Jewish students, why didn't they go to some of the places where Jewish students live? Why did they pick out one of the dormitories?" Dr. Pearson queried.

"Some of our students might possibly have been responsible, although I don't think so," he reiterated. "But even if they were, I believe the whole thing was in the nature of a prank." Dr. Pearson asserted. There has been no trouble between Jewish and Gentile students at College Park, he underscored, adding that no one seems to take the recent incident seriously.

"If it had been in the nature of a real attack on some one, the affair probably would have been reported. But my office received no complaints at all," the President of Maryland University declared.

From other sources it is learned that there has been anti-Semitic feeling at the university in previous years, but it had been believed that this was dying out recently.

EMIL LUDWIG SAYS HE HAS RENOUNCED CHRISTIANITY

Berlin, Dec. 25—(JTA)—Emil Ludwig, noted German biographer, recently made it clear that he considers himself a Jew, in a letter written to Esiel Carlsbach, one of the editors of the "Israelitischen Familienblätter."

Dr. Ludwig stated that in 1918 he renounced the Christian faith to which he had been converted at the age of three. "I regard myself as a Jew and will always regard myself as a Jew, notwithstanding the fact that I do not belong to any Jewish community," he wrote. He emphasized that he renounced Christianity because in times of persecution he believes in allying himself with the race from which he is descended.

MAY FORM HITLER BRANCH IN HOLLAND

Amsterdam, Dec. 25—(JTA) — The Dutch authorities are warned against the possibility that a Hitlerite branch may be created in Holland, by the influential liberal daily, "Algemeen Handelsblad."

The paper points out that there is a Nazi cafe in Amsterdam where patrons are served by waiters dressed as Bavarians, with the word "Nazi" embroidered on their coats.

THE MENACE OF HITLER

Ever since his experiences in the last war, Adolph Hitler has had one fixation: that the defeat and breakdown of the German Empire was due to Communism and the Jewish profiteers, and ever since his entrance into public life in Germany, he has made himself an avowed enemy of the Jewish people. Not content with making their political and social life well-nigh unbearable, he and his followers are mad enough to cry out for the compulsory sterilization of Jews.

In Germany, Hitler and his Fascist party are doing their best to break down the Brüning-Hindenburg-Groener regime. The old cry of "Right is Might" is the catchword jargon which is bringing into Hitler's ranks all the idle and discontented men and women of the country. Hitler has but one clear objective, the disintegration of the German social and economic systems. Considering the man, himself, bigoted, with only a village school education, whose occupations have been house painting, carpentry, locksmithery and the like, we can hardly expect mature and reasonable policies in government. Yet, the harm this man is doing can scarcely be estimated. It is enough to make us want to pass laws to keep the uneducated out of politics altogether, and to provide a private purgatory for enemies of the people like Hitler.

There are numerous people in Germany, however, who realize that the Hitlerite doctrine of disenfranchising Jews, repudiation of the Versailles Treaty and the abolition of department stores is as ridiculous as it is tragic. With his many million followers, with his power in the Reichstag, with his brass bands, mass meetings, uniforms and free beer, Adolph Hitler forms the most morbidly grotesque figure in modern Europe. The present government hates and laughs at him. It forbade a recent radio address by him to this country, and yet it fears to drive him from the country.

There is no question but that Adolph Hitler, in the words of Louis Lipsky, represents the darkest forces of rampant chauvinism. With anti-Semitism as a plank in his National Socialist party, his rise to power would mean unlimited suffering for the Jews of Germany. That is why it is so important to disseminate to those who do not know the facts the real truth concerning the man and his powers. He and his party represent the two greatest evils of modern times: pernicious ignorance and brutal nationalism. It is such men as Adolph Hitler that men of mental strength and cosmopolitan spirit must make the targets of their wit and contempt, in order that others may see them as they are.

ta Clauses, whose job it is to stand near a Christmas tree and listen to children tell him what they want for Christmas.

And this particular Santa of whom I am writing looked the part to perfection. His generous bulk, his jovial face, his patriarchal beard, needed but little artificial trimmings, to visualize the Yuletide saint.

And so he stood—listening and chatting with the children.

A little girl came up.

"You want," spoke up Santy, "a walking doll and a box of candy?"

"Yes," smiled the little girl, "and a baby brother."

"A baby brother! I am all out of brothers. All I have is a little colored boy, but he's damaged. If you want, I can give you a pony instead."

"Yes, give me a pony instead," said the little girl.

"All right," said Santy. "Now, listen, little girl, do me a little favor. Here's three cents, go around by the corner and get me a Morgen Journal."

Tests for Humor

A professor up at Columbia has been studying reactions to humor. It seems his favorite test is to tell the following story and see how you laugh:

One person meets another. "How are you?" asks No. 1.

"First class," replies No. 2. "And how are you?"

"Steerage," is the reply.

I might suggest as an improvement to the test the method said to be used by Ben Bernie in buying humorous material.

Ben reads all of this humorous material first to his brother Dave. If Dave laughs, Ben doesn't buy it.

This and That

Nathan Ausubel's "Superman," a life of Frederick the Great, is soon to see publication. Ausubel at one time was a member of the Zionist organization publicity department.

Kenneth McKenna, who is really one of the Mielzinger boys of Cincinnati, used to be secretary before he went arty, to J. P. Morgan.

John Wexley, playwright, is leaving soon for Russia.

Jacob Leichtman, banker, is again looming in Jewish public life, after a lengthy abstinence.

Lillyan Tashman, cinema star, doesn't believe in dressing up your best in New York. They take good clothes too much for granted in the big metropolis, she says. You get more attention looking not so dolled.

Harry Schneiderman (American Jewish Committee) is recuperating from an operation.

Employees of the Zionist Organization have received no pay for five weeks.

Adolph Ochs is a frequent visitor to the White House.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT NOT ANTI-SEMITIC, CONSUL SAYS

Chicago, Dec. 25—(JTA)—The Mexican Consul in Chicago, Rafael Avelary, disassociated the Mexican government from anti-Semitism in a statement made recently to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

The anti-Semitic tendencies of the paper, "La Patria," are not the views of the government, the Consul said, pointing out that "La Patria" is not the official organ of the War Ministry, as stated in a news despatch from Mexico City.

SIR OLIVER LODGE LAUDS ABILITIES OF JEWISH RACE

London, Dec. 25—(JTA)—The Jewish race has a great faculty of producing men of great ability, Sir Oliver Lodge, noted British scientist, stated recently.

"The Jews," he said, "evince great sensitiveness to music and the arts, and presumably in other directions, exemplifying for instance in the case of Spinoza."

TO PUBLISH PAPERS ON PALESTINE IN JERUSALEM

London, Dec. 25—(JTA)—Documents pertaining to Palestine, will, under the new High Commissioner, be published simultaneously in London and Jerusalem, instead of in London as previously, it was announced here recently.

In the past, documents of vital concern to Palestine were published in London, and Palestinians were forced to depend upon cabled despatches for their information, until the arrival of the mail from England.

The Book Case

Comments on Jewish Authors and Their Books
By FRIEDA R. BIENSTOCK

"A Rabbi Takes Stock"

"A Rabbi Takes Stock," by Rabbi Solomon Goldman, is an unusual volume in more than one way. For the first point, Rabbi Goldman appears to be that phenomenon of the Rabbinical world,—a Rabbi who can really write interestingly about confining himself to racial or religious lines. For the next thing, Rabbi Goldman has not set out to be bombastic, rhetorical or literary. The result is that "A Rabbi Takes Stock" (Harper's, $2.50), is an eminently readable book and might easily have been written by a trained writer rather than a Rabbi. Does that sound patronizing? Well, you must admit that many of the volumes turned out by Rabbis might have done well with a little editorial pruning and general collaboration!

Rabbi Goldman has something to say. He says it. Not with the verbal flourishes and the eloquence of the popular Rabbi, but with the straightforward terseness and choice of language that only a real student of literature selects, has Rabbi Goldman accomplished his task. For once the task of a reviewer is easy. But not too easy. For one must be restrained in one's praises as well as in one's criticisms and it might be woefully easy to damn Dr. Goldman's work with too much praise! It is too vital a volume to be snowed under by mere words of approval. It should be read and digested by every thinking Jew. It contains plenty of controversial material. It presents many a viewpoint that other Jews may want to challenge and discuss. But the point is that Rabbi Goldman has really something to say in his volume. He is presenting, apparently, his viewpoints on important subjects without fear or favor! When he states in his introduction that "the fact is that the Synagogue has ceased to be a dynamo in Jewish life," he is stating his own credo,—not that, we feel certain, of influential parishioners. And when he goes on to state that the "most vital endeavors of Jewry today are initiated and promoted by the unsynagogued," he is stating a rather daring thought for a Rabbi, is he not? But reading further, we are convinced that Dr. Goldman is a rare specimen,—a Rabbi who is far more interested in the vital fluids of Jewish life and religion today than he is occupied with his own selfish interests.

Rabbi Goldman questions whether the drift away from the Synagogue has not been due to the fact that too much emphasis has been laid on creed and ritual, and not enough effort has been made to re-define Judaism in terms of life. Maybe that is why, Rabbi Goldman feels, the Jewish religion has lost touch with its greatest sons and its most vital movements. And he goes on to discuss,—"God and Israel," "Nationalism Versus Universalism," "Does Zionism Jeopardize Patriotism?" "The New Jew," "Russia's Stepchildren" and "Where the Jew Feels at Home." There is an excellent glossary and index to this volume. Our most sincere wish is that every Jew, and Gentile, too, who needs to read this volume might have access to it. It is too much to hope that it might become a best seller, yet in its way it is as indicative of the mind of a rare Rabbi as Lincoln Steffen's life story is of an unusual journalist. Maybe some of Dr. Goldman's fellow Rabbis will read it,—especially those classified as "professional Jews" and "commercialized religionists!" Maybe they will,—but don't hope for too much from a mere reading. After all what do they know of international Jewish problems and what grasp have they on the vital strains in Jewish life? I don't know whether Dr. Goldman's volume is made up of sermons he has delivered. I'd like to know. Because if that is the material that Dr. Goldman's congregation is receiving in the form of sermons I wonder if they realize their good fortune. For they are listening to the ideas and phrases of a preacher with an original mind.

Palestine Pavilion at the French Colonial Fair

"The eyes of the world look upon Palestine," is a phrase quite frequently heard at Jewish gatherings. Now it is not a mere phrase. It's a fact. The above picture shows a structure which quite resembles Rachel's Tomb, but it isn't. It is the Palestine Pavilion at the French Colonial Fair, recently opened in Paris, to which multitudes from all parts of the world are attracted daily.

The Palestine Pavilion is shared by the Jewish National Fund, which has a striking exhibit of its work and progress in Palestine; the Zionist Executive and the Palestine Potash Co., Ltd., which shows the progress of the work in wresting industrial life for Palestine from the Dead Sea. When the pavilion was opened recently, Baron Edmund de Rothschild was present and the well-known French statesman, Painleve, delivered an enthusiastic address on the ideals of Zionism and the Jewish accomplishments in Palestine.

Max Cahn

Because of his excellent record during his first year, Max Cahn, young genius of the violin, has been awarded a second fellowship at the

MAX CAHN

Juilliard Graduate School of Music in New York City, according to a recent announcement.

Mr. Cahn, now only 20 years of age, won the fellowship last year in a competitive examination series. He has studied violin for 11 years. Before going to New York, he had received his master music degree at the Chicago Musical College, where he also won a $500 violin in a music contest in which he appeared as a soloist with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

During the late summer he was presented twice as a soloist by the National Broadcasting Company from their New York studios. His studies in New York will continue under Paul Kachanski, head of the Violin Department of the Juilliard School, and internationally known virtuoso. During his studies at the Chicago Musical College he was under the guidance of Leon Sametini, one of the few great violin pedagogues of the world today, and of the late Leopold Auer, who was at the time of Cahn's attendance guest teacher at the Chicago Musical College.

Young Cahn is a native of Nashville, where his father, Ellis Cahn, is leader of the choir of the Friday night services conducted there by the Y. M. H. A.

CAR OWNERS DEMAND VALUES—not Claims!

GUM-DIPPED CORDS
Every cord in Firestone Tires is Gum-Dipped. This patented extra process penetrates every cord—cements every fiber with pure liquid rubber. Gum-Dipping increases the flexing life of the cords—minimizes internal friction and heat—increases the strength of the tire body—and gives longer tire life. Only Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires give this Extra Value.

TWO EXTRA CORD PLYS UNDER THE TREAD

This patented construction of Two Extra Cord Plys under the Tread in Firestone Tires insures a stronger bond between Tread and Cord Body and greater protection against Punctures and Blowouts. This new, improved "all cord" construction anticipates the old-fashioned cross-woven fabric construction used by others.

MOTORISTS are finding the Greatest Values in Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires. Ever since Firestone and Firestone Dealers began advertising the true facts about tire quality and construction and actually demonstrating the Extra Values in Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, distributors of special-brand mail-order tires have grown bolder and bolder with misleading claims and comparisons in the desperate effort to interest car-owners.

Car owners bought more Firestone Tires in May, June and July, than in any like period in history. This clearly shows that car owners are interested in Firestone Extra Values and are not interested in comparisons based on an almost obsolete tire size—confusing laboratory analyses—meaningless definitions—impractical challenges with unfair claims of twenty-five per-cent savings—and deceiving price comparisons.

Why risk a tire of unknown manufacture when you can get the Extra Quality, Extra Strength, and Extra Safety of the special patented construction features of Firestone Tires—Gum-Dipping, and Two Extra Cord Plys under the Tread?

You get these Extra Values—plus our Service and the DOUBLE GUARANTEE of Firestone and ourselves—at no more cost!

Drive in today.—We have sections cut from Firestone Tires, special-brand mail-order tires and others.—See the evidence.—Take nothing for granted.—Judge for Yourself.

SPORTING WORLD

NEWS WRITTEN FOR THE JEWISH HERALD BY GEORGE JOEL

Levinsky Talks It Over

"I have an ambition, a burning one—it's to be the heavyweight champion of the world. Not since the ancient bare knuckle days of Dan Mendoza has a Yiddish fellow reigned supreme. Old Joe Choynski was plenty hot as a fighter, but even that great battler failed to reach the throne," the speaker was King Levinsky, the Chicago heavyweight, who was in New York waiting for his second meeting with Tommy Loughran. While the garrulous big fellow spouted his stuff in the offices of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, he didn't know that your intrepid correspondent was among the newshounds gathered for the session and was not talking for Jewish publication.

Listen to him talk and you won't doubt his sincerity. Of course the Jewish business makes good copy and Levinsky is anxious to be champion for a number of other reasons, but to be the first American Jew to gain the title is really one of his most cherished hopes.

King Levinsky was born Harry Krakow. He first saw the light of this world in a Bronx, Prospect avenue flat. But before he was able to realize what it was all about his family moved to Chicago and he spent his boyhood there. Old Man Krakow ran a fish market on Maxwell street and the little fellow learn to coke a herring, rip a pike and skin a bass, before he knew his Alpha Betas. He first became conscious of the power in his fists when he was fifteen. An obstreperous gentleman happened into the market and complained loudly, unjustly and peevishly about the quality of the Krakow fish. This was treason to Harry's ears, and the boy went for him. Reaching over the counter he connected with the customer's chin and the customer connected with the sawdust. Harry then decided to take up fighting.

Entering the amateur ring in Chicago, Harry was a complete flop. He couldn't win a fight, but wisely figured if he must get smacked around he might just as well get something more than just bruises. He had lost more than twenty fights when he broke into the professional ring. His change into the money seemed to do something to his fists and in a very short time he was winning fights with regularity.

At that time, Al Lippe, manager of Battling Levinsky, told Harry that if he continued to use the Levinsky name he would sue him, but after the young man grabbed the headlines with a knockout over Leo Lomski, Battling Levinsky himself wired Harry and told him to use the name forever.

King Levinsky is only 21 years old. He is managed by his sister, the buxom Lena Levy, who not only takes care of all the financial details of his career, but also acts as his cook. "She always was the business head of the family," said Harry, "and she certainly has been a good manager for me. In two and a half years, I have netted $75,000 in purses."

The consensus of opinion about Levinsky seems to be that he is as fresh as Jack Sharkey, talks even a better fight than Maxie Baer, packs a hefty wallop, has improved steadily and obviously looks like a comer.

Berg Back In London

You can hardly blame Jackie Kid Berg, the English Jewish lightweight, for deserting these inhospitable shores. After a disastrous year in which he lost his girl, his money and his junior lightweight crown, Jackie returned to London and reports from that side of our Atlantic are to the effect that he is doing nicely. He recently gained a technical knockout over a French fighter named Baudry, who, after taking a thorough trimming decided that his shoulder was sprained sufficiently to warrant his quitting.

Stein Finally Throws Freeman

No! this is not to announce that the wrestling match between the Jewish matmen, Herb Freeman and Sammy Stein, which we reported in this column last week, is still going on. The boys really did stop but the other night they met again. This time there was a decision and it was the most important of Stein's career. He won over Freeman after a gruelling bout that lasted 35 minutes. Stein not only received the award, but also a very pretty cauliflower ear which was in bloom before he got to his dressing room. It was a grand exhibition.

Hakoahs Score In Benefit Game

The benefit game between the All-Star Hakoah and New Bedford soccer teams was won by the Jewish team, 3-1. Played to raise funds for the Sports Stadium in Palestine, the financial results were slight. A heavy rain kept all but 3000 fans away. The absentees missed a thrilling soccer game and a couple of fist fights between the players. The Maccabean Association of America sponsored the event, but hope to recoup when the big track meet takes place next month.

Chatterings

Among the football players overlooked in our All-American team was Irwin Cornsweet, third of the brothers who played guard on the Western Reserve team. I am old that Irwin shows promise of developing into a first-class lineman.

Peter Margolies, one of the countries youngest and most intense football experts, threatens to show me up with his All-Jewish team.

Dick Feldman, one of the stellar Mexican athletes of Syracuse, is now living in Boston and is in the bond and stock business. Dick was a competent, though modest tap dancer in his collegiate years. He wrote me a letter which I will answer sometime.

The record for playing golf continuously is held by Leo de Korn, former Pennsylvania minor sports star. Mr. de Korn holds another record—not so much publicized—that of breaking the greatest number of ballroom chairs in the Ritz Hotel in New York City.

Mike Meister, former football star of Washington Lee, took unto himself a wife recently.
