Wise Assails Foes of Congress Referendum

New York—The American Jewish Committee was denounced by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, president of the American Jewish Congress, for its opposition, "on behalf of Americans who are Jews, to a referendum to be held by the congress later this month on the question of combining all American Jewish groups into one body for the defense of Jewish rights.

"They go back to the tragic cowardice of the German Jews who declared over and over, 'We are not Jews, but German citizens of Jewish faith,' " Rabbi Wise said. "Now, I am not an American citizen of Jewish faith. I am a Jew. I have been an American for sixty-three of the sixty-four years of my life, but I have been a Jew for 4,000 years."

Rabbi Wise spoke at the Commodore at the twentieth anniversary dinner of the American Jewish Congress.

Youth Aliyah Project Lauded by First Lady

New York—The Youth Aliyah project for removing children from European lands of persecution to Palestine was hailed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as giving "real hope for future security to children, many of whom have come from areas where life has been extremely precarious." In her syndicated column, "My Day," the First Lady referred to the committee of one thousand organized by Hadassah to rescue 1,000 children in the next six months.

Rich Jews in Berlin Begin Listing Assets

Berlin—Wealthier Jews are being called to police headquarters to make out forms specifying properties they hold in excess of 5,000 marks ($2,000) under a recent decree of the Economic Ministry, it was learned today.

It is necessary to specify agricultural and real estate properties and securities separately.

Under the decree, which prescribes registration of properties held by all Jews—German and foreign—in excess of 5,000 marks each, Field Marshal Goering as dictator of the four year plan of self-sufficiency is authorized to "utilize" such properties.

Extend Aryan Ban To Horse Racing

Berlin—Agriculture Minister Walter Darre has extended "Aryanization" to include trotting horse racing, it was announced today.

A prominent Jewish art dealer has sold his famous stable, it was reported, to the Berlin representative of an American chain store company.

Swastikas on Hospital Chimney Being Removed by Anti-Nazis

New York: Universally accepted as a symbol of well-being before the advent of Hitler, the swastikas on the towering smokestack of the New York Hospital, which have plagued anti-Nazis in recent years, are now being removed.

The swastikas were built into the 335-foot chimney in 1927, long before the rise of the Nazi dictator in Germany. However, it became an eyesore to so many anti-Nazis, that 100 of them raised the money for having them removed. So numerous

1938 Religious Caravan

Five Students Embark on Cross Country War Against Secularism

Cincinnati—Five upper classmen of the Hebrew College in Cincinnati left this week on a trip that will take them to the Pacific Coast and back to Cincinnati as representatives of the parent body of American Liberal Judaism. They will preach, conduct services, organize religious schools and attempt to help iron out spiritual and communal difficulties among the Jews of small, isolated communities throughout the Middle and Far West.

Above, the five caravaneers are pictured in front of their trailer which will serve them as home, chapel and headquarters.

Family Gangs Up on Bandit who Attempted to Rob Their Store

New York—One of the little family stationery stores in Brooklyn was held up by a gunman with the result that the hold-up man is badly battered and in a cell and the nickles and dimes in the cash register at the time of the hold-up are still there. The family united to subdue the gunman and did a thorough job.

The store is run by Samuel Lessow, 54 his wife Celia, 48, and their son, Jacob 24. Samuel was sitting near the door last night when the hold-up man came in. Mrs. Lessow and Jacob were in the back room playing cards.

Samuel didn't see the pistol at first because he didn't have his glasses. He saw it when the hold-up man said, "Get back, get back to the back room."

Samuel grabbed the gun and began to yell. His wife and Jacob dropped their cards and ran to help him. As they scuffled the holdup man and all the Lessows fell through the door and down the steps to the sidewalk. The pistol rolled away and Mrs. Lessow pounced on it.

She used it like a hammer on the holdup man's head and shoulders until her son said:—

"Stop, mama, or you'll kill him."

When a policeman came running up the holdup man was glad to get away from the Lessows and into the hands of the law. He said that he was Clifford Alrick, 24, of 552 Central Ave., Brooklyn, that he had been out of work for three months and that he had decided to try a holdup when he found the pistol in a vacant lot. It's an old story to the cops.

Liverpool Dept. Store Boycotts Nazi Goods

London—Sir Frederick Marquis, chairman of the great department store of Lewis's of Liverpool, announced this week that the firm would boycott German and Austrian goods.

"I will scour every market in the world," Sir Frederick said, "before I will do anything to contribute to the economic well-being of a country that is content to have a man

Heifetz Enters Film Career by Revolving Door

Hollywood—Jascha Heifetz' film career took on the aspects of a merry-go-round this week.

For the third time the noted violinist was informed of a change in plans for his first picture.

Samuel Goldwyn originally signed Heifetz to play "The Great Music Festival." But MGM announced plans for "The Great Waltz" and Goldwyn's "Festival" did a fade-out.

Then there was talk that Heifetz would portray a Viennese expatriate in "The Exiles." But Goldwyn offered the story for sale to another studio.

Today Heifetz learned that everything is at last ready for his screen debut in August. The picture will be made from I. A. R. Wylie's story about young folks after their graduation from college.

German Boy Saved From Deportation

Rochester—A German-born youth was saved from deportation to his homeland when Representative George B. Kelly, of Rochester, intervened to save him. He is Alfred Weser, 18, son of an American citizen.

Born in Hessen-Nassau, Germany, in 1920, Weser was brought to Rochester by his father, Otto, in 1928. Five years later he went to Germany for an education. Dissatisfied in Germany he tried to escape several times and was sentenced to work on a farm. Finally he was released and he stowed away on a ship. In jail here the youth told reporters a return to Germany would mean concentration camp or death.

Lovelorn Couple End Lives in Lake

Rockville, Conn. — Parents this week could ascribe no reason why a girl, 19, and a boy, 22, sweethearts for more than a year, drowned themselves in Snipsic Lake, Tolland.

The bodies of Miss Alice Rosenberg and Henry Aborn were found late yesterday after Miss Rosenberg's closest girl friend, a college student, rushed home with a letter which read:—

"When you receive this letter ... Henry and I will be in a very happy state. We are going to our heavenly home. I leave you loads of love. Don't grieve for us, for we are very happy."

Yankee Troupers at Lake Tarleton Club

The Lake Tarleton Club has again made arrangements for the Sunday Night presentations of the Yankee Troupers one of New Hampshire's most noted summer troupes who will begin their second season's presentations in Tarleton Hall. Organized 9 years ago by Glen Claverly and Josephine Holmes they have made a reputation for the furthering of unknown's works and several of the theatre's stars of today found their first opportunities with this group.

King to Revise "Open on Saturday" Law

Tripoli.—Revision of the law which obliges the Jews of Tripoli to keep their establishments open on Saturday was promised by King Victor Emanuel to a delegation of Jewish leaders that called on him during his state visit to this Italian North African colony. The King was reported to be greatly pleased with the reception accorded him by the Jews and after receiving a pledge of loyalty and a petition asking for the revision of the law promised that he would have it amended.

Exempt Italian Jews From Registration

Berlin—General Goering's decree ordering all Jews of whatever nationality to register property holdings in Germany and Austria does not apply to Italian Jews, it was learned here.

Italian Jews are exempt from the decree because of a special clause in the recently signed Italo-German accords.

Reich Holds Property Of Jewish Emigrants

Forbids Transfer Of Their Assets

Berlin—The Economics Ministry in a decree forbade Jewish emigrants to transfer property until further notice.

The newspaper Berliner Tageblatt said that the decree would prevent Jews from circumventing the recent decree requiring them to register property they possessed in excess of 5,000 marks ($2,000). It was suggested that Jews might have transferred their property in Germany to non-Jewish foreigners.

Field Marshal Goering, as dictator of the four-year plan of economic self-sufficiency, was authorized in the registration decree to "utilize" Jewish property.

It was suggested that foreign Jews might be exempted from the latest decree and that Jewish property under 5,000 marks might be exempted.

The figures show that Jewish attendance dropped from 17,134 in 1936 to 13,681 in 1937, the decline being attributed to emigration and segregation. At the same time the number of private Jewish schools increased from 60 to 76.

The Benefit of Nazism

Nazi authorities, co-operating with the Hitler controlled labor front have started a move to eliminate small trades-people and artisans. Men and Woman of these small shops and trades will be given employment with big industrial firms.

In the early days of Hitler, the small merchant and factory-owner was promised protection against big firms. Now, it becomes "undersirable" and "old-fashioned" to allow free competition. Nazism marches on!

The Nazi Rash Spreads

While the eyes of Europe were focused on the municipal elections in Czechoslovakia, the Union of South Africa elected a new Parliament in which the United Party of Premier Herzog and Vice-Premier Smuts won 111 seats out of a total of 150.

The reactionary and anti-Semitic Nationalists of Dr. F. Malan, a party that represents the Boer extremists, won 26 seats. On the face of it, it seems that there is nothing to fear from a party that is so heavily outnumbered.

But closer analysis reveals that the total vote for all Nationalist candidates was not very much less than that polled by the 111 United Party candidates. What is more, the 26 Nationalists in the new Parliament represent a 40% increase over the party's previous representation.

Thus it is evident that Malan has made considerable headway. His chief plank is anti-Semitism. But his real objective is the separation of South Africa from the British Empire.

On top of Malan's anti-Jewish agitation there is also the outright propaganda of Nazis who are moving heaven and earth to win back for Germany, Southwest Africa.

The present situation in South Africa is giving serious concern not only to Jews but also to Great Britain.

The exponents of Democracy and liberalism are still in the ascendant but important events impend in that other U. S. A., the Union of South America. The future of the British colonies on the dark continent hangs in the balance.

Schwartz Defies A Rothschild Demand

Paris—A demand of Baron Robert de Rothschild, president of the Paris Jewish Consistoire, for the elimination of the scene in which the Communist anthem, the "Internationale," is sung in the Yiddish play, "Brothers Ashkenazi," was refused this week by Maurice Schwartz, star and producer of the play which had a long run in New York.

Baron Rothschild insisted that the scene be deleted because of his fear that inclusion of the Communist song would identify Jews with Communism and thereby invite anti-Semitism.

Legion Will Halt Race Persecution

New York—Assailing both Communism and Nazism as enemies of democracy, Daniel J. Doherty, national commander of the American Legion, told the Advertising Club that "we in America are not going to allow any single race to be singled out for persecution."

Referring to the German-American Bund as "an organization in this country which has the avowed purpose of eliminating a certain race," Mr. Doherty said "the weight of public opinion should be thrown against such an organization. Who knows but that tomorrow the race from which you spring may be singled out?"

Cantor to Aid Youth Aliyah in England

Hollywood—Eddie Cantor revealed this week that his summer vacation will be spent in England, where he will raise funds for transporting 500 Jewish children from Germany, Austria and Poland to Palestine.

"I've helped get 227 out of Germany and Poland," said the comedian, "and I'm going to raise enough money to go over my quota of 500 on this trip."

Jack Benny, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Al Jolson, Ted Lewis and Sophie Tucker are working in conjunction with Cantor in his campaign.

NOVELETTE

You tried to make a lady out of me
And darn it all, I really tried to be—
It cost my fun—and personality.
What was I thinking of?

You told me not to rush—that haste makes waste
Red finger nails were out—such awful taste!
I swore just once—and found myself disgraced.
My saints above!

You talked of symphonies and art—
I breathed much easier—apart!
But even so, you really had my heart
My turtle dove...

And when you made me perfect to a hair
They'd take me for a lady anywhere
Why then, my dear, I got the well-known air.
And that was love!

I waited several months to see
Just who would substitute for me—
And she was what I used to be.
What irony!

BUND NOTES

Delving into the legal aspect of the German-American bund, we were not too surprised to discover that in Newark, N. J., there's a highly respected attorney of German ancestry by the name of OTTO STIEFEL, who's the New Jersey legal representative for FRITZ KUHN, fuhrer of the Bund... From a landsman of Stiefel we learn that his father, EDOUARD STIEFEL, was a Jew who hailed from Rheinpfalz, but his mother was a Christian... EDOUARD came to America some 50 or 60 years ago, and was an agent in New Jersey for Anheuser-Busch beer... A cousin, DR. BENNO STIEFEL, is a prominent gynecologist in New York and is known as a Jew... Another cousin belongs to one of N. J.'s leading Reform temples...

SECTS AND SEX

A housewarming party was given last Sunday by FRANKIE Slepko, at his new summer camp, located in the wilds of Swansea... Came the noon hour and Frankie donned an apron and went domestic—preparing a dinner that would put any chef to shame... His guests included FAY and ROLAND BLOCK, EVELYN JOSEPHSON, MARY GOLDENBERG, STUTZ WINOGRAD, RUTH JAGOLINZER, SHEP DRESSLER, HAROLD BILLET, LOUIS ADLER, EVELYN HALPRIN, PEARL KAPLAN, FRANK BARAD, LAURA WINOGRAD and HAL STANZLER... Bon mot of the week:—From England and Scotland we get sects... From France we get sex"...

LOCAL PERSONALODDITIES

If JERRY COHEN should stare at you in an odd manner, it's only because he's looking for candid camera candidates... MEL KOPPE is law-office-hunting... ROY FISHMAN and GLADY BERNSTEIN with BURT FINBERG and IRMA KOPLAN made a foursome at the dog track the other nite and contributed a few shilling... SAM BANDER is currently being bothered by a la bell la Grip... Ditto EV COWEN... Get a lo to the new trousers that FRANKIE GOLDSTEIN has purchased for summer wear, with a 24-inch bottom... Plenty of room for the breezes... BERNIE JENSKY, the sissy, played golf one afternoon—and now his hands are covered with adhesive tape, to protect his blisters...

HERE AND THERE

They're the same throughout the ages: In Queen Shub-ad's tomb, built 5,000 years ago in Sumaria, was found a vanity case containing a spoon for scooping rouge, a metal stick for manicuring and a pair eyebrow tweezers... Attention vacation-bound lads and lassies!—A call to our vacation editor can save you a lot of time and trouble—and perhaps a little bit of money... The newlywedded SMITHS enjoyed the Magic Key broadcast last Sunday afternoon, and took in BILLY ROSE'S "CASA MANANA" the evening previous... Civic pride item:—Yuma, Arizona goes St. Petersburg, Fla. one better by offering, not only free newspapers but also, free restaurant meals on any day of the year when the sun fails to shine... Attention haberdashers:—Scarfpins, or what grandpa called stickpins for neckties, are on their way back to fashion, our spy in London's Bond Street reports...

BEHIND THE SCENES

The papers missed a swell story when they overlooked the recent death of Lemberg of Leibush Wahl, a direct descendant of that Saul Wahl who, according to legend, was king of Poland for a night during the Middle Ages... The recent blighting of the romance between Prince Michael Radziwill and a Polish Jewess gives the Wahl legend even more timely interest, for Wahl became king through the influence of a Radziwill whom his father had befriended....

Palestine Has 9,000 Unemployed Jews

Jerusalem—According to Haaretz, there are at present between 8,000 and 9,000 unemployed Jews in Palestine. In Tel Aviv, the number of Jewish unemployed is between 3,000 and 4,000, in Haifa between 1,500 and 2,000, in Jerusalem there are about 600 Jewish unemployed, and in the colonies over 2,500. In the colonies the position of the Jewish unemployed is particularly bad, the paper states.

Providence College Graduates 7 Jews

Only One Will Study Further

Out of a graduating class of 147 (15 of which were members of the extension school) the Dominican College gave degrees to seven Jews. Six received Bachelor of Philosophy degrees and the other, John Joseph Lury, a Bachelor of Science diploma.

Only one is not a resident of Providence and its neighboring towns. He is Sheldon Lubinsky of 746 Hood Street, Fall River, Mass. Five of the seven concentrated in social science and pre-law. But only one of the quintet, Samuel Harold Stein of Meni Court, this city, has intentions of furthering his studies in law.

Of the six philosophers, the sixth is the lone student who did not concentrate in pre-law. He is Israel Samuel Siperstein of 281 Taunton Avenue, East Providence.

The three remaining graduates are Irving Bernstein of 135 Carr Street, Maurice Irving Chorney of 152 Evergreen street, and Sanford Israel Lichtman of 174 Jewett street.

Stein, Bernstein, and Lichtman are alumni of Central High school; Chorney claims Hope as his alma mater; Lubinsky came from Durfee High Fall River, Mass; Siperstein from East Providence High; and Lury went to Classical High.

Several hundred people jammed the auditorium of the gymnasium to witness the impressive ceremonies.

The processional march consisted of officers, teachers, members of the Center Board, alumni association, students in the seventh grade, and the children's school choir.

IN WESTERN EUROPE

A modern authority assures us that "the Jews had settled in Western Europe before many of its typical inhabitants had emerged from Asia, and before others had crossed the Central European Plain or had traversed the North Sea to invade the West."

Nazi Censors Purge Calendar Mottoes

Berlin—Nazi authorities have purged the calendar pad, it was learned today.

Censors have interested themselves in the time-honored mottoes which gave a new, bright thought to the business man as he looked at his calendar pad each day.

Nazi student publications pointed out that many mottoes emanated from pre-Nazi notables and not always of pure "Aryan" origin.
