We Must Do Our Share

Every day thousands of people in Providence and Cranston are faced with disasters of all kinds. And every day agencies in our cities are striving to prevent these disasters and to help those who are suffering. These charities must be kept on the job in 1940!

The disasters of war are overwhelming and terrifying. In many countries and particularly in war times, the individual loses his importance and becomes an infinitesimal part of a huge machine.

But we in America still have a deep concern for the individual — for his right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The strength of America lies in our basic belief in the worth and dignity of the individual. The future of our nation depends on the opportunity we give to individuals today to develop their personalities and their abilities. For through individuals come strong families, strong communities and a strong country.

The greatest job facing the people of Providence and Cranston today is to provide adequately for the needs of our own people. Government will do its share by providing a minimum of clothing, food and fuel for the unemployed. But each of us must do our share by supporting our Community Fund agencies.

No one knows what will happen in 1940. But we must make sure of one thing now. We must guarantee to our own people that they will not look to us for help in vain. We must keep our hospitals going, our nurses on the job, our settlement houses and day nurseries open daily.

We must continue these services on an increased level to make sure that no one in our community goes without help.

Jr. Hadassah Will Meet on Nov. 6

At a board meeting of Junior Hadassah, held on Monday evening, announcement was made that Miss Pauline Englander, of New Jersey, outstanding youth Zionist speaker, will be guest at the next regular meeting of the organization, to be held on November 6 at the Biltmore Hotel.

Miss Englander, who lived in Palestine for several months in 1935, was winner of the 1939 Junior Hadassah scholarship for a year's study in Palestine, but due to war conditions she was prevented from sailing.

A skit, under the direction of Miss Celia Kapelow, will be presented at the meeting.

It was announced that Junior Hadassah will sponsor a play to be given by the Repertory Players on December 11 and 12. Miss Esther Travis will be chairman, with Miss Ann Port as co-chairman.

Youth Aliyah Brings in 6,175

LONDON. — A total of 6,175 Jewish boys and girls will have been brought to Palestine by the end of October through the Youth Aliyah movement, according to a biennial report prepared for delivery before the organization's third world conference which was cancelled because of the European situation.

R. I. Beneficial Unit Plans Celebration

Will Observe 35th Anniversary

The Rhode Island Workingmen's Beneficial Association will observe the 35th anniversary of its founding with an all-day convention and celebration to be held at the Arcadia Ballroom on Sunday, October 29, it was announced this week by Sydney J. Hoffman, general chairman.

To Honor Charter Members

Special honors will be conferred upon the four living charter members who were instrumental in the formation and the progress of the organization during the past 35 years. The men to be honored are Louis M. Grant, Simon Wolk, Frank Scoliard and Max Rosen.

The growth of the R.I.W.B.A. has been steady and it ranks as one of the largest Jewish fraternal and benevolent groups in the state, Mr. Hoffman said in his statement on the anniversary. Its charter limits membership to 499 and many times a "waiting list" was necessary to handle the many applicants.

500 Guests Expected

More than 500 members and guests are expected to attend the affair. The social program will begin at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon with a concert by the Jewish Center symphony orchestra under the direction of Benjamin Premack. During the afternoon the Kadimah Choral Society, under the direction of Arthur Ein-

Lazarus Reports On Liason Drive

In his report at the Wednesday noon luncheon meeting of the Providence-Cranston Community Fund Campaign, Samuel Lazarus, chairman of the Liason Committee announced that his Special Prospect workers had brought in 115 pledges for a total of $6,046.50, which is equivalent to 30.2 per cent of the Liason quota.

Mr. Lazarus emphasized the need of covering the cards issued to the workers as quickly as possible. He urged the co-chairmen, at a luncheon meeting of the Liason committee held at the Narragansett Hotel last Monday noon, to stress the need for larger gifts. "Our quota this year," he said, "calls for a general increase of 15 per cent in all pledges."

Need $54,000 Extra For Minimum Goal

First Totals Are Given at Meeting

Following an appeal by James M. Hanley, superintendent of Providence Public Schools, for support of the 1939 Providence-Cranston Community Campaign, last Wednesday afternoon at the Biltmore Hotel, it was reported, after a summation by district chairmen, that $115,130, or 17.69 per cent of the $650,690 quota, had been obtained.

Walker Mason, general chairman of the campaign, cautioned the workers against over-enthusiasm at this early stage, pointing out that this year some $54,000 in new money from increased pledges or new gifts, must be raised, in order to meet the budget of the forty agencies dependent upon the Fund.

"Getting pledges, the sums of which are the same as last year, is not sufficient," said Mr. Walker. "The needs of the various agencies are such that a nine per cent, general increase in all pledges must be obtained."

The Community Fund Campaign began last Monday, and will continue through Tuesday, October 31.

Offer New Courses At Parochial School

Regular public school courses, as given from the first to sixth grades, are being offered at the Providence Hebrew Parochial School, 129 Chester avenue, now operating for its second year.

In addition to regular school courses, students receive three hours of Hebrew instruction daily. This year, courses are also available in voice and music appreciation, under the direction of Miss Sarah Pressman, recently returned from the Juilliard School of Music in New York. Commencing next week, nursery and kindergarten classes will be conducted for children from the age of four.

Rabbi Joshua Werner is in charge of the school. Free transportation can be arranged by calling PLantations 2292 or MAnning 2397.

Men's Club to Hear Rev. A. Claxton

Rev. Allen Claxton, pastor of the Trinity Church, and famous Providence radio preacher, will be guest speaker at the opening meeting of the Men's Club of Temple Beth Israel, to be held next Thursday evening, October 26, at the Temple. The meeting will be in the form of a dinner. Rabbi Morris Schussheim will also address the gathering.

most fortunate of human beings and there are parents whose children are crooked and fragile and pale and lamed, and who suffer the most awful of agonies, the agony of being unable to help one's own child.

Good Americans Are Good Neighbors

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

Following is the concluding installment of Miss Thompson's appeal for support of the Providence-Cranston Community Fund Campaign which is now in progress.

The community chest really belongs to the community, and its moneys are distributed without regard to politics, race, religious or social creeds, wholly on the basis of recognized needs—and they go all the way from providing shoes and rubbers for school children whose parents are unable to keep them properly shod and their noses from dripping, to small and great things that are needed to keep a family together. Sometimes merely a suit of clothes for the head of a family is all the difference between his getting a job and failing to get it.

Voluntary Organizations

There is something also that should be said about these voluntary social service organizations. They have invariably been the organizations that have done the pioneering.

A government rarely undertakes anything in the social field which has not first been undertaken by individuals,

The Pleasure of Giving

What you are asked to give to your community chest is just a small fraction of your tax bill—and I warn you that if you don't pay it, it will eventually turn up on your tax bill anyhow, and you will not be doing something out of conviction, the pleasure of generosity, which is one of the creative expressions of the ego—that ego that has so many destructive expressions as well.

So, if you have a roof over your head, clothes on your back, food on the table, care and education for your children and work to do, give out of gratitude, for many have none of these things. If you have a child with straight limbs and rosy cheeks, give as a hostage to fortune, for you are one of the most fortunate of human beings and there are parents whose children are crooked and fragile and pale and lamed, and who suffer the most awful of agonies, the agony of being unable to help one's own child.

And if you are glad that you are still a free citizen of a rich democracy when the lives of democracies are at stake—give as a testimony that you wish to remain so. For the price of freedom is responsibility, and the basis of democracy is brotherly love.

Miss Esther Levine will be in charge of the November 15 meeting.

Vandals Desecrate Jewish Cemetery

Headstones Were Smashed, Painted

NEW LONDON, Conn. — Voicing indignation at the desecration of the Waterford Jewish Cemetery, residents of this city at a joint meeting held in the Ahavath Chessed Synagogue, offered a $200 reward for the apprehension of the vandals who wrecked 35 headstones and painted a dozen swastikas on the monuments left standing. Damage was estimated at several thousand dollars.

The Waterford Cemetery was the first burial ground of the Jewish settlers in New London.

The vandalism was discovered by motorists passing by the cemetery, which is located on the Boston Post Road. The 35 headstones had been toppled to the ground and smashed with sledgehammers, and the swastikas were crudely daubed on a group left standing.

State police at the Groton barracks immediately launched an investigation.

WISE ADDRESSES CLUB

Having as his subject, "The World Conflict and the Jewish Problem," Dr. Stephen S. Wise was guest speaker at the first meeting of the Men's Club of Temple Emanuel, held on Thursday night at the Temple.

Home Association Has Board Meeting

At the first board meeting of the Jewish Home for Aged Ladies' Association, held on Wednesday afternoon at the home, with Mrs. I. S. Low presiding, plans were formulated for the annual meeting of the organization, to be held the first week in November. Nomination and election of officers will occur at the meeting. Mrs. J. D. Grossman is chairman of the Nominating Committee.

Announcement was made this week that a membership drive will be conducted in the near future.

Combined Institutes Install Tannenbaum

Harry M. Tannenbaum was installed as chairman of the Combined Hebrew Institutes of South Providence, at a meeting of the group held last week at its headquarters on Chester avenue.

Other officers installed comprise: Benjamin Oelbaum, first vice-president; Israel Kaufman, second vice-president; Samuel Berman, third vice-president; Joseph Grossman, fourth vice-president; Frank Youngstein, financial secretary; Samuel Katz, recording secretary; Louis Himelfarb, and Morris Finklestein, treasurer. A large board of directors was also installed. Alfred Finklestein and Joseph Sharp were installing officers.

In the absence of Rabbi Joshua Werner, Rabbi Moses I. Spector of the Congregation Sons of Jacob, and Rabbi Morris G. Silk of the Ahavath Sholom Synagogue, gave the convocation.

Beth-Israel, Beth-El Sponsor Study Group

Classes to Start Next Month

It was announced this week that Temples Beth Israel and Beth El have joined in sponsoring a community study activity for women, to be known as "The School for the Jewish Woman."

A series of sixteen weekly morning classes will be conducted by Rabbis Bilgray, Braude and Schusheim for members of the two Sisterhoods and for all other women, desiring a Jewish education.

Three classes in Hebrew elementary, intermediate and advanced groups will be conducted, and the following three courses will also be given: Contemporary Jewish Problems, Great Books Which Have Influenced Jewish History, and a Bible Reading Course.

Mrs. Sadie Blazer of 144 Summer street is registrar for the course which will start the first week in November, and will be conducted on Wednesday mornings between the hours of 10 to 12 o'clock.

Emanuel Resumes Late Service Oct. 27

The opening late Friday night service at Temple Emanuel will be held on October 27, 8:10 o'clock, and will mark the beginning of the active season at the Temple, now in its fifteenth year.

Dr. Israel M. Goldman will preach on the subject, "What is Right and What is Wrong with the Jewish Community of Providence," and will conclude the sermon on the following Friday night.

A special program of music is being prepared by the cantor and choir.

TAYLOR HONORED

Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the Intergovernmental Committee for Refugees, has been selected for the 1939 Medal for the Promotion of Better Understanding Between Christian and Jew in America, which is awarded each year by the American Hebrew Magazine, it was announced this week.

Shore - Kaufman

Miss Annette Muriel Kaufman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kaufman of Western Promenade, became the bride of Hyman Shore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Shore of Pinehurst avenue, last Sunday afternoon at a private ceremony performed by Rabbi William G. Braude, at the latter's home. It was a double ring ceremony.

The bride was chic in a costume of gray, with which she wore gunmetal accessories. Her flowers were orchids. Miss Florence Zwoden attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore becomingly outfitted in a black frock, trimmed with gold, and wore a corsage of red roses. Morris Shore, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

The bride's mother was attired in a dress of black and gold material and had yellow roses as flowers. The mother of the bridegroom was attractive in a black velvet dress and her flowers were also yellow roses.

Following the ceremony, a luncheon was served to the wedding party in the Garden Restaurant of the Biltmore Hotel. An open house reception was held later in the day at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Shore have gone to Florida for a month, after which they will take up residence in this city.

Gillson - Berman

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Berman of 15 Morrison street have announced that the marriage of their daughter, Miss Beatrice A. Berman, to Samuel Gillson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Gillson of Newport, occurred on October 12 in Taunton, Mass.

The newly-wed couple was honored on Sunday night at a reception given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Berman. Approximately 150 guests attended the affair.

The couple will make their home in Newport.

Miss Shapiro Feted

Miss Florence Shapiro, a November bride-elect, was feted on October 10 at a reception and shower given in the Ballroom of the Narragansett Hotel. Hostesses included the Mesdames Morris Blstein, Abraham Feinman, Aaron S. Helford, David Shapiro, Samuel Sherman and Miss Jeanette Markoff.

Miss Shapiro wore a dinner gown of blue satin, and a wrist corsage of pink roses. Music was furnished by a trio. During the evening, bridge and mah jong were in play. Approximately 135 guests attended from Boston, New Bedford, Fairhaven, Huntington, Mooseup, Norwich and this city.

Miss Shapiro will be married on November 12 to Henry W. Markoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Markoff of Tenth street.

Entertained at Tea

Mrs. Harry Barr Gouse entertained at a tea last Sunday afternoon in her home, honoring her daughter, Miss Norma Gouse, a November bride-elect. Miss Lillian Touber of Boston, Mrs. Philip Cotton of Worcester and Mrs. Charles Emers of this city, pour ed.

Members of the family were present from out of town and from this city. Miss Gouse will become the bride of Leonard Yale Goldman on November 28.

Alprins Have Son

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob J. Alprin of 41 Princeton avenue announce the birth of a son, Geoffrey Michael Alprin, on October 12 at the Homeopathic Hospital. Mrs. Alprin is the former Miss Ruth E. Golburgh of Roxbury, Mass.

Lack - Goldman

Miss Sylvia Beth Goldman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Goldman of 136 Early street, became the bride of Israel Hyman Lack, son of Mrs. Jennie Lack of Newport, last Sunday afternoon, at a wedding ceremony performed by Rabbi Israel M. Goldman in Temple Emanuel.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was dressed in an afternoon frock of grape colored crepe, with hat and veil to match. She wore orchids as her flowers. Following a reception held in the vestry of the Temple, a dinner for the family was given at Weinstein's Banquet Hall.

The couple is now on a wedding trip to New York and Niagara Falls, and on returning will live in this city.

College of Surgeons Honors Dr. Webber

Named Fellow at Annual Meeting

Among the six Rhode Island doctors who received top rank in surgery, fellowship in the American College of Surgeons, was Dr. Joseph B. Webber, it was announced this week. The honor was bestowed last Monday night at the annual meeting held in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, by Dr. George Crile, of Cleveland, chairman of the Board of Regents of the College of Surgeons.

Dr. Webber is a graduate of Dartmouth College, 1915, and Dartmouth Medical School, 1919. He is a member of the surgical staff of Homeopathic Hospital, visiting surgeon and 1939 president of the medical staff at Miriam Hospital. He has practiced in Providence since 1921.

While in Philadelphia, Dr. Webber attended the annual clinical congress, sponsored by the American College of Surgeons.

Among the Rhode Island hospitals approved by the College of Surgeons, following an annual survey which was concluded on October 1, was the Miriam Hospital, it was announced.

Pembroke avenue, will be feted at a shower on November 6, to be given by Miss Rose Adelman at the latter's home, 216 Oakland avenue.

Parness - Adler

Miss Evelyn Adler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Adler of 182 Dudley street, became the bride of Daniel Parness, son of Mrs. Esther Parness of 41 Goddard street, last Sunday, at a ceremony held in the chapel of the Congregation Sons of Abraham. Rabbi Nathan Taragin officiated.

The bride was dressed in an afternoon outfit of dubonnet. The frock was fashioned with a short bolero jacket. Her small hat to match, was trimmed with ostrich feathers, and her flowers were orchids.

The couple is now on a wedding trip to the World's Fair and Washington, D. C.

Mack - Baram

The marriage of Miss Jean Baram, a daughter of Jacob Baram of 454 Wood avenue, Woonsocket, to Sydney Mack, son of Mrs. Fanny Mack of 250 Third avenue, Woonsocket, took place on Sunday afternoon at the bride's residence. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Nathan Taragin of this city.

The bride was attired in moss green velvet, which she contrasted by dubonnet accessories. She had orchids as her flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack are now visiting at the World's Fair, and in Philadelphia.

Birthday Party

In honor of her birthday, Mrs. Morris Billinoff was feted at a supper and bridge party, last Monday, given by Mrs. John Sorgman at her home on Longfellow street.

Guests attending were the Mesdames Morton Decoff, Aaron Feldman, Max Fish, Morris Fish, Abe Horowitz and Nathan Woolf. Prizes were awarded, and the honored guest was presented with a gift and flowers.

Holiday Celebration

Styed

BY EDYTHE JAY

Last week we went to a fashion review Given by the women of Beth-El The styles we saw were stunning and new In other words — "simply swell" . . .

Better late than never . . . That's what we always say . . . Because of the holiday last week (which by the way was very "swellcome," if we may coin a phrase) we were unable to make the early deadline with our story on the Beth El affair, held on October 11 in the Narragansett Ballroom . . . It was an outstanding autumn event, successfully staged by a large committee . . .

Arriving in colors as brilliant as fall foliage, the women all did justice to fashion's most recent dictates . . . As they passed us in the upper lounge, we noted tiny Mrs. Harvey Cohen, a darling doll in her wool frock of rich brown, with hat, shoes and accessories in the same hue . . . Mrs. Maurice Simons wore a sunny outfit of beige jersey, and a gold snood hat over her reddish gold hair . . . Mrs. Norton Mailman, that stunning Southerner, in a suit of bottle green velvet, and a hat to match . . .

Mrs. Martin Silverston had on a two-piece frock of black, with a bustle back . . . Her hair she wore long and loose — and looked especially lovely . . . Gracious Mrs. Horace Dryfoos, one of the co-chairman of the affair, was dressed in an attractive green wool jumper frock, over a long-sleeved brightly striped blouse . . . Mrs. Walter Sundlun, costumed in a striking suit of black and red . . . Every time she drifts by, we mean to inquire what her perfume is, but we always forget . . . Anyhow, it's very enticing . . .

Cordy Blumenthal wore black velvet, with snow white lace applied on the sleeves . . . Mrs. Irving Fain in a smart outfit of soft blue and May wine . . . Mrs. Barney Kay arrived in black, and the only decorative note was her single strand of seed pearls . . . Mrs. Ernie Shein nodded hello . . She had on a chic crepe dress, ornamented by a long jingly silver fob . . Natilly outfitted in an ensemble of gray was Mrs. Henry Levaour, the other co-chairman of the day . . A smart black toque on her dark coiffure . . . Mrs. Helene Donig wore an all-wine outfit, and most becoming it was on this charming lady . . .

There, too, Mrs. William Silverman, wearing a flared frock of plum-colored wool, with a hat to match . . Mrs. Ray Franks had on a draped frock of black, and a chic gold necklace . . Mrs. Max L. Grant wore a sophisticated outfit of dubonnet, and a smart snooded hat . . Mrs. Herman Bennett chatted with us a few moments, and we noted how trim she looked in a two-piece suit of black wool, and a black chapeau with satin accent . .

Mrs. Joseph Seifer chose black, and her hat was brightly accented with red trim . . Mrs. Leicester Selonek wore a gorgeous orchid on her black frock, and her hat was a shako . . Mrs. Samuel Kaplan was there in a soft blue frock and hat . . A gold link belt on her dress . . A tweed suit with a jaunty hat of the same material was worn by Mrs. Arthur Kaplan . . Mrs. Archie Albert and Mrs. Bert Bernhardt were in charge of tickets at the door, and there were always so many just-arrived women around them, we somehow couldn't manage to see what they were garbed in . .

It was almost 2:30 when luncheon was over and demi-tasse had been served, and at that time the fashion show started . . . Miss Sadie Taber, violinist, and Miss Violet Marks, pianist, played lovely dinner music, whilst some elegant clothes furnished through the courtesy of the Topal-Carlson and Harriet Ross shops, were modelled by the following mannequins: Mesdames Charles Brown, Harold Cohen, Horace Dryfoos, Henry Levaour, Albert Pilavin, Joseph Pulver, L. F. Pease, Harold Sydney, Bernard Zeman, and the Misses Jean Bauer and Ruth Whitaker . .

Hoping to make the deadline, we took our leave, after we'd seen each model in one set of clothes . . Arriving back at the office, our editor informed us it was too late for another line of news, and that, my pets, it is the reason you're reading this NOW . .

A toe once bruised is always in the way of accidents.

Obituary*BARNET F. ROSEN

Funeral services were held on Monday for Barnet F. Rosen, 67, of 63 Halsey street, long active in Jewish charitable enterprises, who died on Sunday at the Miriam Hospital after a short illness.

Born in Poland, Mr. Rosen came to Providence with his parents at the age of fifteen. In 1894 he founded the business of B. F. Rosen and Sons, now located at 360 North Main street, and headed it until his retirement four years ago.

He was one of the founders of the Sons of Zion Congregation, and was secretary of the organization when he died. He was an officer of the Chesed Shel Ameth and the Waad Hakashruth, and was active in the Hebrew Free Loan Association.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Bessie Braunstein Rosen; two sons, Albert and Leo H. Rosen; three daughters, Mrs. Jacob Stern, Mrs. Herman P. Grossman and Mrs. Fred S. Tenenbaum, and ten grandchildren. All reside in Providence. Funeral services were conducted from the Congregation Sons of Zion on Orms street. Interment was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

NATHAN FAIR

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon in Temple Emanuel for Nathan Fain, proprietor of a dry goods store at 602 Charles street for the past 35 years, who died suddenly on Monday at his home, 116 Cypress street. Rabbi Israel M. Goldman and Rabbi Morris Schussheim officiated.

Mr. Fain was a member of Touro Fraternal Association, Temple Emanuel, Hebrew Free Loan Association and was a member of the committee of the Jewish Home for Aged.

Surviving him, besides his wife, Jennie Gordon Fain, are two daughters, Mrs. Irving G. Pastor and Mrs. Saul S. Grossman; two sons, Alfred and Leonard Fain; a sister, Mrs. A. Stone; two brothers, Alfred A. of Providence, and Philip Fain of Westerly. Five grandchildren also survive.

MRS. SARAH GRATT

Funeral services were conducted last Sunday in Worcester for Mrs. Sarah Gratt, 64, mother of Benjamin H. Gratt of this city, who died on October 12 in Elmira, N. Y., where she was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Benjamin L. Heyman.

Born in London, England, Mrs. Gratt had resided in Worcester for the past fifty-five years. Besides Mr. Gratt and Mrs. Heyman, she is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Paul Brauer and Mrs. G. Lipps of Los Angeles, California; Mrs. Bernard Gratt of Worcester; Mrs. Abraham Kremer of Lowell; and by two sons, Barney Gratt of Worcester and Sydney Gratt of

Unveiling Notice

Scene Around Town

By JACOB LEICHTER

Fred Friendly was responsible for the excellent radio show that helped launch the Community Fund drive last Monday nite . . . He not only wrote and planned the program, but also arranged for the personal appearances of Ezra Stone, Lanny Ross, Cal Tinney . . . Particularly effective were the voice sequences, which brought such stars as Fred Allen, Kate Smith, etc., to help boost the drive . . . Without a doubt, Fred Friendly deserves a pat on the back . . . Archie Silverman, a constant Fund-worker, covered his cards for the drive a bit differently this campaign than previous years . . . Suffering from a heavy cold, he called his prospect on the phone instead . . . "Hello Mr. So-and-So, do you hear how badly I sound? You wouldn't want me to go out feeling this way?" . . . And the net result was that they all sent in their contributions . . .

New News

The Frank Golembas will be three with the coming of Spring . . . Beatrice Klemer and Jack Katz are a new engagement . . . We have just received definite information that the director of one of our largest local institutions has handed in his resignation . . . There are a lot of fellows in this town who'd give more than a cigar to be able to sass certain cops, so this story ought to appeal to them: Driving at night in a Western city, a motorist asked two cops in a squad car just why they didn't have their lights on . . . He was arrested for a minor violation . . .

But his six-dollar-fine was contributed by anyone "who ever sassed a policeman, ever wanted to sass a policeman or ever was sassed by a policeman." . . . Even the judge who levied the fine kicked in . . .

Curfew to Hay Fever

I love the Fall
When leaves grow redder;
It makes me feel
A whole lot bedder . . .

War Songs

Wonder when Mussolini will start warbling this popular song to Hitler: "I Can Get Along Without You Very Well?" . . . A song that was popular among anti-Germans in the last war has now been revived . . . It is titled "Deutschland ueber Dallas" (poverty) . . . The Nazi Foreign Minister, we are informed, is now spelling his name Ribbentroff . . . And the Estonian capital Tallinn is having a little difficulty getting used to the idea of spelling it with an "S" as the first letter . . . Incidentally, if you knock the "L" out of Stalin you get a red stain . . .

Or Many Things

Surprising how many educated persons, including statesmen, orators and radio commentators, mispronounce so simple a word as "Allies," — putting the accent on the first syllable when it belongs on the final one . . . Paradox: Researchers discovered that the North and South Poles actually get more sunlight than the tropics — by 65 extra hours of sunshine per year . . . Anyway, it was a good try: When a small Western town applied to Uncle Sam for a self-liquidated loan to build a maternity hospital there, investigation proved that every woman in the town above the age of eighteen would have to produce two babies each year for the loan to be met . . . The application drew a nix . . . If you fear number 13, you're a victim of Triskadekaphobia, as any medico will tell you . . . It's an ill wind: Maybe even the war will be a blessing to thousands of jobless men in South who actually haven't worked since 1911 when a depression hit that luckless area . . .

ADVANTAGE

The man who knows what he is doing, and why he is doing it, has an advantage over the fellow who works without intelligence.
