Viscountess Astor On Anti-Semitism

In an "interview with herself," Viscountess Astor writes in the current "Saturday Evening Post" in part as follows:

"We're democrats in the widest sense. I'm not a Communist; I'm not a Nazi; I'm not a Fascist. I'm a passionate believer in democracy."

"As to anti-Semitism—why, long before most people had heard of Zionism, we were getting Dr. Weizmann to meet Mr. Arthur Balfour at our house. We certainly had but one idea in that—to help the Jews. Yet I am described now not only as a Hitlerite, but as a violent anti-Jew. Is it not right to call fiction outrageous?"

The Tune Changes

German newspapers (still perfectly co-ordinated as usual) have, at one stroke, dropped their customary boasting about Germany's war might and have begun to talk insistently about Germany's love for peace. They talk, also in official unison, about the "war lust and war mongering" of the democracies.

The change is due to the suddenly strengthened armaments of the European democracies, and to the fact—Otto D. Tolischus hints in the Times—that, via short-wave radio, the war-hating German people have begun to learn a little more about the world reaction to Hitler's provocations and are alarmed. N. Y. Post.

Reply to the Bandits

The Carnegie Hall meeting Friday night (without police guard) was a full and complete answer to the filth peddled at the Bund rally. Not only were the speeches an answer to the Bund, but the physical aspect of the meeting itself was a declaration of American democracy, with the presence on one platform of Democrat and Republican, Catholic, Protestant and Jew, liberal and conservative. The many fine speeches eloquently expressed American disgust with Hitler paganism and racism. We can do no better than quote a few excerpts with applause:

Mayor LaGuardia: "We must tell these dictators that their ideas are not wanted in this country and that their entry into any part of the Western Hemisphere is verboten."

District Attorney Dewey: "Better than to suppress the Bund meeting is to let them have their stupid say . . . the 'made in Germany' stamp shows through."

Jeremiah T. Mahoney: "I am proud that the late Pope Pius XI declared there was no such thing as a racial issue."

Rev. John Haynes Holmes: "The police protection we gave the Bund meeting was a vindication of our boasted freedom, proof that America is strong, the perfect challenge and defiance to every tyranny upon earth, in that we grant liberty to those among us whom we most detest."

Minority Status

The Jewish people will resist any attempt to regulate them to a minority status in their ancient homeland.

It was not in order that another ghetto should be created, this time in Palestine, that the Zionist Movement was founded. Nor was this the goal for which thousands of young Jewish pioneers laid down their lives in Fritz Kuhn Barred As Juror in N. Y.

May Investigate Nazis Replies

NEW YORK. — Fritz Kuhn, forty-three-year-old "master mind" behind the Nazi movement in America and editor-in-chief of the violently anti-Jewish "Weckruf und Beobachter," has been rejected as a juror in New York County, "in part because of his prejudice against the Jews."

The application Kuhn made for service has also become the basis for a request to District Attorney Thomas Dewey to conduct an investigation into the Nazi leader's replies. The report was made by Lewis Landes, chairman of Serve America, Inc.

Kuhn's rejection came after he had written "yes" in reply to a question whether he would be influenced as a juror against any person because of nationality, sex, color, race, religion.

The application went to Thomas F. Kane, deputy county clerk, at the Hall of Records.

Boycott Effect On Reich Shown

NEW YORK. — Three recent events in Germany were invoked this week by William Jay Schieffelin as evidence of the effect of the boycott of Nazi Germany.

Schieffelin, chairman of the Volunteer Christian Committee to Boycott Nazi Germany, urged in an address at the Hotel Astor before the Joint Boycott Council of the American Jewish Congress and the Jewish Labor Committee that a Government embargo be enacted to widen the drive to isolate the Reich.

"That the effect of the boycott on German trade has been catastrophic," he pointed out, "was shown by the Schacht resignation, the fall in German exports and the appalling increases in Germany."

B'nai B'rith to Hold Annual Election Tues.

Roger Williams Lodge, B'nai B'rith, will hold its annual elections on next Tuesday night, March 14, at the Biltmore Hotel. The Nominating committee headed by Benjamin Ruttenberg, will present its slate of officers, and Max L. Grant, chairman of the Lodge's Anti-Defamation committee, will make a report.

Because of the nature of the meeting, only members will be admitted. A social hour will follow the regular meeting, and refreshments will be served.

Finds $10,000 Real Gold Note But Discovers It's Fool's Gold

NEWARK. — Emanuel Samuels, $25-a-week oil jobber, used to laugh and laugh when he flashed a $10,000 gold Treasury note on goggle-eyed friends.

He knew it was a dud, or else why would it have been lying around in the street—where he found it a year ago? Yesterday—for a laugh—he handed it to shopkeeper and learned it was not counterfeit.

For half an hour Samuels was in a whirl because he knows too

Vocational Guidance Authority To Address Emanuel Institute

Louis H. Sobel, Director of the Federation Employment Service of New York will be the lecturer before the Institute of Jewish Studies this Wednesday evening, March 15. His subject will be "The Problem of Choosing a Life Work for Jewish Youth."

Mr. Sobel is one of the foremost authorities in America on the problem of vocational guidance for Jewish youth. He has just issued a volume entitled "Group Methods in Vocational Guidance." He is Director of the Federation Employment Service. He is in charge of vocational guidance for thousands of Jewish youth in New York City.

Mr. Sobel is a graduate of New York University and has been engaged in Jewish social work in New York City where he was Assistant Executive Director of the Bronx Y. M. H. A. from 1924 to 1934, and was Director of the Jewish Community Center in Detroit, Michigan from 1934 to 1936.

Boosts City Life

BOSTON. — One of the nation's leading psychiatrists, Dr. Abraham Myerson, asserts that though city life causes more wear and tear on the nerves, it's still better, generally speaking than country life. Urban residence, he points out, fosters a faculty for quick conclusions, agility of mind, commercial enterprise and tolerance which are lacking in rural areas where stupidity is more likely to

Addresses N. E. Welfare Leaders

BOSTON. — The "really effective" answer to Father Coughlin and other preachers of racial hatred would be "to win his audience away" by a program of democracy in action which will "lift the national income, bring idle men, machines and capital together again and restore economic security," Max Lerner, professor of Political Science at Williams College, declared this week.

Addressing the Jewish leaders of New England, gathered at a regional conference of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds, Professor Lerner pointed out that although Father Coughlin had become a "symbol of the new anti-Semitic forces in this country," it would be "highly tragic to suppress him or take him off the air in violation of civil liberties."

Need Democratic Action

"The ultimate answer to the vicious propaganda of the word is the democratic propaganda of the deed," he said. "The ultimate answer to fascism is to show how liberal forces can really work."

"Anti-Semitism in the present day has entered on a new phase. It is no longer necessary to have real economic roots. It is now a synthetic product being manufactured." (Continued on Page 8)

Catholics Prepare Refugee Campaign

NEW YORK. — Catholics throughout the country will be called upon to assist German Catholic refugees in a campaign beginning March 19, according to an announcement sent out by Archbishop Rummel which said in part: "Much righteous indignation has been expressed over the hardships imposed upon the Jews in Germany, who today must choose between exile or submission at home to grave religious, social and economic restrictions. We cannot but admire the spirit of charity displayed by American Jews, who, to assist their suffering brethren raised last year over five million dollars and are now working toward a new relief budget of $20,000,000."

Union Contract Has Discrimination Clause

NEW YORK. — What is believed to be the first labor union contract containing a provision against racial discrimination in employment has been signed between Parker's Department Store and the Department Stores Employees' Union, a CIO affiliate. The agreement stipulates that the store will "not discriminate in the hiring of any employee because of race, color or creed." The contract contains, also for what is believed to be the first time, a strongly-worded guarantee not to buy or sell any goods manufactured

Sees Anti-Semitism on Rise Here Because of Reich Policy

Perverted Form of Objection to Intervention in Europe Cited as Cause

WASHINGTON. — Observers are taking increasing note of anti-Semitism raising in the United States as a backwash of the controversy over foreign policy.

Raymond Clapper, Scripps-Howard political commentator, said in his column that anti-Semitism was rising in various localities as "a perverted form of objection to intervention in Europe." The anti-Semitic feeling, he said, frequently takes the form of the question: "Are we going to fight a war to save the Jews in Germany?"

"Nobody likes Hitler," Clapper said. "Nobody wants to defend his regime. We instinctively feel safer with England and France on top. But we don't want to face the logical conclusion of that feeling... So the tendency is to take refuge by putting the matter on some other ground. We hunt for some reason why we don't want to become involved. That is, I suspect, an unconscious reason for the growth of racial bigotry in this country. It is a fight from reality."

Clapper said one of the reasons that the Senate Military Affairs Committee questioned Hugh R. Wilson, Ambassador to Germany, was the rumor in Washington that he did not agree with the tactics of President Roosevelt in ordering him home from Berlin for "consultation and report" on the anti-Jewish excesses in the Reich.

Spring Raiment of Home Ass'n Women Colors Seventh Annual Donor's Affair

BY EDYTHE JAY

Minutes can be darned minute sometimes, and the sixty of them allotted me to stay at Home Association Donor's Luncheon on Wednesday afternoon at the Narragansett Hotel, seemed to travel at streamlined speed...

The March winds were doing themselves proud, on Wednesday but the more than 300 donors coaxed Spring's arrival with their chic raiment... To wit:—Mrs. Saul Feinberg, genial chairman of the affair, wore a black crepe frock with white sequins on the sleeves from shoulder to wrist... A soft note was her corsage of pink camellias... Mrs. Samuel Deutch, co-chairman, escorting everyone to tables, wore a most becoming dress of black with a white lace vestee... Gardenias were her choice of flowers... A smooth black frock, with a square-cut neckline was worn by Mrs. Archie A. Albert... Mrs. Isador S. Low was lovely in her dress of soft blue with dubonnet accents—always smart...

Mrs. Saul Abrams wore trim black, with white appliqued on the short sleeves... A smart black straw hat with chartreuse veil, complemented Mrs. Arthur Grossman's black outfit... Mrs. Bertram Bernhardt had on a black bolero dress, with a bright yellow straw chapeau... Blonde Mrs. David Dwares was most attractive in a dress of black—and her hat carried a frothy dubonnet veil... Mrs. Maurice Felder wore a navy frock and hat—and a corsage of gardenias... Black, with crisp lingerie trim of white, was the choice of Mrs. Alfred A. Fain... A light blue frock and black hat was becomingly worn by Mrs. Banice Feinberg...

One of the few printed dresses at the affair was sported by Mrs. Irving I. Fain... It was a black background, and the figures were little yellow ducks... Mrs. Daniel Jacobs was attractive in the classic black and white... Mrs. Celia Korn Feldman wore deep purple, and a tiny black hat... From where I sat, Mrs. Ilie Berger's hat caught my eye... It was very patriotic—all trimmed with red, white and blue... Her dress was black—I think... Petite Mrs. Alfred Fain wore a navy and lime affair, with a saucy black felt hat... As Mrs. Joseph Seefer nodded hello, I noted her smart polka dot dress... Mrs. Ira Marcus wore a mixed print dress of yellowish-chartreuse—very flattering to her suntanned complexion... Mrs. Lyon Marcus' frock of light and dark blue was charming on her...

Mrs. George Press was stately in her dark purple dress, and a shocking pink suede hat... Mrs. Samuel Soforenko, attractive in a pleated dress of teal blue... Mrs. Meyer Sobloff was chic in a black dress, with turquoise accent at the round neckline... A dubonnet dress of velvet was worn by Mrs. Charles Alexander... Mrs. Abe Wexler looked lovely in her navy dress with a gold bolero... Mrs. Nathan Temkin was attractive in black, with a smart suede hat of reddish-orange

... Mrs. Louis Temkin in a frock of light blue, and a black veiled hat... Mrs. Nathan Levitt outfitted in wine-colored crepe, and a smart black headgear... Mrs. Leo Marks of Pawtucket looked chic in a frock of black and chartreuse, with the same color scheme in her hat... Mrs. John Rouslin was ultra smart in black, and a fragile yellow veil was poised on her hat...

The only red dress I saw during the hour I took notes was the one worn by Mrs. Charles Brown... Mrs. Herman Swartz looked most attractive in powder blue... A dark, dark green dress and a green upturned hat worn by Mrs. Eske Winsburg... Mrs. J. D. Grossman had on a light blue frock, with a navy sailor hat... Attractive Mrs. Lester Emers wore smart black, and some very colorful flowers made her chapeau outstanding... A good-looking black affair, with gold beads trimming the neckline was worn by Mrs. Jennie Shukofsky... Mrs. Jacob Ernstof wore navy blue lace, with a navy straw hat... Mrs. David Meyers was outstanding in a striking dress of black, with a chartreuse vestee... Two women that came in from out of town especially to attend the affair were Mrs. Samuel Drooz of Albany, and Mrs. Ben Feinberg of Swampscot... Mrs. Drooz wore a black dress with sequins at the shoulders... Her black hat was accented with a dubonnet veil... Mrs. Feinberg wore a frock of merry Spring print... From four or five tables away I waved greeting to Mrs. Jonas Goldenberg... She was chic in black, with a small black turban...

With a deadline to meet, I found it impossible to stay to gather more fashion notes or to witness the fine entertainment program which climaxed the afternoon... I met two of the donors later in the day on Dorrance street—and they earnestly opined it was one of the nicest affairs they'd ever attended...

Proceeds from the luncheon are used to aid maintenance of the Home—and to help swell the fund for installing an elevator at the Institution... It gives one a warm inner feeling towards each and every donor—because well have they lived up to the ideal on which the Home for Aged is founded—"O, cast us not off in our old age..."

AT THE THEATRES

MAJESTIC

The Majestic this week presents James Cagney as "The Oklahoma Kid," the king of the lawless West. It shows Cagney as the most glamorous hoodlum of a rough-and-tumble age, galloping through history's pages. Humphrey Bogart and Rosemary Lane are excellent in their supporting roles. "Secret Service of the Air," with Ronald Reagan, John Litel and Eddie Foy, Jr., is the second attraction at the Majestic.

ALBEE

The movie-going public of Providence has refused to release "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man," wherein saucy Charlie McCarthy brings many a laugh, aided and abetted by W. C. Fields, Edgar Bergen and Princess Baba. Clever repartee makes the picture an entertaining one. "Secrets of a Nurse," is also being held for a second week. It tells of some brutal details involving a tangled romance, "fixed" prize fights, underworld element, murders and the emergency ward of the city hospitals. For Sunday night only, the Albee will present Jack Teagarden and his Orchestra of 16 radio stars.

FAYS

By popular request, "Alexander's Ragtime Band," is playing a return engagement at Fays Theatre this week. With a cast headed by Tyrone Power, Don Ameche, Alice Faye, Ethel Merman and Jack Haley, it is a stirring infectious potpourri of songs, old and new, composed by Irving Berlin, tied together most neatly with the unfolding of the story. You'll especially like Alice Faye's rendition of "Now It Can Be Told." Five entertaining vaudeville acts complete the bill.

Other officers elected are Miss Frances L. Gill, president; Miss Katherine V. McIsaac, vice-president; Miss Catherine L. Sheehan, secretary; and Miss Olinda DiMaio, treasurer.

Palestine. Nor, let it be remembered, have Palestinian Jewry been resisting terrorist attacks in the last three years for themselves a minority niche in the country.

Jews will not easily be led to the conviction that minority status is synonymous with life in Palestine "as of right and not on sufferance," which was specifically pledged them by Great Britain and the nations of the world. No amount of dialectical jugglery can convince any reasonable being that minority status represents a fulfillment of the promise to establish a Jewish National Home.

In any case, Jews have had and have today too wide an experience of minority life in the world to desire another sphere of such existence in Palestine.

European events in the last few years have shown with grim clarity the true value of minority rights even when guaranteed by respectable powers.

And the worth of such a guarantee of minority rights by Arabs can best be appreciated by reflection on the treatment of the Assyrian minority as soon as the Iraq Arabs achieved independence six years ago.

But perhaps the Jewish reaction to the prospect of being relegated to minority status under Arab rule is best summed up by the following revealing comment which appeared in the Times of last Friday. The Diplomatic Correspondent reporting British reactions to the Arab demands wrote the following:—"... Jemal Effendi Hussein gave reasons in support of his contention that the existence of such a State would not be incompatible with the protection of... the rights and security of the Jewish minority in the country. Arguments as to the various forms of legislative machinery which might effect this followed; but they were rendered somewhat academic by the observation of a Palestinian delegate that nowadays racial minorities could not expect much in the way of concession from majorities."

Jewish Center Ready to Begin $75,000 Building Fund Drive

To Renovate 70 Year Old Center

Organization of the Jewish Community Center's Building Fund for $75,000 with which to rebuild and extend the Center's scope and facilities entered the final stage this week with meetings at the Center on Monday evening under the chairmanship of David Meyers, director of teams, and Thursday evening under the direction of Samuel Soforenko, chairman of the initial gifts committee.

Instructional Conference

The meeting Monday evening was in the nature of an instructional conference at which volunteer captains were acquainted with the urgency and timeliness of the drive. It was explained that the 70-year old Center Building is in a state which necessitates immediate reconstruction; that notwithstanding its age and condition it is daily crammed with members ranging in age from extreme youth to adulthood and engaging in every conceivable type of activity from athletics through dramatics and social activities to the purely educational.

An appeal from 1200 club members, bearing the signatures of the chairmen of 42 groups affiliated with and directed by the Center was read to the prospective team leaders and all who wished were given an opportunity to tour the building and get some conception of a typical evening's activities. J. I. Cohen, executive director, explained that in addition to the groups mentioned in the appeal, the Center sponsors more than 50 other activities, including game rooms and organized play for school children, concerts and

Sunday evening lectures for adults, sports nights for men and similarly attractive entertainments for women.

Captains were urged to impress upon workers the necessity of the Jewish community's coming to the assistance of the 3200 Jewish children of school age who cannot at present be accommodated at the Center because of lack of space and facilities.

Instruction was given in the formation and direction of teams and it is considered certain there will be a force of 400 trained volunteer workers in the field when the campaign gets under way at the campaign dinner the evening of March 20.

Associated with David Meyers as chairmen in charge of team captains are:

Mrs. Samuel Markoff and Mrs. Jacob Ernstof, in the women's division; David Hassenfeld, in the young men's division; and Mrs. George Berger, in the young women's division.

Hear Chairmen

The Initial Gifts Committee meeting was featured by addresses from Mr. Soforenko, co-chairman Samuel P. Lazarus, Mr. Sapinsley and Mr. Workman. The speakers outlined the appeals behind the drive; reported that the Jewish Welfare Board had advised that the program at the Providence Center, notwithstanding antiquated quarters and lack of facilities, is second to none in the country; that with a community of 25,000 to draw upon, advisors in the service of the Welfare Board of which the Center is a member foresaw no difficulty in attaining the goal set for the campaign which is patterned after similar campaigns in cities with much smaller populations but much greater goals.

Committee Members

Members of the initial gifts committee, to whom the procedure of the drive was outlined are:

Seek Open Door In Palestine for Jews Poland, Rumania Agree on Policy

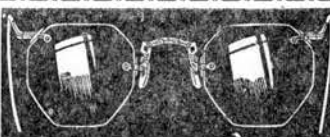

WARSAW. — Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu of Rumania would seek to open the doors of Palestine or other suitable regions for their Jews and indicated that the two countries had refused to imitate the anti-Jewish actions of Germany and Italy.

He made this statement before leaving Warsaw after a three-day visit during which the Polish-Rumanian alliance of 1921 was strengthened to offset growing Nazi activity between the Rhine and Soviet Russia.

Foreign Minister Colonel Joseph Beck of Poland plans to open a campaign for the emigration of Polish and Rumanian Jews during an early visit to London. Gafencu said he had asked Beck to present the Rumanian viewpoint as well as that of Poland.

Consider Carpatho-Ukraine

The Rumanian Minister disclosed that he and Beck had "examined in detail" the question of Carpatho-Ukraine, the autonomous eastern most province of Czechoslovakia.

On Propaganda

BY MORRIS L. ERNST

Before discussing whether America is menaced by foreign propaganda let us examine what feature of our social structure is under attack.

The outstanding contribution of this nation to the history of the world is our constitutional declaration and later expansion of the concept of a Bill of Rights.

For my part, I am addicted to the Bill of Rights and resent all movements which tend to the curtailing of free speech, free press, public assemblage, and freedom of religion.

My faith in these processes stems from a simple idea. Given a piece of land such as we possess—capable of a self-contained detached economy—our ultimate wealth or poverty depends on nothing but the development of the human mind. Under the high privilege of a Bill of Rights, individual self-discipline is a root of man's behavior.

Under a dictatorship, force from above takes the place of self-control. The capacity of humanity to read and listen and then select is replaced, under the dictators, by the installation of mental filters whose perforations are controlled by a Hitler or a Stalin. Then the mind of man is no longer open to the free play of human forces, but is enslaved, instead, to those peculiar ideas which happen at the moment to agree with the prejudices of the then dictator.

The believers in communism and fascism alike, no matter what they may say publicly, prove by the example of their actions when in power that they believe that freedom of thought is a negligible right. Communism and fascism represent the two current political movements which frankly favor governmental censorship for the masses of workers.

Other forces are operating contra democracy but these two are truly significant because they are avowedly out to grab power.

These religious movements are perfectly willing to sacrifice a free market in thought because each believes that its particular type of dictator will bring humanity to a peculiarly pleasant heaven and that the end is so beautiful that any means are justified in its attainment. For my part I feel that there is no more corrupting philosophy in the world than that of the dictatorship, right or left, namely, that the end justifies the means.

For my part, I think that this nation will benefit by the attack of those who want dictators of the left or the right. Their campaigns will make us alive to the defects of our economic system. This propaganda gives fair warning that adequate food and shelter and jobs and health must be the prompt pursuit of our Government.

If we are honest, we must admit that the basic menace which invites the propaganda of dictators is symbolized by ten million people out of work. On this domestic menace the foreign agencies of the left and the right thrive in parasitic fashion. We are now put on notice that expansion of the human mind is not unrelated to contraction of the human stomach.

We how believe in democracy and the Bill of Rights must do battle for it. You can't beat a horse with no horse.

In more definite terms the dangers of the dictator movements in the United States stem from dishonesty of those who move in the direction of communism or fascism. Believing as they do that the end justifies the means, they are careless about the truth and are not at all inhibited about a certain amount of conniving and cheating in order to gain their ends.

Democracy must develop new defenses against such tactics of stealth.

We must soon put the national searchlight on these propaganda movements. We must resent the anonymity of any action that touches the political field. Political parties in a democracy must always be above ground and in the open. The full operation of the Bill of Rights negates the necessity for political secrecy.

I think a swell job can and should be done to bring to the light of day all propaganda for destruction of the Bill of Rights not limited to foreign sources. I believe that a Social Exchange Commission is more needed than one that involves merely stocks and bonds.

As long as we maintain intellectual freedom, our people can change and rechange our economic system.

Nazis Doom Jew As Arch Conspirator Also Sentence Ten to Prison

HAMBURG. — One man has been sentenced to death and ten have been sent to prison on charges concerning an alleged plot to overthrow the state, it was disclosed this week.

The case was heard in the Nazi People's Court. There were thirteen defendants.

Herbert Michaels, forty-one, a Jew, was sentenced to death as leader. It was alleged that he tried to spread Communism among workers, spied at wharves of the Blohm & Voss Shipbuilding Company, and tried to obtain samples of war materials which he intended to give to the Spanish Republicans.

All concerned were charged with planning sabotage and the bombing of key business enterprises in several cities.

Home Decorated With Swastika

LOS ANGELES. — Lewis Browne, English-born writer, and chairman of several anti-Nazi meetings here reported to police that a four-foot swastika was painted on the door of his home. Browne's biography of Heinrich Heine, German poet, was among those books burned in Germany in 1933.

Assembly Passes Resolution Protesting Balfour Repudiation

Hundreds of Cablegrams Sent To Prime Minister Chamberlain

An aroused Rhode Island Jewry this week held executive meetings and bombarded the Downing street residence of Prime Minister Chamberlain with telegrams, protesting the plan of renunciation of the Balfour Declaration.

Following a meeting of important Jewish organizations in this city, hundreds of wires were immediately cabled. Included in the cablegrams were many by leading Rhode Island citizens among them Mayor Ruerat of West Warwick, and Mayor Collins of Providence.

The General Assembly passed a joint resolution, in which it respectfully and earnestly requested the Administrative Government of Great Britain not to repudiate the Balfour Declaration, with relation to the establishment of Palestine as a Jewish National Home. The text of the resolution, as it was passed, reads as follows:

WHEREAS, it appears that under the Mandate of the League of Nations and by the Balfour Declaration, Great Britain has undertaken the establishment of Palestine as the Jewish National

Home; and

WHEREAS, It appears that Great Britain has indicated a possible repudiation of the Balfour Declaration; now therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the members of the General Assembly of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations of the United States of America do respectfully and earnestly pray the Administrative Government of Great Britain not to repudiate the Balfour Declaration with relation to the establishment of Palestine as a Jewish National Home; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a duly certified copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of State of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations to the Secretary of State of the United States to be forwarded in turn by him to the United States Ambassador to the Court of Saint James for transmission to the proper authority in the Administrative Government of Great Britain.

omic structure as they see fit. As soon as minds are throttled by dictated news and press and radio we become slaves to a dictatorship and impotent to make a change. An economy not subject to change by popular reaction must in time become sterile. By free speech we can appraise and accept liberal and radical programs.

The menace of foreign propaganda is on us. We must do battle with it by removing the economic distress on which it thrives, and by ever-vigilant exposure of all its activities. And let me call to your attention in closing the words of our greatest American jurist, Oliver Wendell Holmes: "Foolish and dangerous views are like champagne; they get flat, the more fully they are exposed to the air."

I think that the Dies Committee investigation—and I have read the three printed volumes—failed in the first place because nobody really considered what is menaced. And, in the second place, because they dragged in witnesses—I can't think of anything else to call it; a white girl was put on the stand for no other reason than to say that a colored man had once asked her to dance. I am telling you, it is full of the greatest trash. Now I don't think anyone ought to defend that kind of a document, no matter who wrote the report.

I have come out repeatedly for what I considered vital changes in our economic system. I am willing to take my chances with any economy where there is open and free debate.

I am not willing to take any chances on a dictator because I may not get my kind of butcher, and I merely ask Earl Browder to state one thing. Is he in favor of or opposed to the throttle on the freedom of the press and street-corner meetings in Russia today? If he says "Yes," I think they ought to allow them to get on the street-corner and say: 'Down with Stalin?' " then I will take my chances with Browder, on the deliberations of the American people as to the kind of economy they want, and I am willing to go a great way in cutting down the disasters of much of the profit motive.

Hague-Coughlin Foe Gets Threat in Mail

Postal Authorities Investigate Letter

NEW YORK. — Postal authorities are investigating a threatening letter received by the Rev. William C. Kernan, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Bayonne, as a result of his radio speeches attacking "the vicious anti-Semitic propaganda of Father Coughlin."

The minister, is known as a liberal and foe of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City. The threatening letter was signed "From a Protestant." It read in part: —

"Let me tell you something, if you who is backed up by a few more Reds gives any more lying speeches against the only person who has the courage to give the truth to the world (the Rev. Father C. Coughlin), you won't be able to give many more after someone is finished with you because we don't want any Communists in Bayonne, do you understand? I belong to an organization consisting of 800 members . . . They wondered if you weren't afraid to come home, maybe some night you will or else they'll leave it to God to take care of you."

B'nai B'rith Holds Father and Son Night

Father and Son Night was held by Roger Williams Lodge, B'nai B'rith, on Thursday evening at Weinstein's Restaurant, at which time boys of the Jewish Children's Home were guests. Dr. Jay Fishbein was chairman of the affair.

Features of the evening were talking movies; a talk by Tuss McLaughry of Brown University; presentation of an award to Joe Finklestein, All-American Brown star; an address by Bill Halloran, college football referee; Arthur E. Marly, superintendent of Sockanosset School, also spoke. Games were played and prizes awarded.

Assisting Dr. Fishbein in arrangements were the Doctors Banice Feinberg, Morris Grover, Sol Rubenstein and Joseph Smith. Archie Smith was treasurer for the affair.

Ban Matzoh-Making Throughout Reich

PARIS. — Making of matzoh has been prohibited throughout Germany, it was indicated by reports reaching Paris. Jewish organizations here received an appeal from Vienna stating that local authorities, in every part of Austria had prohibited baking of the unleavened bread and urging Jewish organizations abroad to send in matzoh lest Austrian Jewry go without it for the first time in its history next April.

A similar situation exists in the rest of Germany, where no official prohibition has yet been issued but not a single Jewish bakery is permitted to function, thus making matzoh-baking impossible for the first time since Chancellor Hitler's regime came into power.

Alter Labels of Origin on Gloves

LONDON. — Labels of origin on gloves manufactured in Sudetenland are being altered to evade the American boycott of German-made goods, according to reports here. The gloves are shipped to Belgium, where tags are attached bearing the legend "made in Belgium," and it was said that gloves are also shipped to France for the same purpose.

Japan Denies Nazi Demand For Jewish Discrimination

TOKYO. — Foreign Minister Arita promised this week that Japan would abstain from any discrimination against Jews.

Replying to an interpellation by Katsuji Debuchi, former Ambassador to Washington, Arita told the House of Peers that the government had adopted formally a policy of dealing with the Jewish issue and had given instructions to that effect to all officials at home and abroad.

No Discrimination

The policy, the Foreign Minister said, was based on the principles:—

That Jews in Japan should be treated as fairly and justly as are all other foreigners, without discrimination against them because they are Jews.

That Jews coming to Japan for the first time should be dealt with similarly within the immigration laws, and that no restrictions would be made by establishing immigration regulations against Jews different from those applying to others.

Would Back Nazis

The recent influx of refugees had resulted in the unofficial suggestion that Japan should aid Germany—a partner in the anti-Comintern pact—by showing sympathy for the Nazi anti-Jewish movement.

A small number of Jews has entered Japan. Some others are reported to have been refused admission.

Debuchi in his interpellation urged tolerance.

R. I. Jewish Children's Home, New Name Adopted by Orphanage

Dr. Archie A. Albert was elected first president of the Jewish Children's Home of Rhode Island, under its new name, adopted by corporation members of the Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island, at the 29th annual meeting and dinner, last Sunday evening in the Ballroom of the Narragansett Hotel.

Walter I. Sundlun, who retired after ten years as head of the organization, was presented with a silver vase by Judge Philip C. Joslin, in behalf of the members. In reference to the change in name of the institution, Mr. Sundlun said, "we have tried in all ways to take the place of the natural parents as best we can. My one object was to strip our orphanage of every vestige of appearance that would make it appear the typical orphanage; I wanted to make it a home."

Pointing out that many children at the Home actually have both parents living, but because of circumstances are cared for at the Home, Maurice Stollerman, superintendent, praised the change of the name, "Our Children," he said, "will no longer be classified as orphans, but as living happy children."

Judge Joslin was presented a gold key in recognition of twenty years of service to the Home. An address was delivered by Archibald Silverman, recalling the growth of the Home through the years.

Guest speaker for the evening was General Smedley D. Butler, former U. S. Marine chieftain. In his talk, Gen. Butler urged Americans "not to waste time getting mad at Hitler, because the German people themselves are going to gang up on him. If we simply maintain a firm stand for our own fundamental rights of free speech, religion, assembly and a free press, and to stick to them, we will be the only haven on earth where people can breathe the pure air of freedom," he said.

Musical entertainment was presented by the children's band.

No Word is Too Vile to Call Your Enemy-Over the Phone

You Violate No Criminal Law, Decision Shows

NEW YORK. — According to those in the know, it seems that one can say whatever one darn pleases—over the telephone, and no libel or slander suits can be brought against one. It's the truth. The bars are all the way down on telephone conversations.

There's not a word vile or profane enough to bring you under the criminal law as long as you say it over the phone to anyone you don't like. And there's no limit to the number of times you may harass him, provided you do it on the phone.

Recent Case

a Harlem doctor's office, charged in Magistrate's Court that Essolene Monnier, another nurse, has been telephoning her off and on since 1930, delivering a tirade of epithets, the least obnoxious of which seems to be "you lousy bum."

Miss Monnier won a $1,000 judgement against Miss White some years back in an alienation of affections suit, naming the doctor for whom Miss White worked. The case was reopened last year after Miss White contended she was in Arizona at the time and was never served with papers.

At any rate, on December 31, 1937, a switchboard operator was listening in when Miss Monnier made the alleged call. Under pressure, the operator told the Magistrate that the word she heard used might be described as obscene rather than profane.

Never Retorts

Miss White interjected:—"She calls me that two or three times a day. The phone rings. I pick up the receiver and say, 'This is Dr. M's office.' She says, 'Who the hell wants Dr. M's office, you . . . I hang up. I never get back at her. I never talk to her at any time.'"

Ten or fifteen times Miss White has had summonses served on Miss Monnier for annoying her on the telephone. However, to quote Miss Monnier's appeal counsel, "It's not disorderly conduct to telephone someone in Harlem from the Bronx. How can you breach the peace three miles away over the wire? There is no evidence of an intent on the part of the defendant to effect a breach of peace, nor are the circumstances such as could possibly occasion a breach of peace." And that's how the case closed.

It Happened This Week

Union Peeved

NEW YORK. — Ballot forging disclosure has led to firing of Metropolitan Life agents, office worker's union charged this week. Officials of the union said that this violates right to testify before Congress with impunity and makes underlings scapegoats.

Vanderbilt Offers Balanced Budget

Fulfilling his promise for a pay as you go policy, Governor William H. Vanderbilt presented to the General Assembly a balanced budget called for an appropriation of $15,210,070.28 this week to run the State for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The asked for will require an additional million and a half dollars to be raised over estimated income. Governor Vanderbilt, in his message accompanying the budget, outlined several tax methods which might be utilized to bring in the necessary money.

Among the new taxes proposed were a two cent tax on cigarettes which would bring in an estimated $1,000,000 and an increase of 25 cents per gallon on the service charge on distilled liquors imported into R. I. For other sources of income the Governor suggested raising taxes on the gross earnings of utilities, increasing the corporation surtax, a larger portion of inheritances from lower and middle class brackets, and the "breakage" from pari-mutuel betting.

Trade Agreement Brings Suit War

Offering a reduction of approximately $15 a suit made possible by the recent trade agreement with Great Britain, a representative of a London firm has established headquarters in a hotel and has circulated widely printed cards with the advertisement. Rhode Island tailors and textile manufacturers were incensed at this intrusion, which they feel is the direct result of recent tariff legislation, and they plan to meet and decide methods to combat the "menace."

Civil Service Bill Passed

Tagged with two amendments, the Civil Service Law this week was approved by the General Assembly. When the act is signed by Governor William H. Vanderbilt, Rhode Island will have what the Governor has said he feels is Civil Service legislation and a merit system second to none in the United States.

The two amendments to the act put off civil service examinations until January 1, 1940, and grant war veterans the so-called "five and ten" preference privileges.

On Philandering

NEW YORK. — It could be worse for a woman than to have an unfaithful husband, Anne Hirst, noted feminine writer said this week. Some men, she said, can be so inhuman that philandering seems a minor matter in comparison.

Legal Society Hits Loan Units

Automobiles purchased on the installment plan and financed by small loans companies result in economic, political and social disorders, LeRoy G. Pilling, secretary of the Legal Aid Society declared in his annual report.

Mr. Pilling said that "many such cases" had come to the society for legal aid. When the buyer cannot make his payments the seller enforces the contract, he said, the buyer loses all sums paid on the car, the car itself, and is further obliged to pay the balance of a promissory note with interest thereon—often three per cent a month.

"Hercules" Cited

Curran, Rep., of Providence.

Bolling, Brown instructor in political science, with disseminating Communist propaganda at a Taunton Adult Education Institute forum. The committeeman, Francis X. Reilly, campaigned to have the Taunton High School Auditorium closed to the Forum group.

Dr. Rosenbach Gets Draft Of Original Bill of Rights

NEW YORK. — Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, the bibliophile who has owned such literary treasures as the Gutenberg Bible and the manuscript of "Alice in Wonderland," this week announced acquisition of the original version of the proposed first amendments to the Constitution—better known as the Bill of Rights.

Dated March 4, 1789, the first draft of the Bill of Rights considered by Congress consists of twelve amendments, instead of the ten finally adopted.

The two amendments finally eliminated were a provision covering the number of Representatives compared to total population and a clause providing:

"No law, varying the compensation for the services of Senators and Representatives shall take effect until an election of Representatives shall have intervened."

As a result of these eliminations the much discussed but not always accurately quoted "free speech" guarantee became the first amendment, instead of the third. It reads:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press or the rights of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

So long as an unemployment problem exists in Canada, there will not be the slightest relaxation of immigration bars, he declared. Individual cases he said, are being carefully examined.

tured almost at will. The best way to fight it is not through the withdrawal of Jews from economic life or from public life nor through organized boycotts. The best way to fight it is through democratic and liberal forces of the national community of which the Jews are a part."

In addition to an effort to provide economic security for all in order to deprive "demagogues" of their audience, Professor Lerner advocated a four-point program to oppose fascist propaganda.

1. A demand that religious groups in this country "clean house" to stop leaders among them from instigating racial hatred which leads to fascism.

2. A strong movement of democratic "counter-propaganda" to spread an "affirmative conception" of democracy and its values.

3. Specific legislation, not to suppress freedom of speech, but to see to it that freedom of speech does not apply to inflammatory libels on racial and national groups.

4. Diplomatic action to cut off propaganda at its source.

Our Fate Hangs On This Hour Shall We Show COWARDICE or COURAGE

No people has ever perished without a struggle. The Jewish people is not likely to succumb at the end of all these terrifying ages to the schemes and ambitions of a group of Arab politicians. There was a time when Zion and Zionism could be pictured as the luxuries of the sensitive and the proud who were weary of both the subtler and the grosser outrages which, even at its best, Galuth inflicts upon the human spirit. That time is with us no longer.

In the quite ultimate sense the antithesis for the entire Jewish people is one today between a greater Zion instantly reborn or decimation, degradation, death.

ARISE

What is to be done? For the hundredth time it must be repeated that it must be done by a political act. What is that political act? An uprising of American Jewry through increase in Zionist membership. In brief, by an increase in the Jewish vote for the life and against the death of Israel.
