Purim

The story of Esther will bring new hope to Jews throughout the world on Purim, the Feast of Lots, which this year falls on March 5.

The legend of the Persian girl who at the risk of her life approached a King to acquaint him with the plight of her people, has a message for this day of renewed persecution of the Jews.

This deliverance from the forces of intrigue and injustice is the keynote of the Purim festival. Throughout the ages it has brought a message of courage to upholders of Jewish tradition.

D. A. R. Snubbed

Mrs. Roosevelt refuses to name the organization from which, after thought, she has decided to resign. However, there's not much doubt that the organization is the Daughters of the American Revolution, and that the reason for the resignation is the refusal of the Daughters to permit use of their Constitutional Hall in Washington for a concert by the celebrated Negro contralto, Marian Anderson.

In most cases it is best, as Mrs. Roosevelt said in her column yesterday, not to quit an organization because of disagreement over policies without first making an effort to get the policies changed. But persuading the D. A. R. to change a policy—even one as manifestly absurd and snobbish as the one involved here—would be a tough job. Mrs. Roosevelt's remarkable energy seems equal to almost any demand, but we don't blame her—we admire her—for refusing to waste any of it on an attempt to convert the Daughters to the revolutionary idea that discrimination because of race is an ugly, un-American thing.

Home for Aged Donors' Luncheon

For more than two months a group of women has been actively engaged in arranging for the Seventh Annual Donors' Luncheon of the Jewish Home for Aged of Rhode Island.

A peculiar set of circumstances, not widely comprehended, makes the success of this event one of necessary importance. As the Home for Aged is not a member of the Providence Community Fund, it depends entirely for its maintenance, upon donations, and profit from its annual carnival and charity dance. The Ladies' Association of the Home does its bit each year by sponsoring a Donors' Luncheon.

This year's event, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Saul E. R. Feinberg, promises to be one of the outstanding affairs of the season. It is good cause, and as such deserves the support of all Jewish women in the community.

Danger Signals

It's medieval, says Secretary Hull, and it's barbarous according to Dr. Schacht, but farmer co-operatives in the Mid-West are going ahead with barter deals—lard and wheat for machinery from Germany.

Darwin's Theory Is Soviet "Bible"

MOSCOW. — Foremost among the nineteenth century scientists in Soviet Russia is Charles Darwin, famous expounder of evolutionary theory.

The memory of the man who shocked theologians with his work on the origin of species is revered in the Soviet Union and his writings are regarded with something of the awe inspired elsewhere by the Scriptures.

Since the establishment of the Soviet regime, 1,700,000 copies of books by Darwin or by others propagating his teachings have been printed in the U. S. S. R. A museum has been founded, bearing his name and dedicated to the popularization of Darwinism.

Zionists Seek Million Shekel Payers Here

NEW YORK. — In accordance with the proclamation of the World Zionist Organization, calling upon each Jew, 18 years of age and over, to subscribe to a shekel, American Zionists groups have formed a Central Shekel Board to obtain 1,000,000 shekel payers in the United States.

Tide of Protests Against British Plan Mounts in U. S.

London May Ease Conditions

NEW YORK. — Protest for both Jewish and non-Jewish organizations in the United States against the plan for an Arab state in Palestine, with the Jews in a minority, continued to mount as demands were made that Great Britain make good on the Balfour declaration guaranteeing the Jews a national homeland.

The American Jewish Congress described the proposed plan as a betrayal and "an extension of the policies which led to the ignominious Munich pact."

"Bog of Violence"

Dr. Solomon Goldman, president of the Zionist Organization of America, said Britain was "sinking in a bog of violence," particularly in the Near East.

Negotiations May End Religious Dispute

Rabbinical Court Holds Session

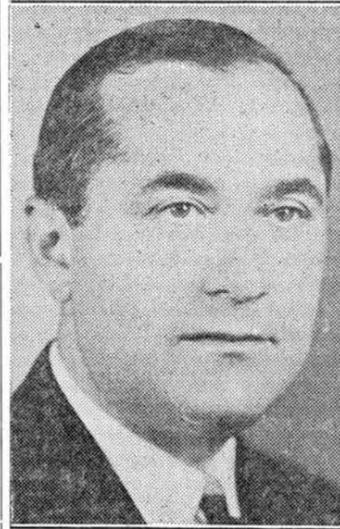

Negotiations to end the dispute between the Waad Hacashruth of Providence and the Congregation Sons of Abraham, on the question of violations of sacred laws of the Torah, are taking place this week, and in all probability will be settled shortly, according to impartial observers.

Although the Rabbinical Court of Torah and Justice, at their session last Sunday, excommunicated the Synagogue and its representatives, because of failure to appear before the Court, it is believed that once the dispute is negotiated, the ban will be lifted.

The issue of a new slaughter house has raised the question of its legality, because of the existence of a Kashruth act, which was passed by the Legislature in 1937. Archie Smith, attorney, who originally drew up the act, has, at the request of The Herald, offered the following summary and interpretation of the law, as

Center to Launch Building Campaign Seeks $75,000 to Extend Facilities For Its Work

SAMUEL WORKMAN
Center President

Its quota officially fixed at $75,000, and its purpose approved by the Providence Community Fund of which it is a member agency, the Jewish Community Center at 65 Benefit street announces the launching of its Building Fund Campaign to extend the scope and facilities of its work among Jews of all ages. Although the campaign does not officially open until Monday evening, March 20, at which time workers will assemble at a complimentary dinner to be given in the Narragansett Hotel, already a great deal of spade work is in progress.

Soviet-Berlin Political, Trade Alignment Believed Imminent

BRUSSELS. — If authentic diplomatic sources in France, Britain, Germany, and the United States count for anything in international news, the German and Soviet Russian governments are already negotiating for increased trade agreements and a possible political rapprochement is in the wind—destined for materialization some time during the year.

Some political exiles' centers in Europe believe that negotiations are already underway between Berlin and Moscow and point to the disastrous trend of German economy as the immediate reason for the lack of anti-Soviet vituperation in Hitler's recent speech. Nowhere in his two-hour harangue did the Reich-chancellor attack the Soviet Union or demand sections of Russian territory.

Reports from world capitals corroborate this point of view. This correspondent has been reliably informed that your American military diplomatic circles are convinced that relationships between the Russian and German dictators will noticeably—and publicly—improve within the next three months, leaving sections of the Comintern holding the bag politically in many countries. Stalin has liquidated national Communist parties before.

Germans Forbidden To Work For Jews

LONDON. — German representatives in London are forbidding German subjects in England to work for Jewish employers, Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, revealed in Commons in asking Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare whether steps would be taken to prevent this racial discrimination.

Sir Samuel stated that he was aware of the allegation and asked Mander to supply particulars, promising that he would have inquiries made.

Reich "Collects" 2nd Fine Payment

BERLIN. — The Nazi government collected the second installment of its billion-mark ($400,000,000) punitive fine against German Jewry imposed for the Paris murder of Ernst vom Rath. Steps were taken to collect from the present owners of former Jewish business properties a share of any "profits" realized in the transfer of such business. Seventy per cent of the "Aryanization profit" in trade and industrial enterprises and 100 per cent in real estate accrues to the government.

Most Jewish owners received only the value of the physical equipment as assessed by the government. It could not be determined what portion of the 250,000,000-mark ($100,000,000) second installment was paid.

Thomas Mann Links Socialism, Democracy

NEW YORK. — Democracy and Socialism are not incompatible in the opinion of Dr. Thomas Mann. "Democracy is based on the need for freedom, Socialism is based on the idea of equality," the exiled German writer said in a talk at the Jews is as mistaken as it and Sciences. "The contradiction between the two is only apparent. Freedom and equality are both found in Christianity."

He said there would be no hope for humanity if the choice lay only between Communism and Fascism, and added:—"There is no difference between Fascism and Communism in their attitude toward the spirit, religion and individual freedom."

Nazi Persecution "Smoke Screen"

NEW YORK. — A "controlled" attack on all Christian teaching and activity is hidden behind the "smoke screen" of the Nazi persecution of the Jews, Dr. Frank Kingdon, president of the University of Newark, declared at a dinner in honor of Dorothy Thompson here.

"The widespread belief that the Nazi persecution drives only at the Jews is as mistaken as it is dangerous. An examination of the facts will reveal that the Nazi program is one of assault on the entire morality of our civilization and not merely upon helpless minority."

30 Arabs Killed, Two Jews Wounded in Palestine Terror

HAIFA, Palestine. — Thirty Arabs were killed and forty-five Jews and two Arabs were wounded this week in bombings and shootings here, at Jerusalem and on highways.

All the incidents were interpreted as marking the Jewish reaction from yesterday's nationwide Arab "victory" celebrations, based on reports from London that Great Britain proposed to set up an Arab-dominated state in Palestine.

Twenty-four Are Killed

Twenty-four were killed and forty-one, including the two Jews, were wounded by the explosions in the market square and near the railroad station.

Three Arabs were killed and six wounded by a bomb in the vegetable market in the old city quarter of Jerusalem. Arab shopkeepers in the quarter closed their shops in protest against "Jewish outrages."

One Arab was shot dead in another quarter of Jerusalem, and Arab busses in Jerusalem were fired upon.

One Arab was shot dead at Jaffa.

One Arab was killed and one was wounded when an Arab truck struck a land mine near Tel-Aviv.

Another land mine exploded on the railroad midway between Tel-Aviv and Jaffa without causing casualties.

AT THE THEATRES

FAYS

"Gambling Ship," with Robert Wilcox, Helen Mack and Edward Brophy, is the screen attraction this week at Fays theatre. It's the tale of a young woman whose father is murdered, so she takes over the operation of his gambling ship. The film has an entertaining plot and is well cast and directed. Fays always outstanding vaudeville show rounds out the bill.

MAJESTIC

The current feature attraction at the Majestic Theatre is "Wings Of The Navy," with George Brent, Olivia DeHavilland and John Payne. "It's the kind of a picture that leaves you feeling great that you you're an American. It reveals the strength of the United States Air Force. The second picture at the Majestic is "Nancy Drew, Reporter," starring charming Bonita Granville. This picture proves entertaining to adults as well as young folks. John Litel and Frank Thomas are also in the cast.

ALBEE

"Le Bonheur," an outstanding French picture starring Charles Boyer will be shown at the RKO Albee Theatre on Friday night, in addition to the regular bill which is "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man," with W. C. Field, Edgar Bergen, Charlie McCarthy and Princess Baba. The latter picture is an entertaining continuation of a feud which started on a radio program last year between the dumpling nosed comedian and the witty talking doll. The battle of wits between the comedians will delight the public. The second feature is "Secrets of a Nurse," with Edmund Lowe and Helen Mack.

It keeps the member agencies abreast of current progress in their related fields.

Counter-Attack on Dictators Urged by Education Leaders

NEW YORK. — Prominent educators called for an American "counter-attack" on the dictatorships of Europe for their destruction of culture, true science and intellectual freedom, before 3,000 members of Phi Beta Kappa at the Hotel Astor.

A drive to raise a $300,000 fund was launched for the "defense of the humanities and intellectual freedom."

"Men interested in truth for its own sake are a persecuted minority in Germany, Russia and Italy," said Dr. Christian Gauss, dean of the college of Princeton University.

"Democracy ends where the persecution of minorities begins. Each of us belongs to some minority. It may be our turn next." Dr. Gauss condemned "super-patriots and super-partiote societies," declared himself against the super-state.

Charles Evans Hughes, 3rd, recent graduate of Brown University, spoke for the younger generation.

"In America," he said, the spearheads of foreign authoritarian penetration are the German-American Bund and the American Communist party."

Ruling Based on Cardoza Decision Bars Fund to Nazis

NEW YORK. — United States Supreme Court Justice Benjamin N. Cardoza has spoken from the grave to prevent payment to Nazi commissars of debts owed by four New York haberdashers to a Vienna tie and scarf factory expropriated from its former Jewish owners.

Citing a decision by Justice Cardoza in a case involving the past-war Russian Government before it was recognized by the United States, Municipal Court Justice Abram Goodman ordered the payment of the debts totaling $2,029 to the assignee of Herman and Ernst Spielman, former owners of Spielman & Sohn, and now refugees in Paris.

The decision, the first of its kind, termed the German seizure of Jewish business firms "brigandage." The ruling is expected to serve as a precedent in many other cases involving Austria and Sudetenland, whose annexation has not yet been recognized by the United States Government.

'Aryanized' Firms Must Pay Special 70% Profit Tax

BERLIN. — Those Germans who took over Jewish businesses after the recent forced "Aryanization" found that the profits they might have expected will be reduced to very little or nothing at all. A special tax of 70 per cent was imposed on profits realized by the new owners of Jewish firms as result of "Aryanization." In case of profit on real estate the tax is raised to 100 per cent.

An explanation accompanying announcement of the new tax stated that it is designed to prevent illegitimate profits as result of acquisition of goods for property through forced "Aryanization." These profits result from the fact that the price for Jewish shops was in many cases reduced to the value of the equipment and the merchandise on hand, the goodwill counting for nothing. In addition, it was stated, "Aryanization" of Jewish businesses created for those firms an increase in trade and credit, thus bringing

Child Refugee Bill Enclosed by Council

NEW YORK. — The executive committee of the Federal Council of Churches has endorsed the proposal that refugee children from Germany be admitted in excess of the immigration quota. The action of the council, made up of twenty-four denominations, supports the bill introduced in Congress by Senator Robert F. Wagner and Representative John D. Dingell.

"In the extraordinary circumstances which have created the problem of Jewish and Christian refugees from Germany, we feel that it is not enough to call upon other nations to help or to voice our protests but some such practical step as the one contemplated is imperative and will do much to facilitate a larger approach to

London Arranges to Provide Refugees With Special Visas

LONDON. — Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare told the House of Commons that the Government has made special arrangements for granting of visas to refugees desiring to enter England on their way to Canada and the United States. Replying to a question by Thomas Elmud Harvey, Independent, Sir Samuel said: "I am most anxious that no difficulties shall be placed in the way of granting transit visas to refugees to whom admission to some overseas countries is available. Special arrangements have already been introduced by the Home Office, in cooperation with the voluntary organization, for the immediate grant of visas in such cases."

"Keep Hitler Out" Mexicans Demand

Plaster City With Posters

MEXICO CITY. — The school teachers' union, campaigning against Nazi infiltration plastered walls throughout the city this week with posters asking:—

"Will Hitler come to Mexico?" The posters said, in part:—"A few weeks ago the German colony in Mexico was informed of the imminent foundation of a Mexican National Socialist party. This party has been founded already. This means that Nazism believes the time has arrived to intervene in Mexico's internal affairs and signifies Hitler is fighting the Cardenas democratic government.

"Preliminary battles already fought:—January 26, Jews were attacked; January 27, orators insulted Cardenas; January 28, they advocated open rebellion.

NEW YORK. — A call to Americans of all creeds and faiths to join and subscribe to the "Vladeck Memorial Fund" for the Defence of Democracy and the Promotion of Racial Tolerance was issued here by David Dubinsky, treasurer.

"This fund," Dr. Dubinsky said, "more than steel and stone would be a fit monument to the Jewish immigrant who devoted his life to the furtherance of the democratic ideals and tolerance, which we, as Americans, cherish so much." Other officers are Sidney Hillman, chairman; Adolf Held and Max Zaritsky, vice-chairmen, and Joseph Baskin, secretary.

Batista Helps Jewish Refugees

HAVANA. — Unable to remain in the United States and barred from Mexico, eight Austrian Jews found a haven in Havana as a result of a meeting with Col. Fulgencio Batista, Cuban military chief, on board ship. The refugees were not permitted to land on arrival at Vera Cruz aboard the Cuba Mail steamer Orizaba because they could not meet Mexican immigration requirements.

When they learned that the Cuban military chief was aboard on his way back to Cuba from a visit to Mexico, the refugees decided to appeal to him. Batista sent a radiogram to the Cuban Labor Minister, with the result that when the ship arrived in port the Jews

Rumania's Proposal to Exile 50,000 Jews Brings Protests

Jewish Congress Asserts Plan Violates Minority Rights Pacts

NEW YORK. — The American Jewish Congress and the United Rumanian Jews of America this week separately assailed the proposal of Rumania to force the emigration of 50,000 Jews annually during the next five years.

The American Jewish Congress made public the text of a memorandum submitted to the Rumanian Minister to the United States and to the governments of England and France, arguing that the proposal violates the minority rights, treaties and the provisions of the Rumanian constitution.

"A continuation of this Rumanian policy will associate it in the mind of the public with those governments which by their brutality have aroused the condemnation of the entire civilized world," the memorandum said.

Cites Jewish Birth Rate

Leo Wolfson, honorary president of the United Rumanian Jews of America, spoke at the organization's twenty-ninth annual convention at the Hotel Astor.

"If there is a surplus of population in Rumania, a thesis I do not for an instant admit, that surplus must not and should not be charged to the Jews," he said.

"The birth rate among the Jews is the lowest. There are other groups in Rumania. Why are not any of these groups or parts of them superfluous in the eyes of the Rumanian authorities?"

Zionist Membership Urgency is Stressed

Drive Explained By Dr. Berger

"Unofficial reports arriving from London, where World Zionist leaders are presenting the Jewish case at the Round Table Conference, are not favorable," said Dr. Ilie Berger, chairman, this week, in a statement made in connection with the local Zionist campaign.

"We can blame only ourselves," continued Dr. Berger, "for reaching the point where we are on the defensive — even in Palestine. We were luke-warm to the idea of a Jewish National Home in Palestine for a homeless people. It is true that we have raised fairly large sums of money this year to help buy land and support the Keren Hayesod, but it is not nearly enough to meet the demands of the tragic plight of hundreds of Jews in Europe.

"We must make room for these hundreds who are lingering at the borders of Poland and Germany in concentration camps," declared Dr. Berger. "We must force the doors of Palestine wide open. We can do it by raising funds for colonization, transportation, and land buying, now—before it is too late. Each man and woman must wake up to his duty—to join the ranks, and thus strengthen the hands of our World leaders in their flight for our Homeland. In numbers there is hope and strength. Don't delay. Delay is criminal neglect. Join the Zionist Organization so the Jewish people may have more hope for a future in this disturbed world. Checks for membership should be made payable to the Providence Zionist District, and should be sent to James Goldman, treasurer.

Just a frisky little furry ball—a powder puff of fluff
Large enough, I guess, to make an inexpensive muff Quite a foolish looking creature now, but still he's just a pup

We wonder what he'll look like when's pretty well grown up

We understand his mother was a Spitz, the family tree
Has been investigated by the board—and pretty thoroughly

But who his father is remains a deep mystery
So we're waiting for our pup to blossom, quite impa-

It doesn't matter to us that he's not a thoroughbred
You can have your famous blue bloods, but I'll take my pup instead

And in dogdom I am pretty sure—in all sobriety
My dog won't be excluded from the best society!

How many of you, dear readers, know that last week there occurred an incident among our Orthodox Jews that rivaled a chapter from a book of the Middle Ages?
An Orthodox Congregation, its founders, members and

Not for 150 years or more has a Congregation been declared in Charem by a Court of Rabbis . . . While both sides maintain they are right, and insist they are willing to arbitrate, up to present writing nothing con-the opinion of persons questioned about the matter that no good can come of it, and no matter which factor is adjudged right, Orthodox Jewry will suffer greatly . . .

The Belly Achers

BY STANLEY HIGH

Apparently General Hugh Johnson returned to his desk after his infantile-paralysis digression to find it more or less heaped with critical letters. Their tenor, said the General, was something like this: "How can you, how dare you be now for the New Deal and again against it; praise the President today and tomorrow damn him; give the Democrats the laurel one week and the next week the Bronx cheer. You're an inconsistent guy and we don't like it." To which the General replied, in effect, that the function of his column was to hew to the line, as he saw it, regardless of whom he chipped or where the chips fell.

That was a good answer as far as it went. I wish, however, that the General had had time to go on. What he might have opened up—but didn't—was the whole question of Who are the Liberals and What is Liberalism, anyway?

Well, with Walter Lippman and Dorothy Thompson so brilliantly possessing the field I wouldn't presume to try to define what kind of thoughts make liberal thinking. What I have to offer has to do with the far less rarefied question of the liberal technique. That's important, too. In fact, it seems to me that at present more liberals are being derailed by the matter of technique and function than by that of philosophy. For that I am inclined to think that the New Deal will have to take a large share of the blame.

The Mark of the Liberal

The mark of the liberal, as he burgeoned in the 19th Century, was his devotion to certain principles. The college YMCA Secretary of pre-war days called them "ideals". They were abstract—like Liberty, Equality, Fraternity. They were not a structure of society. They were, rather, yardsticks for the measurement of society. They were an expression, not of man's achievements, but of his dreams. In view of the fact that man never objectively creates anything so good as the thing that, subjectively, he aspires to—the actual results—as the liberal measured them—always left something to be desired. Nevertheless, it was liberal's function to lay the ideal yard-stick alongside of the concrete product and raise hell about the discrepancy.

That's why the liberal was called impractical. "Practical" people told him he ought to be satisfied. But he was never satisfied with anything—good as it was said to be. Even the best, measured by his standard, wasn't good enough. He was always asking for something better. The rule he carried wasn't a slide rule.

That fact also made the liberal—in terms of partisan politics and specific economic movements—something of a man without a country. He never stayed hitched. If he joined up with the boys on one occasion, he'd like as not be found fighting them on the next. And even when he joined up he was generally cantankerous and troublesome—a minority thorn in the side of the cocky majority. The majority generally wrote that down to a temperament and—in the upper intellectual brackets (of any)—called it "perfectionism" and him an "obstructionist." That opprobrium was sometimes deserved. Some liberals thoroughly enjoyed being martyred with the minority. Nothing so cooled their enthusiasm about anything as the prospect that it might succeed.

Bona Fide Liberals Fight

But those, generally speaking, were pseudo-liberals. The bona-fide members of the breed didn't object to fighting a good fight—even when it was a winning one. The only thing he objected to was signing on the dotted line that he'd never fight again. He knew he would be. In fact, he knew that he'd probably be fighting some of his erstwhile comrades in arms. And he was pretty sure that his comrades-in-arms—like General Johnson's critics—would call him inconsistent—or worse—and scrub his name off the honor roll. But if he were any good as a liberal he clung to his standards and kept on belly-aching.

Recently, liberals of this sort have been pretty well driven to cover or found jobs with the government. The results are approximately the same in either case. The assumption in administration circles is that the New Deal in every particular is so near a match for the liberal's standards that no liberal in any particular, ought to criticize it. The result is

Jews Denounced In Franco Speech Affirms Ties With Dictators

BURGOS, Spain. — General Francisco Franco pledged Spanish friendship to Italy and Germany and denounced "the eternal Jew" in a victory speech to a cheering crowd before his official residence, after announcement of British and French recognition.

There was no note of hope in the speech for those nations which may seek to alienate Spain from the totalitarian countries which aided the rebel cause while France, particularly, was charged with aiding the loyalists.

His reference to Jews was: "While music is heard and our flag is raised there are wandering throughout the world the damned, such as the eternal Jew, whom nobody wants because they are a Communist horde."

that a lot of people—who ought to know better—have thrown away their liberal yard-stick, given their critical faculties an indefinite holiday and, out of the resulting void, now tell us that either we have to go for the Washington program, hook, line and sinker, or the spirit of liberalism is not in us.

Ickes A Case In Point

Mr. Ickes is a good case in point. He is one of America's most effective lambasters. In the course of his turbulent years in office he has lambasted almost everything—almost everything, that is, but the New Deal. Not in one of its most inoffensive jots or titles has he ever lambasted that. The New Deal may be that good in spots or at times. But no one with any sense of sight or smell believes it is that good all the time. And the greatest dis-service that is now being done to the cause of liberalism is the tendency, among people like Mr. Ickes, to insist that, to be a liberal, you have to assume that it is that good.

But that, I suppose, is what always happens when a liberal signs a contract. A liberal, has no business signing contracts. His place, most of the time, isn't in the game. It's in the bleachers—the raucous, bottle-throwing section of the bleachers. When a liberal gets himself a spot where, there's anything he can't belly-ache about then he's on the way toward being something else than a liberal.

Says Scientists Must Know Politics

NEW YORK. — Prof. Albert Einstein, said he believed a scientist must become politically active and join with others in collective action to safeguard freedom of teaching and publication. Dr. Einstein said:

"Freedom of research and the assurance that its fruits will be applied depend on political factors. Scientists can influence this development not as scientists but only as citizens. It follows, therefore, that the scientist has the obligation to be active in political matters which bear upon these aims.

"He must have the courage both as teacher and publicist.

D. A. R. Bars Marian Anderson, Negro Contralto, from Its Hall

WASHINGTON. — Refusal to permit Marian Anderson, Negro contralto, to give a concert in Constitution Hall or the Central High School Auditorium brought protests this week from prominent musicians.

Jascha Heifetz joined those denouncing Daughters of the American Revolution and School Board officials for barring their auditoriums to Miss Anderson because of her race.

The D. A. R. which owns Constitution Hall, was the first to ban Miss Anderson's concert April 9. Attempts to transfer her concert to a school auditorium failed when the School Board refused its permission. Present plans for call Miss Anderson to sing in a church auditorium.

After a concert yesterday afternoon in Constitution Hall Heifetz said he felt "ashamed" appearing in the auditorium which had been denied to Miss Anderson.

JASCHA HEIFETZ

"To think that this hall in which I played has been barred to a great singer because of her race has made me ashamed," he said. "I protest, as the entire musical world protests, against such a deplorable attitude".

Miss Anderson has been described by Arturo Toscanini as the world's greatest singer.

Rabbinical Court Holds Session

it applies in this instance: "The act relative to the sale of Kosher food, which is Chapter 2497 of the Public Laws of 1937, and which has been incorporated in the permanent laws of the State as Chapter 613 of the General Laws of 1938, was primarily intended to prevent the sale of treifa food as Kosher.

Provisions of Act

"The act provides, 'A person, firm or corporation who shall . . . in the preparation, handling or sale of such Kosher meat or meat preparation, fail to comply strictly with the religious requirements and dietary laws necessary to constitute such meat or meat preparation genuinely Kosher, or who shall without complying with such religious or dietary laws, issue or maintain any sign or advertisement in any language purporting to represent that he sells or deals in Kosher meat of meat preparation, or who shall display on his window, door, or in his place of business, words or letters in the Hebrew language, or any sign, emblem, insignia, symbol or mark in simulation of same, the display of which might reasonably be calculated . . . to lead a person to believe that . . . the meat . . . is in conformity with the traditional or Orthodox Hebrew religious requirements, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.'

"This law incorporates the traditional laws into the State law insofar as it is necessary to determine what is Kosher and what is not Kosher, and makes the Orthodox law on Kashruth a part of the State law to that extent.

"Without attempting to interpret the Hebrew law on the matter of Kashruth, it would appear that a thing is Kosher, firstly, if it is in compliance with certain physical requirements, and secondly, if the person preparing same is authorized and empowered by the Jewish law to perform the preparation. Thus, if a layman were to perform the ritual of slaughtering an animal, and the animal was slaughtered in accordance with the physical requirements and bore the necessary characteristics, the animal would still not be Kosher because the slaughterer did not have authority to act as a Schochet, granted by the duly constituted authority.

Island Kosher Food laws, a butcher selling fowl must be reasonably certain, first, that his fowl has been slaughtered as required by the Schulchan Aruch, and secondly that the Schochet was granted authority to slaughter by a duly constituted rabbi.

"Compliance with the physical requirements of Kashruth is a relatively simple matter to determine. The authority of the Schochet depends on numerous factors; among other things, he must have been authorized by a duly ordained rabbi, who himself is recognized as an authority by the rabbis in his Community."

Old Colony Shows Gains in Report

Resources Up
$1,165,825 in 1938

Total resources of the Old Colony Co-operative Bank stood at $25,152,330.84 at the close of 1938, an increase of $1,165,825.65 over the previous year, Edward H. Weeks, president told stockholders at their annual meeting February 23.

Mortgage loans paid out during the year amounted to $5,762,476.95, he stated.

"After paying all operating costs for the year and paying or crediting of dividends to shareholders," he said, "we wrote down the book value of our securities $28,917; reduced the book value of foreclosed real estate by $50,000; wrote off all purchases of furniture and fixtures and small capital expenditures on our office buildings, besides adding $90,000 to our guaranty fund and undivided profits, and carrying a still further amount of $46,645 to the credit of the reserve for contingencies."

Mr. Weeks pointed to the purchase of the American News Company property on Pine street, in the rear of the Old Colony House, as an important step taken during the year.

He said that total losses to the institution as a result of the September flood and hurricane was approximately $40,000, including all physical damage to the banking house and branches and losses on mortgage real estate.

"Over $25,000 of this amount," he said, "was paid for before the first of January and was absorbed in the earnings of the last six months." He lauded the banking staff for their spirit during the emergency.

The following directors were elected by the shareholders: Albert A. Baker, William F. Colley, Edward H. Weeks, Hiram G. Root, Russell W. Baker, Harry P. Kenyon, Royland C. Atcherley, Everett E. Salisbury, Louis F. Baker, Frederick A. Ballou, Henry S. Chafee, E. Tudor Gross, Frank D. Reeves, Horace M. Peck, Charles H. White, Felix Hebert, Frederick S. Peck, George H. Ramsbottom, Archibald Silverman, Henry Durbin, Jr., Frederick A. Ballou, Jr., Frederick S. Blackhall, Jr., Percy Hodgson.

Two of these directors are new members of the board—Frederick S. Blackhall, Jr., of Woonsocket, and Percy Hodgson of Pawtucket.

The new board of directors elected the following officers:

Harry P. Kenyon, Chairman of the Board; Edward H. Weeks, President; Everett E. Salisbury, Vice President; Robert D. Gregory, Vice President; Laura Deignan Cull, Secretary; Harry G. James, Edna N. Platt, Anne B. Galvin, Catherine J. McDermott, Elva H. Pettengill, Katherine M. Ryan and Frank Olivo, Assistant Secretaries.

Britain Seeks Formation Of Pan-Arab Federation

PARIS. — Representatives of the British and French governments met here in discussions which may affect the outcome of the current London conference on Palestine as well as the future of Jews in the Holy Land.

It is understood that negotiations are aimed at inducing the French government to agree to establishment of a federation of Arab states, to comprise French-mandated Syria and British-mandated Palestine and Trans-Jordan, with a provision that Jews be admitted to those territories under restrictions guaranteeing that they never become a majority.

It is thought that the French government is not inclined to have Syria enter such a federation, and that the British government hopes to secure French agreement to a combination which would bring Lebanon into a united state with Palestine, to be joined by Syria at a future time.

Turkey Opposed

Turkey is opposed to the establishment of a pan-Arab federation which Great Britain continues to promote and it is certain that Turkey will support Jewish claims in the Holy Land if the federation plan materializes. Great Britain, it is pointed out, cannot afford to antagonize Turkey in view of the latter's strategic importance in the Mediterranean.

Fortune Survey

zine indicated this week. The magazine also deduced that the New Deal can't win with another candidate either, which makes it just dandy for the young G. O. P. progressive.

To Avoid Error

NEW YORK. — Madeline Kent's book, "I Married A German," concerning an English woman who married a German socialist in 1931 and lived in Germany during Hitler's rise to power, was published this week. In 1936 Mrs. Kent returned to England, sickened at the Nazi barbarism. So that there would be no misunderstanding, the author has reversed the usual formula. The book will include the statement: "None of the characters in this book are imaginary."

Dugan, chairman of the City Property Committee, said this week, in announcing an inventory will be made, to determine which properties might be disposed of advantageously by the city.

Nazis Stormed

LOS ANGELES. — It couldn't happen in New York but it did in California. An angry crowd of Anti-Nazis stormed a Bund-meeting with eggs and tree-ripened tomatoes. Two Nazis were injured. The whole argument started when Nazi speakers still insisted that George Washington and Hitler were alike.

New Ruling

NEW YORK. — In order to avoid future incidents of storm troopers acting as ushers, Mayor LaGuardia has ruled out armed guards to keep order at public meetings. Owners of halls must supply the ushers or licensed private cops—and no storm troopers.

Court Advises

It would be contrary to the State constitution to authorize Superior Court to enpanel a special or additional grand jury to sit down at the same time as the regular Grand Jury, and to serve until discharged by the Superior Court, the State Supreme Court advised Gov. William H. Vanderbilt in an advisory opinion this week.

Mexico Labor

MEXICO CITY. — Mexican labor has come forward with a plan for getting a more powerful voice in the government and demanding collectivizing agriculture and nationalizing heavy industry. Business men say it would end private property.

Newsreel of Bund Halted by Hostility

Provoked Anger Of Audiences

NEW YORK. — Newsreels taken during the German-American Bund meeting at Madison Square Garden showing an attempted assault on Fritz Kuhn by an unemployed Jewish plumber, have been withdrawn from theatres because of the anger it provoked among its early audiences, it became known today.

The violent reaction of theater patrons each time the Bund meeting shots were thrown on the screen led Pathe News' officials to confer yesterday with managers of the leading newsreel houses.

"We decided to take the advice of the managers," said a Pathe spokesman, "and when they said they believed the film was too inflammatory we withdrew it."

The newsreel ran for two days.

Berlin Starts Exiling of Jews

BERLIN. — With fears for the future, leaders of the estimated 160,000 Jews here began complying with a new order that requires the emigration of 100 Berlin Jews daily.

Beginning today, the leaders must submit each day the names of 100 Jews who can leave Germany within a fortnight. Enough names were said to be available to meet the order for only the next three or four days.

Jewish authorities, however, held little hope of keeping up the pace thereafter. They were fearful of possible consequences should they be unable to comply fully.

Russians Line Up To Buy Bananas

MOSCOW. — Russians stood in queues for hours this week for a chance to buy bananas, the first on sale in the Soviet capital in twenty years.

The bananas, imported from Colombia, sell at approximately $1.50 a pound. Despite the high price curiosity brought many purchasers. The new generation must learn how to peel and eat the fruit.

Grapefruit was brought from Azerbaidjan, Transcaucasia, recently and purchasers were told that it was a cross between a lemon and an orange.

Center to Launch Campaign

Seeks $75,000
To Increase Work

campaign were explained. Members of the Center's Speakers Bureau are engaged in spreading the gospel among the Jews in every section of Providence through the cooperation of Temples, Synagogues, clubs and lodges at their various meetings and social affairs.

Drive Begins

Members of the Initial Gifts Committee are actively engaged in laying the ground work for the campaign which, for them, will open with a meeting on March 9. The Functions Committee, composed entirely of women, is making preparations for the entertainment of workers attending the dinner at the Narragansett, as well as subsequent meetings of the various committees.

Reasons for Campaign

The reasons for the campaign, as expressed by various members of the community closely associated with the work of the Center, are as follows:

"Since 1925," according to Samuel H. Workman, its president, "the Jewish Community Center, through a Board of Directors composed of laymen and a professional staff, have been influencing the lives of hundreds of Jewish boys and girls, young men and women. As good as the work has been, it has long been known that there are thousands of young people whom the Center cannot reach because of the inadequacy of its facilities. Furthermore, our present building is seventy years old and is rapidly deteriorating. We are concerned with the safety of our charges.

Judaism Protection

"In these days of world unrest, we who, unlike the Jews in other lands, are enjoying a full measure of liberty and freedom of religious worship, must not forget the lesson taught us by the experience of our German brothers, and build in the present, for the protection of Judaism in the future."

"The Center," according to J. I. Cohen, Executive Director, "is a second home to which local and visiting Jews come to meet their brethren. Within the Center there are all types of clubs, classes and social activities. It extends a friendly hand to the boy and girl of problem age. It takes children off the streets, keeps them occupied, and surrounds them with an atmosphere which is at once wholesome and energizing. It acts as a big brother, shielding the boy or girl from the unrest of the outer world. It directs their energies into useful channels. It is a form of insurance: it is your guarantee that Jewish youth will be an asset to the whole community."

Membership Figures

Figures recently released by the Center show that even with its present limited facilities, membership last year was greater than 1500, and that the total attendance was more than 100,000. There are more than 4,000 Jewish children of school age in Providence, yet because of woefully inadequate facilities, less than 20 per cent of this number can be accommodated. And this, notwithstanding the fact that communities with much smaller Jewish populations are equipped with Centers far superior in size and equipment than our own. Thus, Portland, Maine, with only 3000 Jews as compared with Providence's 25,000, has a Center valued at $125,000.

Center Mortgage

The Jewish Center, according to the Community Fund, is the only one of its member agencies with a mortgage on its property, and both the Fund and the banks are insistent that this mortgage be wiped out so that its annual interest can be applied to the work of the Center. The mortgage, according to the Board of Directors, amounts to $18,500.

"Our Campaign Fund," declares Milton C. Sapinsley, general chairman, "is calculated, if the goal is achieved, to take care of the needs of our Center for many years to come. Expansion of our facilities, however, must depend directly upon the response to our appeal. With this in mind, our architects have so arranged their plans as to make the project a flexible one. Envisaging the success which the project deserves, the Center will have what will be virtually a new building, opening directly from the street into what is now the basement of our building. This additional floor space is planned to devote to game rooms and bowling alleys. An entirely new wing on the right of the building would make room for such needed lounges and halls for club and other meetings. Enlargement of the present gymnasium and its devotion to its primary purpose will permit of the accommodation of large numbers of additional young men and women who cannot at present avail themselves of gym facilities because of lack of space and the gym's present dual capacity. Erection of a brand new auditorium with a seating capacity of 600, and a stage equipped to accommodate anything in the way of entertainment from a lecture to a Center Players' production, will likewise permit the extension of the Center's facilities to hundreds who cannot now be reached. However, the plan can be enlarged or reduced to fit the amount which is realized through the campaign."

Committee Members

Associated with Mr. Sapinsley, as co-chairmen in the campaign are: Samuel Soforenko, and Samuel P. Lazarus. Others, who to date, have agreed to serve as honorary vice-chairmen, are: Jules P. Goldstein, Archibald Silverman, Judge Philip C. Joslin, and Max L. Grant.

Chairmen of the various campaign committees are: Mark Huddish, publicity; Saul E. R. Feinberg, Speakers bureau; Mrs. Benjamin Rossman, functions; Samuel Soforenko, initial gifts; David Meyers, director of teams; Mrs. Hallet J. Foster, campaign dinner arrangements.

Warns Against Fascist Movement

Warning that the Fascist movement will become a serious factor in our body politics, Ludwig Lore, foreign editor of the New York Post last Sunday evening addressed members of the Jewish Community Center.

Mr. Lore said that small groups of Nazis and Fascists are working among themselves to organize in this country. "On the surface," he said, "we don't see anything of them, but suddenly, some day, we will wake up to find the Fascist movement is here." The only salvation to prevent another major conflict, he said, is for the United States to openly declare itself on the side of the anti-Fascist nations. "We must give up our policy of isolation," he said.

War will come, "without a doubt," unless the United States "does speak the word," he added. "England and France are not strong enough to frighten Germany and Italy, without the aid of the United States." Samuel Workman introduced the speaker.
