False Americanism

The American Bar Association this week has entered the fight against false "Americanism." In a statement by its House of Delegates, the Association is preparing a stand against what Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes termed in 1925 "varieties of false Americanism which professes to maintain American institutions while dethroning American ideals."

When adopted, the Association resolution will add to the show countless evidence that the American public is aware of the intent behind the more than 800 organizations who, in one breath, brazenly advertise that they are the saviours of democracy, while in another, employ methods subversive to the American system.

Unity and Weather

Mark Twain's now famous remarks on the weather can be distorted to read "Everybody complains about the lack of unity in our Jewish community but nobody does anything about it."

Twain really was wrong, for man has attempted to do something about the weather. Think of the main reason for clothing and houses, for instance. Then, there are electric fans, wind-mills, refrigerators, surfaced roads, enclosed automobiles, snow sheds, snow fences, lightning rods, wind breaks, air conditioning and irrigation. Man is actually doing something about the weather with each of these methods in the control of rain, wind, sun and temperature.

It has been a favorite parlor and pulpit game, during the past year, to deplore the increase of "sectionalism" in Providence. Yet, no offer has been forthcoming by any "sectional" leader to merge the identity of his organizations with similar ones throughout the city.

Any attempt to materialize these dreams of unity cannot succeed until our "sectional" leaders stop talking about the ideals of unity and start doing something about it.

"To the Victors..."

Nazi Germany has invented a technique in handling their conquered territories. It is a method that puts the framers of the Versailles treaty to shame.

In brief, all goods and businesses in Poland, for example, are classed as "enemy property" and as such can be confiscated legally by the State. A puppet administrator will direct these "enemy properties" and will decide which are to remain in private hands and which would be better off under Nazi direction.

Apologists for the Nazi regime who have complained bitterly about the severity of the Versailles treaty will have quite a time justifying the "peace" that the Nazis have concluded.

FATHER COUGHLIN

Dies Committee May Summon Radio Priest

NEW YORK. — Supporters of Father Charles E. Coughlin this week were surprised to see him denounced in the leading editorial in this week's issue of the Commonweal, Catholic magazine.

Discussing the case of 17 members of the Christian Front charged with plotting to overthrow the government the editorial asserted that Father Coughlin, the Brooklyn Tablet, a Catholic weekly, and Social Justice, Father Coughlin's newspaper, "must bear the direct responsibility for the plight of these 17 young men."

And from Washington comes word that the Dies Committee, whose life has been extended by the House, will now have to probe into the affairs of the radio priest.

Among his proposals there has been one providing for a ghetto for Mexican Jewry. Loaiza has also received the endorsement of the Government party in the Senate.

Nazi Conscription of Jews Linked to Soviet Road Job

PARIS. — German decrees drafting all able-bodied Jews in Nazi Poland and 30,000 Jews in Berlin were declared by well informed quarters here this week to be connected with a project for construction of a Berlin-Moscow automobile highway through Poland.

Plans for the road have been completed, it was said, and the highway will be important in accelerating shipment of Soviet commodities to Germany by truck, supplementing Russia's inefficient railway system.

Temple, Home Select Dates for Carnival

At a meeting of representatives of the Carnival Committees of Temple Emanuel and the Home for Aged of Rhode Island held this week at the home of Samuel Lazarus, dates were selected for the 1940 carnivals of both organizations.

The annual event of Emanuel will occur the first week in May, and the Home's annual carnival will be held from June 15 to June 22.

In attendance at the meeting were Samuel Rosen, Emanuel carnival chairman, Maurice Cooper, Home carnival chairman, and Ralph Krauss, Nat C. Cohen, Jacob Felder, Henry Sopkin, Benjamin Trinkel, James Goldman, Isaac Feinstein and Alter Boyman.

An official announcement broadcast by German radio stations said all able-bodied Jews in Nazi Poland would be liable for two year's service in labor battalions to be set up to carry out special tasks. (The decree authorizing the draft was issued by Dr. Frank, Governor-General of Nazi Poland, from his headquarters in Cracow, according to advices reaching Amsterdam.)

To insure the effectiveness of the draft, Nazi newspapers announced that Jews in the Reich who did not work would not be permitted to receive relief. Relief for Jews is financed by the Reich Jewish Community.

Additional Ghettos Set Up in Poland

NEW YORK. — Establishment of ghettos in various towns in Nazi-occupied Poland not incorporated in the Reich, to segregate Jews in separate districts, besides the Jewish "reservation" in Lublin, is reported to Jewish organizations in Paris, according to a Paris dispatch to the Times.

Warsaw Jews, who paid several million zlotys in November for postponement of the ghetto orders, now again are menaced with formal separation. Already certain streets in the center of the city are closed to Jews. The dispatch further disclosed that in Radom, Minsk and Mazowiech, Jews already have been ordered to settle in separate districts. To these ghettos have been transferred many inhabitants from surrounding villages and towns.

Thalheimer - Foster

At a 6 o'clock ceremony, performed last Monday evening at the Metacomet Golf Club, Miss Helen Anne Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hallet Jean Foster of Cole avenue, became the bride of Albert Thalheimer, Jr., of Benefit street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thalheimer, of Selma, Alabama. Rabbi William G. Braude of Temple Beth El performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown, trimmed with old lace, and she carried camellias and lilies of the valley. Miss Jean Foster attended her sister as maid of honor. She was gowned in aquamarine and her bouquet was of roses. Ann Katzenberg was flower girl. William Thalheimer of Logan, West Virginia, served as his brother's best man.

The mother of the bride chose a gown of taupe gray chiffon, and she wore a corsage of cypripedium orchids, while the bridegroom's mother wore robin's egg blue chiffon, with a corsage of pink Delight roses and lilies of the valley.

Traceries of Southern smilax adorned the club for the ceremony, and the candlelight wedding was performed against a background of hemlock hedge. The fireplace was banked with cypripedium ferns and sunbursts of Easter lilies. Carnations and other white blossoms formed centerpieces for the tables.

The bride, a graduate of Pembroke College, '37, has spent her time since graduation studying and acting in the theatre in New York, Stockbridge, Mass., and Dayton, O. Mr. Thalheimer is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania.

After a wedding trip to Vera-dero Beach, Cuba, the couple will take up residence at 151 Taber avenue.

BY EDYTHE JAY

It was the lack of space last week That cut off our Spring hat review We're back to continue the story And we're hoping you are too . . . Flowers and veils and cellophane Form handsome frames for your face And for something really delectable Get a hat that is trimmed with lace . . .

One designer got up something that is nothing short of mouth-watering . . . She covers a lot of red roses with black lace, and what emerges is a toreador turban . . . Another chapeau that will catch your fancy is a shallow wide brimmed sailor of green cellophane shaped like a lily pad, and centered with two large water lilies, one white and one black . . .

Suzy, who can always be depended upon to make you look years younger, bows in a white toyo pillbox wreathed in colorful sweet peas, with green velvet streamers . . . Then there's an open-crowed turban with lush peonies . . . Another designer poses red birds on a snow white sailor . . .

The biggest excitement in hat silhouettes being served right now by New York milliners is the chignon turban that places style emphasis at the nape of the neck . . . It is high style, and in its present form not the easiest to wear because it does cover the coiffure, brings eyes and facial contour into such full play they must be worth calling attention to . . . The girls are already figuring out pretty compromises to make the chignon turban more wearable . . . Bangs or a pompadour high in front, exotic earrings, twin blossoms tucked over the ears, to serve as "trimmings." . . .

Because suits get an early start under fur coats, there must be chic headgear to top them off . . . Try a white sailor and white gloves with your navy tulle, under mink, and see how sprightly the whole effect is on a gray day . . .

The French had a word for any of the Spring hats mentioned above — piece de resistance . . .

Sketchbook: An appliqued jacket over a smartly tailored black dress, chosen by Mrs. Max Fradin . . . Her black hat had a fur pom pom . . . A stunning outfit of blue, strikingly contrasted by a red turban is what Mrs. John Silverman selected . . . Rose Kelman wore dubonnet, with a powder blue turban . . . Jean Shepard, a chic silhouette in black crepe, with a smartly snooded hat . . .

A dress of velvet and a tall hat, worn by Lillian Politzer, she of the starry blue eyes . . . A warm shade of olive green was the colour of Selma Slavitt's frock, and it was the perfect foil for her tian hair . . . Dorothy Misch, in a swagger three-quarter length coat of skunk — with a rakish hat to match it . . .

Edith Fink in a casual outfit of old rose and powder blue . . . Her turban was of the latter colour . . . Lillian Greenberg in the happy combination of black and baby pink . . . Mrs. Morris Pritsker's black crepe frock, accented with trimming of gold leather . . . A tallish black felt hat, and a mink-trimmed black coat completed the picture . . . Mrs. Bert Bernhardt's black Persian coat and becoming black topper was smooth with her blonde complexion . . . Genial Mrs. Julius Robinson appeared in a smart affair of black, and her small hat had a minute veil . . . Mrs. Kaplan's English looking tweed suit and hat to match, was covered by a stunning sheared beaver coat . . . A rich — almost intoxicating colour — of deep plum was chosen by Frances Snell for her winter coat and hat . . . We liked the velvet collar that matched . . .

Mrs. Walter Strauss, in a strictly tailored wool frock of dawn pink, and a wee toque on her coiffure . . . And speaking of Mrs. Strauss — Repertory Players' president — reminds us to remind you that the group is giving its first play of the season on Monday and Tuesday at Barker Playhouse . . . Rehearsals indicate a swell performance — and when you go, you'll be charitable as well as entertained — 'cause Junior Hadassah gets three-quarters of the proceeds . . . We'll be looking for you

Morris Plan Made 27,179 Loans in 1939

Reports Given at Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of The Morris Plan Company of Rhode Island, a report made by Howard E. Gladding, secretary-general Manager, showed that 27,179 individual loans were made by that institution during the year of 1939. This, said Mr. Gladding, is the largest number of loans made by the Company in any one year since its establishment and resulted in a total dollar volume exceeding $6,450,000, the increase over 1938 being more than $720,000.

The report attributed the record year to the Company's experience in its field and its ability to provide financial service for all worthy individuals. The report further showed that actual charge-off figures on a percentage basis amount to but 28/100 of 1% of the total volume of the Company's business to date. This may be taken, said Mr. Gladding, as a distinct tribute to all those who borrow on the basis of character, earning power and the ability to repay.

The attention of the stockholders was called, by the report, to increases in practically all of the Company's many loan classifications, and an increase of more than $115,000 in total assets. It also showed that Investment Certificates outstanding increased by $34,000.67 as of the end of 1939, with 3766 holders as compared with 3614 at the end of 1938. Net earned profit in 1939 was $18,408 greater than in the previous year.

The directors voted that a quarterly dividend of one and three-quarters per cent be paid on the capital stock of the Company on February first to stockholders of record January nineteenth.

Dismissal Would Undermine Stability

BUDAPEST. — Difficulties have arisen in carrying out the regulations which provide for dismissal of Jewish sales agents and traveling representatives to reduce their number to the ratio permitted under the so-called "Jewish law."

Such reduction, it is revealed in the press would greatly affect Hungary's commercial stability and economic life. Nazi Captive Freed By U. S. Girls' Note Message Found In Fruit Basket

FRESNO, CAL. — Three years ago two Fresno girls placed a note in a box of dried fruit they had packed, asking the finder to write to their friend, Mrs. Alice Springer.

As a result, Herman Berlad, 20, a Vienna Jew, escaped from a Nazi concentration camp.

The fruit was shipped to Vienna, where the youth found the note.

After Anschluss, Berlad's family was dispossessed and Herman sent to a concentration camp, from which he managed to smuggle a letter to Mrs. Springer.

The woman enlisted the aid of the local Jewish leaders and contact with the family was made through the international Red Cross. Now Berlad is settled at the home of S. Zall, a produce merchant. He hopes to bring other members of his family here.

Quality is never an accident. It is always the result of intelligent effort. There must be the will to produce a superior thing.—Ruskin.
