German Official Resigns Because Of Nazi Aide

BONN — The West German Minister of Justice, Dr. Wolfgang Stammberger, has submitted his resignation to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer because of the former's responsibility in the appointment of Wolfgang Fraenkel, who was dismissed earlier this month from his post as Federal Chief prosecutor after disclosure of Fraenkel's participation in Nazi court judgments, it was reported here. Dr. Stammberger's resignation, however, was not accepted by the Cabinet.

A special Cabinet committee, meanwhile, has been established by the West German Government to investigate East German charges about the alleged past of judges, prosecutors and police officials now serving in the Federal Republic.

To Build New Home For Aged In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA — A new apartment building, approximately 13 stories in height, costing $2,000,000, and especially designed for the aged, will be built here by the Home for the Jewish Aged. The announcement was made by Harry A. Robinson, president of the Home for the Jewish Aged — York House, who said the new structure will be put up next to the present York House, an apartment building for senior citizens opened Jan., 1960.

As in the case of York House, the new building will be operated independently of the Home for the Aged. It is not an institution for the aged. Those who lease apartments live as in their own homes. They are free to come and go as they please, work if they can, participate in recreational programs.

Price Of Bread Rises In Israel

JERUSALEM — The price of bread in Israeli bakeries rose by an average of 95 per cent Sunday, with the removal of government subsidies and controls. The standard loaf, formerly weighing two pounds, three ounces and costing the equivalent of 8 cents has been reduced in weight by one quarter and now sells for the equivalent of 13 cents. A similar rise took place in the price of white bread and of rolls.

The Ministry of Commerce, which had anticipated a certain rise in prices following the removal of the bread subsidy, declared that the bakers' new prices were exorbitant, and indicated that measures may be taken against the bakers under the law limiting unfair profiteering.

Newspaper Points Out Examples Of Damage To Israel's Trade When Market Tariff Is Completed

JERUSALEM — Examples of the damage to Israel's trade that will ensue when the Common Market tariff is completed are cited by the Jerusalem Post: The added value of citrus exports to Euromart countries will fall from 74 to 57 per cent; net foreign currency earnings will decline by 17 per cent; and the cost of the dollar earned will rise from IL2.50 last year to IL3.24.

The added value of citrus products will decline from 50 to 30 per cent; and the cost of the earned dollar will be upped from between IL2.74 and IL3.25 to between IL4.31 and IL5.45. Vegetable oils: added value down from 25 to 13 per cent; cost of the earned dollar up from IL4. to IL7.70.

Plywood: added value down from 33 to 21 per cent; cost of the earned dollar up from IL3 to IL4.50.

Delegates Friendly

The present and future member countries of the Common Market form the chief customers for Israel's trade. At present 70 per cent of the added value of Israel's total exports are earned in these territories, and the proportion will rise to 80 per cent by 1965.

Israel treasury sources stress that the members of the Euromart Parliamentary Delegation which visited Israel in February are proving staunch advocates of a positive approach to Israel's problems. A Bulletin of the French political party MRP (to which the Delegation head, M. Alain Poher, belongs) devoted an entire issue to impressions of this visit. In it Poher quotes Ben-Gurion as telling the Delegation: "You could easily, if you were selfish, kill us, asphyxiate us—in a word achieve what the Arabs have not managed to do since 1948."

Poher adds that "until the British question is settled, no adherence or association is admissible. In addition the urgent situation makes it imperative to avoid raising the political problems which will not fail to be posed by the creation of institutional links between Israel and the Six."

Opposing Views

While some Israel Government circles consider that the pressure of urgent business (concerning in particular the arduous problems of Britain's relations with the Common Market) accounts for this delay, other groups maintain that the Council of Ministers have been back-peddaling on the Israeli issue.

First To Apply For Agreement With Euromart

Israel is the first nation to apply for a trade agreement with Euromart, and was followed by Austria. The Jerusalem Post reports that officials in France and West Germany are reluctant that the first such agreement should be concluded with Israel, whereas Italy does not welcome the inclusion of a foreign competitor within the trade bloc. The Benelux countries, on the other hand, are favorably disposed to a positive arrangement with Israel.

Finance Minister Levi Eshkol was disappointed at the decision of the EEC Council of Ministers to postpone consideration for a commercial agreement with the European Common Market until autumn.

The Tel Aviv Liberal party paper Haboker wrote, "It already appears certain that Israel will not be connected in any way with the European Common Market."

West Germany assured Jordan that it would not back Israel in its efforts to conclude an economic agreement with the European Common Market, Amman announced.

Israel's efforts to join the Common Market are described by the New China News Agency as an attempt by the West European monopolists to re-infiltrate into Africa and Asia.

Leaders Declare Jewish Education Must Be Given Highest Priority In Fight For Cultural Survival

JERUSALEM — Jewish education must be given highest priority in the world's Jewish communities in their striving for religious and cultural survival, two American Jewish leaders declared here at the opening session of the World Conference of Jewish Education.

Addressing the parley, sponsored by the World Conference of Jewish Organizations, Dr. Nahum Goldmann, president of the World Jewish Congress, and Label A. Katz, president of B'nai B'rith, stressed the need for a campaign throughout the Jewish communities outside Israel to augment and improve Jewish educational facilities and methods.

Dr. Goldmann told the more than 500 delegates from 28 nations that the Jewish youth outside Israel would undergo a process of disintegration if there is a continued "lack of incentives and motivations as to why it should remain Jewish." To counter that possibility, he urged a more intensive Jewish educational system and greater utilization of day schools in the Jewish educational process.

Declaring that what is required was not only funds and teachers but an "understanding among Jewish communities that this is their primary obligation," Dr. Goldmann defended the concept of Jewish day schools, stating that he could not accept the position of those who are afraid that a system of Jewish day schools would be interpreted as "an attempt at separatism."

Mr. Katz said the question was not whether Jewish life would continue outside Israel "but the character of its continuity. He urged establishment of a worldwide Jewish educational body that would bring unity to the current "scattered and fragmentary" Jewish educational efforts.

Oscar Zetter has been named honorary chairman, essential gifts committee.

13 Nazis To Go On Trial In Bonn

BONN — Thirteen nazis accused of complicity in the slaying of 170,000 Jews at a concentration camp in Poland are to go on trial here late this year before a Bonn district court that is said to be prepared for a four-month long trial.

All former members of Hitler's elite guard, the 13 are accused of having driven trucks with death chamber equipment and of having used whips to drive the Jewish victims into the death compartments. The death camp was one of the most notorious in Poland, with only three Jews known to have survived the agony.

To Hold Part Of Convention In Jerusalem

NEW YORK — The Rabbinical Assembly will hold part of next year's convention in Jerusalem "to emphasize both the central significance Conservative Jewry places upon Israel as well as the international character of the movement," and to dramatize the fact that post-war America is now "the reservoir of spiritual leadership for world Jewry."

This was announced last week by Dr. Theodore Friedman, president of the Assembly, and spiritual leader of Congregation Beth El, South Orange. The Assembly is the international association of Conservative rabbis.

"There are indications that U.S. Jewry is now beginning to serve not alone as the source of financial aid and support to Israel and other Jewish communities facing stress throughout the world, but also as the reservoir of spiritual leadership," Dr. Friedman said. "This latter task, which was so brilliantly fulfilled for several centuries by East European Jewry from which world Jewry drew their rabbis and teachers, has now fallen upon American Jewry."

Dr. Friedman announced that a new rabbinical Assembly Region is being established in Israel under the initiative of Rabbi Jack Cohen, formerly of the Society for the Advancement of Judaism in New York and now director of the Hillel Foundation in Jerusalem.

PRODUCE TALEISIM

PARIS — A factory to produce taleisim (prayer shawls) has been established in the Soviet Union, it was reported here in an article in the mass-circulation newspaper L'Aurore by M. Zitron, French-Jewish journalist who returned from a three-week visit to the Soviet Union. The writer said that the talis factory was located on the outskirts of Moscow.

Joan Dell Sokolow Weds Howard Earl Barasch

Miss Joan Dell Sokolow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sokolow of 76 Ferncrest Avenue, Cranston, was married on Sunday evening, Aug. 19 in a candlelight ceremony, under a pink and lilac canopy, to Howard Earl Barasch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Barasch of 47 Alder Brook Drive, Cranston. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rabbi Pesach Sobel at 6 P.M., assisted by Cantor Jack Smith in Temple Beth-Am, Warwick, and a reception and dinner followed.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a gown of white organza over taffeta, designed with a Joseph neckline and elbow length sleeves. Re-embroidered Alencon lace formed the fitted empire bodice and sleeves and continued into the full skirt, and circled the cathedral train. Her elbow length French illusion veil fell from a jeweled crown. She carried a white prayerbook with white orchids showered with Stephanotis.

Mrs. Morton Gilstein, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaid was Mrs. Stanley Gurnick, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Phyllis Waxler was maid of honor.

They wore pink and lilac matching sheath gowns over taffeta with tunics of matching organza, and carried bouquets of pastel spring flowers, wearing open crown hats with matching veils.

Stanley Gurnick, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Morton Gilstein, brother-in-law of the bride, Elliot Sherman, Robert Stern, Brenton Bazarsky, Julius Hoffman, and Harold Sugarman.

Miss Andrea Ilene Gilstein, niece of the bride, and Miss Robyn May Gurnick, niece of the bridegroom, wore flower girls. They wore matching dresses of pink organza with lace trim and satin bows, and full bouffant skirts. They carried baskets of spring petals and wore matching flowered headpieces.

Mrs. Ida Sherman, grandmother of the bride, was in the procession. Mothers and grandmother were gowned in pink and wore white orchid corsages.

Following a wedding trip to Tamarack Country Club in upper state New York, the couple will reside on Laurel Hill Avenue, Cranston.

FINDS VISIT INTERESTING

MARSEILLES — Ivory Coast President Felix Houphouet-Boigny said his 10-day visit to Israel had been one of his most interesting and most instructive trips. "Israel," he said, "is an example of dynamism, work and hope which shows a certainty of progress for young states such as the Ivory Coast."

"A small country but a great people, Israel is a unique example to the world, and its achievements in the industrial and agricultural domains are almost miraculous."

"We will accept Israel's aid, just as we accept help from France, Britain, the U.S., West Germany, and from all who wish to aid us without mixing into our internal affairs," he said.

The appointment of Mrs. Virginia Ann Barr to the faculty of the Providence Hebrew Day School was announced today by Rabbi Akiva Egozi, headmaster of the school. Mrs. Barr will teach the new pre-kindergarten and kindergarten grades.

A graduate of Barrington College, Mrs. Barr has taught at schools in Boyerton, Pennsylvania, and at the Gordon School in Providence.

Mrs. Thomas B. Shopiro

Miss Linda Lee Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mills of Alfred Stone Road, Pawtucket, and Thomas Bennett Shapiro, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Shapiro of Brookline, Mass., were married Sunday, Aug. 12.

Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen performed the 6:30 P.M. ceremony in Ledgemont Country Club in Seekonk. A reception followed.

James Saklad and Mrs. Saklad, sister of the bridegroom, were the honor attendants. Miss Sue Newman was maid of honor. Ushers were Robert Kahn Mills, brother of the bride, Robert Shapiro, William Trilling, Paul Teryl, Martin Schrank and Michael Abramson.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Shapiro will live in Cambridge, Mass.

Associate Chairmen Named For GJC Drive

A Campaign Cabinet meeting to discuss and formalize definite plans for the General Jewish Committee's 1962 fund-raising drive will be held Monday evening at the home of General Campaign Chairman Merrill L. Hassenfeld, 4 Woodland Terrace.

The GJC's 18th annual campaign is slated to get underway shortly after Labor Day with some 600,000 Jewish men, women and children in 28 countries looking toward this fund-raising drive and similar ones elsewhere in the United States to help them. The United Jewish Appeal, the major beneficiary of the GJC, is the major instrument for aiding oppressed and destitute Jews overseas and helping those already in Israel.

Mr. Hassenfeld announced that those named as associates to the General Campaign chairman for the 1962 campaign are Benjamin Brier, Martin M. Chase, Ira S. Galkin, Max L. Grant, Sidney A. Kane, Sol Koffler, Joseph K. Levy, Jacob Licht, Albert Pilavin, Samuel Rosen, and Alexander Rumlper.

TO CONDUCT SERVICES

A LOOK AT SPORTS

by LEON SAPERSTEIN

This year the American League pennant race involves two teams that were preseason favorites to finish in the second division. Occasionally one club will surprise as occurred last season when the amazing Cincinnati Reds provided the baseball upset of 1961. But not for many years have two teams, weak on paper if not in actuality, stayed up so long in a flag fight.

Had anyone predicted three months ago that the Los Angeles Angels and the Minnesota Twins would be battling the Yankees for the pennant, that individual would have been hailed as a prime candidate for the College of Idiots. Neither the Twins nor the Angels are really pennant contenders when you analyze their personnel. Outside of Wagner the Los Angeles squad has no outstanding slugger and Minnesota lacks the defense necessary for a top team.

Three factors are responsible for this state of affairs. First, the New York Yankees were beset with injuries, notably to their superstar, Mickey Mantle. Also Luis Arroyo, who was almost untouchable in 1961, suffered a sore elbow and after recovering is still not the same Arroyo. The New Yorkers were able however to call on Marshall Bridges who responded with brilliant relief performances on a score of occasions.

Another reason for the success of the Twins and Angels is the collapse of the early season favorites, Detroit and Cleveland. The Tigers lost the services for long periods of both Al Kaline, their star outfielder as well as Frank Lary, erstwhile Yankee killer and last year's twenty game winner. Cleveland, after two good months, completely fell apart at the seams and can only attempt to make the first division.

Finally, every team has to have its breaks. This applies to the Yankees as it does to the lowly New York Mets. Bill Rigney, this season's manager of the year, has been able so far to steer the Angels clear of any slumps. He has made the right moves, he changes pitchers three, four, five times a game, he has gotten a great year from Billy Moran, who will probably slump next season. Thus everything went well for these two surprise teams. Only recently however the Minnesota club learned that their number one hurler, Camilo Pascual, was complaining that his pitching arm was giving him trouble. Without the strong right arm of the Cuban the Twins can bid farewell to their pennant aspirations.

While composing this column I was unable to know the outcome of the vital three game series between the league leading Yankees and the Angels. But, I feel confident that by the time you read this column the Bombers will have thwarted the bold bid by the upstart Angelinos.

Over in the National League another Los Angeles entry, the Dodgers, is suffering from an acute case of pressuritus. Last year with victory almost in sight the Dodgers slumped, lost three straight to the Reds, and were forced to settle for second place. Fortunately for the men of Walter Allston the challenging San Francisco Giants are not noted for their stretch drive abilities. In fact, the surprising Reds, were it not for the loss of

Israel Suggests Thant Intercede In Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Israel has suggested that U Thant, acting Secretary-General of the United Nations, intercede in a dispute with Jordan, over solar evaporation pans for salt on the Dead Sea shores. The proposal was made in a letter to the Security Council by Michael S. Comay, Israel's permanent representative here. Ambassador Comay pointed out that Jordan had once made a complaint on the issue, back in 1954, had withdrawn the complaint in 1955, "and the location and operation of the salt pans was not contested by Jordan for six years." Israel made it clear it could not understand why Jordan chose to make an issue of the salt pans again at this time.

Last February, Mr. Comay informed the Security Council, Israel offered to cooperate with Jordan in demarcation of the boundary line at the disputed point, so as to "enable the Government of Jordan to implement its own plans for the extraction of minerals."

Bar Mitzvah — Kenneth Howard Resnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Resnick of 142 Pembroke Avenue, Providence, became Bar Mitzvah on July 14 at Temple Beth David.

A reception and dinner was held in his honor following the services.

Integrate System Of Jewish Education In City Of Buffalo

BUFFALO — An integrated system of Jewish education has been agreed upon here by the major organizations concerned, and will go into effect for the next academic year, beginning September 1. The agreement has been accepted and approved by the United Jewish Federation, the Bureau of Jewish Education and the Buffalo Hebrew School, as well as the boards of directors of the following congregations: Temple Emanu-El, Beth David-Ner Israel, Ahavas Achim Lubavitz, Sinai and Beth El.

Under the new plan, the Buffalo Hebrew School, founded here 60 years ago, will discontinue operating its own school, but will act as the clearing facility, integrating its own students into existing congregational schools under a tuition arrangement. All present and future students who will qualify on the basis of non-congregational affiliation, will be registered by the Buffalo Hebrew School, and will be allocated to existing congregational schools on the basis of geographic location and with consideration for the ideological backgrounds of the parents.

Jewish Education In Winnipeg Faces Crisis

WINNIPEG — A warning that Winnipeg's Jewish educational system faces a crisis, unless parents of children attending the Jewish day schools here accept a greater share of the increasing costs involved, was issued here by S. L. Morantz, president of the Jewish Welfare Fund, and Harold Schwartz, chairman of the Welfare Fund's education committee.

"The past decade's rise of 80 per cent in Talmud Torah and Peretz School subvention from the Jewish Welfare Fund," they declared, "would be superseded in short order, in the next few years, if the increase in day school growth maintains its present pace." They pointed out that, while the average day school tuition here is below $110 per year — the average cost per pupil is $300.

TO DIE FOR ATROCITIES
LONDON — Six Soviet citizens accused of wartime atrocities against Jews have been sentenced to death, while three others were given 15-year prison terms, after trials at Krasnodar, in South-European Russia, it was reported here in a dispatch from Moscow.

Four of the six condemned to death were accused of hearing 20,000 Jews at Radom, in 1942, and sending them to the death camp of Treblinka. The nine men convicted seemed to be, judging by their names Germans, Ukrainians, Russians and one Tatar.

Full-payment "Service Benefits", What Do They Really Mean? And, Maternity Benefits, How Do They Fit Into Parent's Plans?

1. Do both Blue Cross and Physicians Service have full-payment features?

Yes. They are called "service benefits" because they pay in full for the most costly health services that you would receive while hospitalized and for surgery.

2. What hospital services does Blue Cross pay in full for you?

A long list of vital and necessary hospital services are paid for in full by Blue Cross. Such services as use of operating room, laboratory services, drugs, pills, medications, physical therapy, and others are included... the services that represent the biggest part of the cost of a serious hospitalization.

In addition to paying for these services in full, you receive daily benefits for your room, board and general nursing care. The amount of the daily benefits depends upon the Blue Cross plan you have (this is shown on your membership card).

3. What about Physicians Service — what does it pay in full?

Participating physicians (9 out of 10 of Rhode Island's doctors) accept the plan's benefits as full payment for surgical services if you meet the qualifications and are under certain income limits. This includes the surgical services of the surgeon, assisting surgeon, and anesthetist.

4. What are the income limits?

If you are enrolled under:	PLAN A	PLAN B
The full payment provision applies if you have —
a. Individual membership and your annual income is less than	$2,800	$4,000
b. Family membership and the combined annual income of both husband and wife is less than	$4,000	$6,000

5. If you meet the Income Limits listed, what are the other qualifications?

You can qualify for the "full-payment" feature if your income is within the limits listed, and you meet these three conditions —

1. If your doctor has a participating agreement with Physicians Service. (9 out of 10 Rhode Island doctors have)
2. If you are not entitled to receive benefits from another contract, including another Blue Cross-Physicians Service Contract.
3. If you do not use a private hospital room, unless your physician advises that you do so.

6. Should I discuss this "full-payment" feature with my doctor?

Yes, your doctor can help you determine if you qualify for the Physicians Service full-payment feature.

In fact, he invites you to discuss frankly with him any questions regarding his services or fees. The best medical service is based on a friendly, mutual understanding between doctor and patient.

7. What are the Maternity Benefits?

After a 7 month waiting period for Direct Payment members, and some Group Members; parents-to-be can look to Blue Cross and Physicians Service for financial assistance with the bills that follow a new addition to the family.

From Blue Cross, a payment of $90 will be made toward the hospital charges of mother and child, for plans that have a daily allowance of $11 or higher.

From Physicians Service, your doctor will receive $60 if you have Plan A, or $75 for Plan B members.

If you have special maternity benefits, these are listed in red on the back of your membership card.

In addition, any member who requires special surgery during maternity, such as Caesarian Section, receives regular hospital and surgical benefits.

8. Why are Maternity Benefits Limited?

The primary purpose of Physicians Service and Blue Cross is to relieve the burden of expense involved in unexpected illness. These unexpected expenses can devastate the average family budget. Families have time to plan for normal maternity expenses. They are not unexpected. By limiting maternity benefits, membership costs are kept at the lowest possible level. More people are able to protect themselves, therefore, against unexpected health expenses.

Why Come Back To Providence To Practice?

Dr. Alfred Fireman

by Celia Zuckerberg

The City... Brown University... Butler Hospital — All Part Of It

When you have the training, the experience and the contacts to set up practice in a large city, why come back to Providence?

Because it's "hamish," because your family is here?

There is much more involved in it as Dr. Alfred E. Fireman explains. His roots are here, it is true; his family is here — his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fireman; his son, Payton, four, and other relatives.

Although this is a factor in his settling in Providence, there is also the fact that he feels Providence has something to offer him, as he feels he has something to offer Providence.

He has a very high regard for Brown University, from which he was graduated, Phi Beta Kappa, in 1952; and he is particularly interested in the new medical school which has been proposed by the University.

Butler Hospital, where he is now a staff psychiatrist, he feels is rich in psychiatric lore and history, and is under the leadership of a man of progress, Dr. Charles Jones, who is breaking important ground at the Hospital. He feels that the facilities of the Butler Hospital for research have as yet been completely untapped and would be most important for a medical school.

He says, also, that Providence would be an interesting community for public health psychiatry, which is a sub-interest of Dr. Fireman's. There is no community that has the meaning this one has for him. The compactness of the state, and the fact that he is familiar with it, offer him many advantages. He also says that there are many talented people residing in this city — he mentioned an architect, a neurologist, an anesthesiologist.

At Butler Hospital, Dr. Fireman is a clinical psychiatrist. There are three major service areas involved: the out-patient department to which come people from this and neighboring cities for therapy; the Day Care program under which people come to the hospital to spend the hours from 9 to 4 in the hospital, using its facilities and program; and the in-patient group who belong there exclusively or are private patients and depend on the services provided by the hospital.

Dr. Fireman continued on to psychiatry, he says, because after he had learned as much as education and texts and experience had to offer in the field of physical medicine, he felt that there were hundreds of still unanswered questions. As a psychiatrist he feels he is closer to the "general practitioner" and can meet a patient on the total level — a patient who comes to the doctor simply saying "I am a sick human being." As a psychiatrist, with a medical training, the doctor can take care of him adequately.

Asked whether it was necessary for a psychiatrist to be psychoanalyzed himself, Dr. Fireman explained that this was a requisite for a psychoanalyst. Since the data one uses is only as good as the instrument which measures it (as an example, he mentioned that determining the moon's distance depends on the accuracy of the telescope used) if a psychoanalyst is to use his own insights it is his responsibility to know as much about himself as science permits. This is carried out to the finest degree, he says to become an analyst.

Dr. Fireman, after receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree at Brown University, attended Tufts Medical School where he received his Medical degree in 1956. He served a rotating internship at the Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn, N.Y., and his residency in psychiatry at the Boston V.A. Hospital and the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital.

As a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy, he served as staff psychiatrist at the disciplinary bars-racks at Portsmouth, N.H. About the Portsmouth Navy Prison he says that "it is remarkable what can be done under the proper leadership." In this case, a static rigid history-bound facility was taken and brought up-to-date in two years through professional methods.

While a resident at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital, Dr. Fireman served as director of the After-Care program and worked at the parole clinic for the rehabilitation of discharged prisoners from the Massachusetts prisons and correctional and training schools.

Forthcoming from this work and research, several clinical papers dealing with criminal responsibility and the psychodynamics of crime, written by Dr. Fireman, have been published.

Dr. Fireman feels that he would like to "be a voice of the behavioral scientist in city planning." Not only does he feel that it would be interesting, but he says that it is important, of course, to a politician to know what the people are thinking or feeling. A behavioral scientist could explain the psychological consequences of a proposed action, whether it be the moving of a railroad station, the reappportioning of a city or the appointment of an important city official. He feels that any city would profit from the hiring of a behavioral scientist.

Dr. Fireman and his son live on the grounds of the Hospital at 599 Rochambeau Avenue, Rochambeau Avenue, a public thoroughfare between Blackstone Boulevard and North Main Street, crosses the Boulevard to become a private way and part of the Butler Health Center grounds.

Barbara Lerman Weds Norman Harris

Miss Barbara Joy Lerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Lerman of 79 Lauriston Street, became the bride of Norman Marvin Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Harris of 14 Kin-nicut Road South, Worcester, Mass., at a 6:30 P.M. ceremony held at Temple Emanuel on Sunday, Aug. 19. Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen officiated at the wedding, which was followed by a reception at the Temple.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a couture designed peau de soie gown detailed with seed pearls and crystals on re-embroidered lace highlighting the princess silhouette and elbow length sleeves. Matching motifs adorned her full skirt with a circular chapel train. Her bouffant fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a cluster of seed pearls and crystals. She carried a bridal prayer book covered with orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Ruth Ann Harris, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Mrs. Marvin Lerman, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor.

Burton Katz, a cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Marvin Lerman, brother of the bride, Steve Kaplan, Herbert Katz, Harold Thur, Sumner Katz, Edwin Furman, Herman Torman and Arnold Millefsky.

After a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will reside at 74 Reed Street, Worcester.

The Lyons Den

by Leonard Lyons

Sydney Chaplin listened to a discussion of the worldwide publicity on the death and funeral of Marilyn Monroe. He dissented from the view that a star is not entitled to privacy. "A star owes the public nothing," said Chaplin. "The public is indebted to the star, for brightening their lives a little. Once you stop brightening their lives, you're out of a job—just like a shoe manufacturer whose shoes are out of style."

"If all those lovely fans really want to show they adore you, let them just send in a dollar bill" . . . Chaplin conceded that he can afford this unusual attitude—because he owns a successful restaurant in Paris and recently came into a $500,000 trust fund.

Joe DiMaggio is considering a permanent move from New York back to San Francisco. . . Argentina objects to Jamaica's joining the Organization of American States—lest Trinidad and Barbados be admitted, too, after they attain independent status, and form a British bloc . . . The Premise's new show in London has a sketch in which Prime Minister Macmillan changes his Cabinet by flipping a coin. . . Joseph P. Kennedy now is able to walk six times a day.

Alan Webb, who co-starred in "The Night of the Iguana," left the show to return to England. He booked passage on the Queen Mary. The ticket said embarkation time was 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. . . At noon Webb leisurely started to pack, then looked out the window and saw the ship sailing. He called the Cunard Line, and learned that "12 p.m." meant noon, not midnight. . . Webb was given passage home on the Queen Elizabeth.

The most influential hotel owners in Jamaica are positive that with independence will soon come legalized gambling . . . Mervyn LeRoy, the movie-maker, and race track president, will be named Man of the Year by the Jockeys Guild at its Waldorf dinner next month.

In the Broadway musical version of Clifford Odets' "Golden Boy," the role of Joe Bonaparte —to be played by Sammy Davis Jr. — has been changed from a violinist to a pianist.

Lutece, the French restaurant on East 52d St., is probably the most expensive in New York. The owner lives in an apartment upstairs. Every morning he lowers a basket from his window and his mail is deposited in it. . . The basket was once left unguarded for a brief moment. That's when a neighbor sneaked a note into it reading, "Eat at Riker's."

Bette Davis and Joan Crawford, co-starring in "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane," made a pact not to be interviewed separately during the making of the film. It's not clear whether this is a non-aggression or a mutual aid pact. . . An Arthur Murray dance teacher just arrived in Malaga to teach the Continental to Laurence Harvey for "The Ballad of the Running Man" . . . Norman Mailer will write a monthly column, "Futures," for Esquire magazine.

In these troubled days for Hollywood studios, when films have gone millions over the budgets because of long delays, a record of sorts has been established by "Gay Purr-ee." This is the cartoon film for which Harold Arlen and E. Y. Harburg wrote the songs. Lee Orgel managed to have Judy Garland record her dialogue and songs in seven days; Red Buttons and Robert Goulet did theirs in two days, and Hermione Gingold in 70 minutes.

Burt Glinn, who took that memorable photo of Premier Khrushchev from the back looking at the Lincoln Memorial, is going to Russia for Holiday magazine. It will be a honeymoon for him and his British bride. On Saturday, for the 15th straight year, Richard Rodgers conducted the Rodgers and Hammerstein concert ending the Lewisohn Stadium series. . . Alex Webster will replace Roger Maris as the Camel's smoke blower on the Times Square sign.

Mrs. Michael Paul, whose funeral services were held last Thursday, owned the great filly Idun. When Idun won its seventh straight race, the $144,475 Garden Stakes, a disqualification was averted at the last minute. A waiter at the Colony had given the owner a piece of sugar to present to Idun if it won. She was stopped just in time, with the warning, "Idun hasn't been examined yet by the racetrack vet. If he should find sugar in her system. . ."

The Commerce Dept.'s "Visit U.S.A." program, launched by its new U.S. Travel Service, has increased foreign travel to our shores by 16 per cent thus far in '62. . . Wilt Chamberlain, who was a bellhop at Kutsher's Country Club seven years ago, arrived there last week in his $27,000 Bentley . . . Dan Dailley, touring in "Guys and Dolls," told Dulcie Jordan, who plays Adelaide in it, "The hardest role for a smart actress is playing a dumb dame."

Although "Sophie," the musical based on Sophie Tucker's career, won't start rehearsals for five months, the Steve Allen score has been recorded. . . Joe Roberts is producing "The Aparicio Story," for distribution in Latin America, where the White Sox shortstop is a hero. . . Paul de Kruif, author of "The Microbe Hunters," believes in the Ninth Beatitude, which he heard from Eugene V. Debs, "Blessed are they who expecteth nothing — for they shall not be disappointed."

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

by Sylvia Porter

WOULD YOU SPEND SAVINGS FROM A TAX CUT?

Would you, as an individual or businessman taxpayer, immediately start spending the extra dollars left in your pocketbook or cash register by a substantial tax reduction on all sorts of things and non-things and thereby give our lagging economy the boost it so obviously needs? Or would you squirrel most of the additional money into savings and thereby largely defeat the objective of a tax slash?

Before suggesting what you might do, let it be clear that nagging doubt about your actions has been a factor undermining support for a tax cut now to stimulate business activity. Some respected experts testifying before Congress have declared flatly that any forecast that you would spend your tax savings is only an "assumption" because, say they in effect, "The United States has no previous experience to guide us on the reaction of American consumers and corporations to tax cuts designed to bolster the economy, for we've not used this weapon for this purpose before. Nor have Europe's experiments given us valuable guidance. You might spend the money freely or you might not. There's just no certainty either way."

No matter when the tax reductions come — and if there's postponement now, it'll only be a postponement — the question about your reaction still must be answered.

Is it true, then, that we have no guidance on what consumers and businessmen might do with the extra dollars?

It is not true. We do have guidance. We do have precedents.

What's more, the weight of the evidence is that individuals and corporations will SPEND most of the extra take-home pay and income, NOT SAVE IT.

Precedent: In 1950, the Veterans Administration declared a major insurance dividend rebate. The record indicates GIs spent nearly 80 per cent of the extra funds at once on goods and services.

Precedent: In 1954, Congress voted a 10 per cent deduction in personal income taxes, a reduction in excise taxes and eliminated the excess profit tax too — a tax slash totaling $7.4 billion a year. The country was then in a recession and as A. W. Zelomek, president of the International Statistical Bureau and professor at the University of Virginia's Graduate School of Business Administration, points out, this was "the first recession when scheduled tax reductions went into effect on a large scale."

What happened? Virtually all the money flowed immediately into the spending stream; the rate of saving continued the same. While employment and production dropped sharply, personal incomes after taxes actually rose and consumer buying hardly faltered. Toward the end of 1954, we took off again on a powerful advance.

Statistic: Numerous surveys emphasize that the "unpredictable consumer" is quite predictable and in Zelomek's words, "total consumer spending shows a regular relationship to consumer income and the consumer's financial circumstances." Of every dollar we get, we spend about 86 cents for retail products and services, another 10 cents for residences, farm machinery, other equipment. Says Zelomek, "It is logical to conclude that the consumer will spend 96 per cent of what he gains through tax reduction."

Statistic: Reliable studies also indicate that each $1 of tax reduction will add $2.5 billion to the nation's total output because of the so-called multiplier effect. To illustrate: when you spend an extra dollar at the supermarket, the supermarket owner in turn will spend an extra dollar at the appliance shop, the appliance dealer in turn will spend an extra dollar at the clothing store and so on and so on. The same multiplier effect applies to corporation tax reductions with studies suggesting a $2.5 billion corporation tax reduction would add around $5 billion to our country's total output.

Of course, we can't know positively what will happen until we try the tax reduction. But we do know that without a major new push, there's not much hope, if any, for any "automatic" stimulant suddenly appearing to help us get moving up strongly once more and without a spur, about the best we can anticipate is that we'll muddle through at this inadequate rate of growth until something can be done in 1963.

Hillel Foundation Provides Pamphlets About Colleges

WASHINGTON — Two pamphlets designed to aid Jewish students and parents in choices of colleges and preparatory schools are being disseminated from here by the Hillel Foundation. The pamphlets are entitled "College Guide for Jewish Youth" and "Prep School Guide for Jewish Youth." Both emphasize the specific needs of Jewish students in regard to their religious needs at schools.

The "College Guide" lists not only usual information about admission requirements and costs, but also the Jewish population of the various colleges, Jewish campus organizations, nearby synagogues and Jewish centers, sororities and fraternities, provisions for dietary observance, B'nai B'rith facilities and Hillel Foundations. In the "Prep School Guide," comparative data is given for about 250 individual schools.

In Hollywood . . .

By Barney Glazer

Plans are rapidly progressing for Sam Engel's "dream studio" in Israel with an initial outlay of 5 million dollars. He will be in charge of production. British and Israeli interests will finance the project which will claim the largest stage in the world.

Engel has written 14 pictures and produced 28 here in Hollywood. His contract with 20th-Fox expires September 15 but he's on a five-year consultant basis to new prexy Darryl F. Zanuck and chairman Spyros P. Skouras.

Engel will spend 5 years in Israel building the studio and producing pictures. He doesn't intend to be an expatriate but will obligate himself for that period to do the job economically and practically.

KIRK DOUGLAS and his son Joel, 15, flew to Baja, Calif., to hunt marlin. . . Joel and his brother Michael, 18, were born out of Kirk's first marriage. Peter, 7, and Eric, 3, are the sons of Douglas' second wife, Anne. . . Julian Portman, general manager of Plaza Records, looked at a fellow at the "Boccaccio-70" Beverly Hills Hotel party for Sophia Loren and remarked: "He's a handsome guy. If he could only sing." The young man turned out to be John Gabriel, who not only can sing as he proved on the Steve Allen show but will soon be one of Hollywood's best known acting names. He's the former Jack Monkarsh and has been escorting Connie Stevens frequently.

Joey Bishop explains that the reason so many Hollywood producers and stars are making pictures abroad is that they complain: "Have tax. Will travel". . . Proceeds of the December 21 premiere of "Lawrence of Arabia" in Beverly Hills will go to free bed care at our Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

David Merrick's production, "The Luckiest People," dealing with Fanny Brice, unfortunately covers the late comedienne's early life. The staker will end with her 26th birthday, and as far as I'm concerned nothing really happened in Fanny's life until long after she was 26.

Fanny's third husband Billy Rose once wanted her to sing his tune "Riverside Rose" but Fanny replied: "I never do a Jewish song that will offend my religion, especially where the tune depends on the religion for its big laughs. Whenever I do anything Jewish, I am not standing apart, but I AM the religion and what happens to me on the stage is what can happen to any Jewish person in the audience who can thus laugh at me as much as at himself."

"It is okay," continued Fanny, "for one Irishman to call another Irishman anything, any kind of name. But if you are not an Irishman, keep your mouth shut!"

Groucho Marx is miffed because someone canceled his cameo role in "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, World" and substituted Ethel Merman. . . Theodore Bikel, who was so wonderful in Stanley Kramer's "The Defiant Ones," will play one of Kramer's starring roles in "Ship of Fools." Meanwhile, the actor-singer will star in "Brecht on Brecht" in New York and will then stage a 40-city concert tour starting Sept. 6 at Grossingers and winding up out here in Santa Monica's Civic on April 20.

A Look At Sports

Gene Freese at the outset of the season, would once again be neck and neck with the Dodgers as they were at the same stage of the race last year.

Yes, baseball has certainly been interesting this season if not spectacular. Many "xperts" had predicted that with the Senior Circuit expanded to ten teams, sluggers like Willie Mays or Orlando Cepeda would equal or eclipse the mark of 61 round trippers clouted by Roger Maris in 1961. But, the National Loop's pitching must be fantastic or else the National Leaguers haven't found the secret of success. Only Mays and Aaron have hit the long ball with as much consistency as their counterparts in the American League.

In the superstar category, I still maintain that Roger undeservedly gathered too many brickbats as he strove to break the record many people wanted to see unbroken. This year Maris has had his troubles, the major one occurring when Mickey Mantle was forced to miss five weeks of play. Perhaps the baseball writers, when they cast their ballots for the Most Valuable Player in the American League for '62 will now give more consideration to the greatest ballplayer in baseball, Mickey Mantle.

Although I do not feel that Maris' achievements place him

Obituaries

PERRY BERNSTEIN

Perry Bernstein, 56, head of Bernstein-Pliner Co., an accounting firm in Providence, died Aug. 15 at his home at 274 Olney Street. He was the husband of Pauline (Meller) Bernstein.

Mr. Bernstein was also chief accountant of the state Unemployment Relief Commission from 1935 to 1939 and for many years was active in the resettlement of European refugees in Rhode Island.

Born in Providence, Jan. 1, 1906, he was the son of the late Joseph and Rose (Bernstein) Bernstein. He attended the former Commercial High School and graduated from Boston University in 1928. In 1933 he became a certified public accountant and with Milton Pliner founded the Bernstein-Pliner Co.

Mr. Bernstein was a member of the board of trustees of Temple Beth-El, a member of the Brotherhood, and a past officer of the Touro Fraternal Assn. He was also a member of the CPA Society of Rhode Island.

Surviving besides his wife are two sons, Richard M. and Jeremy R. Bernstein, both of Providence.

Funeral services were held at Temple Beth-El, Orchard Avenue. Burial was in Congregation Sons of Israel and David Cemetery on Reservoir Avenue.

MRS. LOUIS SIMKOFSKY

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Simkofsky of 184 Camp Street, who died Aug. 6 at Miriam Hospital after an illness of four days, were held Aug. 7 at the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

The widow of Louis Simkofsky, she was born in Russia, a daughter of the late Israel and Anna Slutsky, and had been a resident of Providence for the last 38 years.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Edward Stern of Pawtucket and Mrs. Julius Penn of Providence; four sisters, Mrs. Benjamin Bigny of Cranston, Mrs. Anna Berman of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Samuel Shore of Hollywood, Fla., and Mrs. Jack Seay of Worcester, Mass.; a brother, Joseph Slutsky of Los Angeles, Calif., and five grandchildren.

She was a member of Temple Beth Shalom.

MRS. JENNIE GOLDBERG

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Feldman Goldberg, 72, of 99 Hillside Avenue, formerly of Prairie Avenue, who died Aug. 18 at her home, were held Aug. 20 at the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel, 458 Hope Street. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Born in Russia, a daughter of the late Abraham and Elka (Solansky) Zeidel, she had lived in Providence for more than 60 years. She was a member of the Jewish Home for the Aged, Pioneer Women Association, and Congregation Sons of Abraham.

She is survived by two sons, Hyman Feldman of Miami, Fla., and Irving I. Feldman of Pawtucket; a brother, Benjamin Zeidel of Providence, four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

REV. MOSES C. CHILL

The Reverend Moses Chaim Chill, father of Rabbi Abraham Chill of Congregation Sons of Abraham died Aug. 9 in Tel Aviv, Israel. Reverend Chill was a cantor in Brooklyn, N.Y. before he moved to Tel Aviv after his retirement eight years ago.

He is survived by his widow Mrs. Rose (Esrig) Chill, three sons, Rabbi Abraham Chill of Providence, Rabbi Samuel J. Chill of Brooklyn, N.Y., Rabbi Akiva Chill of New York City; one daughter, Miss Thelma Chill, a school teacher in New York City; one brother and one sister, both of New York City, seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

SIMON COHEN

Funeral services for Simon "Benny" Cohen, 47, of 16 Faragut Avenue, who died Aug. 19 at the Miriam Hospital after a one-day illness, were held Aug. 21 at the Max Sugarman Memorial Chapel. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

He was the husband of Pauline (Greenberg) Cohen.

A lifelong resident of Providence, he was a son of the late Louis and Esther Cohen.

He was a member of Congregation Lenas Zedek, Young People's Beneficial Association and Local 251, Teamsters Union.

Mr. Cohen was a truck driver for the Crown Motor Freight for the past 18 years. In 1943, after participating in an unauthorized strike of drivers at Associated Transport Inc., Mr. Cohen's draft status was changed from III-A to I-A although he was the father of three. He was also expelled from the union because of his part in the strike, but won reinstatement after a court fight.

In addition to his wife, he leaves four daughters, Mrs. Gerald G. Broman of Cranston, Mrs. Joshua Zawatsky of Warwick, Miss Darlene and Miss Brenda Cohen of Providence; a son, Lewis Cohen of Providence; three brothers, Morris Cohen of Providence, Arthur Cohen of Webster, Mass., and Joseph Cohen of Essex, England; a sister, Mrs. Philip Schaeffer of Seekonk, and two grandchildren.

Israel Orders El Al To Resume Flights To And From London

11 THE RHODE ISLAND HERALD, FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1962

JERUSALEM — Israel ordered its nationally-owned airline El Al, to resume flights to and from London.

The order, rescinding previous instructions suspending London flights by El Al, followed the cancellation of a request by the British Government which had demanded that El Al fly the convicted espionage agent, Dr. Robert A. Soblen, to the United States.

An El Al spokesman here said "We are no longer a party to the Soblen affair and are not unhappy about the situation."

In New York, A. M. Sönnabend, president of the American Jewish Committee, issued a statement saying "The American Jewish Committee believes that the cause of justice would best be served by the prompt return of Dr. Soblen to the United States."

"We therefore support our State Department's efforts to facilitate his return and commend the efforts that have been made by American Jewish leaders in asking the Israeli Government to take steps which would complete Dr. Soblen's journey to the United States."

Israel's part and actions in the Soblen affair were reviewed here by a spokesman for the Foreign Ministry. "The procedures now initiated in Britain", the statement declared, "indicate the correctness of the assessment that a solution could be found without any of the parties being required to act against its own laws."

The statement emphasized that "at no stage was the Israeli Government asked by the United States to take action not in conformity with Israel's law."

In Washington, Rep. Leonard Farbstein, New York Democrat and House Foreign Affairs Committee member, made a House speech renewing his defense of Israel's role in the extradition controversy involving Dr. Robert A. Soblen.

Asking "why blame Israel?" Rep. Farbstein said Israel had been unfairly abused and bullied in the Soblen case. He said the most recent events had "confirmed the validity of the facts as I saw them, that the disposition of Soblen currently hinged on British responsibility rather than any further responsibility of the State of Israel."

British Government Cracks Down On Native Fascists; Raid Headquarters

LONDON — The British Government cracked down on native Fascists here last week-end, raiding the headquarters of Colin Jordan's National Socialist movement and searching the homes of individual British Nazi and Fascist leaders.

It was the first time such action has been taken since the start of this summer's intensification of racist and anti-Jewish activities, resulting in a series of riotous rallies held both by Jordan's group and the Fascist British Union, led by Sir Oswald Mosley.

While Jordan himself looked on, a dozen Scotland Yard plainclothesmen searched his headquarters thoroughly Friday night, going through filing cabinets, removing documents, flags and photographs of Adolf Hitler and Rudolf Hess off the walls, piling up Nazi uniforms and taking from the premises all of the Nazi appurtenances. Crowds gathered outside the headquarters, packed the street in front of the building, shouting "Dirty Nazis, Go Home!"

Meanwhile other Scotland Yard officers raided the homes of various Nazi and Fascist leaders, confiscating other materials found in those homes. All the searches were carried out under an order issued by a judge of the High Court under a section of the Public Order Act of 1936 that prohibits quasi-military organizations.

At the very time the raids were being carried out, a motion calling upon the British Government to amend the Public Order Act in such a way as to outlaw "incitement to violence by advocates of racial hatred" was passed unanimously by a meeting of the London County Council.

Amend Public Act In Outlawing Of 'Incitement To Violence' By Advocates Of Racial Hatred

The resolution had been introduced by Sir Isaac Hayward, leader of the County Council, and declared: "The Council, while adhering to principles of free speech, is concerned by the nature of recent disturbances in this country, and requests Her Majesty's Government to consider amending the law so that incitement of violence by persons advocating racial hatred and discrimination may become a criminal offense."

Jordan this week sent a letter to Home Secretary Henry Brooke, protesting against the raids and requesting "the immediate return of our property." He announced that he was planning another meeting in England for the coordination of National Socialism "throughout the world." A Nazi encampment conducted by Jordan at Gloucestershire last week had been attended by a number of foreign Nazis, including George Lincoln Rockwell, leader of the of the American Nazi Party. Reports here stated that, at that parley, Jordan was "elected" world leader of the Nazis, although Rockwell had presumably, at first, competed for that designation.

on your mark . . . get set . . . wait

That's the cadence for today's GI. Always patrolling at the rim of a restless peace, he must be in a constant state of readiness, then wait.

But a vigil's a tough tempo for active youth. Over half the GI's are under 25 — many of them are away from home for the first time.

GI's need the USO in this cold war of tedium and tension. The homey touch . . . spiritual lift . . . the relaxation the USO brings them.

But there are 2,750,000 Americans in uniform today, and not enough USO's to go around. Many more are needed, both here and overseas. Your money can make it possible. Help the USO, so no GI will ever wonder . . .
