Newport Celebrates Touro Anniversary

Noted Rabbis to Attend
Elaborate Ceremonies
Planned by Committee

BANQUET SUNDAY EVENING

The celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Reconscription of the historic Synagogue of the Congregation Jeshuat Israel, known as the Touro Synagogue, will begin with a Sabbath service this evening. Rev. Dr. H. Pereira Mendes, Rabbi Emeritus of the Congregation Shearith Israel of New York and who held services in Newport in 1881 as a guest and whose father consecrated the synagogue in 1883, will deliver the opening prayer and sermon.

Rabbi David De Sola Pool, Rabbi of the Shearith Israel Congregation will chant Kabboloth Shabbath. The memorial prayer and benediction will be delivered by Rabbi Morris A. Gutstein of the Touro Synagogue. Services will be conducted Saturday morning, May 27th with the three Rabbis officiating. Children's services will be held Sunday morning with addresses by Captain N. Taylor Phillips of New York City, Nathan David, president of Congregation Jeshuat Israel, Rabbi Mendes and our Rabbi.

The formal 50th anniversary service will be held on Sunday afternoon, May 28 at exactly 2 p. m. Our Rabbi will preach a sermon in Hebrew.

At this service Mayor Mortimer A. Sullivan will bring greetings from the citizens of Newport, Capt. Phillips from the Congregation Shearith Israel in New York. Nathan David will speak on the history of the Jews in Newport during the last 50 years and Judge Max Levy will relate the history of the Jews since the settlement of the City of Newport. Herman Podrat will preside during this service and introduce the speakers. At its conclusion there will be a procession from the synagogue to the historic cemetery, about which that great American poet, Longfellow, wrote "The Cemetery on the Hill." Captain Phillips who is president of the Shearith Israel Congregation and a great-grandson of Moses Seixas interred in the cemetery will speak, the three Rabbis reciting the memorial prayers. The celebration will be culminated with an elaborate banquet Sunday evening at the C. J. I. Community Center.

25 Boys and Girls From Jewish Center Clubs Honored at Koved Night

One intermediate girl and one Junior girl were named for highest honors at the Annual Koved Night Exercises, attended by more than 20 Center Clubs, Tuesday evening, in the gymnasium of the Jewish Community Center, 65 Benefit St. Twenty-three other boys and girls received honorable mention certificates for excellence in all around competition. Executive Director Jacob I. Cohen presided at the exercises and members of the Center Board and invited guests made the presentations.

The Herman S. Galkin and Charles Silverman Trophies, awarded annually to Junior boy or girl and Intermediate boy or girl deemed worthy to be chosen as outstanding members of their division, were awarded to Celia Kaplow of the Kodimoh Club and Blossom Sugarman of the J. U. G. Club. Frances Snell, Ira Stone, Stella Simons and Phyllis Littman received the highest mention certificates. Others who received certificates were: Herbert Brown, Leon K. Ackerman, Lester Salter, Joseph A. Weissman, Edith Schoenberg, Esther Strasberg, Hattie Katznelson, Roslyn Garfinkle, Lillian Rose, Henrietta

MRS. SAMUEL HALPRIN

Will address Providence Chapter
Donors' Luncheon, June 6

National Head of Hadassah to Speak Here

Mrs. Samuel W. Halprin of Brooklyn, N. Y., and national president of the Hadassah will be the principal speaker at the Donors' Luncheon to be sponsored by the Providence Chapter at the Narragansett Hotel, June 6.

Mrs. Halprin is one of the youngest women leaders in organization work in the country and as the leader of Hadassah members heads one of the largest organized Jewish women's groups in America.

Mrs. Halprin is one of the best-known Zionist speakers and has appeared in many cities to deliver addresses. Living one year in Palestine among its people and not as a tourist, has gained for her a rich understanding and knowledge of their lives and aspirations.

Center Players Appear Thursday In Popular Hit

Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts" to be Staged in Plantations Auditorium

Climaxing more than two and a half months of intensive preparation the Jewish Center Players with a cast of 40 will appear next Thursday evening at the Plantations Auditorium in the biggest production even ventured by this group, presenting Victor Herbert's tuneful operetta "Sweethearts".

Principal parts have been assigned to the following: Evelyn Siegal, Sylvia; Mary Orlansky, Dame Paula; Dorothy Waldman, Liane; Fred Summerfield, Franz, The Prince; Leo Cohen, Lt. Karl; Sydney Long, Mikel; Macy Gordon, Von Tromp; Jack Gordon, Caniche; Al Gurwitz, Slingsby; Norman Miller, Guard; Larry Spitz, Major Domo.

The chorus consists of: Regina Spiegelblatt, Fannie Bernstein, Irene Massover, Edith Jaffe, Ida Fain, Charlotte Long, Molly Sandler, Janice Sandler, Samuel Fink, Wallace Serge, Howard Pass, Milton Spitz, Harry Grubman, Benjamin Singer, William Miller, Jack Pressman, The Six Sisters: Ethel Shukofsky, Nor-

MARY ORLIANSKY

Ma Gouse, Rosalind Gouse, Charlotte Snow, Hilda Raphael and Sarah Pressman.

Specialty numbers will be given by Ethel, Jean and Florence Schwartz.

Mrs. Samuel Starr is coaching the production assisted by Miss Jean Schwartz, dancing instructor, Miss Beatrice Gross, Pianist and Benjamin Premack, orchestra director. Mrs. Saul Abrams and Mrs. Herman Feingold are in charge of costumes. A committee of more than 100 has been assisting with the sale of tickets. The following are Committee Chairmen: General, Milton C. Sapinsley, Co-Chairmen, Mrs. Joseph J. Seeger, Albert S. Pinkerson, Benjamin Agronick, Mrs. Ira Robinson; Secretary, Evelyn Simon; Treasurer, Louis Davis; Ticket Chairman, Freda Simon; Ticket Co-Chairman, William Matzner; Prizes, Herman S. Galkin, Mrs. Albert Travis; Reserved Seats, Mrs. Milton C. Sapinsley, Mrs. Jacob Ernstof; Costumes, Mrs. Saul Abrams, Mrs. Herman Feingold; Publicity, Mrs. Paul J. Robin, Jacob I. Cohen; Properties, Sidney Rabino; Sanford Moskol; Reception, Dr. Myron Keller, Isador Korn.

Special scenery and costumes, lighting effects, music that appeals to the ear, all are an indication that "Sweethearts" will prove the finest musical production ever offered by any amateur group in the city.

The finest musical ever attempted by the Jewish Community Center Players was the Mikado last year which met with such instantaneous praise that the group was encouraged to undertake even a more ambitious production.

To enable everyone to attend the admission for general and reserved seats have been priced very reasonably. Tickets may be secured by calling the Center—Dexter 6730—or from any member of the Committee.

Beth Israel Men Close 1933 Season with Stag Banquet

The Men's Club of Temple Beth Israel culminated its work for the season with a stag banquet Monday evening in the vestry of the Temple. Albert Lisker, president of the group, was toastmaster.

The speakers included Max Rosen, president of the Temple; Jacob Licht, chairman of the board of trustees; Boris N. Nelson, and Dr. Ilie Berger, past presidents; and Rabbi Maurice M. Mazure. The principal speaker of the evening was Meyer Goldberg of New Bedford who gave a discourse on "Peace."

Entertainment was furnished by Joseph Schlossberg who rendered several vocal selections accompanied by Willis Tatro at the piano.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the affair comprised Charles J. Senter, chairman; Morris W. Shoham and Fred Weitman.

Norman Zalkind of Fall River Wins Brown Award

Norman Zalkind of Fall River, a sophomore at Brown University, was awarded the first prize in the annual Hicks Prize Debate held last Wednesday evening between Brown University Sophomores and Juniors at Manning Hall.

The judges awarded the decision for the debate to the Sophomores for their defence of the negative of the subject, "Resolved: that Congress should attempt to restore the pre-war parity between agriculture and industry."

A second prize was won by J. Maynard Kaplan, '34, of Salem. Speakers included Frederick Probers, '34, Irving Brodsky, '35 and Benjamin I. Schulman, '35, all of Providence. Harry J. Chernock '33, was the presiding officer.

CONDUCT DEBATE

The Classical High School debating team defeated the Hope High team last Thursday evening at the Classical auditorium on the question, "Resolved: that the interallied war debts should be cancelled."

The Classical team which upheld the negative of the question included Frank Licht, Harold Hassenfeld, Sydney Coret and Ellis Blackman.

Great Zionist Leader to Open State Wide Drive
at Meeting Here
Sunday

Hundreds to Take Part

Louis Lipsky, nationally-known Zionist, will be the principal speaker at the state-wide appeal to be made Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in Zinn's Banquet Hall, under the auspices of the American Palestine Campaign. Dr. Ilie Berger, chairman of the committee announces that representative delegations will attend from almost every city and town in the state.

Mr. Lipsky, chairman of the administrative committee of the American Palestine Campaign, is one of the foremost Zionist leaders in America, and has also played a dominant part in the international growth of the Zionist movement. Serving as president of the Zionist Organization of America from 1921 to 1931, and now Honorary Vice President of that body, Mr. Lipsky has been identified for more than 30 years with the most important national Jewish communal enterprises. In his present post, he is the leader, with his Associate National Chairman, of the 1932 fund-raising effort of the Jewish Agency for Palestine.

Born in Rochester, N. Y., Mr. Lipsky entered upon a literary career, in which he achieved notable success. For some years he served as dramatic critic of the New York Telegraph, and was also editor of the American Hebrew. In the early part of the century, he dedicated himself entirely to the upbuilding of the Zionist movement in the United States. He served in various capacities, finally receiving the highest honor of the presidency of the Zionist Organization. He also served as one of the leading figures in the World Zionist Organization, having been a member of the World Zionist Executive.

Participating as a leader in a variety of Jewish causes, Mr. Lipsky is one of the greatest exponents of the philosophy of Zionism. He is now president of the Eastern Life Insurance Co., a vice president of the American Jewish Congress and president of the New York Zionist Region.

The local committee of arrangements consists of: Dr. Ilie Berger, Bernard M. Goldowsky, Joshua Bell, Joseph Smith, James Goldman, Robert L. Bernstein, Henry Burt, Morris Beeber, Alter Boyman, Abraham Heller, Morris W. Shoham, Rabbi Maurice M. Mazure, Rabbi Israel M. Goldman, Rabbi William G. Braude, Benjamin N. Kane, Bernard M. Goldowsky is chairman of organizations.

The Religious School Picnic will be held Sunday, June 11, at the Recreation Field of Lincoln Woods.

Jewish Home for Aged of Rhode Island Notes

by M. P. OSTROW

VISIT THE HOME!

The Jewish Home for the Aged of Rhode Island on Hillside Avenue is not only a haven of rest for the Jewish aged of this city, but also offers an opportunity to observe and study old age. The beautiful building, with its commodious quarters, and the kindly and intelligent program carried out in connection with the life of the aged tend to give the old folks contentment, peace, and security, and helps to bring out the best there is in them.

It is amazing to learn that so little is known and understood about old age. The young do not understand them, and fail to appreciate what is going on in the life of the old people. There is an ancient saying, "Young men think old men fools, and old men know young men to be fools." We can not understand or judge old age, for we have never experienced it, and yet it must hold a life as rich as our own.

Every Jewish man and woman in the state should visit the Home, which is truly the pride of the community. They would derive the greatest satisfaction in observing the old people in their daily routine life, and their aspirations. Whoever has failed, so far, to affiliate himself with the Home, as a member, is missing the thrill and satisfaction that should be his if he were to participate in this noble and fine work.

DONATIONS

Mr. H. B. Lasker, wine; Mrs. J. Hazman, cake; Mrs. L. Brill, refreshments; Mrs. J. J. Hahn, cake; Samuel Steiner, cake; Miss Dorothy Jacobs, cake; Mrs. L. Woolf, flowers; Mrs. S. Silverstein, plants and flowers.

Jewish Orphanage Notes

AUXILIARY BOARD MEETS

The Executive Board of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Jewish Orphanage met at the home on Summit Avenue Tuesday afternoon, to discuss plans for the ensuing season. Benjamin N. Kane, who has recently returned from Palestine, presided and is planning an interesting series of meetings as well as membership revivals to enlarge the membership. The dues are nominal, but with a large membership, the Auxiliary could carry on valuable supplementary work, such as educational, artistic, and cultural projects for the children, especially for those who have left the Orphanage.

CHILDREN DON SUMMER CLOTHING

With the approach of warmer weather, James Goldman, House Committee Chairman, has arranged the purchase of appropriate clothing for the home boys and girls. He has given attention to all details of the physical plant of the Orphanage, as well as the grounds at the home. The hedges, lawn, shrubbery, and trees presented by the last Shabbath classes of Temple Beth-El, and by Miss Etta Woolf, in memory of her late mother, Mrs. Freda Woolf, are all growing well.

BOYS ARE GUESTS OF EMANUEL MEN

The Orphanage boys were the guests of the Temple Emanu-El Men's Club, at the invitation of the president of the Club, Nat C. Cohen, who is also a new member of the Orphanage Board, last Thursday evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent by the boys. Mrs. Isadore Lowe and Alexander Weiner provided transportation for the boys, which Mrs. Harry Gony, Orphanage Entertainment Committee chairman, arranged.

CENTER CLUB ENTERTAINS CHILDREN

Through the interest of Jacob Cohen, Executive Director of the Jewish Community Center, another Girls' Club of the Center, the "Checkeredettes" with Miss Beatrice Gross as leader, entertained the children of the Orphanage in the gymnasium Friday evening with vocal selections, dances, recitations, and ensemble singing.

NOTES

Dr. Louis B. Wolfenson offered the invocation and benediction at the "Honor Night" program of the Jewish Community Center Tuesday evening, May 23.

In June two girls and two boys of the Orphanage will complete the Junior High School and be ready for the Hope Senior High School in the autumn. This will be the largest number of Orphanage children ready to enter the Senior High School during the past four years.

Articles Named for Jr. Hadassah Shower-Bridge

Miss Mollie Berceovitz, chairman of the annual complimentary shower and bridge to be held by the Providence chapter of Junior Hadassah Monday evening, June 5 at Temple Emanu-El, announces that the following articles will be acceptable for admission:

Short trousers and combinations for work; boys' trousers for Shabbat; girls' black satin sport trousers; wool stockings; sport form, for boys and girls; wool socks for work; colored flannel blouses for work; boys' blouses for Shabbat; wool dresses, uni-colored for girls; knit underwear for boys and girls; boys' hats and caps; boys' boots for work similar to army model and girls' boots for work.

Mrs. Freda Silbert Ullian of Boston, first Junior Hadassah president and first Junior national president will be the guest speaker at the donors' dinner and bridge, Monday evening, June 12 at the Dryfus Hotel. Miss Lillian Blumenthal is the general chairman.

Hospital Authorities Note Great Increase in Tuberculosis Cases

WORK OF NATIONAL JEWISH HOSPITAL PRAISED AT CHICAGO DINNER

Chicago, Illinois (Special Correspondence)—An increase in tuberculosis among men, women and children throughout the country is reflected in the applications for admission to the National Jewish Hospital at Denver, Rev. Dr. William S. Friedman, founder and president of the hospital, told several hundred friends of the institution at a dinner given here last week under the auspices of the Chicago Committee of the Hospital.

At the same time Dr. Morris Fishbein, noted medical authority and Editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, stated that twenty years from now the effect of the present depression will still be evident in the death rate from tuberculosis.

"We recently enlarged our facilities for the care of children with active tuberculosis, but in spite of the fact that we have over 300 patients constantly under care, we still have a waiting list of several hundred applicants," Dr. Friedman said.

Urges More Research Work

Dr. Fishbein, who is a member of the National Research Board of the Hospital, lauded the work of the Research Department of the Institution, and said: "More study, more research work of this sort, is the only answer we have as yet to question 'what to do in the control of tuberculosis.' The world today is confronted by a situation which points more than anything else towards an increasing menace from this disease."

Commendation of the free, nationwide, non-sectarian service of the Hospital, whose motto, since its opening in 1890, has been "None may enter who can pay, none can pay who enter," was paid by Otto G. Felton, Executive Secretary of District Grand Lodge No. 6, B'nai B'rith. An illustrated talk, spanning the day by day activities of the institution was given by Samuel Schaefer, National Supervisor.

POPULAR ROADSIDE STAND

Many Attractive Features at the Davis Bottle, Hoxsie Corners

The thousands who during the past two years have stopped at Davis' Bottle, that well-known roadside stand at Warwick Avenue and Airport Road, Hoxsie Corners, for refreshments and thirst-quenching drinks will be interested to know that the "Bottle" is again open for business this season and that Israel Davis, its genial proprietor, will again be on hand to serve his patronage.

Although the number of those who patronize Davis' Bottle runs well into the many thousands, few are aware of the facts that not only is the ice cream served at this place richer in fat content than any others at any other stand, but also that the "Bottle" is one of the cleanest and most sanitary in the East.

As proof of the cleanliness prevailing at the Davis Bottle, you have only to become a welcome guest of Mr. Davis and under his personal guidance be conducted through the plant where the ice cream is manufactured. Everything there is spotless. From the machinery to the containers, there is not a speck of dust.

Only the Purest and Best

Mr. Davis is very proud of this fact. He wants you and every one else who is interested in partaking of only the purest and the best to visit his place and be shown through the plant. You will also see the fresh fruits used in flavoring the ice cream.

To go through the plant and to watch the manner in which the ice cream is produced is interesting, but to note how stainlessly clean everything is maintained is a revelation.

The ice cream is most rich in quality. According to the recent inspection by state authorities the fat content ranks it among the highest in the state.

Make sure of the kind of ice cream sandwiches and cones you buy along the road. Not all stands are kept as clean, nor are all ice creams and sandwiches as pure and rich in food value as those you may obtain at Davis' Bottle.

And if you are skeptical about the merit of the praise accorded Mr. Davis and his stand, you will pay us and Mr. Davis a sincere compliment by seeing it for yourself.

And just a word about the chicken sandwiches and frankfurters to be had at Davis'. People come from miles around to taste the delicious sandwiches which are prepared from kosher kitchens and in a kosher way. The same is true of the frankfur-

JEWISH SPORT NOTES
By GEORGE JOELA Column of This and That

Golf

Miss Beatrice Gottlieb, the Jewish lady whose prowess with a set of golf clubs is not to be questioned, took herself to England to play in the various tournaments. She arrived in time to enter the women's championship but alas! after qualifying handily went out in a first round match. Undaunted and so forth, Ben, as those who know her remark, will continue on to the Continent. She will not play in Germany.

Baseball

Much activity among the Jewish Big Leaguers this past week. Ike Goldstein, who entered Monroe High School in New York City for one term so that he could pitch the team to a championship, has been sent by the Detroit Tigers to Toronto where, when he isn't taking his regular turn on the mound, he goes out into the outfield for the Maple Leafs. The Jewish boy is handy with the stick and the Canadian club is getting its money's worth out of him.

Maxie Rosenfeld, who has been hanging around the Brooklyn Dodgers bench these last few years, has been unconditionally released to the Chattanooga, Tenn. club of the Southern Association League. The outfielder showed a great deal of promise but failed by a narrow margin to make the grade. He is a southern boy (Alabama) and will find his new surroundings congenial. Chances are that he will be back up in the Big Leagues before many seasons have passed.

Ping Pong

The Ping Pongers just got under the gun. With the outdoor season beckoning in all sports the boys who pound the little celluloid ball around are just finishing their annual championships. Marcus Schussheim, national champion for the past seven years, was summarily eliminated from the tournament in the quarter-final round by a Jewish accountant from the Bronx named Seymour Solomon. The expert with figures caused an upset by winning over the former champ in three straight sets. He will probably win the tournament. There was a lad named Bernie Joel in the meet but he was beaten. Had he progressed I might have claimed him as one of the tribe.

Fighting

Georgie Levine, former Brooklyn welterweight contender, is losing the sight of his right eye. Two operations have failed to remedy the condition. Of course, it means that Levine is through with the ring. Harry Greb, greatest of modern middleweights, suffered from the same complaint but he continued to fight with his one good eye. He died at a comparatively young age. Levine will take no chances.

Maxie Baer who is training at Atlantic City for his June tilt with Schmeling looked so bad in his practice bouts that the boxing writers are predicting a dire end to the match with the German. Baer is not a training camp fighter but even if he were to show the best imaginable form I would not bet on Baer to come through. I just don't think he is good enough to beat Schmeling.

Tennis

The snooty U. S. Lawn Tennis Association has informed the working press, (that's us) that tennis writers are not guests but simply working men and should be treated as such. The situation came about through the high hat attitude of the flannel pants boys who run the tournaments. The writers, when they went into the club houses to eat, were allowed only a selected choice from the menu. It takes the well-mannered to really know how to be insulting. If the U. S. L. T. A. continues this attitude it will find itself looking for space in the papers with a microscope.

Johnny Nogrady, one of the more promising of the junior players, was forced to give up his schooling this year and go get a job. He expects to be back at St. John's college next

Woonsocket Choral Society to Give Concert, June 4

Rehearsals under the direction of Rev. Cantor Anshel Heuberg and assistant conductor Celia Epstein are in full swing to prepare for the concert of the Woonsocket Hebrew Choral Society to be held Sunday evening, June 4 at the Blackstone Hotel ballroom, Woonsocket. In addition to carefully chosen and beautifully arranged Hebrew and English Melodies rendered by the well known choir the program will abound with unusual musical treats that will be greatly welcomed by the music loving public.

Irving Heller, 11 year old violinist is scheduled to appear as soloist and the child prodigy who has already earned an enviable reputation on the concert stage is described by critics as a rising genius amongst virtuosos. Mario Bellini, well known baritone has been invited to appear and his presence at this concert will please his many friends and admirers. The Beethoven trio with Evelyn Fellows Officers violin, Marjorie Cote cellist, and Celia Epstein pianist, acclaimed as one of the finest trios in the state, has consented to grace the program.

Another attraction of unusual interest is the violin quartet composed of well known talented professional and business men. They are: Lloyd Arnold, Charles Berlow, Dr. I. M. Shallen and Austin Cook, with Harold Smith at the piano. Soloists of the choir are: Emma Kassidy, Lillian Goldstein and Samuel Kornstein. Tickets for the concert are on sale now and are available at LaRoe's Music Store at the Stadium Building, Woonsocket, and through members of the Choral Society.

Do You Like To See Things Grow?

Flowers? Trees? Children? Like to see them struggle for root-hold, push upward, grow straight and strong, flourish and flower?

Try planting a sum in cash... say $600... in Old Colony Combination Shares. In about 11½ years it will grow to $1100.

But savings don't have to be planted all at once, in substantial sums, in such fertile soil. Even a tiny seedling... $1 size... sown each month in Old Colony Monthly Payment Shares, will develop the fair-size sum of $200 in the same length of time.

Springtime is planting time. Act now!

IN ANSWER TO THOSE WHO CRITICISE OUR REACTION TO ANTI-SEMITISM IN GERMANY

Too much of the cold, brutal truth does not seem to be to the taste of some of our more fastidious critics. News despatches concerning the treatment accorded the Jews in Germany by the Nazis evidently are getting "too much" prominence in the Anglo-Jewish press, and are mentioned with a frequency which annoys the complacency and disturbs the smugness of a certain element of people.

Lo and behold! The times have given birth to a new kind of critic. Not so long ago the Anglo-Jewish press was the subject of rather harsh criticism from certain quarters because it was not giving "sufficient" space to news of Anti-Semitic occurrences in various parts of the world. Now, the accusation is made that this same press is "playing up" the situation in the Fatherland and in doing this it is furthering neither the Jewish nor the German cause.

We state unequivocally and emphatically that we and all other Anglo-Jewish publications who have at heart the best interests of Judaism and of the Jewish people will continue to make public the truth as we see it and to prosecute the boycott of German goods to the fullest extent in our power.

So long as the blood-thirsty, Jew-baiting followers of Hitler's wild teachings continue their policy of unmitigated persecution of the unfortunate Jews living amongst them, so long as the "cold pogrom" under governmental sponsorship continues to stifle the economic life of the Jew, as long as physical—and what is worse, mental tortures which are all but indescribable continue to be visited upon the Jew by a portion of the German population which had allowed itself to become imbued with Hitler's philosophy, just so long will we agitate for a continued and unrelenting boycott of German goods.

We are told by our well-meaning critics to "put the soft pedal" on the boycott; we are warned that economically a boycott works both ways; we are assured that powers mightier than ours are working for the alleviation, through political and diplomatic and business circles, of the harsh treatment of the German Jews. Furthermore, we are told that the Nazis are easing up on their anti-Semitism and that the lot of the Jews in Germany will in the very near future become more endurable.

Well, to quote Will Rogers, all we know is what we read in the papers. During the past five days Nazi storm troopers entered the great Ullstein publishing house, one of the largest printing and publishing concerns in the world, employing in Berlin alone more than 5200. The Nazis forced every Jewish employee to leave the premises. Ullstein, the owner, is Jewish. When he insisted that several department heads be retained the entire personnel walked out on strike. Needless to add, the Jewish employees are jobless.

A week ago a law was passed prohibiting any Jew from owning land or dealing in land. Does not this recall to you the Middle Ages? Is it not a similar law that forced the Jew to become a tradesman, that made him lose his contact with the soil and that brought into existence the Ghetto?

In Berlin, groups of Nazi lawyers last week stood in front of the courts and prohibited their Jewish colleagues—even though these colleagues have served in the trenches and are therefore qualified to practice under Hitler's strict limitations—from entering to serve their clients. Nazi physicians have forced the removal from hospital staffs of the few remaining Jewish doctors; Nazi dentists are forcing Jews out of practice. The result—a wave of suicides that is almost unparalleled in history.

Adolf Hitler, we say to you that even as the Kaiser's hands wallowed in the blood of the millions of innocents he condemned to death and torture in the World War, so do you stand before the bar of Justice, your hands dripping with the life-blood of thousands, your feet in a mire of bones and living flesh, your whole being stinking with the foulness of Anti-Semitism. Upon your head lies the blame for the suicides, for the merciless hounding by your agents of German citizens who were the most loyal and patriotic in Germany, but who must be exterminated simply because they are born "of that accursed race."

We find it hard to "keep mum" when we are informed by reliable reporters of the way in which Jews are treated in Germany. When the very silence of our brethren in the land of the Nazis is frightening, we are forced to shout to the world our disapproval of Nazi tactics. When we Jews have no government to protest for us, no military or naval forces to "defend our nationals," we must have recourse to the only weapon at our disposal—a boycott.

Those who criticize the loud protests voiced by Jews the world over as "undignified" and "provoking of further anti-Semitism," those who disagree with the effectiveness of a boycott, are deaf to the mute appeal of their brothers and sisters in Germany. It is lack of harmony of this sort that makes others pick the Jews for scapegoats in the manner of Hitler. Here is an opportunity for the Jew of the world over to unite in a protest loud enough to reach the ears of those murderers in Potsdam and poignant enough to touch the most sensitive nerve in modern civilization—the pocketbook.

It Will Stay

I do not know whether it's true, but it's a beautiful story that Arthur Garfield Hayes, the fighter for liberalism tells.

That of a German Jewish storekeeper, whose shop was placarded with the sign "Jude" by the Nazis. As the Jewish shopkeeper looked on, with indignation, he remarked "I'll see to it that that sign stays on after the boycott."

Badge of Honor

And it seems to me, that something of the implication of this story has already happened in the case of the whole German matter. They have hung "Jude" at the Jews, and it has been revealed as a badge of honor. The Nazis in their preachings that Jews are inferior, have revealed just the opposite. It has dynamited all of their vain boasts.

The London Times Remarks

It has revealed, that if the Nazis were to be really true to their theories, they would have to burn not only the volumes of Tolter, and Einstein and Marx, but more than half of their writings on science.

Even the London Times is amazed at some of the findings. The retirement for instance of Professor Fritz Haber. I remember reading in a book written by the English economist, Professor Soddy, that it was the Haber process of nitrogen fixation which prevented German collapse during the war. It is this process which provides for the nitrates necessary for explosives.

I know very little personally about nitrates or explosives, but I see the London Times this week makes the same statement. Without the Haber process, Germany could not have conducted the war longer than three months, it estimates.

Haber, a Pacifist

Haber, it appears, did not invent this process for war purposes. He was interested in getting enough fertilizer for the German farms, and he did succeed in making Germany independent of the nitrate deposits of other countries, as far as this purpose was concerned.

But it soon became apparent that the nitrates used for fertilizer could also be used for the making of gunpowder, and so the discovery of Haber who shares the pacifistic ideas of Einstein was turned to war ends.

Speaking of the Atom

Bertrand Russell once observed in a lecture on the atom about which so much is being written today, that he is apprehensive that much of the research in that field which seems likely to multiply almost incalculably the power resources of mankind may also be used to make infinitely more powerful explosives.

I was thinking of that the other day, when I heard that Professor Neils Bohr, the Danish Jewish scientist is in the country, lecturing I am told, at present at Dartmouth.

Bohr is Here

Bohr is probably the world's foremost authority on the atom, winning at one time the Nobel prize for his atomic research. A brother of Bohr is connected with the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

I was just wondering when I thought of men like Haber and Bohr, whether we haven't got all this matter of the Nazis wrong.

We act on the supposition that the Hitlerites are wrong hearted. And we call protest meetings. But they really are idiots.

A Scientific Protest

Now just consider. If a person is an idiot, there is no use in calling a protest meeting against him. If a man is insane or an imbecile, there is no use in passing resolutions against him.

I should have been in favor of a big Madison Square Garden meeting as was held, but instead of the addresses which were delivered, I should have invited educators, authorities on the insane, experts on the moron to be present and let them join in a symposium. They should pity the Hitlerites in a cold, scientific way.

R. I. Council of Judea Meets

The R. I. Council of Young Judea held its regular meeting last Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Morris Sheer with Arno Wrazlowsky presiding.

Reports from the many clubs in Providence and vicinity showed the unusual record of perfect registration with the National office. It was decided to hold the annual outing at Lincoln Woods, fireplace No. 17, on June 11.

The following were appointed as delegates to the National Young Judea convention at Sharon, Mass., on June 21 and 26: Samuel Goldin, Morris Block and Mrs. Morris Sheer. Alternates are Miss Lillian Blumenthal, Miss Harriet Winnerman, and Nathan Ostrov.

A set of By-Laws was presented by Mrs. Sheer, chairman of the By-Law committee and was unanimously adopted. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Morris Block, president; Mrs. Sheer, first vice president; Nathan Ostrov, second vice president; Misses Lillian Blumenthal and Harriet Winnerman, secretaries; and Samuel Goldin, treasurer.

Touro Synagogue,
Rich in Tradition
Observes Anniversary

Among the earliest and most enlightened of the colonists who came to this country were those of the Jewish faith who left Spain and Portugal during the inquisition. A settlement was effected in Newport as early as 1658.

Among the Jews who became prominent in Newport in the 18th century were Hart, Moses Seixas, Rev. Isaac Touro, Abraham Touro and Judah Touro.

The Congregation is one of the oldest in the country. The Synagogue was designed by Peter Harrison, a noted architect who designed Blenheim Castle, Redwood Library. The Colony House and other buildings of historical interest. It is considered one of the most beautiful pieces of Colonial architecture in the country.

On entering this sacred edifice one is inspired with awe and reverence for its beautiful Corinthian style of architecture. On the ground floor are 12 graceful columns of Corinthian architecture supporting the gallery. The columns represent the 12 tribes of Israel, which are the parent stock and from whom all Israelites spring. Facing the east is the sacred ark, where are deposited the scrolls of the law. One of the scrolls is over 350 years old, and was brought over by the first Jewish settlers who arrived here in 1658. This scroll was brought over from Spain during the Inquisition. In the center of the building are five massive bronze candleabras wrought out by hand, two of which are the gift of Jacob Rodrigues Pereira and his son Abraham, and are dated 1765; one by Isaac Pollock dated 1760; one by Naphtali Hart Myers dated 1760; and one by Aaron Lopez dated 1770.

Within the sacred Ark are scrolls of the law of great antiquity and historical interest. The silver tops and bells are fine examples of the silversmith's art.

Before the Ark hangs the perpetual lamp, and in the body of the edifice beautiful candleabras hang from the ceiling by long iron rods, which were presented to the Congregation by various of its members.

The present massive granite and iron fence surrounding the premises was erected in 1822.

During the Revolution many of the public buildings in Newport were closed, temporarily rendered unfit for use.

In 1790 our illustrious President, George Washington, visited the edifice and was warmly received on behalf of the Congregation by Moses Seixas, its warden.

Rev. Isaac Touro was the Rabbi to the Congregation at the time the building was dedicated and remained such until it was closed at the outbreak of hostilities between the Colony and the mother country.

Abraham Touro and Judah Touro, sons of Rev. Isaac Touro, by their testamentary bequests, have made provisions for the care of the building and the ancient cemetery, to which reference is made later on.

Owing to the absence of the required number for holding Congregational services the building was not reopened until 1878.

In 1881 Persia Mendes became Rabbi to the Congregation and conducted services until his decease, April 4, 1893.

Much could be written of the history of this structure and the men who were identified in building it. Much could be written in praise of the men who constituted the Jewish community during the 17th and 18th centuries. They were men of the highest integrity, they were strict believers in the Mosaic Law, and practiced its precepts. They were charitable in all their walks through life. Their exemplary lives have left a rich legacy to American Judaism. With the exception of occasional short periods of time the edifice has been open for religious services from 1881 to this time.

And So The Days Pass

By JACK SILVERMAN

Just for this week . . . the column is going to be different . . . no poetry, no gags or gossip . . . I'd like to talk to you about something which to my mind is of far greater importance in the annals of Jewish life.

Wednesday, May 31 and Thursday, June 1, which according to the Jewish calendar are the sixth and seventh days in the month of Sivan, we shall observe the holiday of Shavuoth, or the Feast of Weeks. It is the feast of the first fruits of the harvest, and the second of the pilgrimage festivals. (Exodus 31:22).

From the second day of Passover (the time of the early harvest) seven weeks or 49 days are counted (to the time of the second harvest) and the 50th day is "holy convocation," hence the name Feast of Weeks as related in Leviticus, 23:15.

Historically the festival commemorates the revelation upon Mount Sinai, or the "Season of the giving of our Torah." It was handed down to our ancestors by Moses, our teacher, with two tablets of the covenant, upon which were inscribed the Ten Commandments.

What an event! What a glorious holiday! Allow me to present here a brief summary of the facts that led up to it. They are taken from our holy bible, Exodus 19: 1 to 25.

It was a little over two months after the children of Israel were freed from their Egyptian bondage . . . They came to the wilderness of Sinai where they camped before the Mount . . . The Lord called unto Moses, saying, "Thus shall you say unto the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel: Ye have seen what I did unto the Egyptians, and bore you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto Myself. Now, therefore, if ye will hearken unto my voice indeed, and keep My covenant, then ye shall be Mine own treasure from among all peoples; for all the earth is Mine, and ye shall be unto me a kingdom of priests, and a holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel."

Moses did not immediately accept for the people. He convened the elders among them . . . they enthusiastically replied, "All that the Lord hath spoken, we will do." . . . Moses, after delivering the reply was charged by the Lord to sanctify and purify the children of Israel for the third day thereafter, when the Lord would descend to Mount Sinai.

And thus it came to pass that when the third day arrived, the Lord came down upon Mount Sinai, and himself . . . not through an angel, a prophet or a messiah, gave to us the greatest of all documents . . . whose divine inspiration no sensible man can deny . . . The Ten Commandments!

About 3300 years have passed since that memorable day. The day when our direct ancestors entered into a covenant with God to be his chosen people . . . A kingdom of Priests . . . A holy nation. Look about you today my friend, and see the result of that covenant . . . Look back to the time before Israel became the kingdom of priests, when all people of the world were of a standard and morality much lower than the present aborigines of Africa or the wild hushmen of Australia, and see the result of our mission in the world. Our Ten Commandments . . . yes, OURS . . . because none of the other people at that time had the courage to accept them . . . are today the basic foundation of our so-called modern civilized world . . . The law statutes of all the progressive lands are the direct inspiration of the laws of God given to us upon Mount Sinai . . . The great religions of Christianity and Mohammedism are offshoots of Judaism . . . Their leaders and teachers were Jews. We have waded thru water and fire to spread the word of God, and though the mission of Israel is far from having been accomplished, God be praised, we have attained some success.

Of course the world and its people do not begin to realize the debt they owe us . . . but neither do many of our own brethren fully conceive our mission in the world . . . It did not take many days for Israel to begin breaking this holy contract. As soon as Moses left them for a while, they elected a golden calf which they worshipped instead of the God who had taken them from all the other people of the world to be his own children . . . The tragedy of our people has been that we never fully carried out our covenant of Mount Sinai . . . there have always been, as there are today, many of our brethren who were more fascinated by the golden calf, the customs, the life, and the Gods of other people, than they were by the great God and his covenant.

Wednesday and Thursday is the great holiday of Shavuoth . . . I venture to say that not more than five percent of Jews throughout the world will celebrate it in the manner that it deserves. The other 95 percent will be too busy to give. It more than a passing thought, they'll have things of far greater importance to attend to! Only five out of every 100 Jews will go to the synagogue and thank the Lord for having thus honored us . . . Beg his forgiveness for our iniquity and indolence in carrying out our part of the agreement . . . Only a small part of us will feel the honor and responsibility of what it means to be a Jew.

I wonder how the Irish, Swedes, French, Germans and other people of the world would celebrate it? One of their ministers frankly admitted to me that in all the calendar of Christian holidays there isn't one which begins to compare with the greatness and majesty of this holiday. How proud would any of the other people of the world be today if it were their ancestors and not ours that stood before Mount Sinai on that memorable day?

My friend, you are living today in a world that, although far from being perfect, is nevertheless a much better world than people lived in before the Ten Commandments and the other Jewish laws were given to your ancestors. Civilization, justice, liberty, charity and the other fine traits that humanity boasts of, are Jewish contributions to the world. You and you and I have nothing to be ashamed of because we are Jews . . . We have a lot to be proud of and can attain a height of greatness far above the rest of the world if we will only keep the promise that our forefathers made . . . "All that the Lord hath spoken we will do."

"HOSPITALS ARE RICH"

By CHARLES M. HOFFMAN, Miriam Hospital

Newspapers, the public apparently thinks, devote considerable space every day to reporting bequests and donations to hospitals. When some wealthy man or woman dies it seems that a large fortune is left to charity, with a good portion of it going to a hospital.

But this is just a superficial idea about donations to hospitals, for as a matter of fact, if all the money which has been given to hospitals for endowment, were equally divided among all the hospitals, each hospital would have just enough money in trust to provide it with an income of eight cents a day.

The matter of the wealth of hospitals seems to be one of those popular misconceptions which persist in spite of everything. People willingly believe that huge sums are represented in the trust funds of many hospitals and that these funds are kept for some mysterious and selfish purpose, while the hospital continues to demand from every patient as much as the poor man can possibly pay.

Hospitals have very little money in endowment funds, and even the most heavily endowed hospital would have to close its doors in a few months if patients it served who are able to pay, did not pay for their treatment.

The foregoing statement should be carefully re-read, for it is based on a very careful study of many hospitals by a trained investigator, and it was made, not at the instigation of the hospitals, but by an outside agency. Eight cents a day, or $25 a year, would hardly pay a hospital for the electric light it needs in one patient's room, and that sum is only a very small fraction of what it costs to care for a patient for even one day.

The vast majority of hospitals can not make money for any individual or group, because they are chartered by law as non-profit charitable institutions. They gladly serve the sick poor who are unable to pay for their treatment, and they have beds at less than cost for those who do not want to be classed as recipients of charity, yet who are unable to meet the full cost of hospitalization. And then for the few in every community who are well-to-do and who want a few luxuries for which they are able to pay, the hospital provides higher priced rooms. But these rooms are very few and represent only a small percentage of the entire capacity of the hospital.

Tire prices may never be so Low again!

GOODYEAR certainly makes it worth while for you to put money in tires now. Your dollars never bought tires to equal the quality, the safety, the mileage which Goodyear is today building in every tire wearing the Goodyear name—

And because Goodyear now concentrates on two main lines of tires—a real saving in costs is passed on to you.

Look at the present prices of the world's most popular tire, the Goodyear All-Weather — and the prices of the thrifty Goodyear Pathfinder — and you'll certainly agree, it's smart to buy Goodyears NOW—while prices are still down close to bottom, and your money buys more than it may ever buy again.

On the second day the Rabbi will conduct Memorial services and his topic will be "What do the Dead Demand From Us?"

REV. MAGOUN ADDRESSES B'NAI BRITH

Before a large group of members and invited guests, Rev. Roy Magoun of the Seaman's Church Institute delivered an interesting address at a meeting last week of the Jewish Touro Lodge No. 308, B'nai Brith. Rev. Magoun spoke on his recent trip to Europe. He was introduced by Everett L. Hess, past president of the lodge.

PERSONALS

Emil Jemial of the Newport Daily News staff addressed the members of the Emma Lazarus Club at their meeting last week.

Max Berman was re-elected president of the Newport chapter of A. Z. A.

Judge Max Levy and Dr. Samuel Newelson were among the 100 invited guests of Mayor Mortimer A. Sullivan at the reception and dinner which he gave last week at the La Forge in honor of Rear Admiral Harris Laning, U. S. N., Captain Frank L. Finney, U. S. N., and Captain Gilbert J. Rowell, U. S. N.

Rev. and Mrs. B. Pereira Mendes and Rev. and Mrs. David De Sola Pool are guests of Nathan David, president of the Congregation Jeshuat Israel and Mrs. David.

The Jewish Men's Club of Newport defeated the Newport chapter of A. Z. A. last Sunday morning in a baseball game with a score of 16 to 11. The batteries were Lippman and Gold for the Men's Club, with Berman and Sperling for the A. Z. A. The Men's Club will play the John Hancock team this Sunday morning.

Leo Tabak, Brown (HCL) was toastmaster at a dinner given Tuesday evening by the Brown Daily Herald at the Biltmore Hotel.

Mrs. Joseph S. Josephson was hostess last evening to a bridge at year. This season he will practice at one of the local New York clubs.

Julie Wishick who, five years ago, was one of the leading boy players in the country, is now a student at Columbia University and, of course, a member of the tennis team. The dark-haired Jewish boy failed to develop all tennis greatness and like most of us will play solely for the fun he gets out of the game.

Track

Gus Heymann, Jewish Olympic sprinting champion, has been bettering his time for the hundred yard dash ever since he was a student at high school. His best mark to date is 9.5 seconds, which is plenty fast. If he can consistently perform at that speed there will be a lot of new cups on the Heymann mantelpiece before the cold weather gets around again.

Chatterings

You might say that this is what the whole column should be slugged (just a technical word) but in writing a weekly piece a lot of material gets mixed up in one's pocket and what is left over goes into this paragraph. . . . I have been told that the tennis moguls have decided not to become embroiled in international politics which is another way of saying that Dr. Prehn will not be invited to appear over here. I still think enough shouting will make the boys change their minds, if any. . . . Now that Miles Lengen is to be reinstated into amateur tennis circles and a match with Helen Willis is impending the old question about the French girl's Jewishness is certain to burn again. The last word, which came from the lady herself, was to the effect that although she had the greatest admiration for the Jews she regretted that she did not belong to that illustrious race herself.

PROVIDENCE TEMPLE STUDENTS VISIT HERE

A group of the students of the high school and the Sunday school of Temple Beth-El of Providence, accompanied by Rabbi William G. Braude, visited Touro Synagogue at Newport last Sunday. The visiting rabbi and the students were welcomed by Rabbi Morris Gutstein, who held a short service in the historic synagogue in honor of the guests.

The C. J. I. Children's Orchestra under the direction of Arthur Cohen and Charles Segal played during the luncheon.

"Koved Night"

Other Trophies were contributed by Isaac Woolf, Harry R. Rosen, Rose A. Gerber, Walter Adler, Benjamin W. Grossman, Joseph Finberg, Samuel Steiner, Walter I. Sundun, Henry Hassenfeld, Mayer E. Gates, and the Council of Jewish Women.

Dr. Louis B. Wolfenson offered the opening and the closing Benedictions. Brief addresses were made by members of the Center Board. Each club presented its best club cheer and song. A combined contribution to the Jewish Center Library Fund was made by all the clubs, presentation speeches being made by Lester Salter and Blossom Sugarman. Greetings on behalf of the assembled clubs were given by Sanford Litchman, Herbert Brown and Esther Strasberg.

Nathan Pass, Director of Junior Club Activities introduced the following Club Leaders: Louis Kramer, Miss Beatrice Gross, Al Gilstein, Miss Ethel Levine, Miss Hilda Radzinski, William Gates, Miss Dora Dora Bazar, Murray Halpert, William Matzner, Martin Cohen, Miss Harriet Winerman, Albert S.
