

The Jewish Herald

Vol. XI, No. 9

PROVIDENCE, R. I., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1935

5 Cents the Copy

Immigration Policy is Defended

LONDON (JTA) — Tribute to Dr. Chaim Weizmann's leadership of the Zionist movement and defense of Great Britain's Palestine immigration policy were voiced this week by Malcolm MacDonald, Colonial Secretary, at the annual dinner of the Anglo-Palestinian Club.

Pointing out that while only 10,000 Jews entered Palestine in 1932, immigration figures for the first nine months of 1935 showed a total of 45,000 had entered. Mr. MacDonald expressed surprise that despite this large increase many were still critical of the Mandatory Power.

Englishmen, Mr. MacDonald stated, are so much concerned with Palestine's upbuilding that they want the structure built on a firm foundation, not "jerry built."

The impulse behind the Jewish National Home, he declared, is a great spiritual impulse. He did not believe, he said, that the real test of Jewish statesmanship lay in building up a Jewish community there, but in the ability of the Jews to co-operate with other people in Palestine.

"You must cooperate with the Arabs," Mr. MacDonald advised. "You must create conditions there that will make the Arab work with you. There is room for both and there you'll live side by side."

Mr. MacDonald observed that not only has the life of the Arabs been improved by Jewish cooperation but their standard of living has been raised.

Referring to the possibility of war, the Colonial Secretary asked if High Commissioner Wauchope would be dining with them if such a danger existed.

Sir Arthur in the course of his address expressed agreement with David Ben-Gurion, Zionist labor leader, that Palestine needs most of all land for settlers and water to make the farms productive. He said he welcomed the Huleh project because it would supply those needs.

Another need cited by the High Commissioner was for trees. Stating that the Palestine Government was planning to plant each year half a million trees through the agency of various bodies, Sir Arthur emphasized that the "tree of good will" was equally important.

Dr. Weizmann pointed out that since the experts had said there was insufficient room for Jews in Palestine, 150,000 Jews had entered Palestine. He said that the Palestine Government should derive satisfaction from the fact that a considerable number of German Jews had entered Palestine and found their new life and new hope, which constitutes the "greatest moral conquest of the age."

Special Prospect Group to Begin Drive Next Week

With campaign time but a week off, workers who are interested supporters of the Jewish agencies in the Providence Cranston Community Fund Campaign, together with hundreds of others are getting ready to swing into their one week effort to raise $634,958, for the support of 38 social agencies during 1936, including about $25,000 which will be needed by the Jewish Orphanage, Miriam Hospital, Jewish Family Welfare Society, Jewish Community Center and North End Dispensary.

With Bernard Goldowsky in charge, the canvas of the Special Prospects group will commence a few days in advance of the campaign. Under special divisions, corporations, employees in various plants and stores, out of town couples, lawyers, doctors, dentists and others will be approached.

The bulk of the solicitation, however, will be done by the great army of workers in the regular campaign

Fear for Relations Forces Miss Mayer to Accept Invitation

BERLIN (JTA) — Helene Mayer, famous German-Jewish fencing star now living in California, accepted the invitation of Dr. Theodor Lewald to try out for the German team in the Olympic games out of fear that her relatives in Germany would be held hostages if she refused, it was believed here in informed circles.

For some unannounced reason Dr. Lewald's announcement that he had received Miss Mayer's cabled acceptance in reply to his cabled invitation was suppressed in the German press.

Saul Raskin, Local Artist, to Hold Exhibition

Saul Raskin, former resident of Providence and winner of the Logan award, will bring to this city next week some 100 oil paintings, water colors, a group of etchings and dry points, a group of lithographs and also a group of linocuts and drawings, in an exhibition at Temple Emanu-El, Morris Avenue and Sessions Street, under the auspices of the Institute of Jewish Studies. The formal opening of the Art Exhibit will be held on next Monday evening, at a special meeting of the Sisterhood of the Congregation. Mr. Raskin will deliver an address at this meeting. Mrs. Abbie Grant Huddish will give readings.

Mr. Raskin, whose art has become internationally known, has done much of his best work under a distinct racial influence. Many of his paintings concern themselves with Palestine and especially Jerusalem, together with portrait studies of Jewish types and notable figures. This phase of his work will be among those represented in the group of oils, water colors, etchings and lithographs which he plans to send here.

Born in Russia, Mr. Raskin came to the United States in 1904 after studies in Paris and Berlin. He has remained in America, except for periodical visits to Palestine, where he finds great inspiration. His most recent lithographs are the record of his summer in Jerusalem in 1929, and his work appears in the collection of the Metropolitan Museum in New York, the Congressional Library, the New York Public Library and the Newark Museum. In addition to some teaching and dictating.

(Continued on Page Four)

Home for Aged Re-elects Magid for Third Time

ADDITIONAL DIRECTORS CHOSEN; COMMITTEE REPORTS PRESENTED

SAMUEL M. MAGID

Samuel M. Magid was re-elected president of the Jewish Home for Aged of Rhode Island at the third annual meeting held last Sunday afternoon. Other officers elected were Judge J. Jerome Hahn, honorary chairman; Judge Philip C. Joslin, vice president; Milton Sulzberger, treasurer; Charles Brown, financial secretary; Herman J. Aksenberg, recording secretary, and A. Blackman, accountant and auditor. Additional directors for three years were: Alter Boyman, Bernard M. Goldowsky, Henry Hassenfeld, Charles Silverman, Max L. Grant, Benjamin N. Kane, Walter L. Sundlin, Leo Logan, Max Winograd, David Dwares, Ralph Krauss, Harry Leach, Morris Cooper, Barney Taber, Reuben Lipson, Max Temkin, Samuel Shore, Morris Feinberg, Hille Hassenfeld, Albert Weiner and Samuel Ganzer.

The meeting was opened with a prayer offered by Rabbi William G. Braude of Temple Beth-El, who also spoke on "Our Duty to the Aged." Benjamin Prensack, violinist, gave a program, accompanied by Roy Armstrong. Mr. Magid presented the chairman of the committees and reports were heard.

Max Siegal, of the carnival committee.

Palestine to Elect New Chief Rabbi

JERUSALEM (JTA) — Elections will be held shortly for a new chief rabbi of Palestine to replace the late Rabbi Abraham I. Kook, it was announced by the Vaad Lomni, Jewish national council.

The election will take place in accordance with official regulations passed by the Knesset Larnel and approved by High Commissioner Wauchope last March providing for a general election when there is no second candidate to replace the chief rabbi.

A demand is also being made that a rabbi of the Jerusalem community be named. Such a position can be created only by a meeting of the community council with representatives of the important local synagogues. The stateman concludes that no person or persons are empowered to act individually in the matter.

Arabs Demand Arms

JERUSALEM (JTA) — A memorandum was presented to the Government by an organization of Arab women, the memorandum demanding that Jews be made to deliver to the Government within ten days 10,000 guns, 50,000 revolvers and a million bullets.

Jewish Herald Now Under New Ownership and Management

We are pleased to announce that the Jewish Herald's new owned and published by Providence people. As the only Jewish organ in Rhode Island the Herald will transmit to Rhode Island Jewry news of Jewish events and occurrences not generally found in other local newspapers. We invite correspondence on subjects of interest to Jewish people.

Noted Author Speaks Tomorrow

Louis Golding, noted British author and traveler, will open the lecture series for the eighth annual Institute of Jewish Studies for Adults of Temple Emanu-El tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

B. K. Hart, Literary Editor of the Providence Journal and Bulletin will introduce and welcome the speaker.

Mr. Golding will speak on the subject "The Magnolia Street Wanderer." This is the first lecture tour of Mr. Golding's since 1927 and his address in this city will be among the first of his lecture season on this visit to the United States. Mr. Golding has written such well-known novels as "Magnolia Street," "Five Silver Daughters," and most recently "The Camberwell Beauty." Mr. Golding is famous not only as a novelist but also as a traveler. He has visited such far away places as Mesopotamia, Salonika, Morocco, Tunisia, Egypt, Greece and Palestine. One of the best known travel books on Palestine is "These Ancient Lands."

Mr. Golding is the first lecturer in the series of four lectures to be held on Saturday afternoons in November on the general theme "Jewish Literary Masters and Their Masterpieces." He will be followed by the following lecturers: Saturday, November 9, Dr. A. A. Roback of Harvard on "Foretz, The Psychologist of Literature." Saturday, November 16, Prof. John Curtis on "English Department of Brown University, on 'Ludwig Lewisohn.'" Saturday, November 23, Rabbi Israel M. Goldman of Temple Emanu-El on "Samuel Joseph Agnon and his novel, 'The Bridal Canopy'."

LINER ALBERT BALLIN RENAMED HANSA

BERLIN (JTA) — The name of the famous Jewish shipper was scratched off the prow of the liner Albert Ballin this week and in its place the Hamburg-American line substituted the name, Hansa.

The late Albert Ballin, close friend of the former Kaiser, was responsible for building up the German lines before and during the World War. He was a director of the Hamburg-American line.

Anti-Semitic Propaganda Floods New England

BOSTON (JTA) — A widespread house-to-house anti-Semitic boycott campaign is being carried on in a number of New England towns by an organization known as the American Nationalist Party. It was revealed this week by the Jewish Advocate.

Agents of the party are canvassing homes, distributing violently incendiary circulars and asking Gentiles to boycott Jewish business. Among the New England towns which have been visited are Waltham, Lexington, Concord and Winchester.

In addition, another type of circular is being distributed bearing a Los Angeles address. Similar leaflets have been widely distributed in Seattle, Portland, Oregon, and numerous coast communities. The American Nationalist Party

U. S. Sure to Enter Olympics

CHICAGO (JTA) — The United States will positively be represented in the 1936 Olympic games, declared Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic Association and chairman of the American Olympic Committee in a bristling statement in reply to persons and organizations opposing American participation in the Berlin games.

"The bitter feeling, attempted coercion and insidious propaganda," he asserted, "which are being used in this campaign, largely by individuals who have never learned the lessons of amateur sport and thus do not hesitate to use methods contrary to all the codes of sportsmanship. However, it is safe to say that we are expected if religious, racial, class or political issues are allowed to intrude in council halls or sport, where they have no place."

"Many dare not even voice their opinions," he continued, "because of social, political or economic pressure applied by certain organized minorities. It is safe to say that the vast and overwhelming majority of intelligent Americans realize that we have many opportunities for the exercise of our altruistic impulses right here in the United States. It would seem only proper to set our own house in order before we attempt to reform the world."

Germans Fulfill Every Pledge. "It is notable that everyone who has visited Germany has reported courteous and hospitable treatment and that the German authorities are fulfilling every pledge made to the International Olympic Committee."

Earlier in the statement, Brundage declared, "The Olympic games belong to the athletes, not to the politicians. Knowing the temper of true sport leaders and amateur athletes in this country, who are unanimous on this subject, I say positively that there will be teams representing the United States in the 1936 games."

"Sportsmen will not tolerate the use of clean American sport as the vehicle to transplant old world hatreds to the United States. Accepting the invitation to compete in the 1936 Olympic games, the American Olympic Committee, like the Olympic committee of the other nations (Continued on Page Four)

South Providence Congregation Elects Barney Stone

Barney Stone was re-elected president of the South Providence Hebrew Congregation at their annual meeting held last Tuesday night. Other officers elected were: A. Rimmnick, vice-president; S. Friedman, treasurer; Joe Millman, recording secretary; and Mike Harrison, financial secretary.

circular takes the form of a proclamation accusing the Jews of abusing the "courtesy" given them of living in the United States, driving competition out by "imitations, substitutions and shoddy," promoting contempt for honor in business by "sharp practices, low cunning, insurance frauds and dishonest bankruptcy proceedings," evidencing "contempt for every element of our Christian morality" and seducing "any Gentile girl, young or advanced and to whom as a class they have applied the most opprobrious, significant and insulting epithet of 'chicken.'"

The circular concludes with an appeal to "Buy Gentile! Employ Gentile! Vote Gentile! Your dime supporting the Jew may endorse the support of further Jewish attacks upon our Christian morality."

3 Bodies Refute Hitler's Charge Jews Are Red

Ripping off the "Red" tag Hitler has been trying to pin on the Jews, three large American Jewish organizations issued statements, branding the charge as the "Nazi government's protest for 'holding the German people of their evil rights.'"

The declaration was made by Dr. Cyrus Adler, president of the American Jewish Committee; Alfred M. Cohen, president of B'nai B'rith and B. Charney Vindeck, chairman of the Jewish Labor Committee.

The Third Reich has, it stated, used the Red scare as a cover under which it "robbed the German people of their civil rights; suppressed freedom of speech of the press and assembly; has destroyed the free labor unions and confiscated their funds; and is now engaged in a pagan assault upon the religious conscience of the Protestant, Catholic and Jew alike."

Facts taken from the election figures of recent periods in Germany are cited in support of its contention that Jews have played an insignificant role in Communist activities.

The statement appeals to Americans "not to permit this campaign of slander and libel to go unreprieved."

"We are confident," it says, "that our fellow Americans of all faiths, knowing that oppression sets no limits to its victims, will add their voices in protest against the destruction of the innocents in Germany, and that the American sense of justice and fair play will influence our fellow citizens to express themselves unmistakably against the ruthless suppression of liberty of conscience, destruction of human lives and ideals, and revival of pagan barbarism."

Mrs. Loeber Winner of Hallowe'en Prize

Mrs. A. Loeber was winner of the first prize for the most novel costume at the Hallowe'en party staged by the First Odessa Independent Ladies' Auxiliary last Monday evening. Mrs. E. Kessler was awarded second prize and Mrs. Leo Rubin was given a prize for the funniest costume.

Other prizes were won by Mrs. Samuel Mike, Mrs. L. Gershan, Mrs. Leo Grossman, Mrs. Sigmund Horowitz, Mrs. Charles Adelsberg was chairman of the games committee assisted by the judges, Mrs. Rubin, Mrs. Willner and Mrs. Davis. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Abraham Gregerman.

Zionist Societies to Unify Stand

NEW YORK (JTA) — The Zionist Organization of America Executive will shortly call a meeting of all Zionist groups and parties and friends of Palestine to create a United Palestine Front, it was announced this week following a meeting of the Z. O. A. Administrative Committee.

BINGO
Every Sat., 8.30 P. M.
Howland Hall, Norwood, R. I.
Valuable Gifts Cards 25c
Clifford H. Howland, Director

Holmes Employment Bureau
86 Weybosset Street
Office, Household, Hotel, Restaurant, Sales, Textile, Mechanical and Automobile Help.

FIRST AID DRUG STORES
807-809 Hope Street
199 Prairie Avenue
COURTESY RELIABILITY
LOWEST PRICES
MA. 9708 MA. 3085

Colonization of Jews in Ecuador Delayed

NEW YORK (JTA) — The plans for colonizing Jews in Ecuador are being held up by lack of requisite funds and the recent political upheaval during which a military dictatorship was established in Ecuador, according to an advance report received by the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society from its Paris office.

"We had a chance to examine a draft of the agreement drawn up for signature between the Government of Ecuador and the Paris committee," the report said, "which agreement is not signed as yet. Essentially it provides for a colonization scheme requiring millions of dollars for its realization. Of course, since those millions are lacking the proposition cannot be put into effect. "Since the drafting of the agreement," the report added, "the president of Ecuador was imprisoned and a military dictatorship established. A couple of refugees whom we were to send there as individuals refused to undertake the journey as a result."

Home Elects Officers

(Continued from Page One)
mittee, reported a net profit of $6,109.10, while Bernard M. Goldowsky of the entertainment committee reported a profit of $1,664 from the last ball. The budget for the ensuing year was reported as $22,544 by Charles C. Brown, chairman of the budget committee. Abraham Blackman stated that expenses for the year ending were $25,200 with a deficit of $600.

Nat C. Cohen, chairman of the membership committee, presented a report on the membership and Mrs. I. S. Low, president of the Ladies' Association, reported an increase of 125 members during the year. Harry L. Jacobs gave the financial report. Judge J. Jerome Hahn reported $600 for the Memorial committee.

Judge Hahn, chairman of the visiting committee, stressed in his report the need, not only of food, shelter and housing to aged people, but also providing them with mental comfort. Walter I. Sundlin reported for the legal committee. Isaac E. Feinstein, superintendent of the Home, reported on the activities of the Home during the last Jewish holidays. He also stated that the death rate of the Home is the lowest for any such institution. Dr. Leo Cohen reported for the medical committee. Mrs. Samuel N. Deutsch reported for the admissions committee that six inmates were admitted to the Home during the year. Reports were also given by Milton Sulzberger, treasurer, and Max Steiner, secretary, on the activities of the Home. The executor of the nominating committee, presented the new officers.

O. H. C. NEWS

The fifteenth annual banquet of the O. H. C. was held last Sunday evening at the Warren Hotel in Warren, R. I. The gala affair was arranged by the social committee headed by Joseph Greenblatt. Abraham Polster was master of ceremonies. The order of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Adl Kouffman. Mrs. Henry Kouffman was one of the original founders of the O. H. C. of which Dr. Daniel Kouffman is now president.

Greetings of welcome and a short history of the O. H. C. was given by Dr. Kouffman. The speakers were Morris Waldman, first president of the O. H. C., Sam Shindler, George Labush and Samuel Kagan. The first full issue of the O. H. C. "Comrade" was distributed to members and their guests. Mr. Kagan is editor-in-chief of the club publication. Souvenirs were given to the ladies and favors were had by all. One hundred persons attended the affair.

At the usual meeting of the O. H. C. last Thursday, Dr. Nathaniel Mallinor, Joseph A. Roover and Sam Chernov were admitted to membership in the organization. Plans were made for a special meeting to discuss the formation of a Junior Group of the O. H. C.

POOR LION!
A ferocious lion broke loose in a German village and was terrorizing the inhabitants until the village smithy confronted it, grabbed its jaws, ripped them apart and then choked the beast to death. A com-

Nazi Riot Scenes Cut from Newsreel

NEW YORK (JTA) — Scenes showing Nazis burning books, ridding Jewish stores and attacking Jews were cut this week from the March of Time current release, "The New Palestine," in Ohio and in Chicago by order of censors.

In addition, the State of Illinois censored remarks by the narrator attacking Reichsfuehrer Hitler. One of the narrator's remarks was, "Hitler is the man who has brought more evil on the Jews than any man in his generation."

March of Time, Inc. after issuing a statement that it could see no reasons for the censorship has decided there is no further action it can take, the Jewish Telegraphic Agency was told by Ralph Rolan, vice president, who arrived here from Cleveland.

Meanwhile, in Cleveland Rabbi Bernard R. Bricker, Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver and other clergymen and liberals, Jewish and non-Jewish, voiced emphatic protests against the censorship.

State Education Director E. J. Bowshoff had taken responsibility for the cutting of 150 feet of the film in Ohio, declaring it was "gruesome and might stir up unnecessary bitter feeling between Germans and Jews in Ohio."

Rabbi Silver said he saw the film in Boston and saw no reason for the censorship.

In Chicago, Police Censor Harry Costello said he cut the scene because it violated a city ban on riot scenes in newsreels. "The Mayor has frequently explained," Lieutenant Costello said, "that such scenes tend to excite the public."

The March of Time editors issued a statement saying, "The narrative dealt with the colonization of Palestine by the Jews. In giving the audience proper background to appreciate this important world movement, the editors included scenes of Nazi anti-Jewish activity — activity largely responsible for the migration of Jews from Germany."

Jews Volunteer for Service in Ethiopia

ROME (JTA) — The Jewish Telegraphic Agency learned Tuesday that large numbers of Jews, including residents of Tunis, Egypt, Algiers, Turkey and Greece, have volunteered for service with the Italian expeditionary forces in Ethiopia.

A special legion stationed at Sabaudia and comprising volunteers from lands outside of Italy includes a number of Jewish officers. Major Lionello Attias, a Tunis Jew, commands a battalion in this legion and is second in command of the legion. Among the volunteers is a young rabbi, Catarina Salomone.

Italian Propaganda Causes Concern

LONDON (JTA) — Italian propaganda aimed at the Arabs in Palestine is causing concern in parliamentary circles, it became apparent today.

The question of what the government is doing to counteract the propaganda was raised on the floor of the House of Commons by Captain Peter Drummond McDonald. Captain McDonald asked whether the Government was aware that Italy is broadcasting propaganda in Arabic.

Replying for the Colonial Secretary Captain A. R. J. Southby declared that the matter has been the subject of discussions with the Italian Ambassador. Captain Southby also pointed out that the new Palestine radio service would soon begin operating.

Sir Josiah Wedgwood, pro-Zionist member of Parliament, asked that the Colonial Office obtain a full report of the Italian propaganda in Palestine.

Committee approached him and thanked the smithy in the name of the entire community.

"But we are going to do more than just thank you," they said. "We're going to take you to Berlin and have you meet Hitler. Perhaps he'll give you a medal."

"Do you know," suggested the blacksmith, "that I'm a non-Aryan?"

The committee drew back and left him standing there.

The next day the local gazette carried this heading: "Jew Attacks Defenseless Lion."

THE WEEK IN JEWISH NEWS

Palestine: Strike
An air of calmness mingled with uneasiness prevailed over Palestine last week at the Arab general strike against alleged Jewish gun-running went into effect.

Armed British police took all precautions to prevent disorders, all night patrols were set up around the cities. The Vaad Leumi, remembering the Arab riots of 1929, asked and received assurances that every measure possible would be taken to prevent the strike from getting out of control.

Meanwhile, the gun-running attempt which had set off the Arabs' fears that the Jews were arming themselves, developed all the angles of an international detective story. The British Colonial Office threw an international dragnet out to catch those responsible.

In such widely separated places as Tripoli, Syria, and Antwerp, Belgium, the search went on. Five persons were arrested at the instigation of British agents. One of them, the head of a Jerusalem church, was seized in Tripoli, whence he had escaped without a passport.

J. Kattan, the Jewish importer in Tel Aviv to whom the arms shipment, disguised as cement, had been consigned, seemed to have disappeared. British agents, armed with a complete description of the importer, sought him without success in Palestine and abroad.

United States: Olympics

The Olympics situation made new headlines last week. First, General Charles H. Sherrill, American member of the International Olympic Committee, came home from Germany, on the Normandie and warned the Jews their opposition to Olympics in Berlin would cause a great wave of anti-Semitism. He identified himself as a great friend of the Jews because he allegedly secured invitations for two great Jewish athletes to compete in the Olympics.

His statement brought opposition to the Olympics to a new high. Resentment was aroused not only at his statement that there was no discrimination against Jewish athletes and that the United States would participate, but against him personally for attempting to make it appear that the Olympics were Jewish. Resentment was expressed in a flood of statements that issued forth from organizations and persons, Jewish and Christian.

The renewed intensity of the anti-Olympics-in-Berlin drive elicited a statement from Averil Brundage, chairman of the American Olympic Committee, in Chicago. He stated that the U. S. would positively participate and made some remarks about "insidious propaganda" and "organized minorities" in the anti-Olympics-in-Berlin movement.

Exchanges of statements went on at a furious pace. J. T. Mahoney, a former supreme court justice, used his legal training to write a masterful summation of the case against Berlin Olympics which he sent to Dr. Theodor Lewald, chairman of the German Olympic Committee, calling on the latter to resign his post. Lewald replied that there was no discrimination against Jewish athletes. He responded that he had invited Miss Helene Mayer (who is in California) by mail to try out for the German team. Later in the week he told newspaper correspondents he was intending to send Miss Mayer an invitation—by cable.

It was like the case of the man who never beat his wife — and furthermore intended to stop immediately.

Germany: Liquidation
There was no change in the position of the Jews in Germany last week, except in degree. There was a continued intensification of the Nazi campaign to liquidate the holdings of Jews, to force them out of German business, German culture and German life.

The Berlin stock exchange felt the effect of the liquidation of the Jewish property, reacting arratically to the sudden supply of securities thrown on the market.

"Scientific anti-Semitism" was inaugurated as a prescribed course in German schools. Streicher, the perennial Jew-hater, called for a renewed drive against the Jews.

Other News

It was revealed in London that nothing can be done about halting Japanese dumping in Palestine because of treaty obligations. . . . One student was killed and several wounded in a riot following an anti-Semitic conference in Czernowitz, Roumania. . . . The Polish prime minister, outlining the new government's policy, promised equality for all, regardless of race and religion. . . . A number of the largest sports clubs in Holland launched a movement against participation in the Berlin Olympic games. . . . Bishop Staugaitis, in Kaunas, Lithuania, promised to appeal to the churches of his diocese to take action against anti-Jewish agitation in Telsai.

Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald of Great Britain paid tribute to the Zionist leadership of Dr. Chaim Weizmann at the annual dinner of the Anglo-Palestine Club. . . . The Tel Aviv municipal council met to plan erection of new tenement houses. . . . The Hebrew teachers' strike in Palestine was called off at the last moment. . . . A Danish Jewish editor was given a four months' jail sentence for publishing anti-Nazi articles.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Jack Davis, president of the Providence Section, National Council of Jewish Women, read a paper on "Major Accomplishments and Problems" at the New England Regional Conference of the Council of Jewish Women in Bridgeport, Conn., last Tuesday and Wednesday. Mrs. Esther Barod, former president of the local council, now regional treasurer, also gave a report at the Bridgeport conference, to which Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Borod were delegates.

Miss Pearl Singer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Singer of East Providence has entered the Emerson College of Oratory, in Boston, Mass.

Miss Florence Glantz and Miss Bernice Berry were accepted as pledgees by the Theta Sigma sorority at their Hallowe'en meeting held last Monday night at the home of Miss Eleanor Goldberg on Melrose Street. Under the guidance of Mrs. H. Weisler plans were discussed for the presentation of a play.

OBITUARIES

JOSEPH SHUKOVSKY
Funeral services for Joseph Shukovsky, 46 years old, who died last Saturday at his home on 222 Fourth St., were held last Sunday afternoon. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Mr. Shukovsky, born in Russia, had been a resident of Providence for 30 years. He was identified with the Rhode Island Workingmen's Beneficial Association, the Jewish Home for Aged and Miriam Hospital.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jennie Shukovsky; two daughters, Mrs. Grace Schwartz and Miss Ethel Shukovsky, and a son, Gerald.

OLD GOLD

Highest prices paid for old gold silver and jewelry in any color and condition.
Eastern Gold
Purchasing Company
188 Main St. Pawtucket, R. I.
U. S. Treasury License

Eyes Examined
By the most modern methods
See Dr. H. F. Kilbanoff
Optometrician for a complete
Checking
KAPLAN'S
JEWELERS-OPTICIAN

Max Sugarman Funeral Home

Funeral Director and Embalmer MEMORIALS
Excellent Equipment Refined Service
"The Jewish Funeral Director"
116-150 RANDALL STREET
DExter 8994 DExter 8636

SALESMEN WANTED

TO SELL THE NEW 1936 CHRYSLERS AND PLYMOUTHS
Agronick's Motor Sales and Service, Inc.
2715 PAWTUCKET AVE., E. PROVIDENCE E. PROV. 353

Reich Bourse Feels Effect When Jews Sell

BERLIN (JTA)—While the Berlin stock exchange is being hurt by the rapidly with which Jewish property is being liquidated, according to German press reports, Nazi groups continue with ever increasing ferocity to hammer away at Jews on all fronts—economic, political and cultural.

No deterrent effect is noted in the speed with which Nazi authorities are pressing the transfer of Jewish holdings to "Aryans," despite the effect upon the Bourse. Baden merchants at a conference held recently at Karlsruhe decided to establish a special association for their city "to take over commerce and trade which has hitherto been in non-German hands."

"Jews Not Arming," Palestine Officials Assure Delegates

JERUSALEM (JTA)—The Government has no reason to suspect that arms are being smuggled into Palestine for the use of Jews, an Agudath Israel delegation was assured this week by Sir John Bathorn-Hall, acting high commissioner. Sir John informed the delegation, representing the orthodox Jewish community that Palestine security was satisfactory and that the Government has warned the Arab press to stop its agitation against the Jews. He disclosed also that the Government has prohibited the entrance of certain Arab publications published abroad.

Stop Film Showing
JERUSALEM (JTA)—The showing of the film, "The Promised Land," a release of the Keren Hayesod (Jewish colonization agency) was prohibited by the authorities until a calmer atmosphere prevails in Palestine, as a result of the secret arming charges by the Arabs and the scheduled general strike.

The MADISON SQUARE
An Address of Distinction
37 MADISON AVE., NEW YORK
FACING MADISON SQUARE PARK

A DESIGN FOR every mode of LIVING

TRANSIENT $1.50 SINGLE
PERMANENT $2.50 DOUBLE

HOUSEKEEPING NON-HOUSEKEEPING furnished-unfurnished
GUIDE and MAP OF CITY on request

Milk Station Sponsored by Jewish Women

Adding another humanitarian endeavor to its philanthropic program the Providence section, National Council of Jewish Women opened a non-sectarian milk depot last Monday afternoon at the corner of Public and Plain Sts., near the Temple St. school. Council members will be present daily to aid in dispensing milk to undernourished and underprivileged boys and girls of the neighborhood.

Mrs. Jack Davis, president of the local section, in commenting upon the new venture, which is to be the organization's major welfare project this season, stated this week: "We know how vital clean, sanitary milk is to the proper nourishment of growing children. We are aware, also, that the resources of welfare and relief agencies are taxed to the limit at present, and thus our organization wants to help. Some child, merely on the border line of health and vigor, may lapse backward for lack of a sufficient supply of fresh milk. In the case of underprivileged children this is sure to impose a burden upon the community in the future. Everyone saved at this time is so much gain, and it is the ounce of prevention that will make unnecessary the pound of cure. Thus, loyal and interested Council of Jewish Women feel the crying need of opening Milk Depot No. 1. We hope to open further stations in other sections of the city in the near future."

The Providence Section of the Council of Jewish Women has pledged itself through the years to a program of uplifting humanity since it first started the North End Dispensary on Orms Street in 1908, under the presidency of Mrs. Caesar Mitchell. It has even reached into new fields of effort, such as providing camp life for girls, and during the last several years, supplying milk to scores of children in needy families.

It goes without saying that work of this kind cannot be carried on without funds. A committee headed by Mrs. Harold Rogell, is laboring zealously and devotedly to gain support for the project. Mrs. Rogell feels that the movement should have a wide appeal in Jewish and non-Jewish circles. "It is a cause that should stir the emotion of anyone having the health of little children at heart," she declared.

To aid impetus to the sale of tickets, the Council is holding forth the promise of a drawing at a "Cruise" luncheon in December. At that time, someone will be the lucky winner of two tickets for a deluxe trip to Bermuda.

The committee under Mrs. Rogell's chairmanship is composed of Mrs. Coleman Zimmerman, co-chairman; Mrs. Jack Davis, ex-officio; Mrs. Max Golden, secretary; Mrs. Nat Roy, treasurer; Mrs. Louis B. Wolfenson, publicity; and Messdames Edward Altman, David C. Adelman, Samuel Blacher, David H. Brodsky, Bernard Goodman, Herman P. Grossman, William Hyman, Samuel Markoff, Joseph Rees, Bernard Shasset, Paul Summerfield, Samuel Summerfield, J. George Nathanson, Morris Gershman and Miss Jeanne Bercovitz.

EMANU-EL BALL
THANKSGIVING EVENING
Plans are rapidly being completed for the Temple Emanu-El annual Thanksgiving Ball to be held Thanksgiving evening at the Biltmore Hotel. Mrs. Ernest Blaser, Mrs. Herman Bernstein and Abe L. Jacobs are directing the preparations.

Peace Groups to Stage Mass Meeting

Dr. J. Howard Melish, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will be the principal speaker at the fifth annual Armistice Day mass meeting to be held in Sayles Hall, Brown University, Monday evening, Nov. 11. Dr. Melish will discuss, "If This Be Treason."

The Armistice peace celebrations were inaugurated in 1931 by the Providence section, National Council of Jewish Women and the Sisterhoods of Temple Emanu-El, Beth Israel and Beth-El, who together with 21 other organizations, united in a mass demonstration for peace. The movement has spread with great rapidity and today the number of affiliated organizations has increased to 73.

Mrs. Samuel Wachenheimer will again be the cooperative chairman undertaking's general arrangements, which position she has filled with credit since her initial 1931 meeting. It is expected that a number of societies which have not heretofore participated in the annual event will swell the number this year.

"Will America Pay the Price for Peace?" is to be the central question of this year's meeting according to Mrs. Wachenheimer. "The American people must be willing to cooperate to strengthen the peace machinery and to forego large profits, risking involving us in war, for the larger issue of peace," Mrs. Wachenheimer declared.

Rhode Island's annual peace Armistice Day meeting is becoming nationally known, as evidenced by the fact that various states have written Mrs. Wachenheimer for details, and this year Connecticut, among other states, is having a similar meeting.

Reich Edict on War Dead is Assailed

LONDON (JTA)—The order of the Reich Propaganda Ministry to eliminate Jewish names from war memorials was assailed this week by Leonard J. Montefiore, president of the Anglo-Jewish Association, in an address to the British Board of Jewish Deputies.

Mr. Montefiore pointed out that while the order applies to future war memorials, it was quite likely that in German towns, which display signs, "Jews not wanted here," existing war memorials would be mutilated.

He paid tribute to Lord Robert Cecil of Chesham for writing a letter to The Times protesting the order.

"Nature is better than man," Mr. Montefiore declared. "Mother earth covers both the Jew and the Christian. It is left for men, in their blind fanaticism, to take the names off war memorials, carved in bronze."

"The names," he added, "may be erased, but their memory lives." Denouncing the recent marriage and citizenship laws passed by the Reichstag at Nuremberg, he declared, "Whatever the Jews forget they will never forget the ghetto laws of Nuremberg and their authors."

Referring to published statements that Italy was anti-Semitic, he asserted, "Italy is the country where anti-Semitism is no fiction. It is known as a fact that Jews have in the past and Jews now 'pull their weight' in the country's activities." "Italy," he continued, "harbors many refugees from Germany. In countries where Italian interests are strong, influence is used to restrain anti-Semitism."

Jews Victim of New Racket

BERLIN (JTA) A new racket, taking root in Germany, has been developed and is rapidly spreading throughout the country, the Jewish Telegraphic Agency learned today.

The new racket seized upon the "massenschande" (race defilement) laws, particularly the Racketeering Nazis, bent on profiting from the plight of the hapless Jews, threaten Jews with denunciation for race defilement unless they pay over large sums. Most of these so threatened prefer to pay the "Aryan" extortioners rather than being arrested and placed in concentration camps.

Occasionally, one of these extortioners is caught redhanded and arrested. Such a case occurred at Lamschutt where a local Hebrew local "Aryan" was arrested for sending a letter to a Jew demanding that a large sum be deposited in a certain place on pain of being denounced.

Miriam Hospital Jubilee Well Deserved

Since the founding of Miriam Hospital in 1925 by a group of women who were interested in the care of the sick poor, the progress of the institution has been extraordinary. The Hospital started its activities with a few assets beyond those of the will and ambition of its founders. But today the facts are quite different. It has established itself as a leader in many departments of medicine.

But to understand the real need of a Jewish Hospital, one must go back 25 years when the facilities for providing organized care for the indigent sick of the Jewish faith were inadequate. Hospital wards were crowded and considered horrible places, where unfeeling persons neither understood nor cared to understand the patients' problem. It was actually considered a loss of respect to allow a relative to be taken to a hospital, because in the home, there was at least tenderness and sympathy.

These conditions prevailed until the Miriam Hospital was founded in 1925 by a group of women, under the guiding hands of Mrs. Louis M. Grant, who were interested in the care of the sick and poor. These women craved for an institution where the Jewish patient would find sympathetic treatment by physicians and attendants familiar with their native customs and language.

It was planned to institute a hospital where Kosher regime could be maintained thereby satisfying pious individuals. At the same time, it was determined that the spirit of the Hospital should be strictly non-sectarian. People of all nationalities were to receive equal consideration and treatment.

The group of women whose intense efforts made possible the creating of Miriam Hospital included Mrs. D. Grant, Betty Wolf, Ethel Cutler, Theresa Feldman, Sarah Payton, Laura Kleiner and Fannie G. Brown. Despite their early failures—first solicitations only permitted the maintenance of two beds at the Rhode Island Hospital—the ladies were never disheartened; they had a mission to perform even though their efforts presented a struggle against seemingly unsurmountable difficulties.

But their dreams have been realized. Today the Miriam Hospital is an up-to-date and modern institution. Some of the most able physicians and surgeons of the country are on the staff. It is rated as a Class A Hospital by the American College of Surgeons, and its service is on a par with that of the finest establishments in the state. It has all the equipment that an efficient and modern hospital should have.

It is an example of a vital, useful enterprise with all the beauty of proportion and completeness in it. The founders and those who have affiliated themselves with the project during the difficult years have ample reason to celebrate. It has been a job well done.

Simchas Torah Celebrated by Jewish Aged

An old fashioned Simchas Torah celebration took place at the Jewish Home for the Aged last Sunday afternoon. Beautifully decorated tables were set up in the auditorium of the Home, and the old folks marched in to take their places at the tables to the tune of Yiddish music, which was furnished by David Goodman, violinist and Ruth Cohen, pianist.

To the tune of popular Yiddish melodies, the old folks carried the Sefer Torahs and danced. They were also served with cake, wine, fruit, candy, and other goodies by the members of the Ladies' Association of the Home, under the leadership of Mrs. David Kahanovsky and Mrs. S. Silverstein. One of the residents of the Home, Mrs. Peretz Bloom, recited several Yiddish stories and danced for the entertainment of all present. Several of the residents addressed the assembled visitors, and told of their deep appreciation of all that the Home is doing for them. A photographer was on hand to take pictures of the group, and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent by all. Floral decorations were furnished by Samuel Resnick. The following ladies assisted in entertaining: Madames Louis M. Grant, E. Rosen, B. Pollock, S. Ernst, P. Korh, J. Schwartz, Clara Rosenhirsch, N. White, M. Mellon, S. Fain.

Donations for the party were received from Mrs. Snell, Mrs. S. Ernst, Mrs. J. Kopit, Mrs. J. Schwartz, Mrs. Julius Marcus, Mrs. Resh, Mrs. Grossman, Mrs. Abrams, Mrs. E. Rosen, Mrs. Samuel Silverman, Mrs. M. Mellon, Mrs. A. Zellmayer, Mrs. G. Silverman and Barney M. Goldberg. Cash donations were received from Mrs. J. Jerome Hahn, Mrs. B. Pollock, Mrs. J. Dressler, Mrs. S. Fain, Mrs. P. Korh, Mrs. Adler, Mrs. C. Rosenhirsch, Mrs. S. Silverstein and Mrs. D. Kalanovsky.

Beth-Israel Dinner-Dance November 20

A large committee of able women is working hard on the entertainment features of the dinner-dance of Temple Beth Israel, which takes place this year at the Biltmore Hotel, Wednesday, Nov. 20. Mrs. Arthur Galkin, chairman, announces that this affair is to exceed all previous dances, brilliant as they have been. A fine orchestra has been engaged, one that is well known in the city for its pleasing rendition of dance melodies, besides novelty features which are held as a surprise for those who will attend. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Barney Taber, whose telephone number is Ho-7809, or with any other member of the committee.

PROTECT BUILDINGS AGAINST BAD WEATHER

Repair or Replace Old Roofs

If your building needs a new roof, let us show you the Carey line of Shingles and Roll Roofings—roofs which are backed by 60 years of experience. We carry a large stock so you can select the type which will be best for your property. You'll like our prices, for the extra quality built into every Carey roof is yours at no extra cost. We will gladly give you a free estimate.

ATLAS LUMBER COMPANY, Inc.
980 WESTMINSTER STREET
DEXTER 7568

Carey
ROOFINGS AND SHINGLES
A ROOF FOR EVERY BUILDING

Where Service is a CREED

HOTEL WENTWORTH
is a building of beautiful appointments and healthful atmosphere... is a building where you find fine Broadway and the City which offer all the pleasures of the city and the convenience of the Hotel and Pennsylvania Station.

5475 52ND STREET (at JACKSON HAVEN)
Tel. No. — 2-30, 2-32

ROOMS WITH PRIVATE BATH	Single	Double
For Two	$12.00	$18.00
For Three	$15.00	$22.00

PAUL'S TWO BEDROOM AND BATH
For Two or Three — $22.00 to $30.00

The WENTWORTH
59 WEST 46th ST., HOTEL WENTWORTH, N.Y.

The Jewish Herald

The Jewish Home Newspaper of Rhode Island
Published Every Week in the Year by The Jewish Press Publishing Company

Jacob Leichter, Adv. Mgr. Walter Rutman, Editor
68 Exchange Place — 143 Westminster Street, Providence, Rhode Island
TELEPHONE GASPEE 4312

Member Jewish Telegraphic Agency, Inc., with News Correspondents
All Over the World

THE JEWISH HERALD invites correspondence on subjects of interest to the Jewish people, but disclaims responsibility for an indorsement of the views expressed by the writers.

Entered as Second-Class Matter, November 7, 1925, at the Post Office at Providence, R. I. Under the Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription Rates: Five Cents the Copy. By Mail, $2.00 per Annum

THE NEW HERALD

"Off with old and on with the new," aptly expresses the viewpoint of the new Herald management. During the past years the Herald's policies have been dictated by remote control. With the transference of the paper, however, to local hands, whose fingers have dipped into the pot brewing communal events, it is to be expected that certain changes will be made.

It should be realized, however, that the Jewish Herald is the only Jewish organ in Rhode Island. And as such, it is the only medium whereby Rhode Island Jewry can transmit their opinions and events to the public and to their fellow Jews.

As a Jewish newspaper, the Herald will print news of Jewish character not generally found in other newspapers.

And what is most important only news that is news will be utilized by the Herald. There will not be any duplication or repetition.

Each week there will be feature articles and stories of Jewish content that will give you a literary treasure trove of value to every member of the family.

The new Herald will be impartial as to party affiliation. Its columns, however, will be open always for any correspondence or stories where a true story has to be told.

Our great need today is a respectful and sanely edited organ, dedicated to the welding of all phases of Jewry to a common cause. To this principle, The Jewish Herald, dedicates itself.

THE HOSPITAL JUBILEE

On the 10th of this month the Miriam Hospital will fittingly celebrate the completion of a decade of service, and the event is undoubtedly one of vital significance to the city. The development that has taken place in the course of these ten years has been extraordinary, and of a character such as every citizen of the community should be proud. During this period the institution has developed to the extent where it is now rated as one of the foremost of its kind in the United States. If all those who first conceived the idea of a Jewish hospital in Providence a quarter of a century ago, could see the progress that has taken place, and the remarkable results that have been achieved in saving lives, in ministering to the sick and suffering, and in bringing health and happiness to the afflicted, they would surely feel that their unselfish labors had not been in vain.

Throughout these years our city and its environs has made substantial advancement in every department of civic activity, and it is indeed gratifying to know that, side by side with this, measures for the promotion of public and private health have kept pace with all other progress. These have centered around the Miriam Hospital, which has gradually expanded its accommodations and increased its equipment until today it occupies a position in the community that inspires the respect and confidence of all those who are familiar with its good work. For these results, congratulations are due to the Trustees who have given so freely of their time and ability to the promotion of its welfare, to the able superintendent, to the Miriam Hospital Association which has rendered splendid service unsurpassed in any other place, to the co-operation of the medical staff, and the support of the citizens in general.

It should be a matter of intense civic pride to the people of Providence and adjacent districts that the Miriam Hospital provides as skilled and efficient medical and surgical facilities as can be found anywhere in the state. The wish will be general that the success of this great humanitarian institution will be even greater in the years to come than in the past. There is no nobler duty than that of ministering unselfishly to the sick and suffering.

BOOK NOTES

By Esther Levine

Ellen Glasgow's newest book "Vein of Iron," since its appearance the first of September, has become a leading best seller. This is not surprising when one considers the strength and beauty of this novel—its splendid, well rounded characterizations, its inspiring philosophy, its clear style. One senses the thoughtfulness behind the book.

This story concerns the Fincastle family, whose Scotch-Irish ancestors came over the old Indian road from Pennsylvania into Virginia. They were a simple people, stubborn and proud, who clung tenaciously to their principles and convictions. They were a strong race. Grandmother Fincastle warned that "thin blood runs to wickedness." The story centers about Ada Fincastle and covers the present century.

When John Fincastle was put out of his church for his views, he brought his family, the gay Mary Evelyn and little Ada, to the old manse where his mother and sister still lived. They were poor and there was much work to be done to eke out a living. However, Mary Evelyn, though frail and ill, kept in touch with happiness through little things, like the lovely blue bowl which was the "blue of the mountains." It was she who taught Ada the importance of being happy. Ada's love affair with Ralph, a Major's son, who she knew all her life was ruined through the scheming of another girl. Ada felt that the essential part of her was dead. After several years, the lovers meet again to discover that they still care deeply for each other. The war separates them again. When Ralph returns to Ada, she finds that he has changed. They can not quite recapture the happiness they have had. Through all the troubles which come, Ada clings fast to her thread of courage, until at last she and Ralph come out upon a path which is different from that which had dreamed of taking, but which is satisfying.

The book is beautifully written with many passages of ironic humor. For example, Ada knows that Ralph loves her and that she has no cause to be jealous over pretty, busy Janet. Yet in a flash of petty (but very human) anger, she boasts to Janet of her engagement to Ralph and, ironically enough, paves the way for her own deepest unhappiness.

Temple Emanu-El

Opening services tonight (Friday) will begin at 8:15 o'clock. Rabbi Goldman will discuss "Finding Happiness in an Ordinary Career." Tomorrow (Saturday) morning Rabbi Goldman will preach on the subject "Israel Is Like Unto a Dove."

It is still possible to register for Sunday School Kindergarten. Children between the ages of five and six are eligible. Registration will close next Sunday.

At the opening school assembly last Sunday Rabbi Goldman welcomed the new pupils. He was followed by Mr. Weiser, educational director and Mr. Kessler who gave brief talks.

Drive to Start

(Continued from Page One)

themselves. Remember that you cannot possibly be as badly off as those who must seek the aid of charity. Remember that the solicitor speaks for 28 different charities who come to you all at once just once each year. Listen to the story. Learn something of the great and essential work that is being done. earn of the importance to this city that it should be continued, not only for your sake and mine as well. And give the aggregate, payable in installments, the sum total of what you think all these charities are worth put together in one great Community Fund."

The following special prospects committee will be under the direction of Bernard Goldowsky:

Walter Adler, Milton Sapostey, Benjamin Beiss, Walter G. Brande, Kulea P. Goldstein, Arthur J. Levy, Henry Hassenfeld, Heial Hassenfeld, Max L. Grant, Charles C. Brown, Sol Rothstein, John Silverman, Harry Loeb Jacobs, Morris Feinberg, Rabbi William G. Braude, Benjamin H. Trinkler, Harry Weiser, James Goldman, Jacob Ernestoff, Barry S. Beck, Henry Bert, Abraham Blackman, Samuel Soforenko, Dr. Ilie Berger, Samuel Michaelson, Jacob I. Felder, Samuel P. Lerner, Dr. Myron Keler, Harry R. Rosen, Samuel I. Mamin, Isador Kohn, Dr. Louis I. Kramer, Dr. James C. Krasnoff, Samuel H. Workman, Isaac Woolf, Harry Goldshine, Herman S. Galkin.

ness. The keynote to the finely drawn characterizations is this very humaneness. The realism and honesty of the portrayal. This realism is particularly characteristic of Miss Glasgow's work.

The last part of the book is perhaps especially interesting in that it deals so closely with our current problems and expresses for us the inner fears and anxieties which have tormented us during these years of the depression. The vein of iron, which was the will to live and the strength to endure, was the support of the Fincastle family and, according to Miss Glasgow's philosophy, is our only hope for the future. It is a definite philosophy, one which stands out above the general pattern of the story. Unlike many writers of today, Miss Glasgow does not leave the ending vague and uncertain. She shows us a way out.

READING SUGGESTIONS

"HONEY IN THE HORN"

By Harold L. Davis

The Harper prize novel for this year. It is the story of pioneer days in Oregon being chiefly the lives of the wagoners who traveled gypsy fashion around the state.

"NORTH TO THE ORIENT"

By Anne Morrow Lindbergh

A charmingly written description of the Lindberghs' air trip to the Orient over the northern route. Mrs. Lindbergh has a pleasing style and the ability to describe moods as well as places.

"ASYLUM"

By William Seabrook

Mr. Seabrook was drinking himself to nothingness, whereupon he pleaded with his friends to have him committed to an institution. In this book he describes faithfully and candidly the steps of the "cure" and the people he met. It is written not only well but better than anything he has ever done.

Temple Beth-El

Late services begin tonight (Friday) at 8 o'clock. Rabbi Braude will discuss "The Future of Peace." May Stockwell Hiller will sing a cantata on "By the Waters of Babylon," and the quartet will sing "Praise the Lord O My Soul." Service participants this week include Irving Adler, Barbara Brown, Shirley Cohen and Eileen Gilman.

TALMUD IN ENGLISH

The library at Temple Beth-El has acquired a set of the recently published Socratic edition of the Talmud in English. It is written not only well but better than anything he has ever done.

TO BE BAR MITZVAHED

Abraham Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Charles, will be Bar-Mitzvah tomorrow (Saturday) morning at Temple Beth-Israel.

U. S. to Participate

(Continued from Page One)

which have accepted, does not endorse the policies of any government. The committee considered nothing but the sport and its requirements.

"Germany's political policy within or without has no bearing on the subject. The committee followed the universal and unbroken Olympic precedent of 40 years and ignored irrelevant political, racial and religious affairs. Attempts to twist and distort the unanimous decision of the committee into an endorsement of Nazi policies are nothing but barefaced affronts."

"The American Olympic Committee, composed of representatives of more than 70 leading amateur sport organizations, after fully investigating all the charges and after due deliberation, accepted unanimously the invitation to participate in the games."

"These men, most of whom for many years, without remuneration, devoted time, thought, energy and money to the cause, know best the interests of amateur sport and have in mind the prestige of the United States. They will never allow our athletes to be made martyrs, to cause not their own, or let amateur sport be sacrificed to a political issue."

"The American Olympic Committee is the only organization which has the authority to deal with the representation of the United States in the games."

"As the result of hundreds of requests, the American Olympic Committee is publishing a 16 page booklet covering the entire Olympic situation."

Welfare Exposition Explains Work of Agencies

The five Jewish charitable agencies which are members of the Providence Grantor Community Fund, all participated in the Welfare Exposition being held this week and closing tomorrow night with exhibits of a highly interesting character showing the nature of the work done by each of them.

In the case of the two health agencies, Miriam Hospital and North End Dispensary, the exhibits showed the type of work being done by these institutions in preserving the well-being of the community.

The Hospital had several interesting devices of the latest type and character on display such as an oxygen tent and varying equipment used in the maternity department.

One interesting feature of the display was also a series of photographs showing actual scenes in the operating rooms with doctors and nurses intent upon the delicate and important work underway.

A noteworthy aspect of the North End Dispensary exhibit was an attractive display of dolls each of them so dressed as to show the effects of clinic treatment received.

The Jewish Orphanage displayed a facsimile drawing of its building with the front brick wall removed and the rooms inside in view. In the rooms were shown various children of the institution engaged in their daily tasks of work and play and learning and growing, all under the supervision of competent and trained personnel. There was also shown some excellent examples of the handiwork of both boys and girls. In the case of the boys there was some carpentry and cabinet work of high character. In the case of the girls there was interesting examples of garments made by them for their personal use.

The Jewish Community Center showed in miniature rooms some of the activities which take place. Also was shown examples of handicraft, drawing and painting. A part of the work of the institution in character building.

The display of Jewish Family Welfare Society showed as its central feature a very large book, the pages of which turn automatically. Upon these pages were told the story of a single family on its way into the depths of the depression and, with the aid of the Society, out of the depression again. The execution of this exhibit involved telling a complete case story in excellent paintings created for the purpose by Larry Hoffman, son of Major Charles Hoffman of Miriam Hospital, and Miss Maisie Fine who created the titles and designations.

The entire welfare exposition will continue until next Wednesday evening, at 8:30 p. m. No subscriptions or contributions are asked or received. A visit to the exposition is highly recommended.

"Paths of Glory" is Reviewed by Mrs. Morris Cowen

Mrs. Morris Cowen reviewed "Paths of Glory," by Humphrey Cobb last week in the Tower room of Wayland Memorial Building luncheon-meeting of the International Relations department of the Providence Section, National Council of Jewish Women. Some 30 members of the group gathered for lunch. Mrs. Samuel Wachenheimer, chairman, conducted the meeting and outlined plans for the ensuing season.

Raskin Exhibition (Continued from Page One)

rection in art circles, he is also the author of a book on Palestine, which he illustrated. His most recent recognition was the winning of the Logan prize in Chicago.

The most recent artistic achievement of Mr. Raskin has been a portfolio of 12 drawings of the Prophets of Israel. The many non-Jewish artists, foremost among them John Singer Sargent, have given us their conception of the Prophets of Israel, but very few Jewish artists have attempted to interpret the Jewish Prophets. Mr. Raskin has done so in a new way. These prints of the Prophets of Israel were recently exhibited at the Grand Central Art Galleries in New York.

A special guest-night program has been arranged for next Wednesday evening. An address will be delivered by Mr. Raskin. Mrs. Nat C. Cohen, chairman of the Institute, will preside. Greetings will be extended by Joseph Smith, president of the Zionists, Mrs. A. A. Fain, president of the Senior Haddassah, and Alter Boyman, president of the Paole Zion. The Art Exhibit will be open to the public from November 4 through November 14.

Around The Town

With JOSEPH M. FINKLE

Morris Feinberg Elected Talmud Torah Head

The Talmud Torah of the Congregation, Sons of Zion, Howell Street, held an enthusiastic meeting last Sunday evening when plans were discussed and officers elected for the coming year. The entire school building has been renovated and the hundreds of pupils will be welcomed by the efficient faculty headed by Rev. Meyer Smith.

Officers elected were Simon Jess, honorary president; Morris Feinberg, president; Benjamin Zeidel, vice-president; Max Bloom, treasurer; Carl Michaelson, secretary; and Samuel Gereboff, financial secretary.

Rabbi David Werner is chairman of the education committee which consists of B. F. Rosen, W. Elowitz, Simon Jess, Robinson, M. Bromson, Samuel Michaelson, Jack Kasper and Cantor Meyer Dinkin.

The newly elected board of directors are F. Lieberman, A. Heller, Harry Lyons, J. Bergel, H. Bergel, J. Sandperil, J. Sudney, Allie Zura, B. Russian, Samuel Gereboff, Max Latt, E. Rifkin, Isaac Wolf, Harry Katz, J. M. Finkle, Joseph Feinberg, S. Shaulson and Louis Berman.

JEWISH HERALD BEGINS NEW LIFE UNDER LOCAL OWNERSHIP

Page one of this edition of the Jewish Herald carries the announcement that, beginning with this issue, this newspaper returns to local ownership. The young men who will now direct the destinies of Rhode Island's only Anglo-Jewish newspaper are Jacob Leichter and Walter Rutman. As an organ and a disseminator of Jewish news it is vitally essential to the progress of our community. These two men are entitled, therefore, to the full support of all of us who have any interest in the religious, philanthropic or social life of our state. The Jewish Herald has unified the community bringing events to us news of every local, fraternal and religious body each week. Through my own column, I welcome Messrs Leichter and Rutman as the new publishers of the Jewish Herald and to tell them that I am happy that the Jewish Herald returns to local ownership. I ask your support for our newspaper because it really does belong to every one of us, as much as any of our other institutions.

Community Fund Campaign
The Providence-Cranston Community Fund Campaign will soon begin and scores of our men and women will soon gladly give of their time to personally solicit your financial support that the work of the many agencies which administer to the ill and unfortunate may continue its fine work without interruption. One of the features this year is the exposition depicting the work of the many agencies which is taking place all this week in the Arcade Building. On Tuesday, Mrs. Samuel Wachenheimer was chairman of the day and she was assisted by many of our Jewish women who acted as hostesses.

SAMUEL M. MAGID RE-ELECTED HEAD JEWISH HOME FOR THE AGED
Once again we hear the good news that Samuel M. Magid has again consented to head our Jewish Home for the Aged and it is indeed good news. This very likeable individual has been one of the prime movers and active workers of the home since before the construction of the new beautiful building which is one of the finest of its kind in the East. Despite the fact that his personal affairs make him one of our busiest business men, he has devoted hours of his time to our home and his inspiring leadership has been a most important factor for its success in these troubled times. Mr. Magid is an important part of every community enterprise and endeavor and it was our gain when he decided about 20 years ago to make Providence his home. I remember vividly the great testimonial dinner that was tendered him a few years ago on the occasion of his fiftieth birthday when hundreds filled the ballroom of the Narragansett Hotel and many speakers, including a Catholic priest from his home town, testified to the love and esteem in which he is held by all of us. Yes, Sam Magid is one of our foremost citizens.

DOTS AND DASHES JOTTINGS FROM THE JUNIOR HADASSAH DANCE

Yours truly was one of the several hundreds who enjoyed themselves at the annual dance given by our Junior Hadassah on Tuesday night, a week ago, at the Hills-grove Country Club and if you are interested in names - well . . . I can satisfy you and with the aid of a pair of trusty binoculars, I managed to see the following . . . so here are names and names . . . the Harold Rutmans, all the way from Westery and she is the former Mabel Bronstein and managers to read this column in that distant spot . . . the Ben Brookners in a large party . . . the Al Rices surrounded at a large table by a score of "good wishers" to help celebrate Al's 29th birthday . . . the Hy Pressman (and Hy he is onto his hat) in company with the Henry Goldblatts and the James Effros . . . those cavaliers, Abbie Goldblatt, Archie Fain, Irving Fleischman, and Moe Kessler with four beautiful ladies, and I believe one hailed from Fall River.

At one long table I spotted the Lou Korn, Dave Feldmans, the George Basoks, Dr. Myron Keller and fiancée, together with single men, Dr. Jay Fishbein, Dr. Stanley Friedman, Dr. Sam Pritzker and Is Korr who, of course, were in the company of their lady friends for the evening . . . the Bergels, many of them occupied a large table . . . spotted also were the Norman Feinbergs, the Lou Abedons, the Everett Cowens, Nat Bergers, Walter Levis, Morton Borods, from the wilds of Pawtucket, the Dan Silvermans, Sig Saltzmanns, Dave Meyers, Lester Piersteins, Ed Grossmans with his sweet wife who calls Nashua, N. H., her former home . . . others noted were the misses Edith Siegal, Stella Matzner, Marie Raitman, Ethel Kessler, Gertrude Katz, Nettie Bander, Jean Rosen, Dorothy Ralphael, Sadie Kamaras, Tessie Rudinsky, and Sarah Mittleman . . . and before I forget - the Nat Cohens too, were there with a large party . . . there were many, many, more but this reporter has but two eyes - so there.

Dentist man, Doc Sol Rubenstein is now comfortably settled in his new office on Hope Street . . . while the Ben Rutenbergs have moved

Liss-Namerow

Miss Claire Namerow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Namerow of Bernon St., and Samuel Liss, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Liss of Fall River were married last Sunday at the Mayfair Inn. The maid of honor was Miss Leah Liss and the matron of honor was Mrs. Louis Goldstein.

Attending the bride were the Misses Beatrice Namerow, Ann Goldenberg, Rose Lecht, Frances Outer and Abby Israel.

More than 200 people attended the wedding and reception. The couple, on their return from their honeymoon trip to Miami, will reside in Fall River.

into their beautiful new home on Laurel Avenue which yours truly hope to have the pleasure of seeing in the near future . . . the Alice Weiners walking through the Arcade . . . successful business combinations: A. A. Fain and son-in-law Al Pilavin . . . Arthur Gilkin and Jack Levitt . . . Sam Magid and the brothers Brier . . . Harry and Max Rosen and many, many more . . . Judge Morris Robinson is being kept plenty busy these days with many appearing before him because of traffic violations . . . sincere good wishes to "Buddy" Zetlin on the good news of her betrothal to a Brockton man . . . Aaron Bronson, Eddie Port, Al Finkelstein, Jack itchman, Julius Mosen, Charlie Blackman, all hustling assistant managers for the Met. Life Insurance Company who, with manager Joe Samuels, write much business for this great organization . . . lawyer Ed Friedman and Frank Golemba, probably discussing the Republican chances for the next election . . . Mike Soforenko talking with accountant Ben Robinson . . . ex-Alderman Sol Bronson was for many years chairman of the Armistice Day celebration which this year has been made a legal holiday when all businesses will be closed "tight" . . . Jack Kagan coming out of his busy market on Broad Street . . . Herman Bennett is all set for the showing of the new 1935 Chevrolet models at his showrooms on Elmwood Avenue beginning tomorrow.

Howard Kane, Ben's youngest son is all agog over his horse Onus winning first place at Narragansett on Monday . . . scores of the localelligibles are finding it real pleasant at Milford, Mass., on these Sundays - maybe it's the Massachusetts climate . . . Ben Brookner says business is good at Lee's Dress Shop . . . Childs on Saturday night last saw many from the Ledgerons dance with the "single" men with many importations . . . Valencia Lapsitz arm in arm with Marnie Sostam . . . and this is all for another week.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

Read what Jack Anhalt, local bridge expert, has to say about those problems that cause loss of tempers and friendly enemies. Each week in the Jewish Herald Mr. Anhalt will discuss your problems and a variety of technicalities regarding Contract Bridge.

Woonsocket Women Hold Benefit Bridge

Under the leadership of Mrs. Morris Falk, the Jewish Women of Woonsocket held a bridge last Tuesday night at the American Legion Home for the benefit of the Miriam Hospital. Mrs. Joseph Smith, president of the Miriam Hospital Association thanked the group for their ardent support and wished them greater success in their endeavors.

Assisting Mrs. Falk were the Mesdames Joseph Eisenberg, Morris Yarus, David H. Cohen, Joseph C. Falk, Arthur Darman and Nathan Ticekon.

Beth-Israel Sisterhood to Hear Rev. Claxton

Rev. Alex Claxton, of Trinity Church, will address the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Israel next Monday afternoon at the Temple. The meeting will be dedicated to the observance of Armistice Day and the furtherance of the state wide peace program. A social hour will follow the meeting.

ABAVATH SHOLOM NOTES

"What Is a Better Social Order?" will be discussed by Rabbi A. Shapiro at tonight's (Friday) late services which will begin at 8 o'clock.

Congregational Ahavath Sholom welcomed their 58 new members at a social gathering held at the synagogue last Sunday evening. Philip Abrams, president, introduced Rabbi A. Shapiro who acted as toastmaster. In his opening remarks, Rabbi Shapiro spoke of the encouragement that resulted from the new enlistment. Other speakers were Phillip Abrams, Hyman Katz, Samuel Flainfeld, Samuel Levenson, Max Charron, Mrs. E. Rosen, Mrs. M. Adler, Mrs. M. Copeland and Charles Ehrlich.

The committee in charge included Max M. Pulman, Samuel Ganz, Sol Wald and Morris Wilk.

Dr. Gerald G. Feinberg Podiatrist

Children's Shoe Specialist Prepare your child for happy school days by providing properly fitted shoes. Children's Shoes professionally fitted. 701 Alice Building 236 WESTMINSTER ST.

Ladies' Association to Meet Wednesday

The second regular meeting of the Ladies' Association of the Jewish Home for the Aged will take place at that institution on next Wednesday, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. John J. Rouslin, will be in charge of the program, which will feature Allan Marcus, talented young, Providence pianist.

Master Marcus, who is only 13 years of age, is a member of the Junior Chopin Club of Providence. Mrs. Samuel Michaelson will preside at the meeting.

Beth-El to Hold 91st Annual Meeting

Temple Beth-El will hold their 91st annual meeting Sunday, Nov. 17 when all reports regarding the progress of the past year will be heard and discussed. Officers for the ensuing year will also be elected.

PORT ARTHUR The Perfect Host

Clubs and organizations are finding the Port Arthur the ideal spot for staging their banquets and dinners.

There is always an outstanding floor show featuring New York Acts and dancing to the beautiful rhythm of Jack Pitman's Park Avenue Club Orchestra.

Perfectly delightful food, prepared by master Chinese Chefs. You can always be sure of the perfect dinner at the Port Arthur.

What is making the Port Arthur the centre for all social activities is its new price schedule. Prices for groups of any number start as low as 50 cents per person.

Get your committee to choose the Port Arthur for its banquet site and be assured of an excellent dinner, and perfect service amid beautiful surroundings.

123 Weybosset St.

Patronize Your Neighbor
Hope Street Service Station
825 Hope Street
Towing and Garage Service
Complete Lubrication
Expert Mechanical Service
Phone MA. 7072
Night Phone MA. 1794

When in Boston It's Smart to Go
"HIGH HAT"
New England's Most Beautiful Nite Club
The Finest Food at Popular Prices
Barbecue Chicken our Specialty
Delectable Fried Chicken—Southern Style
Choicest Liquors in Your Favorite Drink
Service Par Excellence

MUSIC ENTERTAINMENT
NO MINIMUM OR COVER CHARGE
COLUMBUS AND MASS. AVE Open 11 a. m. to 5 a. m.

Tel. GAapee 0500
Saturday Night Special on Boston Kasher Meat
SEIGAL'S Meat Market
746 Hope Street
We Deliver Anywhere in Rhode Island

SAMUEL S. COHEN, B. A.
INSTRUCTOR IN HEBREW
has resumed private instructions preparing for BAR MITZVAH
Classical Hebrew, for beginners as well as for advanced students to obtain credit in Colleges and Universities, Biblical and Post Biblical Jewish History, and kindred subjects
96 Colonial Road PL. 8391

Between You and Me
by Paul A. Peters

That N. Y. A. C. Business
Despite the fact that officially the New York Athletic Club has no Jews on its membership roster — and if you care to call Circle 7-5100 the secretary of the club will cheerfully admit there are no Jews on the rolls — we have it on the best of information that there are several . . . And at least one of them who is known to our informant makes no effort to conceal his Jewish racial origin, although he comes from an old-line Portuguese-Jewish family and his name is distinctly not of the give-away variety . . . The chances are that Judge Jerry Mahoney, who's putting up such a swell battle to keep the United States from sending an Olympics squad to Nazi-land's propaganda games, wasn't aware of that fact when he was asked that famous "how come you had Jews in the N. Y. A. C.?" by one Herr Hitler, the gentleman who let-a-tetted with Herr Hitler and returned to these shores obviously panting to become a William Dudley Pelley . . . Speaking of Sherrill, while abroad he discoursed a practically every subject under the sun . . . At an address before the University Club in Paris, according to an account in the Paris Herald, he spoke of Hitler as a "man of great personal charm" . . . And he described Maxim Litvinoff as "the greatest European Jewish statesman since Disraeli."

Must Be a Nazi Trick
Magistrate Brodsky of black-flag-of-piracy fame will be practically speechless to learn that he is being described in some portions of the European press as a Catholic rather than a Jew . . . Both the Parisian Haint and the Warsaw Haint published front page yarns — where they got the information is a deep mystery — to the effect that "The American Foreign Office has officially notified the German Foreign Office of the practice eating Magistrate is not Jewish . . . Look, as though several editors will be wearing very sheepish grins when they discover how badly they've been taken in.

Veteran Campaigner
Jacob Billikopf, we hear, is about ready to start a drive for 12 cities in the South on behalf of the United Jewish Appeal . . . Which recalls that Billikopf, who is executive director of the Philadelphia Federation of Jewish Charities, was in charge of the Palestine Campaign Drive during which $25,000,000 was raised . . . And it was none other than Billikopf who inspired the late Julius Rosenwald to give his first million dollar contribution to a charitable cause.

Gossip From Abroad
Our European agents have been very busy of late. They report that his "has it on good authority" that the wife of Major Kosciolkowski, Poland's new Prime Minister, "had Jewish parents" . . . Another whippers from Johannesburg, that it fell to Mr. Justice Greenberg of the Supreme Court to grant a decree of divorce on the grounds of lunacy for the first time in the history of the Transvaal . . . And our Palestine representative gleefully reports that a taxi service company on the Jerusalem-Palestine run is appropriately named "Aliyah, Ltd." . . . Tom Dippert at least that's what our London correspondent signs himself writes more in sorrow than anger about that recent item we had in this column about the surprising increase in Palestine imports of gin . . . "You make me snicker," he hiccupps, "when you call gin 'the poor man's pleasure' . . . It may be the poor man's drink back home — the bathtub kind we used to make out of redistilled alcohol, juniper and glycerin, but when I remember what it used to do to us, I question calling it a 'pleasure.' But that's beside the point. I just want to tell you that gin ain't for the poor man on this side of the Atlantic. It just ain't. It costs just as much as Haig, Dewars, Highland Cream and the other Scots Nectars — sometimes more. These drinks don't cost as much throughout the Empire as they do in America but the poor man still can't do much on them. Just thought I'd set you straight. That Palestine gin must be for prosperous Americans only" . . . Well, maybe it is, but the September issue of the Palestine Commercial Bulletin in its hand and a glance at its fascinating columns of figures reveals that gin imports dropped considerably during May as compared with the preceding month, although the figure is an increase over that recorded in May of 1934 . . . If you must know

Providence Council Selects Officers

Mrs. Jack Davis, president of the Providence Section, National Council of Jewish Women today announced the following list of officers and chairman for the ensuing year: Mrs. Pierre Brunschwig, first vice president and general chairman; Mrs. Edward Deutch, second vice president and ways and means committee chairman; Mrs. Leo Cohen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joseph Reas, financial secretary; Mrs. Aaron Cohen, treasurer; Mrs. William Hyman, clerk; Mrs. Milton Fuld, registrar; and Mrs. Lillie Summerfield, auditor.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. Max Golden, advertising; Mrs. Charles M. Hoffman, americanization; Mrs. Esther Borod, better films; Mrs. Saul Rothschild, camp; Mrs. Fred Markoff, dramatics; Mrs. Milton Simon, Emma Loeb, Memorial Fund; Mrs. David Pollock, hospitality; Mrs. Samuel Wachenheimer, international relations; Mrs. Morris Gersham, legislation; Mrs. Edward Altman, literature; Mrs. Everett Cogen, membership.

Mrs. David C. Adelman, national affairs delegate; Mrs. Milton Fuld, North End Dispensary; Mrs. Nat Key, printing; Mrs. John J. Roussin, program; Mrs. Louis B. Wolfenson, publicity; Mrs. Edward Slocum, religion; Mrs. Samuel Kennison, remembrance; Mrs. Samuel R. Finegold, service to the foreign born; Mrs. Bernard Goodman and Mrs. Coleman Zimmerman, co-chairman of social service; Mrs. Samuel Blaicher, telephone squad, and Mrs. Edward Deutch, ways and means.

Sisterhood Carnival Reported Success

Success marked the efforts of the Ahavath Shalom Sisterhood of Pawtucket whose Carnival ended last Tuesday night. The funds raised will be utilized for various projects sponsored by the Sisterhood. A large attendance from Rhode Island and southeastern Massachusetts helped to swell the total receipts.

The May, 1935 imports were 576 litres as against 476 litres last year and 1,035 in 1934 . . . While on the imports subject, we notice with increasing wonder that bacon and ham shipments to Palestine again rose sensationally . . . The May, 1935, figures were 10,897 kilos against 6,970 the previous year . . . Evidently, Fascism in Palestine isn't doing so well, judging from the big drop recorded in castor oil imports . . . The juice of the castor bean fell off from 6,747 kilos last year to a mere 1,751 kilos in May of this year.

Hear! Hear!
The emery stones on which the shoetmin sharpen their knives before slaughtering chickens are practically all made in Germany . . . Wonder if that makes the fowl Nazis or the Nazis fowl.

You Can't Come In, You Rascal
That's what Great Britain's Labor Ministry said to Gorrat Minneville and his Harmonica Rascals when they tried to crash the gate at Southampton the other day . . . Borrah has a contract in his pocket calling for $3,000 a week for a series of appearances in London next week. He's going to go in first and the British seem to think they've got enough rascals in England whether they tout mouth organs or not . . . Hear that Jacob Epstein's famous Hyde Park statue of Rims, "Green Mansions" character has just been given another coat of red paint by the London equivalent of the apache . . . This is getting to be an annual stunt, but it serves only to make the statue more popular than ever.

Baseball Hero
Hank Greenberg, who is known as the idol of the Bronx though he plays in Henry Ford's backyard as Detroit's first baseman, has just had the signal honor of being nominated by the baseball fans of America the American League's most valuable player in 1935 . . . Wonder what Hank's going to do for a living when he grows up . . . We wonder that because we recall that Chicago's other famous Jewish baseball star was Johnny Kling of the Chicago Cubs of the famed "Finkers-to-Evers-to-Chance" days . . . Kling was tops in those days as a catcher . . . Today, Johnny owns a in the Kansas City Blues, ball club in the American Association, and operates a billiard parlor in Kansas City.

Inventor
You probably weren't aware of the fact that the co-inventor of Tinkol, which is a rubbery rubber with a big future, is Nathan Mnookin (that's the correct spelling) who founded the first two Aleph Zadick chapters in America . . . Mnookin is a Kansas City Lad, graduate of the University of Kansas.

RUSSIAN BALLET AT METROPOLITAN

When that famous and only Russian Ballet traveling company comes to the Metropolitan Theatre next Tuesday, it will present the following complete ballets: "Carnival," "La Boutique Fantasque," and "Prince Igor."

"Carnival," a ballet in one act, set to music by Schumann, with scenery and costumes by Leon Bakst and choreography after Michel Fokine, has no story in the usual sense but is rather a romantic sequence evoking a mood. In the nature of a pendant to "Sylphides," it reveals the rich humor and the simple pathos of the art of the Russians. Characters are taken from the immortal "Commedia Dell'Arte" and Pierrot, Harlequin, Columbine and their many companions flit across the stage, alternating with the inventions of Schumann's fantasy. All indulge in the revelry of a masquerade and the stage is invaded by the dancers for a Valse Nobile . . . A little later Pierrot pursues a butterfly which eludes him as do all his sentimental visions. Episode follows episode and all ends in the whirl of the dance, one of the most beautiful and delightfully charming finales imaginable. It is a ballet which transports us through its series of delicate and graceful patterns into the land of dreams, where through the magic of the art of the ballet, we mortals are transported for a brief moment.

Danced to the music of G. Rossini, orchestrated by Respighi, the costumes and settings by the famous French painter, Andre Derain, "La Boutique Fantasque" or "The Fantastic Toy Shop" is the imaginative creation of Leonide Massine, principal dancer and maitre de ballet of the Monte Carlo Company. The action takes place in 1865. Customers of various tourist types are seen in a toy shop, where amongst the novelties, the proprietor shows them dancers, street vendors, kings and queens from playing cards, dogs, and two especially lovely doll dancers who capture the fancy of two visitors. Unfortunately each of the pair is bought by a different customer that evening, after the shop-keeper has departed, all the toys come to life and bewail the fate of the two lovers — who must separate the next morning. The lovers plan their escape and taking a letter farewell of their companions, disappear into the night. The closing action takes place the next morning, when the customers arrive to claim their purchases and are as astonished and angry as the proprietor is bewildered to find only the wrapping paper left. In spite of his amazement, the customers think he is cheating them and attempt to seek revenge by wrecking the shop. Thereupon the dolls come to life and chase the customers, terrified, into the street.

Taken from the opera by that name by Ivan Borodine, "Prince Igor" is a ballet of barbaric Polovtsian dances performed against original settings by Nicolas Roerich, with choreography after Michel Fokine. Its background is a historic one based on "The Tale of the Arrangement of Igor," one of the greatest of Russian historical epics. Its hero lived from 1151 to 1202 and was descended from Rurik, founder of the oldest Russian state. In the distribution of provinces, which was the family custom, he became prince of a petty state. During one of his expeditions against a rival Tartar tribe, he was taken prisoner with his son Vladimir but was treated by his captor not as captive but as royal guest. The scene of the ballet opens on the Russian Steppes where the mighty Khan is giving a banquet in their honor. Warriors and their womanfolk and luscious Oriental beauties join in the dances. The music and dances arouse the fighters themselves and presently they are leaping in the air in a transport of exuberance. Finally the whole tribe is dancing, carried on the wave of a crescendo of music which crashes into a final whirl as the curtain falls. "Prince Igor" exemplifies the spirit of wild, barbaric Russia, and spectators can see here the origin of famous Russian dance steps, dramatically woven into a choreographic pattern of great beauty.

Temple Beth-Israel

Rabbi Morris Schussheim will speak on the "Significance of Palestine" at tonight's (Friday) late service which will feature a special program dedicated to Balfour Day. Cantor Joseph Schlossberg will chant the service, assisted by Mrs. Mary Cohen and Miss Bella Goldenberg. Zionist organizations are invited to attend.

Prof. Henry Miller of Brown University will be the first lecturer in the Adult Study Group, Saturday afternoon, November 9. Prof. Miller's topic will be, "Stakes in Ethiopia."

Extensive plans are underway to remodel and to re-equip the Sunday school class rooms. New restaurants will be accepted as long as seating room is available.

Beth-El Sisterhood Plans Peace Meeting

The November meeting of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth-El, next Monday afternoon, will be devoted to a peace program. Mrs. Samuel Wachenheimer, peace chairman, will present Mrs. Morris L. Cowen, who will review the drama, "Paths of Glory" by Humphrey Cobb.

Mrs. Archie Finkle will sing several solos accompanied by Mrs. Henry Wise at the piano.

At this meeting Rabbi William C. Braude will begin his series of five-minute talks on "Customs and Ceremonies."

A reception to invited guests will follow the program.

Levin—Max

Miss Fay Max, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Max of Mendon Avenue, Pawtucket, and Morris Levin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Levin of Oak Hill Avenue, Pawtucket, were married last Sunday at the bride's home. Rabbi Isaiah Rakovsky performed the ceremony. After a wedding trip to New York City, the couple will reside at 60 Marbury Avenue, Pawtucket.

EMANU-EL ALUMNI TO HEAR IRWIN TOBIN

Irwin M. Tobin, executive director of the Rhode Island Council for Peace Action will speak before members and guests of the Temple Emanu-El Alumni Association next Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Japan Demands Equal Rights In Palestine

GENEVA (JTA) — Although no longer a member of the League of Nations, Japan insists on equal commercial privileges in the League's mandated territories, especially Palestine and Syria, the Mandates Commission was informed this week by Nobumitsu Ito, Japan's "courtesy representative" at Geneva. Japan's "dumping of products" into Palestine has been protested by industrial interests in that country. Because of the Japanese low-price competition in the silk manufacturing field, several factories have been forced to close their doors recently while many others are threatened with elimination.

'Non-Aryan' Blood OK For Nazi Transfusions

BERLIN (JTA) — Prof. Loesser, one of the Nazi Party's race department, devoted to "Aryan" purity, has announced that 100 percent "Aryanism" will not be diluted by transfusion from Jewish blood donors. Such transfusion from a Jew does not destroy racial purity, Prof. Loesser declared.

At Koebniger a court had presented to it the declaration of a child's "Aryan" father that it is "of Jewish blood," the father's contention being based on the fact that his "Aryan" wife's first husband, the father of their two eldest Jewish children, was Jewish. A blood test having proved inconclusive, a biological test was ordered by the court.

Streicher Wants More

BERLIN (JTA) — Julius Streicher's propaganda radio, Der Stuermer, today appealed to Nazis not to rest satisfied with the Nuremberg laws, but to organize a further anti-Jewish offensive.

Streicher in a nation-wide appeal says Nazi Party members who regard the Nuremberg laws as a final solution of the Jewish problem are not good "political soldiers," since such soldiers must continue fighting Jews to the bitter end.

JEWISH YOUTH TO MEET

The League of Jewish Youth consisting of seven member clubs, will hold their first meeting tomorrow (Saturday) morning at Temple Emanu-El. Each of the clubs is working on a special project and all co-operate in conducting the Sabbath morning service.

RECENT GUEST

Miss Celia G. Carlton of Saint John, New Brunswick, Canada, was the recent guest of Miss Evelyn Brown of Hope Street. While in Providence Miss Carlton was also the guest of Paul Troberman of Superior Street.

Open Sundays Now
KESSLER'S
Delicatessen, Dairy Products and Groceries
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL
180 Camp Street
Complete Line of Beers, Wines and Liquors
Free Delivery DEXTER 1482
7 a. m. to 11 p. m.

"For Quality and Service"
E. S. Crandall's Dairy
Properly Pasteurized MILK and CREAM
"A HEALTH BUILDER"
A Friend to the Jewish People
12 Lowell Ave. WEAT 4358

PROVIDENCE PHOTO ENGRAVING CO.
Makers of Half-tones and Line Plates
15 PINE STREET
Telephone GASpee 9294

DON'T MISS THE RUSSIAN BALLET
Tue. Eve. at 8:30 METROPOLITAN THEATRE PROVIDENCE
41 of the world's leading dancers. Symphony orchestra
The Monte Carlo Ballet Russe which attracted capacity audiences at the Boston Opera House
3 complete ballets.
Good Remaining Seats at STRINERTS, 495 Westminster Street
$1.65, $1.10 and The
$3.30, $2.25, $2.20
Tickets at Met. Theatre, Tue. A. N