Reich Forces Jews to Make Relief Gifts

Jewish Firms Must Help Despite Fact Jews Won't Share in Proceeds

BERLIN (JTA) — Jewish business firms were ordered to contribute to the Nazi winter relief campaign, although Jews are excluded from its benefits. The official order states that though as individuals they may contribute to Jewish relief funds, firms controlled by Jews cannot "since they enjoy the benefit of being patronized by Aryans."

Serious injury to the Jewish drive for winter relief is feared. Until now, both individual Jews and Jewish firms have given the appeal a sympathetic reception. Berlin headquarters of the Jewish relief drive has set a quota of 1,000,000 marks, which leaders expect to be reached if no unexpected obstacles are interposed. Sunday a one-day-hang has been declared, with the expectation that money saved on meals will go to the relief fund.

Anti-Jewish Boycott Intensified

Anti-Jewish boycott activity all through Germany is greatly intensified, reports indicate. Over 1,000 business houses and hotels in Wittenberg display signs such as: "We Don't Want to Deal with Jews." Farm hands in the Roeskingen district refuse to aid Jewish farmers in harvesting.

Palestine Settlers Must Comply With New Requirements

JERUSALEM (JTA) — Tourists who plan to remain in Palestine under the capitalist category unless they are able to prove anti-factually the possession of the required $5,000 capital will be compelled to return to their countries of origin for visas, it was officially announced today. Jews from Germany and Turkey are exempted from this order.

Mrs. L. H. Vixman Will Address Mass Meeting

Mrs. L. H. Vixman, prominent Zionist, will be principal speaker at the mass meeting of the N. E. Region of Young Judaea convention, Sunday evening, November 24, at Temple Beth-Israel. Frank Licht, president of the Masada Student League will preside.

Mrs. Vixman has been active in the Zionist movement and also in communal affairs for many years. During her residence in Pittsburgh, Mrs. Vixman was vitally interested in every Jewish movement there. She became interested in Zionism more than 20 years ago when she undertook to develop the young Judaea clubs there. Under her direction and guidance these clubs thrived and attracted hundreds of young boys and girls to the Zionist movement. Mrs. Vixman later organized the Pittsburgh Chapter of Hadassah and was elected its first president.

She extended her rare ability as an organizer to other cities and states, stimulating the formation of Hadassah chapters in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia. For six years Mrs. Vixman was president of the Beth Shalom Sisterhood in Pittsburgh, and was president of the Pittsburgh Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations, which is comprised of more than 20 influential organizations. She was a director of the YMHA and the YWHA of Pittsburgh and the Council of Jewish Women of that city.

Berlin Boerse Hit as Jews Unload Stocks

BERLIN (JTA) — Under pressure of heavy selling by Jews, who are unloading their security holdings in the expectation that the decrees implementing the Nuremberg laws will be confiscatory, prices on the Berlin Boerse continued to decline this week.

While activity on the floor was limited, behind the scenes of the exchange transactions are taking place that give a truer indication of what is transpiring in financial quarters today. All the larger sales of stock are being made privately. And in these transactions, Jews are figuring prominently on the selling side, their holdings bought out by "Aryan" purchasers at prices far below those being quoted in the open market.

These transactions have naturally had an important effect on the entire market structure. Sales of stocks outside the Boerse at prices below their prevailing quotations have, when open sales have been reported, forced the market price steadily downward.

The uncertainty and nervousness which was noticeable on the Boerse Friday and Saturday was intensified

The committee in charge includes Max Berman, Henry Burt, Arthur Korman, Morris Beeber, Perry Shait, Joseph Biller, Samuel Schprecher, David Newman and I. Resnick.

London Times Warns Reich on Anti-Semitism

LONDON (JTA) — The Times in an editorial sternly warns Germany that by its persecution of the Jews it is standing as a stubborn impediment in the way of better understanding between Britain and Germany.

"The fanatical denunciation and repression of an unresisting and helpless community," the editorial states, "seems further from control and responsibility than ever. It is tormenting a people in a cage. The society which is prepared to tolerate evil of this order will inevitably reap what it sows."

when the market opened yesterday and prices fell steadily.

According to the evening edition of the Berliner Tageblatt, all efforts to stem the decline, have proved unavailing. Even the usually steady heavy industry and chemical stocks were unable to resist the pressure.

The evening papers made no secret of the continued weakness of the market.

Der Angriff disclosed that in the last nine months no less than 335 corporations voluntarily dissolved, leaving a total of not more than 8,000 still in existence.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung reports that "the Boerse closed with almost all shares showing a tendency toward a further decline."

Market circles freely predicted that German stocks would continue to drop only because of the selling by Jews but also because of the shortage of raw materials, which has now reached its most acute stage in recent weeks.

While the stock market was reeling under the barrage of selling, Na-

Rumored Palestine Railroad Would be of Strategic Value

JERUSALEM (JTA) — Reports that a railway linking the Palestine seaport of Haifa and the port of Akaba on the Red Sea is being secretly constructed appeared this week in the Arab press.

The reports aroused great interest in view of the fact that such a railroad would be of tremendous strategic value in case of war, providing a route from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea in the event that war affected the Suez Canal.

Contract for Million Pounds of German Steel Protested

NEW YORK (JTA) — A first-rate controversy developed this week over an order for 1,000,000 pounds of German steel for use in the Triboro bridge, with protests, replies and charges of back-passing being hurled back and forth.

A flood of protests from civic, labor and anti-Nazi leaders against use of German steel for a project being built with $42,500,000 government funds prompted Secretary of Interior Ickes to declare in Washington that Nathan Burkan, member of the Triboro Bridge Authority and one of the protesters, was "passing the buck" because jurisdiction over purchases lay entirely within the province of the Authority.

The order had been held in abeyance pending instructions from P. W. A. authorities in Washington. Robert Moses, executive officer of the Authority, said Tuesday that the purchase was legal under P. W. A. rules that foreign bids on orders of more than $10,000 can be accepted if they are more than fifteen per cent under domestic quotations. The amount involved in the order is $20,000. Secretary Ickes said in Washington that this rule did not apply to the bridge because it was being built from a different P. W. A. fund.

Among those who protested against the use of German steel were Mr. Burkan, Aldermanic President Deutsch, Borough President Levy, Harvey and Lyons, Day-Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union; Joseph P. Ryan, chairman of the city Central Trades and Labor Council and the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League.

The Anti-Nazi League wired Mr. Ickes:

Palestine in Drive On Illegal Entries

TEL AVIV (JTA) — Government authorities have launched a determined campaign against immigrants who entered the country illegally. Arrests are being made even of persons who have been living in Palestine for some time.

Issue "Black Book"

BERLIN (JTA) — A book, sanctioned by the Nazi party and replete with anti-Jewish libels, appears here recently. The volume, "The Black Book" has the subtitle, "The Jews in Germany."

A preface by Propaganda Minister Goebbels states it is intended for both internal consumption and foreign propaganda, especially for participants and guests of the Olympic Games.

The book, says the Voelkischer Beobachter, Hitler's paper, presents Jews as "traitors, atheists and moral criminals."

Nuremberg Laws Held Up Until AAU Parley; Hitler in New Bid

The Berlin Olympics of 1936, is opposed from "the Catholic Point of View," in today's issue of Commonweal, influential Catholic weekly, in an article by George N. Shuster, managing editor. Mr. Shuster strongly supports the "Boycott Berlin Olympics" movement, a departure in policy by the Commonweal, which has hitherto staunchly opposed all forms of economic boycott.

"No Catholic can share in these games, either as a participant or a supporter, without aiding and abetting an effort to destroy the Christian faith," declares Editor Schuster. The article bears the title "General Sherrill and the Olympics," and states that the games "have an evident sinister anti-Catholic purpose" and are "to set the seal of approval upon the radically anti-Christian Nazi doctrine of youth."

Asks Clergy to Oppose Games Shuster observes: "It seems to me quite incredible that the Catholic clergy of these United States will not raise their voices against this new temptation to offer increase at the altar of Basil, provided they realize in time what issues are at stake."

Haavara Requests Large Increase in German Imports

JERUSALEM (JTA) — A sensation was created here this week by the publication in Hayarden, Zionist Revisionist daily, of a letter written by the Haavara, Palestine office for the execution of the Palestine-Germany transfer agreement, to the German consul in Egypt requesting that additional German imports be sent through Haavara to enlarge the income of Haavara marks.

The letter points out that Haavara is ready to cover the difference in prices in order to increase German imports. A spokesman for Haavara told the Jewish Telegraphic Agency the letter is authentic and that its purpose is to save Jewish capital in Germany. The JTA was told documents were stolen from the Tel Aviv offices of Haavara and police searching the Hayarden plant could find no trace of them. No arrests were made.

The league called on the American Federation of Labor to defend American labor by joining in the protest.

"Rassenschande" Arrests Spread

BERLIN (JTA) — A growing wave of arrests throughout Germany on charges of attempted race defilement was climaxed last week by the melting out of a nine-year prison sentence by a court in the city of Kassel to Dr. Paul Brueck, 53, a German-born physician, on a charge of attempting to induce an "Aryan" woman to commit "rassenschande."

Meanwhile, foreign diplomatic circles awaited with great interest action on the part of diplomatic representatives in connection with the sentencing of Leo Smichow, a Jew and Polish national, to nine months imprisonment for attempted "rassenschande."

The Polish consulate at Hamburg was reluctant to state whether it intends to file a protest against the conviction of Smichow on the grounds that the Nuremberg race laws, under which he was sentenced are inapplicable to Polish citizens. "We shall see what can be done," a Consul general in London told the Jewish Telegraphic Agency correspondent.

The Polish Embassy in Berlin explained to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency that steps would be taken to investigate the case and ascertain whether Smichow is really a Polish citizen.

In diplomatic circles here it was emphasized that the verdict against Smichow may serve as a precedent for application of the Nuremberg laws of America, British and other nationalities now residing in Germany.

An American diplomatic representative pointed out that such action would be a direct violation of existing commercial agreements with Germany because no country would permit application of Germany's racial laws to persons residing in Germany since this would amount to official acknowledgment of the Nazi racial theory.

The American representative said that the application of the race laws to foreign Jews would not be permitted by many countries since this would be tantamount to conceding that their Jewish citizens in Germany could be placed in inferior categories.

In this connection he referred to the fact that the United States broke off diplomatic relations with Russia when the Russian Government tried to apply its anti-Jewish discrimination to Jews of American citizenship.

Non-Partisanship, Theme of Miriam Hospital Jubilee

Every race, creed and color is served by the Miriam Hospital, was the theme of the 10th anniversary party of Miriam Hospital last Sunday night at the Narragansett Hotel. Walter I. Rabbi Goldman reiterated the same thought when he said, "the infantile paralysis germ knows no difference between Jew and Catholic and Protestant, or between Aryan and Semite. Would to God that Hitler would learn that message as well!"

Dr. Roy Magr. Peter Blessing, D. D., Vicar General of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rhode Island congratulated the hospital on its 10-year record.

Mr. Grant presented to Alter Boyman, chairman of the anniversary committee and vice president of the hospital, a silver service. "Mr. Boyman," he said, "is the real president of the Miriam Hospital. He winters and summers there."

Hadassah Drive Reported Success

An enjoyable evening was spent on last Tuesday when the Providence Chapter of Hadassah met for luncheon and bridge in the vestry rooms of Temple Beth-Israel, Niagara Street. The event was in celebration of a successful drive for membership and in compliment to the newcomers of the organization.

Mrs. A. A. Fain, president welcomed and introduced the new recruits to the chapter. She also thanked the respective chairmen of the committees for membership and guidance of the social function, which marked the completion of the past month's effort.

Rabbi Morris Schussheim offered the invocation. Mrs. I. Singer, president of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Israel extended greetings from that group.

Mrs. Rose Markensohn, chairman of Education was in charge of the program which featured a report on the 19th Zionist Congress, given by Mrs. Morris Schussheim. In her review, the latter characterized as highlights of this, the largest and most important convention in the history of the Zionist movement, the report of Miss Henrietta Szold on her work as chairman of the Youth Aliyah (the enterprise of transferring and caring for German children in Palestine) and the decision of the Congress to name a colony in Palestine in honor of Miss Szold, for her untiring devotion to the cause of rebuilding the Jewish homeland. Mrs. Schussheim also emphasized as noteworthy, the following developments from the Lucerne sessions: The return of Dr. Weitzman as active President of the World Zionist Organization and the adoption of these resolutions:

- (a) Control over land speculation;
- (b) A program for land redemption and colonization;
- (c) Scrutiny over profits from the German transfer agreement, insuring exchange only of such goods between Palestine and Germany, which come within the legitimate bounds of the Haavaarah.

A certificate for ten trees to be planted in Palestine was presented to Mrs. Ehrlich, former recording secretary.

Mrs. J. D. Grossman was chairman of the function. Bridge was in play about thirty tables and prizes were presented winners.

Community Fund Workers Require Your Support

As the Herald goes to press, 2600 workers in the Providence-Cranston Community Fund Campaign are hard at work in their annual effort to raise $634,908.00 of which nearly 11% goes to support the Jewish agencies which are members of the fund. By this time this issue is delivered to the readers those workers will be in the home stretch. From indications learned to date it appears that the Campaign will be successful if every person who is able to do so makes his contribution — large or small — but probably not otherwise.

A statement issued by Max L. Grant, president of the Federation, received at the moment of going to press, calls attention to the necessity of unanimous support and contribution by those who are interested in any or all of the 38 agencies in the fund. It is as follows:

"This minute as I speak 2600 good citizens of Providence and Cranston, including several hundred of those who are interested in Federation agencies and who are your leaders, are hard at work in a heroic effort to raise funds for the support of social work in Providence during the whole year of 1936. I know that if he who is approached will give his full share generously and immediately he will send the worker away with encouragement to cheer up the next prospect with cheerful assurance. It occurs to me that a few of us for one reason or another may not be contacted by the solicitor assigned to that important errand. I sincerely request that every person who has not yet subscribed make it his business to contribute to the Community Fund Headquarters at 32 Custom House Street, or approach any officer or any of our agencies with his or her contribution however large or however small. It will not only be received with deep appreciation but it will indicate a spontaneous desire on the part of each one to do his or her bit. Nothing could be more inspiring to the workers, the agencies and all concerned than a spontaneous outpouring of such voluntary gifts made directly to the Fund office."

It is impossible to give space and credit in the Herald to all of those who are working in the Campaign much as that public tribute is due. Following however is a partial list of those who are working as captains of teams: Mrs. Adolph Mellor, Mrs. Jacob Posner, Mrs. David B. Martin, Mrs. Edith Rakuskin, Mrs. Martin J. Bernstein, Mrs. Nettie Cohen, Mrs. Max Temkin, Mrs. Samuel Markoff, Miss Cordelia Blumenfeld, Mrs. Saul Abrams and Mrs. Rose Cohen.

zis throughout the Reich continued with their boycott of Jewish enterprises. The party began its annual Christmas campaign against Jewish shops, claiming that Jewish merchants were not entitled to the benefits of the Christmas trade since Christmas is not a Jewish holiday.

In several cities Jewish shops were prevented from decorating their stores with the traditional Christmas decorations and also from selling Yule gifts.

The campaign will be extended all over the country by the cells of the so-called Nazi Trade Organization. The Voelkischer Beobachter, Reichsfuehrer Hitler's personal property, reports that exports of Christmas toys will this year reach higher proportion than in 1934 and that this season will witness the return of Germany to its former position of supremacy in this field. Last year a large proportion of toy manufacturer's stocks could not be shipped from Germany because of the boycott, particularly the United States.

Gloomy Dean Scores Reich For Excesses

LONDON (JTA) — Puzlement at what the Reich is doing in this anti-Semitic outbreak in Germany" is expressed by the Very Rev. Dr. W. R. Inge, former Dean of St. Louis, in an article in the "Evening Standard."

The Gloomy Dean, as he is popularly known, praises the record of Jews in philosophy, literature, science and music and he criticizes upon the Germans for persecuting them.

"The Germans, who are certainly not fanatical Christians," Dean Inge continues, "have invented a new excuse for their barbarities. The Jews are to be blamed on eugenic grounds. This is perhaps the most ridiculous pretext ever invented. For the Jews, with the possible exception of the Scotch, are the most highly endowed race in the world, in practical ability." "On the whole the Jews are perhaps the most gifted races in the world."

Temple Emanu-El

LOTS OF FUN

"Until last summer my friends hardly ever invited me to their parties. But then Dad put on our telephone and it's been wonderful ever since I'm not left out any more."

"Most of these parties, I've learned, are got together in a hurry, and so they rely on the telephone. It's lots of fun... I don't know how we ever got along without a telephone." And the whole family enjoys it.

This is only one of the many reasons why people value their telephones. A telephone offers you protection, security, convenience, and peace of mind, as well as friendships... and often it helps you hold jobs or to get work.

To share these benefits, call your local business office, New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

"Winter will soon be at the door. The cost of living in Germany is rising. Wages are falling. Purchasing power falls."

And where, dear reader, do you suppose that quotation comes from? Some avowed opponent of Hitler and Nazism?

It does not. It comes, in all its priceless frankness, from an advertisement in the German-American Commerce Bulletin, by the Central Committee for the Relief of Distress in Germany, which operates under the auspices of a number of German-American societies.

A survey of conditions in Germany by William H. R. Schultz, executive secretary of the Central Committee, showed so much suffering that a drive for packages of food to be sent to Hitler's coordinated Germany has been begun.

The Central Committee came into existence after the war. It had nothing to do. Now, after three years of Herr Hitler — "The cost of living in Germany is rising. Wages are falling. Purchasing power falls."

Who profits from fascism? Who profits from a government that raises prices, cuts wages? Could there be a better testimonial that Hitler has kept faith with the financiers who backed him than this innocent little advertisement?

Why, then, you may ask, does a Germany, in which there is such bitter need, spend the $100,000,000 a month on armaments that its present program calls for?

The arms makers were among the biggest financial contributors to the rise of Hitler. Krupp has been able to turn a net loss of $1,400,000 in 1933 into a net profit of $2,750,000 in 1934. For the first half of 1935 it showed profits of $1,800,000.

In 1934 the I. G. Farbenindustrie (German Chemical Trust) showed a net profit of $8,000,000 after paying a 7 percent dividend and re-investing $30,000,000 in new poison gas plants.

Pretty picture in a land in which prices are rising and wages are falling.

WASHING THE REICH

Hitlerland is being given a bath.

Just as the house is thoroughly cleaned and the children washed before company comes, so is the Reich being scoured prior to the arrival of the participants in next year's Olympics.

Witness Hitler's sudden surrender to the German Protestants who have stubbornly refused to accede to his wish that they abrogate Christ in his favor. (Protestants were so taken back by the unexpected right-about-face turn of Der Fuehrer that today they are filled with skepticism and suspicion.)

Witness the magnanimous gesture contained in the announcement that all anti-Jewish signs on the site of the Olympics will be removed. (This is possibly in deference to the vehement protests launched against the Olympics in Berlin by liberal groups throughout the world.)

We venture to predict that from now and until the Olympics are conducted, the world will be treated to few stories of German barbarities such as have emanated from Hitlerland since March, 1933. Finance Wizard Schacht and his moderates will probably prevail upon the fanatics in the Nazi party to "tone down."

But what will happen when the last of the athletes will have left for home with a deep-rooted impression — inspired by skilled German propagandists — of the glories and achievement of Nazism, will be another chapter in the history Hitler is making. Will his anti-Semitic crusade again burst forth? Will his persecution of Catholics and Protestants once more be waged by Rosenberg's pagan forces? The future is uncertain, but for the present, if we may believe qualified rapporteurs, there will be more quiet on the German front than has been enjoyed in the past two years.

BOOK NOTES

By Esther Levine

In his newest book, "The Golden Cord," (Alfred A. Knopf) Warwick Deeping has given us a tender story of the close understanding that existed between a mother and her son. There is the inevitable comparison between this book and "Sorell and Son" — a comparison which is justified by the similarity of design.

It is a pattern familiar to many Deeping readers, tracing the transformation of Karl Slopp, from the house back of his mother's second-hand clothes shop to Charles Keeseven, successful London playwright. Most of the difficulties in his path were anticipated and prepared for by his mother. Rebecca's unusually sensible handling of her favorite son is the book's outstanding feature. We have had many tales of maternal devotion which usually destroyed the thing it loved by its own intensity. Here is a love which not only guides, but knows when to keep itself in the background.

Perhaps others will feel as I do, that Rebecca, "that hard-bitten seller of old clothes" who was capable of the most extraordinary sensitiveness, is a more interesting character than Karl. She was a strange mixture. Consider her ruthlessness in casting off her two older sons, Augustus, who like his father ranted against the world, and George, a sensual animal. Reconcile that with her readiness to spend a whole day in the country because Karl wanted to see a forest.

Her justification lies in her realization of the differences in her children. She could choose "the gold or the dross." She believed that Karl was a genius and plotted endlessly that he might progress. Even more than that, she sensed when it was better for him to find his own way even though he stumble in the attempt.

There was more than women in Karl's life, but none of them exerted any lasting influence over him. An unattractive woman kept him from too serious engagements. Men liked him but many were envious of his success, especially those critics who acclaimed his first play because of its novelty and later quarreled with him because he would not stay labeled.

"The Golden Cord" like other Deeping novels, has a strong vein of sentimentality running through it. Perhaps the best explanation is the one offered by Mr. Deeping himself on the fly leaf of his book:

"I believe in the large simplicities, in the human urges at the back of all that I believe in love, courage and compassion. I suppose that is why people who are out first after cleverness fail to see that life is a complex of the great simplicities. We are apt to look at little bits of the pattern, and not at the whole garment."

READING SUGGESTIONS

"Europa," By Robert Briffault, (Charles Scribner's Sons) A lengthy, detailed narrative of pre-war social and political Europe as seen through the development of Julian Bern. Reviewed last week.

"The Voice of Bugle Ann" By MacKinnay Kantor. (Coward - McCann, Inc.) A knowledge of what she called this brief but poignant book a dog story. It is that, but it is so much more than that. You see the life and habits of a community reflected in the attitude of Springfield, Davis, Calhoun Roister, and their sons and friends toward their fox hunting dogs. The best of her kind was Bugle Ann who never lost a fox and who would come crawling from nowhere when Spring Davis blew the two notes on the bugle to call her.

"Time Out of Mind," By Rachael Field. (Macmillan) Through the lives of the Fortune family, Miss Field traces the decline of the ship that might progress. Even more than that, she sensed when it was better for him to find his own way even though he stumble in the attempt. Her justification lies in her realization of the differences in her children. She could choose "the gold or the dross." She believed that Karl was a genius and plotted endlessly that he might progress. Even more than that, she sensed when it was better for him to find his own way even though he stumble in the attempt.

Zionists to Meet to Form Joint Fund Campaign

NEW YORK (JTA) — A national conference of Zionist leaders to coordinate Zionist fund-raising efforts in a "united front for Palestine" was called for Dec. 1 by Louis Lipsky and Morris Rothenberg, national chairman of the American Palestine campaign.

In a letter to Zionist leaders throughout the country, written after the announcement that the combined drive of the American Palestine Campaign and the Joint Distribution Committee in the United Jewish Appeal would end this year, the A. P. C. took the initiative in a movement to coordinate the Jewish National Fund, the A. P. C. and other groups into a United Palestine Appeal.

The letter pointed out that Palestine absorbed 50,000 Jews a year and that this number could be increased to 100,000 a year with the mobilization of the 4,500,000 Jews in the United States.

The letter also stressed the importance of the 1936 A. P. C. campaign for settling German Jewish children in Palestine.

Racial Biological Test Is Accepted In German Court

KOENIGSBERG, Germany (JTA) — A "racial biological" test applied by an expert in the Koenigsberg University's Institute for Racial Research was Monday accepted as proof by a local court that child's parents were "non-Aryan."

The test was ordered when an "Aryan" seeking release from payment of alimony to his divorced Jewish wife and contribution to the support of the child, charged that the child was not his. He charged the child's father was a Jew.

The expert testified that, according to his test, the child's father apparently was a "non-Aryan." The court thereupon ruled in favor of the plaintiff.

Concerning Gen. Sherrill's warning that Jewish opposition to the Olympics would precipitate a wave of anti-Semitism here, Mr. Shuster declares: "Cowardice beyond compare and hardness of heart deadlier than any other, led the shadow of some far-off possible pogrom creep nearer to them, voted to overlook the treatment made into law by Hitler. I repeat: — if it is possible to insult the Jew, these United States, then General Sherrill has insulted him."

ASSOCIATED Y. M. H. A. AND Y. W. H. A. CONVENTION

This reporter was privileged to attend the 25th annual convention held this past week-end in Springfield, Mass., of the Associated Y.M. and Y. W. H. A.'S of New England. The sessions, which were held at the Hotel Kimball, began on Saturday evening and continued until Monday afternoon, were a revelation and I only wish that there had been more Rhode Islanders in attendance. You would have been as thrilled as I was as I listened to the reports of committee chairman and the impressive messages of the prominent speakers who addressed the convention. They told of the unusual work that is being accomplished throughout the country and particularly in New England. The Association "Y's" were organized twenty five years ago and to-day embraces in its membership more than 35 communities in New England. Of course this 25th anniversary was much cause for jubilation and as I glanced at the head table and saw the men who have labored for this movement which means so much for the Jewish youth of to-day and the men and women of to-morrow, I felt that they are doing a most noble work.

At the "Old Timers" luncheon on Monday, I met men who twenty five years ago organized the movement in New England and who are contributing energy and enthusiasm until the present day. More than at any other time in our history, is the Jewish Center movement needed to-day. It builds character in Jewish youth and makes them proud and happy that they are Jews. The condition in Springfield symbolizes 25 years of useful endeavor. To the Associated "Y's" of New England, I extend my congratulations for a work well done.

ECHOES

The anniversary dinner on last Sunday night of our Miriam Hospital brought many from non-Jews, testifying to the fine humanitarian work of our own hospital. We may well be proud of our Miriam Hospital — it is fulfilling every day the earliest hopes of its founders and active workers. The Miriam Hospital is non-sectarian in its work and serves every creed and color — it is a credit to the community and to ourselves. Our local Jewish War Veterans participated actively in the Armistice Day Parade and also presented their 25 piece band for the first time, and this fine aggregation performed admirably with the other 50 bands in the parade. . . . much credit must be given to Edmund Bored and his co-workers and I believe this is the first all-Jewish military band in the history of our little state . . .

"Silver Anniversary Night" was observed by our local lodge of Elks last week and among the Jewish men of the order who have been members of the lodge for the past 25 years and who were honored with buttons were: "Mike" Silverman, Walter Lederer, Archibald Tieman, and Louis Kessler. . . . the local lodge numbers many Jewish men in its membership who take active interest in its fine work. . . . the Jewish War Vets' dance on Armistice night was a feature of the holiday with Doc Jack Kousin chairman of a fine committee and by the way, Paul Robin was in charge of the parade arrangements and as usual did a fine job.

Irving Winograd, Abbie Goldblatt, Irv Fleishman, Lew Davis and Harold Moskol were amongst those present to Hills Grove on Monday night but where may I ask were all the ladies? . . . tell me kind sirs. Harold Biller and Mill Levin saw the sights from the New Bedford roof garden also on Monday night but the ladies were there. . . . Helen Klein, a Boston miss, and Evelyn Josephson were others seen at Hills Grove.

BRIEF NOTES

Haven't seen lawyer man Archie Smith of late, wonder where this bright boy is keeping himself. . . . Woonsocket R'nai Rith had a fine "ladies night" on Wed. last when the feature attraction was the delightful team work of the Lowell lodge. . . . the Ketover-Gleichen nuptial will take place next month at the Beacon House, Boston, with many members of '35 Pembroke class in attendance. . . . Esther Pressman former Dr. Forbidee but now of the "big City" visited cousin Ida Decor of Woon. over the week-end.

Among those seen hereabouts at the Springfield convention were Ar. Korstein, Ben Macktan, Sam Ketter, Freda Shaver, his Sactor, all from Woonsocket, Sarah Sobloff, Sam Madowsky of Fall River, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Finberg from Attleboro, Mollie Berowitz and sister, Emma Cleiman, Syd Hanzel from our own city, also here regards from the Alfred Goldenbergs, she, the former Eve Medoff, of Woon. to all their old friends here. Al was one of the "old timers" of the "Y" movement here in the days of the Temkin boys and girls, Frank Dubinsky, Sam and Abe Mamis, Saul Feinberg and many others. . . . noted my name in Tour-O-Gram last week and here are my thanks to ye worthy editor.

The Brier-Finkelstein nuptials attracted many members of both families last Sunday at here is the best of good wishes to this fine couple. . . . Ben Abrams at Providence College is playing a great game at the center position for the Dominicans and his work is a feature of the present season's fine showing of that college eleven, while Hal Shaver of Woonsocket high is co-captain this year for that secondary school and also playing a slashing game at end. . . . Friends of Bunny White of Boston and Joe Mecher, formerly of New Bedford will be pleased at the news of their betrothal. . . . many locals attended Junior Hadassah dance in Boston at Mayfair on Tuesday.

Dr. Israel Mikowsky former Bristolite has opened his office in New York city for the practice of his specialty there. . . . Ben Bromberg and the "missus" were among the scores that were away from town over the holiday week-end. . . . Bill Smitra also saw the sights of the big city and they tell me that 42nd Street and Broadway looked like Providence. . . . Beatrice Gertz and sisters were also seen headed for Manhattan. . . . Valencia Lipsitz and Manny Somton both seem to have that "love look" in their eyes so do not be surprised for the "big announcement". . . . Fall River Jewish Center planning annual formal at Warren Hotel on night before Thanksgiving and this is one of the important social events on the Mill City Jewish social calendar. . . . Of course there are festivities here, so "date" up the girls now before it is too late. . . . next time I see Dave Dwares I'm going to let him give me a ride even if I'm not going anywhere because that Pierce-Arrow sure looks inviting. . . . Professor Harry Miller of Brown is one individual who never refuses the call of any of our local organizations of one of his fine addresses. . . . haven't seen Lester Apfel for many days but probably he is busy with his work for Knights or Pythias. . . . Mrs. Louis Huddish is another who does fine work with her dramatic recitations before many of our groups. . . . she is the former Abbie Grant and is a graduate of Emerson College of Oratory — and this all for another week.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By JACK C. ANHALT

The Tally Club on Hope Street celebrated its third week of existence with the presentation of its Wednesday night duplicate. This being my first visit to the club, I took the opportunity of making a thorough inspection of its room. Mrs. Samuel Levy informed me that she patterned the house plan after that of the famous Crocker Club in New York.

Congratulations to Dr. Louis M. Forbes and Charles Rand for winning third place at the Monday evening duplicate session of the Rhode Island Bridge Club.

The following hand was played during a rubber bridge match after the duplicate session at the Tally Club.

3 No Trump Pass Pass Pass

South bid 2 no trump with a six honor count. This was a poor bid with a heart stopper. North then gave the excellent response of three Diamonds. The average response is three no trump with a one and a half honor count, but North's judgment in the three Diamond bid, realizing that the structure of his hand was very weak, South then made his sign off bid of three no trump, knowing that he can expect no further assistance from his partner.

North and South were left one trick in the play of the hand. They cashed the Ace, King and Queen of diamonds; Ace, King and Queen of Clubs; and the Ace and King of Spades.

I believe the bidding of the hand should have been the following:
South (Dealer) West North East
1 N. T. Pass 2 D. Pass
3 C. Pass 3 N. T. Pass
Pass Pass Pass Pass

See if you can make more than eight tricks; and make certain that you take the first club trick in South's hand.

This column is always open for a discussion of any hands, unusual or controversial, that any Jewish Herald reader would care to submit. Address Jack C. Anhalt, care of this paper, and your problem will be considered.

Hitler Organ Scores March of Time Film

Berlin (JTA) — The Völkischer Reichsdeutscher Arbeiterpartei, the German Nazi party, has scored a week ago the American March of Time film, "New Palestine," charging that scenes of persecution of Jews were not made in Germany but faked in the United States.

The unfurmed Nazis shown raiding Jews shops, the puppet said, were not Nazis, but men in the uniforms of American soldiers, closely resembling those of the Storm Troops.

The Reichsdeutscher declared that the scenes were filmed in New London, Connecticut, with the participation of the local population and United States naval forces.

This is how the public is being misled about Germany," the Reichsdeutscher stated.

New York (JTA) — Ralph Ryland, vice-president of March of Time, Inc., explained to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency that no claim was ever made that the entire film was screened in Germany. "However," he said, "we took great pains to get accurate and as close to fact as possible. The shots of persecution of Jews were based on reports by the Associated Press, the United Press and the New York Times."

He stated that the scenes of Nazis and storm troops riding in trucks were made in Germany and then combined with scenes enacted in the United States. Parts of the picture were made in New London, he said.

Kay Francis and Paul Muni Feature Attractions at Majestic Today

"The Goose and the Gander," a Warner Bros. comedy drama involving an unusual love triangle opens at the Majestic Theatre today, with Kay Francis and George Brent as the stellar roles.

The plot involves both the child of hearts and of jewels, in the eyes of the average audience, and carries most exciting situations. The story evolves about the plot of a divorced wife who got even with the pretty blonde who stole her husband's heart.

With all under one roof and a robber and his "mail" who have run out of gas, thrown in for good measure, there ensues many lively, exciting and embarrassing situations which culminate in a surprising climax.

Miss Francis, who is recognized as one of the world's best known women, plays a number of elaborate new model scenes. Guest stars, Yvonne Claire Dadd also wear specially designed gowns and Helen Lowell, in the role of a wealthy and elderly aunt of Miss Francis demonstrated smart ways for elderly women.

In the all star cast with Kay Francis and Brent are Genevieve Tobin, and John Edinger, Claire Dadd, John Forbes, Helen Lowell, Summer Charters and Gordon Elliott.

Paul Muni will be seen on the screen of the Majestic Theatre today in his latest starring vehicle "Dr. Socrates" in what is said to be one of the most dramatic roles of his career.

The picture which combines thrilling adventure and a glowing romance is based on the best selling novel by W. R. Burnett, author of "Little Caesar."

The plot centers about Muni, portraying a country doctor, once a great surgeon of the city, who has lost his nerve through the death on the operating table of his fiancée. A shattered, nervous wreck, ironically dubbed Dr. Socrates, by a blustering, small town competing physician, he has little success until a band of bank baronets and killers terrorize the neighborhood.

Kidnaped by the bandits and taken to their hide-out to dress the wounds of those shot in battles with police, he recognizes the place, and is instrumental in leading to their capture by placing the government agents on their trail.

Ann Dvorak plays opposite Muni as a little, innocent hitch-hiker the baronets have captured, and with whom Muni falls in love. Barton MacLane as the ruthless head of the bandit gang, while others in the cast include Robert Barrat, John Edinger, Robert Cavanaugh, Helen Lowell, Mayo Methol, Henry O'Neill and Genevieve Tobin.

Will Rogers' New Picture at Carlton

Presuming Will Rogers with a stellar supporting cast "In Old Kentucky" brings the drama which has made him an admitted thirty million Americans to the screen in his confirmation opening Sunday at the Carlton Theatre.

Rogers' role in "In Old Kentucky" is that of old Steve Tapely, a shrewd, quizzical and humorous horsebreaker, he makes championing and brings romance to estranged acquaintances.

The drama of the picture arises out of a feud between the families of old Charles Sellen and Charles Herbert Rogers gets himself in and out of all sorts of trouble trying to protect Sellen from the law and keeping company of Sellen's daughter (Roberta's trainer from breakfast).

The contest between the two families reaches its dramatic climax when they enter their horses in the famous Ashford Stakes. In a grand scene, featuring British, Rogers' horse comes in ahead carrying romance and happiness across the field line.

Cast as Roger's faithful friend and partner, Bill Robinson loses his horse but wins a contest in a memorable tap dance and even teaches Rogers a few of his steps so that the latter can win the heart of a southern lady.

In the supporting cast of "In Old Kentucky," Louise Henry, Alan Loughery and Estelle Grayford render splendid performances.
