MRS. DE SOLA POOL HADASSAH SPEAKER

Donnor's Luncheon Set for May 13

Mrs. David De Sola Pool, of New York, it is announced, will be guest speaker at the fourth annual donors' luncheon of Providence Chapter of Hadassah. The affair is scheduled to take place at the Biltmore Hotel on May 13.

Mrs. Pool, who has served as president of the New York Chapter of Hadassah, and as vice-president of the national organization, is known as an outstanding Zionist speaker of charm, dignity and ability.

Born in Palestine, her Palestinian background has been of infinite advantage in her active Zionist work through affiliation with Hadassah. When she came to this country with her family, Mrs. Pool, then Tamar Hirschenson, attended the schools here and was graduated from Hunter College in New York, winning a scholarship that entitled her to study at the Sorbonne. She later taught French, Latin and Greek at Hunter College until the time of her marriage to Dr. David De Sola Pool.

Dr. Pool, one of the most eminent rabbis in this country, is the head of the Spanish-Portuguese Synagogue, Shearith Israel, of New York, the oldest Orthodox Jewish congregation in the United States, having been founded in 1655.

Mrs. Pool revisited Palestine a number of times, her last trip having been made in 1926, when she went with Dr. Pool on the special mission of securing land for the Nathan and Lina Strauss Health Center. In 1929, Dr. and Mrs. Pool visited the Maranos of Portugal in whom they are deeply interested. They were the first Americans to visit this interesting group of Jews, who have a history of five hundred years of secret Judaism and consequent persecution.

Leon Blum Assaults Sentenced to Prison

Paris (WNS)—Louis Courtois and Leon Durand, members of the Fascist and Royalist Camarades du Roi, were sentenced to prison in court here after being found guilty of assaulting Leon Blum, eminent Jewish statesman and leader of the French Socialist Party. Courtois was given three months in prison and Durand was sentenced to three weeks in prison. Moving pictures taken of the assault by a spectator were the main evidence against the two Royalists.

Goering to Become Hitler's Right-Hand Man

Berlin (WNS)—The news that General Hermann Goering, Nazi Air Minister, will be officially appointed the personal representative of Adolf Hitler to the Reich is expected to be announced at any moment. Informed observers declare that the choice of Goering has already been made, and has been kept secret for some days.

Trial Reveals Gruesome Story of Jewish Murder

Jaffa, April 28 (WNS-Palcor Agency)—The gruesome story of how Eliezer Blichutzky was killed as the first Jewish victim in the racial disturbances which started on April 19th was begun here yesterday before British Magistrate Clive Curry.

It was the first public preliminary examination of an Arab rioter accused of murder in the Jaffa disturbances. The witnesses, a British and Jewish constable, reported that several Arabs attacked Blichutzky with iron bars and continued to beat him when he fell.

Operetta Director

MRS. SAMUEL STARR

The Center Players with a cast of 40 singers will present the tuneful musical composition of Victor Herbert's, "The Fortune Teller," Tuesday evening, May 12, at the Plantations Auditorium.

The principal parts will be sung by Mrs. Harry Applebaum, Dorothy Waldman, Sarah Pressman, Eva Smith, Morris Bromberg, Jack Leichter, Leo Cohen, Jack Smith and Sydney Long. Mrs. Al Saltzman is heading a large committee of arrangements for the operetta. Mrs. David Sundlin is in charge of costumes.

Mrs. Samuel Starr is general director of the operetta.

NAZIS BAR FOREIGN NEWS CAMERAMEN

Nazi Propaganda Machine
Begins Work

Berlin (WNS)—Foreign cameramen and photographers will not be allowed to take pictures or movies of the Berlin Olympic Games, this privilege being reserved exclusively to the Nazi-owned Olympic Motion Picture Company and to specially-selected Nazi cameramen, according to an announcement by the Olympic organizing committee.

The official explanation for this ruling is that if all foreign cameramen and photographers were permitted to take pictures they would clutter up the arena and interfere with the view of spectators.

The real reason, however, is the Nazi determination to utilize films and pictures of the Olympics for Nazi propaganda and to prevent the taking of any pictures that would reflect unfavorably on the Nazi regime.

A further effort to utilize the Olympics for propaganda will be made through the organization of five specially conducted tours for foreigners. The tourist guides are being trained to show the foreigners the advantages of the Nazi ideas.

SENTINEL HEAD FORCED TO RESIGN

Lincoln Leaves Public Office;
Jew Replaces Him

Boston (WNS)—Threatened with dismissal because of disclosures that he had engaged in anti-Semitic propaganda, Alexander Lincoln, president of the Sentinels of the Republic, an anti-New Deal organization, resigned from the State Board of Tax Appeals.

Mr. Lincoln had previously been under fire on charges of granting excessive tax abatements and Governor James Curley was planning to remove him from office. Charges of anti-Semitism were added and Lincoln quit in order to escape dismissal.

Governor Curley then announced that Abraham Wehler, member of the State Public Utility Commission, would be given the place left vacant by Lincoln's resignation.

In a letter accompanying his resignation, Lincoln said "I have always respected the Jewish people, their history, their ideals and their marvelous story of the humanities of life. My sole intention in that letter (in which he said that "the Jewish threat is a real one") was to refer to those persons of Jewish racial origin conspicuously active in the communistic movement, and to persons of that origin and of strong socialistic convictions prominently associated with our present Federal administration."

Sabbath Speaker

MRS. CAESAR MISCH

Annual Sisterhood Sabbath at Beth-Israel

The annual Sisterhood Sabbath at Temple Beth-Israel, instituted last year, will be repeated tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 10:30 o'clock, when the women will again conduct the service under the guidance of Rabbi Morris Schussheim with the assistance of Cantor Joseph Schlossberg and Bella Goldenberg Halpert at the organ.

Participating in the service will be the officers of the Sisterhood, Mrs. Isidore Singer, president; Mrs. Arthur Galkin, vice-president; Mrs. Anna Goldenberg, vice-president; Mrs. Morris Narva, treasurer; Mrs. Samuel Brier, recording secretary; Mrs. Oscar Klemmer, financial secretary; and Mrs. Joseph Fowler, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Tilly Kenner will be soloist at the service. Mrs. Caesar Misch will deliver the address.

The occasion this year will be marked by the addition of a Bas-Mitzvah service in which 12 girls of the pre-Confirmation class will participate.

Following the service a reception will be tendered by the Sisterhood and the parents of the Bas-Mitzvah girls to all those assembled.

Los Angeles (WNS)—Sherman Mellinkoff of the Beverly Hills High School won the California State Championship for extemporaneous speaking at the finals of the contest held at the University of Redlands.

Palestine Front Quiet But Tense

Stoned By Arabs

SHALOM ARCH

Jerusalem, April 28 (WNS-Palcor Agency)—Shalom Arch, noted Yiddish novelist, several of whose novels have gained popularity in English translation, was attacked by Arabs today while en route from Haifa to Kinnereth. His car was attacked near Nazareth, the windows being smashed, but the police dispersed the mob in time to save Mr. Arch and his companions from injury. Their journey was completed in safety.

GERMAN JEWS SET UP OWN SCHOOLS

Eight Schools Opened; 56
Teachers Employed

Berlin (WNS)—Tired of waiting for the German Government to set up special schools for Jewish children who have been ousted from the public schools, the Jews in the smaller cities have established their own elementary schools. Eight such schools have been opened in Mannheim, Heidelberg, Bruchsal and Emmendingen where 56 teachers who were dismissed from jobs in government schools are employed.

The nation-wide celebration of aviation day revealed that the Nazis deliberately omitted from a list of 16 German World War aviation heroes the name of Lieutenant Frankel, a Jew. Frankel was personally decorated by the former Kaiser who called him a second Richthofen.

Westwood, N. J. (WNS)—The cornerstone of Temple Emanuel, the first synagogue in this town, was laid in the presence of representatives of the municipality and civic and religious organizations.

Hitler Move Places Goering Between Devil and Sea

Berlin (WNS)—The long expected showdown between Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, finance minister, and Nazi officialdom, became an accomplished fact with the appointment of General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Premier of Prussia, as dictator of German economic and fiscal policies.

It is generally recognized that the tension between Schacht and the Nazi Party has reached the breaking point and that Schacht would either have to resign or bow to the Nazi Party. Goering's chief function in his new post will be to straighten out difficulties between Schacht and the Nazis.

Close observers of political conditions here regard the appointment of Goering as the virtual number 2 man

Arabs Demand 3 Restrictions
Against Jews

ARABS CALL STRIKE

Hebrew Press Warns That Strike Will Fail

Jerusalem (WNS-Palcor Agency)—The Arab political parties of Palestine, decided unanimously to institute a general strike that would be prosecuted until the Palestine Government grants the three principal demands of the Arabs.

These demands are: stoppage of Jewish immigration; a ban on the sale of land to Jews; and the establishment in Palestine of a national government. A central committee was immediately selected to co-ordinate the activities in the general strike.

The proclamation calling upon all Palestine Arabs to join the general strike is signed by every outstanding Arab leader, including Hussein Khalidi, Mayor of Jerusalem.

A number of Arabs urged against adoption of the general strike proposal on the ground that the strike was doing serious damage to Arab trade and promoting Jewish trade. The oppositionists yielded to the majority and agreed to join in the general strike until all Arab demands are granted.

The Old City of Jerusalem was vivid with light early this morning as the flames of Jewish houses to which incendiaries had set fire were visible in virtually every part of the City of Peace. Arabs set fire to two Jewish houses in the Old City of Jerusalem, the first near the Zion Gate, the second near the Street of the Jews. A Jewish produce store near the Zion Gate was put to flames.

Sunday Closing Bill is Worrying London Jews

London (WNS)—A new Sunday closing bill now pending in the House of Commons is causing concern to Jewish merchants here. The bill provides for the closing of all establishments on Sundays, but exempts those that are closed on Saturday. Christian-owned establishments that remain open on Sundays will have to close another day in the week.

The Jewish merchants are opposed to the bill because it permits them to do business only on Sunday mornings, when trade is virtually at a standstill, and obliges them to close in the afternoon and evening when business is brisk.

SISTERHOOD MEETING

The May meeting of the Sisterhood will take place Monday afternoon. Rabbi Morris Schussheim will be the speaker. Mrs. Singer is to preside. The meeting will be marked by the report of the nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Samuel P. Lazarus, of the slate of officers for the coming year.

In the Nazi setup as the most astute political maneuver of Hitler and as the beginning of a skillful campaign to discredit Goering.

It is said that General Goering, in his new and more powerful position, will find himself between the devil and the deep sea. Should Schacht succeed in curbing Goering and should Schacht's policies not bring the anticipated advantages he would involve Goering in his own debacle.

On the other hand should Goering buck Schacht and take the responsibility for piloting the rather hopeless cause of German finance he would still leave himself open to a political come-down. In all this Hitler has very cleverly taken a seat on the fence, watching the Schacht-Goering-Nazi Party battle royal.

REBIDS BY OPENING BIDDER (Concluded)

In today's article we shall discuss the final stages of rebids. It shall be divided into two sections.

WHEN THE RESPONSE WAS ONE NO TRUMP

Bear in mind that when you have opened with a suit bid and your partner has responded with One No Trump, he has given you a NEGATIVE response. He has (1) no biddable suit of his own, (2) he has not adequate trump support (3) and his MAXIMUM honor trick holding is 2½ HT. With this in mind you will rebid as follows:

1. Rebid your own suit:
  - a. Bid two with a rebiddable suit of five cards if you also hold 3½ HT or if a six card suit with but 2½ HT, or with 3½ winning tricks.
  - b. Bid three (semi-forcing) with 4½-5 HT.
  - c. Bid four with eight sure winning tricks and 4 HT.
2. Bid a new suit:
  - a. With another biddable suit and 6-5 or 5-5 suits. If the suits are 5-4 you should have 3½ HT, or if 4-4 about 4 HT.
3. Raise to two No Trump:
  - a. With 4½ HT and six sure winners.
4. Raise to three No Trump with 5 HT and seven sure winners.
5. Any jump bid in a new suit is forcing and should not be made without at least 5 HT and a second biddable suit.

WHEN THE RESPONSE WAS TWO NO TRUMP

This bid shows that your partner has at least 2½ HT and added to yours should make game. Therefore, this bid is ADVISING to game. You will respond as follows:

1. Rebid your own suit:
  - a. With any rebiddable suit.
  - b. With a nearly solid suit and over 3 HT bid four. (In many cases of a solid minor with a minimum HT opening it is advisable to bid three no trump even if the suit is rebiddable if partner is timid. Many players construe a three bid erroneously as a sign off in a minor, forgetting that the response was forcing to game.)
2. Bid any second biddable suit, if a major it may even be shaded.
3. Lacking requirements for a rebid in your suit or a new suit raise partner once. You may raise to four No Trump (slam invitation) with at least 4 strong running tricks.

SUMMARY AND REVIEW

While the past few lessons have been rather technical, anyone with good card sense will easily gather their gist. Govern yourself as follows. If your suit is rebiddable, bid that first above anything else; if you have ATS for partner then show that next in order, if you have another biddable or slightly shaded major show that; lacking any of the above three start signing off at lowest No Trump. Having more than a bare minimum (about 4 HT) try to make a jump somewhere so that your partner will not quit too soon. With a count of the combined Honor Tricks you can steer the bidding properly.

Playing Tricks, again, will be your best guide. Your opening bid has shown about 4 playing tricks, your next bid, after partner has made a response, should tell him exactly how many more than four you have. His next bid, if any, will show you how many more than three he has and by

CHAMPS AND CHUMPS

Travelling with the best the other night we were paired at duplicate with Herb Whalen who was runner-up last month to S. T. Coleman in the Individual State Championships.

As play progressed we threw Herb for a grand fare-thee-well and caused the laurels on his brow to gradually wilt away. Our pair finished tenth in a thirteen pair match. The one consolation of the evening was when opposing Coleman and his partner we rose to supreme heights and scored against them one absolute top and one next-to-top, much to the chagrin of the champ.

Two First Run Films New Policy at Victory

The RKO Victory theater, inaugurates a new policy of showing two first-run pictures for a full week starting next Saturday with the presentation of "Frankie and Johnnie," starring Helen Morgan and Chester Morris, and "Frisco Waterfront," with Ben Lyons, Helen Twelvetrees and Rod La Rocque.

"Frankie and Johnnie" is based upon the old ballad of the same name which most authorities claim originated in St. Louis about 1850 and shows the colorful period of American history immediately following the Civil War.

"Frisco Waterfront" is a dramatic romance in which a woman marries the other man to save her husband.

POIGNANT DRAMA NOW AT MAJESTIC

"I Married a Doctor" Stars Pat O'Brien

A beautiful and brilliant woman driven from her home by a town's intolerance is the theme of Warner Bros. new and stirring drama, "I Married a Doctor," which comes to the Majestic Theatre today.

Pat O'Brien and Josephine Hutchinson, who played together on the stage and were reunited in the film hit, "Oil for the Lamps of China," are teamed together in the featured roles in "I Married a Doctor."

The story is based on the famous novel by Sinclair Lewis, which excoriates the hidebound bigotry of narrow minded small town folk who crucify a woman on the cross of gossip. It is said to be dynamic in its revelation of stultified passions; its biting wit and heart throbbing pathos. But it has plenty of comedy relief.

Pat O'Brien has the role of a country doctor who marries a city girl and takes her to his small town home to live. While he is a kindly, jovial practitioner, his wife's ways are a bit too radical to meet with his approval.

Josephine Hutchinson is the city bred wife who is unable to fit herself into the ways of the small towners, although at first the men folk take to her because of her beauty, wit and smart attire.

Home for Aged Membership Rally Sun.

Importance of Large Membership to be Stressed at Rally

By ALTER BOYMAN

Old Age for which, we all hope, wish, and pray, is a blessing, but many times, and to many people, it is sometimes a tragedy. To work a whole life and not be able to provide for himself with a home (many times, not even a parking place) for the last few years of life, is certainly tragic, and it becomes a problem not only to the Aged involved but to the Community as well.

And still more difficult is the problem of the Jewish Aged because in many instances and many times, the children are in a position, more or less, to take care of their parents. But as the Jewish Aged people of today (with rare instances) were all born and brought up in European countries, such as Russia, Poland, Roumania, Galicia, and are used to a different sort of life, customs, and food, it is too hard for them to become accustomed to the life of their children, to their customs, which they are using in this country.

Trouble then starts not only for the old people, but for the children as well. Then there is only one solution to the matter, that the aged father or mother should live with such people with whom they lived and was in contact with all their lives. And that is only possible in a Home, an institution, (without institutional atmosphere). In the last few years we are fortunate to have in our Community during the years of depression and opened its doors during those years. Therefore no endowment fund was possible to be provided, which is so necessary for every institution; but the leaders may be proud of the fact that they have balanced the budget such a Home which may be called a first-class hotel, where the Aged people find, not only food and shelter, but spiritual ease as well, and all comforts necessary.

ARCHIBALD SILVERMAN

Unfortunately, the Home was built even during the years of depression (no miracles happened) through hard labor, using such means as carnivals, annual donors' luncheons, annual balls, and through membership. And the truth may be stated at this time, that not even twenty-five per cent of the expense came from membership, and such a condition is not business-like and is not in favor of any institution.

Every institution must have its income, not less than seventy-five per cent from membership. Then, and only then, can an institution be run intelligently and have the time for everyday improvements for the benefit of those who come there.

Let us hope that on this occasion the Jews of Providence, who have supported the Home during the years of Depression, will do their duty intelligently and business-like, by becoming members, and then the budget shall be a secured one.

The membership campaign, under the general direction of Arthur H. Feiner, will open with a rally of workers, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Jewish Home for Aged, 99 Hillside avenue. Included on the speaker program are talks by Archibald Silverman, Samuel Magid, president of the Home, and Isaac Feinstein, superintendent of the Home.

Group Meetings Arranged by Council of Jewish Women

Miller, executive director of the National Council of Jewish Women, will meet with the board of directors of the local Council of Jewish Women, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Pierre Brunschwig, first vice-president, 702 Elmgrove avenue. Mrs. Brunschwig will be hostess at a tea given in honor of Mrs. Miller at the close of the meeting.

The study of the Political Platform for Peace will be concluded when the International relations group of the Council of Jewish Women, meet in the home of Mrs. Samuel Wachenheimer, its leader, Wednesday, for the final session this season. Mrs. Everett Cowen will lead the discussion on "International Defense" and Mrs. Nathan Perlow will talk on "International Cooperation."

Mrs. Isaac Gerber, 22 Wingate road, will conduct a meeting in her home of the Civics Group, Friday, (May 8), at 2:15 o'clock. Mr. John Collins, local attorney, will address the members on the subject "Municipal Government."

Fall River, Saturday night and Sunday.

The Conference is sponsored in cooperation with the Associated Y. M. and Y. W. H. A.'s of New England, and is aimed to provide an opportunity for the exchange of views and ideas between Community Center workers of the score or more cities represented.

FORGOTTEN JEWS

For some time the Jewish press has been focusing attention on the terrible plight of Polish Jewry, which in a certain sense is much worse than that of the German Jews under Nazi rule. For some time it has been said in various quarters that the Polish Jew is the forgotten Jew only because the German Jewish tragedy is a better selling line in the money-raising slogans of the various national campaigns.

Jewish observers, however, not afraid to speak out, have reiterated, that the economic pressure exercised on the Jews of Poland is as heavy as that exercised on German Jewry. There can also not be the slightest doubt that the pogrom clouds are hanging lower over Poland than over Naziland. All this is irrefutably true.

Last week, Frederick T. Birchall, distinguished correspondent of the New York Times, devoted a dispatch from Berlin to a review of the condition of the Jews in Poland. Mr. Birchall makes no bones about the fact that the plight of Polish Jewry is "infinitely worse" than that of the German Jews. Birchall tells us what we all know that there "is a campaign on to starve the Jews" in Poland.

Another very significant remark by the observing Times' correspondent is his description of the contrast between Germany and Poland as regards anti-Semitism: "in contrast with the situation of the Jews in Germany, where persecution has been quiescent for several months and is likely to continue so until after the Olympic festival, Polish Jews are in an acute state of physical misery. It is even reasonable to surmise that the majority of Germans are not actively anti-Semitic. In Poland the populace is anti-Semitic and the government indifferent, so except in extreme cases the mob is having a free hand."

Jewish public opinion must once and for all project the searchlight on Jewish conditions in Poland. The forgotten Jew should no longer be forgotten.

"The Country Beyond" is Feature Film at Fays

A real-life drama of dogdom is finding its counterpart in motion pictures as Buck, giant St. Bernard sired of "The Call of the Wild," returns to the screen as the canine hero of "The Country Beyond," Fox picture opening today at Fays Theatre.

In the picture, which features Rochelle Hudson, Paul Kelly and Robert Kent, Buck's savage enemy is a Great Dane named Prince, and the brilliant battle in the death of the dog between these two is the dramatic highlight of the story.

Adapted from James Oliver Curwood's thrilling novel, "The Country Beyond" presents Buck as a heroic dog who helps a "mountain" bring a killer to justice and find romance in the trackless North woods. Eugene Forde directed the picture, ably adapted by screenwriter Lamar Trotti, and produced under the supervision of Sol M. Wurtzel.

BOOK NOTES

—Esther Levine—

LEST WE FORGET

In looking back over the books which appeared during the first part of this year, one finds that there is a decided sociological trend. Authors seem to be as keenly interested in political and social situations as the man on the street (who invariably points his finger at you and loudly declaims: "The trouble with this country is"—and so on and on and on.) Sinclair Lewis tells us "It Can't Happen Here" and then proceeds to make it happen. More than any other book on the subject of dictatorship this one gives the actual effect of such a system of government on Mr. "Johnny Q. Public" and his family. "The Sound Wagon" by T. S. Stripling satirizes our politicians and the method of their election. Not as strong a book as it might have been, it has enough of an edge to be unsettling.

Unsettling is also the word for Josephine Lawrence's "If I Had Four Apples." Too many of us have at one time or another succumbed (without too much reluctance, it must be admitted) to the fascinating slogan: "Use it while you pay," to be unmoved by the Poe family.

From England came A. J. Cronin's latest novel, "The Stars Look Down," a bitter and depressing study of the conditions in a mining town. Dr. Cronin has a powerful style but most of us would welcome a lighter touch now and again.

Truth outdoes fiction every time. If you don't believe that, read George Selig's undated biography of Mussolini. The material for this book was ready for five years before any country permitted its publication. Doubtless, it is easier to get a copy of "Ulysses" in Italy than "Sawdust Caesar."

All these, to say nothing of the many other thought-provoking books, make you wonder at the endurance of the human race. Sometimes it seems that only a hurricane will make people change. Although Nordhoff and Hall haven't changed my mind about the South Sea Islands. Hurricanes or no hurricanes (respectively with my aching fever) those islands have a tremendous fascination.

However, so does the South Pole when you read about the daring and courage of the Byrd party's second expedition. They may call their camp LITTLE America, but any place that shows such daring possibilities of parting with itself should earn any man's respect.

And respect and admiration are especially due Walter Duranty for the difficult position he held and for the wonderful way he handled it. He wrote as I told you says Mr. Duranty, "May he please to write more," say we.

Incidentally, if anyone is harboring any homicidal feelings towards his relatives, perhaps he had better read Richard Hull's book called, "The Murder of My Aunt." It is a mystery story with a different twist.

Looking back is fun, but there is the danger of not knowing when to stop. Only a few books have been mentioned, but enough perhaps to indicate the vogue of 1935.

"Redheads and Blondes" Stage Show at Albee

With twenty red-haired and twenty blond beauties at the stage each trying to outdo the other in singing, dancing, and clowning, the show now playing at the RKO Albee, "Redheads and Blondes," makes for a new high speed and novel entertainment.

Heading the all-girl revue are these talented performers, Boice & Marshall, dancing and comedy stars of several Broadway successes, including "Hit the Deck." Then there is the team of Joan & Simone Dawn, who do comedy antics and burlesque of the great and near great. An extra added attraction is Miss Ruth Pryor, formerly premier danseuse with the Chicago Opera Company; June, Joan and Jeri, "Sweethearts of the Airlines," late feature of the N. B. C. "Breakfast Club" and Marion Bell presents a variety number.

On the screen will be seen "The Return of Jimmy Valentine," with Roger Pryor, Charlotte Henry and Robert Warwick. A plot to revenge a fancied wrong, and an idea to get back lost advertising lineage for a newspaper, are combined to bring you a story tense and dramatically interesting.

Mrs. Ann Bradsy of Hanover street, it was announced, was the winner of the grand raffle. The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Bernice Berry on Lancaster street.

NEWS AND VIEWS

By Maurice W. Hendel

PROFESSIONAL AMATEUR

After fourteen months of Sunday night radio sittings it would appear that most of the people in the Western Hemisphere are about fed up with hearing, "All right! All right!" Many motion picture houses are forced to run nine o'clock shows in order to fill their theatres on the first night of the week. All about you are heard rumors after rumor, story after story concerning the fabulous accomplishments of the Major Bowes Amateur hour. So, we gather, this fad is far from dying out.

Not to be placed in the class of one who tries to be different, we're going to climb on the band wagon, and spring off a few "Do you know's" that are little known about the well known Major.

Do you know that: There are over 2,000 applications received daily to appear on the program, making it only second to the desire to get on Farley's payroll.

It is harder to get tickets to witness the show than to be a performer. If the major decided to stage his "hour" at the Madison Garden he would pack the house regularly.

The Major's salary is said to be $5,000 per, but it costs the sponsor over a million a year.

Besides reaping a nice harvest on the sales of their product the sponsor gets a cut from every one of the Howes by-products, such as movie contracts, road units, the magazine articles.

Edward Howes was born in San Francisco 63 years ago, and as a grand juror cleaned up the graft in that city.

He was a wealthy realtor in San Francisco, but the earthquake swept him clean in 1905.

The honor city business is not based on the idea that sales need boosting in that particular locality, but because N. B. C. happens to have a station there.

Every entry on his program must take an amateur's oath.

Contrary to popular opinion, no duds are used. Nervousness gives him more than the necessary number of gong dependents.

No native son ever receives the gong.

The program is rehearsed but only for the timing. The best gags are impromptu.

The high scorer gets a week's contract with a road show, but the key performers with the shows (the ones who stick) are picked by the Major himself.

Around the Town

With Leonard Harris

The morning mail brought the following poem which may give you a moment of pleasure.

SMOKE RINGS

Bad men want their women
To be like cigarettes,
Just so many, all slender and trim
In a case,
Waiting in a row
To be selected, set aflame, and
When their flame has died
Discarded.

More Fastidious Men
Prefer women like cigars.
These are more exclusive,
Look better and last longer:
If the brand is good,
They aren't given away.

Good Men treat women
Like pipes
And become more attached to them
The older they become.
When the flame is burnt out
They still look after them.
Knock them gently
(But lovingly)
And care for them always—
No man shares his pipe.

Books and Things

At the Center, Sam Heller, the poet, bent an interested ear to Miss Fanny Goldstein's discussion of Jewish books. Miss Dorothy Waldman's singing was as pleasing as ever. L. B. Wolfenson found an old friend in Miss Goldstein. Ethel Levine and Evelyn Bader ran a close race on who could knit the faster, and as I made my way into town I glimpsed Mrs. William Harris dramatically dressed in silver foxes.

Callopie Notes

With pockets filled with clanging change I entered the Temple Emanu-El carnival halls hopeful of leaving with an armful of prizes. Chairman Sam Rosen smiled me into a chance on the liquor booth where Lew Kaufman and Sam Halpern dispensed the spirits. Harry Gilstein waved to me from the grapefruit and groceries booths and as Jake Felder said, "Just one more left," I purchased the remaining chance only to lose again. Near the exit I was collared by Ralph Krauss who was certain that his pipe tobacco was just what I was looking for. He managed to extract two thin ones while I vainly waited for my bargain.

Dollars and Dough-Nuts

Ed Kossow needed a man with a dollar and I offered to go and find one, but Mrs. J. Nutman grabbed me for a grab-bag. Mrs. Ben Bromberg filtered through the crowd continuously, seeing that everything functioned, particularly your pocketbook hand. Mike Tieman was pinching at several departments and doing a whale of a job at all.

Odds and Ends

Sam Ress was at the food counter, stocked by papa and papa-in-law. Martin Zucker was so excited he actually looked calm. The omnipresent, pretty flower girls gardeniaed everybody including secretary Dan

Jacobs (I had to boost her up to reach his lapel). Strong man Alex Weiner was custodian of the cash and, as a side line, acted as customer man for the liquor department. Jules Zucker tried everything with varying success. The Mrs. Gilstein and Strassmich did their share and more. The Tenkin clan was very much in evidence. Nobody bargained; everybody bought. It was a carefree crowd all out to see to it that the Carnival was a success.

Bright Colors

I saw Joe Miller out at the Narragansett race track, no, not betting, just supervising the painting. Maurice Handman is back from Europe, my ship correspondent advises, after doing "big business." I hear that Walter Nelson is doing very well down in Baltimore and will be just next month with his degree. Did you know that Dr. Archie Albert never misses his lunch at the Rotary club on Wednesdays.

Expert Bridge

The following rules were compiled by one of our better experts on contract bridge, who says, "Follow them and you won't need to seek solitude. If your hand is rotten, mention it. It will guide your partner in his bid and play.

If your partner bids first, don't hesitate to raise. . . . he has to play it. Never hurry. Try several cards on a trick until you are sure which one you prefer.

Occasionally ask what are trumps. It will show you are interested. Always trump your partner's tricks. Never take a chance.

Eat chocolate creams or other adhesive candy to keep cards from skidding.

Kadima Concert

Last week within the portals of Mrs. Charles C. Brown's suite at the Narragansett a concert was plotted by the executive board of the Kadima Chorales. June 9 and Plantations Auditions was selected as the date and place. It was agreed that a famous guest star should augment the program. . . . The Walter I. Sundluns were there and participated in the discussions. A few suggestions by Walter I. were pronounced upon as the topic and before the evening ended he was chosen a member of the board and will act as co-chairman, with Mrs. Brown, on the concert committee. Mrs. Sundlun observed that he would probably soon be singing in the chorus. It's new interests that make life worth while.

Curiosity Killed the Cat

A telegram arrived this forenoon with the following message. "Who are you? I know that you aren't Caesar—he's dead. They say that he could do seven things at a time—are you in seven places at once? Or is your name Mohammed, who runs from one mountain to another, takes a peek, and settles down to writing. Whoever you are, you never seem to miss a mountain, and so I'll be on my good behavior—just in case. Curious."

Ben Ami Fraternity Spring Dance Monday

The Providence Tercentenary committee has endorsed this dance as part of a city-wide Independence Day celebration.

Hadassah Dance Date Changed to May 10

The May Frolic to be given by the Pawtucket-Central Falls Junior Hadassah group for the benefit of Ahavath Shalom synagogue has been set for May 10, the committee announced today.

Irving Rosen and his Hotel Dreyfus orchestra will furnish the music for the occasion. New arrangements for greater checking space have been made at the synagogue which will facilitate matters on the evening of the dance.
