Miriam Hospital

Reports that will be read this Sunday at the annual meeting of the Miriam Hospital Corporation will indicate clearly that present facilities are taxed to the utmost. And in the instances of emergencies, such as the current wave of influenza, hospital officials have been forced, unwillingly, to refuse entrance to patients because of lack of space.

Normal demands on the hospital, its staff and its equipment now are equivalent to a full house. In the 15 years of its existence Miriam Hospital has admitted 26,339 patients; 3,167 babies were born; and 66,227 treatments were given in free clinics. These figures are ample proof of the work the hospital is doing.

But the public is unaware that costs of hospital maintenance are increasing. Governmental demands have stimulated the price of pharmaceutical supplies more than 15 per cent; the nationwide insistence for more and more steel has raised the cost of instruments; and a government request for 4000 nurses will soon cause a shortage unless hospitals are equipped to train their own.

All these factors will affect the Miriam Hospital. It is obvious, therefore, that officers and trustees of the hospital must soon consider means of expanding the accommodations and services of the Miriam Hospital. This will require the support of the Jewish community; and when the call comes we feel certain it will be answered.

A Significant Conference

The National Conference for Palestine which will meet at Washington this week end will in many respects be one of the most important assemblies of American Jewry since the issuance of the Balfour Declaration.

The united action of American Jewry was a vital factor in bringing about the establishment of the Jewish National Home following the World War. What role American Jewry is to have when this war is over in the determination of the future of that homeland where 550,000 Jews have already built up the second largest free Jewish community in the world must be determined now. The position of Palestine will of necessity be the basis for the restoration of Jewish rights when the present war comes to a close.

The urgent needs of Palestine which is today actively participating in the war for the preservation of freedom must rally all sections of American Jewry in unprecedented support of the $12,000,000 War Emergency Campaign of the United Palestine Appeal.

Palestine is still the world's foremost refugee haven and the center of the most constructive enterprise of the Jewish people.

In Palestine the heroic figure of the Jewish soldier and pioneer is being projected upon the consciousness of the outside world as the answer to the pitiful caricature of a beggar and derelict which Hitler has too long sought to impress upon the mind of civilization.

In many respects the National Conference for Palestine will be a challenge to the Jewish communities in the United States. Will American Jews follow the courageous example of the Jews of Palestine and adopt a militant and dignified program, cutting away the weeds of "philanthropy-as-usual" community thinking?

Report 1,500,000 Jews Destitute in Poland

JDC Representative Returns from Survey

Cites Lack of Food, Clothing

NEW YORK. — A million and a half Jews are destitute in Poland, many of them living in walled-up ghettos; 80,000 have been deprived of means of making a living in occupied France, and 35,000 are trapped in refugee camps in southern France where 400 die each month from disease and exposure.

These conditions were reported by Morris C. Troper, chairman of the European executive council of the Joint Distribution Committee.

"The food in the French concentration camps," he said, "consists of watery soup and some bread. The French government pays about 25 cents a day for the sustenance of each inmate of camps, but even with money one could not obtain anything. The inmates have run out of clothes and there is a shortage of blankets. A baby born at Gurs a few weeks ago was wrapped in a newspaper."

Washington Paper Favors Enlisting Aid of Refugees

WASHINGTON. — In a leading editorial, the Washington Times-Herald urged the United States to enlist the aid of Jewish refugee technicians, engineers and scientists in its vast national defense program. The newspaper pointed out that many German Jews, now in exile, were the brains of post-war German industries and scientific research.

"It is a cold, official fact that the German Jews were the brains of the post-war research that got German industry moving again and it is on their intelligence that the Nazi machinery keeps in motion to this day," the editorial said.

The Times-Herald pointed out that while prominent literary and social refugees were always in the limelight, these skilled craftsmen and technicians were left to crawl into corners and lick their wounds. "It is time to invite them out," the editorial declared.

The paper disclosed that the United States was now engaged in a search for a Czech Jew, said to be the managing genius behind the Skoda munitions works. It is understood that he was able to elude the German Gestapo and is wanted in connection with the manufacture of American munitions.

FORT WAYNE, Ind. — Yehudi Menuhin, young concert violinist who has been rated Class I in the draft, says he will be happy to serve. Mr. Menuhin's wife called from New York City after his arrival for a concert to tell him that his local board at Los Gatos, Calif., had given him a Class I rating.

"If my country needs me, I shall be glad to serve," he told newsmen. "Of course, I shall be happy to do my bit."

Sweeney's Actions Called Anti-Semitic

Judge Dismisses $250,000 Suit

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. — Rep. Martin L. Sweeney of Ohio has lost his $250,000 libel suit against The Clarksburg Exponent, based on the paper's publication of a "Washington Merry-Go-Round" column by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen which accused Sweeney of anti-Semitism. Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins, in charging the jury, said the column "is furnishing not only interesting reading, but is rendering an important public service."

The column reported in September, 1939, that Sweeney was the spokesman for Father Coughlin and that he had opposed the appointment of a foreign-born Jew, Emerich Freed, to the Federal bench in Cleveland. The jury held the column had told the truth.

His divorced wife was arrested because she had denied that he was in the flat.

other Jewish charitable societies and Mr. Gandal reported that these organizations have contributed to various needs of families under care of the Society.

321 Families Aided

In Mr. Gandal's annual report he stated that 321 families were given direct service in 1940 as compared with 415 in 1939. We have tried, Mr. Gandal said, to reduce the number of active cases in order to permit us, with our limited staff and funds, to give more complete and effective service to those in greatest need and to those who would most benefit by our help.

The Society's expenditures for the year were $12,107.09 of which $11,806 was received from the Providence Community Fund.

Sweeney's Actions Called Anti-Semitic

Judge Dismisses $250,000 Suit

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. — Rep. Martin L. Sweeney of Ohio has lost his $250,000 libel suit against The Clarksburg Exponent, based on the paper's publication of a "Washington Merry-Go-Round" column by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen which accused Sweeney of anti-Semitism. Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins, in charging the jury, said the column "is furnishing not only interesting reading, but is rendering an important public service."

The column reported in September, 1939, that Sweeney was the spokesman for Father Coughlin and that he had opposed the appointment of a foreign-born Jew, Emerich Freed, to the Federal bench in Cleveland. The jury held the column had told the truth.

254 Applications for Help Received by Society

Annual Reports Given At Welfare Meeting

321 Families Get Direct Service

Two hundred and fifty-four applications for assistance were received in 1940, Isadore Gandel, executive director of the Jewish Family Welfare Society reported at the 12th annual meeting of the organization held last Monday night at 100 North Main street. While the number of applications was 53 less than in 1939, the drop was attributed by Mr. Gandel to direct applications by people in need of and eligible for public assistance but partly also to increase in employment during the year.

Officers Elected

During the meeting Jacob S. Tenkin was re-elected president of the Society. Other officers and directors named were published in last week's Herald.

Mr. Tenkin declared that there has been a "distinct atmosphere of harmony" in our relation with

Visits Divorced Wife—Is Killed

STOCKHOLM. — A German police officer killed a Jew caught visiting his divorced "Aryan" wife the Berlin correspondent of the newspaper Social Demokraten reported.

The police were informed that the Jew was visiting the flat and an officer was immediately sent out to investigate this suspected "racial offense," it was said. When the officer arrived at the flat the Jew hid on the balcony. The officer shot him when he allegedly resisted arrest and the Jew fell dead to the street. His divorced wife was arrested because she had denied that he was in the flat.

Other Jewish charitable societies and Mr. Gandel reported that these organizations have contributed to various needs of families under care of the Society.

321 Families Aided

In Mr. Gandel's annual report he stated that 321 families were given direct service in 1940 as compared with 435 in 1939. We have tried, Mr. Gandel said, to reduce the number of active cases in order to permit us, with our limited staff and funds, to give more complete and effective service to those in greatest need and to those who would most benefit by our help.

The Society's expenditures for the year were $12,007.49 of which $11,896 was received from the Providence Community Fund.

Present Case Studies

A program describing the work of the Society by means of case studies was the feature of the meeting. Participating in the presentation were Miss Edith Abrams, Dr. Simon Miller, Philip Lieberman, Harold Moskai and Nelson Kaiman.

The annual meeting committee in charge of arrangements was Mrs. Esther Pribner, chairman, Miss Edith Abrams, Mrs. Bertram Bernhardt and Walter E. Strauss.

For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

Wishing is worth the while
According to Fiorella
He wanted N. Y. to lead in style
Now it does! He's a happy fella! . . .

New York, that multi-colored, jewel-studded city of magic, recently staged a colossal style spectacle at the Hotel Astor before 2,000 persons . . . It made New York's leading citizen, Mayor La Guardia, a happy man . . . His wish came true . . . He saw and heard New York City proclaimed as the style center of the universe by a cheering audience come from all over North America and a few from the Latin countries . . .

The country's most glamorous mannequins modelled clothes that are born and worn in New York . . . Shoulders that drop a little, but never droop, showed this season's most important change in the silhouette . . . 1941 trend in beauty kissed good-bye to the pale-faced glamour girl, and ushered in a vibrant, young, clean-scrubbed white collar type of girl like Morley's Kitty Foyle, described as the vitamin type . . .

Green got first rating for colour consistently by all the designers . . . Other new notes were these: Bright coats in "escape" colours, to divert the eye and lift the spirit . . . Pursuit red, ultra-violet purple and poison green . . . Clinging silhouettes were stressed, to emphasize a well-exercised figure, one which looks symmetrical in a sarong or a harem-draped dinner gown . . . Lady suits were shown, to revive the long-bodied, peplum and hem ruffle suits of the 18th century dandies in London's Regency Park . . . Jabots under the chin . . . Lots of lace . . . Slightly dipping hemlines . . . Swishy taffeta skirts, old-fashioned in feeling, but a brand new note . . . Conga-inspired prints carry on in the South American vein . . . Important longish jackets, with double vents, made of heather-sky tweeds . . . Grass skirt bathing suits . . . Bare shoulders for evening gowns . . . Plunging V necklines . . . Bridal gowns of plastic . . . Capes, loads of them . . . Dolman and raglan sleeves.

And what about hats? . . . There was everything from a hand-crocheted vinylite sombrero to a feminine version of the Mayor's famous black fedora . . . Important new points were: Lots of under-chin decorations . . . Bibs, swathed veils, flowers, fringes, under-brim interest . . .

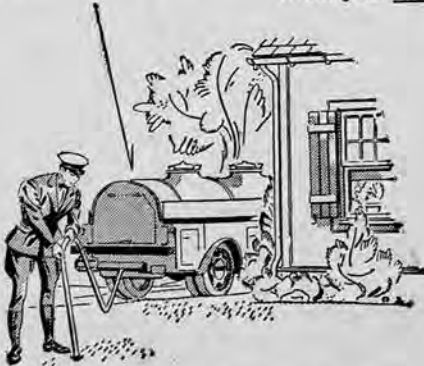

Large and small hats worn half-way back on the head . . . Sailors worn square on the head whether back, middle or forward, jaunty as a sailor on leave . . . All sorts of flower hats — some with flower earrings to match . . . Streamers . . . Grecian flares . . . Taffeta hats with elbow-high gloves to match . . . Newest fad is a long muffler-stocking cap called "cow's tail."

The fashion designers were so anxious to plug the colour green for anything and everything that they had greenery trimming the ballroom, centerpieces of lush green on all the tables, carried out in green's new complimentary colour — pink . . . The program and souvenir book showed a green background for a lady in a chateau and green dress, with pink hair . . . There was pistachio ice cream for the midnight's supper's dessert . . .

the Pursuit of Happiness

A column of chat on Home and Security—from Old Colony Co-operative Bank

You can tell a lot about children by the way they "make themselves at home" when they come to visit. If they've no respect for property, the chances are that they've never learned fairness and responsibility in real home surroundings.

Every child deserves a sense of SECURITY. Youngsters can get used to moving from one rented house to another... switching from school to school... meeting a new neighborhood group every year. But it's human nature to want to "stay put" in familiar scenes, during those important years of growing up.

For people who want to save steadily with every pay envelope over any period from 1 year to about 5 1/4 — WEEKLY Payment Shares. For those who want maximum return for saving over a period — MONTHLY Payment on Life Plan Shares. And for those who can't set aside a definite sum every week or month — SAVINGS Shares.

There's an Old Colony systematic savings method for every purpose!

We're all local people at Old Colony, from porter to president. As your neighbors, we thoroughly understand local needs and opportunities. We can help you finance home ownership... and save money systematically. Consult our representatives without obligation.
