Economic Torture

Without fanfare but with relentless persistence, the economic aryanaization of Jewish businesses is proceeding in both occupied and Vichy France. And there is every indication that such aryanaization will continue on a larger scale. For instance, it was revealed this week that Jewish farmers will not be permitted to till more land than is sufficient for the sustenance of their families.

It requires little imagination to visualize the mental and physical tortures the French Jews are undergoing as they are placed on the economic rack by Nazi gangsters who have had years of experience in Germany and previously occupied countries.

Food for Hitler

A number of Jewish leaders have been identified with the Hoover committee to feed the little-democracies dominated by Hitler. Their humanitarian arguments are forceful but we cannot overlook existing facts.

All of us are sympathetic and realize the suffering of millions on the European continent. But it is clear that the responsibility of furnishing food rests with the German authorities. The starvation that threatens the occupied countries was forced upon the hapless residents when the Nazi manipulators seized vast quantities of foodstuffs and shipped them to Germany to feed the Nazi military machine and its supporters.

Indirect Benefits

Cold figures conceal the benefits this country is realizing through the efforts of the National Refugee Service.

Among those who arrived in this country recently was Wolfgang Rose, brilliant pianist, a member of the famous Rose family of musicians, known the world over. His uncle, Arnold Rose, is the violinist; his mother the youngest sister of Gustav Mahler. His father played with the Boston Symphony for ten years.

When we consider the intellect, intelligence and talent that this country has received because of Hitler's intolerant tactics, it becomes immediately clear why organizations like the Refugee Service should be supported.

Peace Program

"The real peace program has ten points, and these points are the Ten Commandments," asserted the Most Rev. Francis J. Spellman, Archbishop of New York, at the National Eucharistic Congress at St. Paul, Minn., recently.

"The World," he declared, "has lost peace because these Commandments were flouted; and it can regain peace only through their observance and ascendancy. Before they can be observed in the world or in a nation they must be observed by individuals. They must be observed by ourselves."

This exhortation by the Archbishop is not new. It has been heard from many Jewish pulpits throughout many centuries, when our rabbis have lifted the Torah from the Holy Ark.

Protests Statement at Price Control Hearing

WASHINGTON. — A protest against what he said was an attempt to arouse racial antagonism and intolerance in a House Banking and Currency Committee hearing was made by Representative Robert W. Kean, (R., N. J.).

During a committee hearing on proposed price control legislation Tom Linder, Georgia Commissioner of Agriculture, in a prepared statement said: "The only reason so far advanced for Mr. Henderson to have this job is that he enjoys the friendship of Baruch, Morgenthau, Straus, Ginsberg and the Guggenheim interests."

Representative Linder later added that the farmers he represented were 100 per cent Americans. Mr. Kean, a committee member, asked Mr. Linder if he, too, considered himself a 100 per cent American. The Georgian replied in the affirmative and Mr. Kean demanded to know his purpose in making the statement a-

Hope Vanishes For Jewish Army

LONDON. — As far as the immediate future is concerned there is no hope that formation of a Jewish army will be permitted, it was stated here at a luncheon in the Trade Union Club arranged by the Zionist Laborites. The statement was made by Dr. S. Levenberg, General Secretary of the British Foale Zionists, who presided.

The British Labor Party is the only exception in the general conspiracy of silence prevailing with regard to Jewish participation in the war, Dr. Levenberg said. He declared that the Jews demand international guarantees for Jewish national rights and adequate representation at the forthcoming peace conference.

Fund Campaign Begins Monday

Seek $851,780 In 10-Day Drive

"Sickness, poverty and suffering are the sources of fifth columnism in this nation," declared Rt. Rev. Granville Gaylord Bennett Suffragan Bishop of Rhode Island on Tuesday night, as he addressed more than 400 volunteer workers in the United Campaign of Community Chests, at an overflow meeting of the Metropolitan Division at a dinner in the Narragansett Hotel.

"Unless we lift up these people who are sick," he continued, "who have not had their opportunities, the backbone of the entire defense efforts of this nation will be weakened."

The campaign, with a goal of $851,780, will get under way on Monday and continue through October 29. Dr. Henry Wriston, president of the Campaign, has explained that the total figure is slightly above last year's goal, emphasizing that the new budget

Palestine Funds Spend 7 Millions

NEW YORK. — To strengthen the Jewish National Home in Palestine, to make possible the immigration of additional refugees and to sustain the morale of "a community which is the backbone of pro-British strength in the Middle East," there was spent in Palestine by the national funds supported by the Jews of America the sum of $7,586,411.40, from October 1, 1940 to September 1, 1941, it was announced today by Charles Rosenbloom, of Pittsburgh, treasurer of the United Palestine Appeal, American Jewry's central instrument for the upbuilding of Palestine.

In this eleven-month period, there was an average monthly immigration into Palestine of approximately 1,000 Jews, half of them registered immigrants and the other half refugees without certificates. The total Jewish population of Palestine is now said to have risen to 550,000.

Want Ad Demands Forefather's Country

NEW YORK. — Indications that Nazi Germany's violent anti-Semitism has penetrated deep into the veins of America were pointed out by authorities here after reading want ads in New York newspapers. A recent ad in the New York Times contains a startling similarity to the "Aryan" concepts of the Third Reich. The ad read:

"STENOGRAPHER, rapid, accurate, typist, good speech, refined, unmarried; in own handwriting, state forefathers' nationality and religion, date of birth, telephone, salary. W. 377 Times."

Face Facts, Urges War Vet Head

U. S. Must Provide Democracy That Works

BOSTON. — Urging Americans to "face the facts" about world problems today Benjamin Kaufman, National Commander of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States, addressed members of the organization recently at the Parker House.

Quoting a friend Commander Kaufman said: "Why don't we Americans sit down and face the facts, 'It's about time we stopped all this name-calling, all this talk, all this mud-slinging, and really get down to brass tacks about what we're doing and where we're going."

"We must give the world a democracy that works," Commander Kaufman added, "a pattern for government and living that will stand the challenge of the times, a picture of men striving earnestly for the common good that cannot be blotted out by the black night of dictatorship. These are the things we must do quickly and well — or the liberty we have known and cherished for one hundred and sixty-four years will be gone forever."

TOCKHOLM — The Hungarian authorities have ordered the demolition of the Jewish quarter in the Hungarian town of Zatzmar in Transylvania for "reasons of public security," it is disclosed in the Pommersche Zeitung.

NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BYSTANDER

The Front Pages: President Roosevelt, who has taken many a lashing from the press, saluted National Newspaper Week with a message to publishers to guard the press' freedom. In short, he urges it to hang on to its right to slam him . . . Royal Cortissoz, celebrating half a century with the H-Trib, also said something worth remembering about press freedom. "Opinions," he said, "are a critic's capital, and he is useless if he cannot find freedom of expression for them" . . . Virginio Gayda, the typewriter that talks like Mussolini, urges the Fascist dailies to fake news to keep the people's spirit up. According to dispatches from Italy, the Italian people would prefer to have him fake up a few plates of spaghetti.

The Wireless: Jan Masaryk's broadcast was heart-breaking enough to wring a tear from an isolationist. He reported that the victims of the Hun slaughters in Czechoslovakia are not the revolutioners, but just any helpless Czechs they lay their hands on . . . The squeeze is on the Nazis in South America, however, take it from broadcaster Herbert M. Clark. It's getting so uncomfortable for them in Argentina, he said, that some of Der Fuehrer's busiest dagger troops are screaming alluva sudden that they're Swiss . . . C. Fadiman and B. Hope ping-ponging humorous insults at each other made laughs come like bananas — in bunches . . . Eleanor Roosevelt's chatter does more to keep her listeners awake than the coffee she plugs.

The Story Tellers: Runyon makes a monkey out of the fiction rules in "Broadway Incident," his entertainment piece in Cosmopolitan. His hero is a drama critic, which is definitely a contradiction in terms . . . Garbo is news for the funniest reason. She used to collar space on being a mysterious recluse, out of the world. Now Life blows her to lots of pages because she's a simple, friendly girl like you. Toots . . . Paul Gallico's word-halo for Lou Gehrig in the N.Y. Cosmopolitan creeps into your heart like a smile from a baby . . . Writes Kyle Crichton in Collier's: "When ecstatic cries of dah-ling greet a Hollywood actrix entering Giro's she knows that her last picture has been a success" . . . Or her first marriage has been a failure.

The Magic Lanterns: The cinema gets a pretty good report card. "Hold Back the Dawn" is a large afternoon for the sighing set. Charles Boyer plays put and take with two hearts, Olivia de Havilland's and Paultette Goddard's (who is a heel with a tender side). The yarn, about how he marries his way past the immigration gate, is skillfully told . . . Things are milder in "It Started With Eve," but all off-ly nice. Deanna Durbin is the same likeable lass, and Chas. Laughton is the funnyman of the occasion . . . Tom Harmon runs and kicks a gamut in "Harmon of Michigan." Football shots from the newsreels are woven into the love story, which also looks like cuts from previous films.

Typewriter Ribbons: F. E. Freedman: Is the Atlantic Ocean verboten or fer boatin'? . . . Kin Hubbard: Ther ought t'be some way t'eat celery so it woul'dn' sound like you wuz steppin' on a basket . . . Youngstown Vindicator: The generals most likely to defeat America are general inertia and general apathy . . . Toronto Star Weekly: All Europe is now divided into three parts: occupied, unoccupied, and pre-occupied . . . Olin Miller: It's when a man first feels his age that he has the hardest time being it . . . Damon Runyon: She has an ice-cream cone where her heart is supposed to be . . . M. Foster: The plaza was drowsy with history . . . H. Klurfeld: She was a good secretary, but clockeyed.

NEW YORK HEARTBEAT

The Big Parade: Ambassador and Mrs. Martins from Brazil at the Stork ringside cementing Good Will with United Statesmen — by applauding the rhumbacrobats . . . the Joe E. Browns staying young in the sinful places up 'til almost half-past eleven! . . . Sonja Henie swapping a chilly howja-doo with her boss, Darryl Zanuck . . . The Drew Pearsons of Washington gaping at The Big Town's tallest buildings, the hix . . . Beatrice Kay and her definition of a diplomat in Washington or on Broadway: "A guy who knows how to keep his chin up without sticking out his neck."

NEW YORK NEWSREEL

Subwayites gazing at people across the aisle as if they were a blank wall . . . The once famous actress who now performs in five-and-ten-cent stores, exhibiting all kinds of kitchen utensils . . . For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

Wanting nothing . . . needing less
New York's a conceited town

Then builds you up — then lets you down . . .

While other towns are deep in slumber, Manhattan opens wide her wicked, mascaraed, sophisticated eyes . . . Sleep? . . . Nonsense . . . Never heard of it . . . She's intoxicated with her own importance . . . If she retires, who's to know about her . . . What, her claim for fame? . . . Nosir, no sleep for her . . . Comes darkness, she dons a gown of midnight blue, studded with diamonds, sprinkles her coiffure with stardust, takes a long approving glance at her reflection in the mirror that is the Hudson River, and she's ready for a glamorous nite, that lasts until the dawn pales her brilliance . . . Manhattan's like a slightly mad, sometimes beautiful, constantly surprising woman . . .

Playing hostess to a holiday week-end throng, so glad Columbus had discovered America, New York as always proved herself to be as thrilling and disappointing a town as ever there was . . .

From her Very Saks Fifth Avenue Windows, to the squalor of her Second Avenue push carts, from the tip of her topmost skyscraper to the underground berths of her subways, from the serenity of Central Park by nite, to the confusion of Times Square by day, Manhattan is completely self-centered . . . Yea, smug . . . There isn't a single thing she desires, or requires . . . She begins to pall after a while . . . She tries one's patience to the breaking point . . . There are times when one wishes our forebears had given her back to the Indians . . .

And yet — there are times, and oh the elation — when one feels it's absolutely the only place to live . . . When one adores being part of that racy pulse beat . . . When the crazy-quilt pattern of her flickering lights sends shivers up one's spine in sheer-enthrallment . . . When one doesn't blame Mayor LaGuardia for his fire-chasing penchant, 'cause in his shoes, one would do the same . . . When one wants beneficently to contribute to the cause of every professionally superb panhandler, scattered promiscuously along Broadway . . . When the symphony of Manhattan's seven millions is the only music one ever wants to hear . . .

She's a constantly confusing town, leaving her visitors inert from mixed emotions . . . On returning to their widely divergent home towns, they know not if they're sorry they went, or glad they're back, or vice-versa . . .

Manhattan's lady cohorts, this season, are probably the most beautifully, most gaudily dressed lot, witnessed in many a moon . . . Their frocks are short in front, longer in back . . . Their furs are fabulous, with silver foxes taking the lead, and mink and sable running neck and neck for second place honors . . . Their hats are amazing . . . Cloches that look incredibly like upside-down flower pots, and then those hats that spread their wings at the neckline, and look as if the sound of a propeller would make them take flight . . . Their lipsticks, not red, not pink — but almost black . . . Their stockings — seamless, if any at all . . . Their earrings — ornate, and very bejeweled . . . Their attitudes — arrogant, and utterly aloof . . .

Perhaps, these impressions, by and large, seem unkind . . . They weren't meant to be . . . They're only this column's renewed slant, right or wrong, on the world's Empire City . . .

Seger Minimizes U.S. Nazi-Germans Cannot Overlook 5th Column Possibility

LOS ANGELES. — Anti-Nazi Gerhart H. Seger, said in an address here that only about 5 per cent of the 7,000,000 German-Americans in the United States are outright Nazis.

"Another 5 per cent are actively engaged in fighting Nazi influence and propaganda," said Mr. Seger, German airman during the World War and former member of the German Reichstag.

"The other 90 per cent are either politically indifferent or afraid to take any firm stand on the Nazi issue.

"However, all German-Americans in the United States should be looked upon as a possible recruiting field for a Nazi 'fifth column' because of the pressure which can be brought on them through threats to their relatives in Germany."

Bar Contractors Who Discriminate N. Y. to Enforce Law Against Bias in Jobs

NEW YORK. — Contractors discriminating against Jews or Negroes in employment will find the full force of New York State laws used against them, Lieutenant-Governor Charles Poletti, co-ordinator of the New York State Council of Defense announced in a radio address here.

"We, the strongest nation in the world, must not allow ourselves to be weakened by the virus anti-Semitism," New York's liberal second highest officer declared. "If we oppose Axis doctrines, we must, to be consistent, oppose all race prejudices at home. There are no ifs and buts about that simple truth." Mr. Poletti branded discrimination against Jews and Negroes as "sabotage of the national defense effort."

Brown to Tangle With Unbeaten Tufts

David J. Howeli, Brown University senior from Berlin, N. H., will start at right end for the battling Bears against the undefeated Tufts College eleven at Brown Field Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Haweli, who prepared for Brown at Mt. Herman, started the Bears' opening game against Wesleyan, but yielded the honor against Columbia and Rhode Island to Steward MacNeill of Newton, Mass.

A hard worker, both on and off the gridiron, Haweli has regained his first-string rating, as the Bruins seek their victory of the campaign at the expense of the Jumbos. Dave, a brother of Norm Haweli, University of New Hampshire '39 skiing and lacrosse letterman, is the only Granite Stater on this year's Brown team.

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

A major change, affecting two Jewish institutions, will be announced next week . . . Montreal's Jewish agencies employed a novel idea to get their message of need over to the public . . . Each theatre presented a Walt Disney cartoon, starring Donald Duck, in which the story of "BE A GOOD NEIGHBOR" was effectively emphasized . . . The holiday attendance at synagogues and temples broke all records this year . . . Never before have these institutions been in such sound financial condition . . .

Back Talkies

We hear that Hollywood has given the United States Senate investigation of war films the Bronx cheer . . . The movie moguls are going out and buying anti-Nazi stories, to be placed into production immediately, regardless of what the Washington statemen have to say . . . Here's a curious theory, and we leave it to you to decide its worth: When there's a shortage of men during wartime, the competition for those who are left in circulation grows keener and women's skirts therefore tend to become shorter, the use of cosmetics increases and the femmes pay more attention to their figures . . . And with selective service now in the force, the trend has been just that . . .

Localia

Morris Kirshenbaum has been nominated for the post of vice-president of the Sons of Abraham Synagogue . . . Phyllis Luber is back in town, after living in New York for several months . . . Ethel Levene has also returned after spending some time in Mexico . . . Albee Holds Over Bette Davis Film

Giving Bette Davis a powerful role, "The Little Foxes" held for a second week at the RKO Albee Theatre, adheres closely to the stage success from which it was adapted by the play's author, Lillian Helman.

As Regina Giddens, Bette wants her banker-husband, Herbert Marshall to invest in a cheap labor cotton-mill project, along with her two brothers. But Marshall, ill with heart trouble, wants no parts of exploiting poor people. From here on, the story builds to a thrilling climax.

As a co-feature, the Albee is showing "Hello Sucker," with Hugh Herbert, Tom Brown, Peggy Moran and Walter Catlett.

sion of the "Emanu-Elzapoppin'" musical show.

Mr. Maitland, next Thursday's speaker, who is thirty years old, recently arrived in New York by clipper. For two years, he persistently forecast the Nazi-Russian clash, in dispatches to the London Times, which revealed secrets about Nazi-Soviet relations that have been quoted throughout the world, and for which the Nazis have been hunting him relentlessly.
