The UJA in Wartime

An undercurrent of questions on the problem of overseas relief has risen to the surface, now that the United States is at war, and has been satisfactorily explained by heads of agencies within the United Jewish Appeal.

The JDC, anticipating the possibility of war, which would cut communications, made plans to insure that the work of relief would not be seriously curtailed. An appropriation of $1,500,000, to be charged to 1942 receipts, will guarantee loans that Jewish committees overseas may make from local sources, with the assurance that the JDC will reimburse these loans when feasible without aiding the enemy.

Meanwhile in other areas, such as unoccupied France, Portugal, Spain, Switzerland, Turkey, North Africa, in 18 countries in Central and South America, the work of the JDC continues as before.

In Palestine the UPA is giving every possible assistance. There, 550,000 Jews, have mobilized their resources to aid the Allied war effort. Programs inaugurated in the past will be expanded to include emergency measures.

In this country, the National Refugee Service requires substantial support for its work so that the problem of refugees may be met with statesmanship and effectiveness at a time when the entire country's war effort requires the greatest understanding and co-operation of all elements in the community.

It need hardly be emphasized that now, as in the past, all relief work will be carried on subject to the policies and regulations of our Government. In no way will any funds be allowed to benefit the enemy either directly or indirectly.

We are confident that Jewish communities throughout the country will make the greatest sacrifices in behalf of our nation's war effort so that not only our liberties may be safeguarded but that the "four freedoms" may be assured and secured for mankind everywhere.

In view of the plight of our fellow Jews, all of us must make additional sacrifices to maintain the rescue work of the United Jewish Appeal.

A Single Resolve

This war will demand sacrifices of all of us, perhaps far heavier than we have yet imagined. They must be borne proudly and uncomplainingly.

Not one of us dares shirk his individual responsibility, for the kind of unity that will bring us victory is compounded of the staunch determination of every single one of us to do his part.

Disappointed

Although realists may frown, there is a smile in the following incident that occurred this past week. While the story might be added to the fund of material written about the American character, it will do so without adding anything to its clarification.

Two ladies on the Elmwood avenue bus were discussing our first air-raid alarm. Concluding her tale, one woman with startling clearness, exclaimed, "False alarm, it was, and after I took the baby way over to Exchange Place to see his first air-raid."

Believe UJA Will Top Last Year's Total; Seek Volunteers

Gratifying progress and results in the 1941 United Jewish Appeal Campaign were noted this week by Archibald Silverman, chairman, who said today that if a "concerted effort is made during the coming week, the campaign can be successfully concluded with a substantial increase over the total raised last year."

In order to complete the current effort within the next ten days, campaign officials have asked for the enrollment of additional volunteer workers, and have asked solicitors to cover cards as quickly as possible, since other demands will be made on the Providence community as a result of the war situation.

Adolf Meller, campaign vice-chairman and chairman of the Initial Gifts Committee, has reported that his group, after an intensive coverage, is considerably ahead of last year's record.

To Raise Million For Palestine in '42

NEW YORK. — A decision to raise $1,000,000 for Palestine in 1942, which would more than double the $477,000 raised this year, was adopted here this week by the 17th annual convention of the National Labor Committee for Palestine at which a comprehensive survey of Palestine Jewry's contributions to the Allied war effort was presented.

About 3,000 delegates from the United States and Canada also adopted a three-fold program.

held at Weinstein's Restaurant early in the week, Dr. Ilie Berger and Joseph W. Ress, co-chairmen of the General Solicitations Committee, announced that 500 prospect cards had already been covered by twenty teams.

Alter Boyman, in charge of organization solicitations, has expressed the hope that each Jewish organization in the city will make a contribution from its own treasury.

Under the leadership of Max Meller and Jerome Feinstein, co-chairmen of the Youth Division, the group is striving to double the amount it raised last year.

Jewish Vet Saves Christian Fronter

NEW YORK. — C. Daniel Kurts, 50, Christian Front leader who was sentenced to serve 30 days for an anti-Semitic street-corner speech, was saved from jail by the plea of Isidore Ginsberg, lawyer and senior vice commander of the Queens Jewish War Veterans, who was the complainant in the case.

Mr. Ginsberg asked Magistrate Joseph De Andrea to suspend sentence after Kurts said he was through with speech-making and was no longer a member of any group. Mr. Ginsberg invited Kurts to a meeting of the Jewish veterans to hear about their service to the country.

War Increases Needs of UJA

JDC Reveals New Areas of Jewish Distress

NEW YORK. — As a result of America's entry into the war the problems confronting the agencies of the United Jewish Appeal for Refugees, Overseas Needs and Palestine are far greater than at any other time since the establishment of the combined nationwide campaign in behalf of the Joint Distribution Committee, the United Palestine Appeal and the National Refugee Service, it was announced today by Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver and Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, National Chairmen.

Discussing the effects of the war on the Joint Distribution Committee, the National Chairmen asserted that the J. D. C. was utilizing every avenue of assistance consistent with American Government policy and that as heretofore, none of its activities would aid the enemy directly or indirectly. They pointed to the experience of the J. D. C. in dealing with war conditions dating back to the first World War and emphasized that Jewish committees overseas, through which this agency has operated, are carrying on their relief programs with great devotion. It was pointed out that large new and unexpected areas of Jewish distress and need have opened up, particularly for 500,000 Polish Jews in Russia, in recent weeks, which will place added strain on limited J. D. C. resources.

In addition, the J. D. C. must continue to carry on in increasing measure programs of aid in Portugal, Switzerland, Spain, Unoccupied France, Turkey and elsewhere, as well as to make increasing grants to help normalize the status of 120,000 Jewish immigrants who have settled in Central and South America.

Jewish M. P. Hits Jewish Army Idea

LONDON. — Indignation reigned in Zionist circles here as it was revealed that the sharpest opposition to Dr. Chaim Weizmann's plans for a Jewish Army, which he outlined before the Parliamentary Committee on Palestine recently, had been offered by Solomon Gluckstein, a Jewish Member of Parliament and one of the millionaire owners of the famous Lyon & Co. chain of restaurants in England.

In her talk she also recounted various experiences on her recent South American mission tour.

Trend to Religion In School Grows

488 School Systems Are Releasing Children

NEW YORK. — The movement for week-day religious education for public school children is definitely growing throughout the country, the Rev. Dr. Erwin L. Shaver, one of the outstanding authorities in this field, declares.

A Government survey released a few weeks ago shows that 488 city and rural public school systems in 38 States are releasing their children for this purpose, Dr. Shaver noted. Thus about one eighth of the school systems have adopted the plan.

Daily average attendance, he added, according to a partial report from 357 school systems numbered 164,013 children.

However the plan to dismiss children from the usual school program, at the written request of their parents, to go to some other building for religious education, Dr. Shaver observed, remains still in its infancy.

MAN ABOUT TOWN:

The Story Tellers: Perhaps Life magazine is a jinx. First it went all-out for a baseball rookie who never lived up to their sugary words about him. Then Life threw a book of pretty orchids at a football team in Texas which got licked and went right into a losing streak. Now life hangs a blue-ribbon around a show whose star has become very ill and forced the play's postponement . . . Jim Young's piece in Flying and Popular Aviation is eye-arresting.

They had a terrible time over at Pathe trying to do a newsreel on "Young America Wants to Help" . . . Commentator Tex McCrary was there as were some American kids, Mrs. Roosevelt and an English youngster, who had been evacuated . . . Despair was rampant. Tex was tearing his hair, and cameramen were miserable because the English lad (used once before when he arrived) had acquired full-flowering Brooklynes in a Brooklyn school. He had shown up completely minus his immaculate British accent, and they simply could not get him to say "bawth-room"!

INNOCENT BYSTANDER:

Mrs. Roosevelt tells this story of about Bunker Hill Monument, of which all New England is proud . . . When it was nearing completion there was difficulty in raising $20,000 which was needed . . . A Mr. Lawrence of Massachusetts gave $10,000, saying other New Englanders would surely help . . . But the other $10,000 came not from New Englanders, but from Judah Touro, a Jewish merchant of New Orleans . . . Mrs. Roosevelt likes to tell the story, she explains, "because it is the only piece of American history I ever told my husband that he didn't know before."

John Hearst, the newspaperman's boy, met a fellow in Reuben's the other middle-of-the-night, who once trimmed him with an old racket . . . The chap had given him a tip on a horse race, and not only wasn't there such a horse—or race—but there wasn't even such a town! . . . Hearst simply had to let him know that he was hep to him . . . "Eight years ago," he said, "when you swindled me out of that money, I was awfully mad at you. I wish I could make up my mind what to do to you right now."

"I understand," was the retort, "you haven't played a horse tip since. You should thank me—for teaching you a lesson!"

"Prince" Mike Romanoff, who never posed as a lily, went under the microscopic examination of a magazine several years ago . . . He went through the wringer and managed to survive it . . . The editor of the wallpings, it appears, invested a goodly sum in a Hollywood restaurant, and it became the movietown's most prosperous rendezvous . . . Romanoff, with the support of friends, opened a restaurant in the same sector, and he was the one who was most amazed when it turned into a gold mine . . . Recently the editor's place discovered that its clientele was thinning . . . Major air lines which paid a fancy fee to have the editor's sideline prepare the luncheon boxes for its passengers, cancelled its orders . . . The business was turned over to Mike's place . . . Many of the patrons, who stopped going to the other spot, are now patronizing Romanoff's . . . Revenge, as the saying goes, is saccharine . . . Moral: Never kick an underdog when he's down. He may become your most aggravating competitor.

When the alarm was given after a Local Loan Company on 7th Avenue and 41st Street was held up recently, a radio police car sired up to the door . . . Out jumped Officer Wallace of the 14th Precinct, who rushed in yelling: "What's the matter?" . . . "What's the matter?" shouted the cashier. "Well, you know that lonely cowboy bandit who's been holding up everybody lately? I just passed out $600 in cash to him!"

"What!" wisecracked the cop. "Without a co-maker?"

Coming to Met

Waad Hacashruth Greetings New Rabbi

Members of Providence Waad Hacashruth, at a meeting last Tuesday night at the Sons of Zion Synagogue, extended greetings to Rabbi Carol Klein, new spiritual leader at the Congregation Sons of Jacob.

Among the speakers were Israel M. Kaufman, Waad Hacashruth president, Rabbis Joshua Werner, David Werner and Morris G. Silk. Max J. Richter introduced Rabbi Klein.

In his talk, Rabbi Klein expressed his desire to work in cooperation with the Waad Hacashruth, for the benefit of Providence Orthodox Jewry.

Schools Join For Chanukah Concert

Providence Hebrew Parochial School and the South Providence Talmud Torah will present a Chanukah concert on Sunday afternoon, 2 o'clock at Swedish Hall on Chestnut street, under the direction of Miss Sarah Pressman and David M. Sable.

During the afternoon, Rabbi Joshua Werner and I. Kofman will appear as guest speakers. Other participants in the program, in addition to those listed in last week's Herald, include Frank Feldman, Edith Buckler and Carl Kritz.

Oneg Shebbat At Ahavath Sholom

Elaborate plans have been made for the Chanukah Oneg Shebbat to be held on Saturday afternoon at the Ahavath Sholom Synagogue, at which time Miss Ruth Abrams will appear as guest speaker.

Also participating in the program will be Mrs. Morris G. Silk, Mrs. Nathaniel Checkoway, Miss Suzanne Silk and Miss Marion Weiner. Communal singing, a social hour and refreshments will feature the afternoon.

Chanukah Play At Emanuel Sun.

Temple Emanuel's Religious School will hold its Chanukah celebration at a special assembly on Sunday morning, 10:30 o'clock, when a play, entitled "The Dream Book," will be presented with the following participants: Ruth Weiss, Harriet Rotman, Arlene Goodman, Charles Miller, Jack Stanzler, Eliot Solomon, Helen Sergy, Lee Grossman, Zita Grant, Hillary Phillips and Ethelyn Shoolman.

Miss Dora Krevolin and Mrs. Fred Weiser are directing the production.

Chanukah Pageant At Emanuel Tonight

A Candle Light Pageant will feature the Chanukah Sabbath Services tonight (Friday) at Temple Emanuel, entitled, "Let There Be Light." The production, to be presented with a cast of eight young couples, is under the direction of Mrs. Henry W. Markoff.

The Temple Choral Society will also participate in the program, with Arthur Einstein directing. A brief Chanukah message on the subject, "Keep The Light Burning," will be delivered by Rabbi Israel M. Goldman, with Cantor Jacob Hohenemser chanting the service.

TEMPLE DAUGHTERHOOD

A Chanukah Party, in the form of a fun night, was held on Wednesday evening by the Daughterhood of Temple Beth Israel. During the evening games were played, and gifts exchanged. Miss Helen Epstein was chairman of the event.

LONG-DISTANCE TELEPHONING MUST BE RESTRICTED THIS CHRISTMAS

WAR has made it necessary to curtail a typical American habit and tradition . . . the exchange of Christmas greetings by long-distance telephone. This curtailment is imperative.

Specifically, we must ask people in New England not to make calls on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day to points south of New York City, west of Chicago, or to the Maritime Provinces. Such calls, in this time of emergency, may interfere with other calls vital to the nation's safety. The Army, the Navy, civilian defense, and vital industries are depending on telephone service night and day.

Between points in New England, we urge that conversations be brief, although there are sufficient lines to provide reasonably good service.

This is not the Christmas message that we planned to publish. We would like the telephone to make every possible contribution in every part of the country to the spirit of Christmas. But this year there is one supreme obligation for all of us . . . to serve our country before we serve our personal interests.

We repeat . . . please do not make long-distance calls on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day to points south of New York, west of Chicago, or to the Maritime Provinces.

Thank you!

Ross - Berger

An attractive December wedding occurred last Sunday afternoon, when Miss Ruth Berger, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Berger of Pawtucket, became the bride of Corporal A. Peter Ross, of the Sixth Army Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Ross of

New Haven. Rabbi Aaron Goldin of Pawtucket Ahavath Shalom Synagogue performed the three o'clock ceremony at the Berger residence, 292 Hillside avenue. Wrought iron candelabra, with twisted tapers, were placed on either side of the canopy. During the ceremony, "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly," were sung by Miss Sylvia Berger, the bride's sister, accompanied at the organ by Miss Mollie Coklin.

A gown of white chantilly lace, made with a long-sleeved peplum jacket and sweetheart neckline, was worn by the bride. Her veil of chantilly was edged in tulle, and was attached in the Victorian manner to a coronet of gardenias. She carried a mull of gardenias.

Miss Edith Berger, sister of the bride, was in attendance as maid of honor, wearing a double skirted gown of pink and blue tulle, with a bodice of pink faille, accented with bands of silver. Her blue veil was held in place by a floral headdress, and she carried pink roses. Miss Elsie Ross, sister of the bridegroom, of Washington, D. C., acted as bridesmaid, and was dressed in a blue tulle gown, with gold trimming. Her blue veil was also fastened to a headdress of flowers, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Samuel Ashe Ross of New Haven, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

Planning a wardrobe for a Floridian trip may seem something of a problem for the damozel going to this resort on her maiden voyage . . . One wonders what kind of clothes to take . . . Should they be the same as one would take on any trip, or are summer clothes the rule during the winter there? . . .

Seasoned travellers to the land of sunshine have learned to remember three cardinal rules in selecting clothes for a sojourn at Miami . . .

First—life in that city is keyed to the sunshine, the big, beautiful, wonderful outdoors . . . Therefore, spectator sports and casual clothes are right for most occasions . . . Second—no colour is too bright . . . Third—take an empty trunk in which to bring home the irresistible sports clothes that originate in Miami Beach and across the Biscayne Bay in Miami . . . Styles shown there in January are what will be worn here come next June . . .

Spectator sports or shirtwaist dresses, slacks, play clothes and bathing suits are absolute musts for the Miami Beach wardrobe . . . They are to the southern wardrobe what whipped cream is to strawberry shortcake . . . These are the clothes one wears on the beach, in the cabana, at luncheon, shopping, or even late in the afternoon and on into dusk . . . If you haven't a supply on hand, it's not necessary to buy any of them before you start, for the famous shops on Lincoln Road—the Fifth avenue of the South—display the most delectable collections you'll ever hope to select from . . .

Bathing robes will be featured this winter as never before, because of the new City ordinance requiring covering of bathing suits for street wear . . . Removed from the scene, and conspicuous by her absence, will be the bold, barefooted beauty strolling to the beach in a one-piece clingy, swim-suit . . . Acceptable for street wear are playsuits, provided shoulders are covered . . . A variety of such costumes may be achieved with shirtwaist blouses and pleated shorts or slacks . . .

Colours are bright like nowhere else under the sun . . . The traveller's clothes—hats, gowns and shoes—should be tropicaly brilliant . . . One dark outfit, probably the one worn on the trip, will be enough . . . The man in your life should remember this for his wardrobe, too, incidentally . . .

If one of your secret ambitions is to make a truly dramatic oh and ah entrance some time, here's a for instance as to what to wear when it's cocktail time in the South . . . A short frock of white rayon jersey, cool and speckled, bespangled with fiery rhinestones picking out a throatline, paving a belt or cuff, or perhaps encrusting a row of buttons . . . It'll make you look your absolute loveliest, and is as stirring, as startling, yes, as spectacular, as diamonds strung out in the snow.

Large hats of either felt or straw are appropriate in Miami, and are useful for shade . . . But small hats stick closer to you in the warm breezes . . . Women down there simply are refusing to give up the turban . . . It can be dressy or sporty, holds the coiffure in place, and no unexpected wind will ruffle its calm.

P. S. — Hope you have a positively delightful time in the South, and in some spare moment, perhaps you might try corking a bottle of Florida sunshine and bringing it back here to us . . . P. P. S. — If you manage to capture some of it in bottle form, for heaven's sake, don't drop the bottle on the way home.

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

President Roosevelt's Committee on War Relief Agencies, in a statement released today has clarified the status of foreign relief agencies . . . We have been asked to include their statement in this column: It is the committee's view "that the American people will want not only to meet their own relief requirements, but also to continue to help meet the urgent needs of countries associated with them in the common cause." . . . Louis Hochman at Hawaii has wired his parents, the Joseph Hochmans, that he is safe and sound . . . Corp. Sidney Levy's wife to his mother, Mrs. Levy has removed all her doubts on his safety . . . Harold Roberts, U. S. Army, was in town on furlough this week, renewing friendships in the thick of the Christmas shopping crowd . . . We were informed a few minutes ago that Leo Miller was elected president of the Touro Fraternal Association . . . Leo succeeds Harold Cohen, who was named to the board of directors . . .

Harold Biller and Al Lisker, were guests of honor at stag parties this week . . . Harold, who will be married to Ruth Jagolinzer on Sunday, was feted last Wednesday night by a group of friends at the Lafayette House . . . Al, who will also be married on Sunday, to Ethel Gordon, of Haverhill, Mass., was guest of honor at a party given on the same evening at the Narragansett Hotel . . . Members of the Yelisoetgrad Beneficial Association voted to buy $16,150 of defense bonds this week . . . One of the days when the Nazis were being strafed, in Libya, a wag was heard to observe that here was a case of the British holding the oases with the Duce running wild . . . And over in Naziland, as more and more casualties are coming in from the Eastern front, the German people have taken to calling the Russian campaign the Blutskrieg . . .

The Joseph Brams have a baby daughter, born on December 14 at Miriam Hospital . . . Mrs. Bram was formerly Bessie Schnoper . . . From the office of the City Registrar we learn that Bella Kroll and Morris Dubinsky, Jennie Luckmanskoy of Central Falls and Israel Falcofsky of this city, will middle-aise it soon . . . Have you heard some of the song titles that Tin Pan Alley has been turning out since war was declared . . . Following are a few titles . . . Some are quite imaginative . . . When Those Little Yellow Bellies Meet the Cohens and Kelleys; To Be Specific, It's Our Pacific; You're A Sap, Mr. Jap; Let's Put The Axe To The Axis; and We're Going To Find The Fellow Who Is Yellow and Beat Him Red, White and Blue . . .

Dr. Carol Klein, new rabbi at the Sons of Jacob Synagogue, is arranging a program that will attract both young and old alike . . . The Rabbi is a recent benedict—married only eight months ago . . . Phinneas Byron tells the story of Judge Jonah Goldstein, who fined an offender fifty dollars for some infraction of the law . . . "But, Your Honor, I didn't know the law," the man protested . . . "Then you're getting a bargain," the jurist retorted . . . "It cost me twelve years in college and $20,000 to learn it . . ." Practically the last social affair of this year will take place Christmas nite at the Biltmore Hotel, when the Home for Aged stages its annual Charity Ball . . . This event deserves your support, this year especially, since the Home was unable to hold its yearly carnival . . . P. S. You can't win a war without spending money . . . C. — Announcing that the Jews of Palestine are ready to put into the field a military force of at least four divisions to fight alongside Britain against the common enemy in the Middle East, Judge Louis E. Levinthal, president of the Zionist Organization of America, speaking here, strongly criticized the British Government for its rejection of the proposal to establish a separate Jewish army and for continuing in force the "infamous White Paper issued by the Chamberlain Government in 1939."

Disney's Dumbo On Albee Screen

A host of funny and fascinating new characters are introduced in Walt Disney's newest feature-length production, "Dumbo," now showing at the RKO Albee Theatre.

The film relates the story of a baby elephant who was born with enormous flapping ears, which make him a figure of fun and the butt of all circus pranksters. His experiences and adventures, told with delightful Disney humor and photographed in technicolor, makes the picture fine entertainment.

The Albee's co-feature is "Obliging Young Lady."

NUTRITION FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW

ABOUT MILK

Milk has a prominent place in everyone's diet because of its outstanding food value - calcium, vitamins A and G, and protein. In terms of money value, from one-fifth to one-third of your allowance for food should be spent for milk. It contributes more to good nutrition than does any other single food. The daily quota of a quart of milk for children and a pint for adults may be in the form of bottled milk, evaporated milk, or cheese. Choose the form best suited to your pocketbook, but be sure your family is getting its quota of milk.
