The U. S. O.

With a million of young American men in training at navy and army stations, consideration for their recreational hours must concern the families of these boys and the citizens in towns near the training centers.

Rabbi Israel, of Baltimore, this week described soldiers and sailors as being no different from young men of similar age anywhere. They want "good, clean, decent fun," he added, and only turn to other things when such recreation is not provided.

In Rhode Island the United Service Organization, of which the Jewish Welfare Board is an affiliate, is currently conducting a campaign for $95,000. Here is a golden opportunity for prompt action to show the world that the country is behind the defense effort. Defense behind the lines is as important as action on the bullet-scarred front.

At Long Last

American Jewry can only applaud the intensified efforts of the Federal and State governments to clear out Nazi sabotage and its related activities from this country.

The arrest of Dr. Kurt Heinrich Rieth, who entered the United States after having made allegedly fraudulent statements about his past record, takes from the scene a Nazi who has carried on nefarious scheming in both hemispheres. What damage he did during his recent tour through South America will probably come out sooner or later.

Similarly, the closing of the German-American Bund's Camp Nordland in New Jersey and the revocation of the Bund Charter by the State legislature are signs that sterner treatment lies ahead for saboteurs.

A hundred million vigilant eyes and a hundred million strong arms are necessary to overcome the vicious octopus stretching its tentacles from Berlin.

Congressman Edelstein

The exact cause will never be known. But it remains on record forever that Congressman M. Michael Edelstein dropped dead in the lobby of the House of Representatives after delivering an impassioned reply to a fellow-Congressman who had just permitted himself the luxury of a slurring remark against the Jews.

Congressman Edelstein did not need to commit this final courageous act to prove that he was a good Jew. It may have been necessary, however, to bring to the country as a whole and to American Jewry in particular an awareness of the dangerously shifting ground on which we tread. Careless tongues betray careless thoughts, and careless thoughts in the halls of government betray influences as powerful as they are warped.

As Congressman Edelstein goes to his rest, we must stir from ours; we must stand ready to defend our rights as Americans to think as we wish and to believe as our conscience dictates.

Eighty per cent of American houses were built without benefit of architect, a survey shows. That's probably the reason the American housewife can't ever get the furniture arranged the way she wants it. — Boston Globe.

Congress Tightens Alien Control

Lawyers Score Hobbs Concentration Camp Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The drive in Congress to tighten defense has also led to the multiplication of bills affecting aliens. Senator van Nuys introduced a bill to give the President drastic powers to regulate the entry and movement of aliens in the United States.

The House has before it a Senate-passed measure to authorize U. S. consular officers to refuse visas to aliens whose admission is deemed "inimical to the public interest."

Although Solicitor General Biddle recently expressed approval of the Hobbs concentration camp bill, the National Lawyers' Guild has denounced it as comparable to "the infamous alien and sedition laws of 1798." The bill would deprive Americans of the right of petition and free speech, the Guild told Chairman Adolph J. Sabath of the House Rules Committee, which has not yet reported out the measure.

Pleads for Men Who Beat Him Up

NEW YORK. — Michael Kluger, 34-year-old unemployed kosher butcher of this city, pleaded for and obtained the release of four men who had beaten and injured him when he objected to their attacks on President Roosevelt and Governor Lehman.

Magistrate Peter N. Horn heard the case. After Kluger's statement: "This is the greatest country in the world. Why should we fight each other?" the judge said: "What this man has done is the spirit of America. I will suspend sentence."

Annual Report of The Children's Home of R. I.

BY MAURICE STOLLERMAN Superintendent

The report of 1940 is but a continuation of the fascinating adventure and inspiring romance of The Jewish Children's Home of Rhode Island. It is the pulsating romance of America — expressing her love for children and seeking for them equal rights and opportunities for life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

It is the romance of a home — constant in its love and furnished with American sentiment, social consciousness, and religious zeal. It is, indeed, a fortress of democracy-guarding, conserving, and developing the most precious resources.

In the application of our child-care philosophy and child-guidance principles, we have recognized that the child needs to have a conviction of his own intrinsic worth as a person, and also a conviction that he has a significant and secure place in the community. He must be given assurances that he is a person of dignity and worth and that his own ideals have weight in the scales of human destiny. Such assurance is heightened in the child because of the opportunities given

Defenders of Palestine

JERUSALEM. — These soldiers are part of the many thousands of Jewish boys serving with the British military forces in the Middle East. Since the invasion of Syria, tension in Palestine has eased. The demand for arms to defend the Jewish Homeland has grown more insistent now that the Syrian adventure has extended the time available for obtaining equipment.

U. S. Distress No Deterrent To Vichy "Copy-Cat" Action

GENEVA. — The avowed displeasure of the United States with the Vichy government, and Cordell Hull's stinging remarks on the collaboration with the Nazis in Syria, have not halted the progressive anti-Semitic program under way in both parts of France.

In Paris, which is completely under Nazi rule, the Action Fran-

Arrest 345 On Smuggling Charges

GENEVA. — Nazi authorities in Lodz, Nazi-occupied Poland, have arrested 345 Jews on the charge that they smuggled food into the ghetto, it was reported here. Nearly 200 of the arrested Jews have already been tried and sentenced to long prison terms. Others received heavy fines.

caise, an anti-Semitic paper even under the Republic, has come out with further attacks on the Jews. The paper demands the revocation of French citizenship for all Jews and the dissolution of mixed marriages.

The return of Xavier Vallat, the Commissioner General for Jewish Questions, to unoccupied France brings closer the drastic action unquestionably contemplated by the Vichy government. Vallat spent several weeks in unoccupied France, observing Nazi methods of dealing with the Jews.

Arrests have been numerous in both parts of France. Speculation is usually offered as the reason.

New Haven Jews On Robin Moor

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cohen of this city were passengers on the Robin Moor, reported sunk in the South Atlantic by U-boat action.

Cohen was on his way to Durban, South Africa, to manage the Metro Theater there. He had formerly been manager of a theater in Calcutta, India. Mrs. Cohen, whom Cohen met while managing a theater here, was active in theatrical and radio work.

All Synagogues Closed in Paris

ZURICH. — All synagogues in Paris, with one exception, have been closed by the Nazi occupation authorities, according to Paris newspapers reaching here.

The newspapers also reveal that a new wave of anti-Jewish propaganda is being conducted in Paris and other Nazi-occupied French cities. This propaganda aims to justify the rounding-up of thousands of alien Jews for internment in concentration camps and the recently-proclaimed rigid anti-Jewish laws.

BANED FROM RELIEF

ZURICH. — Jews in Rumania will not receive any relief funds set aside for victims of the earthquake it was reported from Bucharest.

Few Jews Known As Interventionists

Figures of N. Y. State Give Revealing Picture

NEW YORK. — In view of the efforts being made by certain isolationist forces to delude the public into thinking that the country is being pushed into war by Jewish war mongers, a survey conducted by the Gallup Polls revealed that in the 10 most "interventionist" states, the proportion of Jews is far below the proportion of the country generally.

Originally published in the New York Times, the survey states that the above-mentioned 10 states are Florida, Arizona, Wyoming, Texas, Alabama, North Carolina, Colorado, Mississippi, Virginia and Arkansas.

According to statistics assembled by Dr. H. S. Linfield, printed in the American Jewish Year Book, Jews in this country for the year 1937 represented 3.60% of the total population of the country. In the 10 "interventionist" states, Jews represent not quite 0.7% of the total population.

The 10 most "isolationist" states, as revealed by the same poll are Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Illinois, Michigan and Nebraska. In these 10 states the Jewish population is more than four times as great as in the 10 most "interventionist" states.

It is also interesting that New

F.D.R. Frowns on Joint Campaigns

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Jewish campaign executives heaved a sigh of relief when President Roosevelt announced that he was opposed to the merging of all big internal and overseas campaigns, as some communities had been planning to save wear and tear on drive leaders and perhaps money to prospects.

Several Jewish Welfare Fund leaders in communities where drives are held in the fall had been expecting a unification of their own overseas drives with those of the Red Cross and the U.S.O. But the President's letter, believed to have been inspired by the likelihood that less rather than more money would be raised by such mergers, will probably halt this trend.

Donate Trees In Abramovitz Honor

Charles Temkin, former chairman of the Jewish National Fund this week announced that the following friends of the late Morris Abramovitz have authorized the planting of trees in Palestine in his memory:

Maurice Cooper, Samuel R. Cohen, Mrs. Benjamin Blacher, Louis Temkin, Charles Temkin, George Pullman, David Swartz, Mrs. J. Ernstof, Harry Katz, Mrs. Morris Felder, Samuel Michaelson, Albert Rosen and Harry Singer.

These trees are in addition to the 100 that were subscribed by the immediate family shortly after the death of Mr. Abramovitz.

NEW YORK. — Harold Proshansky is 20 years old, unmarried, but—on the word of many Bronx mothers—a marvelous hand with a baby. He has developed a "special way" to hold a baby and talk to it to end crying spells. NOTES OF AN INNOCENT BYSTANDER:

In Case You Didded Know: A pet newspaper man legend is this one. "A newspaper man is a guy who sits at his window looking down at the passing parade. Sooner or later everybody he knows passes by. And he can drop a flower—or a flower pot!

Sweet and Lovely: Tito Guizar tells about Mrs. Mefoofsky who was saying ta-ta to her drafted darling. "Be a good boy, Sam," she cautioned, "and when you get to camp—try to be punctual in the mornings, so you don't keep breakfast waiting."

Add Sillies: Vic Mature sends the one about the horse in a maiden race at Belmont. He asked the steed in the next stall: "Have you ever run here before?" When the other nag nodded "yop", the newcomer replied happily: "Good! I'll follow you around. It's my first time here and I'd hate to get lost."

In Fewer Words: "The Hollywood smoothie," grieves Hedy Lamarr, "takes back the car he's given the girl when the romance

The Story Tellers: Fortune lists the problems America is confronted with, and describes the situation as "the most desperate emergency that the democratic world ever faced." Senator Wheeler, who has a phrase to answer every fact, probably would call that "preaching fear"... Take a look at the most poisonous of the theatergoers in the late Scott Fitzgerald's Esquire piece. You've been annoyed often by the same type of noisy stew bum, whom the author called "The Woman from Twenty-One"... Anyhow, it's the one about the two acrobats who never played in New York and were booked into the city's "biggest theater." They decided to look at the place on their layoff period and went to the Met Opera House by mistake.

They were awed by the size of the Met and the enormous orchestra. Then, when the musicians played the first strains, one beefed: "How do you like that! They swiped our music?"

Pawt. Synagogue To Hold Outing

An all-day outing for children of the Daily Hebrew and Sunday Schools of the Congregation Ahavat Sholom of Pawtucket and Central Falls, will be held on Sunday at Mills, Mass. It was announced this week by Rabbi Aaron Goldin. Leo Sonkin and Sidney Feldman are in charge of arrangements.

Buses will leave from the Synagogue at 10:30 on Sunday morning. Reservations have been received for numerous parents to accompany the children.

The school committee comprises Abraham Fishman, president of the Congregation; Mrs. Benjamin Goldenberg, president of the Sisterhood, Louis Schwartz, Barney Tetelbaum, Samuel Steingold, Leo Schwartz, and the Mesdames Harry Smith, Harry Gershman and Robert Fields. Rabbi Goldin is principal while the faculty includes Louis Miller, Edith Sonkin, Ray Goldin and Esther Lucknsiansky.

been awarded a scholarship to Brown University.

I see him—brush in hand painting pictures, skillfully designed and harmoniously blended. In penetrating thought; creative, imaginative, interpreting in colors with the soul of an artist surrounded by his paintings many of which adorn the walls of our home.

I see her as the private secretary—neatly arranging her executive's desk, promptly answering calls, courteously receiving visitors, sensibly and impressively talking with people. Is this the child who but a few years ago was so timid and shy?

His sleeves rolled up, collar opened; amid the clamor of hammers, saws, and machines rhythmically spelling industry, —he cuts and plans, looks at blue prints, tests and measures. Things cannot only appear right to him—they must be right. Is this the child who broke his own things and destroyed the creations of others? Footprints of constructive child-guidance.

And who is this young man? He is the boys' supervisor. Yes, this boy who but yesterday asked me to tell him a story when he was put to bed. He now puts other small children to bed with a sense of relief and lingering devotion. And remembering his own childhood days, he proceeds to tell them a story as their eyelids begin to droop. Yes, he wants to be a superintendent of a children's home.

We see him clad in a soldier's uniform. He is ready to defend the flag and that for which it stands—and which but yesterday he so proudly raised each morning at Camp Jori.

The telephone has just rung. She says, "I shall be home late for dinner and I am bringing a friend with me, so please try to have something special."

Thus we have traced the footprints in relation to their personal adjustments.

What about the footprints of their social consciousness and communal responsibilities?

He writes: "Enclosed please find the sum of $100, which I desire to contribute to the children's camp fund." Is this the boy who but a few years ago shared his pennies with the little children who had none? Watch him—he embodies communal leadership and social responsibility.

Footprints of a feeling of security and a sense of belonging. Therein lies the triumph of our home and its principles of child-guidance.

We have tried to interpret to ourselves the objectives of our home. The by-products are permanent. We do not mean that we have always made a touchdown or a homerun. But surely, our children within their individual capacities and abilities have gained a good many yards and one or more bases. Our hope, therefore, for the future of the children rests primarily on the combined educational and spiritual influences which our home brings to bear. We seek to create a life for our children which is full of rich educational influences. We seek to unfold children through the medium of guidance.

Their cooperation is not a tax to be collected—but a prize to be won with tools of sympathy and understanding—and in this we have succeeded. Yes, to understand a child, to understand his complex personality, to know his ambitions, his urges, his drives, and to steer through the traffic of his emotional and personality makeup.

Escape FROM SILENCE

Sentenced to silence by the removal of their vocal cords, nearly a hundred New England men and women have escaped, have been enabled to speak again... by means of an artificial larynx.

This ingenious instrument is a by-product of the continuous research of the Bell Telephone Laboratories and is manufactured by the Western Electric Company. Through the wholehearted cooperation of the medical profession with the Medical Department of the New England Telephone Company, patients whose larynx must be removed are not only fitted with this artificial larynx but also instructed in its use.

For those subscribers whose hearing is less than normal... there is the telephone amplifier. This device can be connected to any telephone instrument, and the connection is such that it may be switched off whenever the telephone is to be used by those with normal hearing.

These by-products of the telephone industry seem the more remarkable because they are so unusual. But the usual good service of the everyday telephone, for all its familiarity, is every bit as remarkable.

Fain - Wald

A picturesque June wedding occurred last Sunday afternoon, 12:30 o'clock in the Parlours of the Narragansett Hotel, when Miss Beatrice Wald, daughter of Mrs. Sol Wald of New York City, became the bride of Archie Fain, son of Mrs. Ida Fain of Woodbine street, this city. Rabbi Israel M. Goldman of Temple Emanuel performed the single-ring nuptials under a bower adorned with white peonies, carnations and baby's breath. Aisle posts were covered with peonies, and white smilax were used on the chandeliers. The windows were banked with woodwardia and palms.

A gown of ivory lace, en train, was worn by the bride. It was fashioned with a very full skirt, long tight sleeves, and a low, heart-shaped neckline. Her three-quarter length veil was attached to a lace cap, made with a crown of orange blossoms, and she carried a white Bible, covered with white orchids.

Miss Doris Wald attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a gown of chartreuse mousseline-de-soie. The frock was made with a high neckline and long puffed sleeves. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet. Irving Fleischman was in attendance as best man.

The bride's mother was smartly attired in a gown of powder blue chiffon, with a small matching hat, and she wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. Fain's gown was of becoming aqua crepe, set with lace insertions. She also wore orchids.

Cocktails were served and a reception was held after the ceremony, followed by a dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fain left by plane for a month's sojourn in California, and on returning will make their home in this city.

Shill - Garfinkel

At a simple ceremony, performed in Temple Beth El last Sunday afternoon, Miss Evelyn Ruth Garfinkel, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Garfinkel of 24 Wheaton street, became the bride of Elliot Shill, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shill of New Bedford. Rabbi William G. Brande solemnized the single-ring ceremony.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a Princess gown of velvety marquisette, with a sweetheart neckline and leg o'mutton sleeves. Her short veil fell from a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a white prayer book, with orchids and sweet-peas.

Miss Roslyn Garfinkel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a gown of light blue tulle, with a tight-fitting bodice, and full skirt. With it, she wore a matching hat, trimmed with blue forget-me-nots. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet with blue ribbon streamers.

James Shill, brother of the bridegroom was best man, while ushers were Sheldon Silverman and Sheldon Horvitz, of New Bedford.

For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

Dancing, dining—and laughter light
This was the order of the nite . . .
In being part of the happy throng
Many a life they helped prolong . . .

Charity beckoned, and a large gay crowd of young folks responded last Tuesday nite, when Rhode Island's Auxiliary of the Jewish Consumptive Relief Society held its annual dinner dance in the Narragansett Hotel's Ballroom . . . The local chapter is a most active one, and its numerous endeavors throughout the season have all been extremely successful . . . Funds raised you know, aid in the group's maintenance of the Denver, Colorado, hospital, and it was a wonderful sum they could send from Tuesday's event . . .

Summer informality of spirit invaded the party, but the gowns retained formality in the grand manner . . .

Mrs. Si Greenberg was fetching in a gown of starched white chiffon, with a full skirt, dotted with silver, a deep V-neck and those ultra new Brigance Baroque sleeves . . . Subtle nuances, ranging from pale lavenders lit with pink, to purples and plums deep as night, were the colours of Mrs. John Kaplan's dream of a tulle gown. A delightful gown was worn by Mrs. Allen Strauss, with its lip-stick red silk jersey top, and stiff, stand-outish skirt of dotted white organdie . . .

Carefree and gay was Mrs. Jack Rosenblatt in a frock of navy blue, with a white bodice, and a dashing tie of flaming red at the neckline . . . Mrs. William Amber's black gown was topped by a jacket appliqued with gold . . . A pretty landscape design was used for the green printed frock of Mrs. Leo Greenberg, with its full skirt of white . . .

An exotic choice was the roman-striped and black gown worn by Mrs. Harry Goldenberg . . . Mrs. Charles Koirth was there in an enchanting frock of black lace, topped by a bodice of white silk jersey . . . A red belt twisted itself around the waist . . . A voluminous skirt, splashed with big floral print highlighted the white topped frock selected by Mrs. Martin Bernstein . . .

Soft lines and easy ones were featured in a chic beige dress-maker frock on Mrs. Harry Kaplan . . . Mrs. Nat Roy was disarmingly lovely in a white gown, with delicate floral detailing . . . Lending the glamour touch was her jewel-studded green bolero jacket . . . Mrs. Irving Goodwin's flattering frock was of green traveller's check in silk jersey . . .

Mrs. Israel R. Dickens was there, looking grand in picturesque black lace . . . A unique gown of black alpaca, with jacket of gold was smartly selected by Mrs. Harold Kelman . . . A whispering black taffeta skirt, contrasted the black velvet top of Mrs. Louis Uloff's gown . . . A smart frock of smoothly tailored white silk jersey was worn by Mrs. Morris Ratush, while Mrs. Selig Gordon was a charming portrait in jet lace, with an orchid poised in her tresses . . .

The Land of The Free

(This is the second in a series of true stories taken from the files of the R. I. Refugee Service.)

The C's were an exhausted, dazed family when they came to America a year ago. They could think only of being able to rest at last. For three years they had traveled from one city to another, trying to escape the shadow of Hitler. After Mr. C's business in Austria collapsed with the Anschluss, he and his wife fled to Finland, where their child was born. There was no peace there. The bombing of Finland was horrible; they spent days and nights in shelters and hospitals. The drone of planes, guns and bombs terrified them. They still seem unable to realize that they managed, somehow, to escape.

They came to Providence about six months ago. Providence, with a promise of peace in its name, appealed to them. They were a more hopeful eager group, and all Mr. C. asked was a chance to work and support his family.

Through the help of the R. I. Refugee Service, a home was found and necessary furniture bought. The Employment Committee succeeded in finding a job for Mr. C. in a jewelry shop, where he was trained to do the work. He is now regularly employed and supporting his family. With the Refugee Office, Mrs. C. has discussed the problem of her parents who wish to leave Austria to come to this country. Many details in helping them migrate have been explained — affidavits, sponsors, committees abroad, national and international organizations — and the guidance given along these lines has been of assistance to the C's in starting the long, complicated procedure of migration.

Mr. and Mrs. C. are diligently learning English, have applied for citizenship papers, and are making every effort to become real Americans. They are, of course, disturbed by world conditions and smile ironically when they say that the first American word they learned was "defense."

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

There's a story about town that Beth Israel is contemplating the purchase of Temple Beth El, instead of re-building the damaged structure on Niagara street . . . If true, and if negotiations could be carried out to a successful conclusion, it would enable Beth El to fulfill a dream they've had for many years — to establish on the East Side of the city, where more than sixty per cent of their members reside . . .

Detrimental Doings

The latest circular in connection with the Waad Hacashruth - Sons of Abraham dispute has assumed mysterious aspects . . . One side claims that the pictured letter was solely for the benefit of the National Rabbinical Association . . . They insist that their opponents had the circular photographed, printed and distributed to discredit them throughout the city . . . Whatever version is correct, matters little . . . The fact remains that another disgraceful episode has occurred and can do the Jewish community no good . . .

June Joys

The flood of weddings throughout the state continues . . . Madeleine Cohen and Jordan Feinstein were married last Sunday at the home of the bridegroom's mother in Tiverton, R. I. . . Ruth Cohen and Al Salk will recite their marriage vows to Rabbi Morris Schussheim on Sunday afternoon at Temple Beth El . . . Sayde Moskoll and Jack Anhalt were among the many who said "I Do" last Sunday, at Beth El, and are now on a wedding trip to Milwaukee, where they will visit the bride's parents . . .

The tragic death in childbirth, of Mrs. Leah Friedman has shocked hundreds of people . . . The Benjamin Maybergs are celebrating an anniversary today (Friday) . . . Milton Cokin of Pawtucket, a second lieutenant in the U. S. Marines, was home last week on a furlough . . . Harry Singer leaves this Sunday to attend the Tea and Coffee Convention in Detroit . . . Milton Ernest and Miles Sydney are readying their sailboats for a busy season on the rolling seas . . .

Loads of Providence youths were the center of attraction of admiring friends and parents at various commencements throughout New England this week . . . A few graduations include Natalie Rosen and Shirley Logan from Simmons . . . Alfred Green of Pawtucket, from Rhode Island State College . . . Morton P. Rosenberg from the University of Maryland Law School . . . Howard Weiner, son of the Alex Weiners, received a Phi Beta Kappa award at Brown this week, while Sylvia B. Rose daughter of the Harry Roses also got a Phi Beta Kappa key at Pembroke College . . .

Will anyone ever expose those wealthy Jews who wanted to reach Lord Halifax to convince him that it would be a misfortune if England yielded to American pleas to admit several hundred thousand Jewish refugees from Europe into Palestine? . . . Fannie Hurst, sometimes called America's first lady of the novel, is hard at work on a new piece of fiction . . . She refuses to go by plane when she travels because a train ride gives her more time to dictate to her secretary . . .

Smilin' in The Shower and Comin' Out Like New

When you have your car washed here at GRAY'S NEMO AUTO LAUNDRY and PARKING LOT it really glistens. We brush your upholstery and vacuum the inside of your car, and wait till you see the terrific job we do on the outside. You'll value your car more when it looks as swell as only we can make it look.

We use the new VAPO-WASH method, the only warm water power wash, which removes dirt and grime that cold water can't touch . . . It gives your car that gleaming finish that's so pleasing.
