A Rude Awakening

News that motorized German troops are now quartered in Syria emphasizes the urgency of providing the Jews of Palestine with the necessary requisites.

This danger, through the Near East back door, is now recognized by the British press. "Can we be confident that we are ready to meet a German thrust through Syria?" asked the Manchester Guardian. "One obvious course is to strengthen our friends in Palestine. Yet the government has not yet, it seems, given authority for the enrollment of Jews for the defense of their National Home. Is the Palestine Administration waiting until the Germans land?"

The New Statesman, discussing the situation, said: "We have persistently cold-shouldered and neglected our Jewish friends in Palestine. And now they face the possibility of tragedy."

The folly of the British policy is commented upon by N. H. Brailsford who said, "By denying the Jews military supplies we have exposed them to tragic peril, because we choose to appease the more reactionary of the Arab grandees, who have now turned against us."

When U. S. army men state that it takes more than a year to train soldiers to handle modern mechanized equipment and arms, it is obvious that any last-minute preparations by the British government can hardly alter the military situation.

Once more the lack of imagination and attempting to play both ends toward the middle has taken its toll of British prestige.

"To Understand . . ."

"To understand everything is to forgive everything." The saying comes, quite unexpectedly, from the French. Americans may wish to remember it now. For it is more representative of the true French character than are the bitter tirades against the United States now appearing in the Paris press.

Particularly disappointing is one that speaks as from Lafayette to President Roosevelt, with sharp sarcasm. Americans will never forget Lafayette, as the article states, but they will always associate him with a fight for freedom, not with a surrender to tyranny.

Another of these articles is headed: "Flour Blackmail—American Charity Nothing But Means of Political Pressure." The editing of Berlin is all too plain in this.

But is this the voice of France? Americans will never believe it is. "To understand everything is to forgive everything." Much of what is said in France today, much of what is done by French leaders, needs to be understood in the light of circumstances of which a report by the Christian Science Monitor on French prisoners held in Germany is only a grim example:

"There is scarcely a family in France that is without at least one captive."

We are prone to link the bicycle with a past era, the 1890's. How far that is from the truth, comments Hugh J. Powell in the Coffeyville Journal, is evidenced by figures at hand showing more than a million bicycles were manufactured in this country in 1939 and again in 1940. —Kansas City Star.

Home for Aged Plans Infirmary

Campaign Dates for Funds to be Announced

At a special session, held by the Board of Directors, Jewish Home for Aged this week, a plan was presented for construction of an infirmary, which will be an addition of a third floor, to the present two-story structure on Hillside avenue. The plan, with a purpose of caring for the chronically ill-aged of the city and state, also proposed the installation of an elevator.

Samuel Magid, president of the Home, who presided during the meeting, has announced that cooperation of each board member has been assured, and that a campaign will be held to raise funds for the addition. Dates of the campaign will be announced later.

Hitler Now Rules Five Million Jews

LONDON. — With Hitler's successes in the Balkan states, his warfare against the Jews has netted him a group of five million people, subject to his every whim and caprice.

The Jewish population of the world prior to the present war was estimated to be 16,000,000. Of these the German Fuehrer controls in Nazi Poland, 2,000,000; Roumania, 800,000; in Greater Germany, including the Reich, Austria and Danzig, 400,000; in Hungary, 500,000; in the occupied part of France, 250,000; Czecho-Slovakia, 150,000; Holland, 150,000; Belgium, 70,000; Yugoslavia, 100,000; Greece, 70,000; Italy, 50,000; Bulgaria, 50,000; and in Norway and Denmark, approximately 10,000.

GENEVA. — Celebrating acquisition of territories from fallen Greece and Yugoslavia, King Boris of Bulgaria has granted amnesty to a large number of political prisoners but specifically excluded Jews.

Labor Scarcity May Bias Decision

Accept War Vet Home For Temporary Quarters

Faced with the predicament of scarcity of materials and labor, officials of Temple Beth-Israel, this week announced that no decision had been reached on the rebuilding or remodeling of the Temple which was severely damaged in a two alarm fire last Sunday morning.

Temporary services are being held in the quarters of the Jewish War Veterans at 100 Niagara street, it was revealed by Jacob Licht, president of the Temple, who added, "Everyone has been very kind and I would like to express the deep appreciation of the Temple for the many offers of halls and assistance."

Gestapo Hushes Diamond Scandal

LONDON. — A scandal involving a number of high officials in the Nazified Slovakian government, who sequestered for their own use $1,000,000 worth of jewelry confiscated by the government from Jews, was hushed up by Nazi Gestapo agents to prevent public demonstrations, according to reports received in Czecho-Slovakian circles here.

Following the confiscation of the jewelry from Jewish merchants the government announced that the valuables had been placed in a special vault in the government bank in Slovakia. The gems allegedly were to finance a relief program for the country's poor.

Doctors Must Use Yellow Paper

LONDON.—All Slovakian Jewish doctors are ordered to write their prescriptions on yellow paper. On each must be plainly set forth: "This prescription is intended for Jewish patients only." Since Hitler took possession of the country the authorities, to please him, lay awake nights to invent new cruelties for the Jews.

Reversal of Zoning Board Decision Sought by Hospital

A reversal in a Zoning Board decision which would have permitted a funeral parlor to function adjacent to the Miriam Hospital was sought this week by the Hospital in Superior Court. Hearing on the matter will occur on June 18. The petition was filed by Max Grant through the Hospital counsel, Samuel Temkin, of Temkin & Temkin.

Permission to the Church of the Messiah, owner of the property, to use the dwelling house at 45 Parade street for funeral purposes was granted by the board on May 6, over objections submitted by Superintendent Charles M. Hoffman of the hospital.

It is contended the hospital has planned to erect a wing to be used for private patients on the lot adjacent to the church property, and that establishment of a funeral home would depreciate the hospital property's value and might force abandonment of expansion plans, thus curtailing its service and usefulness to the community.

Pointing out this is the first instance since the zoning ordinance was adopted that permission has been granted to use a dwelling house as a funeral parlor in an apartment house district, the hospital charges the board with having abused its discretion and acted unjustly and without reasonable consideration of the hospital's interests.

It is not in the public interest nor does it serve public convenience to have a funeral home established on property adjacent to a hospital, the petition said, and if this were allowed the hospital patients would be affected adversely and unduly disturbed.

Temple Prepares Testimonial Dinner

State, City Officials To Attend Ceremonies

Temple Beth-Israel, following a four-day celebration this week-end on the occasion of its 20th anniversary, will present a testimonial dinner to its spiritual leader since 1923, Rabbi Morris Schussheim, on Monday evening, 6:30 o'clock, in the Narragansett Hotel. Dr. Elias Solomon of New York will be guest speaker.

Rabbi Schussheim came to Providence shortly after his ordination and the present celebration of the Congregation coincides with his own 20th anniversary in the ministry. At the time of his arrival here, Temple Beth-Israel was the only conservative Congregation in Rhode Island. As a result of the accomplishments of the Temple under his ministrations the organization of similar Temples was encouraged.

In 1929, Rabbi Schussheim and his family left for Palestine. While away from Providence he participated in all events of interest to Temple Beth-Israel, returning for the observance of the Temple's 10th anniversary at which time a substantial sum was raised following his appeal.

Rabbi Schussheim became the Temple's leader once more in 1933 and since then the Congregation has nearly tripled in size and has become firmly established financially and spiritually.

Japan Threatens To Exile Refugees

SHANGHAI. — The Japanese authorities are threatening deportation of Jewish emigrants from Kobe to the island of Sakhalin in Siberia, it was learned here. The emigrants are refugees from Lithuania who were given transit through Soviet Russia and Japan, but cannot proceed to countries of destination because of visa complications and shortage of steamer accommodations.

Many of the refugees stranded in Japan are moving to Shanghai, adding to the already swollen refugee population here. Jewish refugees also continue to arrive here from Berlin, Vienna, Prague and Poland.

Bombed Jewish Quarters Inspected

LONDON. — King George and Queen Elizabeth visited the badly-damaged East End district of London immediately after the fierce Nazi air-raid on London, which took a heavy toll of life and caused considerable destruction in the Jewish quarter. The royal couple spoke with many Jews who were made homeless by the air-raid. They visited the hospitals and comforted victims. All member synagogues of the United Synagogue Federation were destroyed in the raid.

Music

Ralph Einstein Recital in Boston

It remains a curious fact that with a few noted exceptions, the children of musicians seldom inherit the gifts of their progenitors, but the critical listener to Ralph Einstein's performance must acknowledge that we have here an exception, and that the young artist adds a great deal to the already excellent reputation of his musical home.

The piano recital, which was given recently in Boston, under the direction of Felix Fox, opened with the Sonata, G major and C minor, by Scarlatti, followed by Bach's Partita No. 1. The young artist performed with a musical and soulful tone, which demands more than ordinary mechanical skill. It is extremely difficult—the art of rendering several distinct voice parts simultaneously, known as polyphony. If, in a few years, the left hand of the artist grows to the strength which the right hand already possesses, further development in the mastery of polyphony playing will be seen.

I placed the art of interpretation before technical study, and was greatly satisfied that young Einstein studied this problem in his performances of Schubert's Impromptu, B flat major, and Sonata, Op. 31, No. 2 by Beethoven. The Adagio in Beethoven's Sonata could have been more celestial, but the other parts were performed with surprising understanding.

Concluding selections, by Chopin, Rachmaninoff, Shostakovich, Debussy and Paderewski, were rendered with much intelligence. The sentiments and feelings of those compositions found very promising interpretations in Ralph Einstein's performance. Technical difficulties were no problem to the young artist.

Quisling to Revive Ancient Norse Law

STOCKHOLM. — Vidkun Quisling, who betrayed Norway to the Nazis and was rewarded by being named Fuehrer of that country, told Swedish journalists this week that he plans to revive the Norwegian law of nearly 100 years ago forbidding Jews to enter Norway.

While Quisling was making public his program, patriotic Norwegian groups secretly distributed circulars condemning the Nazi regime and calling upon the population to shun anti-Semitic propaganda. The circulars, many of them signed by clergymen, urged Norwegians not to yield to despair and to maintain belief in democratic traditions and ideals.

PRIVATE PAPERS OF A CUB REPORTER:

Here's a story about the time Goering was summoned to Hitler's private chambers to explain the loss of 20 Messerschmitts in a single night's raid . . . Hitler was nervously biting the tips of his paws and moaning over the sour news . . . This disconcerted Hermann . . . "Why are you so worried over 20 planes?" he said. "After all, we still have many more than they" . . . Hitler flew into a tantrum . . . "You fool!" he screamed. "Can't you see disaster ahead? At this rate we'll soon outnumber them only five to one!"

Gene Fowler addressed the school of journalism at the Univ. of Missouri . . . Knowing Fowler's colorful reputation and good nature, the authorities there asked him to lay off "muscle" journalism and other harsh aspects of newsgathering in his talk . . . Fowler agreed, delivered a sugary lecture on the moral code of reporters and the ethics of journalism, all couched (and sound asleep) in copybook maxims . . . Later, he gathered the students and led them outside onto the lawn . . . "Lissen," he said softly, "every word I said in there was strictly off the pitchfork! The most important thing in journalism is the expense account. And remember this—drinking and gambling expenses are just as legitimate as cab fares and phone calls—to a guy tracking down a story!"

Genevieve Rowe, the canary, offered this repartee between Adolf and Goebbels. Hitler sent for Joe and said: "Did you see what that awful foreign correspondent wrote about me in his piece yesterday? He said I was a murderer, a thief, a butcher—well, you must have read it. I won't stand for it!" "What'll I do?" asked Goebbels, "have him purged or expelled?" "No," said the mustache, "I'm gonna make him prove it!"

Clarke Robinson has been squiring a couple of British sailors about town. Took them to the Polo Grounds, the Stadium, Radio City Music Hall, Jamaica race-track and several night clubs, winding up on the sixty-fifth floor at the Rainbow room . . . Later they went onto the balcony and looked over New York city by night from the sixty-fifth story—a magnificent sight . . . Robinson asked them what impressed and awed them most.

"I dunno," said one of them. "I think I should say what awed me most was the way you serve tea in those wee bags."

Roland Brown's reminder, to all Hollywood celebs (who get big heads) in the current heat wave in Hollywood: "In weather like this, don't forget—the cooling system gets the biggest billing!"

NEW YORK NEWSREEL:

The inspiring "I am an American Day" ceremonies in Central park—oceans of humanity making public their love affair with America. And the thousands of new citizens opening their hearts to the wonderful country that opened its gates to them . . . The sappers in Union square who wear their ignorance on their tongues and can't take heckling, although they demand freedom of speech for themselves.

For a WOMAN'S fancy

BY EDYTHE JAY

And now that their season is done
They can muse on it with pride
In their work and play there was fun
And charity's call was their guide . . .

As a fond farewell to a busy season, Junior Hadassah members wrote the last chapter in the story of their current activities, when they gathered last Wednesday nite in the Narragansett Ballroom for their annual Donor Dinner . . .

This reporter might say in passing that it's a little surprising to find so much enthusiasm and dexterity retained at this late date . . . As far as could be observed, the group was full enough of life and zealotness to be starting, rather than ending a season . . .

Commendation is here recorded for the very able committee of arrangements and a special nod goes to Lee's Dress Shop for its display of fine finery . . . Costumes for every minute of the day, from sun rise to moon-down, were modelled by Junior Hadassah's own mannequins, and as a proper climax, a June bride and her attendants concluded the show, as they marched in to the strains of "Lohengrin" . . .

Something new in these circles was the performance by Eve Tannenbaum and Ben Victor, double-piano team . . . Nimble-fingered, both of them, they provided a tuneful program including "Dark-Eyes," "Babes In Toyland," and numerous encores . . . Of not least importance, during the evening, was a timely address by Mr. Jackson Holtz, Boston counsellor at law . . .

Gracing the head table—Muriel Dauer, president of the group, in a crisp gown of white shark-skin, pleasant contrast to her dark coiffure . . . Mrs. Beatrice Uloff Miller, chairman, also chose white, on tailored lines, with signal red embroidery on the pocket . . . Ruth Orzeck wore a capricious gown of creamy lace, daintily embroidered on the bodice with petit point . . . A bodice of blue-grey brocaded satin topped Gladys Davis' frock of matching tulle . . . Celia Kapelow, all recovered from a recent tonsilectomy, was a darlin' in a graceful gown of blue net, banded with small rows of black lace . . . Tittian-tressed Ruth Ross made a striking portrait in her silk shantung gown of grass green, splashed boldly with white figures . . . It had tight-fitting long sleeves and heart-shaped neckline . . . Prettiest frock this side of Tahiti . . . Beatrice Gurwitz was demure in her selection of blue lace and net . . . Faye Dunder was there in Kelley green and white silk jersey, so good with her red hair. An impeccably tailored frock of white silk jersey, cut on statuesque lines, was chic as worn by Claire Ernest . . . Gold buttons were used as trim . . . Florence Godfrey was there in a gown of cobwebby black lace, with a skirt of white chiffon . . . Most effective . . . From where we sat, others at the head table were unbeknown to us . . .

Informally dressed were these femmes . . . Beatrice Klibanoff, who reminds us of Brenda Frazier, was a glamour girl in her own right, wearing a pastel plaid

MILCHIG NOVELTIES FOR HOT WEATHER MEALS

By FRANCES PECK
Heinz Home Institute

"Quick, easy and tempting!" These three requirements for hot weather meals are met by the two recipes given below. They are both inexpensive enough to be used for an ordinary every-day luncheon or Sunday night supper, and yet they are sufficiently fancy for a special occasion. Try them on the unsuspecting family at some milchig meal in the near future.

BEANS AND GRILLED PINEAPPLE

Here is a dish especially designed for spring and summer serving—oven-baked beans with grilled pineapple. You'll find the oven-baked beans used in this recipe, enriched with tomato sauce, make a delicious flavor harmony with tart canned pineapple. And this addition to your spring and summer repertoire gives you an entree that conveniently lends itself to quick serving.

Place in shallow casserole—
2 medium (18-oz.) cans* oven-baked beans, vegetarian style.

Cut in halves and place on top in attractive arrangement—
3 slices canned pineapple.

Dot with—Butter.

Bake in a moderate oven (375* F.) 30 minutes. (Serves 6.)

Note: Pineapple slices may be browned in skillet with butter and served on platter with beans, if desired.

*Made by Heinz—endorsed, of course, by the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America.

CREAMED SALMON WITH MUSHROOMS

In very short order, you can build a grand spring meal around creamed salmon with mushrooms. Serve the salmon on toast or waffles. For accompaniment, have a crisp salad and a green vegetable such as broccoli.

Melt in saucepan—
2 tablespoons butter.
Add, blending well—
3 tablespoons flour.

Cook until bubbling, then add—
1 medium (16-oz.) can* cream of mushroom soup.

Mix until thoroughly combined, then add—
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup chili sauce*

6 large ripe mission olives, sliced.
Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Clean and break into medium sized pieces—
1 1-lb. can red salmon.

Add salmon to sauce and heat thoroughly without stirring any more than necessary. Serve hot over toast, or on waffles. Serves 6.

Campaign For British Aid To Be Concluded June 10

With the campaign of the Inter-Faith Committee to Aid Great Britain closing on June 10, various communal leaders, in a meeting held Wednesday night at the Jewish Children's Home, 164 Summit avenue, issued an urgent appeal to every Jewish citizen to contribute to the project.

In a letter circularized this week, Walter I. Sundlun and Reuben Lipson, co-chairmen, Dr. Ilie Berger, vice-chairman, and Joseph Smith, chairman of the Executive Board, said:

"The Inter-Faith Committee to Aid Great Britain is now engaged in a campaign to provide mobile kitchens and ambulances for Great Britain and thus aid the civilian population of that country in its fight for liberty and civilization.

"The Jews of Rhode Island have been asked to provide three mobile kitchens. Each kitchen we donate will bear a seal stating, 'Donated By The Jewish Resident of Rhode Island.' The cost of each kitchen is $2,000, and our quota, therefore, is $6,000.

Greyhound Racing At Raynham Nightly

RAYNHAM. — Considerably more than $1,000,000 has been wagered at Raynham Park since the meeting of the Massasoit Greyhound Association opened there about two weeks ago. And of this considerable sum no insignificant portion has already been paid into the State Treasury to be used in connection with the disbursement of Old Age Assistance throughout our Commonwealth.

Racing at Raynham starts at 8:15 each night with the daily double windows closing ten minutes earlier at 8:05.

"The time is short and we must act promptly. R. I. Jews must be properly represented. We must help in the struggle and participate in the humane effort to purchase these mobile kitchens, which will move about the stricken areas of England and provide food and aid to the homeless and injured civilian population. Act at once. We must have your help.

"You can understand the situation better than we can explain it. We want every Jew and Jewess to give some contribution to this noble project. Will you send your check today to Rabbi Israel M. Goldman, treasurer, 164 Summit avenue, or phone Maurice Stollerman, secretary, GASpee 6022, and your check or contribution will be picked up?"

suit in ice cream colours, with a long sleeved blouse of off white . . . On her long jet locks, a tallish touque of navy straw . . . A frock of rosewood beige print, with a longish black jacket, and floral white necklace, was the fetching outfit worn by Bertha Feinstein, and on her curlylocks, an upturned hat of white straw . . . Mrs. Lou Kirshenbaum was looking grand in navy, with small blue figures as the print motif . . .

Large white polka dots figured on the purple dress of silk jersey, in which Sylvia Davis appeared . . . It had the deep-V-neckline, and large pearl buttons for trim . . . A unique outfit was the olive green frock and turban chosen by Paula Dauer, with its white coin dots . . . Barbara Feinstein was sweet and lovely in her dress of beige silk jersey, cut with a very full skirt of figured material . . . Colourful embroidery, with red the predominant hue, highlighted the beige and blue spun rayon frock of Evelyn Blazar . . . Roughish Heather tweed lent itself beautifully to Rose Altman's long-jacketed suit . . .

It's impossible to describe all the fashions modelled in the style review, but we will say that these young ladies — Evelyn Winn Zisseron, Gertrude Weisinger, Shirley Glass, Estelle Tarle, Harriet Harrison, Libby Dressler and Eunice Silverman—were well worthy of what they wore . . .

Scene Around Town

BY HENRY DAVIS

The biggest "did you hear" news of the week was the Temple Beth Israel two-alarm fire . . . Notified at 4 o'clock last Sunday morning that the Temple was a raging inferno, Rabbi Schussheim hurriedly dressed and despite the warnings of firemen, rushed into the Temple and saved the Torahs . . . The spirit of neighborliness was emphasized in the action of the Jewish War Veterans, who offered their home as temporary quarters and did their utmost to facilitate Confirmation Exercises that had to be held there . . . All in all, this emergency proved once more that unity and cooperativeness can be secured . . .
