Termite Hunting

Proponents of the hush-hush policy must be dismayed by the good fortune of newspapers and organizations, who through the exposure of Fascist and anti-Semitic movements have forced their discontinuance and the suppression of their newspapers.

How effective this anti-Fascist propaganda can be demonstrated by the following incidents: Lawrence Dennis was reported on February 27 as seeking an army commission. On April 15, this Fascist exponent had his application for a commission in the army denied.

Likewise on February 14, George Deatherage, leader of the Knights of White Camelia was holding down an important war job as engineer in charge of a $25,000,000 naval construction project. The light was turned on him and ten days later he was ousted.

Numerous other examples are available. But one fact remains indisputable. If the appeaser policy had been followed by everyone, the nation's war effort may have been seriously hindered. Key men in factories or the service cannot serve two masters at the same time.

Rubber Shortage

While the problem of gasoline appears uppermost in the minds of motorists, the real problem is the acute rubber shortage.

The Brookings Institution in a study by Charles L. Dearing, believes that there will be extension of gas-rationing on a nationwide basis. This drastic step in many states is not caused by a lack of gasoline but a desire, on the part of the government, to conserve rubber.

The public still does not appreciate the gravity of the situation. It may be necessary to pass a law prohibiting ownership of more than five tires to a family. This would immobilize 2,000,000 passenger cars now owned by two-car families. The Brookings survey believes even this step may not relieve the shortage. Confiscation of cars may be necessary before the crisis is over.

It is wise to face the situation realistically. Gas rationing won't

Vandals Arrested By Jewish Cop

NEW YORK —irate and baffled over the vandalism at the synagogue in which he prayed, Patrolman Raymond Innenberg, working in his spare time, solved the case and caught the vandals.

About three weeks ago Congregation Zemaeh had been broken into by vandals, who ripped the holy scrolls, smashed furniture and created damage of $5,000. Innenberg asked permission to work on the case.

His investigation bore fruit. He caught four colored boys between 13 and 15 years of age, who confessed that they had invaded the synagogue to steal money. They wrecked the place when they found none.

Loyalty of Polish Jews is Praised

LONDON — The loyalty of the Polish Jews to Poland is praised in a new "Outline of Polish History" just published in England by Professor Olgior Gorka, head of the Minorities Department of the Polish Ministry. Professor Gorka declares that the Jews were notable among the Polish minorities in that they "have fulfilled their obligations from the first day of the war."

Palestine Threat Gone - Roosevelt

Message Read At Zionist Dinner

WASHINGTON — "The immediate military danger to Palestine which existed some time ago, has been very definitely removed," President Roosevelt announced this week in a message read at an American Palestine Committee dinner here on the 20th anniversary of the adoption by Congress of a joint resolution favoring the establishment of a Jewish national homeland in Palestine.

Mr. Roosevelt did not elaborate on that phase of his message, but it was interpreted as meaning that —for the moment—the threat of an axis drive through that sector of the Middle East has been removed.

Senator Robert F. Wagner,

JOSEPH GALKIN

Dem., N. Y., one of the principal speakers at the dinner, said that "although the danger to Palestine has been removed for the moment, the Middle East may yet be among the decisive battlefields of the entire war."

Milwaukee Firm Complies With Anti-Prejudice Order

WASHINGTON — The Heil Company of Milwaukee, one of ten firms recently ordered to cease discriminating against available workers because of their race or religion, is the first one to advise the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice of its action taken to comply with the directives of the committee, Lawrence

W. Cramer, executive secretary of the committee announced.

The first obligation of the firm was to give written instruction to each of its employees charged with hiring, and to employment agencies, revoking all orders and policies in violation of the government Order 8802 outlawing discrimination against workers in war industries.

The company must also submit monthly a report on the number and classification of new workers it employs. In notifying the government of its compliance, the Heil Company said, however, that it "still does not feel that in the past it has ever made distinctions between races, colors, creeds or national origin."

Plane Accident Kills Rabbi's Wife

BALBOA, C. Z. — A pursuit plane which crashed into a USO building operated here by the Jewish Welfare Board has caused the death of Mrs. Esther Witkin, 36, wife of Rabbi Nathan Witkin of New York City. Rabbi Witkin has been JWB representative in the Canal Zone since 1937.

Rabbi Witkin was executive director of the Y.M.H.A. at Red Bank, N. J., six years. He was also a chaplain in the U. S. Army Reserves.

Irishman Leaves Jew, With 4 Sons in Service, $3,000

ELGIN, ILL.—Jack Haslin, an Irishman who had been the landlord of the house in which the Nathan Brin family had lived for 20 years, showed the extent of his warm friendship for the Jewish family, which has four sons in uniform, by leaving the Brins $3,000 in his will. Haslin died a short time ago.

Although the Jew, a poor custom tailor, has been unable to pay his rent many times during the past two decades, the relationship between the Irishman and the Jewish group was always an affectionate one. When the four sons of Nathan Brin joined up to fight for Uncle Sam, Haslin was as proud as the parents. Haslin's will allows $500 to the father, the same sum to Mrs. Brin and $500 apiece to the quartet in the services. The boys are Harold, Meyer, Norman and Stanley. Two are in the Army, one in the

It is expected that the Jewish Family Welfare Society will also take steps

Rutgers Honors Martin Agronsky

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Tall, lanky, youthful Martin Agronsky, who became one of the foremost radio reporters of the war, was honored "in absentia" by Rutgers University when an award was presented to him in the presence of his parents for "fearless and searching interpretation of world events."

President Robert Clothier of Rutgers paid tribute to the National Broadcasting Company correspondent, who received his first newspaper training as a typesetter in the office of the "Palestine Post" in Jerusalem. ## "Jew on Spot" Says High Because He Has Been Right

NEW YORK — The Jew is hated not because he is a Jew but because he has "so long been right," it is contended by Stanley High in an article in June Harper's Magazine, in which he asserts that "the Jew is on the spot" and "that the spot the Jew is on is to some considerable extent of his own making."

Writing under the title of "Jews, Anti-Semites and Tyrants," High declares that the Jew should glory in the reasons for hatred of him, because it arises out of animosity to the ideals for which the Jews have stood. "Today the effort of the Jew to shed his unshakable Jewishness or to escape its consequences is not only fruitless. It is unnecessary and it may be disastrous. For the Jew is being attacked today not merely for what he is accused of being, but also for what he actually is. That may be the most promising thing that has happened to him since the Dispersion."

Pointing out that the guilt of anti-Semitism cannot be wholly fixed on Hitler, the writer says: "The going will be tougher for the Jews if Hitler wins. One gathers from current anti-Semitic literature that our all-out anti-Semites hope that Hitler will win. But their cause is far from lost if he does not. They aim to turn war weariness, disillusionment and suffering to sufficient anti-Semitic account to make the going tougher anyway."

According to Mr. High, "anti-Semitism is a recurring form of reaction against the struggle of Western man for religious, political and economic emancipation. The Jew has been hated because the sources of that struggle are in large part Jewish; because inspiration from Jewish sources has been one of the chief things that have kept it going."

Hitler's Scheme

From indisputable diplomatic sources your reporter learns that the Nazis hope to win, with their fifth and sixth columns, what they could not win on the battlefields. If the Russian campaign fails, Hitler is to be deposed—and the German General Staff will pose as the savior of the world from Bolshevism. There is only one rub—Hitler is planning it all to save himself from the allied armies and the armies of Germany.

The only thing Hitler has to offer the civilized world is his death. The only people more double crossed than the conquered are the appeasers. The only people more brutally treated than captured civilians are the German industrialists, who gave Hitler his first money.

Hitler believes he can bribe American business men with their own bank deposits and the American people with the deeds to their own homes. The American answer will be with American scrap-iron—not on Nazi scraps of paper. Hitler's offer will be seventh heaven for the sixth column. But American business will not be fooled by Hitler's profits in dollars. The United States Constitution has paid too many dividends in peace and dignity. MacArthur, Stilwell, O'Hare, Wheelock and Bulkeley are building a firm foundation for peace—with a wall for Hitler's back.

SCRAMBLED EGGS:

The picture of wrecked Rotterdam, in the Times mag. is something the United Nations must remember to bring to the treaty table. It's a convict. An unarmed town, destroyed to show how tough the Nazis are. And a good argument for a deal that will keep them from ever getting tough again. Washington correspondents have a phrase for colleagues who will square social obligations by plugging their hosts' angle in their sheets: "They can be bought for a canape."

Lots of Congressmen would be jumpier than they already are if they knew their letters were being shown around. These are the sore-heads who are being goody-goody in public but as Bund-loving as ever in private. It's the old racket of trading their faces for a few votes . . . It's going to be very interesting to see what the dailies, that have been warning there won't be any elections, will do about sponsoring candidates. They have a choice of admitting they have been lying or skipping all mention of the balloting. Which isn't a very smart limb to get yourself out on, Bud.

Archibald MacLeish, in an interview, discussed his hecklers, who have grown since he took over the Office of Facts and Figures. "The criticism most often expressed against me," he said, "is the fact that I am a poet. Not that I am a bad poet. Simply to call a man a poet is, apparently, to throw a bad egg at him" . . . He might have been answering a small-timer, who columned a crud about winning the war with poetry, "sock 'em with a sonnet". That's the crackbarrel style of satire, the easiest kind to write. It appeals to the dopes by ridiculing education — very small time.

An editorial writer keeps repeating that we should win the war as quickly as possible, because peace is better than war . . . Do you have to have brains to figure that out? . . . How come nobody ever gives medals to critics for going to so many dull shows all season? This one was so dull both the Critics Circle and Pulitzer Committee agreed no show was worth a prize . . . This gives you an idea how temporary fame is. If DiMaggio doesn't get a hit one day—they boo him . . . Whatever happened to those people who said they had proof Hitler was dead? . . . Here's one to make you dizzy: "Blithe Spirit," the play, is barred from Army camps. Too risqué, they said . . . So what happens? . . . "Blithe Spirit" gives a performance for — you'd never guess . . . West Pointers!

Italy has celebrated the sixth anniversary of its empire—which has ceased to exist. A lost people clinging to a lost dream . . . It takes great men to look big in defeat. Willkie, who missed the Presidency, and O'Dwyer, who ran second for mayor, are still good men for those offices . . . Did you hear why that New Yorker writer was rejected for military service? The doctors found out he had a brain murmur.

Sad to read about Graham McNamee's death. He pioneered a lot of things on the networks. He was the first to get all het up about his subject. He had the kind of pipes that could convey excitement, as too many of his mockers haven't. He also was one of the few laughing m. c.'s who got away with it. The usual giggling feeder is an ear torturer. The straight man who laughed at the act's sallies never hit the big time. He was a sensation at Lowew's Wichita but never played the Palace.

Hates Irish, Jews—But Loves Nazis

He refused to accept the challenge of irate Magistrate Charles E. Ramsgate, who offered to take him on and give him a hiding.

"The Irish and the Jews and other Americans handled your type before and can do it again," the judge told the alien.

Jewish Woman Scientist Receives Soviet Gold Medal

MOSCOW — Lena Stern, a Jewish woman scientist, has been awarded the Gold Medal in recognition of her discovery of what Soviet doctors term "the Elixir of Life," it was announced this week.

The discovery of the Soviet-Jewish woman who is a member of the Moscow Academy of Science, brings back to life within a few minutes people killed by shock.

Illustrating the success of her experiments, Miss Stern injected a dose of tetanus bacilli into her own dog to whom she is very much attached. The animal lay stretched out without any visible sign of life. To all intents and purposes it was dead.

But Stern injected into the lateral ventricle of the brain an anti-tetanus serum which when injected into the general circulatory system produces, rather than alleviates, shock and immediately the symptoms of shock began to disappear and the dog recovered consciousness and was alive and well as if nothing had happened.

Turkish News Agency Fines Jews

ISTANBUL — All Jews serving on the staff of the official Turkish News Agency "Anatolia" have been dismissed, it was announced here this week.

The dismissal, which affects 26 Turkish Jews, apparently is a result of German pressure. This is obvious from the statement published here declaring that the Jewish members of the Turkish news agency are no longer "neutral" in their work.

The longest welded pipeline in the world is now pouring oil into North Carolina from the Gulf, doing the work of 10 tankers.

For a Woman's Fancy

By IRENE

Ladies, if you are in search of a new way to help the war effort, why not follow some new York Women, who had the quaint, but sound idea to form an Unknitters Club. All the girls that joined do not like to knit, but they all love to rip (and who doesn't, if it is somebody else's knitting). They meet once a week at one of the girl's home to unravel the turtle-necks which well-meaning ladies knit on soldiers' sweaters, apparently under the impression that turtle-necks are now the prevailing doughboy style. They also unknit socks which, to exaggerate a bit, have feet as big as violin boxes and ankles the size of toothpicks.

There are four steps to unknitting. First the unraveling; then winding the yarn around a coat hanger; then washing the yarn; and finally rolling the dried, cleaned yarn into balls for return to the war organization.

Of course not everything is totally unknitted. Some sweaters can be salvaged and after being partly ripped they are sent back for reknitting and we all hope they will be all right for our boys after the second try.

Here is something on the serious side... Judge Anna Kross of the Magistrates Court of New York declares that Women have no political power, singly or collectively—NOW... "Now, of all times, women must evaluate their position in politics," Judge Kross says, "Let them point to women who hold office if they will. But let them stop to think which of those women got there because other women supported them!"

"When it suits the men to have women in office the women get the jobs. But they don't get the power. Unless women exercise their political right today, how can they possibly play an effective part in the postwar world?"

"This year women have their work cut out for them," Judge Kross points out, "There's a new Congress to elect; a Governor, Senators, Assemblymen. Now is the time to see that the right people are put up; not wait till the candidates are named. Woman's work begins in her local district club. It's the clubhouse frequenters who are sent to the convention. With the percentage of men who've been drafted, a woman's voice will be more clearly heard."

Mrs. Joseph Adler, chairman and Mrs. Morris Lecht, secretary, are assisted by the following committee: Mesdames Isadore Grossman, Aaron Cleiman, Yetta Cutler, Benjamin Greenberg and Daniel Taber.

could never criticize them on the basis of extravagant yardage. They are brief, sleek, and most often disappear through the middle to encourage a sun-tanned midriff... There are prints, new color combinations and little details on the favorite white sharkskin... Two-toned suits use the darker color for the back to give a more slimming appearance and the lighter color for the shirred front that separates into bra and skirt...

Halter bra tops and brief flared skirts over trunks are the big splash for the girls who are lean enough through the waistline to stand the exposure between the top and the skirt... A modification of this idea is a midriff band of eyelid embroidery cotton or print to carry out the cariooca abandon... It probably will be a little harder to reach the beaches this summer, but we girls are going to figure out some way to get there, if for no other reason than to wear these new swim styles...

Jewish Woman Scientist Receives Soviet Gold Medal

MOSCOW — Lena Stern, a Jewish woman scientist, has been awarded the Gold Medal in recognition of her discovery of what Soviet doctors term "the Elixir of Life," it was announced this week.

The discovery of the Soviet-Jewish woman who is a member of the Moscow Academy of Science, brings back to life within a few minutes people killed by shock.

Illustrating the success of her experiments, Miss Stern injected a dose of tetanus bacilli into her own dog to whom she is very much attached. The animal lay stretched out without any visible sign of life. To all intents and purposes it was dead.

But Stern injected into the lateral ventricle of the brain an anti-tetanus serum which when injected into the general circulatory system produces, rather than alleviates, shock and immediately the symptoms of shock began to disappear and the dog recovered consciousness and was alive and well as if nothing had happened.

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Mass Baptism Denied by Czechs

NEW YORK — The Federation of Czechoslovakian Jews learns from a reliable source that there is no truth in the allegations made by the Nazi-controlled Slovak press that large numbers of Slovak Jews are accepting baptism in order to evade anti-Jewish laws and mass deportations.

The "Grenzboten" recently stated that in Tirnau alone Jesuits are preparing 120 Jews for Baptism and teaching them the Catholic religion. The Apostolic Delegate in Tirnau states officially that not one single Jew was baptized in that district during 1942 with the exception of one Jewish woman on her deathbed.

Killed in Action

Lieutenant Henry (Hank) Mark, of Los Angeles, has been posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for valor in the Philippines. Mark was killed in the Philippines on December 24, 1941, while leading an attack against a Japanese flank. Captain John Wheeler, his immediate superior, reports that Mark heroically "led one attack, forcing the Japs to draw back a little. Then he himself went across an open rice field, with Japs pouring fire on him. Mark carried some grenades. He was going to try to throw them into the tanks, but a Jap machine gun, hidden in a tree, got him before he was 20 yards away."

Private Nathan Straus, St. Louis, killed in action on Corregidor Island. He was the gunner in a Corregidor anti-aircraft unit. Strauss enlisted in the army in December, 1940.

Ensign Herbert Levitt, Bronx, N. Y., has been "missing at sea" since the cruiser USS Houston was sunk in the battle of Java nearly two months ago, according to official notice from the Navy Department. His mother, Mrs. Philip Levitt, still retains a hope that he is alive.

Ensign Ira Jeffrey, killed in action at Pearl Harbor on December 7, was the first casualty of the war from Minneapolis, Minn. He has been cited posthumously for valor by the Secretary of the Navy. During the attack on the Pearl Harbor fleet, Jeffrey attempted, by hand, to maintain an ammunition supply to the anti-aircraft guns of the USS California.

Distinguished Service

Private Irving E. Greenstein, Philadelphia, cited for gallant service and bravery in action during Jap attack of Dec. 7. A member of boat's crew which assisted in rescue of men from the flaming oil-covered waters, he was subjected to bombing and strafing by Japanese planes and carried on his work without regard to personal safety.

Ensign Milton Moldafsky, St. Louis, has received a letter of commendation by the Commander in Chief of the Pacific fleet. Moldafsky was one of three young ensigns who, under the emergency leadership of Ensign Stanley Caplan, took a destroyer to sea during the Jap attack on Pearl Harbor, sinking two enemy submarines and bringing down four bombers.

Lt. Stephen Saltzman, Wilmington, Del., awarded the Silver Star for bravery under fire at Pearl Harbor. Saltzman was on duty at Schofield Barracks when Japs attacked on Dec. 7. In company with a sergeant he rushed to his post, crossing an open field. A Jap plane swooped low in an attempt to strafe the field. Saltzman and the sergeant began firing at the plane with their rifles. (Saltzman's civilian hobby was duckhunting.) With deadly accuracy, Saltzman's rifle brought down the enemy plane, whose pilot had been killed by one of the bullets.

AWARDED MEDAL

LONDON — An Australian Jewish flier, Lionel Vanpraag, has received the King George Medal for gallantry against the Japanese air force in the Far East.
