The New Boss

Gen. Draja Mihailovic has been ousted by King Peter of the Yugoslav Government in exile from the position of War Minister. It is believed the action was taken to gain the support of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito), leader of the Partisans, and that the cabinet post may be offered to him. If he should not see fit to accept, it is thought that he might agree to some compromise and name his choice for the cabinet position.

tell of Spanish ships arriving at Bilbao laden with South American goods which are sent by truck under German and Spanish police guard to France for transfer to Germany.

B'nai B'rith Dodges Palestine Issue

NEW YORK — The five-day national convention of the B'nai B'rith closed here this week, after deciding to take no action on a number of resolutions dealing with the demand for the establishment of a Jewish Commonwealth in Palestine. All resolutions on this subject were withdrawn from the resolutions committee by their sponsors as a result of a statement by Henry Moskay, president of the organization, before the resolutions committee, which was also approved by the convention.

OWI's Ears Burn As Gestapo Sees Hangmen Also Die

ISTANBUL, Turkey — The Office of War Information is wearing a red face following the disclosure that a Gestapo agent sat in on what was supposed to be a strictly private premiere of the anti-Nazi film "Hangmen Also Die."

The film, in which Brian Donlevy and Anna Lee are starred and which revolves around the shooting of Heinrich Heydrich, Gestapo executioner in Czechoslovakia, was run off in the projection room of the OWI building here.

Dr. Wise Warns Against Partisan Voting in Elections

NEW YORK — Warning that Jews should not vote in elections as partisans of a particular racial or religious group, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of the Free Synagogue, declared that "nothing could be more unfortunate than that of any racial or religious group should vote as such."

Soldier Won't Work on Sabbath

LONDON — Pvt. Israel Vogel of the Royal Army Ordnance Corps is an Orthodox Jew. On Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath, he always obeyed the Fourth Commandment, closed his shop, never smoked, rode on buses or tram-cars, or went to places of amusement. In the British Army 18 months, he often had trouble because the food wasn't kosher. Last week Vogel went before a court-martial for refusing to obey a sergeant's orders to do certain work on Saturday, May 6, because it was contrary to his beliefs. Vogel pleaded guilty.

Pay Tribute to Mrs. Dora Fain

A tribute to the late Mrs. Dora Fain, mother of Louis, Dr. William and Irving Fain, was held last Monday evening at the Providence Hebrew Sheltering Society, in whose behalf Mrs. Fain worked diligently and without thought of thanks for many years.

Speakers included Rabbi Morris G. Selt and Carol Klein. Cantor Joseph Schlossberg provided the musical portion of the memorial. Philip E. Goldberg, president of the Sheltering Society, was chairman of the evening.

Ask Probe of Father Coughlin

NEW YORK — Attorney General Biddle was urged to investigate the activities of Father Charles E. Coughlin in a resolution passed this week by almost 2,500 New York members of the National Maritime Union.

Father Coughlin's "poisonous propaganda is inimical to the best interests of the nation's war effort," the resolution said, and the nation must "guard against any stab in the back of any of Hitler's helpers of Coughlin's stripe."

Dr. Wise made one reservation, however, when he stated: "Who would say that Jews who happen to live in a certain Congressional district in Mississippi or Michigan ought not to vote against the re-election of a candidate for the House who utilizes his place in Congress not only to deal foul blows against Jews, but uses his high place for deadly disservices to the American democracy?"

"If I believed that there were danger that either of the two political parties favored a Fascist regime," Dr. Wise said, "it would be my duty to say to my fellow Jews that you must do what you can to prevent such suppression of American life and ideals." At the same time, he declared there are times when Jews must vote against another Jew who is unfit for the office he seeks.

Poles Free 21 Jewish Soldiers

President Issues Amnesty Decree

LONDON — Polish President Wladyslaw Raczkiewicz issued a decree granting an amnesty to all 21 Jewish soldiers who were sentenced by a Polish court-martial to terms of imprisonment varying from one to two years on charge of leaving their units, because of anti-Semitism there, and attempting to enlist in the British Army.

The amnesty, however, has not ended the controversy around the anti-Semitic activities of Polish officers and men. It was indicated during a stormy debate in the Polish National Council.

Discussing a motion demanding the immediate resignation of Defense Minister Gen. Marian Kukiel, Dr. Ignacy Schwartzbar, Jewish deputy, urged that the Council adopt legislation making anti-Semitic activity in the armed forces a criminal offense. Schwartzbar cited several cases of anti-Jewish propaganda by commanding officers in the Polish units in Britain and in the Middle East.

"Jordan Valley Authority" Is Planned for Palestine

NEW YORK — The Commission of Palestine Surveys announced this week that 21 American natural scientists and engineers were preparing plans for large-scale irrigation and hydro-electric development of Palestine to "revolutionize the agricultural economy" of that country.

Tentatively named the "Jordan Valley Authority," the project envisages "a virtual transformation of the country by endowing it with numerous 'artificial streams' watering arid and semiarid regions; a permanent source of energy, making up for the deficiency in coal; a resultant industrial expansion."

Power plants would be erected, the Commission said, generating more than 1,000,000 kilowatts of electric current a year, and perhaps utilizing the potential energy in the Jordan River which drops nearly 2,300 feet from its source until it empties into the Dead Sea.

The report estimated that costs of the project would be between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000.

Welfare Head

(CLEVELAND — Isidore Sobel, Associate New York Director of the National War Fund, on leave from the Jewish Welfare Federation in Detroit, was elected president of the National Conference of Jewish Social Welfare to succeed Louis Kraft, New York, at the 1944 conference here.

Wise Condemns Hebrew Committee

NEW YORK — Speaking for the American Jewish Congress, Dr. Stephen S. Wise, its president, in a statement issued this week, condemned the activities of a group styling itself the "Hebrew Committee of National Liberation," which he declared to be without the slightest vestige of authority to speak for any important Jewish body in Europe or in Palestine.

Dr. Wise pointed out that the so-called Hebrew Committee of National Liberation is the latest in a series of front organizations set up in recent months by a handful of people led by a Palestinian named Peter Bergson.

Shevuoth

No one is more conscious of the significance of spiritual laws arising out of the struggle and the vision of men trying to find eternal light than the Jewish people at this season of the year. In Synagogue and Temple, wherever Jews abide, whether it be in lands of liberty like ours or in the underground haunts of axis-infested countries Israel will observe the Shevuoth festival in a spirit of unusual dedication and resolve.

Shevuoth, or the Feast of Weeks, has its harvest origin but its greater significance is that on this day at Sinai the Decalogue was accepted by our forefathers as the Law of God for mankind.

Today, more than ever, the message of this festival that we have one Father and one God hath made us all is one that men of every creed can endorse. The Nazi and Fascist dictators seek to break the tablets of the Law beyond redemption. The Judaeo-Christian world is resolved that the Ten Commandments shall be written anew upon the heart and minds of the generations yet to be.

The Situation of Hungarian Jewry

Two months of German occupation has been sufficient to turn Hungary into a nightmare of ghettos and concentration camps for Jews.

The new government of Field Marshal Doemle Sztójay, obviously working under Nazi dictation, has declared its program "to destroy all germs of destruction."

These "germs of destruction" include Jews, Communists, Socialists, Liberals, Intellectuals, and any people of anti-Nazi.

THINGS FEW NEW YORKERS KNOW ABOUT NEW YORK:

New York isn't all stone and steel. Staten Island is dotted with small towns and fertile farm lands, by craggy. There are about 600 Indians in our burg. The Stock Exchange has its own medical dept. and radio. Most outdoor sport in town is from street where the city's supply of coffee is roasted. You can find almost anything in Manhattan, including a lighthouse at Fort Washington Point. New York's most expensive real estate is supposed to be Nassau street—as much as $825 a square foot has been shelled out for property there. Men in the city's households are planned by expert designers. No room service, however.

The big cemetery in Tench street was the scene of our town's most macabre crime. The bodies of a rich New Yorker turned there, were once stolen and held for ransom. The remains were eventually recovered but the skeleton-huggers were never arrested. On Second avenue there is a 1, 1 and 12 cents store. I don't know the reason for the unusual prices. The same fortifications that were used during the Revolutionary war can still be found near Bway and 14th street. Six different streets meet at Sherman square. Oddest named shop is the Chinese eatery called Hung Far Low. The clock tower at the north end of Battery park sounds the signals for the watches kept on shipboard. Wall street is only about seven blocks long, but it's the financial heart of 48 States.

For some unknown reason, about 100 streets several avenues suddenly change their names. Eighth avenue becomes Central, Park West, Ninth avenue becomes Columbus avenue, Tenth avenue becomes Amsterdam avenue, and Eleventh avenue becomes West End avenue. No one need go hungry or homeless on the streets of New York. The Dept. of Welfare is ready to provide food and shelter for all undernourished. Then how come there are so many pan-handlers? Haunted house legends have grown up around the ancient townhouse mansion that adjoins Woodlawn cemetery. No one has lived there for more than a century and it's completely furnished.

weighing as much as 90 tons. The best air raid shelter in town. Juvenile delinquency isn't new. According to Police Dept. statistics, 50 per cent of the city's lawbreakers have always been under 15 years of age. Mayor LaGuardia has a tiger skin in his home to symbolize his victory over the Tammany tiger. Among the Weather bureau's unusual duties is collecting pollen to aid in the study of hay fever. Plenty of amusement spots in our town—over 700 legit theaters and movies.

You don't have to leave New York to enjoy natural scenery. The eye-filling sights along the Hudson are as beautiful as anything you'll find in any part of the world. A few New Yorkers who love to go to fires have private fire alarm boxes in their homes. Most popular part of the public library is its recent novel where you can hear recordings gratis. You must make reservations two weeks in advance. For its post office in the BIA building the gov't pays Radio City $1.00 a year rent. There is a deserted theatre under Carnegie Hall. Swiftest elevators in town are at the New York Central office. Decorated with red Chinese lacquer and sky-line coloring. 50,000,000 pounds of food pour into New York every 24 hours.

Broadway is the city's busiest street. It was built early Broadway that a courier dashed shouting the news of the Battle of Lexington. More crimes have taken place at the Marx Stern (between 67th and 68th streets) than in any other spot in town. No one knows exactly why. There is a huge warehouse in Radio City's sub-basement. The quietest house at 73rd street and Riverside drive that resembles a castle was erected by Charles M. Schwab and cost two and a half million. A unique subway station is the one at 146th street. It's carved out of the side of a hill. No track is missed in an effort to improve radio programs. NBC's studios are crisscrossed with a special sound-insulating glue. Inside the Brooklyn Bridge abutments are large canteens. A department store used to cache its liquor there.

Exotic East Indian merchants can be found on lower Fifth avenue. They sell "priceless" gems. One merchant is named Muhammad Ali. The Bowery Diamond market is one of the burg's picturesque sights. Diamonds worth millions are bought and sold in the sidewalk in the midst of the poverty-stricken sector. George Washington's love for the drama helped make New York a theatrical center. When he lived in the Big Town, Gen. Washington rarely missed a first night.

General Remembers Lt. Who Aided Him

WASHINGTON — When Lt. General L. J. McNair was wounded in North Africa last year, one Lt. Jules L. Seidel, of the Dental Corps, was on hand to give him a transfusion. Seidel thought no more of the matter. He took part in the remainder of the North African campaign and later, in the warfare in Sicily.

Recently, to his surprise, he received a letter from General McNair who wrote, in part: "You were very kind to feel an interest in my case. I remember very distinctly your administering the blood plasma. It surely did the trick."

NEW YORK — The Zariet quadruplets, Ellen, Benjamin, Isadore and Elaine, now 7 weeks old, have been taken to the four-room, third floor walkup apartment of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zariet. And with the quads, according to their mother, came a flock of problems:

A garage would be needed to park the four-seat baby carriage given to them.

When one baby cries, they all cry.

The quads have a nurse, and Mrs. Zariet thinks of herself as Nurse No. 2. Teddy Zariet, 6-year-old brother of the four, enjoys helping feed them.

A capacity audience attended the Elizabeth Stamenman Fair Festival Forum last Sunday night at Temple Beth-El. The artists were: Sidor Belarsky, Russian basso, and Prof. Abraham Binder of the Jewish Institute of Religion. While none of the songs were in English, the artistry of the singer and the sheer entertainment kept the audience spellbound. In fact, encores were demanded. This was the fourth in the first series of forums marking four birthdays of the Jewish calendar. It has been an auspicious start. Providence has something to look forward to each year. We've been notified that Mrs. Philip Dershtman has been elected third vice-president of the Hebrew Grand Lodge, Number One of the Women's Auxiliary of P.O. 1014.

Corny Yiddish Jokes Saves Day for B-17 Crew in Italy

NEW YORK — Telling Jewish dialect stories was an old habit with Lt. Norman R. Cohen and one which he never expected would have any therapeutic value in a crisis. But in the air over the Brenner Pass some months ago it was Cohen's Jewish jokes that saved the day.

With an Air Medal and several Oak Leaf Clusters behind him (nine altogether now,) Lt. Cohen felt fairly calm as he navigated the B-17 toward the Pass. But the co-pilot and bombardier that trip were on their "maiden voyage." They were keeping up a magnificent show of nonchalance which didn't fool anybody. And just before the plane got to the target area a burst of flak put the pilot out of action. The co-pilot and bombardier, no longer nonchalant, were confronted with the prospect of managing the vital bombing run by themselves.

"They were shaking all over," Cohen says. "What actually pulled them out of it, though, was a couple of corny Yiddish jokes I managed to croak into the intercom just as we levelled off over the target. They weren't anything special. Just a few old dialect gags that went out with the last war, but they saved the day. We did a brilliant job of bombing on a real pin-point target."

Lt. Cohen, home after 50 missions in the Mediterranean area, has only been back a week or so but he's anxious to get into action again because, for one thing, he's sick of talking about it.
