

Hospital Goal Drive Within Reach; Need $75,000 More

With the $750,000 Miriam Hospital Building Fund campaign scheduled to end on October 1, the victory committee of 50 this week stepped up its efforts to obtain the last $75,000 needed to reach the goal.

Max L. Grant, president of the Hospital, Samuel Shore, drive chairman, and Maurice Stollerman, campaign director and superintendent of the Hospital, this week issued the following appeal: "A great and thrilling event is now taking place in our community. The Jews of Rhode Island have cause to be proud of the record of the Miriam Hospital and the service it has rendered our people for the past nineteen years. Today, we rejoice that in the near future the Jews of Rhode Island shall erect a new and greater Miriam Hospital on the site formerly occupied by the Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island.

"All of us will be proud to have a share in this splendid institution. It will be credit to the Jews of our community as well as a civic contribution to American Democracy. We who enjoy the blessings of American freedom consider it a privilege to participate in this humanitarian project dedicated to preserve the health of our fellow citizens."

A special project under which contributions may be made in honor of children to pay the cost of children's wards in the new building was announced at the same time by Maurice Stollerman.

A former superintendent of the Jewish Orphanage, Mr. Stollerman said many persons who already have made substantial donations on a general basis have expressed interest in the special project and have pledged additional funds in honor of their children. Names of children in whose honor such gifts are made will be suitably inscribed in the wards the contributions help to pay for.

Henry C. Hart, honorary chairman of the campaign, pointed out the new hospital, to be located on Summit avenue on the site of the former Jewish Orphanage of Rhode Island, will have twice the number of beds as the present crowded building in Parade street and also will provide improved and expanded facilities in line with the newest advances in medical science.

Says Peace Parley Won't Help Zionists

NEWARK — Zionists cannot wait for the peace conference to settle the problems of Palestine because there isn't going to be any peace conference, in the view of Pierre van Paasen, author and journalist.

Addressing a war emergency meeting of the United Palestine Appeal last week, van Paasen said Jews must now demand a state of co-helligerency for Palestine or face the prospect of a static situation after the war which they will be unable to influence.

(Mr. Van Paasen is well known in Providence. He has spoken here on several occasions.)

Succoth and a Sense of Humor

BY WILLIAM G. BRAUDE

There is a tradition that in the golden future the nations of the world will come to observe several Jewish commandments. They will among other things erect booths for their own use during the Festival of Succoth. Why booths on Succoth? Presumably to express their newly won sense of humility, to avow their conviction of the uncertainty of vested right and power.

Be that as it may, we in American Israel would do well to practice humility in the Succoth spirit right now. There was a time when the descendants of Sephardic and German refugees from Recife and Fuerth regarded themselves as lordly first settlers and chose to patronize the Lithuanian and Ukrainian fugitives from Kalvarya and Zvenigrad. Now the sons of the Kalvarya and Zvenigrad Mayflowers are beginning to flex their muscles and to express disdain of the still newer arrivals. Lord have mercy upon these "stuffed shirts" and endow them with humility the faithful begetter of humor.

An old-fashioned Sukkah, a brisk autumn shower, diluting the bouillon and the duck is the proper medicine for our Jewish counterparts of Gerald K. Smith.

Sen. Langer Fraternizes With Sedition Defendants

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator William Langer (R., N.D.) showed up at the re-opening of the sedition trial here, and, throwing his arm over the shoulder of defendant Col. Eugene N. Sanctuary, vociferous anti-Semite, engaged him in animated conversation for more than an hour. Afterwards he conversed with defendants Elizabeth Dilling, George Sylvester Viereck, Ellis O. Jones and E. J. Parker Sage. Sanctuary described Langer as "an old friend."

Senator Langer, a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, early in the trial was petitioned by the defense to investigate the government's case against the twenty-six alleged conspirators. The Committee rejected the petition.

Chicago Twins Have 15 Medals

NEW YORK — As a consequence of scoring against enemy planes, Lieutenant Courtney Shanken, 23, of Chicago, and his twin brother, Lieut. Earl Shanken of that city, have scored heavily in medals. Earl holds the Air Medal and six Oak Leaf Clusters. Courtney has received the Air Medal and seven Oak Leaf Clusters, according to the National Jewish Welfare Board. Their experiences in combat as navigation officers on B-24 Liberator bombers have been almost identical.

May Investigate America First Party

WASHINGTON — Senator Theodore Green of Rhode Island, chairman of the Senate Special Committee to Investigate Campaign Expenditures, announced that a closed session of that group has considered a request of the Non-Sectarian Anti-Nazi League for an investigation of the anti-Jewish resolution adopted this week by the convention of the American First Party. He did not indicate what action, if any, was taken by the committee.

The Anti-Nazi League's plea was voiced in a telegram sent by Prof. James Sheldon.

JDC to Spend 20 Million for Relief

Conference Told Of Future Plans

BOSTON — By the end of 1944 the American Joint Distribution Committee, Inc., at its current allocation rate, will have appropriated more than $20,000,000 for the year to provide relief, emigration assistance, reconstruction aid and cultural help to hundreds of thousands of victims of war and persecution overseas, it was reported last Sunday to the New England conference marking the 30th anniversary of the founding of the agency. The conference, in all-day session at the Copley Plaza Hotel here, was attended by 650 Jewish community leaders from all the New England States who discussed plans, under the chairmanship of Samuel Markell of Boston, for increased aid to Europe's Jews and their post-war rehabilitation. Senate Group Approves Bill for Permanent FEPC

Testimonial Speaker

COL. MONTEFIORE G. KAHN

Plan Commission Of 7 For Task

To Have Ample Enforcement Powers

WASHINGTON — In the first Congressional expression of importance on the touchy subject of racial relations since the national Presidential conventions, a Senate Education Sub-committee this week reported favorably a bill to set up a permanent Fair Employment Practice Committee.

The report followed several weeks of hearings on the danger of discrimination in Federal employment for reasons of race, creed, color, national origin or ancestry, particularly during the reconversion period.

Sen. Chavez (D-N. M.) half of whose constituents speak Spanish, headed the sub-committee making the report.

The political importance of this action arises partly from inclusion of a permanent FEPC plank in the Republican platform, and stress laid in the Democratic platform on continuation of economic guarantees for minority groups.

Under the bill, the records, funds and employees of the President's Fair Employment Practice Committee, whose work was financed for another year by Congress last June after a bitter fight in both Houses, would be transferred to a commission of seven members appointed by the President.

This commission would have the power to subpoena witnesses and to enforce orders like the National Labor Relations Boards. Obstructionist employers or union officials would be subject to a year's sentence in jail or a $1,000 fine. The bill would also bar any employer from receiving a government contract for three years after violating FEPC regulations.

Feinstein Dinner Saturday, Oct. 7

Col. Montefiore G. Kahn, vice-president of Leo N. Levi Memorial Hospital of Hot Springs National Park, Ark., will be the guest speaker at the testimonial dinner given for Isaac E. Feinstein, retiring superintendent of the Jewish Home for Aged, on Saturday evening, October 7, at the Narragansett Hotel. Col. Kahn, a leader in B'nai B'rith activities, is an economist and world traveler.

Another guest who will attend the dinner will be William H. Silk, who will be present as a representative of the community of Philadelphia and of the Zionist Organization in that city. Mr. Feinstein is to be the new executive director of the Zionist Organization there.

On Saturday morning, November 18, a community observance will be held at which local rabbis and clergy will participate. A convocation and a recognition service will be held on Sunday evening, November 19.

Birkhead Assails Legion for "Deport Refugees" Stand

NEW YORK — The American Legion should fire the paid director of its National Americanism Commission, Homer L. Chaillaux, sponsor of the resolution passed by the Legion to deport all refugees immediately after the war, Leon M. Birkhead, national director of the friends of Democracy, said this week.

"What kind of Americanism is this that the committee of the American Legion is advocating?" Birkhead said. "We are all refugees of more or less recent vintage. What about all the refugees in the U. S. Army. Are they to be deported?"

"What about the famous refugee writers and creative scientists, as, for example, Thomas Mann and Albert Einstein. What about all of those refugees who have opened factories and made jobs for other people?" Birkhead asserted that Chaillaux's name had been identified with "a number of the subversive groups."

Links Chaillaux to Winrod "Chaillaux actually bought in large quantities the pamphlets of Joseph Kamp's Constitutional Educational League and distributed them under the auspices of his Americanism Commission, Homer Chaillaux was friendly with Gerald B. Winrod. Homer Chaillaux is the fellow who was saying a few years back, 'There is no real danger from the Axis' and, 'The American First is a fine organization.'"

The Legion resolution not only advocated deportation of "imported foreign labor battalions, refugees, and war prisoners," but called for an end of all immigration after the war until there are less than 1,000,000 unemployed in the country and all veterans have been offered jobs.

Jewish Religious Life in Russia

from the
N. Y. Post

MOSCOW — Jewish religious life in the Soviet Union shows signs of widespread revival.

Although certain "basic problems" persist in relation to the state, many points of conflict have already been settled, it was revealed here by Samuel Chobrutsky, chairman of the Moscow Jewish community.

The Jewish spokesman announced that plans are under way to resume publication of Jewish texts and reopen synagogues in liberated areas.

At present, Chobrutsky said, there are four large synagogues in Moscow headed by Rabbis Schleifer, Grande, Lewin and Kesselberg.

"More synagogues are opening all the time in the liberated regions," he added, "although their condition is lamentable and most rabbis in these areas were murdered."

"Many rabbis were saved when the Soviet government evacuated hundreds of thousands of Jews from the border areas just before the German invasion."

"Is it true," Chobrutsky was asked, "that no rabbis are being trained at present in the Soviet Union?"

"On the contrary," he replied, "in central Asia we have a number of rabbinical schools located in such places as Merke, Djambul and Bokhara, which are training rabbis all the time. The question of a central training college will probably arise in the near future and no objections are expected to be made.

"The question of children's religious schools," he added, "has not been raised with the government. But if other religious groups have such training, undoubtedly Jews will have similar rights."

Despite wartime difficulties, said Chobrutsky, religious Jews have been assisted by Soviet authorities in the observance of ritualistic customs. During Passover, he said, the government issued matzoh ration cards, and in certain places, such as Sverdlovsk, provided wheat flour so that the Jewish community might bake its own matzohs. In some areas where flour was plentiful, matzohs were available without ration cards.

Kosher butcher shops exist in the basements of synagogues in many cities for the slaughter of chickens according to Jewish ritual.

Welcome News Of Jewish Brigade

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Dr. Israel Goldstein, president of the Zionist Organization of America, in a statement issued here this week characterized the announcement by the British War Office that a Jewish brigade would be formed from Jewish battalions recruited in Palestine as a "token recognition of the Jewish contribution to the war effort."

Declaring that the announced "creation of a Jewish brigade composed of those gallant battalions of Jewish youth already serving in Palestine is a source of satisfaction to American Zionists," the Zionist head expressed confidence that the Jewish fighting unit "will have the privilege of actively participating in the final battle which will rout the Nazi hordes from the face of Europe."

Greeting the conference, Gov. Saltonstall of Massachusetts declared that "to the men, women and children who look to you for help, the relief supplied by the Joint Distribution Committee constitutes more than mere charity. It means to them fresh hope and a chance to stand on their own feet again. It renews their faith in the democratic way and the ideal of the brotherhood of man. The J.D.C. is thus not only saving lives; it is at the same time helping to preserve the nucleus around which overseas communities may be rebuilt after the war and to create the moral and material opportunities for a world of democracy and decency."

MAN ABOUT TOWN:

Eric Johnston, Chamber of Commerce chief, has been cracked down by his superiors over the Russian boosts. They feel he was too pro. As of today, no postwar trade agreements between U. S. industry and Russia have been set up. One of the biggest shipping deals, however, is being readied without their help. Paul McNutt's receptionist at the WPB has become the hottest model on the Conover list. She is Ann Bell. The newsprint shortage may be over by mid-December. Wood pulp is waiting for shipment from Scandinavian ports. Pals of Steve Early hears that his sinus agony (caused by Washington's climate) may force him to quit against his wishes.

Paulette Goddard and her groom, Buzz Meredith, have asked the FBI to probe the poison-pen writers who have landed divorce rumors in various columns. The reason the planned new mag Pageant has been held up is that it planned to ape Coronet and then decided not to. After spending a mint, too. Overheard at the White House: "Clare Luce is the Aimee Semple McPherson of the Stork Club." John Edgar Hoover was so ill recently he thought he would die. "Going My Way" will gross 8 million. Producer Leo McCarey will get about two million dollars for his bit. Sec'y of War Stimson is mending now. He went to the Adirondacks recently where a nurse remained in attendance. Jesse Jones, whose condition worried pals, is better.

NOTES OF A NEWSPAPER MAN:

Damon Runyon and a New York newspaper apparently disagree on the hobby of some Americans who enjoy telling quips on well-knowns. Mr. Runyon, in his column, complained: "It is always bad taste for people to sit around and make odious remarks about any national leaders of respectability, and integrity." The same morning a respectable New York newspaper featured a report (in a box) quoting a Washington columnist. The story dealt with the argument: "Who Was the Strongest President?" One arguer said Lincoln—because he split rails. Another said Washington—because he tossed a dollar across the Potomac. But FDR was declared the strongest. "He threw the U. S. Treasury across both oceans!"

Now that is a pretty good gag. But it is also pretty stale, too. It was used often during the second campaign of Woodrow Wilson in the war debt issue. The quips and barbs about Mrs. Roosevelt are still being swapped by anti-4th Termers, and the President is often the butt of devastating jokes. We do not recall hearing that they complained. Mr. Runyon probably will admit that it isn't so bad to tell a joke as it is to elect one.

Governor Dewey isn't immune from the jokesmiths these days. The current quip has him suffering from fierce insomnia which "keeps him up all night pacing up and down under his bed!" The New Dealers go into spasms over that one. But it was funnier 20 years ago when Al Jolson told it after an overnight trip from Boston. "I didn't sleep a wink," he groaned. "One of Singer's Mid-gets drank some coffee and paced up and down his upper berth!"

Mr. Feinstein will make a brief address while Mrs. Feinstein and her daughters, Bernice and Harriet, will sing several selections.

Col. Carlos Romulo, who helped MacArthur and Quezon escape to Australia, didn't know that persons addressing Congress must not do so in uniform. He has been in his army uniform for years. An hour before he spoke in the House the other day Romulo was informed that he must wear civvies for the event. His staff hastily borrowed civilian apparel. On the way to the Capitol he realized he was wearing his army socks. He paled. "I am wearing the wrong socks!" he exclaimed. "Oh my goodness, what'll I do?" His Girl Friday solved matters right there on the Capitol steps. He wore her bobby socks!

Norman Littell, of the Dept. of Justice, and Will Clayton, Jesse Jones' man, regret that feuds cannot be carried beyond the grave. The Demmy Nat'l Comm. is functioning as smoothly as a ward at Dr. Freud's. Churchill has cooled on the King of Greece, but has warmed on the King of Italy. White House attaches are blaming each other for the recent Willie boner.

Last Friday was the last day of summer

Crisp fall days and chilly nights will soon be here . . . followed all too soon by winter's cold. And once again you will be face to face with your heating problems . . . further complicated this year by the new restrictions curtailing the amount of your usual solid fuels.

None of us can foresee now just what we may have to put up with in the way of fuel shortages, transportation tie-ups, restrictions, severe cold. Things may be better, or they may be worse than last winter. But one thing you can be sure of . . . it is to your interest to do all you can NOW to conserve heating fuel during the winter days to come.

There are a number of things you can do. You can put on storm windows and doors . . . weatherstrip all windows and outside doors . . . insulate the roof and the side walls of your home. These are all good investments. They all save worthwhile amounts of fuel and there isn't much time left in which to do them.

So this winter again we shall ask you to use your gas range for cooking but for cooking only. Please do not plan to use your gas range for heating purposes.

Remember, with us it's not just a matter of having the coal and oil on hand for the gas-making. That, in itself, is a serious matter. But, there are limitations to our manufacturing capacity which prevent our producing all the gas you might like to use. Of course, war goods will continue to be manufactured until all of our enemies have been defeated. The continuing need of gas for this purpose, together with the normal requirements of our 90,000 domestic customers, will take all the gas our plant can produce.

It Happened This Week

Mrs. Archibald Silverman is receiving an enthusiastic reception wherever she speaks in Australia. Editorials we have read indicate the high regard the Jewish community there has for Mrs. Silverman. There were a number of Providence folk that attended the JDC and the American Jewish Congress conferences held in Boston last Sunday. Archie Silverman, Mrs. Morris Shoham and Joseph Galkin were present at the JDC sessions. Dr. Ilie Berger, Maurice Hendel and Irving Chucnin listened in on the Congress doings.

Odds and Ends

Lt. James Golden, navigator of a B-24 Liberator in Italy, received an additional award this week for bringing his entire formation through to the target for a successful bombing run during a raid over Australia, despite severe and adverse weather conditions. He also holds the Air Medal with three Clusters and has completed 50 combat missions. Mrs. Annie Goldenberg arrived home this week after a long motor trip to Georgia where she drove her grandson and daughter-in-law to take up residence where her son Lt. Harold Goldenberg has been stationed.

Birth Announcement

We received the following announcement on the birth of a daughter to the Daniel Tolmans: "We're the proud, proud parents of Marilyn Gail

Who arrived safe and sound with a mighty wail

At 6:20 A. M. the eleventh of September

A date we will find so easy to remember.

She'd like you to know she's glad to be here

And is introducing herself with chuckles and cheer

But until she is older and can take pen in hand

Her mommy is writing. You'll understand."

Lt. Louis Schwartz dropped in to say "hello" this week and to recount his travels of the past two months. He covered a distance of more than 7000 miles, all by auto, and visited practically every state in the south and midwest. Following his leave in Providence, he will be on his way to South Dakota. Three local folk have been married or engaged to out-of-owners. Bettye Kennison's engagement to Lt. (j.g.) Jerome Gold, USNR, of Chicago, was announced this week. Cpl. David Rubin, of this city, now stationed in Jackson, Miss., is now promised to Eve Richman, of Memphis, Tenn. And from Meridian, Miss., came word of the marriage of Lt. Col. Maynard Koplan to Ens. Rita Louise Rothenberg, USNR, of Meridian. The wife of a local man who is reported to have made scads of money in the past few years was overheard to apologize for the very short mink jacket she was wearing, saying,

"Oh, this is just my summer mink".....A chap we know woke up with a hangover the other morning and he looked so bad his daughter piped up, "Daddy, your eyeballs are bleeding!"

HIAS Re-opens Bucharest Office

Local Campaign In Third Week

With the liberation of Rumania, the HIAS-ICA offices are being re-established in Bucharest, it was announced this week. Temporarily all contact with the Bucharest office must be cleared thru the Lisbon headquarters of the HIAS-ICA. Dr. David Schweitzer, the HIAS representative in Ankara, Turkey, has been instructed to co-operate with the re-opened Bucharest branch.

Leonard Levin, co-chairman of the HIAS Campaign in Providence and environs said this week: "The report that HIAS has opened offices in Rome, Italy, and is re-establishing its office in Bucharest, Rumania, to go on in all haste with its 'Rescue Now' program, is heartening news. But, today, with the vital questions of emigration, repatriation, and reunion of the elements of broken families, HIAS is facing its greatest task in six decades."

Dr. Ilie Berger, campaign director of the HIAS Drive, now going into its third week, said, "In view of the fact that Hitler in his desperation will seek to destroy the remnants of European Jewry, the HIAS program of RESCUE NOW is a veritable life-saving effort. Every Jew in this vicinity should make his contribution quickly, by sending his check to the local Campaign Headquarters, 201 Strand Building."

War Fund Goal To be $2,314,815

State-wide Drive Opens October 15

A Rhode Island United War Fund goal of $2,314,815 in the State-wide campaign to be conducted October 15 to November 1 was approved this week by the board of directors, it was announced by Raymond H. Trott.

The goal of the 1944 campaign was reached through a long, laborious process known as "budget procedure," Mr. Trott said. "This has claimed the close attention of many community leaders, responsible men and women representing all groups. They have approved these figures. Thus, you are assured that every dollar asked has a specific purpose—fills a specific need; that there is neither waste nor duplication."

"To raise this sum will be a test of our generosity, a challenge to our citizenship. I am confident that we will not let false optimism, war weariness or apathy prevent us from reaching our goal. Rather do I think that we will face the facts of this critical year quietly and realistically."

Lehman, Director General of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, which will distribute the clothing free.

Kerosene Scarce

Kerosene supplies for New England, say oil men, may be even scarcer this winter than they were two years ago when lines of shivering householders with empty kerosene cans were a common sight at supply stations. The reason chiefly is, they say, that the new catalytic cracking process which produces high-octane gasoline, produces only about half as much kerosene per barrel of crude, as the old process did.

R. I. United War Fund Will Be Held on Oct. 15 to Nov. 1

The R. I. United War Fund, an all-State campaign for "one gift from everyone," to be devoted to 140 Community Chest and War Relief agencies, will be conducted from October 15 to November 1. It was announced this week by Raymond H. Trott, general campaign chairman.

The United War Fund will function in virtually every part of Rhode Island, conducting one campaign for all 140 causes, saving time, effort and money; conserving manpower; welding together in a non-partisan unity, most of the valid appeals for contributions within the entire state, Mr. Trott said.

"A great responsibility is ours," he declared, "in the conduct and presentation of the 1944 United War Fund Campaign. With the end of hostilities in Europe in sight, and a world looking hopefully toward peace, there is a great task for our dollars to do.

"We must maintain, and in many cases expand, the work of our social service agencies on the home front. Many of our returning servicemen and their families will need them. We must continue to help prisoners of war until they are all released. We must maintain USO and other organizations serving members of our Armed forces until the last man and woman has been discharged. And we must go on bringing relief from the hunger, pain and suffering of those victims of total war in the lands of our Allies.

"Our generosity to the needy of the ravaged world cannot end with the laying down of arms. It must carry on toward a brighter tomorrow in the true American tradition. The warmth and friendliness (Continued on Page 2)

Appoint Victory Committee of 50

With the Miriam Hospital Building Fund Campaign scheduled to end on October 1, efforts were intensified this week to raise $100,000 during the month of September so that the goal of $750,000 will be reached. A special victory committee of 25 men and 25 women will meet next Wednesday, September 13, to complete arrangements for the final push, Samuel Shore, chairman of the drive, said this week.

Maurice Stollerman, superintendent of the hospital and director of the fund raising campaign, appealed to prospective contributors to "lighten the burden of solicitors by mailing in their contributions to the Miriam Hospital, 31 Parade street."

For the convenience of workers, a temporary downtown headquarters has been established at 1412, Turks Head Building.

A group of women from the Miriam Hospital Association this week met at the home of Mrs. Charles C. Brown, president of the Association, to determine how their organization might best aid in the final victory drive.

Alter Boyman, vice president of the hospital and associate chairman of the building fund drive, appealed to the presidents of local clubs and organizations for contributions. "It would indeed be a laudable deed," he said, "if each organization dedicated in the new Miriam Hospital a bed as an everlasting memorial and as expression of interest in a humanitarian project."

Editorials

Rule of Numbers?

One of the latest examples of phrase-juggling to shirk responsibility is attacked by Bernard De Voto in the August issue of Harper's Magazine. With natural concern he quotes a Boston official who said, apropos of racial outbreaks, that democracy means majority rule, and Jews and Negroes are in the minority in the locality under discussion.

Such spurious logic would imply that in a town where tall people predominate, the short ones might expect abuse and no one rise to defend them. Webster's definition of "democracy" is "government by the people" and "belief in or practice of social equality." We have never felt that where brunets had the numerical advantage, blondes might expect fewer rights or privileges, or that the law might fail to curb redheads when they happen to outnumber the rest of the population.

A short time ago a group of Protestant clergymen in Massachusetts met to discuss means of combating anti-racial violence and prejudice. One minister questioned the wisdom of campaigning as a member of a Protestant committee, saying timidly, "You know we're in the minority in my district." The fear was ominous in its portent. "For goodness' sake!" the chairman replied, "You have the Catholic committees and the Jewish committees for this—that-and-the-other. Let us have the courage to call ourselves Protestants!"

Certainly in the United States a person should be free to belong to any lawful minority without relinquishing the rights of full citizenship and protection.

Problems Affecting Jews on Agenda

NEW YORK — Consideration of the problems of political anti-Semitism and the dangers inherent to Jews in post-war economic dislocation will highlight the discussions of the second plenary session of the National Community Relations Advisory Council to be held Saturday through Monday, September 9-11, at the Hotel Waldorf Astoria, it was announced by David Shor, chairman. The fifty-six representatives of five national and seventeen local community civic protective agencies will also hear reports of five sub-committees—membership, public relations, interfaith, legislation and policies and objectives of the NCRAC—as a part of the plan of the National Community Relations Advisory Council to implement its program of coordination and clearance in the field of civic protection.

Another feature of the sessions will be a discussion of the trends in anti-Semitism and a report on recent studies and scientific research in the field.

ness of our gifts will have a profound effect upon the rising tide of world peace and security.

"And our soldiers and sailors, back from the lands of starvation and waste, will be proud of us if we fulfill, in the fullest possible measure, the great obligation of the strong toward the weak and helpless peoples of the world."

The R. I. United War Fund was established in 1943 as the logical answer to the multiplying War Relief appeals which had already been organized. It set the pattern for the development of the National War Fund and gave to the nation a demonstration of unity in fund raising which was followed in hundreds of American communities during the succeeding months.

It asks once a year for one gift from everyone, to be devoted to all 140 causes. It investigates their aims and purposes, and vouches for their integrity. It passes on their budgets; collects and distributes the funds, holds reserves against unanticipated needs which can be met in the community without further public appeals, and keeps the contributors informed as to the work of the agencies they have supported.

will co-operate in the settlement of "bona fide complaints of discrimination involving any U. A. W.-C. I. O. officer or a plant in which the union has a local.

The agreement, Messrs. Ross and Thomas said, "is expected to be of great benefit to both parties by speeding the elimination of un-American discrimination which is undeniably harmful to the war effort and to the labor movement."

The War Policy Division of the union will co-operate with the FEPC's regional offices in investigations, issue instructions to all U. A. W.-C. I. O. personnel that may be necessary for the observance of the agreement, and confer with FEPC representatives in an effort to adjust satisfactorily all cases that are brought to the Division's attention.

Mr. Ross called the agreement "a great step forward in the American trade union movement which shows an ever growing realization that preservation of the right to work for all men regardless of race, creed, color, or national origin is the keystone to its future healthy existence."

Refugee Soldier Killed First Jap in Burma Drive

NEW YORK — Sgt. Werner Katz, 24-year-old Jewish refugee from Germany, revealed this week how he became the first American soldier to kill a Japanese after the Allied drive into Burma began last winter.

A member of Merrill's Marauders, famed jungle fighters, Sgt. Katz, who has returned on furlough, related how he was leading a reconnaissance patrol down a jungle path when three Japanese appeared before him. Katz killed the leading Japanese and then fled from the machine-gun of the other two, although he was wounded in several places.

Interviewed at the headquarters of the National Refugee Service, Sgt. Katz disclosed that despite his wounds he continued the 750-mile trek of the Marauders which ended with the capture of the large Burma base of Myitkynia.

Prior to the Burma campaign Katz fought at Guadalcanal, which, he said, was a tougher campaign although somewhat less nerve-racking.

The cash registers in the gyp joints are jingling; the ticket-racks for the hit shows are as bare as Hitler's future—the buyers are in town! Twice a year they descend on Manhattan in volume, and then come the glad, gala days for Broadway. Even now, in a lopsided sellers' market, buyers must be entertained. It's a tradition. Johnny O'Connor this week starts his 17th year as manager of Fred Waring—never a word in writing between them, only a handshake. Errol Flynn's new thrill is a Texas beauty-winner, Corky la Feuch; Barbara Moffett, in New York en route to an overseas USO jaunt, is forgetting him with Lt. Bob Gregory, ex-wrestler and ex-husband of Princess Ba Ba.

Flo Leeds, who was a famous Ziegfeld beauty, tells us that Flo Hart, who was one of the most famous Ziegfeld beauties, is happily married to a physician in New Jersey and deep in war welfare work. Nina Foch, who will be in the film "A Song to Remember," is the daughter of Consuela Flowerton, our first society warbler. Theodore Roosevelt had this legend on his White House desk: "The value of a smile—costs nothing—but creates much. It is rest to the weary—daylight to the discouraged—sunshine to the sad—and nature's best antidote for trouble! Yes—it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen—for it is something that is no earthly good to anybody—until it is given away."

A large Republican meeting was attended by a small boy offering for sale four puppies, so young their eyes were still unopened. "Get your McKinley pups!" he shouted, and enjoyed a brisk sale. Two weeks later the Democrats had a meeting in the same town, and the little boy was again seen hawking an armful of pups. "Get your Bryan pups!" he yelled this time.

"See here," said an onlooker, "didn't I see you selling 'McKinley pups' here a few weeks ago?" "Yessir," replied the lad meekly, "but these are different—they've got their eyes open!"

Of course we can't prove it, but George Washington is alleged to have become wearied with an official investigation which paraded a score of experts through his chambers. "It is my opinion," he is quoted, "that calling many witnesses to prove one fact is like adding a large quantity of water to a small quantity of brandy—it makes it weak."

point with a yarn that FDR is said to be chuckling over still. "The neighbor of an Arab sheik," related the Premier, "asked for the loan of a rope. 'I cannot lend it,' said the sheik, 'I need it to tie up my milk with.' 'But surely,' replied the other, 'you do not tie up your milk with a rope?'"

"'Brother,' said the sheik, 'when you do not want to do a thing, one reason is as good as another.'"

FDRoosevelt, commenting on the promise of aid recently sworn by a small pro-Allied nation, told a newspaper man that it reminded him of the story of the Barbados Island and the last war. The Barbados, with a standing army of twelve men, was taking bows because it had "stood ready." It was later learned that the island had indeed "stood ready." In the early days of the war, it was disclosed, a cablegram was dispatched to military leaders of the Allied command. "Success," it read, "Barbados is behind you!"

Fritz Mandl is Blacklisted by State Department

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Fritz Mandl, reportedly an apostate Jew, one time Austrian munitions magnate, now active in the Argentine munitions industry, has been "blacklisted" for being associated with Axis economic interests, the State Department disclosed.

Mandl, who left Austria before its annexation by Hitler, was one of the financial backers of Austria's Fascist, anti-Semitic Prince Starhemberg, protege of Benito Mussolini.

Edward Tomlinson, Collier's editor and Latin American expert, writes in the latest issue of the weekly that the former Austrian munitions magnate owns and controls three factories in Argentina devoted entirely to the manufacture of machines of war. These factories are the Impa Aeronautica, which turns out monoplane gliders, and Impa Central and Impa San Martin, which produce bicycles and motorcycles for infantrymen, vehicles for transporting light war equipment and various other war materials. Mandl's companies are all subsidiaries of the Impa Corporation, which recently organized with joint Argentine government and private Argentine capital.

CHEESE BLINTZES

Flour (approximately ¼ cup)
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 eggs
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
½ lb. cottage cheese
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar

Beat eggs, add milk and sugar. Add enough flour to make a thin batter. Add melted butter. Drop by spoonfuls into a greased frying pan. The batter should be thin enough to spread out all over pan, and the pan should be shaken gently while the cake cooks. When slightly brown at the edges, remove carefully and spread out on paper toweling until all the batter is baked into cakes. In meantime force cottage cheese through a sieve, add salt and sugar. Pile one heaping tablespoonful on each cake; roll, or pinch together as you would a dumpling. Brush lightly with beaten egg and bake in a slightly hotter than moderate oven for 10 to 15 minutes. Serve with jam and sour cream if desired.

Refugees in Italy Turn Down Offer of Citizenship

ROME — A meeting of Jewish refugees in Rome convened this week by the Intergovernmental Committee for Refugees to announce the offer of the Italian government to grant citizenship to stateless persons was converted by the majority of the 150 refugees present into a pro-Palestine demonstration and concluded with fervent singing of the Hatikvah.

Speaking in Italian, Sir Clifford Heathcote-Smith, representative of the Intergovernmental Committee for Refugees urged the Jewish refugees to accept the offer of the Italian government. He pointed out that overseas countries are reluctant to admit immigrants and might continue the same policy after the war is over.

Many refugees, he continued, are anxious to go to Palestine. But Palestine is "very limited" and could not receive all those who desire to enter it, he added. He illustrated his remark with a handkerchief, declaring that Palestine is not larger than a handkerchief and presents a very special problem.

In suggesting the Jewish refugees accept the offered Italian citizenship the representative of the Intergovernmental Committee assured the meeting that his office will handle all the formalities and that material assistance would be forthcoming to enable those accepting Italian citizenship to get a new start.

The consensus of opinion among the refugees at the meeting was that the offer of the Italian government should be accepted by those having roots in Italy who could be absorbed socially and economically, but that this offer was no solution for the majority of the Jewish refugees who happen to be in Italy only by chance.

Impose Collective Fine on Suburb

JERUSALEM — The Palestine authorities imposed a fine of $2,000 on Givat Shaul, the Jerusalem suburb near which the recent attempt was made on the life of the retiring High Commissioner Sir Harold MacMichael. The High Commissioner was on his way from Jerusalem to Jaifa at the time.

The Jewish terrorist or the so-called "Stern Group" which is composed of extremist youths posted an announcement over the walls of buildings in Jerusalem stating that it was their organization which carried out the attack on the High Commissioner and his escorting party. None of the assailants have been identified.

As the United Nation's forces liberate more and more Nazi-occupied countries of Europe, the JDC's extended relief and rescue program must be expanded. And in preparation, there'll be a conference in a couple of weeks in Boston. Archie Silverman will be the Rhode Island representative. The Miriam Hospital Building Fund drive will end on October 1. Officials of the drive, Maurice Stollerman said this week are determined that the final effort will result in success.

The miracle of Narragansett Bay: After two seasons of trying the SEVENALL finally tasted victory on Labor Day when she came home first in the T class sailboat race on the bay. I wonder where they'll tie the blue ribbon.

For her efforts in the sale of War Bonds, the Treasury Department this week gave Mrs. Gussie Nelson her fifth citation. Mrs. Nelson's activities have been statewide. At present she's on assignment at the race track and in between moments she handles the booth at the Shepard Company. Rabbi Abraham Chill, of the Sons of Jacob Synagogue, has been appointed a member of the Servicemen's Rehabilitation Commission by Governor J. Howard McGrath. Rabbi Chill represents religion on the panel. The duty of the commission will be to anticipate and to alleviate many of the problems that will arise when the servicemen come home.

Eva Berger is back home after spending two months at the Cape. The Leonard Richters arrived in Providence this week after a summer at the Pier. The Alter Boymans have returned from Philadelphia where they visited Rabbi and Mrs. Meir Lasker and especially, their grandson. The exodus from Barrington Beach was in full swing this week. Phil Ostrow looks fit after vacationing at Tarleton. Mrs. Moses Epstein, National President of Hadassah, will speak here Tuesday.

Lee Segall, boss of the Dr. I. Q. and Fish Pond radio programs, has the following "bafflers" to pass on. How are cigarettes packed? (Generally in 3 rows, 7 in both outside rows, 6 in the center row). In a leap year, how many months in the year have 28 days? (All of them—although most people say none). How many holes are there in men's rubber heels? (Eight).

Are you good at adding? Have some sucker do this aloud with you. Add 1020 and 1020. That's 2040. Now add 20 to that: 2060. Now add 20 more: 2080. Now add 10 more: 2090. Now add 10 more. "Three thousand," the sucker invariably says, although it's 2,100. Segall, who's written 50,000 questions, says the mind plays strange tricks. "Is Mickey Mouse a dog or a cat?" if asked gravely may lead some person to say "A cat," and the question, "If you had 5 apples and ate all but two of them, how many would you have left?" often brings the reply, "Three." Segall doesn't know why the mind acts up but he's glad it does because it makes for funny—and profitable radio programs.

Lily Pons Says Palestine is Just "Wonderful"

NEW YORK — "Wonderful" is Lily Pons' opinion of Palestine, where the Metropolitan Opera star spent four days in the course of a 25,000 mile USO tour of U. S. camps in the Middle East and Italy. She toured with her husband, Andre Kostelanetz, CBS conductor.

Describing the country as "an oasis in the Middle East," she regretted "that we had only so short a time there." Mr. Kostelanetz said that the Palestine Symphony Orchestra, which they heard in Jerusalem, "ranks with the finest."

After a visit to the communal settlement Givath Brenner, Mr. Kostelanetz stated, he came away with "a feeling for the soil."

Duplessis Heads Quebec Cabinet

MONTREAL — The Liberal Government of Quebec was on its way out, to be replaced by a cabinet to be headed by Maurice Le Noblet Duplessis, Jew-baiter who has been circulating alleged documents to prove that Canada's Jewish leaders were in a conspiracy to "flood" the country with refugees. The Canadian Jewish Congress has challenged him to prove the authenticity of his documents. He has never replied to the challenge made months ago.

Duplessis heads the Union Nationale, fascist organization. His margin in the Legislature, however, will be a precarious one. The lineup is: Union Nationale—47 seats; Liberals—37; Block Populaire, a reactionary group—4; Canadian Commonwealth Federation—1, Independent—1.

A Block Populaire coalition with the Union Nationale is in the process of formation, observers said. Outgoing Liberal Premier Godbout declared himself skeptical of the longevity of such a coalition.

"Minyan" Set Up in Nazi Headquarters

NEW YORK — A photograph of Jewish soldiers somewhere in France attending services conducted by their chaplain in a captured Nazi headquarters, was published in Sunday's New York Times. The Nazis left their headquarters in great haste, the picture reveals, with two large swastika banners hanging on the wall. The Jewish G. I.'s must have been in a great hurry to conduct the services for they didn't bother to remove the symbols for the services.

Critics Praise War Paintings

NEW YORK — Art critics hailed the war paintings of David Fredenthal, an artist on the staff of Life magazine. Reproductions of the paintings commended by the critics appear in the current issue of Life and depict the landing of U. S. troops on the southern tip of New Britain.

Hit Mushulochim's Methods of Fund Raising in U. S.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — In 1943 collections of muchulochim in the United States totaled more than $750,000, but only about $300,000 ever found its way to the Palestine institutions for which the collections were made, an article in the Jacksonville Jewish Community Bulletin says, attributing the estimate to a reliable source.

"Many resort to fund-raising methods disapproved for years by social work endorsing agencies, such as the payment of commissions to solicitors, the use of the 'remit or return' device, etc. Their records are seldom kept in such a way as to make an audit possible, nor are they subject to any kind of supervision by their principals in Palestine or by any public authority in the United States," the article declares.

Religious Leaders Appeal For Ban on Discrimination

WASHINGTON — Religious leaders—Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish—last week asked Congress to permanently outlaw economic discrimination based on race, color, creed, or national origin.

Speaking for 25 Protestant denominations, Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of New York voiced the support of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America for a permanent Fair Employment Practices Commission to carry on in peacetime the antidiscrimination activity started under executive order during the war.

Bishop Oxnam, a leading figure in the Methodist Church, expressed hope that the educational effect of the law would obviate such violence against minority groups as has troubled Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia, and other large American cities.

The Bishop appeared before a subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor which has scheduled three days of hearings on the permanent F. E. P. C. despite the House Labor Committee's decision to postpone further consideration of this ticklish question until after the election. The Senate bill is a companion bill to the Scanlon-LaFollette bill on which 10 days of hearings already have been held in the House.

Both Bishop Oxnam and Rabbi J. X. Cohen, Chairman of the Commission on Economic Discrimination of the American Jewish Congress, stressed the displeasure of returning American soldiers to find freedom for which they have been fighting curtailed in economic opportunities at home.
