GJC to Give Funds for Pioneer Child Rescue Work

Allocation of $6,000 Agreed Upon In Lieu of Independent Campaign

An application of the Pioneer Women's Club of Providence for the inclusion of their Child Rescue Fund as a full beneficiary of the General Jewish Committee was acted upon favorably at the last meeting of the board, it was announced this week by Archibald Silverman. In the past few years the Child Rescue Fund has been receiving a partial allocation from the GJC and they had an independent campaign for the remainder of their funds. In 1945 they were granted a partial allocation of $3,000, and $4,000 in 1946. The agreement reached provides for an allocation of $6,000 after the 1947 GJC campaign is completed, with the specific understanding that the Pioneer Women's Club will have absolutely no personal solicitations or fund-raising effort in behalf of the Child Rescue Fund. However, the agreement permits the Pioneer Women's Club to receive contributions from local women's organizations which have contributed to the Child Rescue Fund in the past. These include such organizations as the Ladies' Hebrew Union Aid, South Providence Ladies' Aid Association, Jewish Mothers' Alliance, and the Ladies' Hebrew Free Loan Association.

Mrs. Harry Schleifer, president of the Pioneer Women's Club and Mrs. Alter Boyman, chairman of the Child Rescue Fund, met with a special sub-committee of the GJC under the chairmanship of Jacob S. Temkin and including Joseph W. Ress and Alter Boyman in order to discuss details concerning their application for inclusion as a full beneficiary. The recommendation of the sub-committee made to the Board of directors was unanimously approved after full discussion of the subject.

The JWB Report on Jewish Centers

The results of a sociological study unprecedented in the annals of Jewish activities were reported at the recent National Jewish Welfare board meeting. The results of a year-long survey include JWB's aims, goals, service, programs and relationships to Jewish community centers, other national Jewish organizations and Jewish schools and synagogues. The report was made after a thorough sampling of Jewish opinion over the entire nation and amounts to a referendum of an organization dedicated to serving the American Jewish community.

The study declares that "while participation in the Jewish Center should be open to all inhabitants of the local community, the maintenance of non-sectarian agencies is not the function of the Jewish Center movement. Such institutions are eminently desirable, and individual Jews may join with their fellow-citizens, Jews and non-Jews, in sponsoring, directing and financing their activities."

It identified the function of the Jewish Center as serving as an agency of Jewish identification; serving as an agency of Jewish integration; as an agency of personality development; to provide a dynamic and flexible program of service in the fields of recreation and informal education for the entire Jewish community; to further the democratic way of life; to assist in the integration of the individual Jew as well as of the Jewish group, into the total American community.

"If each community can cull from this report that which will aid it advantageously and if the JWB can follow through on all the recommendations made to it from this complete and lengthy survey, it will have served its purpose and aroused and stimulated an even finer Center system throughout the United States.

Conn. Passes Anti-Bias Law

Hartford, — The Connecticut State House of Representatives last week approved the State's first fair employment practices bill by a vote of 221 to 195. The Republican majority in the House was sharply divided on the measure which was already passed by the State Senate and is virtually certain of Governor McCanough's approval. The bill bans discrimination against any individual because of race, religion or color and authorizes the State Interracial Committee, which was created several years ago, to issue cease and desist orders against any employer, employment agency or labor union guilty of discrimination.

Underground Has Goal of Million Jews to Palestine

Frankfurt—Veteran directors of Jewish underground migration declared this week their long-range goal was the transport of 1,000,000 Jews from Europe to Palestine.

Resettling more than 2,000,000 Jews from western Germany and Austria, they said, would be "only the beginning" in building a Jewish national state "which will give a sense of security to Jews everywhere in the world."

They listed these estimated Jewish populations as future citizen-material for Palestine: Romania—350,000 to 400,000; Hungary—200,000 to 250,000; Poland—125,000 to 150,000; Bulgaria—43,000; Yugoslavia—13,000.

One high Jewish official hinted that an agreement with Marshall Tito's government might soon speed Yugoslavia's Jews to the Holy Land, and perhaps facilitate embarkation of those from other countries. The transport of Jews from Romania is just starting in sizable numbers.

British Threat on Control Of Water Worries Palestine

Jerusalem, — The Palestine government is about to enact legislation similar in its throttling effects on Jewish development to the white paper of 1939, according to reliable information.

That white paper, the basic cause of the turmoil gripping the Holy Land today, stringently limits the immigration of Jews and the sale of land to them. The new legislation would restrict the extraction of and the use of Palestinian water resources. Water is vital to Jewish land reclamation projects, which greatly exceed any government or Arab endeavours in this field.

Much of the land the Jews were permitted to acquire was arid until, by the expenditure of much money, study, perseverance and labor, the Jews found water. The underground water resources, which none knew existed, was tapped thanks to Jewish enterprise, and desert lands have accordingly been turned into green gardens.

What the government control of underground water resources will mean was indicated recently when the Jews were forbidden to complete their pipeline for bringing water to new settlements in the Negev desert in Southern Palestine.

GJC Allocates $6,000 for Pioneer Child Rescue

Mr. Silverman stated, "In addition to eliminating another independent campaign for funds in our community, this step will also provide assured support for a very worthwhile cause."

Mr. Schleifer and Mrs. Boyman both acclaimed the decision as a progressive step in making for a more unified community and centralizing their fund-raising efforts. They urged the members of the Pioneer Women's Club to participate even more fully than in the past in the campaign of the General Jewish Committee and pointed out that it is extremely important for those who formerly contributed to the Child Rescue Fund to add this amount to their contribution to the General Jewish Committee.

The projects of the Pioneer Women's Club such as the Working Women's Council and the Building Fund and Expansion Program are not included in the General Jewish Committee, and will be otherwise supported through affairs run by the local group.

British Threaten To Control Water In Palestine

The Colonial Office countered the Jewish protests by saying that continued Jewish development in the Negev might be interpreted as an attempt to change the status quo before the United Nations reached a decision on Palestine.

If the projected water legislation is enacted before the arrival of the UN fact-finding commission, the government's purpose will be clear; to bring land reclamation to a standstill and to try to convince the UN commission that the absorptive capacity of Palestine has just about reached its limit.

However, experts estimate Palestine's capacity can run to millions if the country's water potentialities are exploited.

Hochman-Schoenberg
Miss Edythe S. Schoenberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Schoenberg, of 157 Modena avenue, was married on Wednesday evening to James Hochman, son of Mr. Joseph Hochman, of 19 Duncan avenue. Rabbi Israel M. Goldman, and Rabbi Abraham Chill performed the 6:30 o'clock, candlelight ceremony at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel. Cantor Jacob Hohenemser assisted and Mrs. Albert Coken sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Approximately 260 persons from Virginia, New York, Boston, Warren, Bristol and Providence attended the affair. Among the guests was Lt. Governor John McKiernan.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white satin gown, en train, designed with long fitted sleeves, a tight bodice and a neckline of illusion. Her full-length veil of illusion was fastened to a seeded pearl coronet, and she carried a bouquet of bridal roses, an orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Lillian Greenglass, of Marlboro, Mass., a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Mrs. Paul Goldstein, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. The former was attired in a yellow, off-the-shoulder gown, trimmed with green, and a matching hat, and carried an arm bouquet of Tailsman roses. Mrs. Goldstein selected an aqua gown and a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Betty Wexler, Miss Naomi Rose, Mrs. Harold Israel, Mrs. Bernard Goldberg, all of Providence, and Mrs. Myer M. Monchick, of Marlboro, Mass. They wore identical gowns and carried Bibles adorned with roses.

Harvey Blake was the best man, and the ushers included Leonard Treistman, Leonard Schoenberg, and Haskell Frank, all of Providence, and Meyers M. Monchick, of Marlboro.

The groom was given in marriage by his father and his sister, Mrs. Milton Blettie.

The mother of the bride wore an aqua gown and an orchid corsage.

Before You Go to That Evening Show

Sallies in Our Alley: Pixad, the new gimmick in technicolor (atop a roof in Times Square), is stopping traffic a la a New Year's Eve crush—it's that clever. . . . There's no biz like show biz item: The advertisers' "tickets admitting to everything (including seats)" . . . The G-Men now have a gadget which they can tune in on your boudoir secrets and hear every whisper from parked cars half a mile from the scene. Unless you know how to "jam" it and cause static . . . The war department nix'd Communist leader William Z. Foster's application for a jaunt through Germany—the Daily Communist.

Ironical Item: While the Cancer Society was meeting in the Astor (with atom scientists) to discuss cancelling cancer, another meeting upstairs was held by casket manufacturers.

Congress is doing its usual sloppy thinking on outlawing the Communist party. . . . No legislation can stop a political belief; but the Communist agents (outside of Russia) are doing far more than acting as political sympathizers. . . . They are acting as spies and agents, and their objective is not conversion, but sabotage and destruction. . . . The Bill of Rights was not designed as protection for any foreign military spies. . . . Let's wake up. . . . Foreign agents are not a political question. . . . They are a military problem. . . . They are not engaged in planting seeds of Communism in American minds. . . . They are much more interested in where to plant atom bombs in American cities.

Russian delegates are privately stating that if the veto power of the Big 4 is cancelled, Russia will take it on the lam for home. . . . It will be denied, but the British foreign office is using heavy pressure (politically) on American delegates—to play ball with British policy—or else. . . . Those who have suffered from Bilbo's cussedness will be overjoyed to learn that he is in agony. Can't, we hear, ever again filibuster. Might kill him if he tries. Can hardly whisper, too, without something like a stiletto cutting his throat. . . . A guy on the coast who does a column called "Pikes Peek" is threatening to sue Earl Wilson for titling his comical book that way. That's what comes from writing books. . . . And why write books? They invariably show up in Broadway drug store windows (on sale for 19c) a few months later. A certain syndicate is letting column raiders take all they want for their alleged books. . . . Then, next year, demand an accounting and royalties from their publishers at $1 per copy.

New York Novelties: She had been his woman for years. . . . She had him well-trained, too. . . . Frisexample: If she felt he was neglecting her (not phoning or seeing her often enough), she got immediate action with her "system." . . . She'd dial his number—wait for the phone to ring once, then hang up. . . . Thus saving her pride by not "actually calling him." . . . He knew what the "One Ring" meant, and he would call right back. . . . This system, however, was her undoing. . . . When she started two-timing him, some of his pals heard about it but didn't want to wound him directly. . . . Soooooo one 2 a. m., one of them dialed his number—let it ring once—and hung up. . . . Our Hero immediately phoned her. . . . A man's voice answered. . . . And That (as Confucius used to say) Was That.

It's OPEN SEASON on MOTHS

Storing woollens safely against moths protects a large investment of precious dollars and shopping hours. First kill any existing moths by washing or dry cleaning, sunning and brushing, fumigating. Then keep new moths out by sealing woollens in a tight chest, closet, or taped garment bag.

1. Wash or dry-clean before putting away is the first rule for safe storage of woollens. Food and grease spots are moth plagues.
Cleaning solutions or suds kill moth eggs and larvae. Also your dry cleaner has a special solution for treating fabrics to make them moth-resistant. After cleaning or treating, he will be glad to put clothes for storage in sealed bags. That way they'll stay moth-free.

2. Sun and brush just before wrapping or storing, when you're not sealing. Bright sunshine destroys new larvae, causing them to drop from clothing. Take care not to fade your bright colors.
Let your brush finish the demoth-ing job. Brisk brushing in every seam and pocket dislodges and crushes moth eggs and larvae.

Turn down hands and cuffs, and whisk briskly.

3. Select right container. Those articles you wash or clean at home, you may seal in garment bags as the dry cleaners does, or pack in well-built chests or boxes.
(Dresser drawers are not tight enough to keep moths out.) Line your container with paper. You can get DDT-treated and cedar paper.

You're lucky enough to have a spare closet that you can devote solely to storage? It'll save boxing and space juggling. You may hang unwrapped garments in it,
and fumigate the entire closet.
First,

4. Fumigate thoroughly, one of several ways. There are naph-thalene or paradichlorobenzene
crystals, DDT in oil solution, arosol bombs. Or use your vacuum cleaner demothing attachment
according to manufacturer's directions.

Shake naphthalene or paradichlorobenzene crystals between each fold of woollens stored in boxes and trunks—be generous.
Spray garments to be stored in bags or hung in storage closets
with 2 percent DDT in oil solution (read the label). Use a continuous-motion hand sprayer to produce a fine mist. Give attention to every seam and pocket.

5. Seal storage container next.
After fumigating closet, close door tightly. For added precaution against moth entrance, you cover the door crack all around with gummed tape. If necessary to open the closet during storage period, renew fumigation. An easy way is to release a new aerosol bomb.

It's not hard to keep those precious woolls safe for the summer.
Dry clean or wash, sun and brush before putting away. Choose the best storage spot possible, fumigate, and seal. Follow those five easy safeguards, and breathe
a sigh of relief.

Lady Astor and Dr. James McDonald Have Verbal Duel on Palestine Question

New York—Virginia-born Lady Nancy Astor, first woman member of Parliament, and Dr. James G. McDonald, who was an American member of the Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry on Palestine, engaged in an unstaged verbal duel on the Holy Land problem before 50 fellow passengers as the Queen Elizabeth arrived in port, it was reported this week in the N. Y. Post.

From the start the issues were clearly drawn. Lady Astor said she learned all about Zionism in her own home, headquarters of the ultra-conservative Cliveden Set, and indicated she was opposed to the movement. Dr. McDonald, who has just returned from Palestine, where he broke ground for the first building of the new Hebrew University-Hadassah Medical School, asserted in a lively exchange that Zionism "has gone so far that it cannot be destroyed."

The clash, friendly but often punctuated by words that spared no feelings, started when the two were being interviewed by reporters.

The repartee, often too fast for the reporters to follow, went like this:

Lady Astor (in reply to Dr. McDonald's defense of the Balfour Declaration for a Jewish National Home in Palestine): "You are one of those crazy men who helped get us in the war."

Dr. McDonald: "Britain has failed to carry out her obligations. There are 125,000 troops in Palestine, one soldier to every man. The British have no merciful basis for this policy."

Lady Astor: "You have been anti-British for years: What the gangsters have been doing in Palestine will hurt decent Jews all over the world. If partition is the only solution I'm for it" (Dr. McDonald nodded in agreement.)

Dr. McDonald: "You would feel differently if you went to Palestine now. You would feel the heroism. I have slight sympathy with the resistance but the young people there are not interested in politics but in irrigation ditches and reconstruction."

Lady Astor (in closing): "The Jews ought to stay put in their homes in Germany."

Equipment committee: Henry Levaar, chairman; Archie Finklestein, co-chairman; Bernard Goodman, Joseph W. Pulver, Samuel Kaplan, Max Kestenman.

The committee met with Dr. Charles Willinsky, executive director of the Beth-Israel Hospital of Boston, who will act as advisor. The chiefs of the medical staff of the hospital were also in attendance.

Jacobson Elected By Olympic Club

Jack Jacobson was unanimously elected president of the William Gates Cutler Olympic Club at the organization's final regular meeting of the season held at the Jewish Community Center. Mr. Jacobson succeeds Sidney Green, who had been in office since the war.

Completing the new slate of officers for the 1947-48 season are: Syd Cohen, vice-president; Hy Levin, recording secretary; Irving H. Levine, treasurer; Sidney Rakatansky, corresponding secretary, and Summer Pearl, sergeant-at-arms. Elected to the policy-making executive committee, headed by the vice-president, are Mr. Green, Louis Yosinoff, Israel Moses, David Tanger and Alfred Roffer. The chairmen of the social, welfare and finance committees, when selected, also will serve on that body.

Plans were made at the meeting for more than 20 members to attend the Memorial Day double header between the Boston Braves and Brooklyn Dodgers.

Free Sculptor In Libel Suit

New York. Anti-Semitic postcards mailed by William Hunt Diederich of Tappan, N. Y., were not libelous under the U. S. Criminal code because they did not defame an "identifiable individual," according to an 11-page opinion handed down by Federal Judge Leibell.

The decision was cited by Shad Poller, president of the American Jewish Congress, as proof of the need for "intelligent, carefully considered group libel legislation to combat the threat of racism through such propaganda."

It Happened This Week

We have a letter from a Meyer Sactor, now residing in Brockton, Mass., who is anxious to learn of the whereabouts of Hirsh or Harry Charpak, who originally come from Rowno, Poland... Mr. Sactor has received word from two of Charpak's sisters' sons, Mottel and Mendel Hochman... If any of our readers know of the whereabouts of Mr. Charpak call the Herald and we'll pass along the information...

Odds and Ends

The Paul Robins are observing their 27th wedding anniversary this weekend at Banner Lodge... Helping them celebrate are the following couples, all from Providence... The Nathaniel Bodners, Louis Silverman, Lep Glass, Albert Shusters and the Harold Teitelmans... Carl Friedman was the fifth wheel in that group that went fishing for a week in Northeastern Maine... Carl had a load of tough luck, for he didn't catch a fish and his companions took him in gin rummy... Benjamin White, who is running the New Beachwood Hotel at the Pier, is quite a golfer... Members at Ledgemont will recall that Ben came down with the Kernwood Golf team in that Inter-Club match held last year... Ben also operates the dining room and bar concession at Kernwood and he'll be playing "mine host" when the return match is played...

Luther Adler is in N. Y. preparing the film production of a story he bought. His sister, Stella Adler, is in Hollywood now for 20th Century-Fox. Another sister Frances Adler, is in the Jean Paul Sartre play, "The Flies." There are now 10 members of the family now engaged in various phases of show business in the country... Mrs. Sarah Adler and her late husband, Jacob P. Adler children were born of the union. One day Mrs. Adler heard a commotion downstairs and asked her husband: "What's going on?"... Mr. Adler reported: "Your children and my children are beating up our children."
