Editorials

The Wayward Press

The wedding of a Providence couple last Sunday at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel was reported the following day in the Providence Journal and Evening Bulletin in an unusual and unjournalistic fashion.

White doves, champagne, bushes of flowers and 30 waiters took precedence over the marriage vows.

A wedding is a sacred occasion, probably the most important event in the average person's life. It is not admirable of a responsible newspaper to make of a wedding an hilarious mockery for public entertainment.

The Herald is not defending the lavishness of the ceremony or its lack of good taste. But it hardly reflects on the integrity of the daily press on whom we depend for objective reporting when the headlines in each succeeding edition of the paper throughout the day became so malicious that even the laymen, unfamiliar with the niceties of journalism, grasped the intent of copy reader and rewrite man.

Many other weddings have been performed in this city in which large sums of money have been spent. We are disturbed that this particular one was singled out for such vicious presentation

Instructions Given for SOS Drive

Norman Alper, Providence SOS Chairman, this week announced that many more volunteers and trucks are needed for Sunday, May 23. Trucks and volunteer workers, he said, will report at 9 a. m. on May 23 to the Produce Market at Kinsley street.

In five or six hours the great job of collecting, packing and shipping vitally needed relief supplies for the Jewish people of Europe will be completed.

The Red Cross has given its mobile canteen for the day.

A letter was received by all Providence Jewish homes this week telling of the one day collection. Next week a grocery sack is being mailed for gifts of canned and packaged food and clothing.

Because pick-ups cannot be made before Sunday morning, May 23, contributors who won't be home are asked to leave their gifts of separately bundled clothing and bags of food on the porch or with an interested neighbor.

The collection of supplies from firms has begun and will continue through the twenty-first, Bernard Goodman announced.

Home Seeks 1200 New Members

Mother's Day was very appropriately chosen as the opening day of the 1948 Home for the Aged Campaign for additional members. Samuel Michaelson, chairman, presided at a breakfast meeting held at the Home at which many workers were present.

The goal announced for the campaign is 1200 additional members so that there will be a total membership of 3000. Mr. Michaelson made it clear that this number is necessary to meet the Home budget in operating the enlarged and modernized Home with the recently added infirmary.

Mr. Michaelson said: "Our goal will be reached only when every Jewish home in the State of Rhode Island is a member."

The following women served as hostesses at the breakfast: Mesdames Ilie Berger, Jacob I. Felder, A. Heller, Samuel Michaelson, I. Solomon, Hy Silverman, David Yanku, Mitchell Sherwin, Max Alexander, Mollie Levy and Fred Pinkney.

Bowling Tournament Monday at Casino

Arrangements have been completed for the second Herald Bowling Tournament, to be held this Monday evening, starting at 8 o'clock at the Casino Alleys on Pine street. The Knights of Pythias, Providence Fraternal and the Olympic Club will compete for the new Herald trophy in the first edition of this newspaper's expanded bowling program.

Twenty representatives of each of the three organizations will be divided into four 5-man teams, with the top bowlers rolling on the "A" teams, the next best on the "B's" and so on. The league whose teams pile up the highest number of the 16 match points at stake will win the cup.

In making the appointment, Mr. Sopkin stated, "I am very pleased that Mr. Ress has agreed to serve as chairman of the Trade and Industry Division, since he is an energetic and devoted campaign worker and follows through on any job that he undertakes. Our Trade and Indus-

MISS JEAN JAFFE

R. I. Jewry will salute the provisional government of the Jewish State at a mass meeting this Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel, it was announced this week by Frank Licht, of the Zionist Emergency Council, sponsoring organization of the demonstration.

Mrs. Archibald Silverman, noted Zionist leader, will be the principle speaker of the evening. Others who will talk include Mr. Licht, Alter Boyman, Rabbi Morris G. Silk, and other leaders in Zionist work.

Admission is free and there will be no solicitations.

Meanwhile in Palestine, Jewish leaders are preparing to proclaim a Jewish nation immediately after the end of the British mandate at 12:01 a. m. Saturday.

Tel Aviv reported that this proclamation may take the form of the American Declaration of Independence.

LAKE SUCCESS — With the Polish and Guatemalan delegates hinting at affirmative action, the question of recognition of the Jewish State—which Jews say they will proclaim next Saturday—has taken precedence even over last minute UN efforts to agree upon an "emergency regime" for the Holy Land.

Jorge Garcia Granados of Guatemala warned the General Assembly's Palestine subcommittee—which was discussing a new emergency regime plan suggested by Finn Moe of Norway—that it is within the sovereign right of UN members to recognize new states and that his country was reserving the right "to do what is right" after May 15.

The Polish delegate, Julius Katz-Suchy, reminded the 12-nation sub committee that any UN body which attempted to assert authority in Palestine after the British mandate ends Friday midnight might be acting contrary to the UN Charter, which forbids the UN to interfere in the internal affairs of any state.

try setup has become a very important part of our campaign, and much of our success in 1947 is due to the fact that our campaign had been divided into various Trade and Industry Divisions. It will be Mr. Ress' responsibility to coordinate the work of these various divisions in our 1948 campaign."

Ress indicated that the appointment of chairmen of the various trades divisions will be announced in the near future. It is hoped to have organizational plans for each trade completed before the end of June, so that when the campaign starts in early September, each division will be prepared to do its job.

Glassberg, national secretary of Hadassah, at the annual donors' luncheon held last week at the Narragansett Hotel by the Senior Hadassah of Pawtucket and Central Falls.

Mrs. Glassberg asked for increased support of the Jewish cause in Palestine, and for donors to the blood bank sponsored by Hadassah and recently set up in Boston.

Sopkins Are Busy.....

The Sopkin family certainly is busy these days, between the future marriages of Janis to Bob Rothman and Ralph to Selma Weiss. Last Sunday night at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel a formal dinner dance in honor of Ralph and Selma was given by the Alvin Sopkins. Carl Tatz and his orchestra furnished music for dancing and solo dances by guests provided lively entertainment. Selma, the radiant bride-to-be, was lovely in a strapless gown of green satin. Needless to say, the party was grand.

Kay the Dreamer.....

Milton Kay is giving his friends a tale of woe these days. Seems he has day dreams of getting par on every hole in golf and he's heartbroken when he awakens.

Samors Anniversary.....

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Samors will celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary in a short while. Congratulations, folks!

Jerry Schneider's Sendoff.....

The many friends that he made during his stay in Providence are going to miss Jerry Schneider. Jerry, here for a short year, left for Indiana Monday morning after a send-off at the Wampanoag Club Saturday night. Jerry was presented with a traveling case, complete with everything down to a shoehorn.

Part of the Act.....

Any Saturday night you can be sure to see Lois Shatkin of Providence and Dexter Cohen of Fall River at the Cabana Club. Dexter's already part of the act!

Dot Complains, Improves.....

Poor Dot Samdperil: Dotty was seen last week on the golf course at Ledgemont Country Club throwing her clubs down in disgust as she moaned, "I just can't hit a ball!" But if yours truly knows Mrs. S. she'll improve her game at least ten points before the season's over. (P. S. She was seen the following day hitting a beautiful ball!)

Summer—Naimark Dinner.....

More romance—Anne Naimark and Merwin Summer—that's Merwin, not Erwin—will be married in June. Anne was honored at a dinner and bridge held last night at the "Little Red Hen."

The affair was given by Mrs. Simon Summer, mother of the intended groom.

The Song Is Taboo.....

What is this very special song routine that Mrs. Paul Hall, Miss Janis Sopkin and Mrs. Monty Sopkin do that they label taboo? I'd love to see it!

Hup, Two Three.....

Scene of the week: Ben Brier doing a fancy dance—one-two-three, one-two-three. Careful, Mr. Brier! Teacher's watching.

Chit, Chat.....

Outstanding couple: Mr. and Mrs. Lou Stone.

Just engaged: Louise Snider and Herbert Fierstein. The couple announced their engagement Saturday night at the Cabana Club.

Well, folks, your roving reporter will be back next week (if you like me) with more of the latest in news and views, when I again hope to keep you up to date on What's What and Who's Who.

Shapiro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isidore Shapiro of Bellevue avenue, and Rudi Larry Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Schneider of Davis street, was held last Sunday at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel. Rabbi Carol Klein of the Sons of Jacob Synagogue performed the ceremony, assisted by Cantor Karl Kritz. Al Rosen and his orchestra furnished the music.

Miss Freida Shapiro, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids included the Misses Muriel Kaplan, Edith Sholovitz, Charlotte Dubinsky, Florence Weiss, all of Providence, and Miss Miriam Biletsky of Boston. Other attendants were Mrs. Morris Gordon, Mrs. Albert Katzman and Mrs. Norman Pomerantz.

Flower bearers were Gayle Sperber and Ann Salk. Joel Matzner and Melvin Baker were ring bearers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Myer Malin was best man. The bride's gown was of Chantilly lace styled with a Bertha collar and a Cathedral train. Her short veil fell from a stephanotis headdress, and she carried stephanotis and orchids.

The corps of ushers were Dr. Perry Sperber, David Cole, Albert Katzman, Alfred Factor, Eric Gottlieb, William Wermuth, William Matzner and Norman Pomerantz.

The bride's attendants were all gowned in pastel shades. They carried cascade bouquets of roses and gardenias.

The couple will live at 72 Bellevue avenue when they return from a trip to Cuba.

Syd Cohen:

Games Called
 Because of SOS

A week from this Sunday the SOS campaign will receive the direct attention of the nation's Jews. Other stories are carrying the details of the drive, which seems certain to be a memorable and successful one. Organizers of the local campaign have not spared the horses in planning and arranging for the event.

The Centre Softball League, which this week reaches the half-way mark in its spring schedule, expects to have a hand in the drive. The schedule for May 23 has been postponed by Commissioner Tex Rabinowitz with the approval of the league's teams, and all members of all teams are strongly urged to spend the morning hours of that day working as hard for the drive as they usually do for softball victories.

All the teams that had been approached by last Sunday pledged their support and willingness to work. With this formal announcement that there will be no league games on the 23rd it is hoped that teams will mobilize all their roster strength to work for the drive.

Our community leaders are going all-out to insure that large quantities of canned goods, clothing and medical supplies will be collected for our unfortunate "lantzmen" overseas. Those of us who belong to the Sunday morning sunshine league, whether it be softball, tennis, golf, riding or constitutional walks can do no less than chip in and do what we can.

The Herald Bowling Tournament (second edition) is set for next Monday evening at the Casino Alleys on Pine Street. The action will start at 8 o'clock and Providence Fraternal, Knights of Pythias and the Olympic Club will roll for the honors. None of the three rolled at the Casino Alleys during their regular seasons so all are on an even footing. The tournament is open to the public and present indications point to an eventful evening.

Rules will be exactly the same as those in operation at other Herald tournaments. The five highest average men of each league will comprise the "A" teams, the next five highest the "B's" and so fourth. Three strings will be rolled with four points going to each division and a total of 16 match points for the tournament. The league whose individual teams pile up the highest number of these 16 points will be awarded the new Herald trophy.

Next month this column intends to survey the local sports scene with an eye to developing the program on a broader scale. This year has to date been a highly successful one from the standpoint of development. The softball league mushroomed into a healthy existence and shows evidence of future growth; and where the Herald used to sponsor one bowling tournament, it now has two.

The surface has only been scratched, however. There was tremendous interest in softball and bowling; it was, therefore, relatively easy to form the softball league, while expansion of the Herald's bowling activities was practically essential.

What about those who are interested in other sports than the two already mentioned? That is the basis on which we will conduct our survey. Once the facts are available we will try to start the ball rolling to provide some community-wide competition for that group as has been done for softball. Several ideas already have been forwarded by men interested in the project and it should not be long before an announcement is forthcoming.

In the meantime, all suggestions and ideas will be welcomed.

Volunteers to Develop New Center Camp

Volunteer "labor battalions" are making week-end excursions to Camp Centerland to develop and improve the site of the newly acquired day camp in Scituate of the Jewish Community Center to ready it for opening on June 28.

Simeon Kinsley, director of the Center, has asked that volunteers call either DEXter 6730 or DEXter 6175 to help in the work essential for the inauguration of one of the most unique day camps in the country. It will be for the use of Providence children. There are nearly 25 acres of beautiful meadow, orchard and woodland capable of accommodating over 300 children. A nearby river and cove complete the natural advantages of the new location.

The acquisition of the property was made possible by the generosity of a group of men led by Harry Schwartz who contributed $2000. Milton Kay was another pioneer in leading the fight for funds for the purchase price.

Those who have contributed up to the present include Saul Abrams, Norman Alper, William Bloom, Benjamin and Charles Brier, Alfred A. Archie, Irving and Louis Fain, Saul E. R. Feinberg, Abe C. Fine, Sidney Flanzbaum, Raymond G. Franks, Max Genser, George Gerber, Max Grant, Merrill Hassenfeld, Philip C. Joslin, Sidney Kane, Arthur Kaplan, Milton and Barney Kay, Simon Kessler, Leo Logan, David Meyers, Harry Pinkerson, Samuel Rapaport, Jr., Samuel and Hyman Rosen, Sigmond Rosenblatt, Charles Rothman, Milton C. Sapsinsley, Harry A. Schwartz, Samuel Shore, Alvin A. Sopkin, Edwin Sofofenko, Edith Sporer, Meyer Stanzler, Walter Sundlun, Nathan Temkin, Arthur Winkelman.

Center Adds 588 New Members

A total of 558 new members were added to the Jewish Community Center, Irving Jay Fain, chairman of the membership enrollment drive, announced after the final report meeting this week.

A welcome will be given to the new members at a reception to follow the annual meeting Wednesday evening, May 26.

The men's division, led by Saul E. R. Feinberg, tied the women's division, led by Mrs. Harold C. Sydney. Each reported 223 new members. Ira Rakatansky's young adult division brought 36 new members and Dave Meyers and his workers enrolled 75 new members in the business and professional class.

The high scorer for the drive was Mrs. Simeon Kinsley with 40 members. Irving Bornside had 29; Harold C. Sydney 18; Morris Kirshenbaum 17, and Bernard Goodman 15. Dr. A. Budner Lewis qualified for the honor of top section chief with 125 members in the men's divisions.

Hebrew Day School Briefs

This space has constantly tried to clarify the need of a day school in the modern Jewish community. Some, however, prefer the direct answer to certain questions and we have chosen five of the most common questions for this week's column:

1. Q. Is it a Parochial school? A. Not in the generally accepted meaning of the term. Parochial schools involve central church ownership, controlled financing and a faculty of clergymen, priests and nuns. Certainly the Jewish all-day school cannot be considered Parochial in this sense.

2. Q. Does it have to meet requirements of city and state boards of education? A. Yes. The all-day school, like all privately supported schools, must meet requirements set up by public school authorities.

3. Q. Do public schools admit students of the all-day school, giving credit for work done? A. Yes. In most all-day schools records are better than the average public school, due to smaller classes and more individual instruction.

4. Q. Is it un-American? A. This is the nub of the controversy. It is American in principle and in practice. The United States Constitution recognizes the right of any group to organize schools outside of the public school system providing they meet the requirements of safety, hygiene, and the schedule of hours and courses of study set up by the state and local authorities. The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Alfred E. Smith and many other prominent statesmen never attended a public school in their lives. Surely they cannot be considered un-American.

5. Q. What are some advantages of the all-day school? A. There are several. (a) More time is given to Hebrew subjects and greater opportunities are provided for the pupils' self-expression in the arts (music, crafts, dramatics), since the burden of an extra school has been removed. (b). Classes, as a rule, are smaller, thereby allowing greater individual attention. (c). It eliminates the burden of Hebrew studies during the afternoon and evening hours, providing the child with more leisure time for play and recreational activities. (d). Classes are more homogenous in interest, points of view and attitudes, thereby making a greater rapport between school and home.
