

$100,000 Drive On For Cranston Center

To House School, Recreational Facilities

(Picture on Page 7)

A dream of seven years has come to fulfillment in Cranston with the announcement that a campaign for $100,000 has been launched in order to erect Rhode Island's newest Jewish center—the Cranston Jewish Center. The proposed structure will house a synagogue, Sunday school and complete facilities for cultural and recreational activities.

The fund, which had its inception at Yom Kippur services in Legion Hall, Auburn, on October 12, has already received pledges totalling $20,000. This sum was pledged on the night of the services as a spontaneous movement for establishment of the center got underway. The amount was pledged by about 144 persons who attended the services.

The drive for a $100,000 goal began officially Nov. 9 at a meeting of the building fund committee of the Cranston Jewish Community Club held at the home of Morris Lenz of 35 Shirley Boulevard, Auburn. The committee, appointed by Abel Gurwitz, president of the community club, voted to incorporate as the Cranston Jewish Center, a non-profit religious organization.

Present at the meeting were the following committee and community club executive board members: Archie Chaset, chairman; Abel Gurwitz, ex-officio; Albert Cohen and Dr. Daniel Kouffman, civic; Edward Charon, secretary; Morris Lenz, treasurer; Sidney Markoff, financial secretary; Ben Kaplan and Mrs. Ellis Rosenthal, publicity; Israel Press, Mortyn Zletz, Jerome Fish and Aaron Rickles, legal committee; Mrs. Ben Kaplan and Mrs. Israel Press, women's committee; Dr. Burton Lichtman, Israel Karten, Al Sheffield, Dr. Murray Botvin, Leonard Mandell, Ben Woolf, Jack Westerman, Gerald Gordon, Herman Priest, Herbert Woolf, and Joseph Zukerberg.

Terms Bunche Demand Unrealistic

TEL AVIV—An Israeli Foreign Office spokesman declared bitterly this week:

"In this unreasonable, unrealistic order Dr. Bunche seems to be assuming the prerogatives of God—to raise the dead. The Egyptians have been defeated and beaten out of all this territory.

"This was Jewish state territory. The Egyptians entered as invaders. Now seemingly they are to be brought back to the scene of their aggression—and their defeat—oddly enough under the flag of the United Nations."

Cash Now Israel's Need; Morgenthau

UJA Head Reports On Recent Survey

Unless a continual flow of "more and more dollars" is made available by Jews in this country, the flow of immigrants into Israel will have to be curtailed, Henry Morgenthau Jr., chairman of the United Jewish Appeal campaign, said Tuesday.

Morgenthau made that concise analysis of the situation in a special address made over a nation-wide telephone hook-up, heard in Providence in the Strand Building offices of the General Jewish Committee.

The former secretary of the treasury related the highlights of his recently completed tour of Israel to his telephone audience. In a sincere and convincing manner, he cited specific instances to bring home to his listeners the need for cash contributions to aid in the settlement of the many new communities now springing up throughout the Jewish State.

Court Upholds Religion in Schools

KINGSTON, N. Y.—A State Supreme Court justice today upheld as constitutional the practice in New York of releasing public school children from classes for religious training.

Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth held that the state's "released time" programs cannot be "condemned upon a finding that they are in aid of religion."

He dismissed as failing to show facts sufficient for a cause of action a petition of Joseph Lewis, of North Salem, president of the Free Thinkers Society of America, who asked that the state's released time system be halted.

Lewis was not available for comment.

Five UPA Executives Resign in Protest

Five top executives of the United Palestine Appeal resigned this week in protest against the failure of the administration to meet the growing demands among Jewish community leaders throughout the country for the reorganization of the agency and the elimination of political control of funds raised for Israel.

In a joint letter of resignation addressed to the Acting National Chairman of the United Palestine Appeal, Harry Seeve, Administrator; Dr. Martin Rosenbluth, Director of Information; Ellis Radinsky, Director of Community Contacts; Dr. George Stefansky, Director of Research; and Sidney S. Green, Comptroller, declared that "in all the resolutions passed by the UPA and the statements released to the press the basic question of real and effective reorganization has been studiously avoided and ignored. We are now convinced that there is no sincere intention to reorganize the UPA."

Record Total Seen
Possible by GJC

"Coverage—more coverage—and still more coverage!" became the emphatic theme of the General Jewish Committee this week as contributions to the 1948 campaign climbed to the $1,026,427 mark.

"An unprecedented total can be achieved provided, 1) coverage is immediately made of all remaining uncontacted potential donors; 2) these donors-to-be give in the same increased proportion which has featured contributions made thus far."

That was the highlight of a joint statement on the drive's progress issued by Alvin A. Sopkin and Archibald Silverman, campaign chairman and president of the GJC, respectively.

A Report Luncheon for workers and captains next Monday noon at GJC headquarters, 203 Strand Building, is expected to push the total close to the $1,040,000 level. Sopkin and Silverman, urged all workers with pledge cards still in their possession to attend the luncheon or return the cards to campaign headquarters in order that they may be canvassed by other workers.

The total of $1,026,427, reported as the Herald went to press, compared favorably with last year's total of $825,259 from the same number of donors. All in all, it represented an approximate 25 percent increase.

Beth Israel Bowling

By SAUL HODOSH

We have now completed our first four sessions and the results will be used to determine the first set of handicaps.

Before proceeding I must take up one matter of grave importance. It seems that some members of the league have never been mentioned in this column and while they claim it is simply a question of proving they are in such a fine league I firmly believe they have to prove that they are definitely bowling Tuesday nights. So I will say Doc Siegal does in fact bowl on Tuesday nights (if you can call it bowling).

The scores remain consistently high as we note high 3 went to Manny Bromberg 352, with Hy

Olympic Bowling

By SIDNEY GREEN

Showing the stuff that champs are made of, the Levines bounced back from a first string deficit of 90 pins to take the next two strings and split even with the third place Gordons. Harry Woloff was high man for last week with a single string of 129 while the Gordons were fairly consistent with a three string total of 1512.

Last week marked the end of the seven-week round robin and the teams now go into the final round of the first half with the Levines showing their heels to the rest with 23 points. They are trailed by the Rodyns—17, Cohens and Gordons—15 each, Jacobsons—14, Lobels—12, Schwartz—9 and Avens—7.

Jack Jacobson still retains the individual high scoring mark of 157, while Joe Schwartz' 395 three string total is tops. The high team single mark of 552 made by the Cohens is still best, as is the Rodyns' team mark of 1587 for three strings.

dividual averages the leaders are Rodyn—113, J. Schwartz—112, and H. Cohen—109. Reeve Zatlhoff remains a faithful Aven customer as his follow through motion finds him flat on his face. Seymour Sax wore a flashy turtle-neck sweater, but from the way he bowled, he should have sent the turtle along in his place. One retraction to date—Lennie Cohen did not lose three strings last week as I reported. His team did.

Blazers, Eatons Lead at Football

Two weeks of play remain in the Herald Touch Football League before the playoffs begin and it is beginning to look as though the Blazers are a sure bet to be one of the finalists. The Blazers boast the league's only undefeated record after three games. The league leaders walloped the Smokies 59-0 on Armistice Day for the season high in scoring, and then downed the Eatons 12-0 last Sunday.

On Armistice Day the Eatons downed the Comets 17-6, the latter team dropping into a tie with the Olympics, who whipped the Smokies on Sunday 25-0. This Sunday the Olympics meet the Eatons at Mt. Pleasant Field and the Blazers and Comets do battle at Hope Field.

Council Gives $1000 To Scholarship Fund

The Jori Scholarship Fund has just received a gift of $1000 from the Providence Section, Council of Jewish Women, it was announced this week by Alexander Rumpier, president of the Jewish Children's Home and Foundation of Rhode Island and Benjamin Brier, chairman of the Jori Scholarship Fund Committee. The allocation was voted upon at a recent board meeting of the council, and a presentation was made by Mrs. Lionel L. Albert, president of the Providence section of the council and Mrs. Walter Adler, chairman of the council's scholarship fund. The money was obtained from proceeds of the Thrift Shop which is operated by the Council.

The Jori Scholarship Fund was established about a year ago in order to provide assistance for higher educational opportunities to needy Jewish young men and women of Rhode Island. Last spring, the committee awarded scholarships amounting to a total of $2200 to nine qualified applicants who are currently attending universities in various parts of the country through the help of the Jori Scholarship Fund.

The grant from the council was made with the stipulation that their funds be earmarked for scholarships specifically for young women. This is in line with the traditional program of the council to assist young women in accordance with their board educational program.

In making the presentation, Mrs. Albert and Mrs. Adler stated, "The Council is pleased to be able to assist in the commendable work of the Jori Scholarship Fund. We thoroughly believe in the validity of this fund as a means of advancing the higher educational opportunities for our Jewish young people. The Council is happy to be able to have a part in this significant project in our community."

In accepting the gift for the Jori Scholarship Fund, Mr. Brier and Mr. Rumpier issued the following joint statement, "On behalf of the Officers of the Jewish Children's Home and Foundation, we express our deepest gratitude to the Council for their notable contribution to the Jori Scholarship Fund. It is encouraging to know that organizations in the community have been quick to recognize the importance of this new project in the interests of higher education. We sincerely hope that other organizations and individuals will follow the example set by the Council and similarly make contributions to the Jori Scholarship Fund."

Members of the Jori Scholarship Fund Committee in addition to Mr. Brier, Chairman and Mr. Rumpier are Dr. Archie Albert, Jacob S. Temkin, Irving I. Fain, Louis I. Kramer, Secretary, and Merrill Hassenfeld, Treasurer. Applications for the Jori Scholarship Fund may be obtained by communicating with Mr. Louis I. Kramer at 235 Baker St.

Emanuel Bowling

By JACK PLATKIN

Things started to happen last Monday night, and as the low scores were prominent last week, the high scores were in abundance. Tesslers' high single three was topped by Mike Millers' 369.

Ed Lavine's Indians banged out a new high three for the team of 1608. Jules Zucker pounded out a neat 357, and is gradually getting back to the form of Jules in better past years. Good single strings were rolled by Lou Chase, Orchoff, Temkin, Goralnick, Price F. Goldstein, Reizen and Chernenick, not forgetting a Kid by the name of Art Weiss.

The league race is very close, and there are eight teams within several games apart, but none of them are outstanding at this stage of the race, and every team appears to have an equal chance for top honors.

Harvest Dance Next Wednesday

The Thomas Committee

The House Committee on UN-American Activities, as it is now known and as it has proceeded for two embittered years, was stricken, probably mortally, in the election returns.

This is now clear. The precise nature of an almost foredoomed fatality will emerge only as events unfold. Something known as a "Committee on UN-American Activities" may go on, but not as it has gone on previously.

Of the following three possibilities, one may be considered a substantial certainty:

(1) The committee may be killed outright. This is the least likely, though a direct attempt will be made on Jan. 3, the first day of the new Democratically-controlled Congress.

(2) It may be so altered in personnel—and in policy—as to lose all the harshly controversial identity that it has had under its retiring Republican chairman, Representative J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey. In this event, strict new rules would be put into play to give to accused persons substantially all the rights that they have in the courts.

(3) It may—and this is the most likely of all—simply be allowed to die slowly and quietly from under-nourishment, by a decision of the Democratic leaders to give it little or no more money for operations.

At all events, the Committee on UN-American Activities is finished, for the foreseeable future, as the threshing force that it was from the off-year election of 1946 to the general election of 1948—and that it was in the days of its control, years ago, by the Democratic Martin Dies.

With this change almost surely will come a de-emphasis in the Congressional hunt for Communists in and around the Government. There is no reason to suppose that the wholly separate loyalty program of the executive branch, which avoids publicity, will be altered in any material way.

Odd as it may seem, to some superstitious politicians the whole committee has developed a sort of hex legend, as though the curse of ill fortune lay about it.

Membership on the reincarnation of the committee, if any, will be less sought after than has been the case in the past. The prospective chairman of what ever emerges, Representative John S. Wood of Georgia, has none of the aggressive temperament of Mr. Thomas and, moreover, has had considerable training in the law. A rather gentle, passive man who was long on the judicial bench, Mr. Wood in the last two years has seldom, if ever, been identified with the committee activities that have been most criticized.

These factors, by every sign, will hold much of their force in the new Congress. So it is that direct action to smash the committee publicly will be a difficult thing to bring off, in the face of a hostile phalanx made up of Southern Democrats and many, if not most, of the Republicans.

"One Man's Opinion"

The Story of Rositta

By BERNARD SEGAL

Rositta is a tall, auburn haired, attractive young Jewess from Italy who married a Polish Jew in a DP camp near Rome. They married and dreamed of starting a new life, far away from barracks and from badges of shame, yea, and from the bread of shame. Like all young married couples, they saw nothing but bright sunshine ahead of them in the land of their hopes across the oceans. Together they felt strong, and brave, and all was going to be well again.

But the U. S. consular official saw none of these dreams, and heard not the fluttering of the wings of hopes, as Rositta and her husband stood before him applying for visas under the Displaced Persons Act. Across the desk he sat, and he might have been miles away, consulting charts and tables and forms, figuring, checking, and tabulating. The decision of the official, finally pronounced not without a smile, and not without a sincere enough "very, very sorry", brought down a veil of darkness over the faces of the two young people, and their world, their new world, tumbled under the weight of one word, in one paragraph, in one section of an act on a sheet of paper.

"Rositta, being an Italian citizen, can enter the United States immediately. Her husband, because he was born in Poland, must await his turn, since the quota of his land is long overdrawn."

The law heeds no sentiments. The love of two people for each other does not sway it. Not even the stir of a new life in the mother's womb can tip the scale of the quota rules.

But it did decide for Rositta and her husband. This infant must not breathe the air of a DP camp, not even the shortest segment of its life.

So they separated. Rositta came to Providence, and her husband went back to the suspended life of awaiting in the DP camp, back to loneliness, a loneliness made more unbearable now that Rositta departed and carried with her the seed of all their happiness.

But that proverbial hope that springs eternal in the human breast keeps bobbing up even in the breast of a DP. In letters, long and frequent ones, they tell each other that soon, oh very soon, they will be together again. Next month, next ship, next transport.

In the meantime Rositta is writing to agencies, pleading with influential people, knocking at the office doors of law makers. The tides of hope ebb and flow between one application and another, between one interview and the next one. So far nothing but disappointment is the outcome of her efforts. From everywhere comes the same answer: "Sorry, very sorry ... the quota ... the Act."

Roger Williams Wins AZA Game

In a thrilling game at the Jewish Community Center on November 3, the Roger Williams A. Z. A. triumphed over the Narragansett Chapter, 25-22, thus entitling them to represent Providence in the Blackstone-Narragansett regional basketball series. Ken Rapaport of the losers led all scorers with 10 points, with Lennie Gerheart and Harold Reuter of Roger Williams tied for runner-up honors with 8 points each.

And the fulfillment of the time is near at hand. Any week now, any day now, the day of the delivery is expected. A veil of sadness hovers over the fine face of the expecting mother, and her eyes—only those who knew sorrow themselves can fathom the depth of sorrow in Rositta's eyes. Will the miracle happen? Will the father of her child stand at her bedside to gaze at the new life as it enters the world?

If Rositta still clings to her dream, if she still believes in this miracle, I hope she failed to read Jack Delaney's stories of what he saw about the working of the Displaced Persons Act. Four months after passage of this Act, only 813 DP's entered this country. At this rate, Delaney calculates, only a half of the 200,000 people to be admitted under the provisions of the Act, will enter the United States by 1950, the date of expiration of the law. Of those to be admitted, preference is given to farmers, construction workers, tailors, and housemaids.

I thought of Rositta as I read these articles in the Evening Bulletin and similar ones in last Sunday's New York Times.

Rositta's husband is in neither of these occupational groups. He is a chemist in the manufacturing of rubber. A highly useful man, and so needed by his wife and child soon to arrive. Just one more victim of this Act of which Delaney cries out: "After a tour of the camps I can see only that the U. S. has done a lot of talking and backed it with little action."

And he adds:

"There are plenty of requests for DP's. New York State alone has guaranteed to take care of 50,000 of them with jobs and housing."

Why am I telling this story of Rositta which could be multiplied a thousandfold from the files of our agencies?

Here is the reason. There is a movement on foot to amend the present DP act, now that a new Congress with a new leadership is shaping up. Do not be indifferent to this movement. Do your share to influence your representatives in Congress. Speak of it to those in high places, if you know them personally. Add your voice by mail or telegraph, when the time comes for the appeal, to the new Congress.

Do it for the Rosittas here and everywhere.

Olympics Adopt Beneficial Plan

Eight newcomers and two reinstated members swelled the membership ranks of the William G. Cutler Olympic Club to 75 at their first bi-monthly meeting during November.

New members include Leonard Cohen, Ben Tragar, Sam Kadzitz, Alvin Dunder, Hy Mandell, Harold Teitelman, Jacob Kaplan and Harold Gershman. Sidney Boren and Sam Rose were welcomed back from the inactive rolls.

An amendment was written into the club's constitution calling for the establishment of an accident and health benefits program.

Rabbi Morris G. Silk, guest speaker, addressed the club on the subject: "The State of Israel and Us."

When the colyum reported that Franco's Gov't sent Japan congratulations after the attack on Pearl Harbor—that fact was questioned by some readers and listeners. Some editorialists echoed the denial. "This is a canard which cannot be proven!" said one. ... Veriwell. See page 114 of the book, "Complacent Dictator." The publisher is Knopf. ... The author is Viscount Templewood, who was Britain's wartime ambassador. ... Page 114 says in part: "Serrano Suner was as wrong about the results of Pearl Harbor as the Japanese Minister. He also seemed to think that it was a decisive victory for the Axis. In any case, he ordered the staff of his Ministry to leave cards of congratulation at the Japanese Legation the day following the outrage."

Jim Farley was recently quoted from Madrid as saying: "Yes, I've heard such things—always by the left-wing press!" ... Leftwing or lefthook?

Broadway Stardust: Critic George Jean Nathan (famous for walking out on new shows) rejected an invitation to occupy a colleague's extra seat—closer to the stage. ... "I dislike leaving my seat empty," he said. "It's unfair to the management." ... Whipping up a best-seller doesn't always mean you'll ring the bells on the Hollywood cash registers. Variety reveals the top five fiction aces have been ignored by the movies. Yet they are always walling about the scarcity of expert stories. ... Prof. Cugat's rhumbas and sambas are graaad, but this fan wishes he'd leave the jokes to the experts.

Skewp Dept.: Att'n INS: A report will be presented to the U.N. in the near future, which (among other items) will reveal that Arabian delegates living in luxury at a 54th street hotel have all expenses paid by U.S. oil interests.

That there were over 60 Russian subs all over the Pacific was reported several months ago on a Sunday night broadcast. ... The navy didn't reveal the real story. They kept down the actual number to help your insomnia.

The Washington Ticker: Bookings institute boys privately predict the end of the "sellers' market" soon. They note increasing small business flops and growing size business inventories.

The ageless Cong. Sol Bloom of N. Y. has a spring to his stride, and he's 78. In the capitol a colyumist said: "You look fine. How do you do it?"

"Women," he said.

"Women?"

"I stay away from 'em."

New York's My Town: Where else could you extol the virtues of communism (as they do in Columbus Circle) with cops standing nearby to protect speechmakers in case any temper got lost? ... A maniac kills a boy and wounds several of his chums without getting lynched? ... Gamblers can get away with "fixing" hockey, basketball and football games?

A soldier we know—who served with the occupation army in Germany just arrived at a nearby separation center.

The poor guy doesn't know whether he's coming or going!

SYD COHEN:

Opportunity, You're
Breaking My Heart

The New York Yankees have announced that the Newark Bears franchise is on the block—lock, stock and barrel—and the city most prominently mentioned as likely to get the outfit is Reading, Pa. Reading—a city of 110,568 population. Hmf.

There is another city I know of that is bigger than Reading; bigger, in fact, than several cities now boasting high classification minor league baseball. That city is a hotbed of baseball enthusiasm and all indications are that it would go in a big way for Triple A ball of the type played by the Newark Bears. That city is Providence—population, well over a quarter million.

But there are two reasons why Providence cannot apply for the Newark franchise. First, it has no stadium. Second, it probably never will have a stadium. And that, in my opinion, is a sign of rot, of decay. Strong words—but justified in view of certain events that have occurred here—and other events that have not occurred.

Back around 1940, these same Yankees wanted to switch their Class A Binghamton franchise—and they selected Providence as their most probable choice. Representatives of what was then the mightiest empire in baseball came to this city to investigate and lay the ground for the transfer. Fans who knew of the impending deal were thrilled. We had had no professional baseball here for ten years—and a Yankee farm team meant a winning team.

Binghamton still has the Yankee farm and Providence still has no stadium—and that is about as accurate a statement of what happened as any I can conjure up. Oh sure, the war interfered. But the war would have meant nothing had we the stadium or the promise of one at the time the Yanks wanted to move in.

Came 1946 and a Class A team in Providence—an independent team that, for lack of major league help, wallowed in the second division although it drew pretty well that year. After all, it was baseball and a new, optimistic project.

The Memorial Stadium

That same year, with the boys mostly returned home from war service, a movement was begun for a "live" World War II memorial, and all the vets got on the bandwagon. Way out in front in the surveys was a stadium and many vets went on record for that project. The city administration however, had other ideas.

The upshot of the matter was that the plan for a stadium was sidetracked in favor of a municipal auditorium-office building, which, to some of us, seemed as necessary as a nice neat hole in the head.

The City Council held an open hearing on the subject, with the public invited to voice its views on the Council's decision. Being the bashful and quiet type, I appeared in the Chamber as one of the speakers and blasted away for 12 full minutes (the limit was five) in behalf of a memorial stadium for Providence. The outburst did me personally a lot of good. The stadium? Upper Lower Slobbovia probably will get one first.

The Sad Conclusion

Since the epic affair of 1946, there has been talk of bringing Triple A ball to Providence when and if Baltimore replaces St. Louis in the majors. Since then, Cleveland's Indians have expressed interest, along with other big league teams, in operating a farm team here. The question of the stadium has discouraged all of them. Now comes the latest in the chain of neglected opportunities. And Providence simply refuses to take any constructive action.

What's the answer? Majority opinion is that a stadium would benefit the city in more ways than merely the coming of Triple A ball. It would bring money and people to the state instead of siphoning them off and away among other things. But can you figure a way to get the city to start thinking about it? And how many more Binghamton-Baltimore-Newark opportunities do we

The project will be financed by subscriptions from members of the organization and non-member veterans. A Memorial Fund Committee, headed by national committeeman Paul J. Robin, has undertaken the soliciting of contributions.

Robin revealed recently that the estimated cost of the Memorial includes a program of landscape-gardening, the placing of uniform Mogen David headstones on the graves and the erection of a flagpole and fountain.

Assisting Robin on the committee are Saul Friedman and Irving Winograd.

PROCLAMATION THANKSGIVING DAY

By John O. Pastore
Governor

That primal and creative God, who set the stars in motion and decreed that all motions shall obey one law, has brought an end to Autumn. The purpose of life is fruition,—of the spirit, of the mind, of the body. In these magnificent United States of America, in this small State of Rhode Island the lavishness of summer has gone to seed.

The year's great living settles to its close. We now bring in the sheaves, leaving the denuded acres to frosty nights and life, like a flame, turned low. We are grateful to that Omnipotent Being for the packed store rooms, for success in Nature.

Humble in spirit, as is seemly for a mere person in the presence of the miracle of recurring harvests, we thank our Maker for the privilege of survival, made possible by beneficent bounty in this expansive Continent of ours.

Never should we accept lightly the largesse of those who, painstakingly and with patience, have prepared the land and sown the seed. In other industries they might the more speedily perhaps attain security for affluent future, but they have preferably chosen agricultural pursuits, happy and at home with soil and seed and season; AND NOW, THEREFORE, DO I, JOHN O. PASTORE, GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF RHODE ISLAND AND PROVIDENCE PLANTATIONS, PROCLAIM asking our people to remember that the verities of abundant living are ours because of God's mercy, to be accepted but not lightly and to be shared, ever mindful of the many chimneys around the troubled world from which there is no wood smoke, down blowing on the air, and many larders, drear and empty.

THURSDAY, THE 25th OF NOVEMBER, 1948, AS

Let hospitality, so vitally important always, be the key note of November making music for the lonely and the frightened. Let there be human fraternity at Thanksgiving that in ways, simple and sometimes mysterious to us, we may carry out the will of our Heavenly Father to bring the world more swiftly to spiritual goals.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the State to be affixed this 11th day of October, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight, and of Independence, the one hundred and seventy-third.

(Seal)

Hillel Mourns Death Of Chaplain Rosen

A special Hillel memorial service dedicated to Air Force Chaplain (1st Lt.) Solomon Rosen was held last Friday night, at Faunce House, Brown University.

Chaplain Rosen was one of the 11 airmen who lost their lives in the crash of an Air Force C 47 near Muldrow, Oklahoma two weeks ago. He was the nephew of Rabbi Nathan N. Rosen, director of the Hillel Foundation at Brown University and Rhode Island colleges.

Lieutenant Rosen was 24 years old, the youngest chaplain in the armed services. He left rabbinical studies in World War II and enlisted as a paratrooper. He escaped death in a similar disaster three years ago when he parachuted with several others from a bomber that exploded over Texas and killed 11 men.

Son of Army chaplain Herman L. Rosen, victim of a drowning accident during the war, Lieutenant Rosen was graduated with highest honors at the Chaplains School at Carlisle Barracks, Pa. and was in his second assignment at Sheppard Field, Texas.

Still going strong, Rita Levine's team added three points to their score and are now leading the league with 7 points, followed by the Steingold's—4, Zawatskys—3 and Hochmans—2. The Steingold five established a new high team three record of 1341. Ann Steingold kept the honors in the team by bowling a single string high of 101, which was also attained by Esther Blonder and Rita Levine. Edith Hochman and Rita Levine are tied for high average honors with 93 each.

Ann surprised us all by bowling a high of 119. Unfortunately for her team, it was rolled on a fourth string. I guess Ann can be called a good after league bowler.

Center Lists Gym Schedule, Program

A new high in service by the Jewish Community Center is being achieved through its current athletic program, according to a report issued by Sidney Green, chairman of the athletic committee.

The current athletic program finds the Center gym open for activity every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 3:30 to 11:30 o'clock, on Saturday from 7 to 11 o'clock and Sunday from 10 to 1. Anticipating the need for more floor space as the basketball season begins, Center officials have arranged for the use of the Roger Williams and Gilbert Stuart Junior High gyms.

The present weekday sessions serve the junior and intermediate membership classes, including youngsters between 9-14. Bus transportation is provided for the children, who are under the direction of Murray Braverman, a newcomer to the Center's physical education staff.

Between 6-8 o'clock the gym is used by youth of high school age, in the intermediate senior division. Seniors and young adults take over at 9 o'clock. These sessions are under the direction of Abe Lobel, now in his second year as athletic director.

Regular Sunday morning business and professional men's classes are held between 10 and 1 o'clock.

This season the Center's two basketball teams, the Varsity and Alumni, have been equipped with new uniforms, jackets, shoes and socks and will be in competitive action the first week in December. Games will be played on Saturday nights and dancing will follow.

Other members of the athletic committee are Frank Darman, Irving Rabinowitz and Jack Pearl, the latter representing the athletic council.

ANNUAL TEA

The Alpha Alpha Chapter of Phi Delta Sorority held its annual tea recently with 35 members attending. Frances Kushner was re-elected president. Other newly-elected officers are: Lois Preblod, vice-president; Elinor Silverman, secretary, and Sheila Caplan, treasurer.

Here's a Double-Barreled Savings Plan for You!

Do you know how to save properly? Planned saving is the key to financial security. Here are two Old Colony plans for most needs:

Monthly Payment Shares: Systematic saving for a big bullseye—your children's education, a long vacation, a comfortable retirement. You put aside as little as $5. each month for a goal of $1000 or more.

Savings Shares: Pepper the target... your reserve for the little extra unexpected expenses that always come along. As little as $5. opens an account, and you may add to it whenever you wish.

Both Monthly Shares and Savings Shares earn liberal dividends for you, currently 2½ % and 2% respectively, compounded twice a year. Drop in for information at an Old Colony office.
