

Zionists Assail Jerusalem Shift

The American Zionist Council announced Sunday that the leading rabbinical groups in this country "are solidly united in the determination to resist all attempts to cut off Jerusalem from the State of Israel."

In denouncing the United Nations Palestine Conciliation Commission's proposal that Jerusalem should be put under supervision of the United Nations, the council listed the rabbinical organizations that were "taking a leading part in the campaign to keep Jerusalem within the framework of Israel."

These included the Rabbinical Council of America and the Union of Orthodox Rabbis of the United States and Canada, representing the Orthodox religious wing; the Rabbinical Assembly of America, representing the Conservative wing; the Central Conference of American Rabbis, representing the Reform movement, and the Synagogue Council of America, representing all branches of the Jewish religion.

In connection with the rabbinate's stand on Jerusalem, Louis Lipsky, chairman of the council, said that communications and resolutions have been forwarded to President Truman in the name "of thousands of Jewish houses of worship."

"What is clearly remarkable is that this campaign to 'Save Jerusalem' has its origin in the grassroots of the American Jewish community," he said. "That the rabbinate has asked the council to lead the fight in this country to defeat the Conciliation commissioner's superficial and unrealistic recommendations is a call we can scarcely ignore."

Lipsky said that when the United Nations originally voted on the partition question, "which contained the suggestion that Jerusalem be internationalized, there was the hope at least that the United Nations would protect the Jewish community there."

"But when Arab invaders, encouraged and actually armed by some leading members of the United Nations, ruthlessly attacked the peaceful population of Jerusalem, the United Nations proved a broken reed," he went on. "If it were not for the supernatural heroism of the Jewish defenders and the supreme sacrifice of the newly proclaimed state, not a few would have remained alive in Jerusalem."

"It would be criminal for the State of Israel to expose its citizens in Jerusalem to the promises of protection by the United Nations under existing conditions."

President, Congress, UJA Unite to Bring Orphan Here

Two-year-old Jacob Gross, whose admission to U. S. required joint action by President Truman, Congress, and the United Jewish Appeal, is shown on his arrival in New York. Left to right are William Rosenwald, National Chairman of UJA, and Honorary President of the United Service for New Americans who welcomed the boy; Jacob; his grandmother, Mrs. Malca Horowitz, with whom he traveled from France; and Rep. Isidore Dollinger, who sponsored a private bill in Congress to make possible the boy's admission. The child and his grandmother were cared for in Europe by the Joint Distribution Committee, with funds provided by UJA. The United Service for New Americans, which also receives its funds from the UJA, arranged for his reception and resettlement in this country.

Hospital Lists Building Chairmen; No Date Yet on Ground Breaking

The appointment of an executive committee whose members will have specific assignments for the construction of the new Miriam Hospital on Summit Avenue, was announced this week by Samuel Shore, vice president and chairman of the building committee of the Hospital. Those appointed and their duties are as follows:

Benjamin Brier, major construction; Alexander Rumpel, plumbing, heating, air-conditioning, sprinkler systems; Harry Schwartz, electrical work; Henry Levaur and Joseph Pulver, purchasing of equipment and the moving of equipment of the old building to the new structure; Mrs. Lillian Albert, purchasing of linens, drapes, curtains, rugs and other items closely related to above—also the supervision of the inside designs and color schemes of the hospital; Joseph W. Ress, disposing of old property on Parade Street and bringing in and recommending to executive committee proposed facilities for nurses' home for new building; Jacob Temkin, legal work between hospital and Mr. Turoff and Mr. Riley and publicity pertaining to the building committee; Milton C. Sapinsley, president of hospital, ex-officio.

Mr. Shore told the board of trustees at its recent meeting that the plans for the hospital are requiring a great deal of time and research, and that the new hospital will be one of the most beautiful and finest equipped in the country.

Inspection trips have been made to various hospitals by members of the committee. Mrs. Genevieve L. Nesby, administrator, has made trips to Boston and New York visiting with manufacturers and inspecting hospitals and conferring with their directors regarding kitchen set up, laundry plans, and hospital departments.

Barter Pacts Between Israel and 13 States

NEW YORK — The Jewish State of Israel has recently concluded barter agreements with thirteen countries covering goods valued at more than thirty million dollars, according to information released through The Israel Corporation of America (a company, with offices at 425 Fourth Avenue, New York City, devoted to aiding the economic upbuilding of Israel through private investments).

Under the agreements concluded, Israel will supply citrus, fruit juices, diamonds, artificial teeth, textiles, chemicals, brushes, fountain pens, a variety of other industrial products as well as books and religious articles. In return, Israel will receive grain, processed agricultural products, agricultural machinery, textiles, timber, bicycles, leather goods, and other essential raw material, semi-manufactured, and consumer items.

The countries with which Israel has signed barter agreements include Belgium, Finland, France, Holland, Austria, Hungary, Poland, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and Yugoslavia.

GJC Trades Divisions Have Busy Schedule

A jam-packed schedule of activities in the overall Trades and Industry Division of the General Jewish Committee of Providence highlighted the week's activities in the Men's Division as the 1949 fund-raising drive in behalf of the UJA and other beneficiary agencies edged over the $600,000 mark.

Three combined meetings in the T and I Division—together with the second in a series of Report Luncheons—are listed for the coming week.

Yesterday's initial Report Luncheon at GJC headquarters revealed that workers—who already have been assigned cards—have lost little time in covering them.

Both Alvin A. Sopkin, campaign chairman, and Joseph W. Ress, T and I chairman, expressed gratification at the totals reported to date and the excellent coverage in this division thus far.

An encouraging factor to campaign officials came to light during the week when workers announced many increases ranging from 50 to 100 percent on the part of members of the various business and professional groups that make up the T and I Division.

Gratifying Increases

"Every dollar contributed to this great cause is of vital importance," pointed out Sopkin and Ress, "and every dollar has just as much value in the good work it can do as every other dollar contributed to date. Therefore, we are extremely pleased to note these many increases on the part of donors who, in past years, gave from $25 to $150 each campaign. In some instances, they have doubled and tripled their gifts—and their generosity will be of great effect in nullifying the cuts on the part of some of the larger contributors who contend that, because of adverse business conditions, they must retrench somewhat."

The coming week's meeting schedule in the T and I Division is as follows:

Monday, Oct. 10; food, meat, bakers, drugs, liquor and beverages divisions. 6 P. M., Narragansett hotel. Saul E. R. Feinberg, chairman, food; Charles Temkin, co-chairman, food; Max Brodsky, chairman, drugs; Abraham Press and Edmund Korb, co-chairmen, respectively, meat and bakers; Louis Nass, chairman, liquor and beverages. Speaker, Paul B. Edwards.

Tuesday, Oct. 11; Lawyers and Accountants, 6 P. M., Sheraton. (Continued on Page 8)

National UJA Asks for Herald Publicity

The National Women's Division of the United Jewish Appeal has requested everything concerning the Women's Division of The General Jewish Committee of Providence published in the Jewish Herald. They plan to use it as a guide for fine reporting and illustration throughout the country. The successful campaign just concluded by the local Women's Division was based in a large measure on the Jewish Herald coverage. Feature stories, unusual picture effects and reproductions used in this paper have excited the admiration of the National Publicity Division of the United Jewish Appeal.

News Deadline For Next Week

Because of the holiday on Wednesday, October 12, the deadline for next week's paper has been advanced to Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. We can not insert items received after that time.

Old Timers Need One Win for Flag

By SYD COHEN

Barring rain, the Jewish Softball League will crown its 1949 champion this Sunday morning when embattled Miller's Delicatessen and the fighting Jack's Old Timers go at it again—for the last time.

The final playoff series has a 50-50 chance of going the limit of five games, for the Old Timers, by their split in last Sunday's doubleheader, need but one more win to wind it up as champs, while Miller's must take both remaining games to justify its first place finish at the end of the regular season.

The Old Timers moved within one game of the title when Bernie (Lefty) Davidson got the better of Harold Hersch in a pitching duel at Hopkins Park in last week's first game, 3-0. Davidson allowed two singles, both tainted, struck out seven and walked two. His fast ball kept Miller's completely off balance, hopping above the knees for a called strike with deadly monotony.

Hersch was only slightly less brilliant and might have had a shutout with perfect support. He gave up five hits, all in the first two innings when his mates committed two costly errors, then retired the last 12 batters to face him.

The Old Timers won the game

Egypt Cooperates On Arab Refugees

TEL AVIV—Egypt has formally notified the Israel-Egyptian Mixed Armistice Commission that it accepts the principle of the reunion of separated Arab families, as proposed by Israel.

The Egyptian government is the first of the Arab States to take this action. It was originally believed that 20,000 Arabs would be repatriated to Israel under this proposal, but the Arab States have been slow to act upon it and the number will probably be far less.

Obituary

ALEXANDER ZALKIND

Funeral services for Alexander Zalkind of 36 Lenox Avenue, owner and operator of a delicatessen store at 977 Broad Street, were held last Friday at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home. Rabbi Morris Schussheim of Temple Beth Israel, officiated. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Born in Russia, Mr. Zalkind moved to Fall River 55 years ago with his parents, the late Charles and Bessie Zalkind. He had resided in Providence the past 46 years. Mr. Zalkind was a member of the Touro Fraternal Association, Jewish Home for the Aged, the Miriam Hospital Association, and a former member of the board of directors of the Hebrew Free Loan Association.

Besides his wife Fannie (Phillips) Zalkind, he is survived by four brothers, David and Joseph Zalkind of Fall River, Jacob Zalkind of Chicago, and Harry Zalkind of Mobile, and a sister, Mrs. Joseph Kessler of Providence.

JOSEPH KUSHNER

Funeral services for Joseph Kushner, 63, or 354 Warwick Avenue, Lakewood, formerly of Providence, were held last Friday at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home. Rabbi Morris Schussheim of Temple Beth Israel officiated. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Mr. Kushner had been a plumbing contractor for the past 35 years. He had lived in Providence for more than 40 years before moving to Lakewood two years ago, and was a member of the Touro Fraternal Association.

He was the husband of the late Annie Kushner. Survivors are a son, Irving Kushner of Providence; a daughter, Miss Hazel Kushner of Providence, and a brother, Samuel Kushner of New York.

Equal to the Task

For the people of Israel, for the hundreds of thousands of homeless Jews on three continents, for the Jews of America, the year 5709 was a year of remarkable achievement.

The State of Israel, with its gates wide open to the homeless and the displaced, became the focal point for the reconstruction of Jewish life abroad.

At the same time, one witnessed the emptying of scores of Jewish displaced persons camps in Germany, Austria and Italy.

This dramatic resettlement of large masses of Jewish people could not have been made possible without the generous and steadfast support of the American Jewish community.

The Jews of America proved once again that they can be equal to the demands of history.

The year 5710 will bring to the American Jewish community challenges on the domestic and foreign scenes. Once again the Jews of America will prove that they are equal to these challenges.

"Mah Laasos"

Dear Editor:

In his Rosh Hashanah article Bernard Segal begins his "One Man's Opinion" with "Mah Laasos? What To Do?" and ends up with a suggestion that is, in my opinion, what NOT to do. That is, to make the fatal mistake of splitting our efforts and shifting the responsibility of Hebrew Education to Zionist groups in general, and the burden of "Our Own Hebrew Day School" to the Miz-rachi in particular.

Traditionally and historically "Kol Yisrael Arevin zeh bozeh"—Jews carry the responsibility and burden of each other. Philosophically every Jew is a link between our rich cultural past and our

"One Man's Opinion"

Hundred Thousand Dollars

By BERNARD SEGAL

My friends all agree that I am no financial wizard. The ways by which big money is made and lost are as mysterious to me as nuclear fission or supersonic flight.

But the other day I read the report on the progress of the United Jewish Appeal Drive. My interest was arrested by a short line on the top of the list of the initial gifts:

The Sopkin Family, $100,000.

Now, this sum of money is so far out of my ken that I can hardly visualize it. All I know is that it is a lot of money. I am equally impressed by the nature of the people who gave this gift. Not so much because they are able to give it, but because they are able to part with it.

bright hopeful future. Hence the daily repeated reminder of Veshinantom . . . and Velimadtem, and the fact that we were the first nation to have universal and compulsory education.

Now, as generally admitted, a real emergency exists. Ignorance, unalphabetism and "illiteracy in Jewish learning" is our common deadly enemy. In the last war Democratic America, Imperialistic England and Communistic Russia united against a common enemy and succeeded.

Let us too, unite in our efforts against our common enemy. Religious, non-believer; Zionist, non-Zionist; free thinker, non-thinker, each and all must support and encourage Hebrew Education in General and "our own Hebrew Day School" in particular. That is "What to Do."

ISAIAH A. SEGAL

Let me make it clear right now that I have never met a single member of this charitable family. For all I know, they are not even aware of my existence. The chances are that our paths will never cross. This is not a publicity piece, nor am I seeking to find favor in their eyes for personal gains. This is merely my reaction to a generous gift by generous people that impressed me profoundly.

Now, it is often said, you and I might have said it ourselves at one time or another:

"After all, a thousand dollars to them is like one dollar to you and me."

True enough. But it is also true that more loaves of bread for the hungry can be bought for a thousand dollars than for one dollar. More shoes are put on bare-footed children with one thousand dollars than with one dollar. And I am fully aware that the gift of this one family will build more homes for homeless DP's than the combined contributions of several hundred average givers to the drive.

I am also wondering what would I do, were I in a financial position to give a gift of that size? Would I be able to part with a hundred thousand dollars? A fantastic idea, to be sure. Might as well consider the possibility of my occupying the White House. But it is an intriguing speculation just the same. What really would I do under similar circumstances?

The story is told of the famous wit Hershele Ostropolier, who was a poor devil, and never knew where his next rent money would come from, who one day came to the richest man in town and said:

"Do me a favor, please, and show me a hundred rouble bill."

The man knew that Hershele was fond of all kinds of jokes and impish escapades, and he was willing to play along with him. He opened his drawer and took out a new hundred rouble bill.

"May I touch it? Do you mind if I hold it in my hands for a while?"

No, the host did not mind, and Hershele held the bill tenderly between his fingers, turned it from side to side, examined it closely, and even sniffed at it. All the time Hershele kept shaking his head and clucking with his tongue, and muttering:

"So this is a hundred roubles! What do you know!"

Then he turned to the host who watched all this with amusement:

"Do me one more favor. It is very important to me. Let me put the hundred roubles in my pocket."

The man agreed to that too, and he watched as Hershele folded the bill and tucked it carefully away in his pocket. Hershele then buttoned up his coat, straightened his shoulders, and puffing at an imaginary cigar, began to pace back and forth across the room, effecting the gruff voice of a man of affairs:

"You people think that money grows on trees. I tell you money does not grow on trees, and you don't find it on the streets either. A hundred Roubles is a lot of money. Where would I be if I were to give away my money to all who come to ask for it? Times are bad, you know. I really should not give more than ten roubles. Ten roubles is good enough. But since you came to me personally, and since you claim that it is a matter of life and death, I will give a hundred roubles this time. But remember, never again."

With this, Hershele slapped the hundred roubles on the desk, and proceeded toward the door.

The host rushed after him, grabbed him by the tails of his capote, and he held him tightly saying:

"You are not leaving, Hershele, until you explain the meaning of all this. I have been patient with you, and now I won't let you escape unless you tell me what you were after."

And Hershele Ostropolier explained that he wanted to know how it feels to own a hundred roubles. He has never in all the years of his life held a whole hundred rouble bill in his hands.

"Now that you did," asked the host, "what do think of it?"

"To tell you the truth," replied Hershele, "it is not as exciting as I thought it would be. What is it, this bill? A green piece of paper with the picture of the Czar on it. Bah. Some metzieh. If it did not say hundred roubles on each corner, honest I wouldn't bother to stoop down and pick it up. But, my, how I hated to part with it once I had it in my pocket."

Like Hershele Ostropolier, I have never laid eyes on a hundred thousand dollars. By all indications, I never shall. But I wonder, I just wonder, how easily would I part with it, once I had it in my bank book.

And since you and I are not certain that we would, let us tip our hat to those who did.

NEW PACT WITH URUGUAY

A $3,200,000 commercial pact has been signed with Uruguay—Israel's fifth trade pact. Israel will buy kosher meat and raw materials, paying 50 percent in dollars and 50 percent in exports. Negotiations are now under way with France, Yugoslavia, Argentina and Czechoslovakia for new trade agreements.

A CALL TO JEWISH PARENTS

JEWISH COMMUNITY CENTER

Sunday School Opening October 23

Dear Parent,

Your child's Jewish education is important. It is important to his own sense of well being and security in a world in which he must always be one of a minority group. It is important to Jewish parents that their sons and daughters are secure in the knowledge of their great cultural heritage.

What are the aims of our Center Sunday School?

1. To engender a ready acceptance of the fact of belonging to the Jewish group.
2. To supply basic Jewish experience relating to the observance of festivals.
3. To develop a sense of kinship to the Jewish people.
4. To furnish opportunity for Jewish creative expression of a child-like character.
5. To supply opportunities for sustained Jewish study.
6. To furnish opportunities for participation in youth activities of the general community.

Our teaching methods are based on the philosophy of meeting the needs of the child at his own age level. History, Hebrew, dramatics, songs, dances, projects, trips and holiday festivals play an important part in our teaching program as well as the latest approved textbooks.

Classes are from kindergarten through high school. Children as young as four years of age are enrolled. The entire Sunday School Department is under the direct supervision of Mr. William Melzer, Sunday School Principal.

Engaged

MISS ADELE F. GOODMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Goodman of Londonville, N. Y., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Adele Frances Goodman, to Irving S. Pickar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barnet Pickar of Forest Street.

Miss Goodman is a graduate of the Albany Academy for Girls and Pembroke College.

Mr. Pickar was graduated from Brown University.

The couple plan a December wedding.

MISS CAROL R. SKLAROFF

Miss Sklaroff's engagement to Lawrence H. Zeidel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zeidel of Pinehurst Avenue, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Sklaroff of Sayles Street.

27 New Scouts Join Troop 20

Because of the new age level reduction in the Scout Movement, many younger boys are now eligible to join the numerous Scout Troops in their neighborhoods. Troop 20 Providence, sponsored by Temple Emanu-El at their first two meetings, enrolled 27 cub scouts and boys who were not cub scouts but who wanted to be Boy Scouts.

The new ages for membership in the Boy Scouts of America are: Cub Scouting for boys 8 to 11;

Boy Scouting for boys 11 to 14; and Exploring for young men 14 to 18.

The first meeting of the new season was the Circle 20 Bar-B-Q held in back of Temple Emanu-El at which time hot dogs were roasted and pop served. The second meeting was promptly called the "Round-Up" during which the following new Scouts joined:

Stanley Bleeker, Daniel Cohen, Robert Fain, Stanley Fish, Stanley Fishbein, Harris Garber, Morris Keller, Irwin Olshansky, Arnold Pritsker, Norman Rosen, Harris Savievetz, Ernest Schleifer, Lawrence Share, Jack Winkelman, Marvin Lerman, Howard Katz, David Berson, Samuel Schneider, Elliot Feiner, Norman Jacobs, Manfred Zigler, Myron Mendelovitz, Eugene Goldstein, Jeffrey Goldberg, Robert Wunch, Paul Goldsmith, and Joel Klein.

Troop 20 now has over 40 registered scouts and 8 trained leaders under the leadership of Scoutmaster Saul Sadow. New boys who desire to join, or adults who desire to assist in making the Scout Program possible, are urged to contact Mr. Sadow at DE 1-3312.

Jr. Hadassah Project To Aid Israeli Child

The Providence Unit of Junior Hadassah has announced a new project in Meier Shfeyer. Members of the local chapter are supporting an Israeli child named Sarah for one year.

To support Sarah for this year, $912, to cover food, shelter and education, must be raised. A discussion on how this amount is to be raised and other pertinent details will be discussed at the next meeting to be held Monday at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel.

Cranston Captains, Workers to Meet

Mrs. Morris Botvin will be hostess to captains and workers of the Cranston Jewish Community Club membership drive, tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Kits and instructions will be given the workers and a program of entertainment will be presented.

"Now
I'm glad he was born!"

NOW he can grow up strong, healthy, FREE!

NOW he can grow up in a country where he will not be persecuted!

NOW he will live in a home instead of a D. P. camp!

NOW he will have the opportunity to live his own life, become a self-respecting member of society!

Yes, the dark, dismal days of the ghastly D.P. camps will soon be behind them. The homeless Jews of the world are going home! But the biggest problem of all — their complete rehabilitation — lies ahead. They must not only be brought to the land of their hopes; they must be fed, sheltered, restored to health, helped to earn their own living.

250,000 Jewish refugees must be brought into Israel during 1949 — in addition to 25,000 to be resettled in the United States. Homes must be built, food provided — adjustment, welfare, and medical services tremendously expanded. The cost is high, the task — staggering!

Every thoughtful, far-thinking American should take a realistic role in terms of dollars to finance this unparalleled undertaking. Give — Give generously!

THE UNITED JEWISH APPEAL MUST ATTAIN
THESE 4 OBJECTIVES

1. Quickly effect the emptying of the Jewish D.P. Camps in Germany and Austria. 2. Transfer to and resettle in Israel a total of 250,000 Jewish refugees from various parts of Europe. 3. Provide rehabilitation and relief for 1,500,000 Jews remaining in Europe and North Africa. 4. Help in the adjustment of refugees reaching the United States.

SYD COHEN:

The Public Responds

In the period of 21 months that this column has been in existence, a great deal of space has been devoted to our local sports picture and the creation of new competitive events for our youth. Sometimes, it has taken quite a while before the idea caught on, even though the project had been discussed with others beforehand and the prospects deemed favorable.

If the immediate response of the public can be used as a criterion, it would seem that we have hit at last on the magic formula—or else, we have finally come up with an idea that has grasped hold of the public imagination—and that, as I have learned, is a difficult thing to accomplish.

Two weeks ago, the idea for a junior baseball league for youngsters 8-12 years of age was launched in this space. I had planned to leave the subject, after that opening announcement, until we had done some actual work and had something concrete to report. Now, within an incredibly short time—going by previous standards of response—there is something to report.

Help Offered—Already

Already, there have been offers of help. Several young men have expressed interest in it as have two men who are prominent in local affairs. And this is merely what has reached my ears. It is reasonable to assume that others, who have not been heard from, share this desire to get the kids playing "organized" ball, and so we shall have to speed up the planning and actual creation of the league. This kind of support is too good to bypass or lose. Since a few of the original sponsors of the idea now are busy with the softball playoffs and banquet, I believe the opening meeting should be held off until then. By the end of this month, however, I hope to have an announcement in this column that will get the ball rolling.

The Kids Will Benefit

Up to now the column has proposed ideas and asked the sports-minded of our community to pick them up and bring them to fruition. Now comes a request that the column render some assistance to an annual event that is conducted by the Women's Association of the Jewish Community Center. It is not an ordinary request, say the women. The proceeds of their annual formal dinner-dance on October 22 at the Narragansett Hotel will be used exclusively for the direct benefit of the youngsters who attend activities at the Center and Camp Centerland.

Because this column and at least some of its readers are interested in the kids' welfare, the Women's Association would like to appeal to the men of the community to back up the affair, support it by attending it, and while having an enjoyable evening have also the comfortable feeling that the funds are being used very well, on behalf of everyone's kids.

How can a columnist refuse such a request?

A Sports League for Girls

Speaking of women (for the second week in a row, by the way), this office has received a few calls in recent weeks from young women who would like to participate in some sports activity like a bowling league, but don't know of any such activity that may exist. Not knowing whether I have

(m)any readers among the fair set, I still think it is too bad that we do not have a couple of live-wire girls' athletic groups that could really organize on a year-round basis and attract the numbers of girls, married or single, who undoubtedly would be interested. Here is a real opportunity to expand our local sports picture in a field where interest is very high.

The column bashfully would be happy to assist in the promotion of such an organization or organizations. If sufficient requests were made and any kind of plan suggested, suitable publicity would be provided. Let's see if we can start something.

The Softball Banquet

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the details regarding the first annual banquet of the Jewish Softball League. Here is a long-awaited event that is finally coming into our lives. We have wanted and needed an annual sports event like this for years. We can build it into one of the outstanding affairs of any year. And its proceeds will go into the accident insurance fund that will protect our softballers, and eventually, all other athletes.

The affair is October 18—just a few weeks away. Get your tickets now.

Labor Zionist Succoth Celebration

The annual Succoth celebration sponsored by the Poale Zion, Jewish National Workers' Alliance and the Labor Zionist Council, will be held Sunday evening at the UCT Hall, 77 Franklin Street, at 7:30 o'clock.

Among the guest speakers will be Abraham Gorbowy, national director of the National Labor Committee for Israel, and Aaron A. Moldow, one of the N. E. delegates who recently returned from Israel. Olga Paul, radio singer, will entertain. Refreshments will be served.

Olympic Aux. Bowling

By TEDI GREEN

The 1949-50 bowling season of the Olympic Auxiliary bids fair to be a bigger success than last year. This past Thursday saw a full turn-out of enthusiastic bowlers. Six new members to our kegger group—Esther Kaplan, Sylvia Price, Shirley Levin, Miriam Rodyn, Shirley Cohen and Harriette Zarchen, are adding their share to the new enthusiasm.

The teams are made up as follows: Team A—Esther Miller, Esther Blonder, Ida Bernstein, Harriette Zarchen, Esther Kaplan, Team B—Anne Steingold, Shirley Levin, June Winn, Betty Cohen, Sylvia Price, Team C—Dorothy Strashnick, Miriam Rodyn, Elaine Aiken, Louise Boren, Tedi Green, Team D—Estelle Cohen, Rita Levin, Elsie Zipkin, Dorothy Leonard, Shirley Cohen. And these teams rolled up the first high honors as follows: High single—D. Strashnick, 110; high three—Esther Miller, 299; high team single—Team C, 458; and high team three—Team C, 1325.
