Heads BV Women

MRS. MITCHELL GLICK
Mrs. Glick's appointment as chairman of the Women's Division of the Blackstone Valley United Jewish Appeal was announced today.

Woman Judge Saves Suspect

LIVERPOOL — The nation's press is currently buzzing with Judge Rose Heilborn, a Jewish woman who is the only judge of her sex in England, because her legal acumen prevented a miscarriage of justice which might have ended in a death penalty for a Frenchwoman accused of murder.

The 26-year old Frenchwoman had been indicted for murdering her neighbor through drowning her in a bathtub. When the case came up for trial, the accused woman pleaded in broken English that the crime had been committed by a burglar. The police rejected the woman's explanation. But Judge Heilborn intuitively felt that the woman was innocent. Instead of proceeding with the trial, she ordered the police to make a new investigation. After weeks of searching, the police arrested a known burglar who confessed to the crime.

Mrs. Heilborn's husband is a well-known doctor here.

Boasts Mayor Gave Klan Parade Permit

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AJP)—A hate-sheet published here boasted that Mayor Haydon Burns had given permission for a parade of the Southern Knights of the Ku Klux Klan whose leader is running for governor on a vicious anti-Semitic platform.

Bill Hendrix, the leader of the Southern Knights, has declared that he wants to push down sea walls on Miami Beach to dispossess Jews, who, he claims, have property on the Beach illegally.

Pawt. and Prov. Women to Hold Joint Initial, Vital Gifts Affairs

Another historic innovation was registered in UJA activities this week when it was agreed that the Women's Division of the Blackstone Valley UJA would participate in the Initial Gifts and Vital Gifts affairs of the Women's Division of the General Jewish Committee of Providence.

The unprecedented agreement means that, for the first time since the inception of the annual UJA fund-raising campaigns, Blackstone Valley women will open their drive simultaneously with Providence women by merging attendance and participation at a joint Initial Gifts affair.

Details of the move—taken on the initiative of the Pawtucket group and approved by the leaders of both the GJC and the Blackstone Valley Jewish Community Council—were worked out at a conference last week attended by Harry Schwartz, Mrs. Mollie Glick and David Chernack, representing the Blackstone Valley UJA, and Mrs. Albert Pilavin, Joseph Galkin and Gertrude B. Tarnapol, representing the GJC of Providence.

The conference, which was marked by complete harmony on all points of discussion, resulted in an agreement that the Pawtucket women would handle their own mailing pieces and publicity, share expenses on a pro rata basis, and earmark Pawtucket contributions toward that area's total.

All money that is pledged by Pawtucket women at these two affairs will go to the Pawtucket campaign and will be kept separate and apart from Providence pledges. Every effort will be made to maintain the identity of the Pawtucket group.

End Rift With Israel, British Foreign Secretary Tells Arabs

LONDON—An admonition that the Arab states must recognize the fact of Israel's existence and base their policies on that premise was sounded here by Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison before the House of Commons.

Discussing the situation in the Middle East, Mr. Morrison urged the Arab countries to resolve their differences with Israel. While placing responsibility for the situation on both sides, he noted that the Arab states were seemingly "unwilling or unable to recognize that Israel has become a national entity" that "cannot be swept bag and baggage into the Mediterranean."

At the same time the foreign secretary assailed Egypt's blockade of the Suez Canal as a "vicious practice." He hoped, he said, that the Security Council will take proper action. Supporting Morrison's views on the blockade, Winston Churchill noted that Cairo's blocking the Suez Canal to Israeli traffic was a violation of the armistice agreement between the two countries.

Jewish Agency Members Oppose Recruiting U.S. Youth for Israel

JERUSALEM—American members of the Jewish Agency executive strongly opposed today a demand advanced by Israeli members that the recruitment of American Jewish youth for agriculture pioneering in Israel should become the primary function of the Zionist movement in the United States.

The issue was raised during the plenary session of the Jewish Agency executive now taking place here. The American members emphasized that the atmosphere in the United States is not conducive to such a move, although the recruitment of Chalutzim should be encouraged and supported.

The view of the American members was presented at the session by Hayim Greenberg and Mrs. Rose Halprin. Mr. Greenberg argued that the Zionist movement in America should concentrate on youth education which would inevitably result in the emigration of Jewish youth to Israel; it would be wasted effort to issue clarion calls for "in-gathering American Jewish youth" to Israel.

Opposing Mr. Greenberg's views were Berl Locker, chairman of the Jewish Agency executive, and Eliahu Dobkin, head of the Agency's immigration department. Mr. Dobkin said that had the Zionist movement in the United States spent as much money on the training and recruitment of Chalutzim as is being spent for the construction of one Jewish community center in America, there would have been a warm response on the part of American Jewish youth.

Mr. Dobkin warned that the success of Israel depends on the Jews from Oriental countries now migrating in large numbers to the Jewish state and on the flow of Chalutzim from the Western world who can bring their skills to Israel.

Peron To Admit Thirty Writers

BUENOS AIRES — President Juan D. Peron joined in singing the Israeli national anthem when he attended a reception given by the Jewish community in honor of Dr. Pablo Manguel, Argentine Minister to Tel Aviv, who arrived here on leave. General and Mrs. Peron were given a great ovation by the assembly which heard tributes to General and Mrs. Peron and to Dr. Manguel by leaders of the Jewish community and by Yaakov Tsur, Israel Minister to the Argentine.

During the course of the meeting it was announced that Argentina's highest decoration would be bestowed on Dr. Chaim Weizmann, President of Israel.

As President Peron was entering the hall, a petition was handed to him asking that 30 Jewish writers stranded in Paris be admitted to Argentina. It was announced during the meeting that President Peron had read the petition and had immediately decided to order the admission of the 30 men.

Observer Acquired by Anti-Zion Group

NEW YORK (AJP) — The services of at least one on-the-spot observer in Israel have been acquired by the American Council for Judaism to rush reports on the 23rd World Zionist Congress to the members of the anti-Zionist organization, the American Jewish Press learned this week.

Whether the observer will be an Israeli was not known, but it was learned that the organization does not plan to send anyone from the United States to the Congress for that purpose.

Was Co-chairman Of Group In 1950

A well-known Providence industrialist, Henry Hassenfeld, with business interests in Israel, this week accepted the chairmanship of the Initial Gifts Committee in the 1951 fund-raising drive of the General Jewish Committee of Providence whose major beneficiary is the United Jewish Appeal—chief source of "free" dollars in meeting Israel's relief and rehabilitation needs.

Alvin A. Sopkin, GJC president, and Joseph W. Ress, drive chairman, in naming him to one of the top campaign leadership posts, paid high praise to Hassenfeld's "leadership in previous drives" and predicted "a most successful launching of this year's critical campaign."

Hassenfeld last year served as a co-chairman of the Initial Gifts division. He has been an ardent worker in all GJC activities since the Committee's founding several years ago.

His deep interest in the new Jewish homeland again was manifested a few years ago when he established a large pencil manufacturing factory in Israel in response to a plea by that nation to American investors to participate in Israel's economic development.

In accepting his appointment, Hassenfeld — who visited Israel last year and was an eye-witness to the influx of thousands of Jewish refugees from behind the Iron Curtain—said that "everything we are doing in the UJA is on a now-or-never basis."

"The things that we can do today we may never have the opportunity of doing again—not only from the point of view of transporting Jews, not only from the point of view of rescuing human lives—but also from the point of view of fully establishing on a sound economic basis those hundreds of thousands of Jews who already have been brought to Israel."

A series of meetings is being planned for the committee, which will take under advisement several suggestions designed to assure that this year's Initial Gifts affair may be one of the most outstanding and successful affairs of its kind ever held.

Joseph W. Ress, campaign chairman, this week stated that appointment of co-chairmen in the division will be announced in the immediate future.

At the same time, he complimented the Women's Division and the Young Adult Division for the "remarkable program of activity these two key groups have lined up for September and October."

Silver Doubts 'Patch-Up' As Hadassah, Progressives Split General Zionists

(By Radiophone Direct From Jerusalem)

NEW YORK CITY (AJP)—Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, in an exclusive trans-oceanic radiophone interview from Jerusalem on the eve of the 23rd World Zionist Congress, told the American Jewish Press that chances were poor for a reunion of the newly shattered World General Zionist movement.

Speaking from the spacious King David Hotel, Dr. Silver, in one of his rare interviews with the English-Jewish press, gave his views on the latest split which developed at a session of a pre-Congress convention in Jerusalem of the World Confederation of General Zionists. The key issue was whether to seat 60 delegates of the Israel General Zionist Party which, along with the Israel Mizrahi Party, boycotted the election to the Congress charging "irregularities" in the registration of shekel holders.

The debate ended in the secession of Hadassah and the Israel Progressives from the World Confederation of General Zionists. The discussion became so violent, it was reported, that Dr. Israel Goldstein, of New York City, chairman of the Confederation, adjourned the session. Thereupon representative be pledged to support whatever Israel government might be in power. This was interpreted as a possible maneuver by which the Israel government could easily dispose of World Zionist objections to its program.

Obituary

MAX ARBEITMAN
 Funeral services for Max Arbeitman, 67, husband of Celia (Weintraub) Arbeitman, who died last Saturday at his home, Burnt Swamp, Sheldonville, Mass., after a short illness, were held Sunday at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Mr. Arbeitman was a tailor with the Knopa Manufacturing Co. of Boston, and came to Providence about 50 years ago, living here ten years before moving to Sheldonville. He was the son of the late Hyman and Sarah (Goldstein) Arbeitman.

Survivors include two sons, Henry and Abraham Arbeitman of Sheldonville; and a daughter, Mrs. Samuel Goldman of Providence.

MRS. REBECCA MAKLAR
 Funeral services for Mrs. Rebecca Maklar, wife of Abraham Maklar of 23 Ocean Street, who died last Tuesday, took place August 8 at the Max Sugarman Funeral Home. Burial was in Lincoln Park Cemetery.

Born in Russia in 1866, a daughter of the late Abraham and Rachel Borut, she came to this country in 1906 and settled in the South Providence section.

Mrs. Maklar was a member of the Workingmen's Circle and the South Providence Ladies Aid.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, Hyman, Ralph and Harry Gordon, all of Providence, and five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

He said he was "very heartened" by the General Zionist rise in the recent national elections in Israel to the position of second largest party. He added, however, that he any coalition with Ben-Gurion's Mapai "unconditionally" personally doubted that the Israel General Zionists would enter American Zionist circles, meanwhile, were reported as skeptical about the Ben-Gurion proposal for diplomatic status for the World Zionist movement in Israel which they termed completely confusing.

These sources pointed particularly to a reported Ben-Gurion condition that the World Zionist

Arden's vs Richards at Sessions; Waldorf vs Lincoln Woods at Roger Williams Park; Natcor vs M & F at Richardson Park; Mathewson Toggery vs Broadway Auto at Hopkins Park.

Arden's climbed into second place with a twin killing over ist movement should have.

The possibility that the clashes of viewpoints which developed in the pre-Congress party gatherings, as well as between the Israel and non-Israel blocs, may produce a stalemate at the Congress was suggested by Dr. Nahum Goldmann, chairman of the American section of the Jewish Agency.

He said that all delegates agreed on the need for a special status for the world Zionist movement, but also mentioned the proposals of American Zionist leaders that the Knesset pass a law recognizing the World Zionist Organization as the representative of the Jewish people in all matters relating to Israel, a proposal already opposed by Ben-Gurion.

Dr. Goldmann also mentioned one of the hotly-debated points in Ben-Gurion's proposal for such status—that it be given on con-

Mathewson Toggery. In the first game it was all Arden's as Lou Dostoglos supplied great batting support to Carl Lefkowitz' fine hurling in the 12-4 win. Whitey Groth hit well for the losers.

The second contest was a nine-inning thriller, with Arden's finally pushing across the winning run on a long fly.

Waldorf continued to roll with two wins over cellar-dwelling Natcor. George Leiberman pitched both 9-1 wins.

M & F Insurance battled into playoff land with two impressive wins over Richards. Nate Ludman looked good all the way on the mound in the opening game 4-2 win. Evenly distributed M & F power hitting, plus tight defensive play, gave the insurance outfit the edge. Mal Mickler, lanky Richards backstop, banged out a long home run.

In the nightcap, with cousins Warren Foster and Harold Warren taking turns on the mound, M & F gained a 6-1 victory as their superb infield play brought a double play total of five.

Lincoln Woods Farm came out of the woods—and the cellar—with the fourth double win of the day. Harold Hersch pitched his team to a 7-5 opening win over Broadway Auto.

In the finale, Phil Shaulson hurled a smooth 11-0 shutout, allowing five hits. His mates combed Broadway Auto pitching for 13 solid blows, including a three run homer by Chuck Nelson.

Inter-Party Strife Marks Congress

JERUSALEM (By American Jewish Press Cable)—The 23rd World Zionist Congress opened here Tuesday in an atmosphere of widespread conflict within the participating Zionist parties.

The three major Zionist party groups sent their delegates to the opening session late Tuesday afternoon directly from pre-Congress world party conferences called to formulate party programs aimed at winning from Israel leaders a clear-cut role for the world Zionist movement in relation to the Jewish State.

The conflict has been marked by the emergence of Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver and Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion as spokesmen for the opposing viewpoints on the issue—the nature and scope of the authority the World Zion-

Veronica Lake in Show at Matunuck

Veronica Lake in "The Voice of the Turtle" opens Monday night at the Theatre-by-the-Sea, Matunuck. Miss Lake is the actress who rose to stardom in two pictures and upset the country with the hair worn over one eye hairdo. "Voice" is a play that established one of the long run records of all time.

In the entire history of motion pictures not more than a half-dozen unknowns have boomed to actual stardom after a single picture. Veronica Lake is one of them. After appearing as the siren in "I Wanted Wings" (she received seventh billing), she created such a furor of interest around the world that she instantly became a star in her second picture.

Carl Betz, who set some kind of a modern day record by playing sixty-four consecutive weeks of stock, plays opposite Miss Lake, and Jane Dulo, an actress who has gained recognition and money as a nightclub entertainer, completes the three part cast.

Kashruth Racket Charges Shake Resort Center

ATLANTIC CITY (AJP) — Charges that the kosher killing of chickens in this major Jewish resort center had become a racket marked an uproarious court hearing last week in which a rabbi-schochet accused a woman poultry dealer of attacking him and of using profane language.

The charges were made by Rabbi J. Zickerman, who serves as official schochet at the Municipal Market, under a state law regulating slaughter of kosher fowl, against Mrs. Annie Cabinet, of Farmington, who operates a poultry store here.

Judge Stephen L. Damico fined Mrs. Cabinet, who became hysterical during the proceedings, $100 or 30 days on the charge of vile language.

Despite the fact that Rabbi Zickerman indicated he was satisfied to drop the question of the assault charge, Mrs. Cabinet told her attorney, Bruce Surran, to let the matter stand.

Resuming the court battle, Surran won a reduction of the fine to $25. Still dissatisfied, the woman poultry dealer ordered Surran not to waive the assault charge, and he agreed to Mrs. Cabinet being held for the Grand Jury in $500 bail.

A neighbor of the woman, who placed a $500 bond on the first charge, withdrew from the bail. When Mrs. Cabinet learned she would have to go to jail until a new bond could be arranged, she lost all control and kept screaming that she had done nothing.

"If my own synagogue wants to send me to jail, I'll go to jail," she shrieked as she was led to jail

"Go Vegetarian--Go Trafe--Go Broke"

'Jewish Billy Sundays' Plan Gets Brushoff

OMAHA (AJP)—A proposal for a Jewish "Billy Sunday" to revive adherence to Jewish tradition among New York Jews was rated as of doubtful value this week by the Jewish Press of Omaha.

The proposal had been made by Dr. G. George Fox, a retired Chicago rabbi, who had visited New York and declared he was shocked by widespread violation of Jewish customs.

Commenting editorially, the Omaha Jewish weekly said that such conditions were not confined to New York and that Jewish evangelists would be needed throughout the United States.

But, the weekly added, Jews do not make good mobs and it "takes just that—a mob—to fall in blindly behind a strong voice that pending bail.

Surran and the neighbor remained in the court to argue that Mrs. Cabinet was 100 per cent correct and that the kosher slaughtering had become a racket.

They said that the issue had arisen because two years ago Rabbi Zickerman had refused to slaughter Mrs. Cabinet's chickens and that she had since had them killed in Camden.

Surran produced a handbill in Hebrew and English, telling customers not to buy at Mrs. Cabinet's store. He said that the bills had been distributed in the store by the rabbi.

booms from some speakers platform."

The paper suggested that one source of the trouble was "the downright excessive prices charged for kosher meat."

"It almost boils down to 'go vegetarian, go trafe, or go broke,'" the editorial said.

Earlier, several leading rabbis in New York City told the American Jewish Press they were not opposed to Dr. Fox's Jewish "Billy Sundays" proposal.

"Keep Fighting" Says Baruch, 81

NEW YORK CITY (AJP)—Bernard M. Baruch, Jewish financier and adviser of Presidents, neared his 81st birthday this week with a promise that he intended to "keep fighting everything that's wrong." He will be 81 August 19.

Baruch made the observation as he left for a visit to Washington. He said he had no appointment with President Truman, with whom he has reportedly established friendly relations after a long period of coolness over political issues.

dition that the Zionist movement cooperate unconditionally with whatever kind of a government Israel may have in the future.

He said some delegates wanted a matching commitment by Israel not to interfere with the affairs of the Zionist movement outside of Israel.

Dr. Goldmann's comments emphasized that the Zionist delegates from outside Israel were entering Congress debates without a unified position.

The biggest inter-party had developed in the World General Zionist movement, which had split three ways on the issues before the Congress. Dr. Silver last week led a group of Zionist Organization of America delegates and others to a stand that they represented the legitimate World Confederation of General Zionists.

Dr. Israel Goldstein, chairman of the Confederation, labled Silver's action as a "deliberate plot" to disrupt the Confederation. Haddassah and the Progressives were reported supporting Goldstein's stand.

The split was considered to have worsened chances of Dr. Silver to be elected president of the World Zionist Organization.

A world conference of Labor Zionists ended with objections to some phases of the proposed Jerusalem program. A World Mizrahi Confederation conference took a strong stand against any proposals which would weaken the world Zionist movement.

Despite the sharp internal party divisions, the delegates from outside Israel were regarded as generally united against any new Congress program which would make formal Ben-Gurion's determination to keep the movement from any control of world Jewish aid to Israel. With the Israel Congress delegation dominated by Ben-Gurion's Mapai party, the chances for avoiding a deadlock were regarded as doubtful.

"Kon-Tiki" Now Playing at Avon

The management of the Avon Cinema, Rhode Island's Home of Prize Winning International Hits, is pleased to announce the first Rhode Island showing of "KON-TIKI", which started an extended run Wednesday, Aug. 15. ## AZA To Send Smokes to Korea

"Smokes for Servicemen in Korea" is the 1951-52 AZA Community service project that will benefit from proceeds of the dance to be sponsored by AZA on Saturday, Sept. 1 at the Roger Williams Park Casino, it was announced this week.

Peter K. Rosedale, general chairman of the dance, said that arrangements have been made to ship to American soldiers in Korea cases of cigarettes which will cost AZA only seven cents per package. Each package, Rose-dale added, will have a B'nai B'rith seal on it, and the cigarettes will be distributed to soldiers of all religions and creeds. Max Tippe and his orchestra will provide music.

Assisting Rosedale are William C. Hillman, Kenneth Adler, Rafael Fessel and Alvin Solomon. Tickets for the "Smokes for Servicemen" dance are now on sale.

but an actual record of an adventure made while it was taking place. However, like the book, the film is a tale of high adventure, made all the more great, not by studio theatrics, but by one's sense of being an immediate participant in the adventure itself.

The film has tremendous appeal, now playing its sixth month at the Sutton Theatre in New York and going into its seventh week at the Exeter Theatre in Boston. Critics have universally acclaimed the film and recommended it without reservation to all who would seek a few hours of rare good entertainment.

Also, on the same program are two prize winning short subjects, "The Eagle And The Dragon" in color, and "Composers In Clay". This outstanding bill is being shown now through Tuesday at the Avon Cinema, Thayer Street Near Tunnel in Providence.

Recent Engagements

MISS PEARL ETHEL SCHUSTER, whose engagement to Bernard Gergel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gergel of 237 Oakland Avenue, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davis Schuster of Sheffield Avenue, Pawtucket.

Miss Schuster is a graduate of Pawtucket West Senior High School.

Mr. Gergel was graduated from Hope High and the Boston School of Mechanical Dentistry.

MISS FREEMA SUGARMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Myer Sugarman of 163 Burnside Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Freema Sugarman, to Sgt. Martin R. Goldshine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Goldshine of 137 Radcliffe Avenue.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Classical High School and Bryant College. The prospective groom is a graduate of Hope High School and attended Providence College. He is at present serving with the U. S. Army at Camp Kilmer, N. J.

A September wedding is planned. Mr. and Mrs. Sugarman held open house at their home last Sunday in honor of their daughter's engagement.

N. E. Temple Youth Conclave Aug. 27

BOSTON—The third summer camp conclave of the New England Federation of Temple Youth will open August 27 at Camp Alpine, on Cape Cod, Dorothy and Ira Lester Grishaver of Brookline, Mass., announced this week. Mr. and Mrs. Grishaver, advisers to the New England reform youth, said that more than 85 applications have been received already.

The conclave lasts for eight days, closing on September 3. In its program are emphasized religion, education, fellowship, and recreation. Daily classes taught by New England's liberal rabbis are held.

The New England youth conclave is part of the nationwide program of camp conclaves sponsored by the National Federation of Temple Youth.

Demands Jewish TV Cook Program; Hits "Traif" Recipes

PHILADELPHIA (AJP) — A Jewish cooking program on television was urged last week by a Philadelphia housewife, who said that existing TV recipe programs were "discouraging for those of us who still conduct a kosher home."

The suggestion was offered by Mrs. Jacob Kolosky in a letter to the Jewish Exponent, in which she wrote that she had frequently tuned in on such programs "only to hear the instructor say to finish it off with several strips of bacon, or split the frankfurters and put cheese over them, etc."

"I am sure many people would be very thankful if one or more concerns had a Jewish cooking program on television, so we could follow the recipes and enjoy them," she wrote.

Milford Guests Help Name Song

Guests at Camp Milford, Kent, Conn. recently had a hand in the naming of a tune that may soon be among the nation's favorites.

Buddy Kaye, composer of such hit tunes as "Till the End of Time," "A Penny a Kiss," "Full Moon and Empty Arms," and a member of the Camp Milford orchestra, recently started work on another song hit. He played the music of the new song and asked the guests at camp to submit titles for it.

From all the suggestions submitted, Buddy chose "My Living Doll." The title was inspired by a scene in the Camp Milford waiters' show, "Take a Tip from Us." Kaye considered the title such a happy choice that he wrote lyrics to fit.

WHAT IS SO REMARKABLE, you ask, about a father helping his son plant a seedling tree?

This is what is remarkable: it is happening in Israel. And the odds were—overwhelmingly—that it could never happen at all.

The odds were that the father would die in Europe as six million other Jews died under Hitler. Yet he got through to the new, shining land. The odds were that the desert soil of Israel could not be made to flourish. But the father, and tens of thousands like him, brought more to the task than hoes and harrows.

And you, you helped every step of the way: from DP camp to desert settlement. You provided the tools, the seeds, the means of rescue and rebirth.

Now you see the roots going down. Not just the roots of the seedling...

human roots, too. The tree, the boy and Israel will all grow together. And along with them will grow and flourish the world's most precious way of life—democracy.

In just three years you have helped transplant 500,000 homeless refugees to Israel, have given them the chance to begin a new and hopeful life. But the work is only half done. Your help—through the United Jewish Appeal—is needed still to bring 200,000 more this year, to reclaim land, plant forests, build settlements and homes so that these newcomers, too, can sink firm roots in Israel's soil.

Their need is urgent. Threatening emigration deadlines and the world emergency warn that we dare not delay our help for a moment. Give now, while there is time. Give today. Give more than ever before.

Nazis In German Government

A tragic, but not unexpected chain of reaction and counter-reaction is continuing in West Germany. The more authority the Germans are given by the Western Allies, the more they tend toward dishonored men and ideas.

Every Allied step in relaxing occupation controls over the past three years and more has been followed by the appointment of additional ex-Nazis to government positions, more brazen demands for the fulfillment of German "honor" and more clamoring for further concessions. Now, just after the U. S. House of Representatives voted overwhelmingly to end the state of war with Germany, the blindness of our policy has again been demonstrated.

The new demonstration is perhaps the clearest yet. A careful, documented investigation by the World Jewish Congress has shown that well-known ex-Nazis in considerable numbers have been named to the Foreign Office of the Bonn Government. The study illustrated that a number of these men were trained by and served under von Ribbentrop and they were themselves guilty of crimes against mankind.

The list of names uncovered by the World Jewish Congress is a dreary and saddening commentary on the bankrupt morals of the West German regime. Wilhelm Melchers, head of the Nazi Foreign Office's Near Eastern Division who dealt with the Mufti; Dr. Kurt Heinburg, director of von Ribbentrop's East European Division who co-signed documents concerning Jewish deportations to death camps—these and others of equal notoriety have been named to influential positions.

What is particularly shocking is the fact pointed to by the World Jewish Congress that Adenauer, the Bonn Premier, is also that government's Foreign Minister and thus personally responsible for these appointments of ex-Nazis to posts where they not only will deal with the rest of the world on equal terms but will help make policies which could decide whether there will be peace or war.

The democratic world should know better by now. It is difficult to understand how we can, by ending the state of war, fully legitimize a state whose diplomatic corp and other government departments are flooded with the proteges of the men against whom we fought in the Second World War.

On The Bookshelf

Gollancz's Great Work: "Man and God"

"Powerful," "triumphant," "noble"—these are some of the tributes given to Victor Gollancz's "Man and God," published in this country by Houghton Mifflin Co.

The eminent British publisher's work has well earned these titles. He has fulfilled his mission with marked ability and has succeeded in the gathering of "passages chosen and arranged to express a mood about the human and divine," as the sub-title of "Man and God" declares.

Mr. Gollancz emphasizes "mood, not doctrine," as he points out in the preface. His book is above doctrine, all-inclusive in consideration of faith. It contains passages that range from one line—as the four-word sentence, quoting the Talmud, "God wants the heart"—to the long, beautiful, famous story by Isaac Loeb Perez, "Bontzye Shweig."

There are numerous quotations from "Selected Mystical Writings of William Law," lengthy selections from Blake's "Jerusalem," important portions of the Bible and the Talmud, and numerous Jewish legends and chassidic tales.

He opens with the Shema Israel and, on the last page, is the Hebrew prayer—the Shehecheyanu—in Hebrew. In every detail, there is an appropriateness in Mr. Gollancz's work that makes it stand out as a most magnificent literary creation of our time.

The Jewish selections are by no means the predominating factors in "Man and God." But they carry that weight that is needed to give a great book noteworthy status.

A single sentence from Leon Bloy, "All that happens is divine," is among the many gems in this book which describe the volume itself. The Bloy sentiment gets added weight from this quotation from Martin Buber, interpreting Chassidism: "There is no not-holy, there is only that which has not yet been hallowed, which has not yet been redeemed to its holiness." Yet, as Mr. Gollancz himself points out, there are contradictions in this book. But these very contradictions are the positive proofs of the moods "about the human and divine."

There is a lesson in human relations on every page of "Man and God." There is, as an example, this passage from the Talmud:

"An aged man, whom Abraham hospitably invited to his tent, refused to join him in prayer to the

Smallest and Youngest Jewish Group Rebuilds Communal Life At Kobe

Towards the end of the 19th Century, Sephardic, Russian and Chinese Jews found their way to Kobe, a small town at the southern tip of Honshu, one of the Japanese Island string, located about 200 miles from Hiroshima.

The new immigrants were disappointed at the lack of opportunity, the restrictions of the area and the clime into which they had come, and many left immediately. Others, frightened at the possible consequences of the Japanese-Hitler pact in 1936, left for other countries.

The community now numbers 50 souls, a strange mixture of Jews from Iraq, Egypt, Syria and Europe. Since the Allied occupation they have prospered and are now playing an important role in the business life of Kobe.

During the war, their synagogue was destroyed by American bombs, necessitating services at private homes. This has not discouraged religion, however, and only recently did these Jews appeal to their fellow-Sephardim in Bombay to find a rabbi for their community.

The story of Kobe will be more complete soon, as increasing numbers of American servicemen return to tell of the hospitality, friendliness and piety of the Jews of Kobe.

Diogenes Would Find Honest Man

In Israel, States Small Loans Report

NEW YORK—The legendary Diogenes, who sought an honest man, could very well do a land office business in Israel, according to a report issued by Isaac L. Asofsky, executive director of HIAS, Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society.

Commenting on the Society's participation during the past 18 months in a "small loan" fund in Israel, Asofsky stated in his report that "newcomers to Israel are apparently an industrious, appreciative and honorable lot," and that "not a single loss has been suffered thus far as a result of the some 10,000 loans made to individuals."

HIAS, which participates jointly with the Jewish Agency in the Central Loan Fund (Gmiluth Chasadim) in making small loans to newcomers without interest one spiritual God. Learning that he was a fire-worshiper, Abraham drove him from his door. That night God appeared to Abraham in a vision and said: 'I have borne with that ignorant man for seventy years; could you not have patiently suffered him one night?'

The lengthy selection from the Wisdom of Solomon, note-worthy passages from Christian literature, quotations from Albert Schweitzer, Edmond Fleg, Traherne, Spinoza and scores of others provide stirring experiences for the reader of this magnificent work. The added value of selecting short or longer portions for at-random reading should make it a cherished possession in all homes.

Pens New Book--

"Judaism, History"

NEW YORK CITY (AJP) — Veteran anti-Zionist spearhead, Rabbi Elmer Berger, is the author of a new book, "A Partisan History of Judaism," to be published next fall, the Council News, official organ of the American Council for Judaism, disclosed this week.

In announcing that Rabbi Berger, the Council's executive director, had penned the book, the News urged members to reserve copies. It termed the forthcoming book "the real drama mirrored in Judaism."

charges through some 250 Kasses (loan bureaus) throughout Israel, has during the past 18 months disbursed close to $125,000 in varying small loans.

The report states that all recipients "have lived up to their obligations to repay their loans in small installments as soon as they start earning a livelihood, thereby make it possible for the revolving fund to grant loans to greater numbers of applicants."

During May, 1951, for instance, the report states, the case load of many of the Kasses increased sharply, obliging the Common Fund, which makes allocations to them, to augment the capital of 25 of the bureaus. The requests came from Kasses in cities including Tel Aviv, Haifa, Jerusalem, Jaffa, Afule and Peta Tikva.

HIAS recently expanded its activity in the Gmiluth Chasadim, by allocating an additional $28,000 to the fund for the purpose of giving newcomers the wherewithal to start earning a livelihood in their professions or businesses.

Reds Boast of Meager Israel Seat

NEW YORK CITY—A Communist propaganda service this week quoted the Israel Communist party as boasting that despite the most violent campaign of terror by the right wing parties, the Communists had gained a seat more in the second national elections than in the first.

The statement was released by Telepress, issued by the Communist-controlled Czechoslovak satellite state.

The report credited the Israel Communist party paper, Kol Haam, as its source, and charged that the Mapai had been particularly active in the alleged "campaign of terror."

Prior to the signing of this agreement, the Philippine airlines had only provisional landing rights at Lydda for their aircraft flying from Manila to London via Lydda.

Red Daily Lambasts 'Heksher' for 'Twist'

NEW YORK CITY (AJP)—A review in the Compass, left-wing liberal New York daily, calling "Oliver Twist" a work of art was condemned this week by the Communist Daily Worker.

Seymour Peck, the reviewer, said that "I would not be true to my conscience if I did not say that this Oliver Twist persists in seeming to me a most superb and rich artistic piece of movie-making which catches with inspired fidelity the whole crowded world of Charles Dickens."

Peck conceded that the portrayal of Fagin in the movie made him "the most cunning, the most heartless of villains and though he is never called a Jew those who remember that he is a Jew from Dickens' novel may still be troubled to see the portrait brought to life to be employed and perhaps used irresponsibly by people of prejudice."

The denunciation of the review written by David Platt, who said it was "strange that Peck's conscience did not impress upon his mind the necessity of a straightforward attack upon a film which the liberal newspaper PM, forerunner of the Compass, three years ago had condemned as anti-Semitic."

Platt declared that there were doubtless many "liberals" in Germany who hailed the anti-Semitic Nazi film, Jew Sues, "as a great work of art when it appeared in the late 30's."

"No American film critic can be true to his conscience who does not find it necessary to point out that an anti-Semitic film like Oliver Twist encourages the kind of thinking that leads to gas ovens and lampshades made of human flesh."

Negro Africa Leader Cites Jews' History

NEW YORK CITY (AJP)—A leader of a nationalist movement to bring Negroes back to Africa expressed the hope last week that "we don't have to suffer as much as European Jews before we wake up."

James R. Lawson, president of the United African Nationalist Movement, issued the warning at a meeting of his followers here.

Declaring that the movement should be included in present United States aid to Europe and Asia, Lawson said that "it is up to you to see that Africa gets her share of aid from the U. S. A."

"We stand alone now, as did the Zionist leaders before Hitler came into power in Europe and left six million Jewish graves, which forced these people to establish a national homeland to uphold the integrity of their peoples."

Jewish Seminary Acquires Rare Bible

The celebrated Prague Bible, published in 1518 by the noted Hebrew printer, Gershom Kohen, has been acquired by The Jewish Theological Seminary of America, Dr. Louis Finkelstein, president, has announced.

The rare Bible, generally recognized as the first major Hebrew work printed in Prague, contains the five Books of the Pentateuch. The first page of each of the Books is enhanced by intricate woodcuts, a fact of special interest to experts who point out that illustrated books of sixteenth century Bohemia are extremely scarce. Only one other copy of the Prague Bible is known to exist today, at Oxford University.

Work on the volume was begun in June, 1514, and was not completed until January, 1518. The craftsman Kohen, known as the first and greatest Hebrew printer of Prague, appended a poem thanking God for the privilege of having been able to print the first Hebrew Bible in Bohemia. This volume has since become recognized as the masterwork of the Kohen printing house.

Blasts Canada's Jews As Selfish

CHICAGO (AJP) — A retired Chicago rabbi last week accused Canadian Jews of being shortsighted and selfish and far more concerned with high living than with obligations to fellow-Jews in need in Israel.

The charge was made by Rabbi G. George Fox, in his column in the Chicago Sentinel, appearing a week after an Ontario rabbi asserted that Canada's 200,000 Jews were better organized than American Jewry to handle Jewish problems.

Rabbi Fox said he had found that Canadian Jewry were "too busy building up estates, enjoying themselves and loving other things in life to be worried about those deeper activities that form the real core of Jewish existence."

He said that local Jewish building and fund drives took most of the energies of Canadian Jews and "they just didn't have any money left for investment in Israel."

He said he did not begrudge

Israeli Pilot Gets Drug To Portugese Girl Near Death

NEW YORK CITY (AJP)—An eight-year-old Portugese victim of dreaded spinal meningitis was reported holding her own this week after treatment with a rare drug flown from New York by an Israel National Airlines pilot.

The drug, varidase, was sent in response to a plea from Eugenio de Sa of Purtua, Portugal, an amateur radio operator, addressed to "any operator in the New York area."

The message was picked up by Fred von Redowsky of Glendale, Queens, who obtained a supply from a drugstore nearby and rushed it to Idlewild Airport where Capt. M. Tushak was waiting on a flight to London.

At London, the drug was picked up by a special military plane and taken to the girl, who was treated immediately. The Queens radio "ham" said that the girl's father, Ilvivo Santos, was "overwhelmingly grateful" for the help he had received.

Foods To Remember

BY LEAH W. LEONARD

(Author of "Jewish Cookery")

In hot weather be sure to serve plenty of cheese—plain, creamed or combinations that please. Cottage cheese (or pot cheese) is the simplest form of cheese because it requires no special curing or aging process. Its origin dates back to the earliest centuries of mankind's experiment with milk and milk products. It is regarded as a springtime basic food, undoubtedly because milk has always been in superabundant supply at that season of the year. It can be served in different ways, in accordance with family or group culinary custom, or without embellishment.

Here are a few suggestions that are most welcome during August, but good any time of the year:

COTTAGE CHEESE MOUND

Hungarian Style

- 2 cups dry cottage cheese, put through a fine sieve
- 1 cup butter or margarine, creamed or softened
- 1 tablespoon caraway seeds, pounded or crushed
- 1 tablespoon minced capers
- 1 tablespoon minced chives or green onions
- 1 tablespoon dry mustard
- 1/4 cup chopped or mashed anchovies

Paprika and parsley sprigs for garnish

Combine the cottage cheese with half the softened butter. Mix the remainder of the softened butter with the crushed caraway seeds, minced capers, chives, dry mustard and anchovies till well combined. Stir this mixture into the cottage cheese and butter as lightly as possible and form into a mound in the center of a serving plate or platter. Garnish with sprinkles of paprika on top and sprigs of parsley around the base. Serve with thinly sliced salted rye bread, whole wheat crackers or toasted biscuits or small rolls. Serves 6.

It is always good planning to have a refrigerator cake on hand, just in case "company" drops in for cards and conversation. Something that does not take much time in preparation and looks like a caterer's dream is the following Ice Box Cake.

PINEAPPLE ICE BOX CAKE

- 1/4 cup butter
- 1 cup tightly packed confectioners' sugar
- 4 egg yolks
- 4 tablespoons lemon juice (about 2 lemons)
- 4 egg whites, beaten stiff with a pinch of salt
- 2 cups well drained canned crushed pineapple
- Lady Fingers as required or equivalent "fingers" of sponge cake
- Maraschino cherries cut into halves for garnish
- Fresh mint leaves for garnish

Cream the butter and confectioners' sugar in a mixing bowl. Add the egg yolks and continue beating or creaming for 3 minutes. Stir in the lemon juice and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites very carefully, using an over and over motion of the mixing spoon or fork. Stir in the well drained crushed pineapple. Arrange Lady Fingers or sponge cake cuts on the bottom of a square cake pan, 8 x 8 x 2 1/2 inches that has been lined with aluminum foil or wax paper. Turn in the mixture to a depth of 1 inch and cover with split Lady Fingers. Add more of the pineapple mixture and top with Lady Fingers, whole or split. Chill for 24 hours in the refrigerator.

When ready to serve, place a large flat serving plate over the

Parents' Day At Camptown

Parents' Day was observed at Camptown, the Jewish Community Center's in-town day camp at Joseph Williams Park on Tuesday, July 31. Beginning at 1:30 P.M., parents were invited to see the camp in action. The regular daily program was carried through, and parents were asked to observe the groups in which their youngsters were members.

At 3 P.M. juice was served to parents and campers. Following this was the Hobby Hour which furnished parents with an opportunity to watch their children at work at special arts and crafts, newspaper work, sewing, storytelling or gardening. The after-pan and invert to unmold. Arrange the cut Maraschino cherries in any desired design and add fresh mint leaves here and there for color. Serve with a topping of whipped cream if desired and Maraschino garnish. Cut with a cake knife or server into 9 square cuts, or 16 smaller cuts. Serves 9 or 16, depending on size of portions.

noon's activities were concluded with community singing of Jewish songs and a short comedy skit presented by the oldest girls' group, the "Horrible Haunters."

Taking part in this skit were Marcia Krasnoff, Beryl Wolf, Rita Mantell, Jean Silverlieb and Sheila Hollander. The group's adviser is Rhoda Galkin.

SYD COHEN:

Hank Greenberg--
Successful Executive

This column has never indulged in the fascinating, if meaningless, pastime of predicting major league pennant races in advance. Not in public, that is. But back in April, on the weekend preceding the opening of the 1951 flag chase, I did write an opinion of the Cleveland Indians, as I thought Hank Greenberg must feel about his club. In the light of the Indians' current streak and standing, that column looks pretty good.

Don't get me wrong. This is not an I-told-you-so story, for I am not at all sure the Indians will win the flag, nor did I predict in April that they would win it. Rather, this is a tribute to General Manager Greenberg, who took a couple of gambles early in the season and faced a load of criticism if they failed to work out. Hank stuck to his guns even when his club was far below the leaders, and today his judgment has been borne out.

If anyone is deserving of the annual award of executive of the year, Greenberg is that man; and I think I can show you why.

To start off, here is how I concluded that opinion of the Cleveland club in April:

"The experts within the next few days probably will select the Red Sox and Yankees, in that order, followed by the Indians, as flag favorites.

"But I believe Hank Greenberg will be laughing up his sleeve and looking ahead to his seating capacity for the 1951 World Series."

The Red Sox were pre-season favorites, the Indians were the third place choices. And the latter now look like the team to beat.

Here is another quote from that column:

"Cleveland is a team that has faith in itself, one of the two qualities the Red Sox lack (the other is youth). Faith in its own ability also means faith in the management..."

Here, perhaps, is the whole story. A less stable organization would have become panicky early in the season when the team could do nothing right, when it dropped around ten games in a row and fell far off the pace. Once panicky, that sort of club would have gone out and made desperation trades, getting rid of some top-flight men who, perhaps, were slow in rounding into form. That sort of action might, if taken, have wrecked the solid foundations of the whole outfit.

But Greenberg did not become panicky. He had personally gotten rid of Lou Boudreau, despite an expected clamor from the entire city of Cleveland. He had released Lou without even seeking anyone in return. Had he chosen, he could have held Lou out as bait, started the Yanks and Red Sox bidding for him, and come up with one or more of the veteran performers of either of these clubs. This, Hank refused to do. Boudreau went outright, no strings attached, because his long and honorable years of service had entitled him to a chance to make his own deal, possibly to sign as a manager or a coach. That's how Greenberg felt, although he had every right to make a profitable deal for Boudreau. Give that man Greenberg credit for his integrity and his courage.

Early in the season Hank realized that he needed a strong relief pitcher to back up his big four. He gave up Orestes Minoso in return for Lou Brissie, and he took plenty of guff for that move, for Minoso was highly rated, and Brissie was a question mark. But there hasn't been a more consistent trouble-shooter in either league than the war-scarred Brissie.

Getting back to that early slump, Greenberg sat pat. He had made his moves, refused to lose faith because of a bad streak. He told his manager, Lopez, not to worry, not to make lineup changes, not to anticipate added help. He instilled in the players confidence in their ability to snap out of the doldrums.

He stuck with Al Rosen when Flip was not hitting. He had faith in Boone and Avila when they were erratic. More important, he calmed the Cleveland fans who are traditionally eager, and also disappointed. That patience now has been rewarded as the Indians take over the lead (as of Sunday, anyhow) all by themselves.

You could say that all this is very good, but did Greenberg know in advance that Bob Feller would have such a good year? The answer is another question: Did anyone realize that both Bob Lemon and Early Wynn would have such poor starts? It all evens up.

I insist, this is not a prediction that the Indians will win the pennant. Actually, I think they may need another starting pitcher to get them over the rough spots of late August and September. It is rather a tribute, win or lose, to one of the game's shrewdest and soundest executives, Henry Greenberg, who seems to be followed by success no matter what he does.

It should be agreed that embattled Paul Richards deserves the right to wear the toga of "Manager of the Year" regardless of what else happens to his White Sox; and by the same token, Hank

HAROLD S. MOSKOL

Harold S. Moskol, Representative from the 3rd District, Providence, has been chosen general chairman of the Democratic State Outing, sponsored by the Democratic State Committee under the auspices of the Young Democrats of Rhode Island, to be held at Crescent Park on September 9.

Greenberg deserves to be acclaimed as executive of the year, even if the Indians slip now and fall flat on their faces—which none of us expects to happen.

Golf Arrangements

Elsewhere in this issue there should be a story detailing the arrangements for what looks like a great golf tournament. All the details were not completed as this column was being written, and deadlines being what they are, the story could not be included here.

Suffice it to say that the tourney is shaping up very well, and a highly successful series of matches is anticipated. Entries have been rolling in at a consistent rate, and it looks as though we are

Mayor Apologizes To Jewish Woman

HAMBURG—Mayor Max Bauer of this city apologized this week to a Jewish authoress, K. Niehoff, whom he previously called "a tool of the Communists."

The mayor made the apology, besides offering a cash compensation, when the judge before whom the libel case was tried held that Bauer's accusations were "groundless." Bauer libelled the woman in the course of a statement in which he accused her of being responsible for demonstrations against the Nazi film producer, Veit Harlan.
