Hits Exclusive Clubs as Ruse To Foster Bias

KIAMESHA LAKE, N. Y. — Henry Edward Schultz, national chairman of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith has blasted "exclusive" luncheon and country clubs.

Speaking before the 104th annual convention of B'nai B'rith's District One he said:

"The term, exclusive club, has come to mean just that—not a process of choosing but of excluding, in order to deny outsiders, mainly minority groups, equal opportunity for growth and achievement in the community.

"The exclusive city luncheon club, the country club and similar groups have become . . . an organized subterfuge for gaining or retaining power and special privilege."

Max Kestenman Re-Elected To Head Home and Foundation

The 46th annual meeting of the Jewish Children's Home and Foundation of Rhode Island was held at the Wayland Manor on Tuesday, May 8, at 6:30 P. M. Max Kestenman, president of the organization, was host at a dinner preceding the meeting.

Discussion was had concerning the two main functions of JORI which included the operation of Camp JORI at Point Judith, and the JORI Scholarship Fund for higher education. Leo Weiss has been appointed director of Camp JORI, and according to all reports an excellent season seems to be in store. Particular attention is being given to the possibility of relocating the Camp at a new site, if such can be found.

'On the Spot' Gifts

Merrill Hassenfeld discussed the work of the JORI scholarship committee which received enthusiastic response from the directors present. Each director had available the reprint of the article in the Jewish Herald which explained the operation of this fund. A large number of donations were made on the spot in order to help the committee set up its program for the coming year.

Kestenman was re-elected president for his fifth term as were

Home for Aged Has 300 Per Cent Increase in Residents

A 300 percent increase in the number of residents and service to 50 percent of the infirm and handicapped patients were cited as reasons for the increase in budget from $25,000 in 1933 to $169,000 last year at the Jewish Home for the Aged.

Other factors involved in the increase include the new 56-bed infirmary; activities such as recreation, occupational therapy, and entertainment, as well as rehabilitation of the sick, it was reported by Max Alexander, Home executive director.

Maurice Fox, chairman of the finance committee, told board members and workers of the 1956 membership campaign at the kick-off meeting last Wednesday, that the budget for the current year is estimated at $200,000.

Attention was called to the discrepancy between the rising costs and the declining membership income, which has fallen off in the last ten years from 25 percent to 16 percent of the budget needs. The goal of the membership drive, workers were told, is to bring the income back to the 25 percent level.

The Home membership drive will open officially on June 5 when cards will be distributed to about 250 workers who will visit every family not yet affiliated as members of the Home.

WASHINGTON—The Israeli Embassy explained that it unloaded 21 military vehicles from a ship bound for Israel after the State Dept. said its license "could not technically apply" to the shipment.

The State Dept. acknowledged that Israel had applied for licenses to ship fully assembled half-tracks. Press Officer Lincoln White said the request—part of Israel's over-all application for $63,000,000 in of arms submitted last November—has not been acted upon.

Earlier this week the State Dept. disclosed that the Arab states were receiving some $13,000,000 in arms from the U. S., including 18 tanks shipped to Saudi Arabia last spring.

The customs office ordered the unloading of the 21 half-tracks here at about the same time that a large shipment of munitions to Saudi Arabia was moving toward the Monterey in Sunny Point, N. C.

Commenting on the disclosure that 21 half-tracks had been taken off an Israeli ship in New York harbor a week ago, the Israeli statement said:

"On May 11 shippers commissioned by the Israel Government loaded certain surplus vehicles destined to be used in Israel as spare parts."

The Embassy said the shipment was made against a license from the State Dept's Munitions Central Division "for spare parts in the amount of $15,000."

"The Customs Authorities maintain that the license in the possession of the shippers could not technically apply to the equipment that had been loaded.

"When this matter brought to the attention of the Embassy of Israel, instructions were immediately issued to the shippers to comply with the ruling and to unload the stores in question."

The statement added that "the shippers have been instructed to apply the license to other articles which the Customs recognize as spare parts."

'No Alternative'

White said the Customs had "no alternative" but to ask that the half-tracks be unloaded. The vessel in question was the Zion, a cargo-passenger ship. It sailed a week ago.

White said he saw nothing dishonest or illegal in the situation. "I do not characterize," he said. "I tell you what the facts are. If there is anything dishonest in this, I'm unaware of it."

White declined to explain the State Dept's unwillingness to grant Israel a license for fully-assembled half-tracks. He said it was part of "the picture that has been discussed here a hundred times."

BIG Day Off to BIG Start With 231 Volunteers Enrolled

With 231 volunteers already enrolled to serve on Providence BIG Day, Sunday, June 17, Julius C. Michaelson and Mrs. Beryl Segal, BIG Day co-chairmen, told an organizational meeting of twenty-five community leaders Monday night that "with this fine start, there is every reason to believe that we will exceed our goal of 500 BIG Day volunteers."

The meeting, which was held at the Jewish Community Center, was addressed by Rabbi Eli A. Bohnen, chairman of the Providence Israel Bond Committee, who praised the leaders of Providence Jewish organizations for their "unprecedented response to Israel's appeal for investment income." BIG Day will feature intensive sale of Israel Bonds on a door-to-door basis that will reach every Jewish family in Providence.

Outlining the BIG Day plan, Mr. Michaelson stated that the activity of volunteers would be coordinated by captains, who in turn would report to majors. Majors and captains are now busy, recruiting BIG Day volunteers. Mr. Michaelson said that the organization plan did not reflect any "demarcation of importance." Everyone working for Israel is important, he added, and no one is more important than the person who goes out and sells Israel Bonds. "This table of organization is set up merely for the purpose of simplifying our activity, and making the entire job easier for everyone concerned."

A Rally for Volunteers will be staged at the Providence Journal Auditorium on Tuesday, June 6. Kits will be distributed at that time, followed by a brief orientation program. An evening of entertainment will be a feature of the rally.

A BIG Day breakfast will be held at the Narragansett Hotel on June 17 at 9 A. M. After the breakfast, volunteers will fan out to visit their friends and neighbors on behalf of the current Providence Israel Bond Campaign, through which $250,000 in investment income to build Israel's economy is being sought.

Valuable prizes for outstanding volunteers will be awarded at a "thank-you" party on Wednesday, June 20. The prizes are being contributed by local merchants, and will be awarded on two bases: the largest number of Bonds sold, and the largest amount in dollar value of Bonds sold. All new sales beginning with May 14, 1956 will be included in determining prize-winners.

Because of the Memorial Day holiday, news copy for next week's Herald must be in these offices by Monday at 3 P. M.

We are impelled once more to express the hope that the widest possible reading will be given to an article by Hal Lehrman. Titled "Western Self-Interest and Israeli Self-Defense," it appears in the current issue of Commentary, and is a closely-reasoned, hard-hitting exposition of this conviction: It is essential to the best interests of this country and the other democracies to stop appeasing the Arab lands and to grant Israel the arms she needs to discourage an attack.

It would be a grave error to regard Mr. Lehrman as a special pleader and therefore disregard his views. He is a highly experienced and competent journalist who has spent a great amount of time in the Middle East and whose first-hand knowledge of the Arab countries, we believe, compares favorably with any writer or diplomat assigned there.

One danger appears paramount at the present moment. This is the grave possibility that the accomplishments of Dag Hammarskjold will not be seen in proper perspective. The United Nations Secretary General, a vastly gifted and brilliant man, won a limited, tenuous victory in his recently-concluded trip to the Mid-East. He himself makes no extravagant claims for what he achieved and warns that the danger of war is still very great. "The main issues," as he described them, still await solution.

Mr. Hammarskjold now recommends that Israel and her neighbors be left alone to enlarge the area of agreement. Recent history, however, abounds with examples of what "non-intervention" has done to democracy's cause when it functioned as an operating principle for one side alone. And there is still no evidence of Arab willingness to join Israel in peace-table talks. On the contrary, preparations for war are going on unabated throughout the Arab countries with the whole-hearted and open-handed assistance of the Soviet bloc which alone stands to gain from present U. S. policy.

We agree with Mr. Lehrman in his conclusion: "This is the truth; that only a resolute confrontation of the Arabs will help America. One vital element of such a confrontation is American support of Israel's right to security and peace. Not for Israel's sake, but for America's."

ONE MAN'S OPINION

Of Plays, Dances, and Bonds

By BERYL SEGAL

What I have to say now does not make me very happy. My words, I know, will displease many readers. Among them are people whom I know well and of whom I am very fond. Yet, I hope that they will find it in their hearts to forgive me. Though I mention them by name, it is not done in malice, but as an example to others, and for the future.

At the heart of the matter is not criticism of persons or organizations, but establishing a principle.

On Sunday, May 13, the Providence Israel Bond campaign was launched with Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon as guest speaker.

On that same night the Mr. and Mrs. Club of Temple Beth El presented a musical comedy "The Cohn Mutiny".

Also on the same night the Men's Club of Beth David held an installation dance.

Now, in a community like ours with so many clubs and organizations, conflicting dates are inevitable. The planned affairs are numerous and suitable dates are few in number. Perfect clearance of dates is impossible, and not always necessary. Each organization has its own appeal and its own following, and it is for you and me to make the choice which affair to attend and which to miss.

But there are exceptions.

Such an exception is the Israel Bond Drive. Another exception is the United Jewish Appeal. They are in a class by themselves, and must be given the right of way in dating at all times.

Avoiding conflicts between two local organizations or agencies, such as Hospital, Home, Center, or Congregations is a matter of courtesy. But avoiding conflicts with affairs scheduled by either United Jewish Appeal or Bond Drive is more than courtesy. It is a must. It is a matter of principle.

This principle is especially to be followed by responsible groups in our community. We cannot expect such consideration from a bridge club or a Fork and Knife society. But groups like the two mentioned before and others like them are under moral obligation to clear the way and to say to their committees:

"This date is reserved for something bigger than our play or dance or concert or dinner. Keep this date free of interference."

Plays are good, and concerts are wonderful, and dances are enjoyable, and banquets are delightful, and parties are pleasant. All such affairs scheduled for the night of May 13 in Providence were no doubt for good causes and worthy of support. But what took place on that night at the Sheraton-Biltmore Hotel with Senator Wayne Morse was of utmost urgency and above all else.

One does not go fishing or play golf when an urgent call to stand by is sounded in the neighborhood.

And what Senator Morse was saying at the Bond Drive was not for the ears of Zionists alone, nor for Friends of Israel only. It was meant for the ears and heart of every American. This is so because what happens to Israel is not the concern of Jews alone but of all America and of the whole world.

Senator Morse is a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. And a leading member of that committee. He knows whereof he speaks when he says:

"Do not be so sure that your children will inherit the freedoms you are enjoying.

"You cannot secure freedom by appeasing totalitarian governments.

"The tanks we are sending to Saudi Arabia will be used either against Israel or to crush rebellions against the corrupt rulers at home. In either case we do not serve the cause of freedom and democracy.

"Israel is the only beach-head of freedom in the Middle-East. Yet foreign aid funds earmarked for Israel are being held up because the State Department does not want to offend the Arabs. Oil is weighed against freedom.

"But these same Arabs have no fear of offending us by their anti-democratic acts."

Senator Morse has a habit of winding up his discussion of a point in foreign relations policy by asking:

"What does this have to do with Israel?"

And he answers:

"Everything".

Because Israel is not an isolated problem. It is part of our world-wide policy of defending free peoples and encouraging democratic governments everywhere.

The Free World will judge us by what we do or fail to do in Israel. India is watching. Burma is watching. The small nations in Europe and Asia are watching. Are we in the United States standing ready to support free peoples, as we declare again and again? Or are we saying one thing and doing the opposite?

It is the lot of little Israel to serve as the testing ground for our foreign policy.

And if you ask what has all this to do with us, the Brotherhoods and the Sisterhoods, the Men's clubs, and the Women's clubs, the Benevolent societies and the Fraternal orders?

We answer with Senator Wayne Morse:

"Everything."

In the Senate and in committees, Congressmen like Senator Morse wage a battle for liberal, just policies in our relations with other nations. They want moral principles to rule our policies rather than oil fields and profits. It is a hard battle. They can not win it alone.

When a man like Senator Morse comes to town to talk on Foreign Relations we must show where our sympathies are: With him or the oil lobbies in Washington?

By staying away we weaken his hands. By coming to hear him in great numbers we strengthen his hands.

And this is why the night of May 13, the night when Senator Morse spoke, should have been circled in red ink on the calendar of every responsible organization.

This Night is Reserved.

To reserve and to come and to listen and to demonstrate agreement with his views by buying Israel Bonds.

A Bond is an act of faith in freedom, in democracy for which little Israel stands today in the Middle East.

We could not all be present at the Israel Bond Dinner, but we can all buy Bonds when volunteers call on us soon.

(Mr. Segal's opinions are his own. His views are not necessarily those of this newspaper.)

Censorship to Be Discussed by YA

The Young Adult Association of the Jewish Community Center will conduct another in its current series of informal discussion programs at the Main Center Building on Wednesday evening, June 6, at 8:30 P. M.

"Who Censors What We Read?" will be the discussion topic, with Prof. Elmer E. Cornwell of the Brown University Faculty serving as discussion leader. Melvin Levin will serve as moderator for the evening.

The whole area of apparent and hidden censorship of newspapers, magazines, books, films and radio and TV programs will be considered during the discussion period. The effect of pressure groups, lobbyists, religious and civic organizations and political groups on the American public's reading and listening habits—where freedom and license conflict—truth vs propoganda are some of the evening's important considerations.

Admission to the program is open to the general public. There will be no admission charge to YAA members.

Another Opening

The Rhode Island Jewish Softball League is slightly ahead of the times with its plans for the opening of its eighth season this Sunday. This opening date — May 27 — happens to be the latest start in the league's history. Five years ago—even two seasons back—players and officials would have been horrified at such a late breaking from the barrier.

But then, until this spring even baseball frowned on late starts; and now the big leagues are furiously trying to prepare legislation that will finally do away with April ball games. So you see, our softball league is slightly ahead of the times.

Nothing has been lost by the lateness of the starting date. A full schedule has been arranged, a long hot weather break has been worked out; and unless unforeseen events develop, there will be no rush to open earlier in future seasons even if a wave of tropical weather hits us sometime in March.

So much for the thesis of late starts, and let's hope the weather is on the warmer side when the four balanced clubs cross bats in Sunday's inaugurals. Here is the schedule:

Technoprint vs Superior Fuels at Hopkins Park; Topps Gaylord vs Morton Smith Inc. at Davis Park.

As is the custom in this league, double headers will be offered at both fields, with the opening games scheduled for 9:30 A. M.

There will be appropriate opening game ceremonies. Team sponsors have been invited to take part in the pitching and batting of the first ball, which puts it squarely up to Lou Glaser (Technoprint), Archie Chaset (Superior Fuels), Morton Smith (Morton Smith Inc.), Charles Sammaris and John Rougas (Topps Gaylord) to get their clubs off on the right foot.

Also on hand to inaugurate the new season will be the Softball League's new commissioners, Jack Platkin, Jack Schreiber and Leo Borenstein. This three man board replaces the former office of commissioner that always was held by one man. Their responsibilities encompass all matters relating to players and the playing of games.

Platkin and Schreiber are veteran members of the R. I. Jewish Softball League's board of governors. Both have served for many years since the league first

STRIKE! RHODE ISLAND JEWISH BOWLING CONGRESS

Set Sunday Deadline For Ticket Returns

All league ticket committee representatives are reminded by Irving Zaidman of Warwick, R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress treasurer, that they must turn in all money or tickets for the June 4 banquet and sports awards night at the Sunday morning meeting of the congress executive committee at the Jewish Community Center.

Since there has been an unusual demand for tickets this year, it is important that an up-to-the-minute accounting of all tickets be made as soon as possible, so that the caterer can be informed as early as possible of the number of persons to expect.

Many bowlers are planning to have their sons accompany them to the banquet at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet, and Nat Alterman of Beth El, the outgoing congress president, says this should be encouraged among the various leagues. This is the first year sons of bowlers will join in the dinner and program.

It still is possible for leagues to reserve tables in lots of 10 to a table. Those wishing to have tables held must turn in $30 per table ($3 a ticket) to Zaidman or Sam Feldman of Fineman-Trinkel, banquet chairman, by Sunday.

Taunton Director Added To Banquet Awards List

More big names in sports have been added to the list of guests at the fourth annual banquet and sports awards night of the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress, Monday, June 4, at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet.

Joseph M. Linsey, managing director of the Taunton Greyhound Association, will receive an award for service to Jewish sports. Linsey is New England director of Sports for Israel and chairman of the Brandeis Athletic Committee.

The congress also will pay tribute to the R. I. Reds for winning the American Hockey League championship and the Calder Cup playoffs. An award will be presented to Coach Jack Crawford by Terry Reardon, general manager of the team. Louis A. R. Pieri, president and owner of the Reds, and Andy Branigan, the team captain, have been invited to attend.

For his four years of service to the congress as toastmaster at the annual banquet, Jerry O'Brien, vice president of Bo Bernstein advertising agency, also will be honored at the affair.

Guest speakers at the banquet will be Jesse Owens, the 1936 Olympic Games star, and Al

Schacht, the clown prince of baseball.

Nat Baker of Providence, Boston University and former Classical High track star, will receive the R. I. Jewish Athlete of the Year award—the Wally Sundlun Jr. Trophy — which will be presented to him by his former Classical track coach, Al Morro.

The Seagram Award for his selection as R. I. Jewish Man of the Year will be presented to Associate Justice Frank Licht of the Superior Court by Gov. Roberts.

Bowlers and their guests who still do not have their tickets have only a few more days to purchase them. They may be had by contacting Murray Trinkle at Albert's, 1128 North Main Street; Irving Zaidman at Allen Stationery, 50 Weybosset Street, or Morty Miller at Robin, Inc., 105 Empire Street.

AAE-JN CONCLAVE

NEW YORK—A seminar on the subject of mutual relations, in which executives and publicity directors of national organizations have been invited to participate, will highlight the annual convention of the American Association of English-Jewish Newspapers, to be held here May 24-27.

Final League Scores Due By Sunday

There still are some member-leagues of the R. I. Jewish Bowling Congress which still have not sent in their final statistics.

Records for the 1955-1956 season will be based on bowling results as of today.

Leagues, which still have not submitted their final results—individual and team singles and totals and high averages—should see that they are turned in at Sunday's meeting of the congress executive committee at the Jewish Community Center.

Prizes to be awarded at the June 4 annual banquet and sports awards night of the congress at Rhodes-on-the-Pawtuxet will be based on results submitted by leagues no later than Sunday.

Since the compilation is a big task, there will be no exceptions to the deadline.

was organized in 1948. Both have played, coached and managed.

Just a few years ago, when the annual Old-Timers game was organized, Platkin took the mound and tossed them in to Schreiber, who was behind the bat. After five innings, Platkin had not allowed a hit or a run. A few weeks later, the ancient and honorable battery tried again in another Old-Timers game. Result—two more innings of perfect pitching for a total of seven full innings, or a full game of no-run, no-hit ball.

Platkin hasn't pitched since that perfect effort. As a new commissioner, he will have to confine his hurling activity to the Old-Timers game several months hence. But when that great day comes, Jack is sure to have his marvelous nothing ball working against the hitters.

Leo Borenstein, a baseball devotee at all levels from Little League to Big League, has not been active in the Softball League for some time. Yet Leo helped write the first history of the league. His Miller's Delicatessen club was the league's first champion back in 1948. Leo always was on hand with plenty of soft drinks and tidbits for his players. You remember that old cliché about "a good time was had by all"? Well, that is how it was with the Miller's team and its sponsor, Leo Borenstein. It is pleasant to welcome him back, this time as a commissioner.

While all of this year's teams have been carefully balanced on paper, it still remains for one club to go out and prove its superiority. Scores are certain to go higher this season, for the Softball League, as reported here a few weeks ago, is going along with the new style of play—with so-called slow ball pitching.

The trick here is that the ball

Bas Mitzvah — Diane C. Bazar, daughter of Mrs. Charles Bazar of 83 Ninth Street, whose Bas Mitzvah was celebrated at Temple Beth Shalom at evening services on April 27.

has to describe a noticeable arc on its way to the plate in order to be considered a legitimate pitch. Fast ball pitching—where bullets and aspirin tablets are fired in on the hitters—are out. This takes the emphasis off pitching and puts it back with the rest of the game. Once again, nine men constitute a ball club, not just a pitcher and eight other men who fill in the positions and carry their bats to the plate in order.

Yet, the pitching change, significant as it is, does not blow the game wide open; for to counteract the outlawing of fast ball pitching is a rule that prohibits stealing, bunting and passed balls. Now the base runner has to remain on the bag until the pitch reaches the catcher. Previously he could take off when the pitcher let the ball go.

This, then, should be an interesting season, with plenty of long ball hitting, but also with more double plays and other stellar defensive manipulating in the infield.

As in previous years, all players and coaches are fully covered by insurance, which the ball players are paying for personally. No player will be permitted to enter the lineup on Sunday of this or any week unless and until his money is in the hands of his manager.

There is one new name in the managerial ranks for 1956. Sheldon Rothschild will handle the Superior Fuels team in competition with such veterans as Howie Cohen, Technoprint; Ralph Winn, Topps Gaylord, and Herb Goldis, Morton Smith, Inc.

This column regrets its error of two weeks back when it listed the opening date of the league play as being May 30 instead of this Sunday, May 25. There will be no games on Memorial Day, let's get that straight.

So—finally, the R. I. Jewish Softball League is ready to don again its mantle of being the old-tivity in this community. The eighth season in an unbroken string gets under way this weekend, and here's hoping for a close and interesting race all the way.

Bowling Tourney Note

Because the Herald's annual Bowling Tournaments were held well past our normal deadline—there is no full report of this tourney in this issue. Details and photos will appear next week.

Schussheim To Get Honorary Degree

Rabbi Morris Schussheim of Temple Beth Israel will be one of seven spiritual leaders, all former students of the late Dr. Solomon Schecter, who have been selected to receive the honorary degree, Doctor of Divinity, at the Seminary's 62nd annual commencement exercises on Sunday, June 3, in the Seminary Quadrangle, New York City.

Rabbi Schussheim was formerly on the faculty of the Israel Friedlander Classes at the Seminary, now known as the Seminary School for Jewish Studies. A former corresponding secretary of the Rabbinical Assembly of America and president of the Providence ZOA district, Rabbi Schussheim is chaplain for Rhode Island State institutions and was director of education at the Rhode Island College of Education.

Dr. Schecter, world-renowned scholar, was the second president of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America.

Day School Opens Registration Today

Registration for the Fall semester at the Providence Hebrew Day School will begin today and will close on June 15.

Rabbi A. Egozi, principal of the school, announced that because of limited space only 25 children can be admitted in the kindergarten and 25 in the first grade. Since many more applications for admission are already on file, parents are notified that an I. Q. test will be given to all candidates for admission and new pupils will be accepted on the basis of the marks they achieve in the test.

In order for parents to have time to make other arrangements should their children not be admitted to the Day School, the educational committee of the Day School suggests that parents should register their children now.

In keeping with the policy of unified classes, no children above the first grade will be accepted unless they can meet requirements of both the Hebrew and the English departments.

Open Letter To The Community:

This is a letter of thanks to those who have become donors, and to all who still plan to subscribe to the Ninth Annual Donor Luncheon of the Ladies Association of the Providence Hebrew Day School.

As you know, our luncheon will take place Tuesday, June 5, 12:30 P. M., at the Narragansett Hotel, and the eminent Rabbi Dr. Leo Jung will be our guest of honor. Because a great many men of the community have expressed the desire to hear the address of this outstanding teacher, lecturer, author and personality, Dr. Jung's talk has been scheduled to take place at 2:00 P. M. Therefore, the luncheon itself will start promptly at 12:30, in order that a strict schedule may be followed. In this way, those who would like to hear the guest of honor can plan to be present at 2:00 P. M.

The Providence Hebrew Day School has filled an urgent need in this city for a school that provides an outstanding secular education in cooperation with the Public School System, while at the same time enriching the minds of our children with an education stressing the peoplehood of Israel, the Hebrew language, culture and religion. It benefits the entire community, and prepares future leaders who will always be Jewish minded and educated to accept their position in Jewish and American life.

I am deeply grateful for your cooperation on this very important event, and look forward to greeting you on June 5.

Sincerely yours,

MRS. SAMUEL BRESNICK,
Chairman
